Three New Editors Named to the Staff Of the Susquehanna

Further staff appointments for the Susquehanna have been made. These new staff members, working with editor Lois Gordon and Jake Spangler, managing editor, have already begun their work, and this paper is their first issue.

Patricia Heathcote has been appointed the girls' sports editor. Pat is a well-known sports fan as well as intramural and varsity athlete. Pat is a member of ADPI and holds the responsible job as treasurer of that group. Her other extra-curricular activities include SCA, Business Society, WAA, and Tau Kappa.

James Morris is the new boys' sports editor. Jim has been active in intramural sports and served a year on the intramural board. Jim is a member of Bond and Key as well as the Men's Student Council, Biemic Society, and the SCA cabinet. Church and church activities form the biggest interest in Jim's life and he is serving as pastor to several area churches.

William Davenport will serve as photography editor. Bill is well known for his interest in photography and his success in his hobby. He has taken pictures for many organizations on campus and has shown excellent skill with his camera.

THESPIANS PRESENT "WILLOW AND I" TO CLIMAX DRAMATIC PRODUCTIONS

The Susquehanna University Players have chosen John Patrick's famous play, "The Willow and I" as their final production of the current college year. Earlier in the season they presented Shakespeare's "Taming of the Shrew" and Martin Flavin's comedy "Broken Dishes."

"The Willow and I" is a drama of poignant emotional appeal. It is the love story of Mara and Bessie Suro for the same man in the person of Dr. Robin Todd. Though he chooses Mara, the elder sister, as his bride, the marriage is thwarted as the result of an accident which occurs on the wedding day. However, the love story is fulfilled forty years later when Mara learns from Dr. Todd's son that, though Robin had married Bessie during the intervening years, it was Mara who was first in his heart.

The role of Bessie Suro will be played by Joan Bates from Cranford, New Jersey. Miss Bates is a music sophomore at Susquehanna and is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota Sorority. She will be her first appearance with the players.

Shirley Smyrl from Lansford, Pa., will portray the exacting role of Mara Suro. Miss Smyrl is a liberal arts sophomore and a member of Delta Delta Sorority. She will be remembered for her role as the widow in the "Taming of the Shrew."

Theodore Suro, father of the girls, is being enacted by Thomas Marts, a sophomore in the business department and a member of Phi Mu Delta Fraternity. Mr. Marts is from Camden, New Jersey, and is making his initial appearance with the thespian group. The part of Millie Suro, his unmarried sister, is in the capable hands of Mary Lou Slater, a liberal arts senior and a resident of Irvington, New Jersey. Miss Slater is a veteran of the Susquehanna University Players, having appeared in "The Patsy" and recently as the leading lady of "Broken Dishes." She is a member of the Women's Athletic Association, Kappa Delta Sorority and a member of the May Queen Court.

The dual role of Robin Todd and Kirkland Todd will be played by W. Robin Henry from York, Pa. Mr. Henry who is a freshman in the business department and a member of Bond and Key Fraternity, is making his first appearance with the college dramatic unit. William Stringer, a freshman from Atlantic City, New Jersey, will be Dr. Oliver. He is a member of Theta Chi Fraternity. The part of Dr. Truhee is in the capable hands of William Klop, from Nanticoke, Pa., business sophomore.

The colored servant, Timmy, is being played by Bernice Jochem, from East Rutherford, New Jersey, a liberal arts senior and a member of Kappa Delta Sorority. Another colored servant, Mabel, will be enacted by Dolores Shimko, a freshman from Mt. Carmel, Pa.

MARDI-GRAS, MOONLIGHT PICNIC, PIONEER PARTY HIGHLIGHT FRATERNITIES SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

Silver Dollar Cafe Theme of Pioneer Party Held at Phi Mu Saturday

On Saturday evening, April 28, the Phi Mu Delta house became the Silver Dollar Cafe and featured the annual pioneer party.

The entertainment was under the direction of the new actives and featured Harry Rice as master of ceremonies. He, Herb Craft, and Dick Boyd presented several novelty numbers. Other acts were put on by Bob Moore and Ed Koch. The Phi Mu Delta Four Flashes in the persons of Harry Rice, George Perrey, Jack Schreffler, and Art Olson rendered three clever numbers. Group singing wound up the entertainment.

Immediately after the entertainment before the resuming of dancing, former pledge president Dick Boyd presented all graduating seniors with paddles in behalf of the former pledge group.

Much credit goes to Andy Andrews and Tom Fields for decorations. Brothers Don Walter and Burke Bartley, "overservers of the bar," served sandwiches, pickles, cup cakes, cheese and birch beer.

Chaperones for the evening were Miss Athalia Kline, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howling, and Mr. Axel Kleinsorg.

King and Queen Crowned at Bond and Key Pledge Dance

A colorfully-decorated home, plenty of good food, an excellent band, and fifty-five happy couples made the Bond and Key Pledge Dance reminiscent of an evening spent in New Orleans during the height of the Mardi-Gras season. Couples entering the house were greeted by pledge president Reuben Henry who also presented each young lady with a red rose. The two front rooms of the house were colorfully decorated by several hundred strands of crepe paper, with branches of wild flowers fastened to the walls at proper intervals. All the furniture had been removed to the recreation room or out on the porch which was made semi-private by sections of white trellis. The members of the club are grateful to Jan Delmer and his committee for the excellent job done in decorating the house.

Ed Menapace was in charge of refreshments which consisted of punch, several kinds of sandwiches, homemade cup cakes, and potato chips. Music for the evening was provided by brother Ray Tyler and his band. The members of the club appreciate the many special request numbers played by the band.

During the latter part of the evening, a special ceremony was held at which time President John Steiger accepted the new pledge paddle from Reuben Henry. At this time it was announced that Herb Haines had been chosen as the King of the dance. He received this title in recognition of being the graduating senior who had done the most for Bond and Key. Herb's charming wife, the former Flo Guyer, was presented with a bouquet of roses and became the queen of the dance. In recognition of his deeds, Herb was presented with a Rouson cigarette lighter.

As the party came to a close everyone agreed that they had spent a most enjoyable evening. Congratulations and sincere thanks to the sponsors of this fine dance—the Bond and Key Pledge group of 1951.

Chaperones for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Amy and their special guests, Dr. George M. Robinson, Mr. John K. Soule, and Mr. Richard Grove.

Women's Colleges Need A New Curriculum

The independent college for women must develop a curriculum flexible enough to educate both scholars who will go on to advanced study and young women who marry either during or soon after their college career. Dean Millent C. McIntosh, of Barnard College, declares in her annual report.

The college curriculum must also train a woman to be adaptable enough to change from one role to the other, or to combine the two. Dean McIntosh says, "The understanding of this opportunity and the meeting of this challenge provide the main justification for the women's college as an entity apart from men's institutions," she asserts.

"We have fulfilled only part of our responsibility if we simply affirm and reaffirm our belief that the liberal arts ideal provides the best training for women and men alike. We must specifically analyze our curriculum in terms of its double implications, so that we present to our students a harmonious approach to the problem of living."

The normal woman is primarily concerned with human values, according to Dean McIntosh, who emphasizes that "in a woman's college the special interests and the complex responsibilities of women should be fully recognized. A girl does not need courage in baby-making to prepare her for motherhood. But she definitely needs some spiritual orientation to that role, a philosophy which does not belittle the home as a place unworthy of her best, and does not glorify the job as important beyond everything else."

Whether they recognize it or not, Dean McIntosh declares, women actually set the moral and spiritual tone of the families of the community in which they live.

Moonlight Picnic Held At Moose Lodge Theme Of Theta Chi's Outing

A moonlight picnic was the theme of Theta Chi's outing held at Moose Lodge at Kautz last Saturday night. A huge bonfire greeted the couples as they drew near the picnic grounds and later it provided warmth for the "cold, damp couples." After dancing to records in the lodge, the couples gathered around the fire to roast hot dogs and marshmallows. Cakes, pickles, potato salad and potato chips were also served.

About the middle of the evening, a typical April shower visited the group but this didn't seem to dampen the atmosphere of the party. Elmer Baumgardner was in charge of the party and Richard Stoni had charge of the refreshments. The chaperones for the party were Mr. and Mrs. Slamm, Mr. and Mrs. Stevens, and Dr. Thomas Armstrong.

MUSIC NOTES

Seven Susquehanna students attended the Pennsylvania Inter-Collegiate Band Festival held at Lehigh University, Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, April 26-28. The students who attended this festival were selected musicians from all the colleges in the state. Aside from rehearsals, the festival included a dance, swimming party, and other social events as well as clinics on various departments of music under the supervision of members of the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra. The festival culminated with a concert Saturday evening, April 28, at 8:30. Dr. William Revell, head of the bands at the University of Michigan, was the guest conductor.

The students who attended were: Sally Mitchell, clarinet; Lucian Smith, flute and piccolo; Rowie Duran, clarinet; John Ecker, cornet; Carl Musser, trombone; William Beckwith, bass horn; and Francis Gloster, French horn.

Mrs. Alice Giauque, music instructor and choral director at Susquehanna, conducted a seventy-eight member girls' chorus at the Juniata County Choral Festival held at the Millington High School April 26-27. Jean Derr and Hope Spicer Munney, two of the music directors from the four high schools that were represented, are graduates of Susquehanna University. The concert, which was held Friday night, April 27, included trumpet, trombone, and soprano solos and a boys' chorus conducted by Jean Derr in addition to the choral numbers conducted by Mrs. Giauque. Martha Tschke from Middleburg was the most vocal soloist.

Jacquelyn McKeever and Charles Carr will present a piano and vocal recital Tuesday evening, May 8, at 8:15. All students are invited. The monthly recital class will be held Tuesday afternoon, May 8, at 4:30 in Seibert Chapel. This will be the last recital class of the semester.

CRUSADERETTES

The intramural badminton season closed this past week and brought forth two new champions. Jean Van Vleet defeated Fern Baumgardner in the singles championship. Ray Lewis and Pat Crum suffered defeat at the hands of Fern Baumgardner and Audrey MacNeil in the doubles contest.

Lorraine Patrick, tennis manager, has posted papers on which to sign up for singles and doubles matches. Matches will begin in the near future so be sure your name is included. There's your chance to get a star and earn points for WAA at the same time.

Soccer games are being played on the regular schedule of Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. The Seniors defeated Fresh III by an 8-2 score. The Juniors downed Fresh II by a score of 2-1. Ruth Smith did the pitching for the Juniors. Fresh III again suffered defeat at the hands of Soph II. But Aprax's pitching proved too much for the freshmen.

Cowan Was Scene Of SCA's Retreat

Bucknell University's Recreational Center, and Cowan, Pennsylvania, was the scene of the 1951 annual SCA Retreat for the week-end of April 28-29.

At 12:45 p. m., Saturday, the students, accompanied by Reverend Robert Koons, pastor of Zion Lutheran Church, Sunbury, Pennsylvania, and Mrs. Kenneth Waterbury, left Seibert Hall to begin a busy week-end discussing the past and future activities of Susquehanna University's Student Christian Association. Past president William Smeltz, led a discussion at 2:00 p. m. on the program of the SCA for the year just completed. The sudden spring showers brought to a sudden halt the softball game which followed the 2:00 o'clock meeting. An indoor picnic supper preceded a devotional service and the evening was concluded with informal recreation and a late snack.

Early Sunday morning the girls in attendance awoke to the tune of an alarm clock giving us the news that 6:30 a. m. Day Light Savings Time had arrived. Morning devotions were held at 7:00 a. m. and breakfast was served to eleven hungry people at 7:30 a. m.

After the arrival of several more students from Susquehanna, a discussion group was conducted by the incoming president of SCA, Gordon Joyce. The morning worship service was held in a beautiful outdoor setting where the sermon was delivered by Bill Smeltz on the thought-provoking subject of Christianity and the use of force. Dinner was held at 12:15 p. m. and after this, the final discussion period was led by Gordon Joyce where various recommendations were summarized and prepared for presentation to the new SCA cabinet for their consideration.

And so ended the official duties of the 1950-51 Cabinet. Another group of officers, several of them seniors, had handed the work of guiding the activities of Susquehanna University's Student Christian Association, on to new leaders.

Administration News

Miss Ruth Freese and Miss Henrietta Davidge, of the General Electric Company, of Schenectady, New York, were on the campus Wednesday, April 25, interviewing senior girls for positions with the General Electric Company.

On April 25, Mr. Robert Amy traveled to Milton and vicinity, where he spoke to the seniors of Milton, Turbotville and Watonsville high schools.

Thursday, April 26, Dr. William Russ spoke to the seniors at West York, Red Lion, and Dalls-town high schools, respectively.

Also, on April 26, Coach A. A. Stagg, Jr., traveled to Danville High School, where he spoke to the graduating seniors on the topic "The Advantages of a College Education."

On Saturday, April 28, Mr. Frederick Stevens, attending the District Sociological meeting at Cedar Crest, Pa. Next year this meeting will be held here on the campus.

Mrs. Torrington R. Walkins, Scranton, announces the engagement of her daughter, Barbara Jane, to Allan Duane Hartley, of Waterbury, Connecticut. Miss Walkins was graduated from Susquehanna University with the class of 1950 and is on the recreation staff of the Waterbury Girls' Club. Mr. Hartley, a graduate of Wilby High School, attended Post College and is employed by the Waterbury National Bank. An August wedding is planned.

OSTENDORF WILL LECTURE TO SALESMANSHIP CLASS TOMORROW
Frederick Ostendorf, personnel director of Pommeroy's Inc., Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, will speak to the salesmanship class tomorrow morning at 9:10 a. m. in Steele Science 100. His subject will be "Retaining as a Career." Any college student who is interested in this subject is invited to attend the lecture.

Mr. Ostendorf will spend the day on campus interviewing seniors who may be interested in retailing as a career.

With Apologies

"What have you done," St. Peter asked Tom Staller, "that I should admit you here?"

"I was editor of the 'Susquehanna' for one long year," came the reply.

St. Peter pityingly shook his head and gravely touched the bell. "Come in, poor thing, select a harp, you've had your share of hard luck."

A former pledge of Phi Mu reported the following conversation.

Pledge Herb Craft: "Must I eat this egg?"

Frat brother Dave Bennett: "You're darn right!"

Silence.

Pledge Herb Craft: "The beak, too?"

Strainer!

Nancy McKinney: "Hey Sam, it must be kind of difficult to eat soup with a moustache."

Sam Carmichael: "Yes, it's quite a strain."

New System Installed By Pan-Hellenic Council To Raise Averages

In an attempt to raise the sorority scholarship average, the Pan-Hellenic Council at the University of South Carolina has installed a new system whereby any sorority girl, active or pledge, with an average below 4.0 will be checked periodically by the council.

The system embodies a plan in which every sorority member, with an average below "C" plus, is required to take blanks to her professors, requesting that they note any improvement in her work, or in her preparation for the course.

The blanks are given to the girls every three weeks by Pan-Hellenic Council, and have to be returned immediately to the scholarship chairmen of the individual sororities. In the interim of the professors' reports, the scholarship chairmen of the sororities assign the girls with delinquent averages to other members of their sororities who can offer assistance in various subjects.

Sorority girls are required to study a minimum of 15 hours each week, and those members with averages below 4.0 are required to spend more time. The studying time above 15 hours is set by the individual sororities.

BUSINESS SOCIETY RENEWS AUCTION WITH SUCCESS

Something unusual hit the campus Wednesday afternoon when the Business Society held its auction. The center of activity was the sun dial in front of Seibert Hall. It was from this site that the auctioneer conducted the sale, and displayed his wares for sale. This event was a revival of the annual auctions held in past years. Four years have passed since the last auction was held.

The auction committee included Frank Compton, chairman, Margo Vought, Jim Tomkinson, and Don Shoemaker, while Herb Craft acted as auctioneer. To these people the Business Society expresses the appreciation for a job well done.

Among the merchandise sold were flowers, clothing, stationery, candy, jewelry, gift certificates, and numerous other items.

The student body participated in it with interest and enthusiasm purchasing all items offered for sale.

Many of the students remarked that they had more than received their money's worth in the goods purchased. In accordance with this the Business Society is considering another sale sometime next year.

For the many contributors of merchandise and gift certificates the Business Society expresses its sincere thanks and appreciation.

Suggestions Given To Aid Students Taking Military Examinations

When it comes to job and military service examinations, the best way to make sure you'll "know the answers" is to know enough to ask some questions. Dr. William Coleman, University of Tennessee assistant psychology professor who is also head of the State Testing Program, located on this campus, recommends that examinees think up some good questions long before "E-day"—and ask them of the right people.

He recommends this procedure as one of the surest ways to a good score and, hence, that coveted job or favorite military branch. "One of the basic fears of mankind," says Dr. Coleman, "is fear of the unknown. A comparatively mild version of this type of fear descends on examinees when they walk into an examination without any idea of what it will be like. They get 'examinitis.'"

The best antidote, the testing expert says, is to find out as much as possible about the examination—far enough in advance to do something about it. Dr. Coleman suggests these means—all legal—of finding out: (1) Ask the testing authorities what, in general, the examination may cover—some of them don't mind telling you; (2) ask the examination authorities if they'll give you copies of other examinations for the same line of work; (3) ask previous examinees what types of questions were asked; (4) ask some people who do hiring and firing what types of things they expect people to know on the desired job; and (5) ask yourself "If I were the examiner, what questions would I ask?"

Then, says Dr. Coleman, on the basis of information you've gleaned, make out an examination with all the questions you can think of, find the answers and study them—and part of your worries are over.

"Of course," he pointed out, "you won't find out the exact questions you'll be asked, but that isn't even necessary. If you go into an examination with the feeling you know the possible types of questions and that you're reasonably familiar with the material, you aren't likely to 'blow up' through meeting the unexpected."

New Plan Developed for College Students Taking Military Training

New help in the present emergency for students struggling to fit both advanced military training and their fields of scholastic study into four or five crowded college years is coming as a result of action just taken by Washington State College.

The help in easing such a double program is coming from two quarters. One is a relaxation, for those enrolling in advanced military training, of the general college requirements for graduation in any four or five year course. The other method of aid is agreement that all college departments, by permitting reasonable substitutions for departmental requirements and moderate overloads, if necessary, shall extend every aid and encouragement possible to those men who will be electing to try simultaneously to handle the required hours of advanced military training and the departmental requirements in their own field or fields of specialized study.

Substitution of six hours of advanced military credits toward those credits needed as general college requirements in the humanities, biological, physical and social sciences is now possible. Substitution in any one of the four fields may not be made beyond the three credit hour minimum for that field.

There is no change in the general college requirements for a minimum of 126 semester hours for the four year degree. Nor does the new plan involve automatic change in the requirements within any school, college or department of the institution for any four or five years or other degree. It is intended, however, to extend every encouragement to the student who wants to work in both fields of study (military and his civilian choice) without loss of time in completing his degree work. The intent is to give greater flexibility to the program here in the light of changed conditions.

Rich Young Has Perfect Day at Plate; Crusader Errors Give Dickinson Victory

Bastressmen Lose Home Opener by 16-14 Score

The Dickinson Red Devils helped the Crusaders open their home baseball season on University Field Saturday, and emerged from the free-swinging slugfest, the victors, 16-14. The loss was the fifth in a row for the Crusaders who have yet to win a game. Jim Hazlett made his initial start of the campaign and suffered the loss. Jim yielded eight hits and fourteen runs in his four-inning stint. Ken Lenker came on in the fifth and went the rest of the distance allowing two hits and two runs. Al Palmer started on the mound for the Red Devils but was knocked out in the second and Hawley came on to register the triumph.

Rich Young led the Crusaders sixteen-hit attack with six singles and a double in six trips to register a perfect day at bat. Ed Menapace collected two singles and a double in his four official trips. Ed also received two free passes. Ed Wollaston had a triple, a double and a single in that order in his first three trips to the platter. Don Berninger hammered out the only other S. U. extra base blow, that being a double in the second.

S. U. played a poor game defensively. The flyers committed eight miscues. Four of these errors occurred in Dickinson's nine-run fifth inning and cost S. U. the ballgame. Walks again plagued the Crusader pitchers. Jim Hazlett issued seven base on balls and Ken Lenker four. This brings the total free passes in five games to sixty-three.

Tom Nicholas, Dickinson right fielder, was the only Red Devil to net more than one hit. He collared three in six trips to the plate. All of the Dickinson ten hits were singles.

Dickinson started the afternoon's proceedings with six runs on four hits and two errors in the first inning. In the bottom half of the first, the Crusaders retaliated with five and added four more in the second and two in the third. In the meantime Jim Hazlett had the Red Devils eating out of his hand, adding a total of only twelve men in the second, third, and fourth innings. S. U. tallied once in their half of the fourth and led at the end of four innings 12-6. But in the fifth the dam burst and before Lenker subdued the flood waters, Dickinson men had crossed the plate nine times to take the lead they never relinquished. The Red Devils scored an insurance run in the sixth while S. U. was blanked until the ninth when a last inning rally netted them two runs but fell short of victory.

In the first home game the Crusaders impressed their followers with their batting prowess and their ability to come up with the big inning, but their lax fielding cost them their much desired first victory.

In looking over the remaining schedule, one notes the presence of three home games in the next five contests. It is the belief of this columnist that in returning to the home environment, the Crusaders will hit their winning stride and complete the season with a creditable record.

Juniata Indians Scalp Crusaders By Eight Points at Huntingdon

Indians Win 15-7

The Susquehanna Crusaders dropped their fourth straight game last Thursday, to the Juniata Indians, at Huntingdon, 15-7. Five Crusader hurlers went to the hill for the Bastressmen and walked the Indians to victory. The Indians received thirteen free passes and of the thirteen men walked eight eventually scored. Juniata collected thirteen hits and the S. U. sluggers collected eleven base knocks.

Sam Porter, who pitched the first two and one-third innings, was credited with the loss. Dave La Faver went the distance for J. C. and registered the win. Porter was touched for five hits and he allowed four walks.

Chet Rowe continued to lead the team in hitting as he won batting honors for the day. He collected three singles and a double in five trips to the plate. At the end of the day's activity, Chet had a torrid .611 batting average. Both Young and Menapace had two hits. One of Young's was of the two-base variety.

Dave Hackett, Indian second baseman, hit for the circuit off Kaseman in the fifth. In the eighth George Schetrompf was thrown out at the plate on a relay from Fenstermacher to Ross to Menapace when he tried to stretch his triple into a home run. Four Indians had doubles.

Juniata had its big inning in the eighth when the Indians batted around and scored six runs off a trio of S. U. pitchers. Rich Young finally came in from second to put out the fire.

S. U. scored two in the first on a single, a double, and two wild pitches. In the fourth, the Crusaders tallied thrice on four singles and two walks. In the sixth Sam Ross reached first on an error and Chet Rowe drove him around with his double. The remaining score came in the seventh when S. U. filled the sacks but could only score once.

Speeding on U. S. streets and highways last year injured 475,500 men, women and children.

Three out of four traffic accidents happen in clear weather on dry roads. More than 80 percent of all accidents last year on our streets and highways involved vehicles going straight.

Intramural Softball

Although the first half of the current softball season has not been officially completed due to several forced postponements, the second half has gotten underway in the past week. Phi Mu Delta shares first place with Bond and Key in the first-half standing until their regular first half contest has been held off.

Phi Mu-B&K Victors

In a poorly-played game last Monday, the Deltas literally walked over Theta Chi by an 11-6 score. The Orange and Black capitalized on 15 walks given up by three Theta Chi hurlers to gain the victory. Charley Zlock underhanded his way to his third straight win while Steve Tomlinson was charged with the loss.

Bond and Key eked out a 10-9 decision over G.A. as the dorm men committed several costly errors behind pitcher Ed Kopf. John Steiger started and won his first game for the Black and Gold.

Phi Mu Defeats B&K: Theta Chi Wins

Phi Mu Delta kept on their winning way as they opened the second half on Tuesday with a 9-5 victory over rival Bond and Key. Charley Zlock pitched and batted his way to victory as he scattered twelve B & K safeties while lacing a double and three singles to lead the attack on loser Jake Spangler. Norm White slammed a triple and two singles to spearhead the B & K offense.

Theta Chi rebounded from their Monday's defeat and rose up to thump Selinsgrove Hall, 19-6, last Tuesday. Dick Stout hurled his first game for the Red and White and permitted the dorm men to score in only one inning. Steve Tomlinson led the Theta Chi offensive against loser Rube Henry.

G. A.-Selinsgrove Lose
In a slugfest last Thursday G. A. was overpowered by the strong Phi Mu Delta nine, 23-12. The Deltas, behind finger Charley Zlock, tallied six times in the initial inning and added nine more runs in the fourth to sew up the game. Don Shoemaker blasted four safeties, while John Horoschak homered and Gog Mark belted two resounding triples to pace the Orange and Black attack on pitcher Steve Torok. G. A.'s E. Kopf belted two homers, each with a mate aboard, and Lou Szabo connected for a triple and two singles.

Errors again plagued Selinsgrove Hall as they dropped their contest to Bond and Key 13-6, last Thursday. Hard-luck Rube Henry tried to create some sort of an attack behind his hurling as he socked two doubles and a single, but his mates kicked the game away in the field. Roy Cope poled two doubles and a single, while Bruce Wagner and Bob Wyllie each garnered three safeties to pace the Black and Gold.

L.S.A. DRIVE CONTRIBUTIONS SHORT ONE-HALF OF AMOUNT SET

The Lutheran Student Action Drive to help needy students in other lands ended with a total of $100.22 which is one-half of the $200 goal. The contributions were distributed as follows: Seibert Hall, $30.61; Faculty, $23.63; Hassinger Hall, $20.34; Administration, $9.60; Theta Chi, $7.45; Phi Mu Delta, $3.64; Selinsgrove Hall, $3.00; G.A., $1.20; Cottage, $.75, making a total of $100.22.

KNOW YOUR PROFESSOR

This week, Mr. Robert L. Amy, assistant professor of biology, was approached for information concerning his life and career prior to coming to Susquehanna.

Mr. Amy was born and grew up in Jamestown, Pennsylvania. After graduating from Jamestown High, he began his college training at Thiel College in Greenville, Pennsylvania. During his junior year he enrolled in a government sponsored civilian pilot training program which earned him a private pilot's license. Mr. Amy was a member of the Tri-Beta Honorary Biological Fraternity and the Sadie Aleph Social Fraternity.

For a year and a half after graduation, Mr. Amy was employed as a research assistant in the laboratories of the Republic Steel Corporation.

In 1942 he returned to Thiel for military training as a reserve flight instructor in the War Training Service. When this unit was formally activated, Mr. Amy began a tour of active military duty that was to see him stationed at several Army Air Bases in the western part of the United States.

In 1944 he was married to Jean McDowell of Jamestown, Pennsylvania. They now have two sons, Christopher and Jonathan.

Mr. Amy returned to civilian life as a science teacher at Austinburg High School. Leaving there after two years he spent a full year at the University of Pittsburgh where he received his master's degree in 1949. Since attending the University of Pittsburgh, Mr. Amy has become an associate member of Sigma Xi, an honorary science fraternity, and Phi Sigma, an honorary Biological Science fraternity.

In September 1949 Mr. Amy came to S. U. as assistant professor of biology. Last summer he did graduate work toward his Ph.D. at the Mountain Lake Biological Station of the University of Virginia. This summer he plans to do further research at the Oak Ridge Atomic Laboratories in Oak Ridge, Tennessee.

Although most of Mr. Amy's time is spent in S. U.'s labs and with his family, he still manages to find a little time to play tennis, his favorite sport, and also enjoy his rather unique hobby of refurbishing furniture.

Mr. Amy's wide variety of scientific training and his willingness to help the individual student have made him a popular and respected instructor.

Phi Mu

At a special meeting on Monday, April 23, under the title of initiation, the following men became active members of the Mu Alpha chapter of Phi Mu Delta: George Backer, Russell Bartle, Richard Boyd, Samuel Carmichael, George Cawley, Herbert Craft, Wilbert Edmunds, George Perrey, Dwight Keener, Edward Koch, Edward Kopf, William LaMarca, Thomas Marts, Robert Macklavage, Arthur Olson, Harry Rice, John Schraeder, Jack Shreffler, Robert Shade, John Snyder, Louis Szabo, and George Washbourne. At this ceremony Mr. Dan MacCulish became an honorary member of Phi Mu Delta. The entire brotherhood extended a hearty welcome to these men.

Former pledge Harry Feltman has arrived at Bainbridge, Maryland, for his boot training in the Navy. Word has been received that Corporal Henry G. Chadwick who is a member of the 45th artillery has arrived in Japan.

Many alumni visited the fraternity house this week-end to join in the festivities of the pioneer party. Al Molinaro, Paul Wagner, Fred Hazeltine, Willis Van Dyke, Roger Howling, and Donald Wohlson were back visiting.

On Wednesday evening fraternity keys were presented to those seniors who will be graduating this year.

Theta Chi

Francis H. S. Ede, Regional Counselor of Region Three of Theta Chi Fraternity, and his wife were dinner guests of Beta Omega chapter on April 26. Mr. Ede was at the chapter house on an official visit.

At our weekly meeting, a petition from Alpha Delta Mu, local fraternity at Mississippi Southern College, was approved. If this petition is approved by the other active chapters, the total number of chapters will be raised to 105.

In the recent house elections, William Nale was elected house manager; Don Linn and William Prichard as caterers; Dick Stout and Sam Ross as sports managers; Elmer Baumgardner as social chairman; and Jack Schwartz as editor of the chapter paper, "The Crimson Sword."

Jack Schwartz was initiated as an active member of the fraternity on April 23.

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK

This week's personality has had a busy time during his stay at Susquehanna with his various duties and jobs.

Born in Mount Carmel, Pennsylvania, Thomas O. Staller attended and graduated from Mount Carmel High School with the class of 1946. While in high school, Tom's pianistic ability came very much to the fore. He was pianist for the glee club as well as for the assembly. Last July Tom's family changed their home from Mount Carmel to Elysburg, where the Stallers now make their home.

During his stay at Susquehanna, Tom has had an active part in campus organizations including the Business Society, Pi Gamma Mu, The Susquehanna, and Bond and Key.

After showing his ability as associate editor of the school paper in his junior year, Tom was made editor in his senior year, where he has served ably in this capacity.

As a member of Bond and Key, Tom was assistant steward, editor of the club magazine, and secretary of the club, in his junior year. In his senior year, Tom was elected president, where he served as president of the inter-fraternity senate.

Tom explains that his future is almost entirely in the hands of Uncle Sam. But whatever his final calling may be, with his business administration training and his ambition, we are sure that he will be a great success.

Dr. Russ Discusses More's "Utopia" with "Great Books" Group

Each of the four classes at Susquehanna University, freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior, were represented by the students who attended the Great Books Discussion group that met on the evenings of April 24 and May 1, at the home of Dr. William A. Russ, professor of history at Susquehanna University, to discuss Sir Thomas More's immortal classic, "Utopia."

The group gathered at the Russ' residence at 7:30 p. m. Dr. Russ opened the meeting with a brief, summarized account of the leading Utopian writings beginning with Plutarch's, "Lycurgus" and reaching up to 1932 with Aldous Huxley's, "Brave New World." He acquainted the students with the motivating factors that have persuaded men to engage in such considerations of ideal states. Among other things he raised questions that have been raised since the time of Plato and Dionysius of Sicily up to Hitler and Nazism in attempting to establish Utopian communities.

Following the above background material, Dr. Russ quickly outlined the contents of the two books which constitute More's, "Utopia." From this he proceeded to open the general discussion by throwing out to the students some controversial questions based on statements made by More. A lively discussion period followed with students raising questions and volunteering comments on significant sections of the book as they were presented for consideration. Refreshments were served during the discussion by Mrs. Russ. Such an active interest was maintained in the thought provoking discussion that the students were surprised to notice that 10:20 p. m. had arrived so quickly.

So Long It's Been Good To Know You!

By David Sterrett

"Farewell — in that fatal word,—how'er we promise, hope, believe, there breathes despair."

In these fateful words of Byron, some 70 seniors of Susquehanna's campus might express their feelings.

Four years ago, a large group of mentally, groveling mortals entered our campus in that eternal search for knowledge. Through the years, some have deemed it best to leave our educational mill for other endeavors. The rest have, by perseverance, withstood the rigors of a scholar's life and now find themselves about ready to take their place in our world of advanced scientific techniques.

We hear, every day, of those who have not attended an institution of higher learning, and how they are apparently far ahead of those of the same age about to graduate from college. The myth of productivity has taken an even higher place in many minds. The result is that many feel that cannot waste their time in college; they cannot afford to be unproductive for the time required to

Last week Mr. Yorty traveled to the southern part of New Jersey at which time he visited most of the high schools in that area.

Mr. Dan MacCush was also a very busy man last week. He spoke to many high school students in Northern New Jersey, New York and Rhode Island.

On Thursday, May 3, Dr. Waterbury attended a Career Conference Day program at Milton at which time he gave advice to the graduating seniors who plan to enter the teaching profession.

Dr. G. Morris Smith attended the monthly meeting of the Committee on Higher Education on Friday, May 4. Dr. Smith serves as chairman of the committee which is under the State Council of Education.

THE WILLOW AND I The Critic Speaks

By Gordon Joyce

John Patrick's "The Willow and I" proved to be a very fast moving emotional drama. Both comedy and pathos were intermingled woven into the plot so that the overall outlook was not morbid but emotionally touching.

Shirley Smyrl as Mara Sutto, the sister who had a tendency to retire and withdraw instead of standing ground and taking competition, was magnificent. She made you love with her suffer with her, and retaliate against circumstances with her. The pity and sympathy that one felt for her were uncanny in their intensity.

Miss Smyrl's intonation, facial expressions, and passiveness reminded me of Jean Simmons who did such a grand job as Ophelia in Sir Lawrence Olivier's production of William Shakespeare's "Hamlet." This was Miss Smyrl's first major role with the Players but I predict it will not be her last.

Joan Bates made you hate Bessie Sutto as the production neared its end—an accomplishment for anyone. The role of Bessie was a difficult one to handle but it was admirably done. When he son, Kirkland, found the fulfillment of hope and life in Mara, the audience beheld a beaten, unhappy, and old woman in Bessie. Although she had paid for her evilness and selfishness over and over again, there seemed no escape in life itself. She could never know real happiness.

In the dual role of Robin Todd and Kirkland Todd, Reuben Henry, a first production actor, gave a very pleasing performance. His mannerisms, his complete ease when on the stage, and his general appearance made one feel he was completely at home.

Making the third angle of a proverbial triangle kept Reuben very busy sharing his charm and affection. His role could not be typed as being serious or comic but had to be adjusted to fit the moods of the rest.

Mary Lou Slater as Millie came out with her usual vim, vitality, and vigor. Surpassing her performance as Elaine in "Broken Dishes" LuLu was a never.

Geisinger, Howling Given Leaves To Study For Ph.D.

At a recent meeting, the executive committee of the Board of Directors of Susquehanna University granted a leave of absence to Mr. Karl W. Geisinger, instructor in psychology and Mr. Robert T. Howling, instructor in English for the college year, 1951-52. President G. Morris Smith stated that the college is glad to encourage its instructors in their desire for higher education.

Mr. Geisinger was here accepted at Temple University where he will further his studies toward his Ph.D. degree in psychology. He will move with his family to Philadelphia following the commencement exercises in June.

Mr. Geisinger received his Master of Education degree at Temple and did graduate work at the University of North Carolina. His undergraduate work was completed at the University of Pennsylvania. He has also received an instructorship assignment at Temple University. Mr. Geisinger plans to return to Susquehanna in September, 1952.

Mr. Howling received his M.A. degree from New York University in 1948 and has been working on his Ph.D. since then. His undergraduate work was completed at Rutgers University. He expects to continue his studies toward his Ph.D. in English next year and return to Susquehanna in September, 1952. Mrs. Howling will remain in Selingrove with Robin, and Mr. Howling will return home for week-ends.

Full May Day rehearsal Thursday and Friday, May 10 and 11 from 3:00 to 5:00. Everyone must be there! Classes are excused.

Eight Girls Chosen To Aid in Freshman Orientation Program

Miss Irma L. Sambrook, dean of women, announced the names of eight girls in next year's junior class, who have been chosen to serve as freshman counselors for the school term beginning September, 1951. These girls, who are selected on the basis of scholarship and their ability to get along with people, will live in Huxsinger Hall, the dorm for freshmen girls, and will act as advisors to the new incoming students.

The counselors are Joan Bates, Cranford, New Jersey; Vija Borsteins, Lancaster, Pennsylvania; Mary Ann Dixon and Maxine Weiser, Red Lion, Pennsylvania; Elinor Smith, Lykens, Pennsylvania; Shirley Smyrl, Lancaster, Pennsylvania; Audrey Wegner, Elmer, New Jersey; and Joyce Wagner, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Other duties of the freshman counselors include working in the Freshman Orientation Program, a program set up every fall whereby new freshmen are introduced to Susquehanna before the opening of classes.

Close Year's Activities

The final meeting of the Women's Athletic Association was held on Monday evening in Seibert social rooms. The meeting was opened by retiring president Martha Albert who installed the new officers for next year. These officers are Maxine Chambers, president; Joyce Wagner, vice-president; Ruth Smith, recording secretary; Lorraine Barick, corresponding secretary; Lois Renfer, treasurer; and Barbara Faston, representative to student council. The newly installed president then took charge of the meeting.

The following girls were initiated into WAA: Ruth Baer, Eleanor Borski, Vija Borsteins, Jayne Daily, Voylet Dietz, Ruth Fried, Marilyn Huyett, M. E. Lehman, Carolyn Lucas, Jane Ritchie, Betty Shafer, Dolores Shirkko, Jane Wehr, Betty Weisenful, Maxine Weiser, Clara Mae Williams, Janet Wingert, and Nancy Youhoun.

During the business meeting it was decided that the WAA would have a concession stand open on May Day. Martha Albert gave a report on her trip to Michigan where she attended a convention of representatives from women's athletic organizations in other colleges. It was also announced that WAA hats are now on sale for 85c in Room No. 16 in Seibert Hall.

Awards were given to the following:

Dutch Pantry Scene of Pi Gamma Mu Meeting

Pennsylvania Gamma Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, national social science honorary fraternity, held a dinner meeting at the Dutch Pantry on Monday evening, May 7, 1951. Approximately twenty-five alumni and active members attended the banquet.

Nelda Shafer, vice-president of the local chapter, presided over the business meeting and received Bernice Jochem into active membership with a short initiation ceremony.

Gerald Moorhead, president of the group, introduced the speaker of the evening, the Reverend Myles R. Smeltz, of Pottsville, Pennsylvania. Pastor Smeltz, a graduate of Susquehanna University and Theological Seminary, was the first president of Pi Gamma Mu on this campus. He addressed the group on the subject "Changing Rural Life."

SU Players Present

"Broken Dishes" Before Masons in Williamsport

The Susquehanna Players traveled to the Masonic Temple in Williamsport last Wednesday, May 2, to present "Broken Dishes" at a special gathering of the Williamsport Consistory of the Masons. Following a rehearsal which was held in the afternoon, the members of the cast were taken out to dinner. After the performance of the play, the cast was provided with refreshments by members of the Consistory.

Mimi Vogler, Iulu Slater, Ken Hemstead, and Al Jones played the same leading roles that brought them recognition when "Broken Dishes" was presented in Seibert Chapel. Other members of the Susquehanna Players who performed at Williamsport were: Ruth Osborne, Charlotte Neuman, Dick Valera, Bob Fenstermacher, Chuck Mason, and Tom Balchen. Members of the cast were particularly impressed by the professionally equipped back stage area with all its modern conveniences.

Alumni News

On Friday, May 4, a meeting was held at S. U. to make plans for Alumni Day which will fall on June 2.

The committee for Alumni Day is as follows: Mrs. Homer Gorse, '43, chairman; Mrs. Paul Aumiller, '34; Jess Kemberling, '39; William Mease, '40; Mildred Bittner, '42; and Ruth E. McColl, General Alumni Secretary. Some activities of Alumni Day will be a general council meeting, our Alumni baseball game, and the Alumni banquet which will be held at 6:00 p. m. at Horton Dining Hall. The graduating seniors will be the main guests.

The class of 1936 will have their 15th reunion on Alumni Day. There will be a luncheon at the Dutch Pantry. The classes of 1916, 1921, and 1926 have also planned for June 2.

SPECIAL NOTICE

Any girls interested in being a majorette in the marching band next year, should notify Mr. John Leach at the Conservatory not later than Saturday, May 12.

Sally Mitchell Crowned Queen of May; Reigns Over Day's Festivities

May 12, 1951, will be remembered by students, faculty, administration, and visitors as the biggest and best May Day ever held here on campus.

The festivities start at 7:15 a. m., when the May Queen, Sally Mitchell, and her court have a special breakfast in Horton Dining Room.

At 1:30 p. m., the baseball team will play Juniata College on S. U.'s diamond. The game should prove to be a thriller.

On the athletic field at 3:00 p. m., Susquehanna University will present a May Day program unparalleled in the history of the school.

With all the nostalgia of the South in by-gone days, "The Steam Boat Festival" will unfold the tale of the last trip of a steam boat down the Mississippi. A queen will be crowned, as part of the celebration in honor of the last trip.

Entertainment will be presented for the queen and her court. Sally Mitchell, will be the May Queen; Jan Arner, Lady-in-Waiting; and Flora Barnhart, Betty Beam, Marilyn Beers, Lulu Slater, Joanne McDonald and Mary Lehman, the attendants.

Captain Henry (Dave Sterrett) will lead the songs and dances. The officers of the good boat and their ladies will do an old-fashioned waltz, with all the charm of the Old South.

Sub-Freshman Day To Be Bigger and Better This Year

On May 19, Susquehanna students will enjoy a day off from the usual studies to entertain prospective freshmen for next year. This year the faculty and administration in cooperation with the student body have enlarged and expanded the program of last year's Pilgrimage Day. Even the name has been changed this year to Sub-Freshman Day. Over 500 prospective freshmen have been contacted for this occasion and it is hoped that the alumni will bring them here in car loads.

The program will begin at 9:30 a. m. with registration. There will be a band concert in front of Seibert Hall from 9:30 till 10:30. Between 10:00 and 12:00 there will be several class room displays including a science display in Steele Hall. At 12:15 all visitors and guests are invited to a picnic lunch to be held on the women's athletic field. Entertainment will be provided at 1:15 by S.A.I., who will give the skit they used in competition at the interfraternity-sorority sing, and members of Alpha Psi Omega, who will do "One Furday Afternoon" under the direction of Mr. Axel R. Kinsinger. From 2:15 on there will be Open House at the dormitories, sororities and fraternities.

Several key members of the Women's Auxiliary are being invited and will help with the day's activities. Members of the faculty will be on hand all day to answer any questions the prospective students may have.

A note of interest to all will be the opening of the new Bogan Hall for inspection. It was only a year ago, on Pilgrimage Day, that the ground breaking ceremonies were held.

TAU KAPPA ELECTS NEW OFFICERS FOR NEXT YEAR

New officers were elected at the last monthly meeting of Tau Kappa. These officers are Pat Rumbaugh, president; Pat Heathcote, vice-president; Ethel McGrath, secretary; Maxine Chambers, treasurer; and Lois Gordon, executive council representative.

Plans are in the making for the annual spring picnic to be held in Kreamer on May 22. Ruth Smith and Ruth Rosander are in charge of the refreshments and entertainment.

Fired! Fired! Fired!

The following telegram was written by Mrs. Walter H. Jensen, of Sioux City, Iowa, and a copy was sent to Clare E. Moore of Michigan, who included it in his remarks in the House of Representatives, Monday, April 9, 1951.

Since the recall of General Douglas MacArthur by President Truman, there have been many heated arguments about the President and his executive methods. This telegram shows one viewpoint of this controversial subject.

"Dear Mr. President: Since you believe in firing those who do not see eye to eye with you in the way to settle the Korean situation, please fire my son . . .

"He is one of your so-called Marine policemen . . .

"Please recall Walter at once as he doesn't believe in your and Dean Acheson's method of fighting Communism. Incidentally, my son was a Marine reservist in his second year of pre-law college when you called him up in October with no delay for him to finish the semester, no tests to gain deferment . . .

"If my only child dies, don't try to ease your conscience and send me any medals. Since you are an old artillery officer you know what you can do with them . . .

"I send this with full knowledge that you are commander in chief, but also a vindictive man. But go ahead and dish it out. My son is a Marine and can take anything a former Army artillery officer can dish out. I just read a magazine article about what a good hater you are. I am a good hater too. I wouldn't vote for you again for an $8,000 pastel blue mink coat.

"Yours, until next election.

"P.S. Margaret sings here Saturday night, April 21 . . . Why isn't she in Korea singing for the GIs?

"If they don't like her long-haired singing she can carry bedpans. That doesn't require any special training. Neither does it bring in $1,500 per bedpan. Don't write me any nasty letters as I get riled up about my only kid, too, as well as all the other poor guys in Korea."

Representative of Bell Telephone Lectures to Salesmanship Class

Last Friday, May 4, 1951, Mr. Milton D. Moore, manager of the Sunbury office of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, and Mr. James C. Poff, manager of the Wilkes-Barre district of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania were visitors at Susquehanna University. Mr. Poff spoke to the salesmanship class on "Opportunities in Big Business," with special reference to the Bell Telephone Company. He stated that his company has already picked the graduates they want for this year—that students should start applying for jobs in their junior year or at the beginning of their senior year.

The Connecticut General Life Insurance Company is sending a representative to Susquehanna University this Thursday to interview seniors who are interested in positions with this company.

CRUSADERETTES

The archery tournament has started under the direction of Ethel McGrath and Abby Salzer. The matches consist of shooting 6 ends of 6 arrows apiece. The highest possible score being 324. The first round was to be finished by last Saturday and the second round is to be completed by this Wednesday. Rounds will then continue to be shot twice a week, the specified time ending on Wednesday and Saturday.

Then tennis tournament also began this week. Managers Lorraine Rarick and Pam McKeeg have posted the schedule in the gym. A match will consist of the best of three sets. Limited time will be set for the playing of each round and if the scores are not reported by the specified day the game will be forfeited.

Softball will continue being played on Tuesday and Thursday if weather conditions permit.

ending source of amusement and entertainment. From the time she stepped into a scene until she left, the scene jumped with life and humor. Since she was a spinster, Mille's main aim in life was to see Bessie and Mara married.

Playing many of the scenes from a wheel chair, Tom Marts was excellent as Theodore Sutor, an alcoholic trying to find refuge from reality. Supporting roles of Dr. Oliver and Dr. Trubee were played by William Stringer and William Kloap, respectively. Their parts would seem to be the least desirable for any actors because the parts themselves are not striking but necessary. Both are to be commended for doing such grand jobs in these roles.

Asklod Zagars as Duke Todd was interesting and heart warming. Bailey as played by James Youngman was terrific. He was so clever and so amusing that one was kept in stitches of laughter whenever he appeared.

The real humor of the story was added by Bernice Jochem as Timmy and Dolores Shinko as Mabel. These maids were almost as much a part of the household as the Todds themselves. They were hilarious. Miss Jochem as Bailey's aunt who was going to send him to law school was a typical example of rising above the ranks. Miss Shinko gave us a picture of the negro's love for jazz when she shimmed across the stage.

The thunder and lightning was very realistic and made one almost feel the rain. The audience reaction to each part of the play was just as the author pictured it. This is the highest compliment that can be paid any play.

"The Willow and I," ably directed by Mr. Axel R. Kleinsong and presented by the Susquehanna Players, was a fitting play to wind up the season's productions.

Praise goes to Donald Shoemaker as stage manager and William Sencitz as set designer for the magnificent work they have done throughout the production of many plays. This was the last play on which these two seniors will work. They are both to be commended on the high quality of work which they have turned out.

FRATERNITY ROW

Bond and Key

At a special meeting held early Wednesday evening, May 2, 1951, Charles Snyder and Robert MacNamara were initiated into Bond and Key as members.

At the special annual meeting held later in the evening, the major officers of the Club for next year were elected. They are: Gene Fenstermacher, president; Reuben Henry, vice-president; Ken Hill, secretary; and Les Heilman, steward. George Liddington will automatically continue as treasurer.

The following men have been re-elected to the Club's Board of Directors: Dr. John Houtz, Dr. John Woodruff and Mr. Ralph Wilmer. The members of Bond and Key are grateful to these men for the many years of faithful service that they have rendered to our organization.

The following members of the faculty were guests of the Club at dinner on Thursday evening, May 3, 1951: Dr. and Mrs. Percy M. Linebaugh, Mr. and Mrs. Russell C. Hatz, Mr. and Mrs. John Leach, Mrs. Alice H. Glaucque, Miss Mary K. Pottger, Miss Ruth M. Sparhawk, Miss Frances Brunkhorst, Mr. Elbert D. Haskins, and Mr. Frederic C. Billman.

The members of Bond and Key were happy to receive a visit from Bill Delbaugh who was made a member of Bond and Key this year, prior to his enlisting in the Navy. He has just completed "boot" training at the Great Lakes Naval Training Center in Illinois. He will soon report for duty at the Submarine Base, New London, Connecticut.

The next regular meeting of Bond and Key will be held on the evening of May 9, at 6:45 p. m.

Phi Mu Delta

At the regular weekly meeting of the Mu Alpha chapter, the graduating seniors were excused from attending the remaining meetings of the year. This was done mainly because of interviews for job placement and because of the many other activities in which they participate.

The chapter was host to the administration and faculty and their wives and husbands on Saturday evening, May 5, from five until seven in the evening. A buffet supper was served. The program was in charge of brothers Len Carlson and Ken Jones.

We received word that Willis Hartman, a member of the last pledge group, is taking his recruit training at the Naval Training Center, Bainbridge, Maryland.

Brother Dave Bennett was elected to represent Phi Mu Delta on the Men's Student Council.

The brothers extend congratulations to brother Ed Palovich for his being accepted into Alpha Psi Omega.

The painting of the chapter home is progressing rapidly now, and our hopes are to have the house completed by May Day. We are also making plans to repair the house roof.

An open house was held Saturday night after the play "The Willow and I." Many members attended with their dates. The chaperones and guests for the evening were Miss Ruth Sparhawk, Miss Frances Brunkhorst, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hatz, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howling, Mr. Axel Kleinsong, Mr. Robert Meader, and Dr. and Mrs. Waldemar Zagars.

Theta Chi

On May 12, during intermission of the Junior Prom, Theta Chi will hold open-house for all members and their guests.

The following week-end, May 19, the chapter plans a full-length open house. The social committee is planning something very special for this party.

Plans are being considered for the publication of "The Crimson Sword," the chapter paper. The finished product should hit the streets sometime within the next few weeks.

Theta Chi is now prepared to disclose to the public the purpose of the large hole which has been dug in front of the house. Contrary to popular rumors, it is not a May pole, and it is not a dungeon for the pledges. The hole has been dug to hold in place the new Theta Chi sign, erection of which will be completed within the near future.

John Morrow deserves special mention on this project, for John is the designer of the sign and engineer of the work. Carl Musser, operator of heavy equipment and supervisor of procurement, also deserves special mention for the capable way in which he discharged his duties. Compliments to Jack Gearinger will be withheld until it is determined if the concrete has dried properly and holds well.

The sign, upon completion, will be fourteen feet high, displaying the fraternity emblem and the chapter letters.

Vespers

"The Key to Success" was the topic of a very inspiring message given by Larry Bottiger at Sunday vespers, May 6, in the college chapel. The service this week was under the direction of the Phi Mu Delta fraternity.

Vespers were opened with the singing of the hymn "Jesus, Still Lead On" after which the scripture and prayer were read by the liturgist, Harmon Andrews. Richard Boyd then sang a solo entitled "Blessing."

Following the above mentioned message was the closing hymn, "Jesus, I My Cross Have Taken," which was played by the organist for the evening, Leonard Carlson.

Approximately fifty-five persons were present at this vesper service which was the last one to be conducted by the Phi Mu Delta men this year.

SCA News

On Wednesday morning, May 2, Ruth Smith was the chapel speaker. She presented a thought for your consideration, "Why Not Trust God?"

The new S.C.A. president, Gordon Joyce, had charge of the first meeting of the new cabinet on May 1, in the S.C.A. room in Hassinger Hall. The meeting was opened with a short worship service led by the president. During the course of the evening's business, Dave Volk made a report on the progress of the handbook, which is to be distributed to the incoming freshmen this fall. Bids for its publishing are being received at this time.

The cabinet members decided that two people should be selected to attend the Ashram of the Lutheran Students' Association of America which will be held at Interlochen, Michigan, from August 25 to 31. The delegates will be elected at the general meeting to be held on May 22. Any persons who are interested in attending the Ashram should sign the slip in the office of Mr. Dan MacCush before May 10.

Recommendations which were acted upon and approved at the Cowan retreat were discussed. Plans were tentatively drawn up whereby these recommendations might be put into practice for the coming year.

Alpha Delta Pi

Mrs. R. Gilbert and Mrs. J. W. Smith attended last week's regular meeting. Joan Sechris has been elected our representative to the Panhellenic Council for the coming year.

On Tuesday, May 15, from 4:00 to 5:30 p. m. Gamma Omicron chapter will hold a tea in honor of Alpha Delta Pi's Centennial Year in Seibert Parlors. The committee in charge of this tea is under the direction of sister Lyn Bailey.

Audrey Wegner has been chosen assistant chapter guard to aid sister Pat Crisman.

May 18 has been chosen as the date for our Senior-Pledge Banquet to be held in the Hotel Edison.

Kappa Delta

Last week was "Education Week" for the pledges. A meeting was held each day beginning Monday with a talk by Mrs. Robert Howling entitled "What to Wear, When." Tuesday, Miss Ruth Sparhawk, alumnae president, spoke. Wednesday, the pledge dinner was held at the Colonial Tea Room in Selinsgrove, where the active members entertained the pledges. Thursday, Miriam Vogler, president, talked on the Panhellenic organization. Friday, Shirley Smyrl, vice president and pledge instructor, talked to the group.

Congratulations are extended to the new sisters, who are Betty Albert, Dorothy Aggar, Lynne Lightfoot, Peggy Henderson, Peggy Aston, Janet Laue, Jane Cline, Patricia Hess, Nancy Kreg, Janice Ford and Lucille Kepner.

Congratulations to Jean Van Voorhis for winning the badminton singles and to Fern Baumgardner and Audrey MacNeil for winning the badminton doubles.

A cultural program was held after the regular meeting, Wednesday, May 2. Carol Reidler, the new cultural chairman, was in charge of the meeting. She discussed the history and founding of Kappa Delta.

This is the first meeting which the new active members attended. They presented the actives and the alumnae with a news letter containing an article about each of the former pledges.

Two of our members, Lulu Slater and Mimi Vogler, were with the cast of "Broken Dishes" when the play was presented at Williamsport, Wednesday. Congratulations to Shirley Smyrl, Lulu Slater, and Bernice Jochem who did a fine job in the play "The Willow and I."

Congratulations to Pat Rumbaugh who was elected president, and Maxine Chambers who was elected treasurer of Tau Kappa.

Sigma Alpha Iota

At a service on Monday, April 30, JoAnn Alexander, Peggy Heffelfinger, Margretta Thomas, Ruth Baer, and Barbara Morris were pledged to Sigma Alpha Iota.

On Wednesday afternoon, May 2, the officers of Sigma Omega chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota for the 1951-52 school year were installed. The new officers are as follows: Voylet Dietz, president; Josephine Stutter, vice-president; Janet Wingert, recording secretary; Lorraine Lee, corresponding secretary; Margaret Zinda, treasurer; Jean Rarick, editor; Barbara Easton, chaplain; Jacquelyn McKeever, sergeant-at-arms; and Clara Mae Williams, pianist.

At an initiation service on Wednesday evening, May 2, Ann Guise, Joan Bates, Ruth Freed, and Eleanor Borski became actives of Sigma Alpha Iota.

Sigma Omega chapter was in charge of the college vesper service on Sunday, April 29. At that time Joan Bates spoke on the subject "Faith and Its Place in the World Today." Ruth Freed was liturgist.

Congratulations are extended to Joan Bates for her excellent performance as Bessie Sutor in "The Willow and I."

Eight o'clock, May 1, found the same group of students at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Russ for the final discussion of the present school year. In reopening the discussion, Dr. Russ reviewed the life of the author whose famous book they were studying together, Sir Thomas More. More, the man who died a martyr to his religious faith, was pictured for them in all the colorfulness of his full and unpredictable life.

Once again, questions regarding ideas presented in the Utopia were battled back and forth among the students and discussion leader. Not only food for thought was provided but other food in the form of strawberry shortcake, coffee, and milk was provided by the gracious hostess of the evening, Mrs. Russ. As happened the previous week, 10:20 p. m. rolled around far too soon.

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK

Not only is she "queen" on our campus, but this week's personality has captured the hearts of the students at William Penn High School in Harrisburg. On her recent visit to that school with the Susquehanna Players, Sally Mitchell was royally treated by the students. Along with this honor, Sally has been asked to be guest of honor to represent college students at an annual dinner sponsored by the three leading newspapers of Harrisburg.

Even with these outside activities, Sally has managed to be kept busy on our campus. She is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota and was the recording secretary in her senior year. Other organizations she belongs to are Student Christian Association, Susquehanna

SALLY MITCHELL

Players, Symphony Orchestra, Susquehanna Singers, and Alpha Psi Omega. Sally was the chairman of the orientation program this year and a freshman counselor in her junior year. She has been V. P. and has acted in such plays as "Here Comes Mr. Jordan," "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," and "One Sunday Afternoon." This year Sally was given the additional honor of being elected to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." Sally has been chosen Susquehanna's Homecoming Queen and will reign as "Queen of the May" on May 12.

Sally Mitchell graduated from Sunbury High School in 1947 and entered Susquehanna in the fall of that year. Music Education was the choice of her course. Upon receiving her degree this June, Sally plans to teach.

At present Sally's home is in Forty Port, Pennsylvania. She has said that she will leave Susquehanna with the fondest of memories and we will feel the same about her.

Mr. Lotz recited this poem in Bible class last week—

The college professor is my shepherd and I am in dire want;

He preventeth me from lying down in the bed which I renteth;

He leadeth me to distraction with his exam questions;

He shaketh my resolution to get a college degree;

He leadeth me to make a fool of myself before my classmates.

Yea, tho I burn my lamp until the landlady howleth, I fear much evil.

For he is against me.

His policies, his theories, and his ranting frighten my wits from me.

He anoineth my quiz paper with red pencil marks.

He assigneth me extra work in the presence of mine enemies;

And my zeros fill a whole column.

Surely, theories, exams, and themes will follow me all the days of my college career.

And I will dwell in the bughouse forever.

On the dock, the poor white laborers gathered to dance in honor of the last trip. Negro dock hands and servants will also join in the festivities by singing and dancing their traditional songs. As an added attraction, there will be a specialty, a Latvian dance. The program will be climaxed by a traditional May Pole Dance.

The production is under the able direction of Miss Ruth Sparhawk. Jean Van Voorhis is the student director. Judging from past May Day performances, which were under their direction, this year's will definitely prove to be stupendous.

At 9:00 p. m., in the Alumni Gym, the Junior Class will present the annual Junior Prom. Music will be by Lee Vincent. A perfect way to end a perfect May Day.

SU TAKES LYCOMING TO WIN FIRST; LOSE TO BUCKNELL BY SEVEN RUNS

Bastressmen Hit Their Way to Win First 12-5

Susquehanna University Crusaders gained their first victory of the current campaign at the expense of the Lycoming College Warriors last Thursday afternoon at Brandon Park, Williamsport by the score of 12-5.

George Washbourne started on the hill for the Crusaders and was credited with the victory. In his initial starting assignment of the year, Washbourne limited the Lycoming Countians to five hits in his 7 2/3 inning stint. Tom Wallace relieved George in the eighth and walked one man of the five men he faced. He struck out two.

Gene Fenstermacher led the Crusader fourteen-hit attack. He collected two doubles and three RBI's in four trips to the plate. Chet Rowe had three singles in five tries. All Crusaders except the pitchers collected at least one hit. Don Berninger and Ed Menapace had triples.

John Cruickshank relieved starter Ed Younken in the fourth and became the only warrior to net more than one hit. Younken was credited with the setback. Both pitchers allowed seven hits.

Susquehanna started the afternoon's activity with two runs in the first frame. Chet Rowe led off with a single and Rich Young drove him across with a single that rolled through the left fielders legs and permitted Young to come all the way home. In the second stanza Lycoming tied the score. They scored their two runs on one hit, three walks and an error. S. U. retaliated in the third with a five run uprising. The big blows were Fenstermacher's double with the bases loaded netting two runs and Young's single with two aboard driving across two more tallies.

In the fourth the Crusaders crossed the plate three more times. Four walks, a single, and Menapace's triple greeted pitcher John Cruickshank. The final Crusader tallies came in the seventh when they scored once and hit twice in the ninth. Lycoming scored once in the fourth and twice in the seventh.

The storm that threatened all afternoon had Coach Bastress worried until the game became official after five innings of play. Several times it sprinkled but the downpour was not enough to delay the game. . . . Don Berninger's triple in the first inning was the oddest play of the afternoon. Bernie hit to left center between the left and center fielders and the third-base coach gave him the go ahead signal at third. But in rounding third Bernie got out of the base path and couldn't find home plate and the catcher put the ball on him for the third out. The foul lines were not marked and in rounding third Bernie got lost. As a result he was the object of a great deal of good-natured kidding for the rest of the afternoon.

George Washbourne had the honor of leading off for three innings in a row. He was the first batter in the second and the Crusaders batted around in the second and third. . . . Washbourne walked five men bringing the total of free passes issued to date to an unbelievable 70. That's an average of ten a game. How can one pitching staff be so wild? Coach Bastress would like to know. . . . This was the first game in which the S. U. pitchers have struck out more men than they have walked.

Washbourne's knuckleball had the Lyco's swinging wildly all afternoon. He was in hot water several times but he bore down in the clutches and thirteen Warriors were stranded on the base paths. . . . Three times Lycoming had the bases loaded. . . . Menapace was the victim of a nice play on the part of catcher Herb Jones in the sixth. Ed lofted a foul fly behind the plate and Jones after misjudging it made a diving stab at the ball and held on to it for the put out. . . . Twice the Young to Ross to Wollaston combination resulted in DP's. . . . The Crusader's engage Keystone at home this Thursday.

Bucknell Gets Win As Crusaders Make Many Costly Errors in Field

Susquehanna's Crusaders dropped their sixth straight baseball game to the Bucknell Bisons on University Field last Monday afternoon 13-8. Ray Kaseman who pitched the first eight innings was chalked up with the loss. George Washbourne relieved Ray in the ninth.

For the first time this season the Crusaders' pitchers walked less than ten men but shabby defensive play on the part of the Crusader infield aided in giving the Bisons the victory. Nine errors marred the game. Bucknell out-hit the Crusaders 13-9. Lucas who took the mound in the fourth received credit for the victory.

Ed Menapace led the Crusaders in their unsuccessful attempt to gain a mark in the win column. The "big chief" had a single, a double and a triple in five trips to the platter. He was the only Crusader to get more than one hit and he had the only extra base knocks of the afternoon. Jack Webber was the big gun for the Bisons. He netted three singles in five trips and scored two runs.

S. U. scored three runs in the third inning on two hits. Von Hell, the starting pitcher, walked Rowe and Orris, and Menapace singled to drive home Rowe from second. Berninger was then hit on the right arm to load the bases. Ed Wollaston drove home the other two runs with a single to center. In the fifth Menapace led off with a double to right center, advanced to third on an infield out, and scored on an error. In the seventh Moose again sparked an S. U. rally. After Young had singled, he clouted a triple to deep left and then scored on an error.

Bucknell had runners on base in every inning except the seventh as they spread their scoring over six innings.

Intramural Softball

Only two games were regularly scheduled last week in the race for the Minnich trophy. However, Phi Mu Delta and Bond & Key utilized the open date to make up their postponed first-half game.

Phi Mu Up—Theta Chi Downed

The Delts kept up their winning streak as they trimmed Selingrove Hall by a 6-3 margin last Tuesday. Jim Delich hurled and won his first game of the season, aided by some timely wallpops by teammates Ben Alter and Gog Marek. Alter smashed two successive circuit clouts while Marek laced a double and single. Selingrove's Rube Henry allowed Phi Mu to bunt hits in a losing effort.

Theta Chi hurler Richard Stout lost a tough one to GA in the other Tuesday game as he had a no-hit shutout going for five innings, and then suddenly saw GA tally seven times on five hits in the bottom half of the sixth to win by a 7-5 score. Several errors aided Theta Chi's downfall. Ed Kopf picked up the win for GA, while Steve Torok and Lou Szabo picked up some timely hits in that eventful sixth.

Bond & Key Loses to Delts

Phi Mu Delta stretched its winning streak to six in a row last Thursday as they romped over Bond & Key, 20-12 in a loosely-played, heavy-hitting contest. Charley Zlock breezed to his fifth straight win as the Orange and Black scored in every inning off Bill Bosch and John Steiger, who relieved in the fourth. Ed Palkovich led the Phi Mu attack by larruping a single, double, triple and home run. John Horoschak hammered three singles and a double, while Ben Alter rapped two singles and a triple in the free-hitting game. Roy Cope smacked a single and double for B & K.

The last games of the regular season will be completed on May 7 and 8, and the final playoffs will then be scheduled to determine the winner of the Minnich trophy.

obtain a good education. The seat of this misconception is in the misconception of the true meaning of "Education." To me, Tyron Edwards have given us the best meaning for the term in question. He explained, "The great end of education is, to discipline rather than to furnish the mind; to train it to use its own powers, rather than to fill it with the accumulations of others."

One who has left his secondary schooling and gone immediately to work, can under no conceivable assumption have a well-disciplined mind, or be able to reason the deeper technological problems of our civilization. By scanning the requirements for the positions of importance in the various lines of production, management, or human relations, one can see that the first requirement is that of the college degree. It would be cheaper, quicker, and easier to employ those without a college degree if it weren't for the single fact that a higher education enables one to produce better than one without this training. It is here that the productivity myth is shattered. Once and for all, let us look beyond the end of our noses, and see that it does pay to have a good education.

Every day we hear some underclassmen say that they wish they were "getting out this year." The seniors seem to disagree. They will sincerely hate to leave their second home. Some will not wish to leave because of the many close friendships that will dissolve. Others will not enjoy leaving because, as scholars, they like to procure new ideas, new methods, and new foundations that they can utilize in life. Still others will hate to leave because the sudden realization has come to their minds that through their own lack of endeavor, they have not learned what they should.

Heed well, underclassmen! You will be in one of these positions in the not too distant future. The great consolation is that, like swimming, the hardest part is getting in the water.

A senior will tell you that although he may never use the exact method or material he has learned, in learning this material, he has had to use his mental powers. The greatest thing in his favor is that he knows how to think.

So, to the mother of our learning, who has brought us to our present mental state, we the seniors of Susquehanna University thank you for both what and how we know, and say—farewell.

SUSQUEHANNA HOST TO HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS FOR SUB-FRESHMAN DAY ACTIVITIES TODAY

Steamboat Days

Revived For SU's May Day Festivities

Although the day was cloudy the May Day program was held on Saturday, May 12. At 7:15 a. m. the day's events were initiated with the May Day breakfast in Horton Dining Hall. The honored guests at the breakfast included the May Court, Miss Ruth Sparhawk, Mrs. Carol Kline, Miss Athalia Kline, Miss Erma Sambrook, Miss Bertha Hein, Mrs. Alice Glauque, Miss Frances Brunkhorst, and Jean Van Voorhis.

From their seats, the spectators saw the great orange and blue steamboat. As soon as the band finished playing a few selections, the May Court began its procession from Hastinger Hall and up the gangplank of the boat. Laura Ann Ulrich, crown bearer, was dressed in a blue gown. She was followed by the queen, Sally Mitchell, a vision of beauty in tiers of white net, and Janice Arne, lading-in-waiting, who wore a strapless white organdy over yellow taffeta. The court dressed in matching white organdy over Nile green taffeta with colorful sashes included Flossie Barnhart, Betty Beam, Marilyn Beers, Mary Lehman, Jean McDonald, and Mary Lou Slater. The band played the "Coronation March" until the queen was crowned. Miss Maria Shetler, last year's queen, crowned the queen.

The first entertainment on this gala day was a selection by the band and chorus, "Here Comes the Showboat." Following this number the captain of the boat, David Sterrett, was introduced. The "Dixie Gang" made their entrance and at the conclusion of their dance, the "Dock Hands" sang "Ole Man River." The band and chorus then sang "Robert E. Lee." Ken Hempstead gave a rendition of "Swanee" with the banjo players. He was followed by the Goopy Dancers, Alice Greeger, and Shirley Young.

The Dock Hands returned to the stage and sang "Gospel Train" and "Zeikel Saw De Wheel." Next on the program were the Shoo Fly Dancers and the Chorus singing "Juanita." Since the waltz was one of the favorite dances of the "Steamboat era," a group of eight southern belles with their Navy officer escorts entertained the audience by dancing the "Missouri Waltz." At the conclusion of the dance, See STEAMBOAT DAYS—Page 8

ADPi Celebrates Founder's Day

On Tuesday, May 15, Gamma Omicron chapter of Alpha Delta Pi celebrated the founding of its century-old sorority with a Founder's Day Tea and Jewel Degree Initiation for graduating seniors.

The Jewel Degree, an additional honorary initiation, was given to the following graduating seniors: Janice Arner, Lyn Bailey, Martha Albert, Betty Beam, Jean McDonald, Marianne Pague, Grace-Jane McKeever, Marilyn Beers, Shirley Young, and Susan Poltz. Members of the Philadelphia Alumnae Association of Alpha Delta Pi were present to administer the final degree of honor.

The annual Founder's Day Tea was held in Selbert Parlor at 4:30. This was a very special occasion for all ADPi's as this was Alpha Delta Pi's 100th birthday. It is the first sorority to celebrate 100 years of achievement in the field of women's fraternities.

Founded in May, 1851, at Wesleyan College, Macon Georgia, Alpha Delta Pi, with a membership of more than 34,000, has 81 collegiate chapters in the United States and Canada, and 186 alumnae groups in the United States, Canada, and Hawaii. The organization is now preparing to celebrate its 100th anniversary at an international convention in Macon, Georgia, in June.

Sally Mitchell Chosen Pennsylvania's Outstanding Co-Ed For 1951; Guest of The Patriot and Evening News at Banquet

Miss Sally Mitchell, Susquehanna University's May Queen for 1951, and who has been chosen Pennsylvania's Outstanding College Co-Ed for 1951, will be guest of honor at the Third Annual Patriot-News School Correspondents' Dinner-Dance, which will be held Tuesday, May 22, at 6:30 p. m., in the ballroom of the Penn Harris Hotel in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Guests for this annual affair conducted by the Harrisburg Patriot are the tops always. The first year they had Jimmy Kilgallen and Claire Glass, two of the world's top writers. This year among the guests will be Fred Othman and Guri Lie, Apple Blossom Queen of 1951 and daughter of the secretary-general of the United Nations. Each year, the sponsors of the affair try to have as a special guest some college student who is outstanding and who they feel sets a fine example of American youth. For 1951 they have chosen Sally Mitchell.

Educators, civic leaders and veteran newspapermen will also attend the dinner. Many awards will be given to the members of the School Correspondents' Club conducted by the Patriot.

Miss Mitchell is a student in the Conservatory of Music at Susquehanna University, and will graduate June 4. Sally has been very active in college extra-curricular activities. She is a member of the national music sorority on campus, Sigma Alpha Iota, plays in the University band and orchestra, and has participated in most of the activities of the Conservatory. In 1949, Sally was chosen Homecoming Queen, and in that capacity, resigned over the annual Homecoming festivities.

Being chosen as guest of honor for the Third Annual School Correspondents' Club dinner-dance is indeed an honor not only for Sally, but for Susquehanna as well.

The Revolution

By John Schwartz

You high school students on campus have probably heard about all the hard work that goes with college. Well, let me tell you, it isn't so. Why even here at Susquehanna the students have the final word in everything before any action is taken by the faculty, the administration, or any other branch of the higher ups.

It is only a few weeks ago that the professors on campus started to lay the work on too thick, and imagine, they even encouraged students to try to make the dean's list. Well, the inevitable happened. That's right, an uprising and overthrow of all the government took place on the campus. The entire structure was thrown out of shape by the revolutionists. A well-appointed "revision committee" set up headquarters in Selbert social rooms and drafted plans for the new school system.

All professors and instructors were immediately seized and confined, each with a copy of the text book of his course, in the basement of GA Hall. All first semester "dean's list" students were apprehended, chained together and set to work digging in the hockey field, where the new swimming pool will be located. All proctors were also taken into custody, and under the supervision of probation students, began work on a dancing pavilion in front of Selbert.

All women students who had thus far received "minutes" were paid five dollars for each minute. A new system whereby no woman student may enter the dormitory before twelve midnight, is being planned. A long list is being made of the names of students who have answered questions in class. These offenders will probably be assigned to the burning of books at the library and work involved in making a roller-rink within that building. The doors of Horton Dining Room are being enlarged, and a ramp installed, so that students may drive their cars into the building and receive service in that way. Students will be served by peasants who have not yet exceeded their limit of cuts.

The new schedule for the academic year will be posted in the near future. It will include football 202, basketball 2-18, baseball 2-6, swimming 10, WTPGB (when the pool gets built), basket-weaving 394, and canoe paddling 600. All classes will be held from one to two p. m. every day except Monday, Wednesday, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

The new social calendar has been written by the committee. It includes a social every night, afternoon parties on Saturday, and name-bands on Saturday nights. All members of the Student Council were seized; their future will consist of serving tables in the fraternity houses.

Plumbers are now at work installing birch beer in all the drinking fountains. The laundry has been converted into an ice cream plant. Elevators are being installed in every building on See REVOLUTION—Page 8

Registration, Band Concert, Sing, Displays and Picnic In Program

Today is Sub-Freshman Day. Since 1942, Sub-Freshman Day has been just a theoretical part of our annual May Day. But this year we are devoting a whole day to sub-freshmen.

The committee for Sub-Freshman Day under the chairmanship of Miss Erma Sambrook, dean of women, has planned a program which it hopes will provide enjoyment and also an understanding of Susquehanna's activities and curriculum. Dr. Harry Rice, president of the Alumni Association; key alumni; the Women's Auxiliary; our own faculty members, and many others have cooperated to their fullest to make the 1951 Sub-Freshman Day a complete success.

The program for the day is as follows. At 9:30 a. m. the Business Society will take charge of registering the visitors in front of Selbert Hall. From 9:30 a. m. to 10:30 a. m. there will be a band concert by the Susquehanna University band under the direction of Mr. John Leach. The band will play from the grass below the sundial. From 10:00 a. m. to 12:00 noon there will be classroom displays. These will include a library exhibit, a chemistry demonstration, a physics demonstration, a business department display and a biology display. At this time also, there will be a continual showing of the movie, "Naval Photography in Science." This is in color and shows interesting discoveries in the fields of chemistry, biology, and physics. At this time also, the movie of Susquehanna's campus will be shown.

At 12:15 p. m. there will be a picnic lunch on the women's athletic field. At 12:50 p. m. there will be an outdoor sing. At 1:15 p. m. the sub-freshmen will assemble in the chapel for an address by Dr. G. Morris Smith. After which, Sigma Alpha Iota will present its skit, "Variations on Jack and Jill." Mr. Axel Kleinsorg will present "One Sunday Afternoon" a one-act play starring Charlotte Neuman, Sally Mitchell, Bill Templin, and Bob Bogdanoff. There will also be a piano-organ number with Jean Hill at the piano and Flossie Barnhart at the organ. At 2:15 p. m. there will be an open house in all men's and women's dormitories and in the fraternity houses and sorority rooms. Punch and cookies will be served at the fraternity houses and sorority rooms.

This draws the day's activities to a close. We hope the sub-freshmen will go home with pleasant memories of Susquehanna and thoughts of returning as freshmen in the Fall.

Rolling Green Scene Of Panhellenic Picnic

Rolling Green Park was the setting of the Panhellenic picnic held on May 16. This picnic, sponsored by Kappa Delta Sorority, was the first of its type held for the organizations.

Activities started about five-thirty when approximately one hundred and thirty active, alumni members, and patronesses gathered at the large picnic tables. At each place was a favor—a small home stick.

A very delicious meal was provided by Mrs. Humphrey and was served by the members of Kappa Delta. The menu consisted of sandwiches, potato salad, relishes, fruit, cake, and chocolate milk.

Following the meal, each organization presented entertainment, much to the amusement of the spectators. There was also group singing.

Rides at the park were open, and many girls had a hair-raising time on them.

Miss Ruth Sparhawk supervised the picnic. Table arrangements, food, and serving were supervised by a committee headed by Wilda Odenthal. Members of the committee were: Nancy Cosgrove, Lulu Slater, Jackie Kraus, Elaine Adamiak, Jean Steumpe, Janet Laue, Peggy Henderson, Pam McKegg, Jean Van Voorhis, Althea Ferguson, and Shirley Smyrl.

Faculty Journal Contains Articles On Literature, Language

This week there will appear the annual issue of the "Susquehanna University Studies," a faculty journal of research articles published yearly by the Susquehanna University Press, under the general editorship of Dr. Arthur H. Wilson, who founded the "Studies" in 1936 and secured endowment for the University Press.

The current number is devoted entirely to language and literature and will contain three papers: "The Oratory of the Pennsylvania Germans at the Versammlung," by Dr. Russell W. Gilbert, professor of German; "Browning's Theory of the Purpose of Art," by Robert Tunis Howling, instructor in English; and "The Complete Narrative of Joseph Conrad," by Dr. Arthur H. Wilson, chairman of the English department.

Started in 1936, the "Studies" has appeared regularly every spring for sixteen years to the present date. It has amassed four separate volumes, including sixty-three articles, numbering more than one thousand pages.

The Susquehanna

Published weekly throughout the school year, with the exception of Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter and Semester holidays, at a subscription rate of $2.50 a year.

Reprinted as second-class matter February 21, 1947, at the post office at Selingrove, Pennsylvania, under the act of March 3, 1879.

Acknowledgements

This has been the first attempt at an increased page issue of "The Susquehanna" since 1942. Consequently, it required much effort on the part of many to make it possible. Too often a special effort goes unnoticed and people are unaware of the time and energy which goes into such an undertaking.

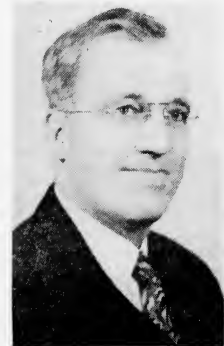

The special Sub-Freshman Day issue had the cooperation and help of not only students but faculty and administration too. Special articles for this issue were written by: Dr. G. Morris Smith, Dr. Russell Gilbert, Miss Irma Sambrook, and Mr. Robert Meader. The faculty advisor was Dr. Arthur H. Wilson.

Students who contributed special articles for this issue include: Gerald Moorehead, Virginia Lee Yinger, Dave Sterrett, Gordon Joyce, Grace Jane McKeever, Joan Bates, Susan Foltz, Wilda Oendthal, Bob Pittello, Betty Beam, Bill Bosch, Lois Gordon, Maxine Chambers, John Schwartz, Jim Morris, Frank Compton, Marilyn Beers, and Larry Batschelet. The photographer for this issue was Dave Sterrett. Special thanks go to John Steiger and Lois Gordon for their help in the planning, layout, and sundry things which must be done before going to press.

We offer you this special issue designed for this special day and hope that you will enjoy it well enough to again make it part of the tradition of SU.

To All Visiting Students and Friends

It is a great pleasure for me as President of Susquehanna University to assure all students and friends from our surrounding high schools of a royal welcome to our Sub-Freshman Day festivities.

The program which has been sketched in advance is diversified and entertaining—departmental exhibits, a band concert, a picnic lunch, a general assembly program, open house at all dormitories, fraternities and sororities—all climaxed by a tea in the women's residence, Seibert Hall. In addition, our students are planning to lead you on tours about the campus and through our buildings. I am sure all visiting students will enjoy the day at Susquehanna, and will want to return again. Our faculty and all our students are looking forward with great pleasure to welcoming you to a happy and beautiful day with us.

Most cordially yours,
G. MORRIS SMITH,
President

Why Go To College?

If you want to get ahead in life, go to college. You'll receive a higher type of knowledge there than you did in high school. The armed forces of the United States in war time need educated men to be officers. And in the peace that follows an educated man will be more valuable than ever.

Aside from the factual education, college helps you become more emotionally and physically mature. If you didn't learn to get along with people before, you will then. You start out with a roommate, add the fellows in the dorm, pick up with those following the same line of education, and pretty soon you have learned how to meet people—and who to be interesting yourself.

For mixing, college is the place. Ever been alone in a crowd? That doesn't happen in college if you are willing to be one of the crowd. There are the fellows in the dorms, the fraternity men, the sorority girls, and all others who are just the same as you—a college student who is trying to get an education and have some fun at the same time.

Ask any graduating senior the advantages of going to college. Some will say that it prepares you for better jobs, others will say that a person becomes more mature and is better able to get along with people, and all will say that it is the part of their life that they wouldn't have missed for anything.

You high school seniors must naturally make-up your own minds to go to college. No one is better able to know if he wants to go to college than the individual himself. But before deciding that you don't want to go, think about the many advantages received by going to college and then decide. All it takes in college is a little initiative and a willingness to work. See you in college!

Tentative Schedule of Graduation Program

The following is a tentative schedule for the ninety-third Commencement exercises of Susquehanna University which will take place from June 1 to June 4.

Friday, June 1, a senior luncheon will be given by President and Mrs. G. Morris Smith.

Saturday, June 2, Alumni Day, a reception will be held on Pine Lawn. In the evening at 6:00 p.m. the seniors will be the guests of the Alumni at a banquet in Horton Dining Hall where gifts of Alumni membership will be presented to the seniors.

Sunday, June 3, at 10:30 a.m. in Trinity Lutheran Church, the Baccalaureate service will be held. The speaker will be Dr. Ralph W. Loew, from Buffalo, New York. Sunday afternoon there will be a musicale in Seibert Chapel.

Monday, June 4, at 10:00 a.m. Commencement exercises begin. The speaker is Judge James P. Henninger, from Allentown, Pennsylvania. In the afternoon the dedication of the new Bogar Hall will take place.

Biemic Society Holds Final Meeting of Year

The final meeting of the Biemic Society for this semester was held Thursday evening, May 17. Included in the business of the meeting was the election of officers for next fall. The members were entertained by movies. Refreshments were then served.

This organization, whose purpose is to further the interests of students in biology, chemistry and physics, will resume activity in September.

Business Society Plans Program for 1951-52

The Business Society held its final regular meeting of the school year on Monday evening. Plans were discussed for the part which the Society will take in the freshmen orientation program next fall and a tentative schedule for 1951-52 was planned.

Following the reports and transaction of business, the meeting was concluded with entertainment organized by Shirley Smyrl. Refreshments were served. The next regular meeting of the Business Society is scheduled for October 8, 1951.

SU Seniors Enter Many Phases of Employment Upon Graduation

The members of the class of 1951 have prepared for a variety of occupations. Although the university is small, there is no lack of variety in the curriculum, as is pointed out by the choice of the seniors.

The good wishes of the students go with these seniors as they enter their chosen professions, or go on to graduate school.

Martha Albert, Myerstown, Pennsylvania, A.B., plans to be a industrial mathematician.

Ben C. Alter, Rochester, New York, A.B., has a position with the government as a translator and interpreter.

Janice Arner, East Liverpool, Ohio, A.B., hopes to do laboratory work.

Lyn Bailey, New York City, New York, B.S., plans to do public relations work.

Fern Baumgardner, Winber, Pennsylvania, A.B., hopes to do laboratory work in chemistry or biology.

Marilyn Jeanne Beers, Bloomfield, New Jersey, B.S., will have a position with Hahne and Company of Newark, New Jersey.

Robert E. Bittling, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, B.S., in Music, will take further training at Columbia Teachers College.

Marsh C. Bogar, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, A.B., will be employed by the Harrisburg Lumber Company.

Walter Lee Brandau, Sunbury, Pennsylvania, A.B., will prepare for Christian ministry at Gettysburg Seminary.

Hazel Robst Brown, Sunbury, Pennsylvania, A.B., hopes to get a position as a teacher.

Jean McDonald, Marion, Virginia, A.B., expects to obtain a position teaching in a nursery school.

Gardiner Marek, Atlantic Highlands, New Jersey, B.S., hopes to become a salesman for real estate management.

Martha Martin, Shamokin, Pennsylvania, B.S., would like to teach commercial subjects.

Sally Mitchell, Forty Fort, Pennsylvania, B.S., in music education, is also planning to teach school.

Gerald Moorehead, Milton, Pennsylvania, A.B., is going on to seminary for further study.

Roland Rosetti is going to work in Baum's Sporting Goods, Inc.

Nelda Shafer, Barnesville, Pennsylvania, A.B., hopes to do child welfare or psychological testing work.

Alumni News

An alumnus of Susquehanna, Conrad Richter, was ushered into the national spotlight on May 8, when it was announced that he had won the Pulitzer Prize for the best American novel of 1950. "The Town."

Dr. Richter, the son of a preacher who graduated from Susquehanna in the class of '04, lives in Pine Grove, Pennsylvania. This town was the background for his novel, "The Town," part of a trilogy which includes, "The Trees," and "The Fields."

Dr. Richter received an Honorary Degree of Doctor of Letters from Susquehanna University in 1944.

"The Sea of Grass," as many of you will remember, was Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's production of Richter's novel of the historic feud between cattle raisers and dirt farmers. The picture starred Spencer Tracy and Katherine Hepburn.

18 Students Guests of Business Department

On Tuesday, eighteen students from Northumberland High School were guests of the business department of Susquehanna University. The students were accompanied by their teacher, Miss Patricia Houtz.

On the schedule for the day for the 18 students were a tour of classes in session, a tour of the new Bogar Hall, a tea in Seibert Parlors, and movies of campus scenes.

Each student received a small memo book with the compliments of the Business Society of Susquehanna University like the one being presented to the visitors on campus today for Sub-Freshman Day. The eighteen guests of the business department were also invited to visit the campus on Sub-Freshman Day for the day's activities.

Orientation Program Helps New Students Adjust To College

The Freshman Orientation Program has its beginning about a week prior to the starting of classes. This week of campus acquaintanceship is full of activities for all girls. Perhaps you would like to follow a typical freshman as she enters the campus of Susquehanna for the first time. We will call our new fresh, Patsy.

No sooner does Patsy's father drive to Haxinger Hall early on a Friday morning, than the car is besieged by a bevy of upperclassmen eager to show the family and Patsy to her new home. Wild Mother and Dad unpack the loaded car. Patsy is taken to the office to obtain her post office box and room key. Then her "big sister" returns Patsy to her room to unpack and have a last visit with her parents. By this time her roommate has arrived and it really begins to feel like college.

After lunch in Horton Dining Hall, Patsy has a group meeting with a senior group leader and a junior assistant in charge. The whole fresh class is broken up into small groups of eight girls. These groups meet every day at various times to discuss the traditions, regulations, code of study, scholarship, special events, etc., of the college. Patsy's group chose the atmosphere of the Colonial porch of Seibert Hall (the upperclassman's dorm) as their meeting place. From time to time the group leader conducts Patsy and the other girls around the campus and points out the various landmarks.

Patsy writes home to her family that her evenings are full and there is no time to be homesick. One night they had a pajama party in Seibert social room. The upperclassmen really did have a nice entertainment program that night! Another night Patsy went to a dance in the Alumni Gymnasium and to a big and little sister banquet, and to a big and little sister picnic. One evening she even went on a picnic, not to mention the trips to Selingrove when she was "treated" by her big sister. And, on the last night of orientation, Patsy's group leader and assistant had a party for the entire group in one of the dormitory rooms.

The next day classes began and Patsy had her first taste of studying. But she would never forget that enjoyable first week of school.

Auxiliary at New High 4th May Day Meeting

All together, let's go! might have been the theme of Saturday's peak meeting of Susquehanna's Women's Auxiliary. Certainly that was the spirit of the fourth annual May Day meeting of this thriving organization of women interested in Susquehanna's growth and specifically in Susquehanna's new music building.

All together—members, officers, committees, key-women, parents, neighbors, friends, directors, alumni, administration, faculty, and students—directed their interest and action toward helping. And what happened?

The crowded chapel heard inspiring reports of new members, new areas heard from, and new and unique and generous entries in the various "Books of Remembrance." Knowing that every dollar contributed in honor of, or in remembrance of, some friend or loved one goes to the Music Building Fund, campus organizations in a dramatic surprise performance presented a number of pages in the books. Represented were Alpha Delta Pi, Bond and Key, Business Society, Chapel Choir, Choral Society, Kappa Delta, Phi Mu Delta, Sigma Alpha Iota, and Theta Chi.

Besides this, the excellent response of parents to the annual membership letter gave the Auxiliary a real boost in funds and in morale.

The action of the students in supplying elements of the entertainment, the orderly conduct of the luncheon, and the gracious reception the students extended to the campus guests, all came in for words of praise.

The Auxiliary's genuine gratitude goes to every one who had a part. Music Building Fund, as of May Day evening, totals $2,641 in cash and $15,100 in Government Bonds (at maturity).

The details of the plan are being further studied. It is expected that the first floor will be thoroughly renovated with the addition of a new floor, new ceiling, new lighting, and new paint throughout. Provisions have been outlined for a Day Students' Room and a general student union.

Administration News

During depression, war, and post-war reconstruction, Susquehanna's administration has been based on the desirability of living each year within the income of the institution. The result is that the institution is without debt and has steadily increased its endowment until now it is beyond the half million mark.

The guiding principle in expending money either in major renovations or in new buildings is that two-thirds of the amount of money needed be on hand when the building is started.

This principle was used in beginning work on the new classroom building, the Jerry D. Bogar, Jr., Hall, when $200,000 was on hand when it was started last April. The $100,000 additional that was needed to complete and equip the building was applied from the receipt of the Christian Higher Education Year appeal so far received. This new building, modern in every respect, will be dedicated on June 4 in connection with the 93rd Commencement. The Honorable James P. Henninger, President-Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Allentown, Pennsylvania, will be the Commencement speaker.

New Music Hall and Addition to Library Await Further Fund Raising

The starting of the new music hall and the addition to the present library must await further fund raising. The CHIEF effort should bring in money needed for these two buildings since only $102,466 out of a quota of $300,000 for Susquehanna University has been paid as of the present date. Toward the Music Building, the Women's Auxiliary is dedicating its present efforts. They have on hand approximately $15,000 for this purpose.

S. U. Players Present Three Productions Every Year

"Broken Dishes," "The Taming of the Shrew," and "The Willow and I" Programmed This Season

A SCENE FROM "BROKEN DISHES"

"The Willow and I"

A fast moving drama, John Patrick's "The Willow and I," was presented in the Seibert Chapel on May 4 and 5 to large and attentive audiences.

"The Willow and I" is a drama of poignant emotional appeal. It is the love story of Mara and Bessie Sutro. Robin Todd, though he chooses Mara, the elder sister, as his bride, the marriage is thwarted as the result of an accident which occurs on the wedding day. However, the love story is fulfilled forty years later when Mara learns from Dr. Todd's son that, though Robin had married Bessie during the intervening years, it was Mara who was first in his heart.

Joan Bates as Bessie Sutro and Shirley Smyth as Mara Sutro act excellently and move the audience to emotion as the tale of their love and lives unfolds. Each was dynamic, each stirring, each made one feel her deepest and innermost thoughts.

Reuben Henry, as the receiver of the affection, did a superb job and helped the drama reach a new height in audience appeal.

Mary Lou Slater, acting in her second play this year, was touching and appealing as Millie, the unmarried aunt.

Supporting the heavier roles were Tom Marts as Theodore Sutro, William Stringer as Dr. Oliver, William Klop as Dr. Trubee, and Bernice Jochem and Dolores Shinko as the entertaining and amusing colored servants. James Yeungman and Asklad Zagars were excellent as the boys, Baily and Duke.

Much credit for scene designing goes to William Smeltz who is a veteran in intricate stage designing for the Susquehanna Players productions.

Again Mr. Axel Kleinsorg has completed a highly successful academic year with three different, distinct, and delightful plays.

Freshmen Given Ten Hours on How to Use Library's Volumes

The university library, erected in 1928, functions as a reference library of more than 30,000 volumes and nearly 4,000 volumes of bound magazines, to which additions are made constantly. The library is classified and arranged according to the Dewey decimal system.

The library receives regularly about 200 periodicals, both for scholastic and recreational reading, five daily newspapers, one local weekly newspaper, the standard index services, and many other college publications. It contains also the Wilt Mosaic collection, a bequest of several thousand books of value to music students. It contains also about six hundred volumes of biography and about eleven hundred volumes of fiction.

Three major art exhibits are shown in the library throughout the year, and five or six minor exhibits are also displayed.

Several work scholarships are available to students interested in library work. At the present time there are eight people on the library staff.

Freshmen are given ten hours of instruction in the basic tools of the library and the technique of using them through independent research.

"The Taming of the Shrew"

The Susquehanna Players each year sponsor a Shakespearean festival which is highlighted by the presentation of a Shakespearean play. This year's festival was held from November 13-18.

A comedy, "The Taming of the Shrew" was the presentation. The controversial subject from the viewpoint of all audiences who see "The Taming of the Shrew" is whether or not Kate actually is dominated by her husband Petruchio. Elaine Adamick and Paul Jones were excellently cast as Kate and Petruchio. She appeared to be tamed but many feel she learned that silence was golden and would ultimately triumph.

The plot centers around Baptista, enacted by Jacob Spangler, and his two daughters, the lovely Bianca and Katharine, the spiteful wench, and is climaxed by Kate's apparent taming. Justin Myers as Lucentio commanded the leading male romantic role and captured not only Bianca's heart, but the audience's as well.

Bill Foster and Robert Bogdanffy duly supported the leads in their character portrayal of Gremio and Biondello. As is customary with Shakespearean drama, numerous minor roles rounded out an excellent cast.

The costumes were authentic copies of contemporary Shakespearean clothes. Effect was created solely by costumes and lighting with a minimum amount of properties and scenery. Little scenery was used in the theatre of Shakespeare's day.

Teachers in service and students from other colleges desiring summer work at Susquehanna should inform us of their individual needs.

Depending upon student needs, classes will be offered in the following curricula:

LIBERAL ARTS which prepares for careers in the professions.

BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION which prepares for business careers.

COMMERCIAL EDUCATION which prepares for secretarial positions and for high school teaching in the high school field.

MUSIC which prepares supervisors and teachers of public school music.

Registration of students will be held in the Registrar's office as follows:

For the first term: Tuesday, June 12, 1951, from 9 to noon.

For the second term: Monday, July 23, 1951 from 9 to noon.

Classes will be held five days a week, Monday through Friday from 7:30 a. m. to noon and from 1:20 to 5 p. m. A short chapel service will be held daily.

College dormitories for men and women and the college dining hall will be open for the summer session. Tuition and general expenses amount to $13.50 per semester hour, and board and room amount to $12.50 per week.

Inquire at the registrar's office for further information concerning the summer session.

COLLEGE NOT ALL WORK AS EVIDENCED BY THE VARIED SOCIAL PROGRAM OFFERED

Susquehanna University believes in offering an active social program in addition to fine curricula in order to develop students into well-rounded personalities. The social calendar for the 1950-51 academic year, prepared by the faculty-student Social Committee, illustrates the varied opportunities for fellowship befitting the hells spirit of the campus. The round of social activities included formal and informal dances, picnics, teas, house parties, movies, the Star Course, plays, special dinners, caroling, student recitals and concerts, receptions for students in the churches and at the college, meetings in faculty homes, religious gatherings and conferences, and the traditional Parents' Day, Homecoming Day, and May Day.

The productions of the Susquehanna Players, "The Taming of the Shrew," "Broken Dishes," "The Willow and I," and others, offered wholesome entertainment and sociability. The Shakespeare comedy was selected for the second annual Shakespeare Festival. The Little Theater in the new Bogar Hall will be an added inspiration for the development of histrionic ability.

The Star Course featured Robert Aurs Smith, the Mozart Orchestra, Ruth Brail, contralto, and Sir Hubert Wilkins. The initial movie program consisted of "Captains Courageous," "Ruggles of Red Gap," "Anna Christie," "The Good Earth," "The Keys of the Kingdom," "M" (a German film), and "Camille."

The list of dances included those by the Men's Student Council, the Biemic Society, the Women's Athletic Association, the Panhellenic, the Sophomore Hop, the Junior Prom, the Homecoming Dance, Sadie Hawkins Dance, and the Commencement Dance. Social dancing took place in Seibert Social Rooms every Thursday evening from 6:30 to 8:00.

Special dinners were prepared by Mrs. Humphrey, the dietitian, before the Thanksgiving and Christmas vacations for students and the entire faculty. These dinners were followed by special services in the chapel. After the Christmas worship the students walked to the homes of the faculty to serenade them with carols, an S. U. custom of many years, and returned to the campus for more refreshments. Paanachi (Shrove Tuesday) brought the traditional Pennsylvania Dutch doughnuts and coffee.

Throughout the year a spirit of fellowship and music filled the campus air. The Chapel Choir, the Susquehanna Singers, the band, and the orchestra enjoyed many hours of work and play. Twelve student recitals, a faculty recital by Miss Brunkhorst and Mr. Bilman, the annual American Musicale and the 25th Anniversary Concert of S.A.I., the St. Cecilia Mass, the competitive Interfraternity-Sorority Sing, and vibrating guitar strings in the men's dorms accented the true Susquehanna spirit.

The art trip to the nation's capital, the W.A.A. Variety Show, Freshman Stunt Night, an old-fashioned auction, intramurals in which faculty umpires have a tougher time than William Bonds, and the faculty-student volleyball game (more social than athletic)—WHAT VARIETY! And at that, merely one microscopic view of the whole picture.

Messrs. Karl Geisinger and Robert Howling to Further Ph.D. Studies

At a recent meeting of the executive committee of the Board of Directors of Susquehanna University, Mr. Karl W. Geisinger and Mr. Robert T. Howling were granted a leave of absence for further study next year.

Mr. Geisinger has been accepted at Temple University where he will further his studies toward his Ph.D. degree in psychology. He will move with his family to Philadelphia following the commencement exercises in June.

Mr. Howling will continue on his Ph.D. in English at New York University in New York City. Mrs. Howling will remain in Selingrove with their son Robin.

Susquehanna Offers Students Courses In Business, Liberal Arts, and Music

Business Administration

For many years Susquehanna has been offering specialized training for those young men and women who desire to enter business as a vocation. There are opportunities for graduates of this course to become accountants, salesmen, bankers, advertising men, statisticians, real estate and insurance specialists, and business analysts. There are opportunities in government service for those with a major in economics or accounting. The course is well balanced with general education and the basic studies of the business world.

The general course requirements to attain a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration in terms of semester hours are English, 9 hours; American Governments, 6 hours; American History or Sociology, 6 hours; Bible and Religion, 8 hours; General Psychology, 3 hours; Science or Mathematics, 6 hours; Personal Hygiene and Physical Education, 8 hours.

The required general courses total 46 semester hours. In addition to this, 20 semester hours must be elected in the field of general education, and 66 semester hours are required in the fields of Business and Economics. This makes a total of 132 semester hours, the number required for graduation.

The 66 hours which are required in Business Administration and Economics must include the following: Principles of Economics, 6 hours; Economic Geography, 3 hours; Business Mathematics, 3 hours; Business English, 3 hours; Accounting, 6 hours; Business Law, 6 hours; Investments, 3 hours; Business Management, 3 hours; 33 additional hours elected from courses in Business Administration and Economics. Typewriting credit toward this degree is limited to four semester hours.

One may choose from the following courses to fulfill his required 33 elective hours: Economic History, Mathematics of Finance, Personnel Management, Advanced Business Law, Office Machines, Intermediate Accounting, Advanced Accounting, Cost Accounting, Auditing, Federal Tax Accounting, Statistical Methods, Marketing, Advertising, Salesmanship, Consumer Economics, Insurance, Money and Banking, Labor Problems, Foreign Trade, History of Economic Thought, and Comparative Economic Systems.

Conservatory of Music

The Conservatory of Music of Susquehanna University offers complete courses of instruction in Piano, Organ, Singing, Violin, Organ, and Public School Music. The courses are planned with a view to developing a high degree of musicianship in students, giving them, besides the technique of the special study, that comprehensive insight into the nature and structure of music that can be obtained only from a practical study of Harmony, Form, and other theoretical subjects.

Candidates for the degrees in Music must present fifteen units of secondary school work. They must also show evidence of talent and previous training in the field of music in which they plan to major.

Susquehanna University's Conservatory of Music is approved by the State Department of Public Instruction for the education of supervisors and teachers in Public School Music.

The marching band of the University offers opportunity for the schooling of the individual marching bandman in the routine of intricate maneuver and drill formation.

Symphonic orchestral experience is gained in the study of standard literature. Instruction is given in orchestral technique and methods of rehearsing. Adequate technical facility, ability to read music readily, and musicianship are necessary for entrance to this orchestra.

The Susquehanna choral group, popularly known as the Susquehanna Singers, meets two periods per week, being a required course for all sophomores and juniors in music. College students may join this group as also they may the Susquehanna Band Orchestra, and Chapel Choir which will be discussed below. These groups are not limited only to Conservatory students. Choruses and cantatas are studied in this choral group, and appearances are made in various recitals during the year.

Mentioned above, the Chapel Choir is one of the most active Conservatory groups. At the Monday morning chapel service it is customary for the robed choir to present an appropriate anthem. This year the chapel choir has sung at many churches in Snyder county; their most outstanding presentation being the "St. Cecilia Mass" which was sung not only at the large and well known Zion Lutheran Church in Sunbury, Pennsylvania, but also at an extremely well attended vesper service in Seibert chapel on Susquehanna's campus. Next year, it is hoped that the choir will tour presenting concerts in a radius out from Seling Grove of at least one hundred miles.

Each semester, recitals are given in which students who have been prepared under the supervision of the instructors take part. These recitals furnish incentives to study and experience in public performance.

Students who are not sufficiently advanced to participate in the Evening Recitals are given experience in public performance in the Recital Classes which meet once each month. Rules governing stage deportment are brought to the attention of the pupils, and topics of general interest to music students are discussed. These classes are not open to the public but an exception is made in the case of relatives.

Important to the student of music is the hearing of compositions of the great masters as interpreted by artists of recognized ability. It is the purpose of the management to provide such recitals at the University at a nominal cost to the students, as well as to assist in making it possible to hear similar recitals in nearby cities.

The senior class in music education teaches and observes in the public schools of Sunbury, Seling Grove, and Middleburg. This work is done under the direction of Mrs. Alice H. Glaueque, B.S., A.M., instructor in methods, Susquehanna University; Katherine Reed, M.S., supervisor of music, Sunbury Public Schools; and Mrs. June Hendricks Hoke, supervisor of music, Seling Grove Public Schools.

College students may elect any of the theoretical subjects and have them count as "college electives."

Courses are offered which lead to a Bachelor of Science degree or a different schedule of courses may be pursued in order to qualify for the degree of Bachelor of Science in Music Education.

Susquehanna, being primarily a liberal arts college, seeks to give a liberal cultural training to its liberal arts students. Because students, in their later studies, usually find it necessary to follow prescribed specialized courses, the University encourages broad foundations in the general cultural courses so that the junior and senior years may be devoted to these specialized programs.

Courses now being offered prepare the student for a career in journalism, as a laboratory technician, or medical secretary. Susquehanna also offers courses which prepare the student for advanced study of law, library science, ministry, dentistry, medicine, nursing, osteopathy, veterinary medicine, psychology, and social work. All these courses lead to a Bachelor of Arts Degree. Most of these fields offer, within the field itself, many and varied positions towards which the student may work.

The long list of Susquehanna graduates who have gained recognition for outstanding work in various professions and fields of endeavor is sufficient evidence of the value of the liberal arts course offered here.

JERRY D. BOGAR JR. BUILDING TO BE DEDICATED JUNE 4

Susquehanna Has Long And Eventful History

Susquehanna University was founded in 1858 under the name of Missionary Institute of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Synod of Maryland. The first classes were held in Trinity Lutheran Church and consisted of 3 terms of 13 weeks each. Seling Grove Hall was built in this year. From 1858 to 1886 it was the only building on campus. On March 29, 1871, the first musical concert was held. The college became co-ed in 1872. In 1873, "Faculty Row" was first constructed and provided homes for married students as well as dining facilities. "The Susquehanna" was first published in 1891. In 1894, the college was chartered under the name of Susquehanna University of the Evangelical Lutheran Church. The first "Lantern" appeared in 1896. The college colors of "Orange and Maroon" were adopted by the Athletic Board in 1898. In 1901-02, Seibert Hall was built and was used for the Department of Music. The Sigma Alpha Iota, a national musical fraternity, was started on campus in 1925. In the Spring of 1950, the two original social Sororities on our campus, Omega Delta Sigma and Kappa Delta Phi affiliated themselves with two National Sororities, which were respectively, Alpha Delta Pi and Kappa Delta. Hassinger Hall was built in 1920-21 and used as a boys dorm. The first annual Alumni Day was held in October, 1922. During 1922-23, the men's Athletic Field was laid out and first used. In 1924-25, an addition was made to Seibert Hall, including Horton Dining Hall and the chapel. It was then used as a dorm for women. Also in this year the entrance to Susquehanna's University Field was erected by the Varsity "S" Club and dedicated to "fair play." There were three important additions made during 1925-26: The Fish Pond was built; Women's Student Government was organized. In 1927-28, a new Library was constructed and Pine Lawn was built the following year. The "Susquehanna University Alumnus" was

New Hall Open To All For Inspection

It has been officially announced that the Jerry D. Bogar, Jr., building will be dedicated at the commencement exercises on June 4. It will be a particularly fitting time for the ceremony because the Bogar family will be here to witness the graduation of their youngest male factor, Marsh C. Bogar.

Last spring, on Sub-Freshman Day, the ground breaking ceremony, for the new unnamed classroom hall was witnessed by a large group of alumni and prospective freshmen. It was at this time that Mr. Jerry D. Bogar, Jr., and his son Guy M. Bogar, both alumni of Susquehanna University, the former a trustee, announced their gift of $43,000 toward the new hall. Bogar Hall represents a $300,000 investment. The funds for the same have come from money raising efforts over a period of several years, included among which has been the Christian Higher Education Year Appeal.

first published in 1931. In 1935-36, the Women's Athletic Field was laid out. The first annual Band Concert was held in this year also. During the year 1939-40, the Conservatory of Music was accredited for music supervision certification by the Pennsylvania Department of Public Instruction. The cottage was opened for women in 1940. In 1942-43, the Army Air Corps, 35th College Detachment, was on campus for 15 months. Hassinger Hall was opened for girls in 1944. In 1947 it became the freshman girls' dormitory. During the 1947-48 term the newly-decorated S.C.A. Room in Hassinger Hall was opened. This room is used for S.C.A. meetings and is open at specified hours during the week for social periods. A new Jerry D. Bogar Humanities Building is now in the process of completion. It will emphasize the teaching of the Humanities: English, Philosophy, Religion, and the subjects that inspire, in a growing student, a humanitarian world outlook.

Father: "That son of mine at college is driving me crazy. Every week he writes home for money — 'send me twenty dollars'—send me ten dollars'—send me five dollars."

Ed: "That's swell, Bob, how about lending me fifty bucks?"

Bob: "Ed, you just blew a fuse."

Professor: "Now suppose a man working on the river bank suddenly fell in. He could not swim and would be in danger of drowning. Picture the scene. The man's sudden fall, the cry for help. His wife knows his peril and hearing his screams, rushes immediately to the bank. Why does she rush to the bank?"

Student: "To draw his insurance money."

Wimbourne: "Have you noticed how Ashleigh drops his H's?"

Sir John: "It's nothing to the way he drops his vowels. I've got more than a dozen of his I. O. U.'s."

Intelligent: "Whoever told that guy he was a professor? He just doesn't know how to teach the stuff. Everybody in the class hates him. Everytime he tries to explain something, he disagrees so much that no one can understand what he's talking about. I think he ought to quit teaching and go back to the farm."

After the two had their sodas, the manager asked:

"What is that bet of yours?"

"Well, Jim here, bets that when the Woolworth Building falls it will fall toward the North River, and I'm betting that it falls the other way."

Athletic Board Plans Football Schedule For 1951-52 Season

Susquehanna's Crusaders will meet Swarthmore College on the gridiron at Swarthmore Saturday afternoon, October 11, 1952 and at Seling Grove in 1953, according to an announcement by A. A. Stagg, Jr., coach and director of athletics.

At a recent meeting the athletic board expressed its intention to continue intercollegiate sports on an amateur basis, a consistent policy at S. U. It was decided to play six football games yearly during the current emergency. The board consists of President G. Morris Smith, Dean Russell Galt, Ernest T. Yorty, Dr. Russell W. Gilbert, and Coach Stagg.

The 1951 schedule includes home games with Johns Hopkins on October 6, Wagner on October 20, National Agricultural College on October 27, as well as away games with Juniata on November 3, Haverford on November 10, and Ursinus on November 17. National Agricultural College, Doylestown, Pa. replaces C.C.N.Y., which along with Lycoming College cancelled its game with S. U. Listed among S. U.'s grid opponents for 1952 are Swarthmore, Ursinus, Juniata, Wagner, and Haverford.

FRATERNITIES

Bond and Key

Bond and Key, Susquehanna's oldest fraternity, was founded in 1914 as a local organization and has remained so throughout the years.

From an initial membership of 21, it has grown to a membership of over 600, with alumni members scattered throughout the United States and the rest of the world.

Bond and Key has contributed greatly since its founding, and holding to its motto, "Bound as Knights," the members pledge loyalty "first to Susquehanna, second to Bond and Key."

The most important objective of Bond and Key is to promote a spirit of fraternal fellowship and to establish a college ideal embodying a social unity based on scholarship, athletic ability, character, and general sociability.

The members of the Club extend an invitation to the visitors on this Sub-Freshman Day to inspect the house and to enjoy the refreshments which will be served.

Phi Mu Delta

Mu Alpha Chapter of Phi Mu Delta Fraternity was instituted on the Susquehanna campus in 1924. Prior to this time the chapter had been a local fraternity going under the name of Alpha Sigma Omega.

Our present house is located at 308 West Walnut street and was erected in 1928 at which time the fraternity took possession. The home itself is of old English design in keeping with other national fraternity houses.

The active membership of Mu Alpha is composed of 68 men. Out of the 68 we will have eight graduating seniors this June. The active brothers do all of the governing and managing of the house. Some of the various duties in the house are on a scholarship basis with financial aid to the brothers.

Mu Alpha Chapter has always been active in campus activities showing interest in all that has been undertaken. This is in keeping with the aims of the fraternity which are: to foster better interfraternity cooperation and understanding, and to exert a wholesome influence in the fraternity house, on the campus, and in civic affairs.

Theta Chi

Susquehanna's Beta Omega Chapter, Theta Chi Fraternity, was originally founded as a local fraternity called Phi Lambda Theta. In 1937 it became affiliated with the national Beta Kappa Fraternity. When, in 1942, Beta Kappa merged with Theta Chi, it was chartered as Beta Omega Chapter of Theta Chi.

Theta Chi National Fraternity was founded April 10, 1856, at Norwich University, Northfield, Vermont. Today it ranks seventh in number of chapters and tenth in the nation in membership.

The local chapter is located at the corner of Pine Street and Charles Avenue. It has rooming facilities for 17 and boarding facilities for 28. At present there are 46 active members and 150 alumni.

Theta Chi has active representatives in all school athletics and the various campus activities.

Recently elected officers include Dale Gateman '52, president; William Prichard '52, vice president; Kenneth Orris '53, secretary; and William Kelly '54, treasurer.

Theta Chi members are constantly aware of the fraternity motto: "Alma Mater First and Theta Chi for Alma Mater."

CAMPUS ORGANIZATIONS IN REVIEW

Business Society

The Business Society is an active, well-organized group which meets once a month for business and social activities. The group encourages high scholastic attainment. The recently inaugurated scholarship fund benefits annually from the Society's earnings. During the past term, an annual magazine subscription campaign was started for the benefit of this fund. Various other money-making projects like the member auction sale held in front of Seibert Hall also contribute to the fund.

The Business Society also sponsors the awarding of the silver trophy cup which is presented each fall to the sophomore with the highest scholastic record of the preceding year in the business department. Miss Catherine Doebler received the trophy for last year.

Students majoring in commercial education, business administration, and economics are eligible for membership in the Business Society.

Biemic Society

The Biemic Society was organized for those students interested in science or mathematics. This organization provides an opportunity to become better acquainted with the topic in which the student is interested. Things of interest in the present-day world, such as industry, war, and domestic problems, where science might be involved, are brought to the attention of the Society. Outstanding speakers are brought before the group, places of interest are visited, and group discussions are held. Each year an informal dance is held and this year the Biemic Society started the renovation of the museum on the top floor of Steele Science Hall.

Ciceroniani

Ciceroniani is a classical organization which was formed in April, 1947, by a group of Latin students. The object of the organization is to foster and extend understanding of the Latin language and culture; also to stimulate good scholarship. After completing one semester's work in the Latin Department while maintaining a class average of "C", a student is eligible for active membership. Associate members are those who are members of the faculty, staff, or student body not in the organization. These students must also maintain an average of "C" for eligibility. Meetings are held once a month where movies, slides, discussions, and exhibits are shown.

Phi Kappa

Phi Kappa, or the Greek Club, is an organization of students who are interested in the cultivation of a proper appreciation of the Greek language and culture. Its members endeavor to enrich themselves with the treasury of the Greek heritage.

At its meetings, the members of the Greek Club are asked to discuss the various phases of Greek civilization. They are asked, also, to recite in the Greek language selections from the world's great classics.

These students who have maintained a high standard of scholarship in Greek and show an interest in things Hellenic are eligible for election to membership.

Tau Kappa

Tau Kappa is a national women's athletic honorary fraternity. The Beta chapter was installed at Susquehanna in March, 1948. The pledgehip requirement is 600 points in W.A.A. and the membership requirement is 700 points. The purpose of the organization is to encourage good sportsmanship on the campus, and to arouse a greater interest in women's athletics in colleges and universities throughout the United States.

Each month the organization participates in one extra activity other than intramural sports. This year the group has shown great interest in bowling.

At a recent meeting of National Tau Kappa, Marilyn Beers, our president, was elected to a two-year term as national treasurer.

Alpha Psi Omega

The Theta Pi cast of Susquehanna University includes those people who have excelled in dramatics. Membership may be obtained in this fraternity by meritorious work in college dramatic productions. There is a point system in this organization whereby any person, whether in a cast or helping in any way to promote a play such as staging, designing, and makeup, may obtain a specific number of credits towards gaining admittance to the organization. Seventy-five points are required for membership.

The purpose of the organization is to promote college dramatics, to create a better understanding of dramatic problems, and to promote an interest in dramatics both in the college and in the surrounding community. The players put on three full-length plays a year including one Shakespearean play.

Student Christian Association

Throughout the school year, the Student Christian Association attempts to give all students an opportunity for spiritual, moral, and social growth. It is the purpose of the organization to bring each student into a more nearly complete realization of the possibilities that lie in applying Christian principles to every phase of life.

The SCA operates under a commission system which consists of worship, study, and action groups in various fields of interest. General meetings and commission meetings are held on the first and third Tuesday evenings of the month. The cabinet meetings are held the second and fourth Tuesday of each month.

Benevolence drives for Lutheran Student Action, World Student Service Fund, and for an SU graduate's school in British Guiana are conducted. Special pageants and services help keep us mindful of our church year. Outings, parties, and the annual retreat contribute to the lighter, but none the less important phase of the SCA.

Pi Gamma Mu

Pi Gamma Mu is a national honor society in social studies. Its membership includes faculty, alumni, and undergraduates. Pennsylvania's Gamma chapter was organized at Susquehanna University on May 9, 1927. The national society has over 100 chapters and approximately 18,000 members. Membership is attained through election by the faculty members of the local chapter. Juniors and seniors are eligible upon fulfilling the necessary requirements, which include special interest in social sciences, completion of at least twenty semester hours in the social sciences with a grade of "B," a general average of "B" in all subjects so far taken, and good character.

The purpose of the organization is to encourage the ideals of scholarship in the study of social problems. Meetings are held once a month at the home of one of the faculty.

Women's Athletic Association

The Women's Athletic Association, one of the largest organizations on campus, sponsors an extensive program of intramural and varsity sports for all the girls. The seasonal activities include hockey, soccer, basketball, volleyball, tennis, badminton, archery, ping pong, softball, hiking and biking. Twenty-five points are awarded for participation in each sport and additional points for the winning teams.

Awards are given for the accumulation of points. Fifty points are needed to be eligible for membership into W.A.A. Class numerals are awarded for accumulating 250 points, letters for accumulating 500 points, pledgeship to Tau Kappa upon earning 600 points, the junior award (small cup) and membership into Tau Kappa upon earning 700 points, and the senior award is given for accumulating 1,000 points. A special certificate is awarded for earning 1,500 points.

Social activities sponsored by the WAA include Play Day, informal dance, variety show, May Day program, and the concession stand for the football and basketball games.

Women's Day Students' Organization

The Women Day Students' Organization, composed of non-resident women students attending Susquehanna, was organized to develop in its members a greater interest in college activities and to increase their understanding and cooperation.

Study and lounging facilities are provided in the basement of Hassinger Hall. The piano and ping-pong table in the recreation room of Hassinger are also available for use by the day students. Special events include a Christmas dinner and a picnic in the spring.

SORORITIES

Alpha Delta Pi

Members of Alpha Delta Pi chapter on campus and local alumnae will be honored this week during the Centennial celebration of the sorority on the NBC show, "The Hall of Ivy," starring Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Colman, Wednesday, May 16.

Miss Maxine Blake, national president of the sorority, flies to Hollywood to appear as guest of Mr. and Mrs. Colman on their broadcast. Miss Blake will present Mrs. Colman, who is an honorary member of Alpha Delta Pi, with a special scroll "for her portrayal of first lady of the campus—that of wife of the college president—for setting an example in private life as well as in her professional life of the ideals of Alpha Delta Pi to women throughout the world."

Alpha Delta Pi, which celebrated its 100th Anniversary May 15, was founded at Wesleyan Female College, Macon, Georgia, in 1851. The sorority returns to Wesleyan, the first chartered college for women, this June for its national convention. Gamma Omicron, our Susquehanna chapter, was installed on campus on April 29, 1950. Alpha Delta Pi now has 80 active chapters in the United States and Canada.

At the Senior-Pledge Banquet, President Faye Lewis presented Marie E. Beam with the scholarship award for having the highest scholastic average of the senior class in Alpha Delta Pi.

Kappa Delta

Kappa Delta Sorority was founded at Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia, on October 23, 1897. It now has a total membership of 30,374 and 215 chartered alumnae associations and has recently installed its 80th college chapter at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

The national philanthropy of Kappa Delta is the care and aid of crippled children. The sorority supports six beds at the Crippled Children's Hospital, Richmond, Virginia, and annually it presents an award of $1,600 for research to benefit crippled children.

This past year Beta Upsilon Chapter of Kappa Delta, located at Susquehanna University, initiated the custom of having an annual tea held in honor of the college faculty, and it has also initiated the Inter-Sorority Picnic to be held each year.

Other activities of Kappa Delta this year include sponsoring the Red Cross blood drive on Susquehanna's campus, sending baskets of food to the needy at Christmas, and helping out at the Selingrove Community Youth Center every Thursday evening.

Kappa Delta will twenty-ninth national convention be held June 25 through June 29 at the Huntington Hotel, Pasadena, California. Miriam Vogler, president, was selected as the delegate to represent Beta Upsilon Chapter at this convention.

Sigma Alpha Iota

Sigma Alpha Iota is an international professional music fraternity for women. It was founded in 1903 at the University School of Music, Ann Arbor, Michigan by seven upper class and graduate women students of the University. It now has 93 college chapters and 60 chartered alumnae chapters.

Sigma Omega Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota is located at Susquehanna University. Last fall the chapter observed its Silver Anniversary with a week end of celebration. Among the events of the week end were a duet piano concert by Hazel Dorey and Mary Russell; an anniversary banquet, featuring a miniature musicale by the actives of the chapter, and a tea also featuring a miniature musicale.

Among the other activities of Sigma Omega Chapter this year were two half-hour radio broadcasts of music presented at both Christmas and Easter time over station WKOK in Sunbury. The chapter also held reception for guest musicians at Susquehanna University. Finally, the members presented their annual American Musicle to promote the popularity of American music.

CRUSADERS WIN FOUR, LOSE TWO, TIE ONE DURING GRIDIRON SEASON

The Susquehanna Crusaders enjoyed a highly successful football season in 1950 as they won four, lost two, and tied one contest under the leadership of Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg, Sr., who completed his 61st year of active coaching. Coach Stagg, who lives in Glendale, California, during the off-season, was ably assisted by his son, Amos Alonzo Stagg, Jr., and Al J. Masciantonio, former coach of Mt. Carmel Township High School.

Rich Young, diminutive halfback from Northumberland, Pennsylvania; Don Walter, husky halfback from West Milton, Pennsylvania; Ken Lenker, talented pass-receiver and safetyman from Sunbury, Pennsylvania; and Gene Fenstermacher, fleet halfback from Northumberland, Pennsylvania, played outstanding games in the Orange and Maroon backfield.

Guard Gene Brouse, from Sunbury, Pennsylvania, who gained honorable mention on the All-State team; Jesse Stone, aggressive end from New Cumberland, Pennsylvania; Bob Pittello, a stalwart guard from Mt. Carmel, Pennsylvania; and Harold Carr, beefy tackle from Bellwood, Pennsylvania, performed admirably in the hard-charging SU line.

The Crusaders could not get moving early in the opening game with Lycoming college at University Field and the half ended with the two teams in a scoreless deadlock. However, the Crusaders scored the first time they gained possession of the pigskin in the third period as Rich Young toted the oval on a 26-yard jaunt into the end zone. Having opened the gate, the Orange and Maroon walked in and added three more touchdowns, and three conversions to thump the Warriors, 27-0.

With a fine display of defensive football at Staten Island, New York, the Crusaders triumphed over Wagner College by a 6-0 count as Ed Menapace, Atlas, Pennsylvania, halfback, hit paydirt late in the second quarter.

Stepping a little out of their class, the Stagmen took it on the chin at Baltimore, Maryland, as the Blue Jays of Johns Hopkins whipped them, 34-0. Speedy Hopkins backs simply outran the Crusader defense in what proved to be the only bad game of the Crusader season.

Putting up a brilliant fight the entire game the Stagmen were nevertheless unable to overcome an early Juniata lead, and went down to a 19-12 defeat before an enthusiastic Parent's Day crowd.

Sunbury's Ken Lenker proved to be a thorn in the flesh of C.C.N.Y. as he not only received a pass in the end zone, but sparked defensively to lead the Crusaders to a 7-6 victory over the Violets.

In the biggest game of the season the Crusaders rose to the occasion and displayed excellent teamwork to defeat a heavily-favored Haverford eleven, who expected a soft touch on University Field, by a 12-7 margin. Stellar line play by Stone, Brouse, and Pittello, coupled with some nifty footwork by halfback Walter helped the Crusaders to win the Homecoming Day contest.

A kicking duel in the first half of the final game with Ursinus was won by the Crusaders as they blocked a punt and recovered it in the Ursinus end zone. However, the Grizzlies tallied in the final period on a series of aerials to gain a 6-6 tie as the gun sounded to end another successful grid season for the Crusaders.

BASEBALL TEAM MEETS ALBRIGHT AT READING TODAY

Defeats Keystone Jr. College In Second Win of Season

Susquehanna University's Crusaders won their second game of the current baseball season at the expense of the Keystone Jr. College Little Giants on Thursday afternoon, May 10, 5-2. Sam Porter became the first pitcher of the campaign to go the regulation distance as he registered the triumph, his first of the season. Sam limited the little giants to three singles and a triple. He walked four and struck out nine. Right hander Joe Spund went the distance for Keystone and took the loss. Porter helped his own cause with two singles in three trips to the plate. Sam also received a walk in the seventh and he scored in the sixth after reacting first on an error by the shortstop. Young and Wollaston also had two singles apiece.

Shabby fielding on the part of Keystone aided the Crusaders immeasurably. The Little Giants committed nine errors afield. All of the Crusaders' runs were unearned.

Season Resume

As this is being written, Susquehanna University has a record of 2-0 for the season. By the time this hits the streets they will have two more wins under their belts but for now we will have to let it go with 2-0. It might be advisable at this point to stop and review the season and try and see just what some of the reasons might be for losing these six games. For one thing the other teams scored more runs than we did. But aside from that let's see if we can't dig up some excuses.

We opened the season at Swarthmore and dropped the game 10-0 in six and one-half innings. Swarthmore outplayed but nine hits. Four S. U. pitchers walked thirteen men and in the final analysis those walks lost the ball game. S. U. hitters were stymied by the three hit pitching of Tom Jones.

In the second game of the year at Bucknell, the Crusaders broke out with a rash of hits, but the pitching was again insufficient. Bucknell walked to victory with ten walks. Five S. U. errors also aided the Bucknell cause. Eight unearned runs coupled with eleven hits enabled Wilkes College to down the Crusaders 15-6 at Wilkes. The Crusaders could only touch two Wilkes pitchers for five hits.

Juniata picked up where Wilkes left off in the next game played at Huntington. They also crossed the plate fifteen times. In the meantime S. U. connected eleven hits and seven runs. Enough to win an ordinary ball game. But a parade of five Crusader pitchers gave thirteen free passes.

The Crusaders finally came home from the wars, and loyal S. U. rooters thought perhaps the familiar surroundings of University Field would help the boys break their losing streaks. But the Dickinson Red Devils soon knocked the hopes of loyal Susquehannans as they took the measure of the ball club in a closely contested hard hitting contest. Final score 16-14.

The Crusaders finally hit the win column when they traveled to Williamsport to engage Lycoming. George Washbourne limited the Warriors to five singles as he became the first S. U. pitcher to obtain a mark in the win column. The Crusaders scored twelve runs on fourteen hits and four errors.

In the Keystone game, spotty play marred the game. All runs in the game were unearned. The Crusaders outdid the Little Giants 9-4 in obtaining this 5-2 victory.

An average of better than ten walks a game has been a big reason in the poor showing that the Crusaders have made at times. It is not bad enough when the opposition collects an average of one hit an inning, so the Crusader pitchers have to let one man on without earning his way. In other words the opposition has been permitted an average of two men on base in every inning.

Fifteen unearned runs have been scored against the shell shocked S. U. pitching. In all fairness to the infielders it must be said that the infield is a little rough in spots. The first string short stop for Keystone had six chances and three of them were errors.

The S. U. hitting attack seems adequate. Rich Young is leading the team, as I write this, but Chet Rowe is not far behind and he may have taken the lead. In the first eight games Rich hit 395 and Chet 383. Menapace and Wollaston are also hitting over the three hundred mark.

COMPETITION IN INTRAMURAL SPORTS AVAILABLE TO BOTH BOYS AND GIRLS

Well-Rounded Program Offered To Girls Interested In Sports

Intramural sports for women begin shortly after the opening of the fall term and continue to the last week of the school year. Each sport is under the direction of a manager and an assistant manager. These managers are always from the junior and sophomore classes, respectively. Official rules are observed and the necessary umpires, scorekeepers, etc., are selected by the managers from the girls of the various classes.

The sports in the order of their participation are hockey, soccer, volleyball, ping pong (singles and doubles), basketball, badminton (singles and doubles), softball, archery, and tennis (singles and doubles). Single elimination tournaments are used for individual sports while double elimination is favored for group sports. Teams are made up of members according to the various classes.

Varsity sports for girls at Susquehanna are found only in hockey and basketball. This year our hockey team participated in an all college tournament at Harrisburg. We were proud to have two of our girls named to the all college team. Next year we plan to enter this tournament again. We will also have a hockey playday on our campus next year. There is no distinction made between classes other than the fact that the freshmen usually make up the junior varsity basketball team. Games are scheduled with other colleges and practice games in basketball are played with the local high schools and other organizations.

Intramurals for girls are played on Tuesday and Thursday. Those sports played out of doors are played between 4:30 p. m. and dinner time. Those played in the gym are from seven to nine in the evening. Special time is scheduled for varsity practices.

Points for membership in the Women's Athletic Association are given for participation in intramural and varsity sports. Twenty-five points are given for each intramural sport and fifty points for varsity sports. Additional points are given to those finishing in first, second, and third place for each sport.

Fine Arts Program Features Films, Art

Believing as it does that much education does not come from formal study of books, Susquehanna University has for some years sponsored exhibitions of paintings and prints in the library, as well as many sorts of minor exhibitions. Prominent among the artists whose work has been thus presented have been Bruce Mitchell, Lily Converse, Frank Whiting, John Taylor Arms, and Elizabeth Hitchcock. Early this year a magnificent collection of Japanese prints aroused much interest. Minor exhibitions have featured Wedgwood pottery, Greek and Roman antiquities, coins, stamps, rare Pennsylvania Dutch manuscripts, and many other interesting items.

This year the fine arts program has been enlarged by the showing of some of the great films in cinema history, no longer available on the commercial screen. These films included "Captains Courageous," "Rugles of Red Gap," "The Good Earth," "Anna Christie," "The Keys of the Kingdom," the German psychological film, recently remade, "M," and "Camille." The recent purchase and installation of a very fine projecting apparatus has made these films performances to remember.

Thus the cinema program, the exhibition schedule, and the Star Course lecture series, together with other features from time to time, assure a well-rounded program for the student.

Basketball, Softball, Football, Tennis, and Track Scheduled

Basketball, softball, touch football, tennis, and track are the intramural sports that keep the fraternities, dormitories, and day students on a keen competitive basis throughout the school year. There is a much coveted cup to be awarded to the victorious team in the basketball, softball and touch football leagues. For individual achievement in tennis or track, appropriate awards are made.

All undergraduate students of Susquehanna University are eligible to compete unless they are a member of a varsity or junior varsity team after the first game of the season. Any student who has been declared a professional is also ineligible for intramural competition.

Freshman students are particularly urged to engage in intramural sports. It is important that newly arrived students become acquainted with the upperclassmen and at the same time develop a willingness to engage in the many other activities that are to be enjoyed at Susquehanna University. There is no better way to accomplish this, than to engage whole heartedly in the varied program of intramural sports.

Mr. Bruce Mitchell Joins S. U. Faculty

Next year, students at Susquehanna will have an opportunity to learn to draw and paint. Mr. Bruce Mitchell will join the Susquehanna faculty in the fall and conduct classes in a room reserved for these courses of study in the new Bogar Hall classroom building.

Mr. Mitchell comes to Susquehanna with an impressive background of preparation and teaching. After formal training in Pittsburgh's Winchester School, he studied water color under George Peckre Ennis, was a member of the Art Student's League, studied life drawing with George Bridgman, etching with Harry Wicke, composition with George Grosz, abstract painting with Stuart Davis, and mural work with Thomas Benton.

His teaching experience has been varied and extensive. From 1940 to 1942 he operated the Bruce Mitchell school of Landscape Painting. Since 1947 he has been head instructor of water color and gouache at the Kansas City Art Institute during the summers.

He is listed in "Who's Who in America" in 1950, "Who's Who in the East" in 1950, and "Who's Who in American Art" from 1932 to the present.

Mr. Mitchell, who home in Cornwall-on-Hudson, New York, is married and has a small daughter. Susquehanna University is most happy to welcome the Mitchells into the University family and anticipates with much pleasure their advent into our college life.

Conservatory Students and Faculty Appear In Many Musical Activities

The Conservatory of Music has had numerous activities in the term of 1950-51. Recital classes were held each month in which members of the Conservatory performed before their own group of music students and teachers. Three evening recitals were held this year in the months of November, January, and May. These recitals give the music students an opportunity to perform before an audience consisting of all the students of the college.

During the college year, various other recitals were given. A faculty recital was given in December in which two teachers at the Conservatory, Miss Frances Brunkhorst, soprano, and Mr. Frederick Billman, pianist, performed. In April, a voice recital was given by Mr. Robert Bitting, a baritone and senior in the Conservatory, followed in May by a joint student recital presented by Miss Jacquelyn McKeever, pianist, and Mr. Charles Carr, tenor.

The marching band was very active during the football season. The concert band played at several high schools in the vicinity. In December, the band and the Susquehanna Singers performed at the Sunbury High School in a benefit program for the Sunbury Community Hospital. In recent months, the band has played at the Williamstown High School, the Selinsgrove High School, and the Northumberland High School. Under the direction of Mr. John Leach, the concert band gave its annual spring concert in April. The band also played for the May Day program.

Under the direction of Assistant Professor Russell Hatz, the orchestra gave its annual concert in April.

The Susquehanna Singers, directed by Mrs. Alice Glauque, have sung in the evening recitals, in the program presented in the Sunbury High School in December, for the Women's Auxiliary, and have also participated in the May Day program.

The Chapel Choir, in addition to singing at the Monday chapel services on campus, has had several singing engagements at various churches in this section of Pennsylvania. This semester, the Choir gave the "St. Cecilia Mass" by Gounod to the college students and townspeople. Recently, the Choir performed the Mass at the Lutheran churches in Sunbury and Northumberland. This group will also sing for the Commencement service in June. Assistant Professor Elbert Haskins directs the Chapel Choir.

In addition to the aforementioned activities, various students go out weekly as soloists performing for women's clubs, men's organizations, churches, and various band concerts. Several students attend the band and choral festivals held from time to time at various colleges.

two waltzers, Shirley Smyrl and Len Carlson sang, "Make Believe."

The remaining numbers included a Latvian dance, a chorus selection, a duet by Barbara Eason and Jack Schraeder called "Why Do I Love You," and the traditional Maypole Dance. All of the acts participated in the grand finale. The May Court was the last to leave the great old steamboat.

Miss Ruth Sparhawk was the faculty advisor for the May Day presentation with Jean VanVoorhis acting in the capacity of the student director. Mrs. Carol Kline, housemother of Hassinger, was the assembler of the program and the author of the synopsis. Mr. John Soule, and Mr. Richard Grove were in charge of the construction. The flowers for the May Court were provided by the three sororities. Janice Amer, Betty Beum, Jean McDonald, and Marilyn Beers received the cascades of yellow daisies from Alpha Delta Pi; Mary Lou Slater's flowers were a gift from Kappa Delta; and Sigma Alpha Iota presented flowers to Sally Mitchell, Mary Lehman, and Flossie Barnhart. A great vote of "thank you" is presented to anyone who helped with the May Day program in any way.

Miss Ruth Sparhawk wishes to express her gratitude to the students who assisted; this was the first May Day program in which there was such superb cooperation on behalf of the performers and the students who offered innumerable services in helping to make the 28th annual event a rather spectacular afternoon. Much credit is due to Mr. John Soule and Mr. Richard Grove for the long and tedious endeavors rendered by both in the drawing and construction of the boat. A unique set up was made available by Mr. Grove in a communication phone from the field to the grandstand to aid in the reception of music to the spectators.

A sincere thank you goes to Mrs. Zagars in assisting in the Latvian Dance. Through her efforts the dance was secured as well as the authentic costumes.

As a pioneer publishing effort among small American colleges, the "Studies" is distributed to every State in the country, as well as to other English-speaking nations. It has spurred other small colleges to institute faculty journals of study on their campuses and has received general recognition thru national reference listings.

DEAN GALT DESCRIBES QUALIFICATIONS LOOKED FOR BY PERSONNEL EXECUTIVES

Dean Russell Galt in Chapel on Tuesday morning described the types of qualifications looked for by personnel executives as they visit the campus in search of trainees. "Frequently," said Dean Galt, "a large organization is not so much interested in academic standing as in character and qualities of leadership." He told of a long distance call from one of New York's largest firms following up an interview which had been held on the campus with two of our seniors. The company went into great detail into inquiring about the students' activities on campus and asked many questions about their ability to lead other students. Faculty members are busy this time of year preparing recommendations for seniors and their judgment is always based on the life of the student over four years at Susquehanna, rather than anything that might appear on the record for the senior year. All students were therefore urged by Dean Galt to look forward to the time when they would be searching for a job, and to realize that "What you are to be you are now becoming."

SENIORS VISIT SUSQUEHANNA
Seniors this year at Carson Long Military Institute, New Bloomfield, Pennsylvania, are enthusiastic over prospects of enrolling at Susquehanna in September. Over the past week-end ten of the boys visited the campus and more are to come on Sub-Freshman Day. Carson Long has several Susquehanna graduates on its faculty and has had regularly enrolled one or two students each year.

Frosh Orientation Week Acquaints New Students With Susquehanna Traditions

The orientation program this year was a successful affair. Voylet Dietz, chairman of the orientation program and her assistants were on hand to greet the girls on Saturday morning. The program got under way with the luncheon in the College Dining Hall, followed by a tour of Selensgrove.

A series of group meetings of the freshmen women were held throughout the entire orientation program. These group meetings were held with the purpose of acquainting the girls with the rules, regulations, and traditions of Susquehanna.

The freshmen and transfer students met with Miss Hein, Dean Sambrook and Dean Galt during the orientation week and were informed as to the "dos" and "don'ts" of S. U.

Sunday evening, the girls had an informal meeting with Mrs. G. Morris Smith in Seibert parlors. Mrs. Smith gave a helpful and inspirational talk to the girls. A pajama party was held in Seibert social rooms, entertainment being provided by Pat Sheidow, Betsy Babbitt, and Toots "Charleston" Richards. Chocolate milk and cookies were served as refreshments.

The SCA informal party was held in the gymnasium on Tuesday night. Games and refreshments were arranged for the frosh. Many of the upperclassmen who joined in thoroughly enjoyed the evening.

The liberal arts, business, and music students were entertained in group parties on Wednesday evening by their respective departments. A theater party See ORIENTATION—Page 3

FOUR ORIENTAL STUDENTS ADDED TO S. U. ROSTER

Once again, Susquehanna University is very happy to have four new foreign students become members of our University student body.

Lai Fong Lam was born in Indo-China and has traveled extensively, but has never been in the United States before. She attended Lingnam University in Canton, China, and is now a senior here in the Business Administration course.

Lal flew in from Paris, France, on September 20, after spending a most enjoyable vacation there. Pok Wo Lam, her brother, met her in New York and spent a few days taking in the sights of the largest city in the world.

"The boys and girls are very kind," she said, and she is very grateful that she could come to S. U.

Chitose Kei Sasaki hails from Kumamoto, the second largest city in Southern Japan. Kei has never been away from Japan before and so this is a great thrill for her. She landed in San Francisco on August 23 and started on her way East. Kei thought nature was the most beautiful sight that she had ever seen and she was amazed by the large sky scrapers.

Kei attended Kobe Women's English College in Japan and is now a junior here at Susquehanna majoring in English. After graduating, she hopes to return to Kumamoto where the largest Lutheran Church is situated and teach English in its missionary school.

The thing that amazed Kei the most was that, after being our enemies in the last war, she did not think the Americans would accept her, but she said she thinks people are most See FOUR STUDENTS—Page 3

Tau Kappa Plans To Go Bowling on October 4th

Tau Kappa, National Women's Honorary Athletic Fraternity, held its first meeting of the new school year last Wednesday. Patricia Rumbaugh, president, took charge. The aim of Tau Kappa is to further interest in women's athletics and to promote better sportsmanship. A monthly activity is planned for the group's participation. Bowling will be the first on October 4.

Alpha chapter at Kutztown State Teachers College has invited all its officers to a national convention to be held at Kutztown on October 6 and 7.

The members also voted to make Mrs. Dan MacCush an honorary member of Tau Kappa. She will be installed in the near future.

S. U. Officially Opens With Convocation

The ninety-fourth convocation of Susquehanna University was started off with the traditional march of the professors of the college. Dr. G. Morris Smith spoke to an audience of 500 students, faculty members and friends and reminded the students that a miniature world exists at Susquehanna. "You should never feel that you are alone," said Dr. Smith. He also made it clear that the students should feel that each has a warm-hearted interest in the other and that a ray of hope in this troubled world was a wider fellowship among good men. Only when this is carried on through life can we expect peace and happiness.

Dr. Smith said that there were three rays of hope in this troubled world: we are today more ready to confess our sins, we are gaining a wider fellowship among men, and we do have more dedicated men and women.

The opening devotions were conducted by Professor Benjamin Lotz; and Miss Jayne Dailey, a music student, sang "The Voice of One Crying in the Wilderness." Group singing of "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God" and "Another Year Is Dawning" was done by the entire student body.

Reverend Oliver W. Nace, of the Reformed Church, on behalf of the Ministerial Association of Selensgrove, welcomed the students. He introduced the ministers of Selensgrove, Reverend E. O. Steigerwalt, First Lutheran Church; Dr. Chalmers Frost, Trinity Lutheran Church; Reverend R. L. Morris, First Methodist Church; Reverend Earl Kauffman, Evangelical United Brethren Church.

After this inspirational service, the students of Susquehanna University attended their first classes of the college year.

Kleinsorg Casts Play;

Dates Set For Production

Try-outs were held for the first annual play "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" by Rudolf Besler, September 24, 25, and 26.

The play, a love story of Robert Browning and Elizabeth Barrett, will be performed from November 12 to 17 in our new Little Theatre. The publicity will be handled by Gordon Joyce.

Propaganda

By Jack Schwartz

When I returned to school this fall I was fortunate enough to sit directly behind two prospective freshmen on the bus. I say "fortunate" because I learned quite a few things in those few hours which I had failed to grasp in my first three years at college.

Evidently the two had not met before their trip together because soon after the bus left Harrisburg they introduced themselves and became quite cozy.

"My name is Bill Hiscowheli," said the one wearing the red sweater, green tie, and purple socks.

"My name is Joe Bigsbytoi," answered the one wearing the lavender jacket and red rimmed glasses.

After the initial greetings had been exchanged, the two began discussing their future college life.

"I hear you really have to work to get through college," said Joe Bigsbytoi.

"No, that's not true; it's a snap," See PROPAGANDA—Page 2

Richard Stout, Jean Rowe, Mary Klingelboeffer Elected to Posts

The new managing editor succeeding John Steiger is Elinor Smith from Lykens, Pennsylvania. Miss Smith is a junior in commercial education and has been very active at Susquehanna since her matriculation here. "Ellie's" extra curricular activities include freshman orientation, WAA, SCA, the Business Society, and the Biemic Society. She is assistant treasurer of Kappa Delta, national sorority. If past performance is any criterion for future work, Miss Smith will be a valuable asset to the Susquehanna staff.

Miss Ruth Osborn as news editor holds a very interesting and important position toward the progress made in "The Susquehanna's" editorial work. Never to be forgotten is her role of Myra in "Broken Dishes," a Susquehanna Player's production of last year.

A sophomore in the liberal arts department, Miss Osborn belongs to the Susquehanna Singers, SCA, and Biemic Society. She is secretary-treasurer of Ciceronians, the Latin club, and belongs to Alpha Delta Pi. Being very active in intramural sports helps round off a program of varied activities.

Transferring from Swarthmore at the end of her freshman year, Lynne Lightfoot keeps busy by participating in many activities. She has been more active in three years than many people have been in four years. Miss Lightfoot's roster includes the Susquehanna Singers, the Susquehanna Players—her specialty is make-up—and Kappa Delta sorority. Her latest honor was being elected treasurer of the class of 1952. An associate editor, her talents will once more be put to good use.

Richard Stout, a member of Theta Chi fraternity with a background of intramural sports activities, should make a valuable contribution as associate men's sports editor. A junior from Lehigh, Dick is enrolled in business administration with hopes of a career in selling. Being elected to the intramural board and men's student council shows the high regard with which fellow students hold him.

TRIBUNAL CHOSEN AT LAST STUDENT COUNCIL MEETING

At the last formal meeting of the Men's Student Council, it was decided that a summary of the proceedings taking place at such meetings be placed in "The Susquehanna" so as to give the students an opportunity to see what the Council actually does. Suggestions and criticisms are always welcome. A suggestion box has been placed in the entrance to GA Hall for this purpose.

A letter was prepared and forwarded to Mr. Dan MacCush suggesting that the urns be taken from the Seibert porch and Steele Science Hall to the entrance of the University Library in order to give the students a suitable place to discard cigarettes and other refuse.

Discussion was held concerning the dance to be sponsored by the Men's Student Council. The naming of a date was temporarily postponed pending the acquisition of a suitable orchestra. President Wolcott appointed the following committees: Walt Mazura and Jay Campbell, decorations; Bob Wiley and Jim Morris, refreshments; Don Berninger and Dick Stout, publicity and orchestra.

The following men were appointed to the Sophomore Tribunal: Reuben Henry, Bond and Key; Edward Koch, Day Students; Robert Moore, Phi Mu Delta; and Paul Steiner, Theta Chi. This group will act as a judiciary body to govern the freshman and sophomore classes in dealing with freshman hazing.

Ed Palkovich and Ed McNapace were nominated and unanimously elected to coach the freshman football team.

On Thursday, September 27, a joint meeting of the Men's and Women's Student Councils held the Rules and Regulations were prepared to govern the conduct of those persons taking advantage of the student union facilities. These regulations will be made public in the very near future and violators will be subject to punishment as decided upon by both councils.

NILA R. HARESIGN JOINSSU FACULTY

Miss Nila Rae Haresign, of Oswego, New York, has had a very interesting and diversified career teaching physical education.

She received her B.S. degree from Ithaca College, New York. She is now studying for her master's degree at New York University. Before becoming a member of the Susquehanna University staff, Miss Haresign taught physical education in the Naples Central School District.

Miss Haresign enjoys teaching physical education. She says, "When teaching becomes work, I will quit." Her activities continue throughout the summer months. Last summer she attended summer school at New York University. Previous summers have been spent as a playground instructor and a swimming counselor.

Although she has many interests, music and poetry take up most of her spare time.

Miss Haresign is greatly impressed by Susquehanna's friendliness, and Susquehanna is certainly impressed by her friendliness.

By-Laws Okayed By Panhellenic Council

A meeting of the Panhellenic Council was held on Wednesday, September 26, at 5:10.

Members of the Fraternity Senate were present to discuss plans for the Homecoming Dance which is sponsored jointly by the two organizations.

Chairman for the following committees were chosen: Kappa Delta, decorations; Alpha Delta Pi, properties and demolishing; Phi Mu Delta, orchestra and publicity; Bond and Key, checklists and programs; Theta Chi, refreshments and chaperones.

A regular meeting of the council was held following the joint meeting. At that time a new constitution was read and approved. Changes were made in the by-laws of the old constitution.

In section 3 which is concerned with Rushing Procedure, part "f" now states:

"The quiet period shall be observed 48 hours following the last party during which sorority girls and rushees shall not talk to each other."

Part "g" now states:

"The system of preferential bidding shall be employed, the ballot box to be placed in the Dean of Women's office. On the morning following the quiet period, the rushees shall place their preferences in this box. At the same time each sorority shall give the Dean of Women its list of desired rushees in preferential order. The Dean shall open the ballot box that same afternoon and inform the sororities as to the women they pledge."

Part "h" now states:

"The sororities shall issue their invitation to pledging on Monday."

Ed McNapace Enters Pro Ranks

Ed McNapace, a three-letter winner at Susquehanna University, has left intercollegiate ranks to enter professional baseball. He began the season with Lockport of the Middle Atlantic League and later moved to St. Hyacinthe of the Canadian Provincial League. Ed, who has now returned to the campus to continue his college work, expects to return to the St. Hyacinthe club this spring.

STUDENT COUNCIL PROVIDES MUSIC FOR DINING ROOM

Each year the Women's Student Council has a project, the object of which is the betterment of living conditions in the women's dormitories. Last year, the scope of the project was expanded, in that the whole student body can benefit by it.

The new amplifier system and photograph which was installed in Horton Dining Room to provide dinner music for the students was given by the council.

In addition to its use in the dining room, extra equipment has been purchased by the administration and it can also be used in the stadium for athletic events.

On Thursday evening at 6:45 a joint meeting of the Women's Student Council and the Men's Student Council was held in the Day Student's Room in G. A.

The administration of a committee was discussed and a committee was chosen to consider regulation of the lounge and coffee shop. Members of the Women's Student Council on the committee are: Joan Sechrist, Voylet Dietz, and Wilda Odenthal. Kathleen Schnerr is secretary. David Bennett, Kay Campbell, and Dick Stout represent the Men's Student Council.

Registration Shows Drop In Enrollment

Tuesday, September 18th, and Wednesday, September 19th, saw the usual hustle and bustle of registration. It is not unusual to see the freshmen walking around in a daze, but many of the upper classmen had that puzzled look on their faces. No, they were not trying to decide between advanced bleachers, and intermediate basket weaving, but they were aghast at the beauty and splendor of Bogar Hall. We all must agree that registration is much more of a pleasure here. Bogar Hall eliminates the confusion and crowding often encountered in previous years in the first floor of G. A.

Confidently the upper classmen returned on Wednesday, with their pre-arranged schedules free from eight, nine, afternoon, and Saturday classes. Again they met disaster from the red pencil, and the hair pulling commenced.

Except for these occasional last minute course switches, registration went off as scheduled. Mrs. Cox reports that the total enrollment for this semester is 429 students compared to 456 last semester. The breakdown between sexes is—Men, 257; Women, 172. Percentage-wise, it gives the men 60% to the women's 40%. In our midst we also have fourteen students that have transferred from other schools.

The freshman class numbers 115 strong. From the observer's opinion, we seem to have a bright and well talented group of freshmen. The breakdown of the class of 1955 again shows the men in the majority with 67 to the women's 48. Again looking at the statistics, we find 58% men and 42% women.

All in all, registration proved to be highly successful in Bogar Hall.

In Memoriam

On behalf of the student body, The Susquehanna wishes to express its sympathies to Mrs. Ernest T. Vorty on the Death of her husband, Mr. Vorty was business manager of Susquehanna University.

Let's Start the Year Right

Upon our return to campus this year, there have been quite a few changes. The most notable of these are Bogar Hall, newly opened for classes, and the student lounge and snack shop.

Bogar Hall has come into its own as one of the most beautiful buildings on the campus. We must keep it that way by obeying the rules as drawn up in the handbook concerning this building. Remember that you are helping to keep S. U.'s campus attractive if you don't smoke in the halls or classrooms. If you do forget this rule, there will always be someone who will remind you of your mistake. Perhaps you remember how the classroom seats in G. A. were autographed. Let's all of us prevent similar happenings in Bogar by writing in our notebooks only. We're proud of Bogar now; let's keep future classes proud of it.

The student lounge and snack shop is also a topic of much discussion. Within a few days a list of practical suggestions for conduct will be posted in the lounge. Until that time, remember to act in the lounge and snack shop as you would at home. Clean up your tables in the snack shop before you leave. Place your cups and bottles on the table provided for that purpose. In the lounge, conduct yourself as you would in your living room at home. Take interest in these matters, give them your due consideration, and Susquehanna's campus will be a source of pride to all her students.

With Apologies

An Idea!

She: "I've changed my mind."
He: "Does it work any better than the old one?"

Question?

Customer: "Remember that cheese you sold me yesterday?"
Lorraine Rarick: "Yes, it was fine Swiss cheese."

Customer: "Did you say it was 'imported' or 'deported' from Switzerland?"
Thinker!

Tom Fitzpatrick told us about this incident.

"Mommy, why is it Daddy doesn't have much hair?"

"He thinks a great deal dear."

"But, Mommy, then why is it you have so much hair?"

"Finish your breakfast, dear."

Quiet—

Dr. Waterbury: "I will not begin today's lecture until the room settles down."

Voice from the rear: "Go home and sleep it off."

Smart!

Dr. Armstrong's will read as follows: "And so being of sound mind and body, I spent every cent I had before I died."

Depends—

Mother: "Where do bad little girls go?"

Daughter: "Everywhere."

Crowned!

"Always let Tom have his own way, Barbara," Mrs. Easton explained, "Your father wanted to be king so I crowned him."

Wow!

Plumber: "I've come to fix the old tub in the kitchen."
Frosh: "Ma, the doctor's here to see ya."

Waffles vs Pancakes—

Teacher: "Willy, can you tell me what a waffle is?"

Willy: "Yes'm, it's a pancake with a non-skid tread."

Bragging—

One of our recent graduates sent this item to us—

"Son, after four years of college, you're nothing but a loafer, and a darn nuisance. I can't think of one good thing it has done."

"Well—didn't it cure Ma of bragging about me?"

Excuses!

Ken Jones: "I'll bet you think twice before leaving that wife of yours alone in the evenings."

Dick Herr: "I'll say! First, I have to think up an excuse for going out, and then a reason why she can't go with me."

They'll Learn!

Some typical remarks of literature students in September—

The three types of sonnets are the Spenserian, Shakespearean, and Petrarchian.

The proof that the witches in "Macbeth" were super-natural is that no one could eat what they cooked.

The clown in "As You Like It" was named Touchdown.

LIBRARY NEWS

Another school year has begun and with it the opening of the school library. Miss Kolpin, the head librarian, extends a welcome to all students and hopes the freshmen will become acquainted with the library. She also hopes that the upperclassmen won't forget it.

The library hours for the week are Monday through Friday from 7:50 to 12 a. m.; from 1:30 to 5:00 p. m.; and evenings from 7:00 to 10:00 p. m. On Saturday the library is open from 7:50 to 12:00 and from 1:00 to 3:00 p. m.

All books, except for reference and those on the reserve shelves, may circulate for two weeks. A fine of two cents is charged for every day a regular book is kept over time. The fine for reserve books is 15 cents for the first hour, or fraction of an hour. There is a five-cent fine for every hour, or fraction of an hour, after the first hour. Reserve books may be out from 10:00 p. m. to 8:00 a. m. Monday through Friday.

There have been new books added to the rental shelf, which is just inside the door. These new books are paid for from the rental charge of three cents a day. Miss Kolpin hopes all the students will use the rental shelf and to welcome any suggestions as to new books the students would like to have added to the library.

There have been several books bought that will soon appear on the library's shelves. They are: "Old Williamsburg" by Stevens; "World in Transition" by G. D. H. Cole; and "Society and Thought in Early America" by Wish.

Two books have been donated to the library by former students. The donors are the Reverend and Mrs. Lee Hebel. Mrs. Hebel was the former Edith Wegner. The books donated to the library by the Reverend and Mrs. Hebel are "The Dagger and the Cross" by Ruttenber, and "Above All Nations," an anthology.

There have been two novels added to the library for the student's reading enjoyment. One is "The Town" by Conrad Richter. This book should be enjoyable reading, as Mr. Richter is from this part of the State. He was also given an honorary degree by Susquehanna University.

"The Town" is the story of how the eldest daughter of Worth and Jary Lockett completes her mission and lives to see the transition of her family from pioneers to the way of civilization.

This is the third in a series of books about the Lockett family. The first was "The Trees," which tells of their pushing westward; the second is "The Fields," which tells of their settling in Ohio.

"Bennetts' Welcome" by Ingels Fletcher is another book packed full of action, adventure and romance. The period of this book is the year 1851 during Cromwell's rise to power. Bennett is forced to come to America as an indentured servant through political reasons.

Here in the New World he is caught up in the fight between the Roundheads and the Cavaliers. Here he must take his stand—either for the old loyalties, or a new, free way of life.

MUSIC NOTES

The following were selected to sing in the Chapel Choir this year: Sopranos—Maxine Weiser, Joan Bates, Bette Vincent, Jayne Dally, Wanda Harmon, Gretta Thomas, Ann Gulise, Nancy Lepicy, Peggy Heffelfinger; Tenors—George Ferrey, Richard McCarty, Kenneth Orris, Leonard Carlson, George Liddington, Charles Carr; Alto—Ruth Freed, Janet Wingert, Janet Leue, Nancy Youhoun, Francis Drumm, Lorraine Lee; Basses—William Bastian, Jack Schraeder, Dale Gateman, Jack Schreffler, Russell Furman, Richard Boyd, Roger Blegen, John Motz, and Robert Moore.

The first rehearsal of the Chapel Choir was held this afternoon at 4:20 in room 7 of the Conservatory.

"But they tell me the Profs are really lousy up there," said Joe. "Not at all," replied Bill. "They are all really very nice, and so friendly and helpful."

"I understand that the upperclassmen are really rough on frosh," said Joe.

"No, I tend to disagree," replied Bill. "Freshmen are treated like kings."

"Well, I don't care what you say. I have it from a very reliable source that the women up there are really beasts."

"I must disagree again," answered Bill. "The women there are the most beautiful to be found."

"We seem to disagree on every point, but here is one thing you must concede—those dorms up there are like barns," said Joe in desperation.

"You are wrong again," answered Bill. "I've been in the dorms, and they are richly appointed and very luxurious."

By this time the bus had arrived in Sunbury, and the eager boys leaped from the bus in child-like anticipation. Bill had so convinced Joe that the college was an ideal recreation spot, he could wait no longer to get registered and begin having fun.

"Gosh, let's go!" said Joe. "I wonder where we can get a bus for Selingrove." Bill stopped in his tracks. "Selingrove, what on earth is that?"

"That's where Susquehanna University is, of course!" said Joe, looking about eagerly for a bus stop.

Bill suddenly picked up his bags, sniffed twice loudly, and strode off. As he turned the corner the fresh, new, blue and white Bucknell sticker on his bag was resplendent in the afternoon sunshine.

OBTAIN ACTIVITY TICKETS IN REGISTRAR'S OFFICE

Student admission to home football games, Star Course programs and other events as announced during the 1951-52 academic year will be by student activity ticket only. SPORTS CHATTER

By Richard Stout

THE CRUSADERS KICK THE LID OFF THEIR 1951 FOOTBALL CAMPAIGN when they meet the Blue Jays of Johns Hopkins Saturday. It goes without saying, the 34-0 shellacking death the Crusaders in last season's encounter will make the boys attired in the black and blue a heavy favorite. Let's upset the odds-makers boys.

ONE CAN'T BUT ADMIRE THE AGED AMOS A. STAGG, SR., who began his 62nd season of coaching this fall. A walk to University Field will reveal he's more spry and chipper than ever.

THE NAMING OF ED PALKOVICH AND ED MENAPACE TO COACH THE FRESHMAN Football Squad provides two ex-Susquehanna gridders with plenty of experience and know-how. Although the Frosh are lacking in beef, it looks as if the Sophs under coach Dave Bennett, can expect anything but a soft touch when they take to the gridiron Homecoming Morn.

THE RETURN OF NED CONDON TO THE S. U. SPORTS PICTURE after a one-year intermission for an Army hitch brightens the present basketball outlook. Ned bounded out of the Jay-Vee ranks to star for the Crusaders in his first fling at the cage sport on the Susquehanna hardwoods. He was also a stellar performer for the Crusader baseball squad. His outstanding hurling while playing for the Port Lewis nine placed him on a star-studded ALL SIXTH ARMY TEAM. He has signed to play in the St. Louis Cardinal farm system and will report for spring training at the close of the first semester.

That Sunbury High School Football Squad can certainly be placed among the better teams in central Pennsylvania. Despite two successive losses, the Owls are contenders all the way for outstanding schoolboy laurels. IT WOULD INDEED BE FINE TO SEE SOME OF THESE BOYS DRIFT SUSQUEHANNA WAY IN '52.

Judging by past performance, THE CRUSADERS SHOULD BOAST A GREAT PASS-CATCHING TRIO. Bill Pritchard, Ken Lenker, and Cliff Stamfel have excelled in this department while newcomer Mike Rising is still another prospect expected to harass the opposition. Speaking of KEN LENKER, this writer fails to see how he missed ALL-STATE mention. Most fans will agree that Kenny is one of the finest defensive safety men ever to perform on University Field. Who knows, maybe this is the year.

CO-CAPTAINS ESTER FROST AND HELEN VON LYNN should provide a great one-two punch for the girls hockey team. Both girls have excelled at the field sport since their arrival as freshman on the Susquehanna campus.

WHEN IT COMES TO ARDENT SPORTS ENTHUSIASTS, IT'S HARD TO BEAT SELINGSGROVE'S JOHN "YANK" GARBBERA. A great booster for Susquehanna, he can be seen wearing a dink and froth button. His signs warn opposing grid rivals the fate to befall them on University Field.

Few students realize the work involved in preparation for the coming grid campaign. Regular drills have been taking place since September 4. These boys are indeed deserving of your support. A real display of school spirit will provide an inspiring and motivating force. SEE YOU AT THE GAME SATURDAY. BE THERE IN SPIRIT

S. U. Hopes For Win In Johns Hopkins Tilt

Susquehanna University's fighting Crusaders continued workouts this week in preparation for the opening game of the season against the Johns Hopkins Blue Jays. Stagmen will be out to revenge a 34-0 defeat suffered at the hands of the Marylanders last year. Coach Stag is expected to rely on his veterans to stop the well balanced attack of the Blue Jays.

Only six games appear on the Crusaders schedule this year, but every game seems to hold special significance for the Susquehannans. The Crusaders meet Wagner on Homecoming, and a victory before the grads is always important. A former grad from S. U. coaches the National Aggies eleven, and the Stagmen intend to show him an unpleasant afternoon when the Aggies visit University field on the 27th of October. Juniata has beaten the Crusaders three years in a row, and the senior members of the squad are anxious to add the scalp of the Indians to their list of victories before they depart these hallowed walls. Susquehanna is no "soft touch," as Haverford will remember anew when S. U. visits them on the 10th of November. For two consecutive years, the Ursinus Grizzlies have managed to tie the Stagmen. This year the Crusaders hope to make the victory decisive.

Coaches Stag and Agnew are planning to unleash a number of wide-open plays against S. U. foes. The Crusaders possess a number of speedy, veteran backfield candidates well acquainted with the Stag system. Rich Young and Gene Fenstermacher are again on hand to do the passing and running. Stamfel, Lenker, Campbell, Flowers, Torromeo, and Walter, all experienced veterans, will see plenty of action when the opening whistle blows.

A veteran line will create the holes for this imposing backfield. Gene Brouse (all state honorable mention last year), Tom Balchen and Lou Szabo are battling it out for the starting guard positions. Sunbury's own Charlie Shamp and Bellwood's Buss Carr will see heavy duty at tackle. Walt Takezyk, Steve Torok, Dick Herr and "Boeh" Pritchard will see duty at end. Jim Hazlett and Bob MacNamara will anchor the line at center.

Newcomers for the Orange and Maroon include: Jim Anolia, of Mt. Carmel Township; Ken Erdley, of Mifflinburg; Mike Rising, of Norry and Gib Davis, of Hotsapple. Sam Ross, sophomore, is also expected to see plenty of action this fall.

With the active, enthusiastic support of the students the Crusader's can look forward to a fine season.

Candidates for varsity hockey may still report. Freshmen are especially urged to come out as all classes are given an equal opportunity, and you do not have to be a professional in order to play. A knowledge of the game is all that is required. Perfection comes through practice.

The following girls have reported: Helen Von Lynn, Esther Frost, Jane Cline, Marvel Cowling, Lois Fisher, Christine Harman, Joanne Heiny, Pat Hess, Irene Meerbach, Joann Mosholder, Ann Schumacher, Deley Sharrettes, Pearl Solomon, Joyce Wagner, Audrey Wegner, and Maxine Weiser. Helen Von Lynn and Esther Frost were elected co-captains.

The team's first game is tentatively scheduled for October 17. It will be played with Gettysburg here on our campus.

Intramural sports for girls are again in full swing at Susquehanna. Hockey is the first sport to claim our interest and games will begin this week. The usual schedule of two games each Tuesday and Thursday afternoon will be followed.

Manager Joyce Wagner and her assistant, Pat Hess, have announced that there are five teams in the tournament. These teams are Freshmen, Soph I, Soph II, Juniors, and Seniors.

The following is a tentative schedule for this week:

Tuesday, October 2—
Freshmen vs. Soph I at 4:30 p. m.
Soph II vs. Juniors at 5:00 p. m.
Thursday, October 4—
Soph I vs. Soph II at 4:30 p. m.
Juniors vs. Seniors at 5:00 p. m.

Both Kei and Lai hope that they can be as nice to the students of S. U. as they have been to them.

Shu-Park Chan comes to us from Hong Kong, China. Park is a freshman here in the Liberal Arts course and plans to major in Economics.

Before attending S. U. he went to the Chinese Military Academy and was in the Chinese Army for a year and a half. Park loves to swim and do gymnastics and so far likes school and the students very much.

Shu-Yun Chan, Park's brother, is a senior in the liberal arts course and is majoring in Economics. Yun attended Chulung University for three years before coming to the United States. He enjoys playing ping pong. Yun likes school very much because "it is very silent."

Park and Yun's father is a General in the Chinese Army and is advisor to Chang Kai Shek, President of Nationalist China.

The Chan brothers have four sisters. Three of them are in Hong Kong and the other lives in England. Beside the two boys, there are two more. One is studying for his master's degree at Columbia University in New York and the other is attending Washington was arranged for the business students. Refreshments were served in Seibert Social Rooms following the party. The liberal arts and music students had a joint party. The music department provided entertainment in the chapel. The program included the "Charleston" by Charlotte Neuman and Toots Richards, several numbers presented by a trio and a quartet, and several duets sung by Charles Carr and Barbara Easton. A dance was held in the gym following the musical entertainment, and refreshments were served.

The fraternities held open house for the frosh women on Thursday night. The girls spent one hour at each house, thus being entertained by each fraternity. The sororities held open house in the sorority rooms and Seibert Social Rooms for the freshmen men. Refreshments were served by both the fraternities and sororities.

The traditional Big and Little Sister Banquet was held in Horton Dining Hall on Friday evening. The faculty informal reception was held at Pine Lawn, the home of President and Mrs. G. Morris Smith.

ers, Mary Klingelhoefter from Sunbury is a junior in the liberal arts department. Miss Klingelhoefter belongs to the day students organization, to the orchestra, and to the SCA. This is her first venture into the field of journalism.

Jean Rowe, a sophomore hailing from Smithsburg, Maryland, also makes her first appearance on the "Susquehanna" staff. Miss Rowe's long list of extracurricular activities, which includes the Business Society, SCA, WAA, and Alpha Delta Pi sorority, shows us she will be a leader in any field of endeavor. She is sophomore representative to the women's student council. This year she aided with the freshman orientation program. Specializing in typing and shorthand will enable Miss Rowe to qualify for many and varied positions.

Last year's staff members, together with this new group, can lead to nothing less than a better and more progressive paper than we have seen in years.

Sorority News

Alpha Delta Pi

We extend our best wishes to the following Gamma Omicrons who were married this past summer: Pat Crisman to John Gou, III; Marjorie Vought to Fred Attinger; Mary Jo Brown to Ben Alter; Doris Schweidhofer to Harry Smith; Sue Foltz to Ralph Tietbol; Betty Beam to Don Wohlsein; Jan Arner to Robert Himmelman.

ADPi conducted the initial fraternity-sorority vespers last Sunday evening. The service was in charge of our chaplain Joan Sechrist.

At last Wednesday night's meeting our president, Paye Lewis, presented her convention report to the chapter. Paye was our delegate to the Centennial Convention of ADPi held last June, in Macon, Georgia. Delegates from eighty active chapters and 187 alumnae chapters attended the week long celebration in honor of the oldest secret society for women. The Adelphean Society (which later became Alpha Delta Pi) was founded at Wesleyan College, Macon, Georgia, and has a current membership of more than 34,000 members.

Lois Renfer, our corresponding secretary, presented the new activities with their initiation certificates.

This year our Selinsgrove Alumnae group will sponsor a monthly candy sale in place of last year's monthly bake sales.

We wish to thank our sister, Mrs. Althalia Kilne, for attending the meeting last Wednesday evening.

Kappa Delta

Beta Upsilon chapter of Kappa Delta held its first meeting of the fall term, Wednesday, September 26.

Miriam Vogler, president, gave a report on the twenty-ninth biennial national convention which she attended at Pasadena, California, June 25-29. She showed pictures and a scrap book. She presented the sorority with a gavel and each girl with a small fan as a souvenir of the convention.

Two members of the advisory alumnae board were present, Mrs. Ann G. Uish and Miss Frances Brunkhorst.

Committees were appointed for the Homecoming dance.

The girls voted to offer their services to the Selinsgrove community center again this year.

Beta Upsilon received a letter from Vija Borstlein, who entered nurse's training at John Hopkins this fall. We wish her luck.

Sigma Alpha Iota

Sigma Omega Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, a national professional music fraternity for women, extends greetings to the freshmen of Susquehanna University.

The chapter congratulates its alumnae Flora Barnhart and Mary Elizabeth Lehman and its pledge Barbara Morris, all of whom were married during the summer months. Congratulations are also extended to Sally Mitchell and Jane Bollinger who recently became engaged.

Sigma Omega Chapter assisted the other sororities at the open house held for the freshman boys on Thursday, September 20.

INTRAMURALS

With intramural football scheduled to start within the next two weeks, the three frats and three dorms have been practicing regularly.

Last year an undefeated Bond and Key team swept to victory for the third consecutive year and thus retain permanent possession of the Otto Keulmer Trophy.

Strength of down teams cannot be determined until the season starts, of course, but if the league follows the pattern of previous years, a dog fight between the frats will decide the league champion.

Bond and Key lost many of last year's championship team, and they face a tough job of rebuilding. On the other hand, Theta Chi and Phi Mu Delta have retained many of last year's players. Therefore, they appear to be the strongest in the league.

Schedule for league competition will be published in the near future.

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK

This week's personality is Voylet Dietz who is well known on Susquehanna's campus for her musical ability and her variety of extra-curricular activities. Her home is Wrightsville, Pennsylvania.

Even in high school, Voylet's capabilities in the music field were evident. There she accompanied the Glee Club for four years.

In her freshman and sophomore years, Voylet was class representative to the Women's Student Council. She was a member of the orchestra in her sophomore and junior years. Last year she was secretary of the local student chapter of the Music Education National Conference.

This year Voylet was chairman of the Orientation Committee for the freshmen. It was a tremendous undertaking, and she is to be congratulated for the success with which the program was carried out. Aside from these duties, she is also chairman of the Judiciary Committee and a member of the Women's Student Council this year.

Besides all these activities, Voylet is also active in the Student Christian Association, Women's Athletic Association, Susquehanna Singers, and is president of Sigma Alpha Iota.

Voylet is taking the music education course. We are quite sure that her pleasing personality and many abilities can lead only to success.

SCA NEWS

The cabinet of the Student Christian Association met on Tuesday evening, September 25, in the S.C.A. room in Hassinger Hall for its first meeting of the 1951-52 term. President Gordon Joyce opened this initial meeting with a short devotional period following which he conducted a general business meeting.

The announcement of the resignation of Dr. Arthur H. Wilson as an advisor was made and accepted by the group. In turn, by cabinet action, Mr. Robert L. Amy was named to fill this vacancy.

During the course of the meeting's business, the foundation for the yearly S.C.A. program was laid and plans were made which will get a "dynamic" program under way at the first general meeting of the association to be held at 9:30 p. m. Tuesday, October 16, in the Seibert social rooms.

The procedure for group meetings has been changed this year. They will be held at a later hour, 9:30 p. m., instead of having two meetings a month, more emphasis will be laid upon one assembly per month.

Women Commuters Begin Activities

The Women Day Students Organization began their official activities for the present college year on Friday, September 28, 1951, by holding a tureen luncheon in the day room in the basement of Hassinger Hall to welcome the five new freshmen women. Each one was introduced to the others: Mrs. Betty Albert, president; Catherine Doebler, secretary; and Joan Sechrist, Student Council representative. Each new member received a small favor.

At the close of the meal, Mrs. Albert announced appointments for the activities committee, and for a committee to draft a Constitution. Mrs. Albert added that she hopes to plan such activities as will gain campus recognition for the Women Day Students Organization.

Bond and Key

At the first meeting of Bond and Key, Charles Snyder was elected chaplain for the ensuing year.

Our cook, Mrs. Minnie Aucker, has been in the hospital following an automobile accident. Taking her place is Mrs. Emma Barber.

Plans were discussed to continue the renovation of the house. Repairs and remodeling are going to be concentrated on the second floor and outside of the house.

We were happy to welcome back Bruce Wagner, Bob Dunlap, Bill Bosch, Ed Walker and Charles Grund who were here during the week.

The freshman girls were entertained by the members Thursday evening. Refreshments were served and dancing was enjoyed by all.

Ed Menapace is acting in the capacity of coach of the Frosh football team this year. Ed has had much experience in this field and we feel sure he will do a fine job.

Phi Mu Delta

On Thursday night, September 20 the brothers of Phi Mu Delta Fraternity entertained the girls of the freshman class. Dancing, songs, and refreshments highlighted the evening.

At the first official meeting of the year Professor Meader was re-elected as faculty advisor. Plans were laid for the purchase of new drapes for the entrance hall and piano repairs were contracted for.

Many brothers took the fateful step during the summer months. The following weddings took place: Andrew Koch '50 to Maude Jones '49; Willis VanDyke '49 to Mary E. Lehman '51; Donald Wohlsein '50 to Betty Beam '51; Benjamin Alter '51 to Mary Jo Brown '53; John Gow '50 to Patricia Crisman '52; Vincent Boyer '52 to Ann Jo Arnold; William Foster '51 to Francis Savage '48. Ernest Canals '50 and Alumni President Dick Moglia '48, Robert Bogdanffy '52, and Joseph Fleming '52, became engaged this summer along with Henry Chadwick '50, Daniel Reese '51, and Melvin Dunn '51. Former pledges Gene Stock and Bud Siemer stopped at the fraternity house recently, Gene on leave from the Navy and Bud on his way to Iowa University. Former President Donald Shoemaker spent this past week-end with the brothers.

facilities of Brother Nestler's wickedly welded spray gun, the garage and oil tank were a new, gleaming white; and through the summer vigilance of Brothers Momrow, Gateman, Kelley, and Nestler, the side lawn was green again.

Since the return of the Theta Chi guys, Paul Nestler has mounted two new mirrors in the upstairs wash-room and John Momrow has donated new curtains to the house. These have been hung in the living and dining rooms.

Our new cook, Mrs. Snyder, is responsible for the delicious odors which the Theta Chis have been enjoying around meal time. It looks like a good year for the OX club's bread basket.

Bill Nale is to be aided in his law enforcing task by our newly appointed assistant house manager Jack "Chicken-herder" Schwartz.

On the social side, we think that the open house for the freshmen girls was a success; that is, if the invasion of red coats at Hassinger Hall means anything. Seibert Hall falls into the spotlight also as we congratulate Brother Chuck Mason and Miss Caroline Rutherford on their recent pinning.

COMING SOON: Theta Chi's social calendar includes a hay ride in the early days of October.

MADALINE LEASE LANTHORN EDITOR APPOINTS OTHER STAFF MEMBERS

As is the custom, this year will again have the year's most awaited publication, the "Lanthorn." There will be a few changes in the "Lanthorn" this year. For the first time in four years there will be individual pictures of the freshmen. All pictures for the "Lanthorn" will be taken on the stage of the little theatre in Bogar Hall.

To lessen the cost of the proofs, each student will be charged $1.53. This amount will be credited to you with any purchase of ten dollars or more. The Penn State Photo Shop is again doing the photography.

Miss Maday Lease is from Somerset, Pa. In high school Maday was quite active, being on newspaper and year book staffs, national honor society, high school plays, and operettas. At Susquehanna, she is a member of S.C.A., W.A.A., and Kappa Delta. She is scholarship chairman of Kappa Delta and a board member of W.A.A. She is president of the Biemic Society and appeared on the Dean's Honor list three times. With all this activity she finds time to be a biology major and lab assistant for zoology.

Max Yocum comes from Laurel Springs, New Jersey. During her high school days she was a member of the student council, year book staff and national honor society. On campus Max is a member of W.A.A., S.C.A., Biemic Society and Kappa Delta. She is assistant rushing chairman for

BUSINESS SOCIETY MAKES PLANS FOR YEAR'S ACTIVITIES

The first regular monthly meeting of the Business Society of the new school year will hold Monday evening, October 8, at 6:45 in the Seibert Social Rooms.

The meeting was called to order by the president, David Parker.

An announcement was made by David Parker that the Business Society Auction, which was favorably received last spring and in past years, will be held again this fall. There was discussion of plans for the sale of writing paper and the "Cord-minder," a new ironing accessory. Also there was discussion of the plans for the Business Society's annual dance which is scheduled for February 9.

The program for the evening, under the direction of Ruth Smith and Lorraine Rarik, included a film entitled "Paris in Technicolor." There were refreshments served after the meeting.

Program Completed for Annual SU Parents' Day

Invite your parents, October 27, for their day at Susquehanna University. Last year the program met with such approval and success that again this year a special effort is being made by the college to entertain our parents. During the morning, coffee will be served in the lounge. At one o'clock, prior to the football game with the National Aggies, parents will register at the gates to the stadium. Fathers will receive a novelty pin and mothers will receive a flower. The University band will present a special number in honor of our parents.

Parents and students are invited to a coffee hour in Seibert parlors after the football game.

The fraternities are holding open house to all parents and students from eight o'clock until twelve o'clock Saturday night.

Student Activity Ticket No. 2 is to be used for Star Course Tuesday night. Bring your booklet; ticket taker will remove Ticket No. 2.

Parking Regulations Enforced on Campus

As the administration went to considerable expense to improve the parking facilities on the campus to get best results, it will be necessary for everyone to fully cooperate. In understanding the situation we must realize that the Middlecreek Construction Company is no novice at this work, and the parking spaces are the standard size as used in Sunbury and other towns. In parking everyone must see that his car is within the lines at front and rear.

Beginning at the Conservatory of Music, eight spaces are reserved for the faculty as indicated by signs on the trees. The crossing to the library is well marked. Coming south towards Hassinger you will find a bottleneck. The longest cars should not park there for at all times large trucks must have access to the loading and unloading area which is marked on the lamp post in front of Hassinger. The path between that dormitory and Bogar Hall must be kept open also.

On a lamp post near the gym is a sign saying, "Park south of the triangle ONLY." No one may park See PARKING REGULATIONS—P. 2

Kappa Delta.

Jane Wehr hails from Middleburg, Pa. She appeared with the high school band orchestra and chorus as well as being a majorette. Jane was also editor of the school year book and school newspaper. At Susquehanna, Jane is a member of W.A.A., S.C.A., and Kappa Delta. She is the chapter editor of the "Angelos," the magazine of Kappa Delta. Jane is majoring in psychology.

Dick Burley came to Susquehanna by way of Montgomery, Pa. In high school he was captain of the football and basketball teams his senior year, president of the student council and a judge on the student court. As if this were not enough, Dick was president of his senior class and also its valedictorian. On campus he is active in Phi Mu Delta and S.C.A. He was a member of the football and basketball teams during his freshman year.

Anyone who has any snapshots of any school event or students that would be suitable for use in the year-book, should give them to Jane Wehr or Maday Lease or any other member of the Lanthorn staff.

CHEERLEADERS AND BAND LEAD RALLY TO SUCCESS; SNAKE DANCE AND NEW CHEERS HIGHLIGHT EVENT

Where has all the pep come from? That question has been bothering me since Thursday night. Could it be the result of the newly finished Bogar Hall and Snack Bar? Or maybe Theta Chi's Thursday night impromptu pep rally and parade through town? Or maybe we just have better cheerleaders and a wonderfully co-ordinated team. No matter what the reason, this writer is certainly glad to see the pep regained on Susquehanna's campus. Let's not lose it. A team cannot work alone. Someone must back them so keep up the good work.

It is reported that Miss Haresign is responsible for the pep rally held Friday morning in the chapel. That certainly helped the pep as well as teaching the student body new cheers. Let's have them more often.

Friday night saw an unsurpassed pep rally at S. U. Memory fails to recall a similar occasion on the campus. The pep was unrestrained. The freshmen and upperclassmen and women were gathered between G. A. Hall and Selinsgrove Hall along with the band and cheerleaders. The three fraternities met at the point and marched four abreast to the campus to attend the pep rally. The new echo cheer was introduced which goes: S-U-S, S-U-S, Q-U-E, h-a-n, H-A-N, n-a-u, N-A-U. SUSQUEHANNA U. The small letters are to be said by the cheerleaders and repeated by the student body indicated by caps.

The cheerleaders led several cheers and the band played several school songs, while in the background, fire

Latin Organization Opens Semester With Project Discussion

The first meeting of the Cicroniani for the 1951-52 year was held Thursday, October 4, in Seibert Social Rooms. Those present included the active members and the new members of the Latin Department who will be eligible for membership at the end of the semester.

Several projects were discussed for the coming year. One of these projects will be decided upon at the November meeting. The paying of dues was stressed.

Following the business meeting, Assistant Professor Meader showed slides and gave a talk on the architecture and life of Pompeii.

Copies of the Constitution will be available for all members and prospective members at the next meeting. Discussion for next month's cultural meeting will be led by Henry Albright and Ruth Osburn. The topic will be Roman roads.

crackers were heard to boom. Co-captains Gene Penstermacher and Jim Hazlett spoke briefly. Since Gene was the elder, he spoke first and concluded with these words: "I understand their colors are blue and black, let's send them back black and blue." Jim commented on the wonderful new school spirit. Coach Staggs described the tactics of a few plays and commented on several of the boys.

Dr. Russ Addresses Initial Meeting of Pi Gamma Mu Society

On Monday evening, October 1, the Pi Gamma Mu Society held its first meeting for the year at the home of Dr. and Mrs. William A. Russ. David Volk, president, presided at the business meeting, which was attended by six students and four faculty members.

Dr. Russ, the speaker of the evening, presented an interesting report on the national convention of the organization held last June in the Hotel Twenty-Four Hundred, Washington, D. C. Highlight of the convention was the pageant, "Faith Of Our Fathers."

Charles Bomboy was appointed by the president to be publicity chairman for the local organization. His duties include the publishing of chapter news in the organization's national magazine and in the college and local newspapers.

At the conclusion of the business session and address, Mrs. Russ served refreshments.

New members will be initiated at the next meeting which will be held on November 5 in the Kappa Delta room in Seibert Hall. At this meeting Gordon Joyce and David Volk will present the evening's topic.

Panhellenic Council Host to Girl's Picnic

On Wednesday, October 10, the Panhellenic Council is sponsoring a picnic for all women not affiliated with a national Panhellenic sorority.

The picnic will take place behind the gym at 5:30. There will be entertainment, group singing, a bonfire, and, of course, "eats."

The object of the picnic is to acquaint the women students with the sororities.

About 180 students are expected to attend.

STAR COURSE OPENS TONIGHT WITH MISS BARBARA TROXELL, SOPRANO

The first star course of Susquehanna University will take place in Seibert Chapel on Tuesday, October 9, featuring Miss Barbara Troxell, soprano. Miss Troxell, who is described as "The Velvet-Voiced Barbara Troxell," has been a soloist under the direction of Eugene Ormandy, Leopold Stokowski, Leonard Bernstein, and Sir Thomas Beecham.

MISS BARBARA TROXELL

Being a scicist, Miss Troxell is associated with the New York City Symphony, Philadelphia Orchestra, Mexico City Opera Festival, Montreal Festival, New York Oratorio Society, National Orchestral Association, and Ballet Society. The Lucius Pryor Award was presented to Miss Troxell for her outstanding singing performances. She was a finalist in the Metropolitan Audition of the Air and is now a member of the Metropolitan Opera Association.

Writers and critics of Miss Troxell state that she is an impressive dramatic soprano, has power, simplicity, clarity of tone, ease of delivery, width of register, shading, rhythm, diction, and complete control with unseeming effort. With these qualities, Miss Troxell has been a big success in Carnegie Hall, The Academy of Music, Town Hall of New York, and many other music halls.

Alumni News

There will be a meeting of the Harrisburg Susquehanna Alumni District Club on October 12. Dr. Joseph F. Hackenberg of Shamokin, president of the General Alumni Association of Susquehanna University is planning to attend. Campus representatives will be Mr. Dan MacCush and Miss Ruth E. McCorkle, General Alumni Secretary.

Charles H. Rohmann, '49, who is now serving as an executive officer with the 24th Infantry Division in Korea asked to be remembered to his friends here at S. U.

PHI KAPPA MEETS, INITIATES MEMBERS

Phi Kappa—What is it? To all upper classmen, and especially Greek students, the answer is simple. Phi Kappa is an organization for the purpose of the study of the Greek language and culture.

Phi Kappa is under the able leadership of Dr. William Augustus Ahl. Meetings are held on the second Monday of each month. All Greek students are cordially invited to become members. You must be an active Greek student to be a member of Phi Kappa.

On Tuesday, October 2, the officers for the ensuing year were elected. They are Basileus (President) Charles Bomboy; Deutero Basileus (Vice President) Charles Snyder; Grammatheus (Secretary) Beatrice Morrow; Tamiass (Treasurer) Wayne Lupot; and Angelos (Messenger) Robert Shade.

On Monday, October 8, initiation was held. At this time the following students became members: Albert Swithers, Robert Wland, Carlton Howells, Rodger Rohrbough, Stuart Lengle, Jr., Fred Shilling, Lee Walker, Dean Rupe, Edgar Oestreich, and Charles Coates.

Dr. Ahl then honored the club with an oration, "A Visit at the Olympian Homes." Following this refreshments were served.

Taking a brief look into the future will find each Greek Sophomore given a chance to speak on Greek life and culture.

Alpha Psi Omega Meets

Alpha Psi Omega, the largest honorary fraternity on campus, with over 250 chapters, held its monthly meeting last Thursday. Among the subjects discussed was a talent show to be given in the spring. The secretary-treasurer will be elected next month.

The present officers are Miriam Vogler, cast director, and Harmon Andrews, sub-director.

Alpha Psi Omega would like to express sincerest sympathies to Joseph Solomon, past president, and his sister, Pearl, in their recent bereavement.

American Revolution And Rist Prints on Display in Library

For art enthusiasts, our Susquehanna library holds great interest. Exhibits from "Life" magazine have been procured for the library through the interest of Miss Kolpin and assistant professor Meader. The exhibition, Kyoto, photographed by Dimitri Kessel, was shown the week of October 1-6, 1951. This week an exhibition of the American Revolution will be on display through the courtesy of "Life" magazine.

An exhibition of wood-block color prints by Luigi Rist will also be on display this week. Luigi Rist, born in Newark, New Jersey, studied at the Newark Technical School and the Grand Central Art School. In general, he has made his way along independent lines of artistic investigation. His work is an example of one of the oldest methods of printing known to man.

Proper Dress!

As has been said often, "Manners with learning make the gentleman." Included in the pre-requisite to being accepted in society is the idea that one must know how to dress properly.

There are styles of dress for every occasion just as there are different menus for each meal of the day.

Part of learning how to dress properly should be experienced before coming to college. What is unlearned before coming to college must be experienced and acquired before leaving to take one place in the mad, scrambling, chaotic world in which we live.

The ladies of the campus are more clothes conscious and therefore dress more properly than the men do. This may be due to stricter supervision or because the importance of proper dress has been more firmly impressed upon them.

College is the last place where you may experience the necessity and value of correct dress. At college, opportunities arise for all types of dress from T shirts and levis to tuxedos and white ties and tails—from shorts and jeans to cocktail dresses and strapless evening gowns.

The core of the problem may not lie entirely with the individual but may be partly due to the failure of the administration to realize the need for strictness and instruction in what is proper and what is not proper.

Wearing sweat shirts to a president's reception is as improper as dunking doughnuts in the punch bowl would be. Too often we know what is correct, but we do not call our intelligence into play.

One of the worst exhibitions of improper dressing has been demonstrated at our star courses. The ladies come dressed in their filmy gowns and some of the men appear in shirts depicting the south sea islands or a tie so loud that Harlem would approve.

Few men have tuxedos but it is not too much to ask the men to come dressed, not in sweat shirts or sport shirts, not in sport coats, but in a dark suit with a white shirt and a conservative tie. We as men owe this not only to the college, to the performers, and to ourselves but also to the ladies who come really "dressed up."

The faculty cannot be left out of the endeavor to institute proper dress. They are the leaders and examples for the campus. Improper dress on their part leaves an almost unmountable obstacle in the proper dress of the students. The students should expect to see the faculty members attend a star course concert in tuxedos or white ties and tails. The men of the faculty may feel it is unnecessary; if it is unnecessary for them to dress properly, it is unnecessary for the student body also.

The star courses are arranged for the benefit of the students and faculty. As students we have a given status to maintain. The success of any affair depends on how well each one—both performer and listener—responds to his obligations. Let us not mar the success of a college affair by dressing improperly.—G. J.

The "Spirit" of '51

What spirit! What a way to back your team! Susquehanna students can be proud of their enthusiastic display of loyalty and confidence in the team.

Just as Pandora opened the mystical box many, many years ago, Theta Chi opened the mystical box last Thursday night, and the germs of enthusiasm spread throughout the entire campus. The team felt it; the cheerleaders felt it; the upperclassmen felt it; the freshmen felt it.

School spirit, which seemed to be lying dormant, was really rejuvenated at the pep rally on Friday night. The student turnout was remarkable, but a few were conspicuous by their absence. Why not get 100 per cent behind the team—let them know that they've got your support all the way down the field? The response to the cheers at the pep rally was tremendous—just think what it would be if every student came out "yelled his lungs out!"

And that parade downtown! That really opened the eyes of the people of Selingrove! The majority of people in town probably didn't even know we have a football team, but they surely do now! The band, the band, the snake dancers, the cheerleaders, and the car horns blowing created quite an effect—let's not allow that effect to die out of sheer indifference, laziness, or neglect.

A precedent has begun, and the students of Susquehanna cannot fall down on the job. The team fights, not for individual glory, but for the glory of old S. U. Without teamwork, could the Crusaders have smothered the Blue Jays as they did? Without the knowledge that the whole student body was backing them, could the Stagmen have forged ahead as they did? Spirit is the element that makes or breaks a game—it is the incentive to do or die that must be present and can only be present if every individual indicates that he or she is in full support of the team.

The eve of the Susquehanna-Johns Hopkins game is something to remember. Why not make Homecoming Eve something that will never be forgotten? Everyone must come out!

Congratulations, fellows, on the fine job done against Johns Hopkins. Let's have a repeat performance and send Wagner home "black and blue."

Gordon is president of the S.C.A., vice president of Phi Gamma Mu, a member of Phi Kappa Greek Society, and a member of the staff of "The Susquehanna." He played minor roles in "Macbeth" and "The Taming of the Shrew" and also did publicity work in dramatics. He was treasurer of his sophomore class and has found time, with all this, to place his name on the Dean's list.

President of Phi Mu Delta Fraternity, Gordon was social chairman of the fraternity in his sophomore year and chaplain and chapter editor in his junior year.

Gordon, who will enroll at Mount Airy Seminary next year, has this to say about his choice of Susquehanna for his undergraduate studies:

"Being Lutheran, I was interested in a Lutheran school and I was immediately impressed by the campus and overall friendliness of the students and administration at Susquehanna."

Susquehanna Downs Johns Hopkins; Blue Jays' Defeat Shows Good Season for S. U.

S. U. Leads at Half;

Young Outstanding

Susquehanna University's fighting Crusaders downed the Johns Hopkins Blue Jays 47-32 for their initial victory of the 1951 football campaign on University Field Saturday. The Crusaders scored in every period as they marched to victory.

Rich Young was the big gun for the Crusaders on the offense as he picked up 130 net yards rushing, threw three touchdown passes, scored two himself on the ground and converted five extra points. Ed Semler, 5'9", 165 pounds, left half-back from Hagerstown, Md., was the outstanding player for the Blue Jays. Semler gained 196 yards rushing, twice skirted his own right end and another time plucked a Wroblewski thrown pass out of the zone to hit pay dirt a total of three times.

Cliff Stamfel, Walt Tkaczky and Bob MacNamara played fine games defensively for the Crusaders.

Susquehanna's Don Walters opening kick-off was returned to the Blue Jays 25 yard line. Piling up three first downs in a row Johns Hopkins moved the ball to the Crusaders' 38. On the next play Wroblewski threw a piteous out to Semler who promptly circled his own right end for 38 yards and a touchdown. Sands conversion split the uprisings and the Blue Jays led 7-0. Hopkins kicked-off to S. U. and Mike Rising carried it back to the Crusaders' 47. After picking up a first down on Hopkins' 42, the Crusaders were forced to punt. Hopkins took over on the 13 yard line and with passes of 49 and 28 yards marched down the field for their second touchdown. The 28 yard pass from Wroblewski to Semler was the pay-off play. Sands attempted conversion was off to the right of the uprisings. Score: Johns Hopkins 13, S. U. 0.

Then Crusaders bounced back. After returning the Hopkins kick to the S. U. 38, the Crusaders moved to the Blue Jays' 42 yard line. An interference penalty on Rich Young's pass to Mike Rising gave the Crusaders a first down on the Hopkins 14 yard line. On the next play Young passed to Rising in the end zone for the touchdown. Young's conversion was good. Hopkins 13 and S. U. 7.

Early in the second quarter Steve third score. The attempted extra point cracked off tackle for the Blue Jays conversion was blocked by Stamfel. The Crusaders retaliated with Young doing the passing. S. U. reached the 5 yard line where Gene Fenstermacher drove over the score. Young's conversion was deflected by the Hopkins line.

After the kick-off the Blue Jays were held for three downs and when McNicholas attempted to punt on fourth down, the Crusaders' line charged through and partially blocked the ball. Taking over on the Hopkins 43-yard line the Crusaders moved to the 23 where Young skirted his own right end for the touchdown. Young converted and the score stood 20-19 with S. U. on top. Just before half time Young scampered 53 yards for another Crusaders score and when the half-time gun sounded the Stagmen led 27-19.

In the third quarter the Blue Jays scored first on a Wroblewski to Cook and Sands converted. The Crusaders came back and with a 34 yard Young to Rising pass settling the scene on the Hopkins 25. Young threw a pass to Bill Pritchard for the Crusaders 5th T. D. Young converted.

Johns Hopkins scored again midway through the third quarter when Ed Semler plowed through from the S. U. 15-yard line for the score. Sands conversion attempt was off to the left of the goal post.

Late in the third quarter Gene Fenstermacher interrupted a Blue Jay pass and ran it back to the Hopkins 24 yard line. Four plays later Young hit Tok in the end zone for another score. Young's placement was wide of the goal posts.

During the fourth quarter neither team was able to score until with seconds remaining Kay Campbell intercepted on the twelve and two plays later Gene Fenstermacher cracked the Hopkins line for four yards and the final S. U. six pointer. Young's seventh placement attempt was good. Final score: S. U. 47 - Hopkins 32.

Hopkins netted 13 first downs to the Crusaders ten. The Crusaders completed eleven passes in twenty-five attempts while the Blue Jays completed twelve in twenty tries.

HATS OFF TO THE CRUSADERS FOR THEIR DECISIVE WIN OVER A FAVORED JOHNS HOPKINS ELEVEN. Their spirited play and enthusiasm is indeed worthy of mention. COULD BE SIX FOR SIX IN '51. Watch out Wagner, you're next.

THE DROPPING OF JAY-VEE BASKETBALL has met with criticism from various critics. While it's true this step was taken to reduce the athletic budget, it looks as if it's a definite asset to the building of better teams. The problem of limited practice space will be totally eliminated while competition will be increasingly keener in the quest for a varsity berth. Extensive intramurals will handle the problem of a building program. Look for a better team in '51-'52.

WHO KEEPS THE GIRLS ON THE GO? It's Miss Nila Haresign, girl's new athletic mentor who is definitely full of pep and hustle. Her likeable personality has made her a very popular figure in the short time she has resided on the Susquehanna Campus.

JIM PETERS, ONE TIME CRUSADER FOOTBALL AND BASKETBALL GREAT, IS GUIDING THE LEWISBURG JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL.

MAX LEITZEL, VERSATILE SELINGROVE HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETE, would fit right into the formation employed by the Crusaders. Selingrove, which owns a 6-0 win over the Lewisburg Green Dragons, runs from the A formation and has been paced by Litzel all season.

POST GAME TIDBITS: Mike Rising's leaping catch of a Young-throw pass should probably be heralded as the outstanding play of the game. It was this score which put the Crusaders back in the ball game and proved to be the turning point . . . Should Rich Young continue with such an admirable performance, it won't be long before area sports writers will be beating the ALL-STATE drums . . .

When Bill Pritchard scampered into the end zone in the third quarter, it marked the first time that he has scored in four years of high school and college ball . . . A sour note in the 47-32 shellacking dealt the Blue Jays was the loss of Brouse and Porter. Let's hope that investigation will show the extent of their injuries are not serious . . . When it comes to old men, Gene Fenstermacher makes everyone forget his twenty and seven years—step aside son, gramps is going to show you how. His stellar performance on the offensive and defensive teams warrants a player of the week award . . .

Oh, that pass defense! It looks like the Crusaders are in dire need of a reshuffling in that defensive backfield. A power-laden defense added to the offense exhibited by the Crusaders would have added perhaps twenty more points to Saturday's scoring circus . . .

From here on it's going to be preparation for Wagner's powerful single wing . . .

Administration News

On September 29th there was a meeting of the Pennsylvania Committee on Preparation for Public Social Welfare. Mr. Frederick C. Stevens, assistant professor of sociology, attended this meeting. The committee met at Bryn Mawr College where it concerned itself with specific evaluations of students who are recommended to graduate schools or work in Welfare agencies. The main question that the committee discussed was "How can undergraduate schools determine whether their students will be acceptable?"

The annual meeting of the Board of Trustees of Susquehanna University was held on October 1st.

Dean Russell Galt was the guest speaker at the 159th anniversary of the founding of the Lyscomby Presbyterian church in Williamsport last week.

VESPERS

The Kappa Delta sorority was the sponsor of Sunday's college vesper service in Seibert chapel at 5:45 p. m.

Following the call to worship which was read by liturgist, Jane Cline, the congregation sang the opening hymn "O Worship the King." Prayer, special music, a brief meditation, and the concluding hymn, "Now Thank We All Our God" made up the remainder of the fourth vesper service for the 1951-'52 season.

Approximately ninety persons were present to hear Bernice Jochem present the meditation which was centered around the thoughts given in Psalm One-Hundred. They also heard Peggy Aston sing a special number, "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains," by F. F. Harker. She was accompanied on the organ by Voylet Dietz, who was organist for the evening.

Theta Chi Sparks

Impromptu Rally

The Johns Hopkins game got plenty of attention last Thursday night when a parade originating at the Theta Chi house started down Pine street, went up past Phi Mu Delta and Bond and Key and halted in front of Hassinger Hall. The drums rolled, the bugles blared and after a hearty "Sound Off" the torch-lighted procession made its way via the back road to faculty row and then to Seibert Hall. Here a stretcher laden with a dummy representing the fate of Johns Hopkins, was placed at the foot of the flag pole. The band was silent except for a mournful bugle playing taps as the rebel flag was raised and then lowered to the half mast. Then the somber crowd gave several cheers in sympathy for the ill-fated team that would try to trample us on our own University Field. When the procession wound its way toward town, it left the crowd in passionate tears—poor John (Hopkins) was dead.

The occasion was notable because, even though it was unannounced, it could boast of spontaneous participation by the greater portion of the student body. This is a great credit to S. U.'s school spirit.

FRATERNITY ROW

Bond and Key

The brothers extend congratulations to the Susquehanna football team for the hard-fought victory over Johns Hopkins on Saturday. Best of luck for a successful season.

Once again Bond and Key will bring delicious pizza pie to the students on campus made by the famous chef "Moose" Menapace. Thursday will be the day for pizza starting this week.

Plans are being made for a big Homecoming week-end. Letters have been sent out to the alumni of Bond and Key inviting them back. A luncheon will start the festivities on October 20, followed by an alumni meeting and a banquet in the evening.

October 13 will be the first open house. Herb Krauss, our social chairman, has a big evening planned for everyone.

We were happy to welcome Marsh Bogar, '51, who visited the house this past week-end. Marsh is working for his dad in Harrisburg. Burleigh Peters '49, and his wife, the former Jane Southwick, '49, also stopped at the house.

Congratulations to Brother Ed Wollaston on his engagement to Althea Ferguson, '51, this summer.

We hope for a speedy recovery of Gene Brouse, honorable mention all-state guard, who was injured in Saturday's game.

Phi Mu Delta

Recommendations of a special committee set up to investigate the purchase of fraternity jackets were accepted. These jackets will be seen on campus within a month and will be black satin reversible to black melton cloth. Greek letters will be mounted over the heart on the satin side.

In keeping with Phi Mu Delta's policy of dressing for dinner, a motion was passed making coats and ties mandatory for Monday and Wednesday evening meals.

The fraternity house will be open for inspection on October 27. Parents' Day. Frosh men and women are cordially invited to bring their parents and friends to Phi Mu Delta for a tour of inspection.

Brother Gog Marek spent the week-end at the fraternity home. Jesse Stone stopped in after the victorious football game with Johns Hopkins, and Mel Dunn came up to see us this past week while on furlough from the Army.

Phi Mu Delta wishes the football team continuing success in the future. Good work, team. Let's make it another successful Homecoming Day.

Theta Chi

A hayride topped off the interest at Theta Chi this week. The ride, which was about an hour and a half in each direction, had its mid-point at a picnic grove in Freeburg. There, by the light of a huge bonfire, members and guests enjoyed barbecued hot dogs and marshmallows. Chilled apple cider was served to quench the thirst of the crowd of about fifty people. We were pleased to have in our presence as chaperones Dr. Thomas Armstrong, Mr. John Soule and Miss "Tex" Harelsign.

We are happy to welcome to Beta Omega chapter Henry J. Holterman III, who was pledged to the fraternity last Thursday evening.

In the past few weeks, several alumni have visited the house. Among these are Charles Shaffer, '51, and Raymond Lauer, '50, who are both serving with the U. S. Army. Also Gerald Moorhead, past president of this chapter, who is now at the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg, and William Taylor, now a dental student at the University of Pittsburgh Dental School, honored us with their presence at the fraternity house.

Congratulations are in order for Paul Buchler, '50, and the former Miss Virginia Blough, '50, who were married on September 29th.

COMING SOON: An open house is scheduled for Theta Chi on October 27th.

Sorority News

Alpha Delta Pi

We were happy to see our sisters Jean McDonald, Barbara Stagg, and Carol Campbell cheering the team on to its well-earned victory last Saturday.

Faye Lewis and Pat Heathcote helped to instruct at the "Y" in Sunbury last week. They plan to devote one night a week in instructing junior and senior high school girls in various games and sports.

We hope to see all the non-sorority girls at the picnic sponsored by the Panhellenic Council this Wednesday from 5:30 to 7.

Our thank you is extended to Mrs. A. A. Stagg, Jr., for attending last week's meeting.

Kappa Delta

Beta Upsilon chapter of Kappa Delta held its regular weekly meeting Wednesday, October 3.

A special election was held at which time Elmor Smith was elected vice president and Madeline Lease was elected assistant treasurer.

Committees were appointed for the Panhellenic picnic which is to be held for the non-sorority women next Wednesday.

The girls who went to the Selingrove community center to help this week were: Lynne Lightfoot, Margaret Henderson, Nancy Bolig, Janet Laue, and Maxine Yocum.

Miss Francis Brunkhorst was appointed chairman of the Alumnae Advisory board for Beta Upsilon chapter by Mrs. Herbert E. Mueller, National Chapterian. This post had formerly been filled by Miss Ruth M. Sparhawk who did not return to Susquehanna this year.

Kappa Delta was in charge of vespers, Sunday, October 7. Jane Kilne was in charge of the program. Peggy Aston sang "How Beautiful Upon the Mountain," and Bernice Jochem presented the meditation.

June Klingler and Jean Van Voorhis, graduates of Susquehanna last year, and members of Beta Upsilon, are now working for General Electric in Schenectady, New York. Letters from the girls tell us that they have joined the Kappa Delta Alumnae Association for that area and have also attended a Panhellenic tea.

Nelda Sheaffer, another alumnae, has joined the Kappa Delta Alumnae Association in the Philadelphia area.

Congratulations to Ginny Blough and also to Bobbie Watkins on their marriages. Congratulations to Althea Ferguson and also to Alice Yonghaus on their engagements.

Miss Elizabeth Winston Lanier, of Petersburg, Virginia, National President of Kappa Delta, announced that the sorority is giving 14 new hospital beds to the Crippled Children's Hospital in Richmond, Virginia, as the 1951 Convention gift. After each national convention, Kappa Delta follows the custom of giving the hospital a special gift. Mrs. Edwin C. Gilgert, of Longmeadow, Massachusetts, who was National President of Kappa Delta in 1921 when Kappa Delta chose the Richmond hospital as its philanthropy, gave three beds.

Mrs. Julia Fugua Ober, of Norfolk,

Virginia, who was National Editor from 1945 to 1951, was elected the new National President for a four-year term, at the convention which was held at Pasadena, California this summer. Mrs. Ober also serves as a member of the Foundation Board of S. A. I.

S. A. I.

On Wednesday, October 3, Sigma Omega Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota held a tea for the freshman girls of the Conservatory from 4:30 to 5:30 p. m. in the S. A. I. Room in Seibert Hall. Tea, cookies, and nuts were served.

Following the Star Course program on Tuesday, October 9, S. A. I. will hold a reception for the artist in the social room of Seibert Hall. Invited to the reception are the faculty of Susquehanna University and all music students.

Sigma Omega is planning a party for its patronesses. The party will be held in the S. A. I. Room on Friday, October 12, from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m.

AMERICAN REVOLUTION.—From P. 1 Mr. Rist was greatly interested in and influenced by Japanese block prints and has made this collection in the same way. Unlike the Japanese artist, however, he has done his own block-cutting and printing, printing each picture by hand in the Japanese way, and using a total of fifteen to twenty blocks for each print.

Mr. Rist's work is represented in the permanent print collections of the Metropolitan Print Collection of the Metropolitan Museum, New York; New York Public Library; Boston Museum of Fine Art; Springfield Art Museum; Newark Library; and other museums and private print collections.

All of the prints are for sale, and orders may be left with Miss Kolpin, the University librarian, or with Mr. Meader.

Four new books which will create interest have been received in the last few weeks and will be placed on the shelves this week. They are: ETIQUETTE, Emily Post's latest book on the "do's" and "don'ts" of etiquette; THE SCHUYLKILL, by Nolan Bennett; COMMUNISM, DEMOCRACY, and CATHOLIC POWER, by Paul Blanchard, and Hilton's latest book, MORNING JOURNEY.

SCA NEWS

The SCA room in Hassinger Hall was the scene of the second cabinet meeting on Tuesday evening, October 2. The meeting, which took the form of a business session, opened with devotions conducted by President Gordon Joyce.

There were several items of business brought before the group, two of which will be of particular importance to the entire student body.

Besides the plans which were discussed concerning the staging of a dance within the very near future, the cabinet members made a report of the personal survey that each member made in which the students gave suggestions for topics that they would be interested in discussing at the general SCA meetings this year. Such pertinent subjects as "Dating and Courtship," "Marriage," "Divorce," "Mixed Marriage," "The Pros and Cons of Fraternities and Sororities," plus many other topics of interest to the present day college student were suggested.

The first general meeting of the association will initiate the year's program which welcomes students to join in and express their views on certain of these controversial questions.

The first "debate" topic will be that of "Dating and Courtship on the College Campus." This meeting, which will be held at 9:30 p. m., on Tuesday evening, October 16 in the Seibert social room will be in the form of a panel discussion with Rev. Raymond Morris, local Methodist minister acting as moderator and Joan Bates, Pat Rumbaugh, Jake Spangler, and Dick Boyd filling the positions of the panel members.

ANN DIXON 1951 HOMECOMING QUEEN

The Critic Speaks

By GORDON JOYCE

On Tuesday evening, as our first star course performer of this academic year, Miss Barbara Troxell, dramatic soprano, presented one of the finest concerts heard in Seibert Chapel.

Miss Troxell presented a varied and quite lengthy program. A feeling that she was restraining herself in the beginning of her concert was felt by many people in the audience, but this was dispelled by her beautiful rendition of "Alleluia." It can be well understood that with Miss Troxell's presenting such a long program there would be a necessity for restraint.

Her program included a variety of music to suit almost all types of people. Her two classical numbers, Puccini's "Madame Butterfly" are arias well known by music lovers. The inclusion of these in her repertoire showed extremely good taste and showed that Miss Troxell knows the value of pleasing the listener.

Every expression and pose that "The Velvet-Voiced Barbara Troxell" made achieved a purpose toward delighting the audience. These movements were not stilted from practice but actually seemed to be a part of her personality.

There has not been as large a number of students attending a star course of this nature for years as there was here to enjoy Miss Troxell. The freshmen were out in large numbers, but upperclassmen showed unusual interest by their presence.

Truly a great artist, Miss Troxell, figuratively speaking, held the audience in the palm of her hand. They laughed when she laughed; they felt sadness whenever she registered sadness. Her conveyance to the audience of her feelings was remarkable. Miss Troxell must be commended on her facial expressions and on her dramatic ability as well as on her clear beautiful voice so rich in fine tone quality.

Miss Troxell was called back for encore after encore. It seemed as though the audience would not let her leave the stage. Her encores included a very clever Flemish lullaby beautifully sung and dramatically presented, "Loch Lomond," "Summertime," and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" were more favorites presented. Her rendition of "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" was comparable to that of Jeanette MacDonald who has long been considered an all time great. We were indeed fortunate to secure such an accomplished artist on our campus.

AUXILIARY SHOWN RIST ART PRINTS

The Women's Auxiliary of Susquehanna University opened its 1951-52 season with a meeting on Saturday, October 13, at 2:30 p. m. in Seibert Hall with Mrs. Russell C. Hatz presiding.

The program featured an art exhibit of wood block prints by Luigi Rist, arranged and presented by Mr. Robert Meader, assistant professor of Latin at Susquehanna University.

The members met in Seibert Hall for a business meeting and social hour after which they went to the library for the art presentation. Mrs. Russell Grugan and Miss Catherine Boyer served as co-chairmen of the social committee. Other members of the committee were: Mrs. David Snyder, Mrs. Winifred Solomon, Mrs. Albert Soper, Mrs. A. A. Stagg, Jr., Mrs. Burnice Stauffer, Mrs. William W. Stauffer, Mrs. M. E. Steffen, Mrs. E. O. Steigewald, Mrs. F. C. Stevens, Mrs. Donald Stuber, Mrs. Robert Stover, Mrs. Robert Struh, Mrs. Robert Stuck, Mrs. James Thompson, Mrs. Warren Townsend, Mrs. Garner Traher, Miss Anna Troutman, Mrs. Emily Troutman, Mrs. Lawrence Troutman, Mrs. Russell E. Trutt, Mrs. Florence Valsing, Miss Florence Van De Bogart, Mrs. Helen Van De Bogart, Mrs. Robert Wagner, Mrs. Kenneth Waterbury, Mrs. Ray D. Watkins, Mrs. L. Mae Watkins, Mrs. Donald Watkins, and Mrs. Nevyn Weikel.

ANN DIXON

Now it can be publicized! Our 1951 Homecoming Queen is Mary Ann Dixon, a junior, from Red Lion, Pennsylvania. While in high school, Annie, as she is known to all of us, was active in dramatics and the glee club. She was social representative of her class and also had the honor of being on the National Honor Society.

Here at Susquehanna, Annie is majoring in French and English which she hopes to teach upon graduating in 1952.

Beauty isn't her only attribute as is proved by the many offices she holds. This year Annie is president of Hassinger Hall and treasurer of her class, a position she also held last year. Many will remember her dancing in the May Day programs for the past two years.

Aside from this Annie finds time for many extra-curricular activities. She is a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority, Student Council, Judiciary Committee, V. P. Council, S.C.A., 1952 Lanthorn, a freshman counselor, and was an assistant orientation leader this fall. We shall all be riding with her this Saturday and wish her a successful reign.

Students Advised to Submit Application Now for SSCQ Test

Applications for the December 13, 1951 and the April 24, 1952 administrations of the College Qualification Test are now available at Selective Service System local boards throughout the country.

Eligible students who intend to offer this test on either date should apply at once to the nearest Selective Service local board for an application and a bulletin of information.

Following instructions in the bulletin, the student should fill out his application and mail it immediately in the envelope provided. Applications for the December 13 test must be postmarked no later than midnight, November 5, 1951.

According to Education Testing Service, which prepares and administers the College Qualification Test for the Selective Service System, it will be greatly to the student's advantage to file his application at once, regardless of the testing date he selects. The results will be reported to the student's Selective Service local board of jurisdiction for use in considering his deferment as a student.

Alumni News

The Sunbury District Alumni Club will hold a dinner meeting at the Neff Hotel on October 22nd, at 6:15 p. m. Mr. William Sullivan, class of '39, will preside. Miss Janet Rohrbach is chairman of the entertainment program for the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thorp wish to announce the birth of their daughter, Pamela, on September 20th. Mrs. Thorp was the former Miss Gabrielle Speyer, class of '49. Mr. Thorp was graduated in the class of '50.

ANN GUISE

The senior class "Sweetheart" of 1951 is Elizabeth Ann Guise. She has had the honor of being her class "Homecoming Sweetheart" for the past three years.

Ann, a graduate of Biglerville High School was very active before coming to S. U. She was a member of the band, chorus, newspaper, yearbook, and played on the varsity basketball team. Also she was president of the Red Cross Council, secretary of the Student Council and secretary of the dramatic club.

Here at S. U. Annie spends most of her time in the Conservatory as she is majoring in public school music. However her time isn't spent exclusively at the Con as she is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota, Chapel Choir, Susquehanna Singers, band, orchestra, Student Council, W.A.A. and the S.C.A. Athletics hold a great interest for Ann as she can be seen playing intramural sports and varsity basketball. This fall she was an orientation leader and last year found her a freshmen counselor at Hassinger Hall.

We at S. U. aren't the only ones who think of Ann as a "Queen" for last Christmas she was crowned "Queen of the Alumni Dance" in Biglerville High School.

Program Mapped By Women Day Students

A special meeting of the activities committee was held Friday, October 12, at noon to determine the activities of the year. Members of the Committee were Catherine Doebler, Nancy Lepley, Elinor Aurand, Joyce Gilbert, Audrey Warnets, and Betty Albert.

The activity for October will be a Halloween party at the home of Elinor Aurand in Sunbury, October 27. It will be a masquerade party.

November's activity will be the dinner with the men day students. December will be the Christmas party, which is in the form of a dinner in the day room. January will be a "Happy Birthday Party" and an ice skating party. February will be the Valentine party. March will be the St. Patrick's party. April will be the Easter Egg party and a banquet and theater party. May will be the party for graduates and the annual picnic at Half-Way Dam.

Beside the activity meeting each month a business meeting will also be held.

Each year the girls try to do something to improve their room which is located in the basement of Hassinger Hall. The last improvement which they made was the purchase of plastic drapes for the ten windows by contributions from the members.

Pep Rally Opens Homecoming Festivities; Football Game, Dance Highlight Week-End

Plans for the annual Homecoming celebration at Susquehanna have been completed and the week-end, annually set aside for old-grads and undergraduates alike, promises to be a full and enjoyable one. The returning alumni will not only be greeted in the usual manner; for a new pride and spirit among the student body, and the eye-pleasing structural additions on the campus will symbolize a friendly welcome to the scene of their school days.

The festivities will get underway with a pep rally and parade on Friday night. In view of the rousing spirit which has been building up on Susquehanna's campus over the past few weeks, these events should be a fitting opening for the week-end.

The first event on Saturday will find the frosh and sophomores tearing into each other on the gridiron of University Field at 9:00 a. m. This annual clash for the termination of hazing promises to be another good one.

At 10:30 a. m. the S. U. Alumni Council will meet in Room 103 of Bogar Hall. The meeting will be in charge of Dr. Joseph Hackenberg, president of the council.

At 11:00 a. m. the girl's varsity hockey team will meet the Alumnae in the annual "Feminine Field Frolic." This will be the second game for the Crusaderettes under their new coach, Miss Nila Haresign.

At noon the three fraternities will serve buffet lunches to their alumni.

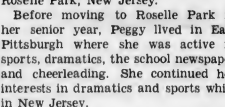

The Crusaders will be after their second win at the expense of the Seahawks of Wagner College on University Field at 2:00 p. m. The crushing victory over Johns Hopkins in the opening game promises a good performance for the Homecoming crowd by the Staggenmen.

Immediately following the football game the three sororities will serve luncheon to their alumnae while the fraternities fete their alumni at banquets at 6:00 p. m. The Theta Chi banquet will be held in the Selinsgrove Methodist Church. Bond & Key at the Dauntless Hook and Ladder Company, and Phi Mu Delta at the Hotel Edison in Sunbury.

The Men's and Women's Student Councils will sponsor a dance in the gymnasium from 9:00 to 12:00. Music will be furnished by Lee Vincent's orchestra.

The new lounge in GA Hall will be the meeting place for alumni throughout the day. A registration desk will be set up in the lounge.

Mr. Ben Moyer of Sunbury is chairman of the Homecoming day committee.

MARGARET HENDERSON

Margaret Henderson, better known as Peggy, comes to Susquehanna from Roselle Park, New Jersey.

Before moving to Roselle Park in her senior year, Peggy lived in East Pittsburgh where she was active in sports, dramatics, the school newspaper and cheerleading. She continued her interests in dramatics and sports while in New Jersey.

The medical secretarial course takes up much of Peg's time at S. U. However she has found time to be a very active member of Kappa Delta sorority, S.C.A., W.A.A. and The Business Society.

Varsity basketball and intramural sports continue to be one of her past-time activities.

Campus Club Schedules Hallowe'en Tea

The first meeting of the Campus Club of Susquehanna University will take place on Wednesday afternoon, October 17 between the hours of 3 and 5 p. m. in Seibert parlors.

A tea will be served during these hours and there will be decorations representing a Hallowe'en scene. All faculty members and wives of the faculty are cordially invited.

Miss Ruth McCorkill will begin her administration as president of the Campus Club. The committee in charge of the afternoon is headed by Mrs. Kline, chairman, Mrs. Humphrey, Miss Bertha Hein, Mrs. Russell Gilbert, and Mrs. Amos Alonzo Stagg, Sr.

There are three new members being welcomed into the Campus Club. They are: Miss Haresign, Mrs. Bruce Mitchell, and Mrs. Hugh Seelye.

HOMECOMING DAY
SATURDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1951

ROSE MARIE SHARRATTS

The freshman "Sweetheart" is Rose Marie Sharratts from Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania.

Last year at Bloomsburg High School, Rose Marie had the honor of being "Senior Prom Queen." We see she is continuing her role at college.

While in high school, she was very active in sports playing intramurals and varsity basketball. Dramatics, student assemblies, the newspaper and girls' chorus kept her busy aside from being a drum majorette.

Rose Marie is taking public school music here at Susquehanna while she is majoring in piano. Teaching music is her main goal upon graduating.

Intramural hockey and the S.C.A. have been the only activities open to her since her arrival at Susquehanna a month ago. But with the start she has made, we feel sure she'll have a very impressive record before long.

WHY NOT S. U.?

After a given period of time on their respective teams, the cheerleaders, members of the football team and hockey teams receive either numeral or letter awards. This is the practice in most school activities. At Susquehanna, however, there seems to be one activity that is slighted. The music students will probably know which one this is without too much forethought. It is the band.

Why shouldn't the band members receive letters for their diligent work? Any school would be at a loss without the services of a band. Think how much school spirit is aroused at a game by the music of the band. Even the cheerleaders find the band an indispensable part of their job.

If we think of the time and effort that the students put into this activity, we must admit that they deserve letters. They practice two hours a week. In warm weather they suffer with the weight of their uniforms and in cold weather, they freeze. If it were decided to give the band members letters, the number of years in the band or the number of games at which the students played, could be the basis for the letter awards. However, this would have to be decided by persons in authority. Other schools give letters for this activity—why not S. U.?

After three or four years' service in the band, surely every student should have some tangible reward. Let's have some recognition where it is due—let's have letter awards for Susquehanna's band—L. L.

With Apologies

True:
Spectator—"Hey! Sit down in the front!"

College Joe—"Don't be ridiculous. I don't bend that way."

Last Laughs:
Romeo may not have been the first quizmaster but he had a lady in the balcony.

Many girls seem attracted to the simple things of life—men!

Disappointment:
Last Saturday when Nancy put make-up on her face Reuben said, "What's that for?"

Nancy replied, "To make myself pretty." As Nancy took out a tissue and blotted her face, Reuben said, "Hum, didn't work did it?"

Love Laughs:
The pretty co-ed's boyfriend from home sent her a check for a million kisses on her birthday. She wrote him as follows:

"Dear Jack,
Thanks for the check. A male friend of mine cashed it for me last night."

Music for Millions:
Some instruments used in an orchestra are: viles, cellars, trumpets, horns, and baboons.

Pre-Med:
To stop a nosebleed, stand on your head till your heart stops beating.

VESPERS

Susquehanna's college vespers were conducted in Seibert Chapel on Sunday by the Theta Chi fraternity with Orville Lauver being the liturgist and Charles Mason the speaker for the evening.

The evening hymns were "My Faith Looks Up To Thee" and "Lord Speak To Me That I May Speak." The scripture lesson was read from Psalm 146.

Approximately sixty persons were present to hear the speaker give the meditation entitled "So You're Not a Praying Mantis."

MUSIC NOTES

The first meeting of the student MENC (Music Educators' National Conference) was held on Saturday, October 13, at 9:00 a. m. Harold Carr presided over the meeting.

After a discussion of some of the year's prospective activities by Mrs. Alice Giauque, the faculty sponsor, election of officers was held. Harold Carr became the official president, Kenneth Orris, vice president, Ruth Freed, secretary, and Richard Bidelspach, treasurer.

The first recital class of the year was held in Seibert Chapel.

KNOW YOUR PROFESSOR

Did you see that streak of light? Was it a missile or a figment of the imagination? Don't feel too eerie—that was Miss Lenora Allison, assistant professor of commercial education, who dashes about with the speed of a Garwood motor and the accuracy of a time clock.

The Business Society has thrived under her many marvelous projects. A Society Scholarship to benefit worthy students was established through her persistent efforts. The earning of money, by the students, is done in many diversified enterprises. It has been said that if the Eskimos had a football game, she would have her crew there selling "iceburgers." The many visits and addresses given by notables, before the Society, were through the efforts of Miss Allison.

She has been referred to as the keystone of the Women's Auxiliary because of her assistance and guidance in every phase of its work. New members are made to feel wanted and at home by this congenial person.

Her hobbies are collecting rare dishes and swapping recipes; few surpass her savory fricassées. Blue ribbon taking jars filled with a variety of fruits and vegetables line the shelves. Miss Allison's well-attended classes are considered a bit difficult, but also stimulating and gratifying. Many letters of appreciation have been received thanking her for the excellent training. This may be attributed to the fact that she organizes and sees a project through.

Miss Allison, a member of Delta Delta Lambda, a business fraternity, taught in the secondary schools of Pennsylvania and West Virginia. She also taught at Beaver College before coming to Susquehanna University.

She enjoys the outdoors and quite naturally, seafood, especially lobster, clams, and white perch. Entertaining plays are her delighting pastime—secretly, Miss Allison hopes to see the next appearance of the Russian Ballet.

Traveling places in the summer is a weakness; so her home in Altoona, Pennsylvania, does not see much of Miss Allison.

Like the lady who jingles with bells on her toes, Miss Allison carries sunshine wherever she goes.

The Central Pennsylvania Sociological Society of which Mr. Frederick Stevens, assistant professor of sociology at Susquehanna University, is the general secretary, held its fall meeting at S. U. on Saturday, October 12th. Dr. Seth Russel and Dr. Jesse Bernard of Pennsylvania State Teachers College spoke on the subject, "Introducing Industrial Sociology into Liberal Arts Colleges." They stressed its value, content, and methodology. Dr. Russel and Dr. Bernard are writing a book on Industrial Sociology. Dr. Bernard is the wife of the late Dr. L. L. Bernard who was one of the foremost pioneers in the field of sociology.

SUSQUEHANNA vs. WAGNER

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 20, 1951

UNIVERSITY FIELD

SPORTS CHATTER

By RICHARD STOUT

SATURDAY'S ENCOUNTER BRINGS TO THE CAMPUS THE WAGNER SEA HAWKS OF Staten Island, New York, for the eighth renewal of their grid series with the Stag-coached Crusaders.

While the Crusaders, who hold a 5-2 series edge, were idle over the weekend, the Sea Hawks were busy absorbing a 20-15 drubbing at the hands of Swarthmore College. Capitalizing on breaks, Swarthmore used a blocked kick, fumbled ball, and an intercepted pass to amass twenty points, enough to spank the Staten Island lads.

Coached by Jim Lee Howell, one-time pro griddier with the New York Giants, the Sea Hawks have fourteen lettermen on their squad and will be out to avenge the 6-0 setback by the Crusaders a year ago. It looks as if S. U. will have its hands full Saturday. "Picking the Winner" — I'll say the Crusaders by fourteen points. You're on top this week boys.

It appears as if the SOPHS BETTER DO SOME HUSTLING IF THEY INTEND TO CONTROL THE LIME-LIGHT in their traditional battle with the FROSH. Scrapping off the rough edges is a real job which takes practice. They had better start moving and moving fast, or all things favor the Frosh who have been working RATHER HARD.

Students should be pleased to know the S. U.-JOHNS HOPKINS FOOTBALL GAME WAS AIRED OVER RADIO STATIONS WKOK SUNBURY and WGNR BLOOMSBURG for the enjoyment of area football fans.

MIKE RISING who helped spark the Crusaders to their initial win in '51 is enjoying his first year in intercollegiate football. A Frosh at Gettysburg in 1950, he sustained a knee injury and was on the shelf for the entire season. Mike played his high school football for the nearby Northumberland Phenixes, and his prowess on the gridiron has been no surprise to area fans.

THE INTRAMURAL FOOTBALL PROGRAM IS SWINGING INTO HIGH GEAR. Most impressive to date have been Phi Mu Delta and the "dark horse" Cottage. The dorm teams are very much alive too. Neither has been able to dent the win column, however they have let opponents know they are rough to be reckoned with. What's the reason? Spirit—they've got it.

The Crusaders-Blue Jays tussle left nothing to be desired when it comes to pleasing the spectators. S. U.'s decisive win over the favored invading Marylanders SHOULD BRING IN THE CROWD FOR THE HOMECOMING TILT. It might be added that the winless Blue Jays gained some prestige over the week-end by holding Hampden Sydney to a 20-20 tie.

GB DAVIS, a second semester Frosh, may become a big man in the Crusaders' attack. He was a second string fullback behind Joe Varratis at the University of Pennsylvania during the '50 season. A stellar performer on defense, he is expected to add zing to the offensive plan upon his familiarization with the wide-open Stag employed system.

SAM PORTER'S RETURN TO THE GRIDIRON for the remainder of the current football campaign is not a likely prospect. Examination revealed he sustained several bone chips and a dislocated toe. His absence will leave a decisive gap in the Crusaders' defensive backfield.

Doctors are more optimistic over the condition of Gene Brouse, but whether he will be able to play against Wagner this Saturday is still unknown.

Much to be admired is the high spirits of both men. I've heard reports they're holding races on crutches. Should be interesting. By the way, Porter holds a decided edge. Brouse always holds down the rear.

THE OFFICIAL FOOTBALL PROGRAM AT ALL CRUSADER HOME GAMES IS EDITED AND PUBLISHED BY PHI MU DELTA FRATERNITY. Last year this organization realized a profit of approximately $125 which is mighty small remuneration when considering the man-hours involved. Hats off for a job well done.

Saturday's the day. Go crazy, scream, holler, yell, fill the place with spirit. COME ON, GO GET 'EM CRUSADERS.

Intramural Football

Men's intramural football competition got under way last week with all teams seeing action. In last Monday's games Theta Chi downed GA 14-0 and Phi Mu Delta edged Bond and Key 7-0.

In the Theta Chi-GA game the frat men gained two quick touchdowns and then held off desperate attempts to score on the part of GA. Taking the opening kickoff and moving to the GA one-yard line on an end sweep, Theta Chi scored on the second play of the game when Bob Fenstermacher gathered in a pass in the end zone. A pass to Dick Stout scored the extra point. Before GA had time to catch its breath, Theta Chi again knocked on touchdown's door. A pass to Ted Lamb for the T. D. and the extra point. GA battled Theta Chi to a stalemate in the final three quarters but on the strength of the early lead Theta Chi coasted to victory.

In the other contest of the day Phi Mu Delta triumphed over Bond and Key. The two frat teams battled on a fairly even basis throughout the game. The pay-off play for the Deltas came when a Manning punt was taken by Charlie Zlock. Zlock flipped the pigskin to Walt Mazura who was heading down the sidelines. Mazura caught the ball in stride and then outraced the pursuing B. & K. men for what proved to be the deciding touchdown. Mazura also scored the extra point when he garretted a Palkovich pass and stepped into the end zone. Lone Bond and Key scoring opportunity came as Palkovich deflected a pass intended for Roy Cope who was deep in the end zone.

Tuesday's activity saw Cottage down Selinsgrove Hall 8-0 and Theta Chi and Bond and Key battle to an 0-0 tie. Ned Condon and Ken Hempstead led the Cottage to their victory over Selinsgrove Hall. It was a Condon-to-Hempstead pass that netted the Cottage their T. D. Hempstead's extra point pass fell incomplete. The other Cottage score came when Shilling nailed Ed Wollaston in his own end zone.

In the Bond and Key-Theta Chi game, the Black Knights threatened constantly but failed to muster the necessary scoring punch. Well-thrown passes by Rube Henry were dropped time and again. Roy "Legs" Cope played a fine defensive game for Bond and Key.

Games scheduled for last Thursday were cancelled because of a heavy "California Dew." In a rescheduled contest on Friday the Cottage beat GA 19-0. Numerous interceptions by the Cottage prevented GA from scoring and set up two of the Cottage T. D.'s. Early in the first half Jim Alter intercepted a G.A. pass and then a Hempstead to Gergen pass netted the first score for the Cottage. Pass, Condon-to-Washbourne, accounted for the extra-point. Another Alter interception and a Condon-to-Hempstead pass tallied the second Cottage touchdown. In the attempted extra point, Condon's pass to Washbourne fell incomplete.

Single threat on the part of GA came when an incomplete fifth-down pass gave GA the ball on their own 20. Five plays later found GA vainly knocking on T. D.'s gate and Cottage took over on the two. Two plays later a Condon-to-Hempstead pass covering 80 yards ended the GA scoring for the afternoon.

Phi Mu Delta and Selinsgrove Hall will reschedule their game at a later date.

S. U. Gridmen Expect To Route Sea Hawks

Susquehanna's fighting Crusaders return to the gridiron this Saturday after a week's absence from competition. Opponents will be Wagner College from Staten Island, New York. Last year the Stagmen journeyed to New York and returned with a 6-0 victory under their belts. The lone tally in last year's game came after a Young-to-Menapace pass placed the ball on the Sea Hawks one yard line. On the next play Menapace crashed over for the six-pointer. Menapace, of course, will not be able to duplicate last year's feat—he's a pro now; but the Crusaders expect to gain an impressive victory come Saturday afternoon.

Crusaders have been hard at work all week preparing for the Sea Hawks single-wing. The game with Hopkins revealed that the Crusaders have a powerful offense, but as yet no one has been able to find which bushel basket the defense was hiding beneath.

Gene Fenstermacher expressed the situation facing the Crusaders perfectly when he said, "Our defense was like a sieve. As long as the holes in the others have sieves with bigger holes we're all right, but you can't always count on the other fellow having a sieve with holes as large as the one Hopkins had." Coach Stagge hopes to have the "sieve" situation cleared up for Saturday's Homecoming game.

The Hopkins game will always be remembered as one of the most exciting ever played on University Field. A review of the game reveals that the Blue Jays topped the Crusaders in every major statistical category except the vital scoring column. They out-gained the Stagmen on the ground and in the air. Hopkins netted 306 yards on the ground and 28 via the air lines while S. U. netted 180 rushing and 185 passing. Costly fumbles and timely interceptions cost the Blue Jays the game.

WHAT THEY ARE DOING

The graduating class of 1951 has been scattered throughout the country. Several alumni are mentioned because of their successful and interesting occupations.

TOM STALLER, former editor of "The Susquehanna," and JOHN STEIGER are members of the U. S. Army, now stationed in Virginia. In January they will be transferred to Monterey, California, to study Russian for forty-five weeks. After this period, they expect to go on to Officers' Candidate School.

DON SHOEMAKER, former president of Phi Mu Delta, Pittsburgh, is now working in Sales Promotion for the Bird's Eye Frozen Food Company, Pittsburgh.

JEAN HILL, Sunbury, has a position as vocal instructor at Muncey High School. The first eight grades and the high school chorus are under her direction.

JUNE KLINGLER, Sunbury, JEAN VAN VOORHIS, Rochester, N. Y., and MARTHA ALBERT, Myerstown, are now working with the General Electric Company in Schenectady, N. Y.

GERALD MOORHEAD, Milton, is now enrolled in the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg, Pa. JAN ARNER, now Mrs. Robert Himelman, is living in Minneapolis, Minn., where her husband is attending the Northwestern Lutheran Theological Seminary.

JACK EOCKER, Nanticoke, is now teaching music in the Coal Township High School, which is located near Shamokin, Penna.

HAZEL BROBST BROWN, formerly from Sunbury, has been living in Texas with her husband and his parents.

FRATERNITY ROW

Bond and Key

Last Saturday evening will prove to be one of the most memorable occasions at Bond and Key this year. Place Pigalle was our hangout for the evening and the house was arrayed with people dressed in their Frenchy outfits. Candles set in bottles and a fire in the fireplace provided the dim atmosphere of a French cafe.

All guests who they were truly in a French cafe with a menu consisting of Patisseries (cream puffs, chocolate eclairs), Salade des Haricots Verts (green bean salad), Petit Pain Francais (French bread), Bois d'Ouvres (eggs and four kinds of meat), Petits Fours (cookies), Condiments (pickles), Cafe (coffee) and Champagne which was Le Bierre Boire Depice (gingerale). Over sixty members and guests enjoyed this lavish affair.

Ten of the brothers started basketball practice Saturday afternoon in preparation for the intramural winter season.

Work is progressing on the showers as part of our remodeling plans. Material is being purchased to do extensive repairs to the second floor.

Dr. Robinson, Mr. Grove, and Mr. Soule were guests at a steak dinner on Wednesday evening at the house.

We are happy to welcome back our cook, Mrs. Aucker, who has recovered from injuries received in an automobile accident.

Phi Mu Delta

The leaves of brown come tumbling down; yes sir, it's beautiful fall night! Phi Mu's decorations Saturday night for their open house were right in that mood too. One of S. U.'s vivacious cheerleaders attired in her colorful new uniform adorned our stair landing and greeted couples as they arrived. Many colored leaves bedecked the first floor. Bunches of yellow corn formed the centerpiece for each table in the dining room, and corn stalks stood shocked in the corners. Entertainment was furnished by Herb Craft and Dick Jones and the Phi Mu Delta Quartet composed of Jack Schreffler, Herb Craft, George Ferry, and Jack Schraeder. Dancing and refreshments added to the festive mood. Chaparones were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howling, Miss Brunkhorst, and Mr. Robert Meader.

At our regular meeting on October 10, fire prevention was discussed. As a result, four new fire extinguishers are to be purchased for the house. William Templin and Robert Moore were received as active members after an initiation ceremony prior to the business meeting Wednesday night.

Theta Chi

A lot was accomplished this week at Theta Chi. The potato bin was moved to another part of the cellar as were the storage cabinets. This greatly enlarges the size of the game room which was the former location of these cabinets. This work was done by brothers Elmer Baumgardner, Dan Williamson and pledge Hank Holtermann. The cellar floor was also painted tile red to match the red curtains in the windows. A study room was also painted this week by brothers Winkler, Wallace, and Sheldon.

We had as our guests over Saturday night two pledge neophytes from Drexel Institute of Technology.

Congratulations are in order for brother Ralph H. Tietbold and the former Miss Susan Rachel Fultz who were married on September 1st. Both are alumni of Susquehanna.

A petition from a local fraternity at Valparaiso University was approved at a recent meeting. If it is approved by the majority of other Theta Chi chapters, this will increase the chapter roll to 107.

Thanks from the brothers of the chapter to Don Sheldon, who has been acting as Sunday chef for the past few weeks.

Theta Chi wishes the football team the best of luck in their forthcoming game with Wagner College on Homecoming day.

Alpha Delta Pi

After the Panhellenic Picnic on Wednesday evening, Gamma Omicron Chapter held its weekly meeting in the chapter room.

Mary Ann Dixon, our social chairman, announced final plans for the coffee hour which will be held in the Alpha Delta Pi room after the Homecoming Day football game. Mrs. Benjamin Lotz and Mrs. J. K. Ebert, members of our local alumnae chapter, are helping with the arrangements. All Alpha Delta Pi alumnae and actives have been invited to attend.

On Homecoming Day our alumnae and actives will be recognized by white chrysanthemums tied with blue ribbon bearing the Greek letters, ADPI.

Violets to Mary Ann Dixon for having been chosen as the Junior class nominee for Homecoming sweetheart.

Joan Sechrist, our representative to Panhellenic Council, and its secretary-treasurer, will speak to the Selingsgrove Alumnae Chapter on October 16. She will describe for them the organization and work of the Council on our campus.

We are happy to welcome Irene Meerbach into the bonds of sisterhood. Irene was initiated at a special service in the chapter room Monday evening.

The Alpha Delta Pi's are glad to welcome Mr. Kleinsorg back on campus after his recent illness.

Kappa Delta

Kappa Delta will celebrate Founder's Day October 23. Beta Upsilon will hold special services October 20, at five-fifteen. Four college girls founded Kappa Delta Sorority at the Virginia State Normal School now known as Longwood College, Farmville, Virginia, October 23, 1897. Fifty-four years later, chapter members in 80 colleges will mark the anniversary in traditional ceremonies. Many of Kappa Delta's 31,289 members sent greetings to the two living founders, Mrs. Arthur M. White, of Norfolk, Virginia, and Mrs. James Southall Wilson, of Charlottesville, Virginia. During October, the 217 Kappa Delta alumnae associations will hold special programs.

Mrs. Julia Fuqua Ober, of Norfolk, Virginia, National President of Kappa Delta, will go to Richmond, Virginia, where she will present the sorority's annual check for $3,600 and the 1951 Convention gift to the Crippled Children's Hospital. Each year Kappa Delta gives the hospital financial support for the care of six patients.

Beta Upsilon received an invitation from Phi Tau chapter at Bucknell University asking them to attend their Founder's Day celebration October 30. Phi Tau and Beta Upsilon chapters are both members of the Epsilon Eta Province.

At the regular meeting of Beta Upsilon, Wednesday, October 10, installation of the two newly-elected officers was held. Elinor Smith was installed as vice-president and Madeline Lease as assistant treasurer. At the same time several committee chairmen were appointed. Ruth Roslander is the scholarship chairman, Carol Reidler was appointed magazine chairman, Nancy Bolig is the guard and Patricia Hess is the cergeant-at-arms.

S. A. I.

Sigma Omega Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota held a reception for Barbara Troxell, soprano, after her Star Course Program on Tuesday, October 9. Members of the faculty of Susquehanna University and music students attended the reception. Punch and cookies were served.

On Friday, October 12, Sigma Omega Chapter held a party for its patronesses in the S. A. I. room in Seibert Hall. Entertainment included songs by the Sigma Omega Chorus and games in which all participated. The refreshments served consisted of chocolate sundaes, coffee, and pretzels. The Chapter was happy to welcome back Ruth Baer, former pledge, who attended this party.

The Sigma Omega Chorus under the direction of Nancy Younion will present a program of secular music over station WKOK in Sunbury on October 24 from 10:30 to 11:00 p. m. Included on the program will be several Negro spirituals, several semi-classical compositions, and a patriotic number. Clara Mae Williams will be the accompanist.

It was recently announced that the president of Eta Province will visit Sigma Omega Chapter for several days in the beginning of November. Plans are being made for her visit.

SCA NEWS

The S.C.A. cabinet held its regular weekly meeting in the basement of Haessinger Hall, Tuesday evening, October 9, at 7:00 p. m. The meeting was called to order by President Gordon Joyce who read the scripture, and Beatrice Morrow led the group in prayer.

Plans were discussed for the programs of the general meetings throughout the year, and a tentative schedule was set up.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend the general meeting tonight from 9:30 to 10:30 p. m., in the Seibert social room. A panel discussion on "Dating and Courtship" will take place in which Pat Rumbaugh, Joanne Bates, Jake Spargler, and Dick Boyd will be the speakers, and Pastor Morris will be the moderator. This promises to be an interesting discussion after which refreshments will be served.

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK

Miriam Vogler, better known as Mimi, was born in Honesdale, Pennsylvania, on October 30, 1930.

Hawley is her home town and she attended the grammar and high schools there.

While in high school, Mimi was active in the school chorus, band, and orchestra. Being editor of the school paper, and taking part in all the dramatic productions really kept Mimi on her toes.

Here at Susquehanna, Mimi is majoring in mathematics, and minoring in English and Spanish. Math being her first love, she hopes to teach it upon graduating this June.

Mimi believes in keeping a finger in every pie and is usually seen rushing from one meeting to the next.

Since her freshman year, she has been an active member of W.A.A. The S.C.A. has also benefited from her membership four years. This year she is the girl's vice president. Continuing her interest in dramatics, she has had roles in "The Patsy," "Broken Dishes," and in the forthcoming production, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." She has been director of Alpha Psi Omega for the past two years.

Mimi's other activities include Phi Gamma Mu, Women's Student Council, the Judiciary Committee, Panhellenic Council, intramurals, Biemic Society, and the Susquehanna Singers.

As president of Kappa Delta, she went to Pasadena, California this summer to attend the national convention. In her junior year she was vice president.

Although Mimi devotes a large part of her time to extra-curricular activities, she has only missed the dean's list once since she came to S. U.

Everyone agrees that Mimi will be a great success in what ever field she enters.

Combined Student Councils Plan Rules To Govern Conduct in Student Lounge

In keeping with the suggestion that the Women's and Men's Student Councils govern conduct in the new lounge and coffee shop, the following rules have been set up:

There shall be no misuse of furniture such as: sitting on arms of chairs and couches; setting ashtrays on chairs, couches, or floor; reclining on chairs or couches; feet on furniture; or unnecessary movement of the furniture.

Cigarettes are to be put in ashtrays.

No refreshments shall be eaten in the lounge.

Students shall refrain from discourteous conduct.

Destruction or misuse of student union property and equipment will not be tolerated. Damages must be paid for.

If the above rules are not followed, the following penalties will result:

On the first offense there will be a fine of 25 cents. If the offender is unwilling to pay the fine, he will be suspended from the student union for one week.

Members of the councils will submit the names of the offenders to any member of the judiciary board, and the list of offenders for the week will be published on the bulletin board Monday.

On the second offense, there will be a fine of 50 cents and suspension from the student union for one week. If the offender is unwilling to pay the fine, he will be suspended from the union for three weeks.

On the third offense, the offender will be brought before the joint councils.

Money that is collected from fines will be kept in a fund to be used for property in the student union.

There shall be set up a Judiciary Committee consisting of six members: the presidents of both Councils, a representative from each Council, and two faculty members.

The Committee will meet on a Friday evening and at the discretion of the president of the joint Council.

Members of the Councils will submit the names of the offenders to any member of the Judiciary Committee, and the list of offenders will be posted on the bulletin board on the following Monday.

Wilmington College Sets Up New Work-Study Program

WILMINGTON, O. (I.P.)—A small Ohio college here has provided an answer for critics of college student draft deferment policies which have been called unfair to young men from families of limited means, because a qualified boy may be deferred only if he can "afford" the expense of a college education.

While the nation has been debating the issue, Wilmington College has been busy setting up a new kind of work-study program which will enable students to earn virtually all of their college expenses. The plan was inaugurated on an experimental basis last fall with approximately 100 students getting invaluable employment experience as well as income sufficient to cover their basic costs of tuition, room, and board.

Now that the idea has proven itself to both the college and the cooperating industries and business firms, it will be expanded this fall with openings for 200 more young men and women, according to President Samuel D. Martin. He points out that students in the program can complete degree requirements in four calendar years and graduate with their classes holding not only a college degree, but in addition the equivalent of two full years of work experience.

In operation, the plan provides that two students hold down one full-time job. One does the work on Monday, Wednesday and Friday and attends classes on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, while the other student paired on the job has just the alternating schedule. The students are paid by the cooperating firms at the same rate as full-time workers, and have the advantage of living in dormitories on the campus and enjoying all the privileges of full-time resident students. While the majority are employed in industry, the student is free to select any course of his choice.

Panel Discusses "Dating"

At First SCA Meeting

The social aspect of college life is of utmost importance to the Susquehanna student. This fact was made apparent on Tuesday evening, October 16, when more than one hundred and twenty men and co-eds assembled in the Selbert Social Room at 9:30 p. m. to hear a panel discussion on the topic "Dating."

Moderator Rev. Raymond L. Morris, pastor of First Methodist Church, Selinsgrove, introduced Pat Rumbaugh, Margaret Zinda, Richard Boyd, and Jake Spangler as members of the panel for this, the initial general S.C.A. meeting of the year.

Dick Boyd began the discussion by presenting a general picture of dating under the heading "The Glimmer in His Eye." A portrayal of the social, spiritual, physical, and mental advantages of dating was made and was concluded by an appropriate quotation from Genesis 2:18, "And the Lord God said, 'It is not good that man should be alone; I will make him a help meet for him.'"

"Petty Gossip Sessions," the subject coming next on the program, was given by Margaret Zinda. Herein the dangers and the harms which are created against dates by such sessions were clearly presented. Most people date for companionship, Margaret stated, and petty gossip often hinders further companionship.

Pat Rumbaugh, in "Purposeful Dating," related the need for more well-planned dates if dating is to be successful. "The date that is not a 'flop' is one which is properly outlined by the fellow, the girl, or by both," Pat said.

The fourth phase of dating taken up by the panel was that of "Petting—Wise or Unwise?" Jake Spangler played the group a brief but concise picture of this "tough problem for young people to solve." Covering this subject very openly, Jake pointed out how abuses of petting could bring about utter tragedy and unfavorable influence upon the individuals in their later life.

Prior to the "social hour," at which time refreshments were served by the Fellowship Commission of S.C.A., was an enthusiastic question and discussion period.

Future meetings being related to this subject will be conducted on November 20 and January 22 when "Marriage" and the "Various Denominational Beliefs on Divorce" respectively will make up the agenda.

MUSIC NOTES

The election of recital class officers on October 16 was as follows: Don Berninger, president; Barbara Easton, vice president; Richard Bidelsbach, secretary-treasurer; and Ted Yoder, monitor. At the conclusion of the recital Assistant Professor Frederick Billman gave the students several suggestions for practicing.

At the meeting of the Sunbury District Alumni Association on Monday evening, October 22, Mr. Frederic Billman and Miss Barbara Easton played the piano and sang respectively. Assistant Professor Billman's selections were "Waltz in C Sharp Minor" and "Three Scotch Dances" by Chopin. Miss Easton sang "I'll See You Again" by Coward, "With a Song in My Heart" by Kern, "Wonderful Guy" by Rodgers and Hammerstein, II, and the "Rose Song" of Sigma Alpha Iota.

Assistant Professor Hatz, accompanied by Mrs. Hatz, will perform at the Salem Evangelical United Brethren Church in Lebanon this week. His violin selections will include works of Edmund Severin, Bach and Wieniawski.

PRESENTATION OF '51 HOMECOMING QUEEN CLIMAXES PROGRAM OF HOMECOMING WEEK-END CELEBRATIONS

YOUTH'S AMBITION

By JACK SCHWARTZ

The two little boys stood wide-eyed watching the fall gridiron spectacle that was unfolding before their eyes.

They had taken great pains and been very, very careful not to tear their pants in crawling over the fence and now they were reveling in the glory that can come only with a free admission to a ball game.

When the band had marched out on the field, they had been close by to watch the drum major with his gleaming baton and the members of the band in their colorful and impressive uniforms.

They had walked directly behind the game officials when they had walked out to the playing field.

Now the cheerleaders were before the stands leading the crowd in a snappy cheer and the boys were close at hand. When the cheer was over, and the cheer leaders huddled near the bench, the boys stood close to them and sheepishly listened to the conversation.

A defending roar went up now, and the two little boys turned to see the home team trotting out to the field. The boys ran quickly over and joined the team until they reached the white line at the playing field. There they stood and watched the maroon clad giants begin to line up for the game. Now the coach, trainers, managers, and water boys were coming toward the bench.

As the action on the field commenced, the boys watched enviously the movement of every person directly involved. They skirted around the back of the field, being careful to devote an equal amount of their time to the visiting team's bench as well as the home team's. They ran along the side of the field with the head linesman and stood with the linemen at the yardage markers. At half time they marched with the band until it reached the playing field.

When the game ended and the crowd began surging toward the exits the two little boys sat on the steps at the lower end of the stands and watched.

"Gee, Jimmy, what would you like to be when you go to college?" asked the smaller of the two.

"Gosh, I want to sell hot dogs. How about you?"

The second, with eyes equally as full of ambition as the first, replied: "I want to pick up empty pop bottles in the stands."

SAI To Present Radio Program October 24

Sigma Alpha Iota will present a fall variety program Wednesday, October 24, over WKOK at 10:30 p. m. This is the first of a series of four programs to be presented by SAI this year. Future programs will include a Christmas, an Easter, and a spring variety program.

The programs will be presented by Nancy Youthon and accompanied by Clara Mae Williams. Some of the numbers will be "capella" and in three or four part harmony.

The program for this week's program is: "This Is My Country" and "Comin' T'ru the Rye" which are arranged by Fred Waring and "Love, Come Back To Me," "Little David," "I Got Shoes," "Spirit Flower," and the "Prayer" from "Hansel and Gretel."

Program Announced For Annual Parents' Day

Parents' Day, the annual event of Susquehanna University, is planned for October 27. Dr. G. Morris Smith, president of the University, sent letters to the parents on Thursday. Enclosed in the invitations were four of Susquehanna's cheers to aid the parents in cheering our team on to victory.

The programs are as follows:

10:00-12:00 noon—Coffee in lounge.

1:00-2:00 p. m.—Registration at entrance of stadium.

2:00 p. m.—Game with National "Aggies."

4:15 p. m.—Coffee hour.

8:15 p. m.—Open house at all fraternities.

Parents will receive pins and roses at the registration booth.

Excellent entertainment has been planned for the day. Joyce Miller will play the piano during the coffee hour and the fraternities have various programs planned.

The committee is as follows: Miss Erna Sambrook, chairman; Miss Lenora Allison, Mr. Dan MacCush, Mrs. Anna Humphrey, Mr. John Leach, Pat Rumbaugh, and Ed Wollaston.

The Women's Student Council is serving the coffee in Selbert parlors and the Business Society has charge of coffee in the lounge plus registration at the gates.

Please don't forget to register parents at the stadium. We hope to make this Parents' Day a memorable occasion.

VESPERS

"Train a child in the way he should go and when he is old he will not turn up against you," stated Ed Koch in the beginning of his sermon at Sunday vespers in Selbert Chapel. Eddie, who represented the Phi Mu Delta fraternity, built his meditation around this quotation from the Book of Proverbs, and in so doing he presented three phases of the training of a child for his future life. These were: (1) in the home, (2) in the school, and (3) in the church.

Bob Shade, who fulfilled the position of liturgist, read the Scripture lesson from the twenty-second chapter of Proverbs and lead the congregation of approximately seventy students and faculty in prayer. The evening's hymns which were "O Worship the King," "Love Divine," and "Abide With Me," were played from the organ by Len Carlson who also played the prelude and the postlude.

Homecoming festivities started early this year with the hanging of a Wagner football player in effigy on Wednesday evening by Theta Chi Fraternity. Friday morning the members of the Phi Mu Delta fraternity blazed forth in solar straws giving that air of yesterday when college was really "rah rah" and students were all out to be different.

Friday nights' pep rally and parade officially started the Homecoming celebration when the football players were presented and given a rousing cheer to let them know they had the backing of the student body.

The fraternities and dormitories are to be praised for the fine job done on decorating their respective dwellings. This extra output or restrained energy gave an impetus to festivities and put all members in the Homecoming mood.

The freshmen are to be commended for their excellent show of sportsmanship and die-hard courage which they exhibited on the football field at the annual frosh-soph game. Although the sophomore team was victorious, the team insists that it was not an easy victory.

Also in the morning, the varsity hockey team played and won a game from the returning alumnae. Sophomores and juniors not on the varsity filled the empty ranks of the alumnae team.

Alumni buffet luncheons were the order of the day in the fraternity houses where the actives welcomed back the alumni making them feel at home and that they were not "has-beens," but still a part of that great body we call the Susquehanna family.

A huge crowd gathered in the grandstand of University Field to see the Crusaders tangle with the Wagner Seahawks. The band is to be lauded for its contribution at the half. Miss Barbara May deserves much credit for her remarkable twirling exhibition.

Mrs. A. A. Stagg, Jr., presented Homecoming Queen Mary Ann Dixon with a bouquet of mums arranged in the shape of a football. Miss Dixon was accompanied by her court which included Miss Ann Guise, Miss Margaret Henderson, and Miss Rose Marie Sharretts. The cheer leaders enthusiastically led the audience in cheer after cheer which helped the football players achieve a 37 to 20 victory over Wagner.

Teas were presented in the different sorority rooms by the actives in behalf of their returning alumnae. These teas, elaborately done and well-attended, followed the football victory.

Banquet dinners were arranged by the active fraternal groups where each year active meets alumnae and an See PRESENTATION—Page 2

Freshmen Wear Dinks; Sophs Uphold Tradition

A husky sophomore football team canceled all frosh hopes of disposing the dinks as they walked to an easy 12-0 verdict.

Jim Alter set the sophs on the right foot when he took a pass from Lou Drum on the 2 yard stripe and raced into the end zone untouched early in the first quarter. Washbourne attempted the extra point via placement, but it went low and to the left. Moments later the sophs started another drive on their own twenty five. On successive downs they moved the ball to the 3 yard line from which Ned Arbogast slipped across for their second six pointer on a quarterback sneak. Washbourne, who played an outstanding defensive game for the sophs, failed to connect on an aerial to Kopf as the extra point attempt was not good.

Early in the third period, the frosh with Bill Vanderhoof at the helm unleashed some fancy razzle dazzle which momentarily had the bewildered sophs in the hole. Running from a single wing frosh Smoth and Haag reeled off substantial gains on a snappy reverse to the wing back around. Nevertheless, the sophs stalled their drives before they could move within the twenty yard stripe.

Playing fine defensive games for the frosh were Coates and Haag while Henry and Bobb excelled for the sophs.

Marks Aren't Everything

Have you been to unfortunate as to be a college student who has never rendered a real service to your school? Can you feel gratified when your semester marks alone are the emblem of school accomplishment? If such is the case—you have our heartfelt sympathy!

There is no disputing the statement that we are here to learn from books and professors. But it is also infallible that around you every day are some four hundred students who, in the end, are the really vital cogs in that complex machine called humanity. Books and theory may tell you what to do in a certain situation—but it is common courtesy or important diplomacy—but unless you've had the shock of discouragement, the fire of renewed effort, and the subsequent exhilaration of earned success, you are missing half the education that is now within your reach.

The boy or girl who attends meetings or rehearsals is gaining wider outlook and is learning the valuable lesson of practical application. Truly amusing to a person who has been continually a promoter of extra-curricular activities is the student who finds it "necessary" to eliminate out-of-the-classroom activities because he is afraid of burning up too many brain cells in the process of helping a worth-while club or organizational project. It would be fine if that latent half of ability were put side by side with the theoretical view!

Have you ever heard of a school where the commencement exercises paid no end of honor to the student with the highest standing or the school whose graduation class had published a magnificent yearbook, which in reality was the production of four or five energetic minds who saw the advantage of serving in a practical way that would be remembered for years thereafter? On that commencement morning when all eyes seemingly turned to the scholarly students in the coveted top positions, a great opportunity for recognition was being missed entirely. Also in that class were the stated few who now wondered if maybe they should have forgotten about the yearbook and worked blindly for grades . . . but, turning the thought over again in their questioning minds, they smiled as they realized how important their lesson had been—knowing that they, apparently not the most brilliant minds if grades were standard, had learned something that a college diploma does not tell. They had learned to live, strive, and succeed with other human beings—something the book cannot accomplish unless you apply what they are told to that which you do. Are you missing that opportunity?—R. E. O.

Ned Condon (Examining the pictures): "Looks to me as if it was."

Weather Prophet

Orville Glass was sitting on the steps of G. A. holding a small piece of rope in one hand.

"What's that?" asked Dean Galt.

"That's my weather vane," was the reply.

"How can you tell the weather with that?" inquired the Dean.

"Well sir, when it goes to and fro, it's windy. When it's wet—it's raining."

Draftee

As a truck passed by, a draftee saluted. "What did you salute that truck for?" asked the Sergeant.

"On it," explained the draftee, "it said General Hauling."

Birthday Present

Steve Torok and Harvey Jeffers were talking about their sweethearts. "What are you going to give your girl for a birthday present?" asked Jeff.

"Book ends," informed Steve.

"It's a shame to cut up a whole book to give her the ends, ain't it?" replied Jeff.

Athletic

A blonde named Nancy Krcig applied for a job on a girls' baseball team. "Can you catch?" asked the manager.

"I caught a fellow," she replied.

"Can you run?" was the next question.

"How do you think I caught him?" inquired Nancy.

KNOW YOUR PROFESSOR

When we speak of someone determined to get an education regardless of any interference, we don't have to look any further than our own campus.

Although Mr. John Leach, our band director, started his college education here at Susquehanna University in 1940 through 1942, he was determined his education would not stop when he was called into the army. We find him coming back in the year 1946 and graduating in 1947.

After graduation, he taught and was band director in a school in Troy, Pennsylvania.

He received his master's degree at Columbia University. He is glad to say that he will soon be able to complete his work on his doctors degree.

Although he is an instructor of music, Mr. Leach's main preference is directing. Beside directing our college band, he also directs the choir in the Trinity Lutheran Church in Selingsgrove.

If you asked him if he had any hobbies he would say, "Fishing, with a capital F." He doesn't go fishing to far away places but he knows practically every stream in this region.

He belongs to the Theta Chi fraternity. He held the position of president in his senior year at Susquehanna. Among the associations of which he is a member are: The Pennsylvania Band Masters Association and The Music Education National Conference.

With an able man like Mr. Leach directing, we can be sure that our college band will continue to uphold its high standard.

"Doc," said the mountaineer, with a limping young man in tow, "I want you to fix up my son-in-law. I shot him in the leg yesterday."

"Shame on you," roared the doctor, "shooting your own son-in-law."

"Wa-al y'see, Doc, when I shot him he warn't my son-in-law."

Old Grad

An old grad was recently asked why he isn't married since he was such a lover in college.

To this he replied that he thought he wasn't allowed to be married because he had a bachelor's degree.

What They Are Doing

We were happy to see VERA DUBOY and JOAN WYANT here on the campus for the Homecoming celebration. Vera and Joan are former pre-nursing students who are now studying nursing at Cornell Medical School in New York.

Two other two-year students, BETTY WINEY and VIVA BORSTEINS, are now studying nursing at the Johns Hopkins Medical School, Baltimore, Maryland.

JACK BROWN, Indiana, Pa., and CARL WELLER, Montgomery, Pa., are now enrolled in Temple Medical School, Philadelphia, Pa.

MERRILL SHAFER, Barnesville, Pa., is doing graduate work at the Pennsylvania State College, State College, Pa.

Another alumnus of Susquehanna doing graduate work is WILLARD TAYLOR who is now enrolled in the School of Dentistry at the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

SHIRLEY SMYRL, Lansford, is now working in the Dime Bank in Lansford.

PRESENTATION—From Page 1 overall feeling of the bond of friendship encompasses all members attending.

The culmination of enjoyable times was seen in the Homecoming Dance. The Alumnus group was cleverly decorated in a Halloween theme in black, white, and orange. The smooth strains of Lee Vincent's orchestra were emitted from a crepe paper pumpkin shell.

Anyone who has worked on an all-campus dance knows of the seemingly endless hours which must be spent in preparing for such an occasion. The entire dance committee is to be commended for the excellent job of making the dance a smooth, huge success.

Sunday saw a slow exodus of alumni after alumni as another Homecoming came to an end. Each one leaving seemed a little more tired than when he had come but also a little happier and with a feeling that it was good to be back.

Shively: "Why do you act so unhappy?"

Brown: "I had to shoot my dog."

Shively: "Why, was he mad?"

Brown: "He wasn't exactly pleased about it."

SUSQUEHANNA vs. NATIONAL "AGGIES"

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1951

UNIVERSITY FIELD

SPORTS CHATTER

By RICHARD STOUT

IT'S ANOTHER GREAT PERFORMANCE FOR THE STAGG-COACHED CRUSADERS. Their spirited, inspiring play gave a fine Homecoming Day crowd plenty to cheer about.

The Crusaders will spend this week sharpening up for the hapless National "Aggies" who have not been very successful to date. However YOU CAN BET THE "AGGIES" WILL BE UP FOR THIS GAME AND OUT TO ELEMISH S. U.'S THUS FAR PERFECT RECORD. Looks like the Crusaders will have another tough one Saturday. Picking the winner—the orange and maroon by 21 points. Don't disappoint us, boys.

DR. RUSSELL GILBERT, who is well known in the Intramural Sports circuit for his fine officiating in the softball loop, spent the summer months calling "balls and strikes" in the fast moving West Branch League.

Speaking of the West Branch League, TOM WALLACE, Crusader moundsman, twirled a NO-HIT, NO RUN GAME while pitching for the Selingsgrove entry against the Mifflinburg nine but failed to come out on the long end of the score. The reason, a 0-0 tie called on account of darkness.

A PASSING THOUGHT: It seems as if someone should be able to organize a relay team capable of performing in the much publicized Penn Relays. With fleetfooted Palkovich, Momrow, Jeffers, Parker, Keener, Wiley, Zlock, and Fenstermacher, the Orange and Maroon could undoubtedly make a good showing for itself. A step in this direction would mean added publicity for S. U. and would indeed give the student body something to cheer about. Another factor worth mention is that it could be done at a very little expense. Might be worth thinking about.

LOU SZABO, a 200-pounder in the Crusader forward wall, won a guard position on the New Jersey ALL-STATE TEAM while performing for South River High School in 1949.

No Runs, No Hits, ONE ERROR: When I made mention of Bill Pritchard's having scored his first touchdown in 4 years of high school in intercollegiate ball in the S. U.-Johns Hopkins game, it was by no means an attempt to shade his playing ability. He has always excelled in the pass catching department and on numerous occasions fell several yards shy of the coveted zone after gathering a Crusader pitch. What I meant to imply was simply this—that it was a rather unusual situation. My apologies to Mr. Bill "Touchdown" Pritchard. Thanks for the correction, Mr. Zlock. Sorry for the misunderstanding.

PLAYING A FINE GAME AGAINST GETTYSBURG FOR THE GIRLS' FIELD HOCKEY TEAM WAS AUDREY WEGNER. However, the Crusaderettes led plenty to be desired after being drubbed in their first encounter—more spirit, improved defense, and more speed to name a few.

SIDELINE SLANTS: Bob MacNamara's antics on the gridiron might not rate well with Emily Post, but his unpolite swipe of the pigskin from a bewildered Seahawk ball carrier was one of the niftiest plays ever witnessed on University Field. . . There's nothing S. U. fans would like better than an undefeated season. The main obstacle appears to be an uncertain defense which at times bears resemblance to a sieve. . . Keeping his promise was Gene Fenstermacher who promised Ted Lamb a six-pointer. . . Area fans couldn't ask for a better chance to see their boys perform. The Crusaders are loaded with local talent. . . Mike Rising's catch was spectacular. Just how does he do it? . . . It was another stellar performance for Rich Young. He scored one touchdown, passed for two, kicked a 25-yard field goal, and added 4 extra points via placement. That All-State drum is getting louder. . . In two games the Crusaders have amassed a total of 84 points as compared to a season's total of 70 for 1950. . . I have a hunch the "Aggies" won't be too easy. . . Students are displaying fine spirit. Here's hoping they don't lose it. See you at the game Saturday.

CRUSADERETTES

On Monday, October 15, the girls' athletic field was the setting of the pre-season appearance of our varsity hockey team. Bond and Key furnished the opposition for our varsity squad. Though the actual playing was somewhat unsystematized, an enjoyable game was had by all. The final score was 3-0 in favor of Bond and Key.

Members of the Bond and Key team were as follows: Mayer, Spangler, Manning, Deibler, Wylie, Reynolds, Morris, Menapace, Johnson, Jeffers, and Doyle. All members of the girls' varsity team participated in this game.

Wednesday afternoon was the official opening of the hockey season when we played host to Gettysburg College. Gettysburg brought forth their usual well-trained team and was especially outstanding with their long and hard drives. The Crusaderettes seemed rather excited at the beginning of the game and so Gettysburg scored 3 goals within the first few minutes of play. After this the girls settled down and played a fine game but were still unable to score. Though the playing was predominantly in one half of the field, throughout the game the Crusaderettes showed the true fighting spirit of S. U. The final score of the game was 7-0 in favor of Gettysburg. Crook and Heinsberger did most of the scoring for Gettysburg. Mrs. Jone Dorwart from Lancaster officiated the game.

The line-ups were as follows:
Gettysburg Pos. Susquehanna
Hale Left Wing Wagner
Crook Center Frost
Gibson Right Inner Weiser
Kellow Right Wing Fisher
Taylor Left Halfback Schumacher
Lenhard Center Halfback VonLynn
Lukenbill Right Halfback Wegner
Aierstock Right Fullback Harmon
Varney Goal Keeper Cowling
Substitutes for Gettysburg: Bowers, Kettner, Gotwalt, Hennig, Morheade, and Kerstetter.
Substitutes for Susquehanna: Solomon, Greco, Mosholder, Meerbach, Heiny, Davies, and Benner.

On Saturday morning the usual game between the varsity team and the alumnae was played. The only returning members for the alumnae were Martha "Dutch" Albert, Marilyn Beers, Mary Davidson Verner, and Barbara Stagg. Due to this lack of players, the members of the varsity team were divided so as to provide two teams. Miss Haresign also played for the alumnae team.

"Dutch" Albert, a member of the All-State honor team last year, showed that she had not lost her ability for playing hockey which won her this honor. The varsity team won by a score of 2-0.

CRUSADERS DOWN HOMECOMING OPPONENT, 37-20

SECOND WIN OF CAMPAIGN WITNESSED BY ALUMNI

Susquehanna University's Crusaders scored their second victory of the 1951 campaign last Saturday afternoon before a large Homecoming crowd when they downed the Wagner College Seahawks 37-20. Behind 7-0 at the end of the first quarter the Crusaders rallied in the second period netting 17 points and marched on to victory.

Gene Fenstermacher led the team in rushing yardage, picking up 101 yards in 16 attempts. Rich Young completed 11 of the 21 passes attempted.

YOUNG

Neil Leonard, 19-year-old junior from Staten Island, New York, gained 161 yards from scrimmage and connected for 8 completions in 17 tosses for the Seahawks.

Wagner took Don Walter's opening kickoff on its own 15 yard line and ran it back to its 32 yard line. The Seahawks marched 68 yards in twelve plays for the first TD of the afternoon. Neil Leonard carried from the 12 yard line for the score. Clem Bosco converted.

The Crusaders failed to score until early in the second period. Young pitched 38 yards to Mike Rising, who out-jumped Neil Leonard, in the end zone for the six-pointer. Young converted. Later in that same period passes to Rising, Walter, and Pritchard netting 38, 32 and 10 yards respectively, placed the ball on the 11 yard line. Young scored from there, and again converted.

MacNAMARA

With twenty seconds remaining in the first half, Young kicked a field goal from the fifteen putting the Stagmen ahead 17-7. As the half ended Leonard, Wagner's quarterback, broke lose for a 63 yard touchdown jaunt to put the Seahawks back in the ball game. The conversion attempt was blocked by Stamfel but a penalty gave Wagner another chance and Leonard passed to Kenyon for the extra-point. Half time score: Wagner 14, S. U. 17.

The Crusaders scored 13 points in the third quarter while they held the Seahawks scoreless. First score came on a Young to Pritchard pass netting 12 yards and 6 more points for S. U. Young's extra-point kick was good but a 15 yard clipping penalty nullified it and on the second attempt a Young to Kenyon pass was incomplete. The other third period score came when Bob MacNamara stole the ball from Bud Kenyon as he attempted to skirt his own right end. MacNamara raced 42 yards for the score. Young converted.

The final S. U. score came in the fourth quarter after Fenstermacher carried the ball 45 yards from the 50 yard line to the 5. Three plays later Gene smashed over from the one. Young converted his fourth extra point of the afternoon.

Midway through the final period, an interference penalty against S. U. gave Wagner the ball on the 11 yard line. Leonard scored three plays later. Katz missed the conversion.

The Crusaders meet the National Aggies Saturday, in a Parents' Day tilt, for the final home game of the season.

Intra-Football Lead Assumed by Phi Mu

Intramural football activity continued this week as Phi Mu Delta took the league lead. The Delt's scored a 21-0 victory over Theta Chi and came from behind in the second half to tie the Cottage. Vollmers, Zlock and Mazura snared touchdown passes against Theta Chi. In the game with the Cottage the Delt's scored two second half T.D.'s to earn the tie. Two interceptions set up the Cottage scores and Ned Condon twice nabbed passes in the end zone to give the Cottage their 12-0 lead at half-time. But a fighting Delt team came back and with Palkovich and Kopf crossing the double stripe tied the game up.

Previously the Cottage had been held to a 0-0 tie by the Black Knights of Bond and Key, thus giving the Delt's the league lead. The game with Bond and Key is to be protested, however, and the intramural board's action could place the Cottage in first place with Phi Mu Delta.

Selingsgrove Hall scored a quick T.D. and then held the Theta Chi red jackets for a 6-0 victory in other league action.

Sorority News

Alpha Delta Pi

We were all very proud to have our sister, Mary Ann Dixon, reign as the Homecoming Sweetheart last Saturday.

We appreciate the untiring efforts of our sister Charlotte Neuman for her help in obtaining our new sorority jackets.

Our best wishes to our sisters Joan Sechrist and Ethel McGrath. Joan now wears the Theta Chi fraternity pin of Dick Bidelbach and Ethel wears the Phi Mu Delta pin of Jack Brown.

We were happy to see some of the ADPI alumnae back for Homecoming and our post game coffee hour in the chapter room. We wish to express our thanks to all the local alumnae who helped to make the coffee hour the great success it was and to two of our patronesses, Mrs. R. Amy and Mrs. H. DeMott, who served for us.

Congratulations to the team for another exhibition of outstanding football last Saturday. We were happy to welcome the Wagner cheerleaders, all of whom are ADPI's from Gamma Pi chapter, of Alpha Delta Pi.

Kappa Delta

Beta Upsilon held installation services Wednesday, October 17, for its patronesses. The women who were installed were: Mrs. Alice Glaque, Mrs. Carol Kline, Mrs. Robert Howling, Mrs. Waldemar Zagars, Mrs. Frederick Stevens, Mrs. Ralph Witmer, and Mrs. Dan MacCush. A social hour followed the installation.

The chapter was glad to hear from Miss Ruth Sparhawk, former alumnae advisory chairman. She called her letter the K. D.'s "Wednesday Letter."

Lynne Lightfoot and Peggy Henderson helped at the Selinggrove Community Center this week.

Word was received that Dr. Dorothy Veon will be the new province president of Epsilon Eta of which Beta Upsilon is a member. Dr. Veon is an Assistant Professor of Education at Pennsylvania State College.

The alumnae were entertained in the sorority room after the Homecoming game.

S. A. I.

Sigma Omega Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota welcomed back many of its alumnae at a tea in the S. A. I. room following the Homecoming football game. Tea, small sandwiches, and mints were served. Among the alumnae who returned were Miss Alice Greeger, Miss Joy McCahan, Mrs. June Hoke, Miss Mary Petteiger, Mrs. P. M. Linebaugh, Mrs. Burleigh Peters, Mrs. John Leach and Miss Sally Mitchell. Also Mrs. A. V. Derr, Mrs. Donald Wissinger, Mrs. Phyllis Parr, Miss Jean Hill, Miss Janet Rohrbach, Miss Jean Derr and Miss Jean Rothenmel.

The Sigma Omega Chorus will present a half-hour of secular music over Station WKOK in Sunbury on Wednesday, October 24, from 10:30 to 11:00 p. m. The Sigma Omega chorus will be under the direction of Nancy Youhon. Clara Mae Williams will be accompanist.

FRATERNITY ROW

Bond and Key

Homecoming this year at Bond and Key was the most outstanding since our organization was founded in 1914. We were happy to welcome back one of the largest groups of alumni and friends returned to renew old acquaintances.

At an alumni meeting held after the luncheon Saturday afternoon, our alumni organized and elected officers. This is the start of the alumni association toward which we have been working for several years. The alumni totals over 600. With these men banded together, we hope to be able to give them a stronger feeling toward the school and the ties they have had with Bond and Key.

At the annual Homecoming banquet, Dr. Hackenberg, president of the S. U. alumni association, was the main speaker. Mr. Spencer Marks gave a brief resume of the alumni meeting.

We extend congratulations to Theta Chi for winning first place for Homecoming decor. Many thanks to our own decorating committee for their time and hard work in placing third.

The house purchased a new rug for the stairway and the steps were painted to complete the redecoration of the first floor.

The Bond and Key Chorus will continue this year with the help of Rowie Dunder and Bill Beckwith. This group of our actives will be seen and heard on numerous occasions throughout the school year.

A number of the actives gave added spirit to the pep rally Friday evening when they arrived at the bonfire Friday evening with the fire engine borrowed from the local fire company.

We can again thank the varsity for their decisive victory over Wagner Saturday afternoon. Best of luck for continued success.

Phi Mu Delta

The hallowed tradition of Homecoming was well upheld this past weekend at Phi Mu Delta. Preparations began weeks in advance and actual construction work was begun on Thursday morning. Our decorations, the result of many hours of hard work, won second prize. Straw hats with the orange band aided in recognition and added a dash of color to the festive Homecoming. The full program planned for the alumni got under way Friday evening and wound up Sunday afternoon. Grad day at Phi Mu Delta began with a business meeting at ten o'clock Saturday morning, at which time Mr. Ernest Walker, of Johnstown, was elected president of the alumni association. A luncheon followed featuring delicious food prepared by our cook, Mrs. Robert Messer. With a contented smile and a friend on each side, the alumni trekked to the Crusader-Seaawks clash and came away with still another reason for satisfaction. At six o'clock over a hundred people gathered at the hotel Edison for dinner before the dance. At the dance, we actives were surprised to see how spry the old grads could still be. Sunday warm smiles and firm handshakes were the theme of impromptu get-togethers. Talk of days gone-by recalled many a fond remembrance. Now it's over but already plans have been made for next year. Here's to a bigger and better Homecoming for all in '52.

Congratulations are in order for the great game played Saturday. Keep up the good work, team! Pass the pants off the Aggies!

Theta Chi

Theta Chi was on the march again! Last Wednesday night, before Homecoming, Theta Chi Marching Band, under the direction of Don Berninger and escorted by the famous "old soldier" General Abel "Gateman" MacArthur, made its way to the girls' dorms where they played (reverently) to the effigy of Wagner which was hanging quite dead from a gallow.

Maybe Wagner didn't drop a "goose egg," but Theta Chi's Homecoming decorations still had their point. The best point, however, is that the decorations took top honors and Theta Chi is now the proud possessor of the Homecoming Decoration Cup.

We wish to extend our heartfelt congratulations to the members of the football team on their magnificent victory over the Wagner Seahawks.

The active members of the chapter were happy to welcome back this weekend 15 alumni. These included: Merle Shafer '51, Gerald Moorehead '51, Willard Taylor '51, John Gearing '51, Paul Buchler '50, Paul Haffly '50, Dale Fulmer, Pete Mitchell and Gunnar Zorn. With the return of these old brothers, the house gave ears to many a tall tale and reminiscent story of old times. The Theta Chi men took the opportunity of this week-end to show off the newly revamped game room to those who attended the buffet lunch served on Saturday afternoon.

Among our most prominent guests at the open house during the intermission of the Homecoming dance were Mrs. Gunnar Zorn and the newly married couple, Joan Sechrist and Dick Bidelbach.

COMING SOON: Next week-end Theta Chi will have a four hour open house in the form of a masquerade ball.

First Student: "I suppose I'll be up all night tonight; I have to make out my expense account."

Second Student (more hopefully): "Why don't you tell the truth and get a good night's rest?"

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK

This week's personality honors Gene Fenstermacher, a well-known man about campus and the gridiron. Gene was born on November 9, 1923, in Sunbury, Pennsylvania.

Gene then moved to Northumberland and attended Northumberland High School and graduated in 1941. During his high school career, Gene was quite active in sports, playing two years of football and baseball, and three years of boxing. Gene was also the president of the Sportsman Club.

"Fensty" decided that the service was a good place to go after graduation and joined the 13th Army Air Force on December 4, 1941. In the service, Gene was trained to be an airplane mechanic, and he used his training skillfully. Spending 37 out of 45 months overseas, Gene saw action in the Pacific, Guadalcanal, Munda, New Guinea, and the Philippines. "Fensty" attained the rank of Technical

After serving in the Army, Gene knocked around for a few years taking it easy and also working at Westinghouse in Sunbury. Working wasn't the only thing in life, so Gene thought about college and decided to pick Susquehanna because of the sports program and the high standards of the school.

During the four short years at Susquehanna, Gene played football and baseball for four years, intramural sports, and is now the president of Bond and Key.

Gene plans to teach after graduation anywhere he can get a good position. Along with teaching, "Fensty" wants to coach his two favorite sports—football and baseball.

PARENTSHONORED BY STUDENTS AT SATURDAY'S GAME

Everywhere on campus last Saturday was heard the joyous phrase, "Hi Mom, Hi Pop!" Yes, it was another annual Parents' Day at Susquehanna. The day appeared as though it would be lovely outside as the parents of students arrived in the morning. Everywhere was a scene of cheerful greeting as students ran to greet their parents.

Because some parents lived at a great distance from Susquehanna, many missed the coffee and cookies that were served in the lounge from 10:00 a. m. to 12 noon. Parents were amazed at seeing our new lounge and all were happy that they could sit and enjoy a cup of coffee in such a pleasant room after traveling.

Many students left the campus to eat lunch with their parents. Some students said that they talked more than they ate. It seemed that both parents and students had so much to talk about.

Before the football game, students were asked to register their parents at the stadium. While registering, mothers received roses and fathers Parents' Day pins.

President G. Morris Smith, in his pre-game message, welcomed all the parents. The stadium was filled to capacity with onlookers that cheered Susquehanna to a 34-6 victory over the National Aggies.

S. U. STUDENTS VOICE APPROVAL OF NEW LOUNGE AND SNACK BAR

This week's question proved very timely in that it asked—"What do you think of the student lounge and snack bar?" As usual, the comments were varied from complete satisfaction on one hand, to fault finding in a few cases. Let us see what our fellow students have to say.

Ray Caldwell: "It's what S. U. needed for a long time."

Jane Wehr: "It's terrific."

Charley Shamp: "A big improvement."

Ken Hempstead: "Spacious, extraordinary."

Casey Mayer: "The placing of the college snack bar on the first floor of G. A. was a move that shows that Susquehanna is a modern progressive college. Even though it is small, the snack bar shows that S. U. tries to give to its students similar opportunities afforded by larger institutions."

Tom Marts: "One of the best things that happened around here in a long time."

Bill Kloap: "It's one of the swellest things that has happened here; too bad it didn't happen sooner."

Chris Harmon: "The student lounge promotes more friendliness and college spirit. It is a good drawing card for outside talent."

Joyce Miller: "Eliteness is added to the campus."

Dan Williamson: "We have worked for it for a long time. Now that we have a beautiful snack bar, let's take care and abide by the rules."

Peggy Henderson: "I only wish that Mr. Yorty were present to see it in operation, and hear the favorable comments."

Gordon Joyce: "It is one of the modern miracles; the finest thing to hit campus."

John Shannon: "It's efficient, an excellent place for relaxation, but the lack of a cigarette machine is a definite liability."

Bill Templin: "I like what I see."

Lou Drumm: "There is a definite need for playing cards to adorn the snack bar."

Danalee Kershner: "Our new Snack Bar and lounge is one of the greatest and most worthwhile improvements made upon S. U.'s campus. It should have been done a long time ago."

Terry DiPerso: "The place looks like a new building and there is a place to eat between meals. I think it is great."

Don Muchmore: "Oh boy! S. U. sure needed a place like this. It's where anyone can go between classes or to study when the library is crowded. It

Dean's List

(LAST SEMESTER)

In chapel this morning, Dean Russell Galt announced the names of those students who constitute the Dean's List for last semester. The following students represent the upper ten percent of the student body:

Ivans Avels, Flora Barnhart, Joan Bates, Vija Borsdins, Walter Brandau, Jack Brown, Maxine Chambers, Davis Clark, Patricia Gow Crisman, John Diehl, Catherine Doeber, Marilyn K. Fisher, Donald Fisher, Gennaro Fluri, Joyce Gilbert, Sylvia Haupt, Kenneth Hempstead, Jean Hill, Marilyn Huyett, Harold Johnson, June Klingler, Faye Lewis, Lynne Lightfoot, Don Linn, Carolyn Lucas, Audrey MacNeil, Irene Meerbach, Robert Michalsavage, Sally Mitchell, Arthur Smith, Lois Renfer, Frank Richards, Abby Salzer, Nelda Shafer, Delsey Sharretts, William Smeltz, Albert Smith, Jean Stemple, Shirley Thompson, Jean VanVoorhis, Miriam Vogler, Margo Attinger Vought, Jane Wehr, Carl Weller.

Dean Galt also presented the scholarship cups to the sorority and fraternity having the highest scholastic average for the entire past year. The winners are Kappa Delta sorority and Theta Chi fraternity. The sorority averages were: Kappa Delta, 1.80; and Alpha Delta Pi, 1.75. The fraternity averages were: Theta Chi, 1.28; Phi Mu Delta, 1.25; and Bond and Key, 1.15.

HALLOWE'EN, SUPPRESSED DESIRES, AND HALLO INN THEMES OF FRATERNITY PARTIES ON PARENTS' DAY

Hallowe'en Air Prevails At Bond & Key's Party

This is the time of the year for goblins and ghosts and beautiful fall weather.

A Hallowe'en atmosphere prevailed at the open house Saturday night. Everyone enjoyed dancing, card playing and the refreshments, which consisted of cider, ham salad sandwiches, candy pumpkins, potato chips, and pumpkin pie.

Many parents and friends visited the house throughout Parents' Day. We were happy to welcome all the freshmen and their parents to Bond and Key on Saturday.

Venetian blinds have been ordered for the house. The colors will blend in with our decoration scheme.

We wish to heartily congratulate the football team for their victory over the National "Aggies."

Phi Mu Delt Open House Reveals Hidden Desires

"Suppressed Desires" was the theme of Phi Mu Delta's open house Parents' Day night. The idea was to come dressed as someone you wanted to be when you were in the Junior G-Man stage. A wide variety of costumes ranged from Kilroy (Don Walters), to a Chinese mandarin portrayed by Len Carlson and the rig of a flapper of the early 20's by Janie Kline; and from Petti Sing, flitted lover from Madame Butterfly (Peggy Hulst), to a Greek goddess by Mimi Vogler.

Phi Mu Delta's dance band, composed of brothers Unangst, Perry, Schrader, Crawford, and Carlson, played for dancing. Refreshments were served. Brother Carlson favored us with organ music throughout the evening.

The highlights of the entertainment directed by Herb Crafty were a toe dance by Ballerina Dolly Taddeo and a wild flying of bandages over Andy Andrews by nurse Shirley Morris.

Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Dan MacCush, Dr. and Mrs. Waldemar Zagars, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howling, Mr. Robert Meader, and Mr. Axel Kleinsorg. Many parents also attended.

At the regular meeting October 24 plans were made for landscaping the front of the fraternity house in the spring.

Congratulations to Jim Wither and Ed Palkovich for contributing so much to the painting of the fraternity house which was entirely completed this past Tuesday.

Parents' Day, under the direction of Dean Erma Sambrook, was quite a success this year. Phi Mu Delta did its part by holding open house throughout. See PHI MU DELT OPEN—Page 4

Enthusiastic Elmer

This week we are featuring Elmer Imbecile as the outstanding man about campus. Elmer is a freshman.

Elmer was born in 1926 in the little town of Skunksmisery, Pennsylvania. At a very early age he exhibited an avid interest in better literature. Many a night Mother Imbecile found him in his little room, reading two of the great books of our times, by Sears Roebuck and Montgomery Ward.

In grade school Elmer's interest in books came to an end. Believing in visual education with pictures and illustrations, he refused to contend with the backward methods of his teacher who insisted he learn to read and write. The teacher, being an understanding individual, let him have his way. With the welfare of Elmer foremost in his mind, he planned a unit plan for him to build bird houses.

Elmer adjusted himself very well in high school. Although he was a little older than some of the teachers, and all his classmates, he managed to find many friends. Many of the little folks looked up to him and called him Pop.

At Skunksmisery High, Elmer took the agricultural arts course. Since building bird houses was out of the question, he had to learn how to read and write. He enjoyed it very much even though it took him a few years to pass a course.

Never let it be said that Elmer was a book-worm! Aside from his academic subjects, he was very active in extracurricular activities. He was captain of the championship Sophomore Class Potato Picking Team for the three years he was in that class. He was also properties manager of the Janitor's Club. As a member of the Girl's Sewing Club, he won second prize in a school contest for his cross stitching.

Crops were good during the two years Elmer was a senior, and so there was enough money to send him to S. U.

When questioned about his opinion of the school, Elmer enthusiastically said he was very happy they grew potatoes here because he would like to introduce picking contests in the intramural schedule.

The only criticism he had about S. U. was the beds. He has trouble sleeping. Elmer has the bottom bunk and when he lies on his back, his toes hit the bottom of the top bunk.

Theta Chi's Hallo Inn Scene of Costume Ball

Theta Chi's masquerade ball got into full swing on Saturday night when Mr. Pumpkin of 1951, his tongue flapping and his eyes popping in perfect disco-ordination, made his grand entrance into "Hallo Inn." Not to forget the disrepute brought into the occasion by "Lena Genster" Solomon and her shot-gun wedding, the "Corny Mountain Boys," ably assisted by Jack Schwartz, the master musician, played their rendition of "The Bells of St. Mary's" or "The Cowbell and Triangle Chorus."

Bill "Ballentine the Great" Stringer, really pulled one out of the hat when the telephone rang during his performance. The magician leaned off stage to answer it with, "Hello, Theta Cheese, which hunk do you want to speak to?" Did his face turn asober? It was President G. Morris Smith on the phone! (Theta Chi hereby submits its humblest apologies to Dr. Smith for this faux pas.) Bill wasn't the only one that was left holding the bag; ask Caroline Rutherford!

The "Corny Mountain Boys" (mouth machine, Mason; ukelele, Stringer; washboard, Williamson; cowbell, Baumgardner) rounded off the program with classical selections such as: "I've Got No Use for the Women," "Clementine," and "I've Been Working on the Railroad."

Later in the evening, after everyone had enjoyed apple cider and sandwiches, the Theta Chi men serenaded the new "Theta Chick," Joan Sechrist, who is now possessor of Dick Bidel's spach's pin. This was followed by a serenade to Mr. and Mrs. John Leach ("Don't Take My Pin").

Although Dr. Thomas Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Howard DeMott, Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Waterbury and Dr. and Mrs. Russell Gilbert didn't have a song dedicated to them, we welcomed them all and hope they return again soon.

Todd Solomon was welcomed into the ranks of Theta Chi at a special initiation meeting last Monday.

SCA NEWS

The SCA cabinet, at its last meeting, welcomed into the group a new member in the personage of Charles Coates, a freshman from Bloomsburg. He had been selected by the freshman class to represent it on this board of nineteen members which draws up the plans and carries out the business for the organization throughout the year.

At this business session, which was conducted by President Gordon Joyce, final plans were made concerning the SCA dance which is to be held in Alumni Gymnasium on Saturday, November 3, from 8:00 p. m. until 12 midnight. Committees were appointed by Bernice Jochem who, being head of the Fellowship Commission, is chairman for the dance. A charge of $1.25 per couple will be made, it was announced.

Dr. G. Morris Smith, an honorary advisor to the cabinet, was in attendance and presented to the group several possibilities for a more extensive SCA campus coverage. Following discussion on these tentative plans, the meeting was adjourned for the evening.

VESPERS

Vespers were held on October 28, in Seibert Chapel under the direction of Sigma Alpha Iota sorority. The program was as follows:

Hymn—"Praise to the Lord."

Song—"This Is My Father's World" by chorus, solo part by Greta Thomas.

Song—"The King of Love My Shepherd Is" by chorus and trio—Peggy Heffelfinger, Josephine Stuter, and Janet Wingert.

Solo—"Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled" by Joan Pates.

Song—"Now the Day is Over" by chorus, solo part by Barbara Easton.

Liturgist for the evening was Janet Wingert, the Sigma Alpha Iota chorus was directed by Nancy Younion, and the organist was Ann Guise.

What They Are Doing

CHARLES "CHUCK" SULLIVAN is credit manager of a department store in Greensburg, Pennsylvania.

BEN ALTER, a member of the United States Marine Corps, is stationed at Paris Island.

RAY TYLER, Shamokin Dam, is serving in the U. S. Army.

JESSE STONE, Harrisburg, is working for the Keystone Bottling Company, Harrisburg.

MARTHA MARTIN, Shamokin, is teaching commercial education in a school near Reading.

PAUL JONES, Shamokin, who can be remembered for his excellent performance in the "Taming of the Shrew," is now serving in Uncle Sam's Navy.

A two-year student, JACKIE KRAUSE, Steelton, is working as a laboratory technician in the Harrisburg Hospital.

ALTHEA FERGUSON, Millersport, is working for the Bell Telephone Company in Harrisburg.

NANCY MCKINNEY, Altoona, is studying nursing at the Harrisburg Hospital.

WALTER BRANDAU, Sunbury, is enrolled in the Lutheran Theological Seminary, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.

Administration News

On October 28th, Dr. G. Morris Smith traveled to Huntington, Pennsylvania, where he spoke on the meaning of the Reformation for the present day. This Festival Service was organized under the auspices of the ministerium of Huntington. It was held in Oiler Hall at Juniata College.

Dr. Smith also attended the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Association of Colleges and Universities held at Hershey, Pennsylvania, on October 22nd and 23rd. The two topics of discussion were as follows: "Co-ordination of Higher Education at State Level" by Ernest V. Hollis of the U. S. Office of Education, and "Winning Support for Private Colleges and Universities," by Arnold C. Marks.

Coach A. A. Stage, Jr., spoke at the Mount Carmel High School to the Mount Carmel Boosters Club on October 24th. The club is composed of two hundred citizens who assist in the football program of the vicinity. The coach spoke on "The Responsibility of the Booster."

Dr. Houtz: "A cross-eyed woodpecker with a cork leg and a synthetic rubber bill required one-half hour to peck one-quarter distance through a cypress log 53 years old. Shingles cost 79¢ per hundred and weigh 8 ounces a piece. The log being pecked upon is 34 feet long and weighs 46 pounds per square foot. Assuming that the coefficient of friction between the woodpecker's bill and the cypress log is 0.097 and there is negligible resistance of diffusion, how many units of vitamin B1 will the woodpecker require in pecking out enough shingles for a $7,500 barn with detachable chicken house. The woodpecker has an efficiency of 97 per cent, and gets time and a half for overtime.

Dr. Russ: "Young man, why aren't you taking notes?"

Don Sheldon: "I don't need to, sir, I've got my grandfather's."

Electrifying

"Was your friend shocked over the death of his mother-in-law?"

"Shocked? He was electrocuted!"

Among the selections played by the band at the half was "I Want A Girl" in recognition of the parents attending. Praise must be given to the band for its splendid work and performance.

After the football game, coffee, sandwiches, and cookies were served in Horton Dining Hall. While enjoying this coffee hour, many of the parents mingled in Seibert Parlors. On hand to greet and speak with them were President Smith and his wife plus many members of the faculty and administration staff.

It was estimated that about three hundred parents came to our annual Parents' Day celebration. President Smith stated that this was one of the biggest and most successful Parents' Days he has seen at Susquehanna.

Although there was a slight fall of rain in the evening, parents went to visit fraternity houses.

Phi Mu Delta was the scene of a "Suppressed Desire" party. It was commented that most everyone participated and quite a few students were surprised at one another's "desire."

A colorful masquerade was held at Theta Chi. To keep with an old tradition, the boys of Theta Chi sang to Joan Schrist, who was recently pinned to Dick Bidselbach.

Bond and Key held a semi-formal dance and served a Halloween lunch.

A good time was had by all at every one of the parties.

As the day came to an end, there were hearts that were sad in saying goodbye but also happy at having had such a wonderful time with their parents.

The cooperation of all who helped in preparing and carrying out the Parents' Day program is to be commended. It really was a memorable day.

Joanne Heinley: "It's just what we needed. It's a wonderful addition to S. U."

Irene Oldt: "I think it's a lot nicer than a lot of other schools. It is a good improvement for S. U."

"Butch" Smith: "I think it's terrific! Sure could use a juke box!"

Charlotte Neuman: "Just what we needed for school spirit. It's great! But, I think it would be a good idea to have the Snack Bar open Sunday evenings."

Kaj Kristofferson: "The mailboxes are in a good location. You can get your mail and something to eat without traveling far. I think it would be a big help if there was a cigarette machine in the Snack Bar."

Ellie Smith: "It's without doubt the best thing that ever hit Susquehanna."

Lois Renfer: "It's very nice."

Annabel Broeske: "I think it's a good opportunity for kids to get together and socialize."

Helen Von Lynn: "It's the best thing that could have happened to this campus."

John Horeschak: "It's amazing!"

Don Walters: "That's my business."

"Toots" Richards: "It's a very attractive place and a place where students can get together and feel at home."

Audrey Wegner: "It's tremendous!"

Helen Spaeth: "It's terrific!"

Barbara Grove: "It's really a cute little place."

Mary Trivolo: "I think it's very good; it brings the kids together."

Lana Fegeley: "It's really a tremendous change."

Jim Tomkinson: "It's superb! If only the freshmen could have seen it last year, they would really appreciate what they have."

Helen Griffiths: "I think it is very nice; a wonderful convenience to be used with discretion by the students."

Pat Hess: "The spirit of S. U. has improved 100% and I think a lot of this new enthusiasm is due to our wonderful new lounge. It's the best thing that could have happened to S. U."

Faye Lewis: "It's one of the nicest things that ever happened to the students of S. U."

Dolly Taddeo: "It's just too wonderful for words."

Sandra Swinehart: "I think it's a wonderful idea to have such a nice place where all the students can gather in such a friendly atmosphere."

Don Pesch: "I think that the new snack bar should be used for more student activities than for faculty receptions, as seems to be the case."

Lynne Lightfoot: "I think it's the best thing that has happened to S. U."

Ruth Roslander: "I think it's terrific."

Peg Aston: "Love it."

Kenn Hill: "I am very much pleased with the end product. It certainly is a pleasant place to spend our leisure hours. However I believe that a cigarette machine and a juke box would not only add to our enjoyment but also

S. U. CONTINUES UNDEFEATED SEASON; NAC ROUTED BEFORE RECORD CROWD

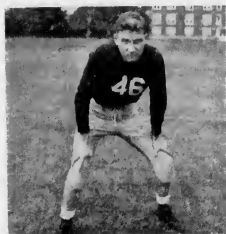

Susquehanna University's Fighting Crusaders marched to their third victory of the current campaign as they downed the National Agriculture College 34-6 before a large Parents' Day crowd, last Saturday.

Crusaders stayed on the ground for the major portion of the game. Three of S. U. TD's however were the result of long pass plays. Mike Rising, frosh end from Northumberland, Pennsylvania, was the target for two of these four touchdown passes. Gene Fenstermacher's pass to Sam Ross in the second quarter netted the other. Rich Young cracked the line on the other two scoring plays.

National "Aggies" thrice fought their way within the Crusader's 10-yard line but twice failed to muster the needed scoring punch. Single Aggie tally came in the third quarter when Lipari's pass to Soards in the end zone netted the six pointer.

First Quarter

Don Walter's opening kickoff was taken on the eleven yard line by Nieznay and returned to the 26. With Franchetti and Holland leading the way, the Aggies racked up two first downs. After three forward passes fell incomplete the Crusaders gained possession of the ball on the 50 yard line. Fenstermacher carried for six yards; then on their third play from scrimmage Rich Young passed to Bill Pritchard on the 22 yard line and Pritchard ran forward to the 3 yard line. Young cracked the line on the next play for the score and then converted.

Aggies received the kickoff and picked up a first down on Franchetti's 20 yard run but their passing again failed them and the Crusaders took over on their own 33 yard line. Young picked up 12 yards on the ground. Then a Young-to-Rising pass was good for a total of 55 yards and the second Crusader score. Young's conversion attempt was wide. Aggies received and gained a first down before the period ended.

Second Quarter

An incomplete fourth down pass gave the Staggen possession of the ball on their own 46 yard line. With Don Walters and Gene Fenstermacher leading the pliskin and breaking loose for runs of 26 and 10 yards respectively, the Crusaders picked up three first downs and moved to the Aggies four yard line. Fenstermacher was thrown for a five-yard loss but on the following play Gene hit Sam Ross with a pass good for nine yards and S. U.'s third TD. Young converted.

After the kick, the Aggies failed to muster enough yardage for a first down and S. U. gained possession of the ball. Jim Dell picked up a yard on terra firma but the Crusaders fumbled on the next play and the Aggies recovered. Picking up three consecutive first downs the Aggies moved to S. U.'s ten yard line. Gene Brouse recovered an Aggie fumble at this point and ended the threat. Time ran out before the Crusaders could score again.

Third Quarter
The Green and Gold took the kickoff and moved to the Crusaders five yard line but the Staggen stiffened, held and another Aggie threat was stymied. The Crusaders moved back up field to their own twenty. Young passed to Rising and Mike moved up to the Aggies 38 yard line. The play covered

RISING

42 yards. Fenstermacher moved the ball to the 34 on two plays. Then Rich Young broke loose for a 26 yard gallop to the Aggies 8 yard line. Two plays later Young bolted over from the three. Young converted.

After the ball changed hands twice the Aggies marched to the Crusaders 3 yard line where the Lipari to Soards pass gave the Aggies their only score of the afternoon.

Fourth Quarter

Coaches Stag substituted freely in the final period. All members of the Crusaders except three saw action. Ed Danyluk, Sam Ross, Jim Dell and Kay Campbell bore a large part of the Crusaders offense. The two teams battled between the 30 yard line stripes most of this period. Crusaders threatened once but penalties ruined their chances to another touchdown.

Hard tackling, running, and blocking featured throughout the afternoon. Franchetti netted 110 yards rushing. Rich Young gained 72 yards on the ground for the Crusaders and completed four of five pass attempts.

Crusaders meet the Juniata Indians this Saturday at Huntingdon. Indians boast a 2-1-1 record thus far this year. Single loss was at the hands of Westminster.

CottageCopsLeague Victory; Delts Lose To Selingsgrove Hall

First half competition in the men's intramural league was completed this week. The cottage took first-half honors with a 4-0-1 record. In their only contest of the week the cottage downed Theta Chi 21-6. Condon and Hempstead, the league's leading scorers, tallied for the cottage. Stout scored for Theta Chi.

Selingrove Hall came from behind in the second half to tie Phi Mu Delta. The Delts scored a TD in the first half and held a 7-0 lead at halftime. But Selingrove rallied in the final period. Three long passes placed the ball on the 15 yard line. Dick Burley hit paydirt on an end run and a pass to Wollaston netted the extra-point. The tie knocked the Delts out of a first place tie and enabled the cottage to take first-half honors without a play-off game. In a previous contest Phi Mu Delta swamped GA 27-0.

The Black Knights of Bond and Key scored their first TD and won their first game of the year 6-0. Selingrove Hall took the loss. A 35 yard Menapace to Reynolds pass accounted for the tally.

Theta Chi triumphed over GA 12-0 in a second half contest.

CRUSADERETTES

The Intramural hockey season ended with a playoff game between the Seniors and Soph I to determine who would finish in second place. Maxine Chambers scored the only goal of the game giving the Seniors sole possession of second place. The Juniors won undisputed possession of top honors.

Members of the champion team were Caroline Rutherford, Maxine Yocum, Lillian Whittington, Marvel Cowling, Christine Harmon, Dot Appar, Audrey Wegner, Lois Fisher, Esther Frost, Joyce Miller, Helen Von Lynn, Joyce Wagner, and Pam McKegg.

The members of the winning team will each receive 25 additional points. The second place team members will each receive 15 extra points.

The paper to sign up for soccer was posted during this past week. If you have not already signed up, see Managers Ellie Smith or Jane Cline. Teams are being selected, and with weather permitting, games will begin on Tuesday, October 30.

Alumni News

A meeting of the Alumni Council was held on October 20th. The date of Alumni Day was changed from the Saturday preceding Commencement to the first Saturday in May. Members of the Alumni Council include the secretaries of the graduating classes and the presidents of the District Alumni Clubs.

SPORTS CHATTER

By Richard Stout

The Crusaders copped another game Saturday, but I COULD NOT CALL THEIR PERFORMANCE IMPRESSIVE.

It was a little over a week ago that the sports editor of Sunbury's Daily Item warned Harry Lawrence's Bucknell Bisons to stop taking their press clippings to heart if they wanted to keep their victory string intact. HOW ABOUT OUR CRUSADERS? While the Orange and Maroon is getting attention in all the area newspapers, the proverbial fat heads are getting larger and larger. Why should a hapless National "Aggies" team run rough shod through the line, continually circle the ends, and outcharge the forward wall? Why were there so many poor tackles, missed blocks, and dirty unnecessary plays? The game of football is not played in the stands. Fighting poses look good in the ring, and that's the only place they belong.

When the Crusaders journey to Huntingdon this week, they can leave their press clippings behind. In the Juniata Indians they will meet the season's most formidable foe. Veterans of the '49 S. U.-Juniata fray will tell you the Indians are not easy to scalp, especially when performing on their own reservation. Out to please a Homecoming crowd, they will be steamed up and ready to roll.

Who'll win the game? Without a doubt, the Crusaders have the stuff. But will they use it?

My prediction: (in small print) the Orange and Maroon by six points... Is my head or the crystal ball cracked?

BLAIR HEATON, head grid and cage mentor at Selingrove High School, was an outstanding athlete while attending S. U. He was a great performer on the hardwoods and gridiron but excelled in the track and field department in which he still holds six individual records.

A zany note in a check of home towns of the entire S. U. grid crew indicates that all personnel hail from either the Keystone or Garden State. This potpourri of grid talent can be attributed to the extensive interscholastic football programs carried on by both states. It's too bad we can't keep more of the local grid stars in our own back yard.

"CHET ROWE, who has played an outstanding brand of ball for the Crusader baseball and football squad, is also an accredited PIAA Basketball Official.

Radio Station WCNR BLOOMSBURG was again on hand to air the S. U.-National Aggies grid encounter.

SIDELINE SLANTS: Don Walter, hailing S. U. fullback, can really rock that line when he wants to. Head down and knees churning, he presents a rough target to stop... Rich Young really got whaled to the surface after cutting loose some mighty fine aeriels. He waits until he spots a receiver in the clear before he'll fire the pigskin. This is definitely an attribute of a good passer... I noticed some over-anxious S. U. linemen being caught in a Mouse-Trap on several occasions... It appears as if the Crusaders have steal-the-ball fever since MacNamara rifled the pigskin... If the Crusaders intend a repeat performance this week, the girls field hockey team should be primed up for reserve duty... After this week, we'll know just how good the Crusaders really are. This is their first real test. SCALP THE INDIANS!

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK

WHEW! Believe me, it wasn't easy to catch Susquehanna's busiest person to be our personality of the week. What? That's right, it's Faye Lewis. Our busy little miss started life in Coaldale, Pennsylvania on July 6, 1930. As a valedictorian, Faye graduated from her hometown high school in 1948. Scholastic honors were just one of her many accomplishments as Faye was also president of the Student Council and band, editor of the yearbook, the school orator, and active in dramatics. Faye was Coaldale's loss and Susquehanna's gain in the fall of 1948. Her many activities on our campus justify the name "busy little miss."

Faye has served as a cabinet member of the S.C.A. in her four-year membership, and also as a member of the Biemic Society, W.A.A. and W.A.A. Board, Tau Kappa, the Orientation Committee and the women's varsity basketball team. Last year's Lantern also went to press under the guidance of Editor Lewis.

As Faye has been on the Dean's List every semester on the campus, she made an ideal scholarship chairman for Alpha Delta Pi Sorority in her junior year and there is no question she has been a good president of the sorority this year. She attended the Alpha Delta Pi Centennial Convention in Macon, Georgia, as the delegate from Gamma Omicron Chapter. She is also an active member of Panhellenic Council.

As being the outstanding junior of the S.C.A. in her four-year membership, Faye received the Charles E. Covert Memorial prize and she was also the winner of the Stine Mathematics Award for her outstanding work in her major field.

Besides all of her scholastic attributes, Faye is also known for her friendliness around campus. We all know Faye will be an outstanding teacher of mathematics or physics after her graduation this June.

Sorority News

Alpha Delta Pi

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. C. Boyer (Shirley Showalter '50) who announced the arrival of a daughter, Ann Maria, on October 16.

Mrs. Stephen Sheppard, our province president, will arrive this Thursday for a short visit with the chapter.

Plans are already underway for our annual Christmas party for the underprivileged children in the Selinggrove vicinity. Each Gamma Omicron is knitting a pair of mittens for this party.

Grand Council of Alpha Delta Pi has announced the installation of Gamma Tau chapter at the University of Vermont in December, 1951.

We were glad to welcome sister Carol Campbell who was back visiting over the week-end.

We were happy to see so many parents on campus for Parents' Day. Congratulations again to the team for making it a perfect day.

Thursday, November 1, an open meeting for patronesses and alumnae of ADPI will be held in the chapter room. At that time President Faye Lewis will talk about her trip to the Centennial Convention last June.

Kappa Delta

Kappa Delta wishes to extend congratulations to the football team for winning the first three games. We wish them luck in the next three games.

Thanks to Mrs. Ralph Witmer, one of our new patronesses, for the bouquet of chrysanthemums which she presented to the sorority for their Alumnae Homecoming and Founders' Day celebrations.

Beta Upsilon held special Founders' Day celebrations in their sorority room, October 23. They also went to Bucknell University, October 30, to attend the Founders' Day celebration of Phi Tau. Beta Upsilon and Phi Tau are both members of Epsilon East Province of Kappa Delta.

We were glad to see our sister, Nancy Cosgrove, at the game Saturday; and it was good also to see all the parents here. We should have more special days for them.

S. A. I.

Sigma Omega Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota presented a program of secular music over station WKOK in Sunbury on Wednesday, October 24 from 10:30-11 p. m. The Sigma Omega Chorus of fifteen members was under the direction of Nancy Youhoun. Clara Mae Williams was the accompanist.

Included on the program were the following numbers: three Negro spirituals, "Little David Play On Your Harp," "I Got Shoes," and the Fred Waring arrangement of "Comin' Through The Rye." Also Sigmond Romberg's "Lover Come Back To Me," "A Spirit Flower," the "Prayer for Hansel and Gretel," and Fred Waring's arrangement of "This Is My Country."

Mrs. Ruth Gould, president of Eta Province of Sigma Alpha Iota, has announced she will visit Sigma Omega Chapter from November 6 through November 9. Plans which are being made for her visit include a musicale given by the activities of Sigma Omega, an initiation service, and a reception for the guest artist following the Star Course on November 8.

KNOW YOUR PROFESSOR

Mr. Howard DeMott

Coming to Susquehanna University for Assistant Professor Howard DeMott meant coming home. He was born in Bloomsburg, Pennsylvania and was graduated from Bloomsburg High School in 1931 and from Bloomsburg State Teachers College in 1935.

In 1940 two of the most memorable occasions in Mr. DeMott's life took place. He received his master's of science degree from Bucknell and the same year married Miss Janet Artley. They have one daughter, named Sally.

Past teaching experience includes the teaching of science and Latin at the Warren Township High School from 1935-41 and head of the science department at the Granville High School in New York State from 1941-48.

In 1948 Mr. DeMott realized one of his life's ambitions which was to be a college instructor. It was in 1948 that Mr. DeMott joined the rank and file of Susquehanna's faculty.

Diversions of Mr. DeMott's include gardening, general handicraft, and skiing. Summers are spent near a lake in northern Pennsylvania where fishing, boating, and swimming facilities are plentiful.

The DeMotts have made Selinggrove their community and have entered into community life. In the past, Mr. DeMott was scout master of the Selinggrove troop. He is a member of the Trinity Lutheran Church and serves on the church council. He serves as financial advisor to the S.C.A.

Anyone who has been associated with Mr. DeMott in any way knows him as one of the frankest but fairest and most helpful men on the faculty. He is to be admired as a teacher, as a father, and as a man.

Fifteen Girls Enter Unique Experiment By Ford Foundation

The first group of girls to enter a top-ranking woman's college in modern times without high school diplomas will begin a unique educational experiment at Goucher College this year. Of the 15 exceptionally talented girls from seven states chosen to study under the experimental acceleration program, none are high school graduates and all are between fifteen and sixteen and a half years old—well below the usual age for admission to college.

The program is being conducted by the Ford Foundation for the Advancement of Education to find out whether or not well-qualified girls can speed up the educational process. President Otto F. Kraushaar also announced the receipt of $108,400 to be used to provide resident scholarships for a total of thirty students over a three year period.

The experiment will determine whether these unusually talented young women, as judged by scores made in aptitude and achievement tests, may enter college profitably after the tenth year of school work and pursue a course in integrated general education during the first two years of college. At Goucher they will have the college's usual wide range of choice of liberal courses with selection governed by the individual's progress toward Goucher's eight educational objectives.

Faculty Tested By Students at State University of Iowa

Faculty members are now being "tested" by students at the State University of Iowa. Such rating plans are not new in teaching, but this is the first large-scale use of them on this campus. The faculty rating plan being used in the College of Liberal Arts under the direction of Dean Deway B. Stuit calls for the students to rate their instructors on the basis of their teaching methods, knowledge of subject, classroom personality, helpfulness, interest in the subject and testing procedure.

Students are asked to think of five of their other college teachers or high school teachers, in the case of freshmen—and to rank them in order from the best to the poorest. Then the students compare their present teachers with this standard, ranking them from one to five according to their performance.

By using this comparative scale it is not necessary to consider a number one professor as perfect, but simply as good as the best the student has had. Similarly, the number five teacher is not unfit for teaching, but compares with the poorest the student has had. The rating tests are voluntary with the instructors.

After the students have checked the test, their responses are recorded electrically and results are given to the instructors. No report is made to his superiors or to the University administration, and no one else sees the tests. The electric scoring machine also tabulates the total responses, so the teacher can compare his ratings with the averages of all those who were rated.

The faculty rating procedure is used as one means of improving the quality of university teaching. It places the responsibility for improvement with the individual instructor, on the basis of his students' opinions of him. A primary benefit of the plan applies to new teachers who have no idea of how they are getting along with their classes. Other teachers will probably use the tests every few years to chart their progress.

Studies made in other universities show that students are quite serious in analyzing their instructors and courses. Although the tests here are not signed by the students, signed tests have been given at other universities where surveys showed that there was no significant correlation between a student's standing in class and his evaluation of the instructor. This would indicate that the better students do not tend to rate their instructors highly while the poorer students rate them at a low level.

MUSIC NOTES

The University Band won second place in a competition among ten bands in a Halloween parade in Northumberland on October 29 at 8:00 p. m. The Sunbury American Legion Band of Post 201 won first place. On October 30, at 7:30 p. m., Barbara May was featured in her lighted baton routine in a parade in Selinsgrove. The Freeburg Band, under the direction of Donald Berninger, a student at the Conservatory, was among the other bands participating in the parade.

The game at Juniata was the only away game for the marching band. Any student interested in joining the concert band, now being formed, should contact Mr. John Leach at the Conservatory as soon as possible. Bassoon and clarinet players are especially needed.

Several Susquehanna students will present a musical program at the State Colony on Tuesday evening, November 13, at 7:00. The program will consist of the following:

Songs
"Bird Songs at Eventide" — Coates
"Rain" — Pearl Curran
"Patricia Sheldow"
Trombone Solo—Carl Musser
Song
"A Heart that's Free" — Robyn
Betty Weisenfuh
Square Dances

ATTENTION!
This is a chance for you to get any personal "gripes" or criticisms "off your chest." If something hasn't gone too well on campus this year, or if something at S. U. causes you to become discouraged, just write a letter to the editor.

Write up your letter and place it in the Susquehanna box on the first floor of G.A. by the water cooler, or give it to one of the editors. Each letter will be given personal consideration by the staff and will be considered for possible publication in the column, "Letters to the Editor." All articles must be signed but if requested, the names will not be published.

This column has been disregarded by the students in past years, so it's up to all of you to make this column really "tick."

WAA Members Meet; Bi-Monthly Swim Party Suggested

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Athletic Association was held November 5 in the Seibert social rooms.

Volunteers were asked to make up a Christmas program for the December meeting.

Audrey Wegner and Ellie Smith provided entertainment for the meeting. Miss Haresign and a few girls went swimming last Friday in Milton.

Miss Haresign has stated that if it is possible, she would like to take the girls swimming at least twice a month.

Bowling and square dancing are also on her list for the girls for this month.

IN MEMORIAM
In behalf of the student body, the staff of the Susquehanna wishes to express its sympathies to Mr. Axel Kleinsorg on the death of his mother, Saturday, November 3, 1951.

Irene Hawthorne and Salient Troupe To Present Program; Classical, Satirical Ballet, Thursday Evening in Chapel

The second number of this year's star courses will be presented Thursday, November 8, in Seibert Chapel at 8:15 p. m. This program of ballet is arranged by Miss Irene Hawthorne, premier danseuse.

Miss Hawthorne, who was born in San Francisco of Scottish-Spanish descent, has displayed achievements both as dancer and choreographer, with a fresh, spontaneous approach which is distinctively American.

She has appeared as the premiere danseuse of the Metropolitan Opera Association for two seasons, as premiere danseuse and as choreographer for the Opera Nacional, Mexico, for two seasons, and as prima ballerina in the Theatre Guild's Broadway musical, "Sing Out Sweet Land." She has appeared also as guest soloist with both the San Francisco Symphony and the San Francisco Opera Company and has toured extensively with the Metropolitan Opera Ballet Company. During the past summer she was guest soloist with the New Orleans Symphony.

At present, in addition to continuing her own distinguished performances, she is directing and has prepared the choreography for the group which appears with her. This program of imaginative and fascinating dances features dramatic highlights from the best-loved of the great operas.

Included in Miss Hawthorne's group of distinguished young dancers are Miss Virginia Poe, a member of the company of such successful Broadway shows as "Oklahoma," "Billon Dollar Baby," and "Allegro;" Mr. Joey Harris, who has appeared as the leading dancer in "Ballet in the Ballet" in London; and Mr. Lynn Petty, who has appeared in concerts and operettas on the west coast and has made several TV appearances in New York.

Assisted by these three artists, Miss Hawthorne will present four groups of dances, each mirroring impressions of an important era, its styles, manners, movements, and emotions, each group culminating in an operatic scene, emulating its own period.

Ranging from the classical to the satirical and enhanced by beautiful costumes, stunning make-up, and unusual lighting effects, the program will be an enjoyable and an artistic one.

Seats Not Reserved for Play in Little Theater; Exchange Tickets Now

The play, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" will be given on November 15, 16, and 17 for the university students and guests. The seats for the play are not reserved; however, there will be only as many tickets sold as there are seats available. Students may receive their tickets by exchanging activity ticket number six for one ticket or by purchasing tickets at $1.00 apiece.

The curtain rises at 8:15 p. m. promptly. Please be in your seat at that time so as not to disturb other persons by a late arrival.

Alpha Psi Omega Meets Batschelet, New Officer

The monthly meeting of Alpha Psi Omega was held on Thursday, November 1, 1951.

At the meeting, Larry Batschelet was elected to the office of secretary-treasurer. This office was left vacant by Elaine Adamick, who is now enrolled at Ohio State University.

There is an article to be written by this chapter to be entered in "Playbill," the national newspaper. The name of the article will be announced later.

W.D.S. to Hold a Dinner For Men Day Students

On Friday, November 2, 1951, the Women Day Students adopted a Constitution which will govern and regulate their activities. Among other things, the Constitution provides for one social event each month.

In September, the organization held a dinner in the Day Room. The October event was a Halloween Party held at the home of Mrs. Elinor Auran in Sunbury. Entertainment was provided by Nancy Lopley and alumnae, Jean Hill.

For November, the Women Day Students are planning a joint dinner to be held with the Men Day Students as guests. It will be held at noon on Wednesday, November 14, 1951, in the Women's Day Room. Plans are now being completed for the activity.

Sadie Hawkins is Theme Of Tau Kappa Dance

O. K. gals, put on them that jet-propelled track shoes and commence chasing. This here's that tar big chance of a life time you've heard tell of.

Tau Kappa is giving a Sadie Hawkins Dance next Saturday nite.

All gals able to hook a man is expected to be thar at 8. The shindig lasts till 12.

The dance ain't formal, jist wear jeans.

As usual, kick-ga-poo joy juice will be on hand to wet your whistles.

Now gals, don't be lettin' them thar fellers git away. Lasso them, hit them over the head, tie them up, but git them thar! If you don't, you'll have to wait till next year!

"Roman Roads" Chosen As Ciceroniani Project

The November meeting of the Ciceroniani was held Thursday, November 1, in Seibert Social Rooms.

Several projects were discussed for the coming year. The final decision was to construct models of Roman roads, particularly the Via Appia. These models will be exhibited near the close of the school year.

Copies of the Constitution were distributed to all members and prospective members at the beginning of the business meeting, and important points were emphasized by Consul Henry Albright.

Following the business meeting, Henry Albright and Ruth Osborn gave talks on Roman roads and their construction. The meeting was concluded with refreshments.

At the next meeting, the new members of the Latin department will be initiated into the Ciceroniani. The cultural discussion, led by Henry Albright and Ruth Osborn, will be a comparative study of Roman and Christian Christmas festivities. Christmas carols will also be studied in Latin.

COACH A. A. STAGG, SR. IN FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

Coach A. A. Stagg, Sr., was elected last week to the new football Hall of Fame at Rutgers University. This project is divided into two groups—players and coaches. Thirty-two players and twenty-one coaches were elected. Coach Stagg was the only one who won recognition as both player and coach.

A Better Understanding Of the Star Course

The Star Course will present four dancers from the Metropolitan Opera Company. Since Ted Shawn appeared here last year, the dance has become a topic of general interest to the student body. The Star Course Committee, complying with student demands, will again present a program of the dance.

Until ten years ago, the only permanent U. S. Ballet company was in New York. A few foreign troupes toured the country. At first Anna Pavlova, the Danish-born group and rarely Isadora Duncan. With the opening of the musical "Oklahoma" in 1943, ballet has taken a turn for the better in the U. S. Agnes DeMille created the ballet for "Oklahoma" as well as in "Carousel" and "Allegro." Jerome Robbins did the ballet in "High Button Shoes" and "The King and I." Jerome Robbins along with Leonard Bernstein created "On the Town" which was billed as a Ballet Musical. This popular show was made into a movie and the ballet scenes were very popular. This movie and "Words and Music" "Slaughter On Tenth Avenue" have set a precedent for musical movies. Few of the first-class movie musicals have less than one important ballet scene. The British have also helped America appreciate ballet in movies with "The Red Shoes" and now a complete ballet in the form of "The Tales of Hoffman."

For a better understanding of ballet, a few terms are defined. This should help you know what the dancers are doing in the Star Course.

CHOREOGRAPHER—one who designs the dance, constructs its movements, formulates its steps.

CORPS DE BALLET—the background chorus.

DIVERTISSEMENT—a diversion; a dance for the sake of dance with no emotional or story telling significance.

PAS DE DEUX—a dance for two, usually the prima ballerina and the principal danseur.

PAS DE TROIS—a dance for three.

PRIMA BALLERINA—the heroine.

PRINCIPAL DANSEUR—the hero.

Dr. Gilbert Speaks To Auxiliary; Fund Swells for New Con

The members of the Women's Auxiliary were honored to listen to a very interesting address given by Dr. Russell Gilbert, professor of German. Dr. Gilbert chose as his topic "The Amazing Story of the Pennsylvania Germans" in which he spoke on the characteristics, customs, ideals and contributions of these people. This program and meeting held on November 3, in the Little Theater on Susquehanna's campus is the second in a series of nine which will be held once a month on Saturday afternoons at two-thirty, after which a tea will be served.

The business meeting, under the leadership of the president, Mrs. Russell C. Hatz was opened by a devotional period with Mrs. Charles Snyder in charge. Various committee reports reflected the progress gained by the "incere efforts and hard work of the members."

The promotion committee, headed by Mrs. G. Morris Smith, reported having sent letters to all parents of freshmen students to which there has been a tremendous response. Their committee is also looking forward to receiving many entries in the "Children's Book" as well as in the "Leaves of Remembrance" and the "Golden Book" during the Christmas season. Recognition was given to Don and Flora Wilsinger upon their entry in the "Golden Book" as the result of a wedding gift. The scholarship committee reported having awarded a $100 scholarship to Miss Francis Drumm of Berwick.

With Apologies

Imitation!

Herb Craft: "I didn't forget your birthday, dear. I bought you this beautiful coat."

Jayne Dailey: "But, darling, you promised me a new car."

Herb: "I know, precious, but I can't find anybody who's selling imitation autos."

Oh Baby—

Recently one of the girls in Seibert came in early one evening and began passing out cigarettes and candy, both with blue ribbons. Somewhat puzzled and more than a little surprised, we asked the occasion. Proudly she displayed the solitaire on her third finger, left hand, and announced: "It's a boy—six feet tall and 185 pounds!"

Basic Training

Len was boring Carol to tears when in came her dog.

"Ah," he exclaimed, "have you taught him any tricks since I was here last?"

"Yes," she replied sweetly, "if you whistle he'll bring your hat."

Bleach?

The other night Dick Burley and Ellie Smith were quarreling.

"Kindly return my lock of hair," she said angrily. To which Dick snapped: "All right, do you want the dark lock, or the one you gave me when you were a blond?"

Daffynitions!

Allimony—heart-earned money.
Patience—doing something else in the meantime.

Gold-digger—a girl who breaks dates by going out with him.

Optimist—a person who tells you to cheer up when things are going his way.

Reformer—one who insists upon his conscience being your guide.

Modern—a word often used to justify what has no other merit.

Touching Tribute

Came the day of their 25th wedding anniversary and the man of the house started out to do his work in the fields as usual.

"John," his wife called. "Don't you know what day this is?"

"Yes, indeed I do," said John smoothly.

"Well, how are we going to celebrate it?" persisted his wife.

"Sure and I don't know, Maggie," said John scratching his head in puzzlement. "How about two minutes of silence?"

Hard to Tell

Bob Kurtz tells us this one—

At a summer camp the boys turned up neatly scrubbed, brushed, and shining in their city clothes. The polish soon wore off in horseplay and games and before dinner the counselor sent them to the washroom with the usual stern advice about washing hands and combing hair.

One small boy, among the last to return, passed inspection on hands but his hair was in violent disarray and the counselor gently pointed out this omission.

"I'm sure I combed it," the boy insisted. Then pausing reflectively, he added: "But there were so many heads in the mirror maybe I combed the wrong one."

Getting Even?

Frank Compton drew up his chair beside his wife's sewing machine.

"Don't you think you're running too fast?" he asked. "Look out! You'll sew the wrong seam. Mind that corner now! Slow down, watch your finger. Steady!"

"What's the matter with you, Frank?" asked his wife. "I've been running this machine for years."

"Well, dear, I thought you might like me to help you, since you help me drive the car."

Portrait of a Husband

He jingles coins
And drums his fingers,
And in the tub
He always lingers.
Won't shop with me,
Laughs at my hats,
Reads avidly,
But never chats.
He's always right
And I agree,
For after all
He married me.

KNOW YOUR PROFESSOR

In 1945 Dr. Kenneth B. Waterbury joined the faculty at Susquehanna University. Dr. Waterbury, who received his B.S., M.Ed., and Ed.D. degrees from Pennsylvania State College, is associate professor of education at Susquehanna.

Before coming to Susquehanna Dr. Waterbury taught at Wesley College in Delaware and prior to this had ten years of high school teaching experience. His early education was received at the Lock Haven High School.

Dr. Waterbury has as his hobbies hunting, fishing and gardening. He also has a great passion for diamonds.

"If I were a millionaire," says Dr. Waterbury, "I would be a Diamond Jim Brady II."

In his undergraduate days our professor of the week was a member of Kappa Phi Kappa, an education fraternity and Phi Delta Kappa, an honor education society. He is a member of the Masonic Lodge, Consistory, and Shrine. On campus Dr. Waterbury is an honorary member of Theta Chi Fraternity and a faculty member of Pi Gamma Mu. He is also teacher of the Men's Bible Class of Trinity Lutheran Church, Selinsgrove.

On being questioned about why he likes Susquehanna, Dr. Waterbury replied, "I like a small, friendly school; I feel that at a large school you are just a number. The friendly atmosphere, the personal contacts, and personal relationships with students and other faculty members here at Susquehanna are just the things I like in a school."

Letters to the Editor

In my three years on campus, I have come to notice some peculiarities in the marking system of certain professors. This is prevalent especially in essay tests. It is funny what magical marks some students will draw, while other names can't get better than a "C" grade. Another thing that perplexes me is what do your grades in other courses have to do with a particular course? It is perfectly normal for a student to be very proficient in one course and not as good in another. Why should a low mark in another course from a different professor handicap you in the one you are taking now?

I realize it is hard for the professors not to have some personal feeling in a small college like Susquehanna. I would like to propose a system whereby everyone would be treated on an absolutely equal basis.

Before the test the students would draw numbers not revealing their number to the professor. Instead of names appearing at the head of the tests the numbers would be substituted. After the tests are marked, the numbers would be revealed.

This should solve the problem for all. The only drawback might be embarrassment and the red faces of certain professors. I wonder whether the marks would be distributed as they are at present?—R. H. C.

VESPERS

"Christian Answer Boldly" was the title of the Sunday vesper meditation. In conveying this idea to a congregation of faculty and students, Charles Snyder of the Bond and Key Fraternity moulded it around incidents from the life of Moses, St. Paul, and present-day life.

Charles was assisted by two of his fraternity brothers. These were Lester Heilman, who presided at the organ, and Roger Rohrbaugh, who served as liturgist, and in so doing read the scripture, led the group in a responsive reading and announced the hymns which were "Onward Christian Soldiers," "The Church's One Foundation," and "Come Thou Almighty King."

S. U. Crusaders Scalp JC 21-12 For Fourth Victory; Dick Herr, Steve Torok, and Don Walter Score Touchdowns

Susquehanna University's Crusaders journeyed to Huntingdon on Saturday to play Juniata College, for the first of three away games. The Stagmen downed the Indians 21-12 on the strength of three second-half touchdowns. All Juniata's scoring came in the final period. Rich Young maintained his better than .500 passing average as he completed 8 passes in sixteen attempts. Young also was the leading ground gainer. He picked up 102 net yards rushing in 26 carries. Herr, Torok, and Walters scored for the Crusaders. Young converted three times. Rutter and Hepak tallied for Juniata College.

First Quarter

Juniata's Laschivo took Don Walters opening kick-off on the Juniata 20 yard line and ran it back to the 38. Laschivo and McNeil moved the ball to the 46 yard line in three plays and then kicked on the fourth down. S. U. took over on their 18 and with Young and Fenstermacher carrying the pigskin, the Crusaders picked up three first downs and moved down to their own 27 yard line. Runs of 11 and 27 yards by Young kept the drive moving. Juniata recovered a fourth-down fumble and ended the threat.

McNeil picked up six and five yards for a first down on the 39 yard line of Juniata. McNeil completed a 23-yard pass to Wagoner, after picking up four yards through the line, and J. C.

had a first down on the S. U. 35. A one yard gain by Laschivo and two incomplete passes made it four down and nine on the 34. A bad pass from J. C. center, LeFevre, and a Crusader recovery gave S. U. the ball on the 45.

Fenstermacher gained none. Young threw two incomplete passes and then kicked to the Indian 39. McNeil gained seven yards. Laschivo lost five. Then Hamor broke away for 26 yards and a first down on S. U.'s 33. McNeil netted eleven and another first down. Seven more yards for McNeil. Five yards and another first down through the line for Hamor, placing the ball on the S. U.'s ten yard line as the quarter ended.

Second Quarter

Laschivo moved the ball to the six yard line. On the next play the Crusaders recovered an Indian fumble and took over on the S. U. ten yard line. Young netted ten yards on the ground, then lost three. Fenstermacher lost one. Young picked up eight and then kicked to the Juniata 31. Moving on the ground the Indians gained four first downs and moved 64 yards in nine plays to the Crusaders five. Another fumble recovered by the Stagmen ended the threat. Fenstermacher and Young picked up a first down before two passes fell incomplete and the Crusaders kicked out to the S. U. 48 yard line. Juniata, again staying on the ground, moved with the help of three first downs to the Crusaders' eleven. But the attack stalled and S. U. gained possession of the pigskin. A 15 yard penalty and a 2 yard gain by Young moved the ball out to the Crusaders 28 yard line.

Young lost 10 yards, one pass fell incomplete, and then S. U. kicked. The flick was partially blocked and traveled but eight yards. Juniata gained control on the 27 yard line of S. U. Three plays later the Indians lifted their noses out of the turf and found themselves on the 40 yard line—13 yards lost in three plays.

Fenstermacher picked up two and moved to the 42 yard line of S. U. Young's pass to Torok moved the ball to the Indian 26 yard line, a gain of thirty-four yards and the first completed pass of the afternoon for the Stagmen. Another pass to Torok moved the play nine yards closer to the end zone on the 17 yard line. A five yard penalty moved the ball back to the 22 after Young lost five yards while attempting to pass, and the half ended with S. U. in possession on the J. C. 27 yard line.

Third Quarter

Juniata received the second half kick-off and after failing to pick up the necessary ten yards, punted to the S. U. 30. The Crusaders tried three plays and then they attempted this time to the Juniata 29. Jim Dell intercepted a McNeil pass on the Juniata 38 yard line. Young threw a pitch-out to Ross who moved the ball up to the J. C. 26 yard line. Fenstermacher gained two and then a Young to Herr pass netted the remaining 24 yards for Susquehanna's first score. Young converted.

Don Walters' kick was returned by the Indians to their 31. Hamor gained four yards, Hepak netted two and Hamor picked up five more for a first down. McNeil gained three, Hamor two and McNeil again for six and another first down. Hamor lost four yards and a Young (not our Rich) pass fell incomplete. McNeil lost eleven and then Juniata kicked to the Crusaders 31. Young (this time it's our Rich) gained 21 yards in three plays. Score—S. U. 7, Juniata 0 as the quarter ended.

Fourth Quarter

The Crusaders drew a 15-yard penalty. Fenstermacher gained one. Young passed to Torok who scored. The play covered 61 yards. Young converted.

Hepak snared Walters' kick-off on the J. C. 19 yard line and ran up the middle of the field to the fifty, cut to the left side of the field and then outran the Crusaders for the first Juniata score. The run covered a total of 81 yards—the longest run of the afternoon. Glib Davis blocked the attempted extra-point. Rich Young returned the Juniata kick-off to the Juniata 42. J. C. drew an off-side penalty. Young gained three, Fenstermacher gained eight and a first down. Young lost eleven and then S. U. drew a fifteen yard penalty. Crusaders went into punt formation but Young ran for 35 yards, short of a first down however because of the previous loss and penalty.

Juniata took over. Gould lost 2. Hepak gained 2. Hepak's kick carried only 12 yards and the Crusaders had the ball on J. C.'s thirty-five yard line. Passes to Torok and Pritchard gained eleven yards and a first down on the 24 yard line. Young gained 13 yards and moved the ball to the 11 yard line. A pass to Ross moved it to the first yard line. Young moved forward to the one and gained another first down. Walter scored from the one. Young converted. Score—S. U. 21, J. C. 6.

Muchoney ran the kick-off back to the J. C. 37 yard line. A penalty moved the ball back to the 32. Hepak passed to Rutter who carried the ball to the S. U. twelve yard line—a total distance of 56 yards. Two plays later Rutter took a pass in the end zone for the final J. C. score. The extra-point attempt was wide. S. U. and J. C. exchanged possession of the ball and the game ended.

Hard play and numerous penalties marred activity throughout the afternoon. The injury of "Lundy" Laschivo in the second period was a great loss for the Indians. At the time of his injury, "Lundy" had netted minus 38 yards for the Indians. He had been the Indians' leading ground gainer and scorer before the S. U. game.

SPORTS CHATTER

By RICHARD STOUT

THE CRUSADERS DEFINITELY REBOUNDED from an unimpressive victory over the National Agricultural Institute to defeat a scrapping Juniata College team on a rain-soaked gridiron in a game which was played in freezing temperatures. This engagement marked the first occasion the weather man, who had been good to the Crusaders, played havoc upon S. U.'s passing offense. Nevertheless, it was through the air the Crusaders finally rolled after holding the Indians scoreless in a dead-locked first half.

The Crusaders journey to Haverford this week to meet the Fords of Haverford College. The Fords, who are always tough for the Crusaders, will be out to avenge a stinging 14-7 defeat by the Orange and Maroon a year ago. Behind this encounter rests a little incident which will always be registered in S. U. sports annals.

Stan Baumgardner, a leading Philadelphia sports writer, was doing a feature on the Haverford squad. When his article appeared in the Philadelphia Inquirer, a statement was made somewhat similar to this: "The Fords who are currently preparing for their traditional battle with Swarthmore will have a soft touch when they go to Selingrove to meet little Susquehanna this week." SOFT TOUCH was placed on the Bulletin Board as well as the S. U. dressing room. The remainder of the story rests in the score. It was a happy Homecoming Day crowd which left University Field.

My prediction for this week: THE CRUSADERS BY 15 POINTS—but it's not going to be a walk.

The vulnerability of S. U.'s pass defense will be a big problem when the Crusaders take on the Ursinus Bears. While the Glick to Glick combination has been broken by the latter's graduation, Big Bill Swett, rangy 6'7" and whom you will remember as a center on the basketball squad, has been a favorite target for the Glick fired passes.

SIDELINE SLANTS: There was plenty of orange and maroon on the sidelines for the S. U.-Juniata tilt. A motorcade of approximately 150 students were on hand to witness the hard-fought encounter. . . Spider Tkaczyk's interception proved the turning point of the game. Tkaczyk who shared the limelight with Brouse and Livermore in the defensive wall has excelled at his defensive end position all year. . . Glib Davis looked good blocking an Indian extra point attempt. . . Gene "Pappy" Fenstermacher played his usual good game before given a rest in the closing minutes after having played the entire game. . . Sam Ross looked like first string material upon substituting for the disabled Mike Rising who was injured in the early portion of the game. . . It was another great performance for the Crusaders' Rich Young. Any kind of a similar performance in the remaining two games should definitely make him a candidate for All-State and Little All-American honors. . . Light horse Lundy Laschivo, highly-touted Juniata triple-threat back had a negative net yardage rushing. . . Jim Hazzett played his usually fine game and really took the punishment in the middle of the line. . . The spirit displayed at the game was unsurpassable. How many of you will we see in Haverford this week? Let's get together and back the team.

—Saturday and Sunday remain the most dangerous days of the week in traffic.

Bond and Key

Last Wednesday evening before the regular meeting a pledging ceremony was held for five new men. The new pledges are William Bastian, Lewis Paulhamus, Stuart Lengel, Ned Arbogast, and Graydon Lose.

In preparation for a big day Saturday, several brothers were up before the milkman and cooked a ham and eggs breakfast for the football players from the house. From all indications it certainly helped to start the day right for the men.

We noticed some former members at Juniata cheering and urging the team to victory. John Witowski was in his familiar spot, in front of the bench, giving helpful advice. Also in the stands we were happy to see Bruce Wagner and Walt Wolstein.

There is a ping pong tournament under way in the house at the present time with the winners of both singles and doubles receiving prizes.

At Vespers Sunday night, Bond and Key was well represented by Charles Snyder, speaker, Roger Rohrbach, liturgist, Les Hellman, organist, and a large group of actives who participated in the service.

In following up the alumni we find that Mr. and Mrs. "Jake" Harder are the proud parents of a baby girl. From Harrisburg, news was received that Marsh Bogar has been inducted into the U. S. Army.

Thursday evening will bring back more pizza to the campus from the house. During last week the oven was given a rest but now that mid-term tests are passed we can start passing the pizza again.

Congratulations to the football team again and special recognition goes to Dick Herr who broke the ice Saturday when he scored the first touchdown against Juniata.

Phi Mu Delta

Our deepest gratitude goes to cooks Jim Withler, Clair Mitch, and Ed Kopf who have taken over the kitchen work while our cook, Mrs. Robert Menze, is laid up with a sprained ankle. We hope that she will soon be with us again.

Brother Ed Kopf was elected as new social chairman on October 31. Plans are under way for bigger and better events in the future.

Congratulations once again to our victorious Crusaders. That undefeated season is just over the hill and our team can do it! Let's show 'em gang! Continue that winning streak! Run over Haverford and win that game!

Alpha Delta Pi

Wednesday evening, November 7, Gamma Omicron chapter of ADPI will entertain its patronesses and local alumnae members.

Two of our local alumnae, Mrs. J. W. Smith and Mrs. R. Gilbert, attended our meeting last Wednesday evening. Our local alumnae president, Mrs. A. A. Stagg, Jr., announced that candy sales will not be held this year because of conflict with the Student Union. Mrs. Stephen Sheppard, our province president, was with us for a short visit last week. She held an informal meeting with the actives in the Kappa Delta room on Thursday evening. Later on, in that same evening, she spoke to the alumnae and patronesses in our own chapter room.

Sisters Ann Schumacher and Tammy Perkins worked with the local Brownie troop last Tuesday afternoon. Sisters Ruth Smith and Ethel McGrath volunteered to alternate weeks working with the troop.

Kappa Delta

Beta Upsilon chapter was a guest of Phi Tau chapter of Kappa Delta at Bucknell University, October 30. Members of the Alumnae association from this area were also present. Dr. Leonard F. Bush, orthopedic surgeon from Geisinger Memorial Hospital, Danville, was the speaker. His talk contained many interesting things concerning orthopedic clinics and also "Camp Daddy Allen," a camp for orthopedic children. He showed movies of the camp which presented the work which is done there.

Beverly Newcum, President of Phi Tau, gave her convention report to the group, after which refreshments were served.

Mrs. Ann Uish and Miss Frances Brunkhorst, alumnae advisors attended the regular sorority meeting of Kappa Delta, Wednesday, October 31.

An alumnae Christmas letter will be printed this year and sent to all of the alumnae of the past two years. Miss Brunkhorst is the chairman of this project.

Margaret Henderson and Maxine Youm helped at the Selinggrove Community center this week.

Beta Upsilon was invited to attend the open house of Beta Delta chapter at Utah State Agricultural College, Logan, Utah. Beta Upsilon sent a gift to them.

A gift of two volumes of the History of Kappa Delta was presented to the sorority by the patronesses and alumnae.

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK

The spotlight this week falls on a well-known man who is quite active at Susquehanna. It is none other than Ed Wolstanton.

Ed was born on August 26, 1929, in the city of Warren, Pennsylvania, and in due time entered Warren High. Ed was an active boy in school playing sports. He engaged in football, baseball, and basketball for four years, was elected president of the Junior Class and was also president of the Senior Class. While a senior, Ed was voted "most popular" of his class.

After graduating from high school in 1947, Ed worked in the Warren Oil Refinery and stayed a year on the job. However, in 1948, Ed wanted to further his education and chose to come to the "little" college of Susquehanna.

Ed picked Susquehanna because it was a small school with a good business course and also being far enough away from home so that week-end trips would be unhandy. Being very active at Susquehanna, Ed has taken the responsibility of proctor in Selinggrove Hall, Men's Student Council President, and is a member of Bond and Key Fraternity, Student Christian Association and the Business Society. In sports, Ed played baseball four years, basketball two years, and intramurals.

After graduation, Ed plans to enter some phase of business and serve a calling in the United States Army. We are sure Ed will succeed in anything he undertakes and we wish him the best of luck for the future.

MUSIC NOTES

On Sunday, November 11, at 2:00 p. m., Joan Bates and George Perrey each sang two solo numbers for a special service at the Mt. Pleasant Mills Lutheran Church in Freeburg. Miss Bates sang "Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled" by Stanley Reiff and "God is a Spirit" by Charles Scott. Mr. Perrey's selections were "Comfort Ye" and "Every Valley" by Handel from "The Messiah." Ruth Freed accompanied them on the organ.

The student afternoon recital class for this month was held on Tuesday afternoon, November 13, at 4:30 p. m. in Seibert Chapel. The program was as follows:

1. Piano
"Bagpipe" from "Sonatina" Ronald Goodman Bartok
2. Cornet
"A Trumpeter's Lullaby" Kenneth Orris Anderson
3. Piano
"Old Vienna" Josephine Stuter Godowsky
4. Song
"Hear Me, Ye Winds and Waves" Kenneth Hill Handel
5. Piano
"Etude in B Flat" Peggy Heffelfinger Rogers
6. Song
"Gesang Weyla" Frances Drummond Wolf
7. Piano
"Marionettes Go Marching" Joanne Smolinsky Eckstein
8. Song
"Invocation to Orpheus" Peggy Hults Perl
9. Song
"Rondo" from "Concerto in E Flat" William Beckwith Mozart
10. Piano
"Ventilant Boat Song" Mendelssohn Jerome Purta

Hero or Guts

It's November in Korea . . . but don't expect pretty flowers. No one can find the sun . . . because the dead are in the way! But they hear a rumbling which the dead soldiers can not hear . . . as a long, winding necklace of G. I. trucks snakes its way over a narrow mountain road between two towns! Up in the heavens, above the caravan of trucks, the leader of twenty enemy jets signals his men and yells for action.

Yes, there was the usual screaming of the bombs, the rat-a-tat of machine guns, the moans of men, but they held their breath when the convoy of trucks without complete destruction. Soon the attack was over and two lone men survived. They cursed the enemy and then picked up their dead and wounded. One man was a corporal, the other a private . . . two men fighting but yet not fighting as they drove off in a truck, the only one left in the convoy.

Safely back behind the lines, they washed up and talked about their lousy job of driving trucks and wished they too might be out in front to hit the enemy. Why should they sit like ducks to the little convoy of trucks front could at least fight back? Sure the guys on the front have a chance to fight back but there are just as many there that are like the ducks . . . waiting to be picked off. But, corporal and private, you know nothing about that. You sleep in your sack safely tucked away and have visions of being a hero.

You sleep but not for long. The Sarge comes into your tent and yells for you two to get up. Why? The guys on the front need "ammo" and lots of it. You're real sore at the army now. You figure you ought to get a chance to fight, too. You want action and a chance to be a hero . . . maybe even win a medal!

The truck you are to drive is loaded, and you get behind the wheel. Nice easy job and you still are angry. You both talk over the job to be done

The Critic Speaks

By Gordon Joyce

Miss Irene Hawthorne and her group of three artists played to a large, appreciative audience on November 8 in Seibert Chapel.

These artists were more entertaining than last year's dancer, Ted Shawn, but they were not as educational.

Unfortunately the stage was too small to enable them to give free expression to their dances. This unavoidable handicap prevented the complete presentation of Chopin's "Chopiniana" (Suite De Danses) and one of the favorites of all continents, Bizet's "Carmen."

"Gagliarda," the first number of the program presented by Miss Hawthorne's group, did not seem to have audience appeal. The haughtiness and cruelty to be depicted in this dance seemed stilted, rough, and ungraceful.

The numbers to follow, however, lessened the fear of a poor program. J. Strauss' "Fladermaus Quadrille" was performed by Miss Virginia Poe and Mr. Lynn Petty. This light frivolous number was well received and appreciated. Both Miss Poe and Mr. Petty showed they were not amateurs.

Mr. Joey Harris in Meyerbeer's "Variations" gave a very striking rendition. The dance, though extremely strenuous, was gracefully presented.

Miss Hawthorne in "Bolero," a courtship dance of the Spanish aristocracy, was breathtaking. Her grace and charm seemed combined into one dynamic ball of fire as she swayed rhythmically to the clicking of her castanets.

The crowning feature of the program was marked by the entire cast's presentation of Puccini's "Turandot." It was in this masterpiece that the importance of facial expression and interpretive body movement was most noticeable. In "The Red Shoes" the important use of facial expression was not as apparent because more emphasis was placed on "The Shoes."

"THE BARRETTS OF WIMPOLE STREET" IS FIRST PLAY IN LITTLE THEATER

"The Barretts of Wimpole Street" will be presented in our Little Theater, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday evenings, November 15, 16, and 17, at 8:15 p. m. under the direction of Mr. Axel Kleinsorg. Although the use of our Little Theater will be a "first," it will be equalled by the presentation of this Victorian play with its excellent directing, characterization, acting and the creation of the setting.

"The Barretts of Wimpole Street" is a Victorian play, the action taking place in the home of the Barrett family on Wimpole Street in London, England. The entire story evolves from the combination bed-sitting room of Elizabeth Barrett, Elizabeth, the oldest of the Barrett family, is an invalid and lives in her room totally secluded from the outside world except from the contacts with her books and her two sisters and six brothers, who also live at home. All are unmarried and ruled by their domineering father, Edward Moulton-Barrett.

Elizabeth, who writes poetry extensively, has corresponded with another English poet, Robert Browning. When he comes to see her, Elizabeth and Robert immediately begin a splendid friendship. Elizabeth is so impressed by him she rises from her sofa and sags to the window to see Robert leave. This meeting and their following visits mean much to Elizabeth and as her love grows for Robert she again walks, and she faces life with the excitement and joy as if she were a young girl again.

Meanwhile Edward Barrett is still dominating the life of his family and forbids another daughter, Henrietta, to love a captain in the English army. Elizabeth and Robert plan to marry secretly and go to Italy for the winter after Elizabeth's father forbids her to go although her doctors have ordered it. Elizabeth and Robert marry secretly and leave the house on Wimpole Street accompanied by her maid, Wilson. Elizabeth's father, after reading the letter she had left him, becomes very angry and shows he shall have nothing more to do with Elizabeth by asking to have her dog destroyed, but Elizabeth has even defeated him in this way by taking her dog with her.

Elizabeth Barrett is portrayed by Joan Bates. Joan has proved her capability by her performances in "The Taming of the Shrew" and "The Willow and I." Wilson, her maid, is Barbara Easton, who has also appeared in "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay."

Doctor Chambers and Doctor Ford Waterlow, Elizabeth's physicians, will be portrayed by Jake Spangler and Kaj Kristofferson. Jake appeared in "The Taming of the Shrew" and as a freshman, Kaj will make his first appearance with the Susquehanna Players.

Elizabeth's two sisters will be Charlotte Newman as Henrietta and Mimi Vogler as Arabel. Charlotte has been active in dramatics since she came to Susquehanna, and Mimi is the grand director of Alpha Psi Omega.

Robert Browning is portrayed by Mike Lamade, pinch hitting for Al Vollmers, who was stricken with the mumps on the day before the opening

VESPERS

"Andante Religioso" by Mendelssohn opened the Sunday vesper service in Seibert Hall Chapel when it was played as the prelude by Voylet Dietz, organist. Following the opening hymn, "My God How Wonderful Thou Art," Joyce Gilbert, a member of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority, and liturgist for the evening, read the scripture lesson which was recorded in Romans 12:1-8. She also offered the evening prayer before a congregation of approximately sixty persons.

The story of the life of Albrecht Durer and of his famous painting "Praying Hands" served as the topic for the evening meditation which was given by Shirley Thompson, also a member of ADPI.

In closing, Shirley transformed the idea of praying hands into the lives of those who listened. Our hands, though they are so intricately formed and belong to our physical bodies, do not belong to us but to God, their creator. "Have we let him have the use of our hands as he wishes," stated the speaker. "He made them to be used in His service, and His work is not accomplished if we do not do it by the means that He has provided," she remarked.

Following the closing hymn, "Jesus the Very Thought of Thee," the organist played a Mendelssohn chorale as a postlude.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK "HOW SHOULD WE CELEBRATE AN UNDEFEATED SEASON?" ANSWERED WITH SPIRIT AND ENTHUSIASM BY STUDENTS

If the team is undefeated, what honor should be bestowed upon them?

The enthusiastic school spirit this year has been greatly rewarded. Under the able coaching of the famous father and son combination, the team has been accredited as one of the best, if not the best, passing combinations in the East.

Names like Fenstermacher, Young, Prichard, MacNamara, Rising and Ross will long be remembered in Susquehanna's football history.

What are we going to do for these men of glory who have done so much for us?

Susquehanna's reputation for clean play and good sportsmanship will bring laurels to our campus.

Students and faculty should give serious thought to this question of the week. In the wake of pending victory, something must be done for our players to show our appreciation, admiration, and adoration for their great spirit and undying will to win.

Dick Stout: "Give the team an eight game schedule."

Ned Condon: "I think we should all have a week off."

Joanne Heiny: "I think the school should continue to support them in all sports."

John Morrow: "Take them to New York and give them a good week-end."

Ken Hempstead: "We should have every Saturday off for the rest of the semester."

Fred Winckler: "Give them a chance to play in some bowl game."

Edith Brew: "I think the entire student body should be given a day off to celebrate."

Al Jones: "Give them hotel rooms for away games. As it is they have to leave at six in the morning the day of the game."

Administration News

On Tuesday, November 6, Dr. Percy Linebaugh and Mr. Dan MacCulish attended a college night program at the York High School in York, Pennsylvania. They interviewed many prospective students with the help of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wissinger, classes of '50 and '51 respectively.

Miss Sambrook attended the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Association of Deans of Women held at the Penn-Harris Hotel in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania on the second and third of November. Miss Sambrook is a member of the membership committee of the association.

Mr. Dan MacCulish and Larry Batschelet, class of '53, journeyed to Williamsport, Pennsylvania where they attended a career and college night program at the Williamsport High School. After the program many prospective students and their parents were interviewed.

NOTICE

Places are available in the concert band for the following instruments: alto saxophone, tenor saxophone, clarinet, bassoon, flute, and baritone horn. Any student able to play one of these instruments and interested in the concert band should see Mr. Leach at the Conservatory as soon as possible.

Ted Lamb: "A day off for everybody."

Stew Tomlinson: "Give the team a ten-game schedule."

Bill Stringer: "The school should close for a day to celebrate."

Chuck Mason: "Meet the team after the Ursinus game with a band and parade."

Ellie Smith: "They should all have unlimited cups."

Aimes Ressa: "I think they should have a week of parties."

Jack Stout: "I think an undefeated team would be terrific. They would all deserve unlimited cups."

Polly Fisher: "We should all get a day off from classes."

Betty Hollenbeck: "There should be a special movie of the team."

Danahie Kershner: "They should be excused from classes for one week."

Nancy Lepley: "There should be a special pin or medal given to all the players, stating their undefeated season."

Joan Sechrist: "They should have three steak dinners."

Henry Albright: "They should get a lot of credit and each member of the team should get a special award of some kind."

Audrey Warnet: "We should have the next Monday off from school."

Phi Mu Delta Band To Play at Social Dancing

There will be no social dancing this Thursday, November 15, because of the play, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street."

There will be social dancing the first Thursday in December, which is December 6. The Phi Mu Delta Band, under the direction of Bud Unangst, will play for your enjoyment from 8:30 to 8:00 P. M.

This is your last chance to make social dancing a success. It will be discontinued after this dance if the attendance is as poor as it has been in the past.

Let's see you all out at Social Dancing on December 6!

Alumni News

Dr. Roswell J. Johns, class of '46, has announced the opening of his office for the general practice of medicine, obstetrics, and minor surgery at Millertown, Pennsylvania. We wish to extend our sincere congratulations to Dr. Johns on his accomplishment.

The Philadelphia-Susquehanna District Alumni Club played host to the S. U. football team on Saturday, November 10. An after-the-game dinner was served at Walton Place in Haverford, Pennsylvania. The Club has extended this courtesy to the team for the past five years.

Kappa Delta Holds Faculty Tea In Seibert Parlor

Once again, Kappa Delta held an annual Faculty Tea in Seibert parlor on Sunday, November 11, 1951. This tea is for the purpose of giving recognition to the much-neglected faculty of Susquehanna University—it is their day.

The tea began at three o'clock and was held until five o'clock. The receiving line consisted of Miss Frances Bronkhorst, alumni advisor, Miss Miriam Vogler, chapter president, and Miss Elinor Smith, chapter vice-president. Mrs. Waldemar Zagars, Mrs. Alice H. Clauque and Mrs. Carol Kline, patronesses of Beta Upsilon chapter, poured for the occasion.

WE'VE GOT IT; LET'S GIVE IT!

On December 6, there will be a chance for almost every Susquehanna student to do something for himself, his school, and his country. Yes, on December 6, the Blood Bank will be on campus. All but the freshmen will remember when the Blood Bank was on S. U.'s campus last year. The project was sponsored last year and is to be sponsored again this year by Kappa Delta Sorority.

Everyone is able to give blood with these few exceptions; those who have low blood pressure, anemia or those who have had a bad cold recently. In order for minors to give, they must receive permission from their parents or guardians. Everyone in the school will be contacted, and the minors will be given a form permission sheet to be sent home for approval. Married minors need not have permission if they are self-supporting.

The ages included for blood giving are 18 to 59 inclusive. Between donations there must elapse at least eight weeks and only five donations may be given in twelve months. There are no restrictions as to race.

Let's have Susquehanna enter into this very important drive with the same spirit that she did last year. Let's have everyone who is able donate to the Blood Bank.

Play on Words

Les Heilman: "Ruth, let's go in and make some peanut butter."

Ruth Roselander: "You mean peanut brittle."

Les Heilman: "The last batch you made was brittle."

Comment for the Day

Dr. Russ: "After reading this article about Congress, I'm writing them a letter. The way they drink and carry on! It says right here that the Congressman from Texas tried to make a speech from the floor. And the Speaker of the House was even worse. He didn't even recognize him!"

Inquisitive

Bob Kurtz: "These plans for your new house are interesting, but what is this little room over here without any windows in it?"

Ed Walker: "Oh, that's a dark room. It's for my brother."

Bob: "Oh, your brother's a photographer, eh?"

Ed: "No, we're ashamed of him."

Brave Friend

Jayne Dally: "If that woman yawned once, Herb, while I was talking to her, she yawned a dozen times."

Herb Craft: "Maybe she wasn't yawning, dear, maybe she was trying to say something."

Greetings!

Gene Fenstermacher: "There's a rumor going around that the Army has a scout in the stands."

Jim Dell: "That's funny, we aren't playing Army this year."

Gene Fenstermacher: "This scout is from the Draft Board."

Good Advice

Slogan for Parents: The dough must go on.

Some Fun

Arlene Sholley: "I told you for the last time, you can't kiss me."

Carl Baker: "I knew you'd weaken sooner or later."

True True

It's possible some of those gangsters meant, "I refuse to answer on the grounds it might incriminate me."

Name Game

As the conductor called out the various names of the streets, the country couple became more and more uneasy. The conductor called "Maple," then "Adams," then "Rosewood." Don Heilman grew very fidgety and, turning to his girl said, "Isn't it time we go off?" "Don't show your ignorance, Don," she said, "Wait until your name is called."

Define

Barbara Easton to her parents: "I guess he's serious about me, he wants to marry me."

Daffynitions

Professor: a textbook wired for sound. Confession Magazine: a place where people write their wrongs.

Hamburger: steak that didn't pass it's physical.

Better: what every girl should know.

Compliment

Peggy Aston: "Your stockings are rather wrinkled."

Charlotte Neuman: "You beast, I have no stockings on."

How About Multiplication?

Dr. Robison, a sworn enemy of co-education: "It's impossible to teach a young man mathematics if there's a girl in the class."

Don Walter: "Come now, Doctor, surely there must be an exception to that."

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK

"Miss Personality Plus" for this week is the very sociable and popular young lady named Pat Rumbough from Millerstown, Pennsylvania.

During her high school years which were spent at Millerstown High School, Pat participated in many extra-curricular activities such as the high school band, chorus, class plays, and varsity basketball. In her senior year she was elected to the trustworthy office of class treasurer. When graduation time rolled around, Pat was given the honor of being her class salutatorian in addition to receiving the D.A.R. award and the Veterans of Foreign Wars' "most outstanding girl" award.

Pat has indeed also been a great asset to Susquehanna University where she now holds the honored positions of president of the Woman's Student Council, president of Tau Kappa and treasurer of Kappa Delta. She has found time to become an active member of the Woman's Athletic Association, Business Society, Judiciary Committee and to play in intramural sports.

Due to the important part she played in Orientation Week these past two years, she was one of the first upper classmen to become known to the freshmen girls. Pat has a great affinity for music and sports—especially basketball—but will jump at the mere mention of the word "mice."

Pat is in the Commercial Education course and, at the completion of her college education, plans to be a teacher of commercial subjects. All of us at Susquehanna wish her luck and are quite confident she will be a success in that field.

The revelation from Miss Hawthorne's countenance was indescribable when Joey Harris solved the three riddles standing between him and his love. Her dramatic interpretation of surprise, awe, and yet a concealed pleasure, was conveyed to the audience by her trembling lips and misty eyes.

Again the student body was conspicuous by its attendance. Never before have two star courses been as well attended as these this year.

This is a tribute not only to the student body and to the performers but to the star course committee that is responsible for obtaining world renowned, excellent artists to appear and to perform on our stage.

SPORTS CHATTER

By Richard Stout

ADD ANOTHER GAME TO THE VICTORY STRING OF S. U.'S FIGHTING CRUSADERS. Their 27-7 conquest over a surprisingly spirited Haverford squad adds triumph number five to their all-out quest for an undefeated, untied season.

A veil of overconfidence prevailed on the gridiron by the students and players alike. The winless Fords who had nothing to boast were simply regarded as "in the bag" by the entire S. U. throng.

THE CRUSADERS JOURNEY TO COLLEGEVILLE THIS WEEK FOR THEIR ALL-IMPORTANT CLASH WITH THE URSINUS BEARS. The Bears, who engaged in a 6-6 tie with the Crusaders a year ago, still boast the names of some outstanding gridmen who indeed were active in the deadlocked encounter. The Orange and Maroon can do anything but regard Ursinus lightly. While the Bears have not been too successful to date, they have taken on some prominent grid competition.

A win will place the Crusaders in a select circle all of their own. The '51 squad has the chance to become the first Susquehanna grid team with a perfect slate since 1932.

MY PREDICTION: Just that, the Crusaders by 14 points. Keep your fingers crossed.

The use of ineligible players has prompted the Intramural Board to AWARD FORFEITS ON FOUR INDIVIDUAL OCCASIONS. I refer all Sports Managers to Article I, Eligibility, of the Constitution for Men's Intramurals which can be found on page 106 of the Susquehanna University Handbook. It states:

1. No student who has been declared a professional shall be eligible for Intramural competition.
2. A student may compete in Intramural Athletics his first eight semesters in college.
3. A team shall automatically forfeit a contest in which it uses an ineligible player.

Should Susquehanna's Crusaders and Bloomsburg's Panthers complete their grid seasons with an unblemished slate, a post season BOWL GAME between these squads would undoubtedly draw a throng of fans. The Panthers as well as the Staggs-coached Crusaders are sparked by lads from the local scene. The opportunity definitely avails itself to some local sports promotion group. Bucknell's spacious football stadium looms as an ideal spot for this dream-up grid classic. It would indeed be a break for the unfortunate Crusaders who complete their season away from home to cash in at the gate for their unbeaten tenure.

The S. U.-Haverford football game was definitely lacking in color. The absence of our band which goes a long way as a spirit creation device was felt by the many present. Let's take the band to Collegeville Saturday. A 50c contribution from each student will raise approximately $250. Here's a good project for the Men's and Women's Student Council. LET'S TAKE THE BAND.

SIDELINE SLANTS: Co-Captain Bill Pritchard mighty proud while performing before the home-town folks. The same goes for Bob MacNamara, Sam Ross, and Gib Davis. . . . Gene "Pappy" Fenstermacher celebrated his birthday by tearing a gap through the Fords' line to score two six-pointers. . . . The Crusaders made a terrific goal line stand early in the first quarter when four running plays netted the Fords exactly 2 feet. . . . Jim Dell made a diving interception for a Haverford pass but a steeply official, who evidently was out late the night before, ruled the pitch incomplete. . . . Rich Young, who had the misfortune of having two passes intercepted, still looks like Little All-American material to me. . . . Get in those cars. Let's get to Collegeville this week. See you there.

Cottage Takes Cup; Led by Condon and Hempstead to Victory

The Cottage captured second half intramural league honors last week, and emerged kingpins of the 1951 intramural season. The Cottage victory marked the first time since 1945 that the intramural cup did not go to either Bond and Key or Phi Mu Delta. The Dells won in '46 and '47 and Bond and Key has been champ from '48 until now. The Cottage finished the season without a loss and two ties.

Last week's activity included three victories and a tie for the chlamion Cottage six. They downed B&K 15-6, GA 40-0 and chalked up a victory via forfeit over Theta Chi. Tie was at the hands of Phi Mu Delta. Neither team scored.

Other contests and results follow: GA 6, B&K 27; GA 6, Phi Mu Delta 6; and a forfeit victory for Selinggrove Hall over Theta Chi.

The Cottage dominated play throughout both halves. Ned Condon and Ken Hempstead were the most constant and effective passing team in the league. Jim Alter was one of the finest defensive backs in the league. His timely interceptions ended many of the opponents' rallies. Phil Gerger, George Washbourne and Fred Shilling were the other members of the championship team. Shilling had the distinction of scoring two safeties in addition to his pass-receiving activities. Washbourne was an effective offensive blocker and scored most of the extra points.

One game remains on the intramural schedule between B&K and Selinggrove Hall.

CRUSADERETTES

The games on Tuesday helped place Soph I in first place in the intramural soccer games. Delcey Sharretts scored one goal to give Soph I a 2-0 win over Frosh I. The game between Soph II and the Juniors resulted in an 0-0 score.

Thursday's games again gave 2-0 and 0-0 scores. In the game between Frosh II and the Seniors, Maxine Chambers scored one goal to give the Seniors a 2-0 victory. The Juniors and Frosh I were scoreless.

The schedule for this week is as follows:

Tuesday—
4:10—Frosh I vs. Soph II
4:25—Frosh II vs. Juniors
4:40—Soph I vs. Seniors

Thursday—
4:10—Frosh II vs. Soph I
4:25—Frosh I vs. Seniors
4:40—Soph I vs. Soph II

In order to get the soccer games played off before the Thanksgiving vacation, it will be necessary for all girls to be on time. So, girls, please be prompt for the games.

PLAY—From Page 1 of the play.

Peggy Aston will make her first appearance as Bella Hedley, a cousin of the Barretts.

Charles Coates will make his first appearance as Captain Surtees Cook. Larry Batschelet, who has appeared in the Shakespearean dramas, "Macbeth" and "Taming of the Shrew" will portray Henry Bevan.

Tom Marts, who has appeared in "The Willow and R" and "Broken Dishes" will take the part of Edward Moulton-Barrett.

Elizabeth's six brothers will be portrayed as follows: Octavius, Larry Bingaman; Septimus, Herbert Krause; Alfred, Tim Bobb; Charles, Roger Blegen; Henry, Walt Mazura; and George, John Wicks. For freshmen Larry Bingaman, Roger Blegen and John Wicks, this will be their first appearance. Herbert Krause and Tim Bobb appeared in "The Taming of the Shrew" and Walt Mazura in "The Patsy."

HAVERFORD FIFTH VICTIM, 27-7, AS S. U. EXTENDS UNDEFEATED SEASON

Susquehanna University's Crusaders added another victory to their 1951 record Saturday at the expense of the winless Haverford "Fords." The Staggs emerged on the long end of a 27-7 score. Gene Fenstermacher celebrated his twenty-eighth birthday by scoring two S. U.'s four touchdowns. Rich Young and Steve Torok tallied the other two six-pointers for the Crusaders. Hurtubise tallied for the Fords.

Young and Fenstermacher again ably lead the Crusaders' offense but the story behind the headlines was the pass defense of Ken Lenker, Kay Campbell, and Jim Dell. The aforementioned trio allowed the Fords to complete but two passes in fifteen attempts. Lou Szabo, Walt Tkaczky, Norm Livermore, Gene Brouse, and Buss Carr were outstanding in line play. It was Szabo who recovered a Haverford fumble on the S. U. 10-yard line to end a Haverford scoring threat. Tkaczky was in the Haverford backfield a greater part of the afternoon.

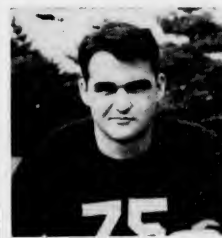

TKACZYK

First Part

Haverford received the opening kickoff and failed to net a first down. After the Ford punt went out of bounds on the 36 yard line of Haverford, the Crusaders began to move. Fenstermacher and Young gained consistently on the ground but Young's passes were Haverford's chief thorn in the flesh. A pass of 25 yards to Torok and one for ten yards to Sam Ross put the ball on S. U.'s 15 yard line. Young and Pensty moved it to the ten where Young pitched to Torok in the end zone. Young was off balance as he threw, but the play was successful as Torok took the ball over his shoulder for the score. Young converted.

Later in the period an attempted lateral from Young to Fenstermacher went astray and the Fords recovered. The Fords moved from the 40 to the 4 yard line but after three first downs their attack stalled and the Crusaders took over on the Ford one yard line. Young punted out to the S. U. 35 and the quarter ended shortly thereafter.

BROUSE

Second Quarter

The Fords finally hit pay dirt in the second period. A Young to Torok pass was completed, but Torok failed to hold on to the ball and the Fords recovered the fumble on their 39 yard line. After losing the ball on downs, Haverford intercepted a Young pass and the runback by Bourne placed the ball on the Haverford 15. Four plays later Hurtubise bowled over from the eight. Chandler converted.

The second S. U. score followed immediately. Young pitched to Rising on the twenty. A roughness penalty nullified the play. However, two plays later Young again tossed to Rising, this time on the twelve, and Mike moved up to the three. The play covered 51 yards. Young bucked across on the next play. Young's conversion attempt hit the goal post.

CAMPBELL

Second Half

An interception by Jim Dell set up the third score. He intercepted a Hurtubise pass and moved back to the Haverford 37. Young picked up 17 yards and moved the ball to the 20 yard line, four more yards by Young and then a 16 yard dash by Fenstermacher netted the T.D. Young converted.

Early in the final quarter S. U. scored again. Campbell returned a punt to the H. C. 47. Three first downs and ten plays later Fenstermacher scored from the 8 yard line. Young converted. Crusaders meet the Ursinus Grizzlies in the season's finale next week.

Bond and Key

At our meeting Wednesday evening, Reuben Henry was elected assistant steward to fill the position vacated by Bob Wyllie. "Rube" is also vice president.

Tomorrow evening five pledges will be taken into the house as active members.

We hope the cast will have a successful week with the presentation of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street."

Many happy returns of the day go to our president, Gene Fenstermacher, on his birthday. Gene gave himself two birthday presents on Saturday when he scored two touchdowns against Haverford.

The varsity football team certainly deserves our congratulations for their victory over Haverford. We shall extend our full support for their last game Saturday in hopes of a perfect season.

Phi Mu Delta

Congratulations are extended to former brother-president Don Shoemaker who parted with his fraternity pin on Saturday evening. The proud recipient was Miss Joan Bates.

Alpha Psi Omega has accepted the offer of Phi Mu Delta to usher for the presentation, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," to be presented November 12-17.

Robert Messier was elected editor of the 1952 official Crusader football programs.

National President Robert Zahn and National Expansion Director Henry Metzger made their annual visit to the Mu Alpha house on Friday and Saturday.

Sympathy is extended to brother Al Vollmers who has been confined to his home with the mumps.

Congratulations also to those fighting Crusaders who downed the Pords, 27-7, this past Saturday. Let's win that last game, gang. Sock Ursinus in the sinus and get that undefeated season!

Theta Chi

Dale Gatenman, President of Theta Chi, was stricken ill last week and removed from the fraternity house to his home in Elysburg. Doctors said Dale has bronchial pneumonia and recommended that he be confined to his bed for an indefinite period. At the regular meeting on Wednesday, the brothers voted to send Dale a basket of fruit. Here's wishing Dale a speedy recovery.

Theta Chi is sending boxes of food to members who are overseas with the armed forces. The boxes began going out this week.

Brother Roland Rosetti returned to the house for a visit this past week-end. "Rosie" and Mrs. Rosetti have become proud parents of a baby girl recently.

Theta Chi extends congratulations to the team for their decisive victory at Haverford. Here's wishing them the best of luck next week; we are all pulling for the second all-successful team in the University's history.

Sorority News

Alpha Delta Pi

Last Thursday evening, Gamma Omicron held a party in the Seibert Social room for its patronesses and local alumnae. The actives and their guests spent a very enjoyable evening playing cards. After refreshments were served, the girls closed the evening with the singing of their "Castle Song" and the sorority "Good Night Song."

Next Monday evening we shall go on our annual Thanksgiving serenade. The girls will sing at all the dorms and fraternities with a selection of songs appropriate to the season. The caroling will be followed by refreshments at the home of Mrs. Robert Amy, one of our patronesses.

Last Sunday evening, ADPI had charge of college vesper. Sister Joyce Gilbert was liturgist and Sister Shirley Thompson was the speaker.

Miss Yvonne Wilson, one of Alpha Delta Pi's traveling counselors, will visit with our chapter from next Sunday, November 18 to November 20.

Kappa Delta

A tea was given Sunday afternoon from three to five by Kappa Delta for the faculty and administration in the Seibert reception room.

Beta Upsilon is making plans for the Blood Bank which will be sponsored by them at Susquehanna University, December 6. It will be held in the Seibert social rooms. Everyone who can is urged to give blood.

The Kappa Delta Christmas seals have arrived and the girls are participating in the philanthropic project of the sorority in help of crippled children by their individual contributions to the hospital fund by purchasing these seals. Miss Helen Pitzer, Omaha, Nebraska, national philanthropy chairman, co-ordinated the work for crippled children through the country, and each chapter is able to help by purchasing seals.

The room improvement committee is busy, and we expect to see several improvements in the sorority room very soon.

Kappa Delta was in charge of serving the refreshments at the play, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." Mrs. Ralph Witmer and Mrs. Waldemar Zagars, patronesses of Kappa Delta, served Monday and six sorority girls each other night.

Pam McKeeg helped at the Selingsgrove Community Center this week.

The regular weekly meeting was in charge of Elinor Smith, vice-president. Kathleen Schner gave the Historian report at that time.

given by the actives of Sigma Omega on Tuesday evening. The program included the following numbers: an piano solo, "Toccata" by Katchaturian, played by Jacquelyn McKeever; an organ solo, "Toccata" by Fornam, played by Voylet Dietz; two vocal solos, "Chere Nuit" by Matchelet and "Non So Più" by Mozart, sung by Barbara Easton and JoAnn Alexander respectively; and two piano solos, "A Little Soldier" and "The Hobby Horse" by Pinto, played by Nancy Youhou. The Sigma Omega Chorus, under the direction of Nancy Youhou, sang two numbers: Sigmund Romberg's "Love, Come Back to Me" and the Fred Waring arrangement of "Comin' Through the Rye." Clara Mae Williams accompanied the chorus.

Also during Mrs. Gould's visit an initiation service was held at which time JoAnn Alexander, Marguerite Heffelfinger and Margretta Thomas were taken into S. A. I. During her visit, Mrs. Gould had conferences with the officers of Sigma Omega and members of the administration of Susquehanna University. She also met with the patronesses of Sigma Omega, the Selingsgrove Alumnae Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, and the advisers of Sigma Omega.

and wish you could exchange it with a guy on the front.

All is quite calm as your truck rolls along, but then an ambush! A shower of shells and mortar comes raining down on you and the trucks behind you know this is going to be tough. The truck behind you gets hit and blocks the rest of the convoy. Now, you two . . . it's up to you to make good and get that "ammo" to the front. You drive faster and faster until you see something ahead of you. A road blockade! A human road blockade! You step on the gas and ram through it regardless of the bullets flying around you.

Now you two have made it! Your truck rolls into friendly lines and hits a tree. The captain in charge of the little group came out to thank the driver and helper and also to tell them that he was going to recommend them for a Silver Star. You never heard his words, corporal and private. You were in the front lines now and had made yourselves heroes . . . or was it just guts that drove you? No one will ever know . . . you two had paid the price for freedom in full!

Question of the Week

Three men go to a hotel and each pay $10.00 for the room. The clerk realized he gave them a $25.00 room and sends the busboy to their room to return $5.00. The busboy realizes they can't split $5.00 evenly so he keeps $2.00, which means each paid $9.00 for the room. Since 3 x 9 is 27 plus 3 kept by the busboy is 30, what happened to the other dollar? For the answer, please see Betsy Babbitt.

1951 CRUSADERS ARE S. U.'S FIRST UNDEFEATED-UNTIED FOOTBALL TEAM

Teamwork Important
For Season's Victories

S. U. Climaxed Season
By Defeating Ursinus

It's all over but the shouting—the first undefeated-untied football team in Susquehanna's history. What a fighting team they are. On two occasions they came from behind and downed Johns Hopkins and Wagner. In reviewing the season it is difficult to select anyone who was outstanding. Fans, of course, will long remember Rich Young's stellar performances. His fine passing and running were hallmarks of the team triumphs. But what passer had a good completion average if he doesn't have glue-fingered ends; also, what runner consistently gains if there aren't holes to go through?

In the final analysis it was the outstanding work of those often unheralded linemen who spelled the difference between victory and defeat. Particularly noteworthy was the work of Jim Hazlett, Bob MacNamara, Buss Carr, Dick Herr, Walt Tkaczky et al. This writer fails to recall a single bad pass from center Jim Hazlett. When the Crusaders needed a few yards for a first down they could generally count on an off-tackle play or drive up the middle.

The defense was rather loose in the first few games but steadily improved throughout the year until it reached its climax in the closing minutes of the Ursinus game last Saturday. Jim Dell, Kay Campbell and Ken Lenker were demons on pass defense and if an opponent's back should somehow manage to squirm through the defensive line they found themselves confronted by MacNamara or Fenstermacher, line backers.

S. U. opponents scored 91 points in six games while the Stagmen maddened 181 points. Rich Young was the leading See TEAMWORK—Page 3

Susquehanna's fighting Crusaders climaxed their 1951 football season with a 19-14 victory over the Ursinus Grizzlies last Saturday. The victory was the Crusaders' sixth of the year and gave S. U. its first undefeated-untied team in the school history. The teams of 1932 and 1940 were undefeated but tied.

The Crusaders led 19-7 at half-time but Ursinus came clawing back in the second-half and seriously threatened the Stagmen's perfect record. Susquehanna's passing attack failed to materialize as they completed only five passes in fifteen attempts. But the Crusaders were not alone in failure via the airwaves. Ursinus clicked for but four completions in seventeen tosses.

Rich Young and Gene Fenstermacher gained 108 and 116 yards respectively on terra firma whereas the entire Ursinus backfield massed but 208 yards on the same element; therein lies the story behind the Crusaders victory—the linemen. Bob MacNamara, Norm Livermore, Jim Hazlett, Tom Balchen and Buss Carr consistently opened holes "big enough to drive a Mack truck through." Meanwhile Art Stamfel, Gene Brouse, Kay Campbell, Jim Dell and Ken Lenker played stellar roles on defense. Ursinus mustered but one sustained march. Early in the final period the Grizzlies marched from

WDSO ENTERTAINS MEN DAY STUDENTS

Wednesday, November 14, 1951, at 12:10 noon, the Women Day Students' Organization entertained the Men Day Students at dinner. All food was furnished by the Women's Organization, but extra tables were obtained from the Men's Day Room.

An unexpected event highlighted the affair. Just as dinner was about to be served, the lights went out, plunging the room into semi-darkness. They remained out for the entire meal, leaving many persons wondering just what they were eating.

Approximately twenty-five Men Day Students attended the dinner which was chaperoned by Miss Nita Hareslin, Dr. Thomas Armstrong, Jr., and Mr. Howard DeMott.

The dinner was planned by the following committees and their chairmen: Invitations, Catherine Doebler; Menu, Elinor Aurand; Decorations, Danelle Kershner; and Entertainment, Sylvia Haupt.

All those attending expressed their appreciation for the dinner and entertainment.

"THE BARRETTS OF WIMPOLLE STREET"

By GORDON JOYCE

The opening of The Little Theatre was a highlight in this year's activities and a highlight in the dramatic realizations and potentialities of forthcoming productions.

In spite of the illness of two of the main characters, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" was presented each evening according to schedule. This followed the traditional adage among show people that "The show must go on!"

Different types of audiences enjoyed different parts of the play more than other parts but all unanimously agreed that it was an excellent performance.

The leading lady, Miss Joan Bates as Elizabeth, had one of the most difficult roles to portray. Miss Bates worked at a disadvantage in the beginning by playing from a couch—a feat for even a seasoned actress. Much credit goes to her in later scenes for being on the set all the time prior to her trip to Italy. When an actress is on the stage continually the audience tends to accept her as a part of the background and is drawn to the entrance, performance, and exits of the other performers.

Al Vollmers gave an adult, serious interpretation of Robert Browning. His interpretation of Robert Browning's love for Elizabeth was that of a poet who depended on the full value of his words to depict his emotion.

Tom Marts gave Edward Moulton-Barrett all the patriarchal dominance possible. You hated him and his fanatical ideas so vehemently that you knew a fine job was being done. Mr. Marts gave a superb performance—one of the best male performances seen here in quite a while.

Henrietta through Miss Charlotte Neuman went straight to your heart. You cried and laughed with her—she who dared to show a spirit of contempt

VESPERS

Kappa Delta Sorority was the sponsor of college vespers which were conducted in Seibert Chapel on Sunday, November 18. Representing their sorority on the program were Miriam Vogler, the evening speaker, and Pamela Hymn, the liturgist. Special music was provided for the occasion by Jane Cline and Janet Laue, also K.D. members. Voylet Dietz served as organist.

The program for the vesper service was as follows:

The Somewhat Secular Story of Thanksgiving

By HENRY ALBRIGHT

Thanksgiving properly has a very great religious significance attached to it. Without becoming sacrilegious or blasphemous, however, we should for once look at Thanksgiving in its somewhat more secular light, for its origin was not entirely religious in the sense that we know it. Through the years the original meaning of Thanksgiving has been so submerged and suppressed that its actual beginning has virtually been obliterated from history. Our knowledge of Thanksgiving begins when we recall that Governor William Bradford said, "Let us thus offer thanks for our many blessings." That is really the end of the tale.

Let us now look at the real account of Thanksgiving, remembering that it is only just that the known religious side ultimately did become more prominent, but also remembering that it is unjust that the true origin became obscured in Puritanism alone.

In 1620 Thankful Jones came over with the other Pilgrim fathers. In the spring of the next year he established his farm between those of John Alden and Repentance Smith. By the late fall of 1621, things were running fairly smoothly for Thankful and his compatriots. A good crop had been harvested, sufficient shelter against the weather had been provided for all, and a mild approaching winter was in evidence.

One fine stood between the settlers and complete happiness. Old Thankful, John, Repentance, and the other settlers were having wild turkey trouble. Every sundown to sunup, some Old Tom was gobbling his heart out. Old Tom wasn't decent about the affair as a nice turkey should be. He wouldn't See SOMEWHAT SECULAR—Page 2

PHI KAPPA HEARS DRAMA DISCUSSION

Steele Science Hall, seven p. m., Monday, November 12, 1951, was the setting for the last meeting of Phi Kappa. President Charles Bomboy presided at the business meeting.

Larry Botteiger was the speaker of the evening. His talk was entitled, "The Beginning and Development of the Greek Theater." The architectural structure of the auditorium and the marvelous acoustics of the Greek open air theaters were emphasized. Dr. Ahl enlightened the evening by teaching the members of Phi Kappa new songs. The unusual part about these songs was that they were all sung in the Greek language.

Plans were made for the annual Christmas Party to be held on December 2, in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Ahl. Beatrice Morrow will be in charge of the program. The evening was topped off with refreshments. Phi Kappa is grateful to the Rev. and Mrs. Charles A. Snyder, who furnished the refreshments.

AMOS ALONZO STAGG, JR.

THE STAGG STORY; SPRINGFIELD TO SU

America's most famous father-and-son grid coaching combination has combined their efforts to give Susquehanna University its first unbeaten-untied season. The famous Staggs, Amos Alonzo, Sr., and Amos Alonzo, Jr., have very ably performed the difficult task of coming through a season with an unblemished record, coaching at a small school where nobody is "paid to play."

Coch Stagg, Jr., who is in his seventeenth year at Susquehanna, came here in 1935. He was joined by his father, the "Grand Old Man of Football," in 1936 and since that time the two pigskin-minded heads have been together inventing and developing razz-dazzle football that bewilders even the keenest competition.

The elder Stagg, in his eighty-ninth year and sixty-second year of coaching football, still jogs on the field with the team, never missing a game or even a practice session. Coach Stagg, Sr. began his long and colorful coaching career at the Springfield, Y. M. C. A. College where he spent two years. From Springfield, the much-honored coach went to the University of Chicago where he coached for forty-one years. While at Chicago Stagg introduced new methods and innovations to the then young T-formation. He also had a considerable hand in developing the forward pass and in 1899 his team scored a touchdown against Wisconsin using for the first time the quarterback pivot and fake handoff. In 1900, 1903, and 1904 Coach Stagg, Sr. used for the first time a play which had a man faking around the end. During this period he originated the now much used "man in motion."

From Chicago the "Grand Old Man" went to the College of the Pacific where he coached for fourteen years before coming to Susquehanna.

Among the many honors that have been bestowed upon the elder Stagg are: Coach of the Year in 1942 and being named for the Football Hall of Fame twice; once as a player and once as a coach. He was the only person to be given this honor which was received just this year.

Formal Dinner Sets Air Of Thanksgiving Day

Half of the faculty, invited by the administration, along with the student body enjoyed a delicious Thanksgiving dinner in Horton Dining Hall.

The festive atmosphere was created by the formal attire worn. All the students enjoyed dressing formally for the special occasion.

The S.C.A. added the proper spirit to the holiday season with their Thanksgiving service after dinner.

Thanks!

I am writing to thank each person who in any manner assisted in making it possible for the University Band to attend the Ursinus-Susquehanna football game at Collegeville last Saturday.

The Band feels honored that the students and friends of Susquehanna would rally in support of the organization and recognize its part in adding spirit and color to the very successful gridiron season just concluded.

It is proud of the fine school spirit displayed this year, and for having had a share in its development.

Thanksgiving Thoughts

The harvest has been taken. The hearts of men in other lands may be slow to give thanks this year; their hearts are filled with hatred toward their government, or their fields yield little but broken plows and the bodies of men. But here in our county where streets are still quiet and there is more laughter than crying, the heart has reason to feel gladness for many things.

For these desperate days of proof that man does not live by food and sleep alone; a truth that our fathers knew and we know now past ever forgetting it.

For the sincere idealism of men like Richard Lowellyn, who says, "There is no room for pride in any man; there is no room for unkindness; all men are born the same and equal."

For open doors of churches; for the faith of men and women who sit therein with bowed heads.

For friendship and laughter shared; for pain that passes and leaves the mind washed clean.

For compassion that will save the earth some day, when men and women can no longer support the knowledge that there are children who lie down at night and dream of bread.

For work to be done and the strength to do it. For youth, above all, that insists upon life on its own clear terms, knowing that death may be the penalty of inaction.

For all these things, we are truly thankful.

"Let us build a little fence of trust around today, Fill the space with loving words and therein stay; Look not through the bars upon tomorrow, For God will help us to bear what comes, of joy or sorrow."—R.E.O.

gobble during daylight hours when the noise would bother no one. He pervasively confined his revelling to unholy hours when everyone was sleeping.

One Wednesday night Thank could take no more. At about ten o'clock he grabbed his well-oiled musket, stalked out of his abode, and fired. The noise ceased briefly. Shortly it once again began. Again and again Thank reloaded and fired, determined not to give up until he finally would silence his adversary.

Finally about five o'clock in the morning the silence period became permanent. Old Thank, his shoulder aching and bruised from the musket recoil, repaired to his cabin to await the imminent dawn. With sunlight, he would examine his kill, and would see exactly where his shot at last had hit the target.

At five-thirty, dawn burst most brilliantly. Thank, triumphantly the victor, strode forth from his home, anxious to glory in the spoils of his war. What he saw caused him to faint, not merely dead away, but almost literally dead. He had killed 50 turkeys! Evidently every shot had hit its mark, and old Tom's relatives each had come to stand vigil over their patriarch's body, until the last member of the tribe met with his ultimate disaster.

When Thank revived he called his wife, Mercy, and his neighbors, John and Repentance. They quickly dressed the turkeys. Then, with understandable pride, Thank began distributing the birds throughout the community.

Very soon, however, Governor Bradford got wind of the whole situation. He hastily called a council. Then began a memorable speech, actually climaxed—but to us, initiating—a unique experience.

"Fellow men," said Governor Bradford, "today Thankful Jones has rid our community of its greatest immediate menace—a tribe of wild turkeys. The occasion will long be remembered."

"But," he continued, "the manner of the ridding of the nuisance may not seem godly enough to our posterity. Therefore, without actually being untruthful about the matter, let us attach a deep significance of the event. Thankful is generously portioning out the killed fowl among our populace. Let this be known to us now as Thank's giving day. Hereafter, though, let it be known as Thanksgiving Day, a day when we shall thank the Almighty for His many gifts in general. Even now the good Lord is permitting us to twist slyly this situation to the fulfillment of a universal need for a day of thanks. Let us thus offer thanks for our many blessings."

Any one who can actually disprove this account will be awarded 5000 turkey feathers.

The second printing press was brought to Massachusetts colony, in 1660, 40 years after the first press arrived.

The Barrett "Jinx"

Murps, appendicitis, automobile accident, runaway dogs, and limburger cheese—they all have had a prominent part in the jinx that held itself over the recent playing of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street."

Allen Vollmers, who was cast in the role of Robert Browning, came down with a slight case of the mumps. He was immediately sent home. The cast became panic-stricken. Who could play the great poet, Browning?

Like the answer to a prayer, Mike Lamade, a senior at Kingston High School, came to the rescue. Mike's class is giving the same play this year; therefore he had the first act memorized, but that was all. He fit himself into the cast like a real trouper, and learned to play Browning in a manner that held his audience in expectant silence during the time he was on stage.

When the cast went to Williamsport, the jinx followed them, but this time it was working in the form of a joke. Mr. Kleinsorg, the director, fed Mike a limburger cheese and onion sandwich just before he entered to declare his love to Elizabeth, played by Joan Bates. Poor Joan wilted everytime Robert proclaimed his love. Little did the audience realize the humor behind this serious scene.

A real note of seriousness came over the play when Charlotte Neuman became seriously ill with what everyone feared would develop into appendicitis. Charlotte was cast in the role of Henrietta Moulton-Barrett, who was the only member that stood up against Mr. Barrett's tyranny. Charlotte could not possibly go on stage Thursday night because of the danger of an attack. The black cloud of misfortune seemed to hover low over Mr. Kleinsorg. Who could possibly on such short notice, without rehearsal, play Henrietta's part?

Janet Laue, the Joan of Arc of Susquehanna, came to the rescue. Janet went before the lights Thursday night without any practice, and played the part in a manner that would have made even some of the old troupers of the great American theatre envious. Hats off to Janet, who saved the Barretts again from the jinx.

Flush, the family dog, ran away on Tuesday night. The cast was again put in a frenzy. The police, firemen, and townsfolk, were all looking for the cocker spaniel. Little Flush sat at home anxiously awaiting his time to go on stage.

Lady Misfortune would still not let the play or its cast alone. Herbert Krause, who played Septimus Moulton-Barrett, was working on his car when the jack slipped and Herby's face was cut badly and his leg bruised. So Septimus went on stage with heavy makeup to cover the cuts and bruises.

Oh, Lady Misfortune, you tried so hard to ruin the morale and spirit of the cast, but you failed! Lady Luck came through to bring with her a record attendance and to make "The Barretts of Wimpole Street"—despite all your tries to undermine it—the success of the year.

and pity against her father, Miss Mimi Vogler as Arabel gave one of the highlights of the play in her hysterical interpretation upon receiving Elizabeth's letter.

Wilson gave that added touch of humor and interest to the story making dramatic moments possible. You felt she was not completely dominated by Edward and that she was thankful of that.

Two first performance men show possibilities of greater performances. Larry Bingham as Oecle and Charles Coates as Captain Surtees-Cooke gave renditions which changed the tempo of the production and added new aspects on approaches to prevailing situations. Aiding Mr. Bingham in rounding out the six Moulton-Barrett brothers were Herbert Krause, John Wicks, Tim Bobb, Roger Blegen, and Walter Mazura. All manifested the same fear of the father—each in his own way.

Bella captured the spotlight whenever Miss Peggy Aston appeared on the stage—so bubbling, as different as the reformation after the dark ages. Larry Batschelet is to be given much credit for his character portrayal—always in character, never forgetting himself for a minute.

Kaj Kristoffersen and Jake Spangler as Elizabeth's physicians carried on roles rarely given much credit but very vital to the story itself. Both are to be commended.

Miss Janet Laue substituted as Henrietta and Mike Lamade substituted for Mr. Vollmers. They deserve much praise for coming through in grand style when needed.

The Little Theatre proved to be a great success. Acoustically perfect each stage whisper or change of intonation was perceivable. The value of playing to a small audience was proved in this production.

SPORTS CHATTER

by Richard Stout

Not the first since 1932! Not the first since 1940! BUT THE FIRST UNDEFEATED, UNITED SEASON IN THE HISTORY OF SUSQUEHANNA UNIVERSITY—HATS OFF TO THE 1951 EDITION OF S. U.'S FIGHTING CRUSADERS.

A HEART WARMING SCENE: A throng of spectators in the cold of Ursinus' spacious stadium will hardly forget the aftermath of the hard-fought gridiron melee. A jubilant mob of S. U. rooters swarming down on the field raised the 89-year-old Amos A. Stag to the shoulders of his gridders who literally adore him. With a tear and a twinkle in each of his eyes came the younger of the famous father-son combination. Riding high and writing fairs to a brilliant intercollegiate football sojourn followed Gene "Poppy" Fenstermacher, the workhorse of the team. The emotional scene on the faces of the entire S. U. crew lent indication of the pride achieved from their much-sought unblemished record. So closes another chapter in S. U. SPORTS HISTORY.

A WORD OF THANKS: Let me say I am overwhelmed by the response to the "TAKE THE BAND" drive. To the Men's Student Council who sponsored the drive, to the Women's Student Council who cooperated wholeheartedly, to all the fraternities and sororities, to the Women's Athletic Association and the Business Society, and to each and every person who contributed so freely. I extend my sincere thanks.

WILLIAM M. SCHNUR of Selinsgrove proposed that spirited townspeople tender the Crusaders a dinner in tribute to their exploits on the gridiron this Fall. He offered to start it by reserving a plate. It's a mighty fine gesture by a person who undoubtedly must be a mighty fine man.

SIDELINE SLANTS: A lively throng of S. U. rooters went along to witness the dazzling encounter. . . . There were a lot of spectators out on the field, but most notable of all was Harold Johnson who led his race with the State Police in the early morning pre-game rush. To him goes a vote of gratitude from "guess who" bringing up the rear. . . . A big hard-charging Ursinus line made things tough for the Crusaders' Rich Young who was rushed in getting his passes off. He still managed to crash the end zone for two sixpointers on brilliant runs. . . . A beautiful pass, Gene Fenstermacher to Mike Rising, which resulted in S. U.'s third and final score was undoubtedly the nearest play of the day. . . . A once wobbly pass defense excelled for the Crusaders Saturday. Ken Lenker and Jim Dell went high into the air to snatch Ursinus pitches. . . . The game was a great one to write fairs to a sensational, historic grid season.

Crusader scorer. He tallied 71 points including 22 extra points and a field goal in six contests. Rich gained 559 yards on the ground in 192 carries for an average of 5.44 yards per carry. Gene Fenstermacher made 372 yards in 93 carries and averaged 4.00 yards per carry. Young completed 47 passes in 87 tries for a passing average of .552 and a total yardage gain by passes of 870 yards. The entire team gained 1147 yards on the ground and 996 yards through the air. Crusaders opponents netted 76 first downs while S. U. obtained 74.

their own eleven and scored their second and final T.D. But when the ships were down the Crusaders held and won the contest.

Gene Fenstermacher played what was probably the outstanding game in his college career. As has already been mentioned he was the Crusaders leading ground gainer. He also threw a touchdown pass to Mike Rising. What will really stand out in the minds of loyal Crusader fans are those last quarter runs when S. U. was fighting so desperately to retain control of the pigskin. Gene carried on six of the last eight plays from scrimmage and averaged five yards per carry. Here again due credit must be given to the men up front who opened up those holes.

NORM LIVERMORE

First Quarter

Ursinus received Don Walter's opening kickoff on their own 26 yard line and Lloyd Shaver returned it to the U. C. 33 yard line. A five yard penalty against the Grizzlies moved the ball back to the 28. After three running plays netted but eleven yards, Ursinus punted out of bounds on the Crusaders 37 yard line. An interference penalty against Ursinus on second down gave S. U. a first down on the U. C. 37 yard line. Young and Fenstermacher carried for a first down on the U. C. 24 yard line. Then Young moved the pigskin down to the U. C. nine-yard line in two cracks at the line. Fensty and Young moved it to the U. C. four-yard line and Young smashed over for the score from there. Young converted.

Ursinus received the kick-off; failed to net a first down and had to punt. S. U. also started for three downs in vain and punted on the last down. Then the Grizzlies began to move. Behind the line running of Dick Glock, Bill Fischer and Bill Poore, Ursinus picked up three first downs and moved to the S. U. 30. Bill Poore also completed two ten yard passes to Sharpe and Swett. On the 30 attack stalled (that line again).

JIM DELL

Second Quarter

Young gained sixteen yards and a first down on the U. C. 46 yard line. Fensty netted two, Young was stopped at the line of scrimmage and a snap pass to Pritchard gained three. So with fourth down and five yards, Young punted but a 15 yard penalty on the punt gave S. U. a first down. A pass to Stamfel put the pigskin on the U. C. 16 yard line and Young galloped over from there. Conversion attempt was wide.

After the kick-off Ursinus struck swiftly and moved down field until the attack was halted when Jim Dell intercepted a Poore pass on the S. U. 3 yard line and ran it out to the 11.

Later in the second period an unidentified S. U. player recovered a Ursinus fumble on their 43 yard line. Fenstermacher gained 3 on the ground and then pitched to Rising who galloped over for the third and final score.

Young's conversion was good but a penalty nullified it and the second try was short.

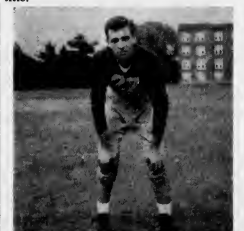

The Grizzlies finally scored. With fourth down on their own 34 yard line they faked a kick. But Swett lateraled wide to Poore and he ran across the mid-field stripe to the S. U. 45 yard line. In the next play Poore hit Glock with a pass at the line of scrimmage and Glock moved down the sideline to the ten where he was nailed by Lenker. Two plays later Glock went over from the four yard line and Fynan converted. After the kick-off Fensty netted five yards and the period ended.

Third Quarter

Don Schenk received Walter's kick-off for Ursinus and almost broke away but Stamfel and MacNamara nailed him on the S. U. 45 yard line after a 25 yard runback. Loomis gained two on the next play but fumbled as he was hit and S. U. recovered. Two incomplete passes and a run and then S. U. was forced to kick. Ursinus picked up the first of ten second-half first downs but another fumble gave S. U. the ball on the S. U.'s own 29 yard line. Four S. U. passes felt incomplete and Ursinus took over on the S. U. 29.

Ursinus moved to S. U.'s 18 yard line and a first down. Then Keny Lenker intercepted one of Poore's passes. Young picked up six and then had to kick. U. C. moved to the S. U. 45-yard line where they had second down and one yard to go for a first down but they failed to gain a yard in two tries and S. U. took over.

Fenstermacher picked up a first down but an interception by Pascucci gave U. C. the ball on their own 43-yard line. Three incomplete passes and a run which failed to gain gave S. U. the ball on the same 43 yard line.

CLIFF STAMFEL

Young netted twenty yards but another S. U. fumble gave U. C. the ball on their own 36-yard line. Ursinus moved to the S. U. 11-yard line but another fumble halted the drive. Altogether there were four fumbles and four pass interceptions in the final half. Lenker intercepted three passes for S. U.

Fourth Period

As the final period opened Ursinus had possession of the ball on their own eleven. Sixteen plays and five first downs later Loomis smacked across from the six yard line and Fynan converted. Single pass thrown in the touchdown march was from Poore to Loomis good for 27 yards.

After the kick-off Rich Young moved for a first down in three tries but in the second series the Crusaders failed to net sufficient yardage and Ursinus gained possession.

Minutes later however Lenker intercepted and ran the ball back to the S. U. 43-yard line. Thence followed Fenstermacher's time-killing activities mentioned in the beginning of this article.

Locker-Room Comments

While passing thru the locker room of Susquehanna's varsity football team before and after the game with Ursinus, the following comments were overheard by your roving reporter:

BEFORE

Kay Campbell: "Our record speaks for itself!"
Mike Rising: "After we're through with Ursinus—that's one more game they'll be minus."
Gene Brouse: "This next one will be the toughest."
Jim Dell: "It's been a long way. Let's not stop now."

Rich Young: "One more and then the Rose Bowl!"
Bob MacNamara: "I'll be right home after the fight, Ma!"
Gene Fenstermacher: "We'll blind 'em with footwork."
Jim Hazlett: "Undeclared and untied comes once in a life time. Enough said!"
Sam Ross: "I'll talk after the game."

Sam Porter: "Open season on 'Grizzlies'!"
Tom Balchen: "I've waited three years for this season. Let's not spoil it now."
Tony Dickovicky: "We're in."

Charley Shamp: "If it's like the last ones, we'll get this one too."
Phil Torromeo: "Give us time! If it can be done, it will be done."

Lou Szabo: "We'll bring home the bacon."
Ken Lenker: "We'll slaughter 'em. I like bear burgers."
Cliff Stamfel: "We'll try our best."

Ed Flowers: "No comment—I just play."
"Buss" Carr: "We're playing to win."
Don Walter: "We're up and we're not gonna be put down."
Dick Herr: "We can do it if we try."
Bud Doyle: "The fellows can do it if they try."
Jim Anola: "We'll take 'em. We'll molder da bums."
Steve Torok: "Only one more—we won't fall now."
Gib Davis: "Another one for S. U."

Ken Erdly: "With the team material and the right attitude—we'll win."
Bob Schwab: "The team with the most points will win."
Bill Pritchard: "Win first, then anything else is a gift."
Norm Livermore: "Just hope we win."

Ed Danyluk: "We'll take 'em by two touchdowns."
John Takach: "The last one is always the toughest."
Walt Tkaczky: "Hope we can win it for old S. U."

AFTER

Kay Campbell: "Unified action and cooperation brought us victory."
Mike Rising: "Now that we are undefeated, let's see that the team is properly feted!"
Gene Brouse: "It was a tough fight."

Jim Dell: "Nice way to end the season. It couldn't have been done without everybody."

Rich Young: "The student cooperation and spirit was great. Thanks."
Bob MacNamara: "Tough, but the best team won."

Gene Fenstermacher: "Hurrah for our team! A great bunch!"
Jim Hazlett: "A day I'll remember always. A bunch of great men."

Sam Ross: "A once-in-a-lifetime thrill!"
Sam Porter: "No words to express it."

Tom Balchen: "A team that won't be beaten, can't be beaten."

Tony Dickovicky: "A great bunch of guys that wouldn't be beaten."
Charley Shamp: "It sure feels good to be a winner."

Phil Torromeo: "We had a coach who wanted to win, a bunch of fellows who wanted to play ball, and a team that wouldn't be beaten."

Lou Szabo: "It feels great to be undefeated. Horray!"
Ken Lenker: "A great team victory—a wonderful way to end the season."
Cliff Stamfel: "It was a tough game; it feels good to win it."
Ed Flowers: "Pretty rough."

"Buss" Carr: "It's great."
Don Walter: "How about a jacket for remembrance?"

Dick Herr: "Yes for our team."
Bud Doyle: "They dood it and I'm glad."

Jim Anola: "A fine team victory for old S. U."
Steve Torok: "A wonderful experience. Something to remember always."
Gib Davis: "It's great to be a winner."

Ken Erdly: "I'm glad."

Bob Schwab: "It was an honor to be a team mate of such ball players."
Bill Pritchard: "Undeclared! Something to be proud of."

Norm Livermore: "It was an honor for me to play on such a great team."
Ed Danyluk: "It was wonderful to be on S. U.'s terrific team."

John Takach: "Being a senior, I'm glad we had a winning team."
Walt Tkaczky: "Great! Fine! Wonderful!"

Bond and Key

The members of Bond and Key give their heartiest congratulations to the undefeated, united varsity football team. We are proud of the men and especially of Gene Fenstermacher, Buss Carr, Ken Lenker, Gene Brouse, Jim Dell, Kay Campbell, Bob MacNamara, Charles Shamp, Dick Herr and John Takach, the brothers who play on the team. The managers, Jake Spangler, Stuart Lengel, and Bob Kurtz, deserve credit for their help.

A formal initiation was held Wednesday evening. The actives welcomed in Ned Arbogast, Stuart Lengel, Lewis Paulhamus, Graydon Lose, and William Bastian.

Venician blinds have been placed at the windows, however, some have not arrived from the store and the job will be finished after Thanksgiving.

The steward, Les Heilman, arranged a Thanksgiving dinner Monday evening with turkey and all the trimmings. After the play on Saturday an open house was held with Dr. and Mrs. Waterbury, Miss Ruth McCorkill, Dr. Robinson, and Mr. Grove as chaperones.

Phi Mu Delta

Congratulations and thanks to our really great untied and unbeaten football team! We've been behind you from the start and you have not let us down once. You deserve the best! May every one of you continue your unbeaten season throughout your life. Congratulations on a splendid job well done!

Ed Palkovich, Dick Jones, Jim Withers, and Phil Torromeo will return to the fraternity home after Thanksgiving day to finish up some work around the house. Major undertaking will be completion of the pine panelling of the ping-pong room.

On Wednesday night at a rather formal ceremony, fireman Charley Zloek received a ribbon bedecked coal shovel in appreciation of his fine work. Friday evening Lou Drumm and Frank Richards were formally accepted as pledges to Mu Alpha chapter of Phi Mu Delta Fraternity.

A great deal of credit goes to Theta Chi on their great job of organizing the pep rally Friday night.

Work on the reactivation of the Mu Epsilon chapter of Phi Mu Delta at Penn State College will be under the direction of Walter Mazura, expansion director, assisted by Mike Walker. All Volunteers will act as pledge master of this group. Reactivation work will begin in January.

"The Barretts of Wimpole Street" was certainly a success this past week. Congratulations to Mr. Kleinsorg and the cast whose hard work resulted in such fine presentations!

Refreshments highlighted the open house after the play. Many of the cast and friends attended.

Theta Chi

Theta Chi was honored by having Coach Stagg, Jr. as its guest last Thursday night. We are still chuckling over the conversation which was carried on by the coach and Bill Pritchard. (It caused a minor laughing riot as the time when it took place.)

Saturday night was a night for rejoicing! Susquehanna could boast of an undefeated football team and of a "Little Theater," which had been the stage of the first of successful productions, "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." Congratulations are due to everyone who helped make those things possible.

Rejoicing well could have been the theme for the open house which was held last Saturday night after the play. This is especially true for Es'her Frost who succeeded in beating Jack Schwartz in three straight games of ping-pong.

Theta Chi held its annual Thanksgiving dinner last evening at the fraternity house. Mrs. Snyder, our cook, did a fine job in cooking the turkey and trimmings. Mr. "Phil" Campbell, Deputy Regional Counsellor, was a guest at the dinner.

Congratulations are due to Dick Stout and the M's Student Council for making it possible for the band to go to Ursinus for the game.

Let's face it; the Stages and the Stagg-men did the best job that could possibly be expected. That's not apologizing, kids, that's bragging!

COMING SOON: Thanksgiving!

MUSIC NOTES

Several students attended an organ recital in the First Evangelical United Lutheran Church in Williamsport on Tuesday evening, November 13, at 8 p. m. The program of organ music was presented by the Williamsport Chapter of the American Guild of Organists and featured Claire Cocci in a program of organ music.

Mr. Robert Dunlap, a former Susquehanna student, gave a vocal recital last week in the MacMillan Academic Theater in New York City, New York.

Five members of the Susquehanna Concert Orchestra will attend the Third Annual Pennsylvania Collegiate Orchestra Festival held from Wednesday, November 28 to Friday, November 30. Rehearsals will be held at Lebanon Valley College, Annville, Pa. The concert will be given Friday evening at the Forum, Harrisburg, and will serve as a highlight of the annual Pennsylvania Music Educators Association, held during the same period of time.

The guest conductor will be Edwin McArthur, one of the country's outstanding conductors. He is the newly appointed (1950) conductor of the Harrisburg Symphony Orchestra, and for many years has served as conductor of the Municipal Opera in St. Louis, Missouri. Mr. McArthur is also the professional accompanist for Kirsten Flagstad, world renowned soprano.

The program for the concert includes the following compositions: "Marriage of Figaro" by Mozart, "Symphony No. 6 (Pathétique)" by Tchaikovsky, "Through the Looking Glass" by Taylor, "Prayer and Dream Panemine" by Humperdinck, and "Les Preludes" by Liszt.

The students who will attend and participate in the concert will be Rowie Durden, first clarinet; Francis Gloster, third horn; William Beckwith, bass horn; Mary E. Krebs, second violin, and Gilbert Dav, string bass. Francis Gloster participated last year. The others are new participants.

Alpha Delta Pi

Congratulations to the team for the completion of a perfect season with the victory over Ursinus on Saturday. We are grateful to the team and to the coaches for this undefeated season.

At our regular chapter meeting on Wednesday evening, we were happy to welcome Mrs. Arthur Wilson who is pledge advisor to Gamma Omicron chapter. During the meeting Sisters Ruth Smith and Ethel McGrath reported that they had worked with Brownie Troop No. 79 last Tuesday afternoon. Sisters Irene Meerbach, Marilyn Fetterolf, Joyce Miller, and Joan Sechrist volunteered to help with the local Girl Scout troop.

Congratulations to the cast, Mr. Kleinsorg, and all the others who helped to make "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" the great success that it was. Special congratulations are in order for Mike Lanrade and Janet Laue who gave grand performances on short notice.

Violets to Sister Charlotte Newman for her outstanding performance as "Henrietta," in spite of her illness.

We urge everyone possible to give blood when the Red Cross comes to the campus on December 6.

After caroling last Monday evening we spent the remainder of an enjoyable evening at the home of Mrs. Robert Amy.

Miss Yvonne Wilson, one of Alpha Delta Pi's field counselors, visited our chapter from Sunday until Tuesday. Happy Thanksgiving to all!

Kappa Delta

Delta held the vespers services Sunday, November 19. Miriam Vogler was the speaker. The program was prepared by Janet Laue.

The regular weekly meeting was held Wednesday, November 14. Elinor Smith, vice-president presided. Reports were given by the committee chairmen.

Marjorie Way has been very busy as chairman of the work concerning the Blood Bank which will be held at Susquehanna December 6. Everyone in the school will be contacted. Everyone who can is urged to give blood.

Congratulations to Miriam Vogler, our president, who played the part of Arabel in the play "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." Congratulations are also extended to Peggy Auston who played the part of Bella.

The executive board of Sigma Omega Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota held a meeting with the advisors of Sigma Omega Chapter, Miss Kline and Mrs. Linebaugh on Monday, November 12, at 7 p. m. in the S. A. I. room. The purpose of the meeting was to plan the S. A. I. program for the rest of the year. The program as set up includes a celebration of Incorporation Day on Sunday, December 2. The celebration will consist of a tea and musical in the parlors of Seibert Hall from 3 P. M. to 5 P. M. Everyone is cordially invited to the Incorporation Day celebration.

Also on the program are scheduled a Christmas party for the music faculty, a Christmas radio program, and Christmas caroling at the State Colony. Further plans include the annual American Musical, which will be held on January 11, a concert sponsored by S. A. I., and an Easter radio program.

Sigma Omega Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota congratulates Mr. Kleinsorg and the cast of the play on their excellent production of "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." Special congratulations are extended to Joan Bates and Barbara Easton, S. A. I. girls, for their excellent performances.

S. A. I. extends best wishes to Joan Bates who was recently pinned to Donald Shoemaker.

EIGHT S. U. SENIORS SELECTED FOR RECOGNITION IN 1951-52 EDITION OF WHO'S WHO

Fraternity Rush Week Officially Open; Phi Mu, Theta Chi, Bond and Key Open Doors to Rusbees

Fraternity rushing is one of the busiest occasions on Susquehanna's otherwise very busy campus. Officially, fraternity rushing takes place the first full week after the Thanksgiving vacation.

In charge of rushing procedures is the Fraternity Senate which is composed of the president of each fraternity and a faculty advisor from each fraternity. The senate is presided over by Dr. Russell Galt, Dean of Men.

Rushing started at 8:00 a. m. on Monday morning and will officially close Friday evening at midnight. The program included an invitation to open houses on Monday evening. Phi Mu Delta starts the ball rolling with its smoker on Tuesday evening. Theta Chi has its smoker on Wednesday evening and Bond and Key on Thursday evening.

Friday evening will culminate the activities with each organization holding a get-together for its actives and for rusbees interested in becoming pledges of the respective groups.

From Thursday evening at midnight until Friday evening at midnight non-dormitory resident fraternity men are not allowed in the dormitories.

Rushing is done on a competitive basis. Each fraternity is allowed a quota of men it may pledge each year. This number is determined fractionally on the actual number of men who sign up to be rushed. The size of the fraction depends on the housing capacity of the fraternity.

On Saturday no rushing is allowed and pledging will take place in the fraternity houses from 1 to 4 p. m.

Joining a fraternity is a very important step in the life of an individual. A decision is made for life and must be considered well before being arrived at.

Important measures to consider are whether or not your ideals and principles are at variance with those of a certain fraternity. If they are—go somewhere else.

Prospective pledges should look at the academic and social opportunities offered. They should try to determine the place the fraternity as a whole has on campus and they should look into See RUSHING—Page 3

GIRLS DRAG GUYS ON SATURDAY NITE

On December 8, 1951, a Victory Dance will be held in the gym. This dance was originally scheduled as the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance. Since it had to be postponed, and since our team had an undefeated season plus a few other factors, it is now called the Victory Dance. As usual the girls will ask the fellows. The tickets cost only 72c. Girls will dress in skirts and socks and the fellows will wear sport clothes.

Come on girls! Get those fellows to the dance. They are just waiting to be asked. Boosters will be sold at the dance and remember.

Bell Telephone Company Representatives Confer With Seniors Tomorrow

Mr. Milton D. Moore, manager of the Sunbury Office, and Mr. James C. Poff, manager of the Wilkes-Barre District, of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, will visit our campus on Wednesday, December 5. Mr. Poff will speak at 10 a. m. in Bogar 106 on "Opportunities in Big Business," with special reference to the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania. Seniors who are interested in securing positions are invited to hear Mr. Poff, and also to confer with Mr. Moore and Mr. Poff.

WSC Changes Laws; Arranges Activities

A meeting of the Women's Student Council was held November 27.

The annual project was discussed and action will be taken shortly so the project can get under way.

There were several changes in the by-laws of the Constitution.

"Four weeks prior to Homecoming, the Women's Student Council shall take charge of Homecoming elections."

Under Section "C" in the signing out-by-law, it is now stated that "Freshmen women shall sign out for the parlor after 8:00 p. m."

In the Constitution itself, the following was added: "The treasurer's books shall be audited in the spring of each year."

Under special freshman regulations: "During the first week of school, the president of the Council shall meet with the freshman women and explain student night; at this time a chairman for student night shall be elected. Freshman student night shall be held the third week-end after classes formally open."

The installation of the new Student Council shall be held the first Thursday in May, with the election being held before this time. The old council shall sit in with the new council during the first meeting.

The annual Christmas party for Seibert and Hasinger was discussed and extensive plans made.

Keys are being ordered for members of the Council for recognition. A committee consisting of Mary Ann Dixon, Jenn Rowe, and the freshman member to be elected shall publish a pamphlet on what the freshman will need when she enters college.

Barbara Easton, Ann Guise, and Voylet Dietz will purchase a new record for the dining room.

Sororities Give Program For Women's Auxiliary

A Christmas program highlighted the meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary held in Seibert Hall on Saturday at 2:30 p. m. The program was given by the three sororities: Alpha Delta Pi, Kappa Delta, and Sigma Alpha Iota. The Christmas story was read by Miriam Vogler with the chorus singing carols intermittently. Voylet Dietz played the organ and Nancy Younion directed the chorus. Faye Lewis then donned her red "nightie" and white cap to recite that old familiar poem, "Twas the Night Before Christmas." Following the program, Nancy Younion led the girls and the women in group singing.

Mrs. William M. Reacker conducted the devotions for the short business meeting that followed, after which the girls joined the women in a tea and social hour held in the Social Rooms, under the direction of Mrs. George H. Fisher and Mrs. John Willis Smith.

MUSIC NOTES

The Sunbury Festival of Music held in the Fourth Ward Auditorium in Sunbury for the benefit of the Community Hospital Physio-therapy Room was presented on November 28 at 8:15 p. m. The Chapel Choir, Mr. Frederick Billman, and Mr. Frederick Stevens participated in this festival. The program consisted of the following performers: the American Legion Band, Post 201, the YMCA Glee Club, Mr. Allen Flock — cornetist, the Chapel Choir, Mr. Frederick Billman—pianist, Miss Jeanette Zerbe — soprano, the Bucknell Men's Glee Club, the Bucknell Symphony Orchestra, Mr. Frederick Stevens—tenor, Modern Dance Group of Bucknell University, Mr. Robert Beckman—saxophonist, and the Festival Chorus with the Northumberland Moose Men's Glee Club and the Bucknell Symphony Orchestra. The chorus and the orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Allen Flock, combined in presenting three selections from the "Messiah" by Handel, closing with the "Hallelujah Chorus."

Thirty-four music students attended the annual MENC Convention held at the Penn-Harris Hotel in Harrisburg from Thursday, November 29, to Saturday, December 1. The schedule for the convention consisted of registering, visiting the exhibits, and attending outstanding programs of clinics, speakers, and concerts. The highlight of the conference program was the final concert of the 1951-52 Intercollegiate Orchestra under the direction of Edwin McArthur presented in the Forum on Friday, November 30. The convention closed at 3:00 Saturday afternoon.

Carr, Easton, Fenstermacher, Wollaston, Dietz, Joyce, Lewis, and Vogler Chosen for Top Honors

Every year several students are selected from the graduating class for recognition in "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." The students are selected for their scholarship, their leadership and co-operation in educational and extra-curricular activities, their general citizenship and service to the college, and their promise of future usefulness.

This year the following eight seniors have received this honor: Harold Carr, Voylet Dietz, Barbara Jane Easton, Gene Fenstermacher, Gerdon Joyce, Faye Lewis, Miriam Vogler, and Edward Wollaston.

Harold Carr, known as Buss, comes from Bellwood, Pennsylvania and is majoring in music education. While here on campus, Buss has been very active in the band, the Susquehanna Singers, Chapel Choir, S.C.A., Intramural sports, and football. He is also a member of Bond and Key. This year Buss had the honor of receiving honorable mention for the All-Pennsylvania team.

Voylet Dietz, from Wrightsville, Pennsylvania, is also majoring in music education. Susquehanna has found Voylet very busy. She is president of Sigma Alpha Iota, a member of the Women's Student Council, Judiciary Committee, Orientation Chairman, and Freshman Counselor. She is also active in the Symphony Orchestra, Susquehanna Singers, S.C.A. and W.A.A.

Another music education major is Barbara Jane Easton from Johnstown, Pennsylvania. Barbara is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota, S.C.A., Susquehanna Singers, Chapel Choir, W.A.A., and the Susquehanna Players. Just recently Barbara played in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street."

Gene Fenstermacher hails from Northumberland, Pennsylvania, where he graduated from high school in 1941.

"PENQUIN" THEME HIGHLIGHTS HOP

The annual Sororhome Hop was held in Alumni Gymnasium, Saturday, December 1, 1951, from 9 to 12 p. m. in the form of a winterland. The theme of "Penquins at the Waldorf" prevailed throughout the entire decorations of the star-filled sky, the penquins, and the igloos. Penquin couples were charged $1.80 to enter the dreamland.

Danceable music was presented by the Blend Ayres from their igloo on the east side of the gym for the couples. The booster penquin couples added a delightful touch to the tricky theme and decorations. Refreshments were enjoyed by all.

Chaperones for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Howard DeMott, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Amy, Mr. Richard Grove, and Mr. John Soule. Theta Chi featured an open house during intermission.

In charge of the decorations was Chairman Robert Moore. He was aided by his committee consisting of Jane Cline, Joan Diggan, Claire Haggerty, Nancy Krieg, Pat Hess, Peggy Webber, Peg Hults, Miriam Wick, Janet Miller, and Peggy Henderson. Heading the ticket and refreshment committees were Paul Nestler and Dick Boyd respectively.

Seven Members Pledged To Tau Kappa

At the last meeting of Tau Kappa on Wednesday, November 28, seven new members were pledged. They were Miriam Vogler, Wlad Odenthal, Dot Appgar, Audrey Wegner, Lois Fisher, Ann Guise, and Christine Harmon. After the pledging ceremony, plans were discussed for the forthcoming Victory Dance to be sponsored by Tau Kappa. Committees were appointed and the work was started. The group is planning to have a party at the home of Mrs. Dan MacCulish, an honorary of Tau Kappa.

Pi Gamma Mu Initiates Members; Slides Shown

The presentation of Pennsylvania's historical heritage and the ceremony for the reception of new members highlighted the third Pi Gamma Mu meeting of the year which was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Waterbury on Monday evening, December 3.

Miss Agnes Sells Schoch, president and publisher of the Selingsgrove Times-Tribune, gave the presentation by showing to the group of students and faculty a number of colored slides which are part of the vast collection of such slides taken throughout the U.S. and Canada by Miss Schoch's brother, the late Marion S. Schoch.

Preceding this educational picture-lecture was a brief initiation ceremony conducted by the organization's president, David Volk, at which time six new members were given their diplomas and were officially taken into the society. These persons were: Lois Gordon, Jane Wehr, William Klop, Genaro Fluri, Howard Miller, and Albert Smith.

Rush Week - The Democratic Process

If, at the end of this week, Susquehanna's freshmen boys are lost in a maze of Greek letters and symbols, they will have witnessed, at least, the American conception of democratic salesmanship and advertising.

Contrary to some ideas recently brought before the public in motion pictures and the printed page, fraternities still thrive on free choice and the personal decision. Perhaps the only worthwhile warning word concern "mud slinging" and false or exaggerated propaganda. The only place to get information about a fraternity is in that fraternity house or from its members. Members of another fraternity or persons who may have some personal grievance against the fraternity are a poor source of information. An interested person would hardly ask a Russian about the American way of life.

If the rushee keeps an open mind, looking upon the fraternity as a prospective home, looking upon its members as prospective brothers, and guarding against "high pressure" salesmen and false impressions, he will be able to make an intelligent decision. If he can consider the members of a fraternity and say to himself: "These people are my type. I will not have to put on false airs nor lower my standards to live with them and live like them. I will be able to contribute something to that group while they, in turn, will be able to do something for me," then he will be able to make an intelligent decision. If, on the other hand, he does not like what he sees in any of the fraternities he may remain a non-fraternity man and do so honorably. It's a democratic process—the rights of free voice and personal decision still reign.

New Members Initiated By W.A.A. at Party

The Women's Athletic Association extended their membership at their annual monthly meeting Monday, December 3.

The new members were: Betty Shafer, Alice Grabar, Joyce Miller, Jane Wehr, Maxine Weiser, Elza Adgers, Faye Kostenbauder, Irene Oldt, Rebecca Shade, Mary Klingelhoef, Joanne Benner, Carol Cornelius, Carlene Lamade, Nancy Richards, Rose Marie Sharretts, Mary Triolo, Sandra Yoos, and Mary Ellen Krebs.

Numerals and letters were given to those members who through good sportsmanship and participation in sports had attained 250 and 500 points respectively.

It was announced that Marvel Cowling is the manager of the new sport of tumbling. Dolly Taddeo was appointed assistant manager.

After the meeting, refreshments were served and Christmas carols were sung. Dot Apgar was in charge of the decorations at this meeting.

Joanne Mosholder furnished entertainment, and Peggy Henderson was the head of the refreshment committee.

Administration News

On Monday, November 26, Mr. Dan MacCush traveled to Westchester County, New York, where he interviewed students at New Rochelle, Pelham, and Mt. Vernon High Schools. For the remainder of the week he made individual contacts in and around New York City.

Miss Erma Sambrook and Mr. Dan MacCush journeyed to Harrisburg on Friday, November 30, where they attended an annual college night program at the John Harris High School.

The first new paper in New York City was named the New York Gazette. It was started in 1725.

SCA Sponsors Caroling; New Programs Set Up

Miss Shirley Ann Bell was the leader of a brief devotional service which opened the S.C.A. cabinet meeting in the S.C.A. room in Hassinger Hall on Tuesday evening, November 27.

During the course of the business meeting which followed, several important items arose which are of interest to S. U. students.

These items are:
1. Because of the postponement of the November general S.C.A. meeting due to the extension of the Thanksgiving vacation, the topic that was to be discussed, namely "Marriage," will be presented by Pastor Morris on Tuesday evening, January 22. This change, however, does not effect the December meeting which will be in the form of the annual Christmas program followed by caroling. This program will take place on Thursday, December 13.

2. It has been urged by the cabinet that the students become acquainted with the details of the 16th Student Volunteer Movement Quadrennial Conference to be held at the University of Kansas, Lawrence, Kansas, December 27, 1951 to January 1, 1952. Further information on this student conference can be found elsewhere in this issue.

3. Tentative plans were discussed concerning the promotion of a World Student Service Fund drive on our campus, probably after the Christmas vacation. The method of raising this fund which will go to needy college students throughout the world will be announced later.

Following discussion on these three issues, the meeting was adjourned by President Joyce.

FASHION CORNER

Fashion hits S. U.! Since the opening of this school year, in keeping with the many new additions on campus, the sororities and fraternities have contributed several innovations in fashion style. The light blue jackets of Alpha Delta Pi, the new black and orange ones of Phi Mu Delta, the little green and white Eton caps of Kappa Delta, and the yellow hats of Theta Chi all add an extra touch of color to the campus. Also the red and white jackets of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and the black and yellow jackets of Bond and Key will always be admired.

The spirit of football season brought out the winter collegiate styles along with a few of the lucky gals coming bundled in their fur coats.

White bucks are seen all over campus. This year those smooth looking white feet are sported by both gals and guys.

In the most recent production of the Susquehanna University players, the styles of 1850 were seen in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." The long flowing dresses of Mimi Vogler, Charlotte Neuman, Joan Bates, and Peggy Aston besides the cute little maid's outfit of Barbara Easton all looked very feminine but seeing the fellows with sideburns made us appreciate the free and easy styles of 1951.

Yes, 1951 has brought many new styles and additions to the campus. It's such fun to walk throughout the campus and see such a well-groomed and neatly-dressed group of students.

CAMPUS TIDBITS

Sunbury had occasion to be all lit up one evening last week, lit up in the true sense of the word, while a certain rough-and-ready football player and his date sat enjoying the local movie. Of course, what they didn't know, was that the source of all this illuminations was their own modest little car. They tell me the flames could be seen for miles—frantic firemen ran around screaming—loyal citizens formed a water line—and then—our football player arrived on the scene. "Stand back!" he shouted with a flourish and as always, calm in the face of danger, he seized his date's coat and beat out the flames—single-handed! Of course, a touch of rumor may have been added to this story, but the moral still prevails—do your smoking in bed.

Speaking of cars, early on Saturday, the day our team played and defeated Haverford, six supercilious sophomores, all of the female sex, started off for Philadelphia in father's grey Plymouth. They were really going to make a day of it—until, speeding along a three-lane highway, bang! bump—bump—bump—stop. A flat tire? Worse than that! Half a tire blown to shreds. Now you may say that the day of chivalry is not dead. Well, I tell you it is—just as dead as three doorbells. One car passed, two cars passed, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 cars passed. The poor D. I. D.'s (Dames in Distress) got plenty of laughs but no offers to help. Finally they became so desperate, that one ventured under the car, dragging a bumper jack after her, but didn't know how to stop the motor after she got there. Really a problem—and only eight hours to get to the game. At last a poor old man, driving a tractor, pulled up and offered his assistance. Of course, it was only because the six stood along the highway looking at him and it took him so long to ride by, that his conscience got the best of him. And I use the term "conscience" loosely. Anyway, the girls were mighty grateful.

It is the opinion of this writer, in closing, that one "music student turned pre-med" should have stayed in the Con. This particular individual while battling wits with some potassium chlorate in the chemistry lab had a little explosion. His hair caught fire, he made a few unholly utterances, ran around the lab for a while, but in spite of it all, never completely lost his head. Stick with it, my friend, we admire your spirit.

Wellcome back, Shorty we missed you. Congrats to the Sophs on their management of their magnificent Hop Saturday night.

While we're handing out laurels, here's one for Mike Lamade on his excellent performance as Robert Browning in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," given in the Kingston High School auditorium last Friday night.

Hazlett, Young On All-Pa. Grid Team; Three Others Cited

Five Susquehanna football players gained recognition on the 1951 Associated Press All-Pennsylvania college football team. Crusaders named were Jim Hazlett, Rich Young, Gene Fenstermacher, Gene Brouse and Buss Carr. Coaches and sports writers from the Keystone State made the selections. Offensive and defensive squads were chosen as well as a second team of 22 players and an honorable mention group composed of 56 names. In all, one hundred players were so honored.

Rich Young, the Crusaders' leading ground gainer and passer was selected as one of the first string backs. Myers and Talmage of Bucknell and Haner of Villanova were the other offensive backs selected. Jim Hazlett was the other Crusader to gain a berth on the first team offensive squad. He was selected as the first team center.

Fenstermacher, Carr and Brouse were given honorable mention honors. Brouse is the lone repeater representing S. U. on the squad. He previously obtained that honor in 1950.

Intramural volleyball has been organized under managers Helen Von Lyan and Ann Schumacher. Games will be played in the gym between 7 and 9 p. m.

The turnout for volleyball has been excellent and there are eleven teams in the tournament. These teams are Frosh I, II and III; Soph I, II, II and IV; Junior I and II; and Senior I and II.

A tentative schedule of games for this week is as follows:

Monday:
Junior I vs. Junior II
Soph I vs. Soph II

Tuesday:
Frosh I vs. Frosh II

Thursday:
Frosh III vs. winner of Soph I-Soph II game

Soph III vs. Soph IV
Senior I vs. Senior II

Soon after graduation, "Pensty" joined the Army Air Force and spent 37 of his 45 months in service overseas. Entering Susquehanna in 1948, Gene has played football and baseball for four years and has just received honorable mention to the All-Pennsylvania team. This year Gene is president of Bond and Key.

Gordon Joyce, a pre-theological student, is from Bridgeton, New Jersey. After graduation from high school, Gordon worked several years before coming to S. U. where he is very active. He is president of Phi Mu Delta, president of S.C.A., vice president of Pi Gamma Mu, a member of Phi Kappa, Susquehanna Players, "The Susquehanna," and was treasurer of the sophomore class.

Faye Lewis, a native of Coaldale, Pennsylvania, is in the liberal arts course majoring in mathematics. Faye is well-known for her many extra-curricular activities. She is president of Alpha Delta Pi, was a cabinet member for four years in S.C.A., editor of the Lantern, a member of the Biemic Society, W.A.A., Tau Kappa, Orientation Committee, Panhellenic Council, intramural sports, and was on the women's varsity basketball team.

Another mathematician is Miriam Vogler from Hawley, Pennsylvania. Miriam is president of Kappa Delta, president of Alpha Psi Omega, girls' vice president of S.C.A., a member of Pi Gamma Mu, Women's Student Council, Judiciary Committee, Panhellenic Council, Biemic Society, Susquehanna Singers, W.A.A., Tau Kappa, and intramural sports.

Ed Wollaston, a business administration student, comes to Susquehanna from Warren, Pennsylvania. He was very active in high school and has kept up his reputation at S. U. Ed is president of the Men's Student Council, a member of Bond and Key, a proctor in Selingrove Hall, a member of S.C.A., and Business Society. Sports are a major interest to Ed, and he has played varsity basketball and baseball besides all intramurals.

SPORTS CHATTER

By Richard Stout

It was but a short time ago S. U.'s enthusiastic contingent was in a frenzy supporting the Orange and Maroon in its quest for an unblemished grid campaign. While the hush has scarcely settled over the Susquehanna campus, the 1951-52 EDITION OF THE CRUSADER CAGE QUINTET has been sharpening its sights for its forthcoming tilt with the Ursinus Grizzlies at Collegeville December 8. The Bears, who launched their Hoop Campaign against Gettysburg's high flying Bulls, were swamped in their first encounter. Despite their loss to the Gettysburg lads, the Grizzlies will definitely enter the clash as a heavy pre-game favorite. Paced by the towering Bill Swett, 6'7" center, the Bears should boast one of the better teams in small college cage competition.

Should the Crusaders dump the odds-makers in the Quaker City area Saturday, they will have established the longest victory streak recorded by an S. U. cage quintet since 1948-49. An upset over Elizabethtown in last seasons hardwood finale coupled with a mark in the win column at Collegeville Saturday night will make it two in a row for the victory hungry Crusaders. LET'S START THE SEASON RIGHT. TROUNCE URSINUS!

CONGRATULATIONS ARE IN ORDER FOR RICH YOUNG AND JIM HAZLETT on their selection to the PENNSYLVANIA ALL-COLLEGE TEAM. Young, a product of nearby Northumberland, who has dazzled football fans with his antics on the gridiron, was regarded as a sure bet for this coveted recognition. Hazlett, who overcomes his opponents with a strong will, determination, and clean living, can be considered one of the most spirited players to mark the turf on University Field. Gaining HONORABLE MENTION for their outstanding gridiron achievements were GENE BROUSE, BUSS CARR, and GENE FENSTERMACHER. SUSQUEHANNA IS REAL PROUD OF YOU.

Ed Danyluk and Jim Hazlett are the lone Susquehanna gridmers making the switch to the hardwoods. Hazlett, a veteran of two previous seasons, will make a bid for a starting berth. Danyluk, a freshman, is taking his first fling at the cage sport since coming to Susquehanna.

Rahid football fans will want to read "Too Much Football" now appearing in the December issue of Readers' Digest. It makes one thankful he's at a school where football is still played for fun.

hold Niebuhr, an outstanding churchman of our time, Dr. Ruth Seabury of the American Missions Board, and Dr. John S. Badeau, President, The American University at Cairo, Egypt.

Susquehanna's administration has seen the importance and the potentialities of such a meeting in that it has offered to help defray the expenses of one or two students who would be interested in attending as S. U. delegates.

Expenses for the five days will amount to approximately $35.00, not including traveling costs. However, a travel pool will be set up to partially equalize transportation costs for those coming from a long distance.

Any Susquehanna students who are interested in attending this North American Student Conference or who wish more information concerning it are urged to talk with Dr. Smith, Gordon Joyce, or David Volk immediately.

S. U. Cage Team Not Officially Named; Ursinus First Game

The Susquehanna Crusaders inaugurate a sixteen game basketball schedule this Saturday against the Ursinus Grizzlies at Collegeville. The Crusaders' 1951-1952 schedule includes eight away games and eight games in Alumni Gymnasium. Home games will start at eight o'clock.

Coach Stagg is expected to rely on his veteran squad members in the opening contest at Collegeville. At present there are five major lettermen out for pre-season drills. Letter winners include Charlie Zlock, Jim Alter, Stu Tomlinson, Jim Hazlett and Ned Gordon. All save Gordon won their letters last year. Condon won his major "S" two years ago. Last year Ned was serving at the request of Uncle Sam in the armed services.

Charlie Zlock will be playing his fourth year of basketball for Susquehanna. Last year he was the Crusaders' leading scorer. Tomlinson and Alter will be playing their second year of the winter sport at S. U. Both are sophomores.

Other members of the basketball squad include forwards Roy Poor and Ed Danyluk. Trying out for the guard positions are Frank Smith, Dick McCarty, and Don Hagg, all freshmen. Bob Wyllie, a hold-over from last year's squad, is the other guard attempting to gain a berth on the starting five. Bob Deibler, a junior from Williamsport, is a candidate for the center position.

December 1.
Mrs. Beatrice Perham Krone, noted lecturer and author, of Los Angeles, California, will be the guest speaker on the Susquehanna Chapter of MENC on Thursday morning, December 6, from 9:30 to 11:30 in Seibert Chapel. Mrs. Krone holds both her Bachelor's and Master's degrees from the University of Wisconsin. She has taught music in the public schools of Wisconsin and Illinois, in addition to summer sessions at colleges and universities across the country.

She has conducted workshops and institutes for teachers and has appeared on the programs of the Music Educators National Conference from coast to coast. She is at present lecturing and writing during the present school year and teaching during the summer session at the Idyllwild School of Music and the Arts, which is associated with the University of Southern California, at Idyllwild, California.

Mrs. Krone's philosophy of music education is that music is really the universal language which everyone, young or old, can speak, understand, and enjoy.

Every student is invited to attend this program.

The first students' evening recital will be held on Monday, December 10, at 8:15 p. m. in Seibert Chapel. The program will be as follows:

the organizations with which the members of a fraternity are affiliated. A group of industrious actives make for an active fraternity.

Most important of all is the consideration as to whether or not the men in the fraternity are the kind of men you admire and wish to live with. The fraternity cannot be something its members are not.

Look at fraternity rushing with an open mind and a great deal of thought and consideration. A decision that is important enough to be made is important enough to be considered from all its angles.

Letters to the Editor

Recently, Susquehanna University completed its first undefeated, untied football season in the school's history. This is an honor that comes very few times to colleges of our size and can easily be seen by comparing the football histories of other non-subsidized institutions of Pennsylvania in our class. The recognition and publicity Susquehanna has gained through the coaches, the team, and the undefeated, untied season cannot be fully realized and the final benefits the school will derive cannot be fully measured.

It would therefore be fitting if awards could be given the team befitting of the fine record they have accomplished for the school. It is not known whether the powers that be fully realize the hard work, sacrifices, and emotional strain placed upon the individual and the team in compiling an undefeated, untied season. Appreciation for this effort can be shown with an appropriate award to each player on the team.

The student body, as well as the team, were greatly disappointed in the administration's decision to shun all post-season games and specially a possible chance to participate in the Tangerine Bowl in Orlando, Florida on January 1. Authorization to take part in a post-season game would have fully shown an appreciation of the team and could have been accomplished by the proper procedure without detriment to the school.

It is in the hope that as this institution wants its students to put education first and extra-curricular activities second, which is rightly so, that it also does not forget the value of its extra-curricular activities and pays due respect to this group of men who have given so much to Susquehanna.

Sorority News

Alpha Delta Pi

Violets to our president, Faye Lewis, who has been elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. We're all very happy to see Charlotte Neuman back on campus after her appendectomy.

Gamma Omicron received a plate commemorating the Centennial of ADPI from its Philadelphia Alumnae Association.

Mrs. John Houtz, our alumnae scholarship advisor, attended the meeting last Wednesday evening.

We congratulate our sisters Audrey Wegner and Lois Fisher who were pledged to Tau Kappa, Lois Gordon who was initiated into Pi Gamma Mu, and Joyce Miller who was taken into the W.A.A.

Best Wishes to Audrey Wegner who now wears the Phi Mu Delta fraternity pin of John Horoschak.

Special congratulations to the Sophomore class for their wonderful decorations and dance last Saturday night. We wish the basketball team the best of luck on their opening game this coming Saturday!

Kappa Delta

Mrs. Herbert E. Mueller, of Evanston, Illinois, National chaplain of Kappa Delta Sorority, is visiting our campus from December third to the sixth. She is an alumnae of Northwestern University. Mrs. Mueller received the Northwestern Alumni Service Award in 1944. She was graduated from the School of Speech with a B.L. degree. She was province president of Kappa Delta from 1941 to 1944.

Miss Frances Brunkhorst was elected as Kappa Delta's representative to the Panhellenic council.

Congratulations to Mimi Vogler, Dot Appar and Willie Odenthal for becoming pledges of Tau Kappa.

Miss Brunkhorst announced that the Christmas letters are ready to be mailed to the Alumnae.

The girls were glad to hear from Shirley Smyrl.

Thanks to Lu Lu Slater for her letter and gift.

Best wishes to our sister Bernice Jochem who was married to Roger Howling over a Thanksgiving vacation and also to Ellie Smith and Dick Burley on their pinning last Saturday night.

Sigma Alpha Iota

Sigma Omega Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota held a tea and musicale in the parlors of Seibert Hall on Sunday, December 2 from 3 to 5 p. m. in commemoration of S.A.I. Incorporation Day. Included in the musical were the following numbers: two piano solos, "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," by Bach played by Jacquelyn McKeever, and "The Juggler," by Toth, played by Eleanor Borski, and two vocal solos, "La Girometta," by Sibella, sung by Joan Bates, and "Cupid's Counsel," by Joston, sung by Barbara Easton.

One of the purposes of the tea was to collect funds to be donated to the S.A.I. Foundation. The Foundation is a channel whereby the general public may join Sigma Alpha Iota's own membership to aid financially in broadening opportunities for American youth in the manner in which Sigma Alpha Iota affords such privileges. Among the projects of the Foundation is the presentation to worthy music students of scholarships to such schools as Fountainbleau School of the Arts, Berkshire Music Center, and Idyllwild School of Music and the Arts. The Foundation has also made donations to such worthy causes as the Metropolitan Opera Fund and the National Music Council which is part of UNESCO.

On December 7 Sigma Omega Chapter will hold a Christmas party for the faculty of the Conservatory. On December 11 the Chapter will present a program of Christmas music at the State Colony and on December 12 the Chapter will present a half hour of Christmas music over station WKOK in Sunbury from 10:30 to 11 p. m.

The Sophomore class with Brother Reuben Henry, president, is to be commended for the fine dance Saturday night. The decorating committee proved to everyone there that much time and hard work was consumed in making the evening a success.

On the All-State football team, the brothers were well represented by Gene Fenstermacher, Buss Carr, and Gene Brouse who received honorable mention along with Rich Young and Jim Hazlett who made the first team.

Pre-Christmas celebration will include a banquet for the members at the house next week. A Christmas party will highlight Saturday evening, December 15. Brother Herb Krauss has a "combo" for dancing and is in charge of the entertainment. Christmas cards are going to be sent out to the alumni and parents of the athletes.

An expected membership of 600 is in sight for our newly-formed Alumni Association. The association president has a complete file of the alumni and has been contacting them since Homecoming in an effort to increase membership. Two scholarship funds have been set up by the alumni and are operating.

In preparation for rush week the house is busy with rehearsals and plans in anticipation of another successful year.

Basketball this year looks promising for the house with a lot of good material and fine new uniforms.

Three of those chosen for Who's Who in American Colleges are Gene Fenstermacher, Buss Carr, and Ed Wollaston. The brothers are proud of these men and wish them continued success.

During the Christmas vacation, several men are staying to complete plans for remodeling the second floor.

To top off a very successful football season, a steak dinner was held in recognition of a job well done by the team.

Phi Mu Delta

Plans are being formulated under the direction of brother Ed Kopf for the Winter formal dance to be held on December 15.

On November 28 house improvements, including a fraternity sign and new drapes, were discussed.

Congratulations to brother Jim Hazlett and also Rich Young on being chosen for all-state first string offensive team. Also the best to Gene Brouse, Gene Fenstermacher, and Buss Carr for gaining honorable mention. All are members of the great team Susquehanna is justly proud of.

On the fateful night of December 1 John Horoschak discovered his fraternity pin missing. It seems Audrey Wegner found it. Congratulations on being pinned!

Best wishes also to brother Roger Howling who married Bernice Jochem on November 24. May life bring them much happiness.

The fraternity home will be open this week for all rushees. Mu Alpha chapter extends a cordial invitation to all rushees to stop in at the house at any time this week.

Theta Chi

Theta Chi wishes to welcome all freshmen men who have signed up for rush week. They are invited to visit the house at any time during the week.

Our annual Rush Week Smoker will be held on Wednesday evening, and the Pledge Banquet will be held on Friday evening at the Hotel Milton.

We welcome to the ranks of Theta Chi, Ted Lamb, who was initiated as a member at the weekly meeting on Wednesday night.

Last Sunday evening, Beta Omega chapter was in charge of Vespers. Brother Lauver was the liturgist and Brother Bomboy was the speaker.

Plans are now underway for the gala Christmas party which is to be held on Saturday night, the fifteenth of December.

Congratulations to Jim Hazlett and Rich Young on their appointment to the "All-State" team.

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK

DAVID VOLK

Our personality of the week certainly fits the proverbial bee. He is none other than Dave Volk, and he is just as busy as that bee.

Dave came to S. U. from Boswell, Pa. He graduated in 1948 and really earned his certificate. Along with being a good student, he served as a class officer twice; once as vice president and once as treasurer. He was also editor of his high school paper and active in dramatics and the band. He seemed to have his fingers in everything.

On first seeing Susquehanna, he liked it. He has been active in S. U. A for four years and is now the boys' vice president as well as editor of the handbook for this year. While at S. U. he has been on the Dean's Honor List and has worked in the bookstores for two years. Dave has been active in many organizations including Pi Gamma Mu, of which he is president, and Phi Kappa. He was vice president of Phi Kappa his Junior year.

Dave is a pre-theological student and is quite interested in the religious side of life. He has attended several Lutheran Students Association Conferences while attending school, including three "A's", two of which were held at Camp Interlocher, Michigan, and one at Blue Ridge, North Carolina.

During the summer, Dave is just as busy. He clerks in a drug store, helps his uncle, an undertaker, and also preaches on the side. However, this summer, Dave hopes to attend the First International Lutheran Youth Convention at Hanover, Germany next July.

This fall he will enroll in Gettysburg Lutheran Seminary to continue his studies. We wish him all the luck in the world for a bright future in his chosen field.

VESPERS

"How one may exchange confidence for worry" constituted the main idea in the meditation given by Larry Botliger when he, representing the Phi Mu Delta Fraternity, spoke at college vespers on Sunday, December 9.

"Take the negative statements from your conversation. Say 'I can' and not 'I can't,'" he stated to the group of listeners.

We can gain confidence in ourselves if we but "paint a picture in the mind's eye of something that you want. Then strive to bring that picture to reality. We indeed should be like Christ. He had no negativism, but used positive actions," Larry said as he gave the group several means of exchanging confidence for worry.

Harmon Andrews, Phi Mu chaplain, served as liturgist and Jack Schraeder and Ruth Reed provided the program's music. Jack sang the "Ninety First Psalm" as a solo and Ruth presided at the organ console.

ALPHA PSI OMEGA
PLEDGES MEMBERS

On Wednesday evening, December 5, 1951, Alpha Psi Omega, held its monthly meeting. At this time Joan Bates, Charlotte Neuman, Tom Marts, and Pat LaMarca were pledged by the Theta Phi chapter, representing Susquehanna University.

Grand Director Miriam Vogler expressed the hope that students would not wait till they became seniors to join Alpha Psi Omega. She pointed out that it takes seventy-five points to be eligible for membership. Since points are given for all the actors and actresses as well as students behind the scenes who help directly with the production of a play, seventy-five points should not be too hard to get. Start when you are a freshman, and go out for the three productions given each year.

At this meeting it was also announced that initiation of the new pledges would be held at the next meeting on January 3, 1952.

THE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS

By H. ROBERT KURTZ
Twas the night before Christmas when all thru the cellar,
Not a creature was stirring, not even a feller.

The stockings were slung by the chimney with care,
In hopes that Saint Nick would soon be there.

The children were sprawled all over the beds,
While wee little gremlins danced on their heads.

While mama in her nightgale and I in my shoes,
Had just settled down for a little snooze.

When out on the lawn there arose such a spatter
I crawled from my bed to see what was the matter.

Away to the window I flew like a flash, Tore open the shutters and busted the dash.

The moon on the face of the new Christmas snow,
Gave a luster of objects far below.

There was a tall young driver that carried some holly,
I knew in a moment it was Sir Walter Raleigh.

More rapid that ants his coursers they came,
And he cried and shouted and called them by name:

Now Crasher and Prancer and Dancer and Vixen,
On Comet, on Cupid, on Blunder and Blitzen.

To the top of the house to the top of the stall,
Now crawl away, crawl away, crawl away all.

As wet leaves before the wild hurricane fly,
When they meet with an obstacle
mount to the sky.

And then in an hour I heard on the roof,
The pounding and clanging of each big hoof.

As I scratched my head and was turning around,
In the door came Saint Nick chased by myound.

He was dressed all in plaid from his

PHI KAPPA HOLDS
CHRISTMAS PARTY

"Christmas Everywhere" was the theme for the annual Christmas party of Phi Kappa which was held last Tuesday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Ahl.

The Christmas story as recorded in St. Luke was read in Greek by David Voik and President Charles Bomboy led the group in the "Lord's Prayer" and "Silent Night" also in the Greek Language. The club's quartet made up of Bob Moore, Bob Shade, Albert Swithers, and David Voik sang the Greek version of "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

The theme of the program was then carried out in the gayly decorated house of the hosts as various students presented the Christmas customs in other parts of the world including Greece,
Palestine, Germany, Holland, Spain,
England, Mexico, Italy, and the U. S.
Appropriate carols were sung by the group for each country.

Guests of the club for the evening were Dr. and Mrs. G. M. Smith, Rev.
Ernest Flothmeyer, and Mr. Benjamin Loiz, who took part in the games which followed the formal program.

The Ciceroniani will hold its annual initiation service tonight at 7 p. m. in the Seibert Social Rooms. Those persons to be initiated, who have completed almost a full semester in the Latin department, are Arlan Gilbert, Marilyn Huyett, Irene Meerbach, Gladys Moore, Lucian Smith, and David Voik.

Following the initiation ceremony the program will be presented. A comparison will be made between the pagan Christmas as it existed in Rome, and Christmas as Christians know it today.
Christmas carols will be sung and Latin in Latin.

Stunt Night Reveals
Variety of Talents
In Freshman Class

The annual Freshman Stunt Night was presented in the Chapel on Saturday night to an eager audience. The program was well received by upperclassmen and faculty. The cast included the following:

Master of Ceremonies, Wayne Miller;
"School Days," mixed group; "A, You're Adorable" by P. Sheldow and A.
Swithers; girls quartet, C. Cornelius,
D. Sites, J. Silvey, R. Sharretts singing
"Daddy's Little Girl;" "Mister and Mississippi," Wayne Miller; "Patti in the Taxi," E. Dively; "Tacatta," H.
Griffith; "There's No Tomorrow," Glib
Davis assisted by K. Erdely; mouth organ selections, C. Coates assisted by A. Martin; Charleston Dance, T. Richards assisted by K. Erdely; "Two Front Teeth," L. Bingham; Hula Hula, Five
Brave Souls; Commercial, B. Harper;
Finale, Girls' Quartet and Entire Cast.
Orchids to Bob Moore, Jayne Daley, and George Ferrey for their help and cooperation with the class of 1955 in making Freshman Stunt Night a success.

Many thanks also go to B. Harper and C. Coates, Girl-Boy Chairmen, for their combined effort in producing this show.

SIXTY-TWO DONORS
REPORT TO BLOOD BANK IN SEIBERT

On Thursday, December 6, the students and faculty of Susquehanna were again given an opportunity to give blood to the American Red Cross.

The Bloodmobile set up its equipment in the Seibert Social Rooms, and from 10 until 3:45 sixty-two donors came and sixty pints of blood were given.

The majority of donors were from Susquehanna, but fifteen people from out of town also came to do their part.
The Blood Bank was sponsored by Kappa Delta Sorority. Members were on hand throughout the day to assist the staff of the Red Cross.

Mrs. Kilne filled out the very detailed application blanks and Mrs. Zagaris, Mrs. Howling, Mrs. Russ, Mrs. Whitmer, and Mrs. Loiz assisted in the canteen where coffee, tea, sandwiches and cookies were given to the donors.

TO A BLOOD DONOR

You who gave your blood that I might live,
Know that I bear it proudly in my veins.

No greater gift has anyone to give,
No higher tribute to your land remains.
You shared your blood that I might help to save

A life. To you I owe my very breath.
Know that the blood you gladly gave Has met the foe, has even conquered death.

GALS, GUYS ENJOY
TAU KAPPA DANCE

The "girls drag boys" affair, held in Alumni Gym on Saturday night, was well attended and proved quite successful and enjoyable. The dance, in honor of Susquehanna's all-victorious football team, was sponsored by Tau Kappa.

The gym was decorated with goal posts and a miniature gridiron in the middle of the floor. Two flavors of punch, and delicious pretzels were served to those attending. Music was furnished by the best bands in the land, on records.

REPRESENTATIVES OF TWO FIRMS TO DISCUSS JOB
OPENINGS FOR SENIORS

Mr. Donald D. Williams of Sherwin-
Williams Paint Company will speak on Wednesday, December 12, at 10 a. m., in Bogan 108, on "Opportunities for College Men with Sherwin-Williams Paint Company."

Mr. R. M. Richey of The American Agricultural Chemical Company will be in Bogan 108 on Thursday, December 13, at 10 a. m. to meet seniors who wish to investigate opportunities for employment with his company.

FRATS HOLD SMOKERS FOR RUSHEES
END WEEK WITH PLEDGE CEREMONIES

The men in the college have settled down to some study and nights of sleep after a busy week of smokers, ping-pong games, midnight jam sessions, and little sleep. It is like the lull after the storm.

Monday evening saw each fraternity house well lighted and humming with actives and visiting rushees. Most of the rushees visited each house to get a sneak preview of the house itself and of the men who were living there.

On Tuesday evening Phi Mu Delta held its smoker. Highlights of the evening included several skits, and musical numbers. At midnight the house was still rocking with the strains of the house band accentuated by Dick Jones on the drums.

Christmas Years Ago
Nothing Like Today

To celebrate Christmas is a sin;
yes, Christmas wasn't always accepted and celebrated in the manner in which we now accept and celebrate it.

Many clerical protests and papal anathemas condemned Christmas. These condemnations were not without cause, for many wise and sane citizens respected to the worst orgies, debauch-eries, and indecencies of Racheanilla and Saturnalia with the clergy being whirled into the vortex.

Finally the "Feast of the Pools" was instituted. The purpose of the feast was to let the people turn to folly just once a year, since they trod the "straight and narrow path" for the other days of the year. This festival was declared an excellent thing and a Flemish divine declared that it was accepted by God with great applause.

Another great theologian, Gerson, stated, "If all the devils in hell had put their heads together to devise a feast that should utterly scandalize Christianity, they could not have improved upon this one."

These two views appeared because of the facts known to each man. Gerson was probably acquainted with the festival period in France which staggers belief. The season in France was said to consist of drinking, roaring, health-ing, dicing, carding, dancing, masques, and stage plays.

When the Puritans took over the English government, England began to have a very conservative Christmas season; in fact, celebrations were prohibited by the law. United States were also affected. The General Court of Massachusetts enacted a law to the effect that: "anybody who is found observing by abstinence from labor, feasting, or any other way, any such day as Christmas Day, shall pay for every such offense not less than 5 shillings."

The restoration of the English royalty brought Christmas back to England in a form similar to that of today.

DID YOU KNOW?

The cock crows to scare off evil spirits from the holy season of Christmas.

The bees sing at Christmas time.
Cattle kneel in honor of the manger.
Sheep form a procession in commemoration of the visit of the angel of the shepherd.

In the German Alps, the cattle talk on Christmas Eve.

Sunday School Class
Visits Pine Lawn

The Sunday School Class of Mrs.
G. Morris Smith was invited to Pine Lawn Sunday evening to meet Dr. and Mrs. Lewis Miller, former missionaries to Japan and intimate friends of Kel Sasaki. Stories on schools and churches and of many of the leaders of the Japanese Lutheran Church were shown.
Miss Sasaki was thrilled at seeing pictures of many of her former pupils and friends from her homeland. Oriental costumes and relics of early missionary endeavors in Japan were among the mementoes displayed by Mrs. Smith and the Millers. Dr. Miller, who has just been retired after forty-four years of Christian witness in Japan, showed a jeweled decoration which he received in recognition of his educational work from the Emperor.

The Millers and Miss Sasaki sang Christmas Carols in Japanese for the group which reciprocated with some carols in Latvian, Latin, Spanish, German, Greek, and—more fluently—in English. About twenty members of the class were present.

Theta Chi was host to the rushees on Wednesday evening at which time special entertainment was provided which included musical numbers and also magic acts furnished by that well-known man of mystery, Bill Stringer. Refreshments followed the entertainment.

The final smoker was held at Bond and Key on Thursday evening where a chorus line and several skits were given. Buss Carr presented an aria, "Vesta La Guiba," as the crowning feature.

On Saturday morning bids were extended to the rushees by the fraternities for pledging. Phi Mu Delta and Theta Chi pledged on Saturday afternoon at 1 p. m. and Bond and Key pledged on Monday evening.

Those men pledged by Bond and Key were Robert Eltri, Ronald Petteforl, Charles Gerbe, Don Haag, Dave Harris,
Don Hellman, Ronald Kraut, Deen
Lauver, Arnold Martin, Dick McCarty,
Mike Rising, Fred Tyler, Merle Ullsh,
John Wicks, and Ted Yoder.

On Saturday Phi Mu Delta pledged
Walter Albert, James Anolia, Ivars
Anders, Larry Bingham, Charles Coates,
Kenneth Erdely, Louis Heine, Harry
Kocher, Wayne Miller, William Murrell,
Edgar Ostreich, Albert Orlando, Richard Owens, William Schreffler, James Shawalter, Albert Swithers, William Vanderhoof, Lee Walker, and Charles Ziegenfuss.

Theta Chi pledged Glenn Baumgardner, Thomas Bodner, Edward Danyluk, Ralph Dersham, Philip Ger-gen, Arlan Gilbert, Jerome Purta,
Anna Bessa, John Smaltz, Larry
Smith, Richard Walk, and Carl Winney.

Pledges are the life line of any fraternity. No fraternity needs a certain individual as its life line but it needs that group of prospective actives called pledges upon whose shoulders the fraternity will in a few years rest.

Exhibits, New Books
Pep Up SU Library

Students! Have you visited the library lately? If not, you certainly should see the various exhibits and look over the new books.

The Susquehanna University Library is now exhibiting "The Christmas Story in Art and Legend." The Metropolitan Museum of Art publishes these miniatures in color.

The collection consists of 24 pictures with a description of each picture underneath. The Annunciation, The Virgin and Child, The Birth of the Virgin, The Adoration of the Shepherds,
The Nativity, and The Arrival in Bethlehem are included in the collection.

Seniors! How are your job possibilities? The newly acquired "Occupational Outlook Handbook of 1951," has this information. The handbook gives information on the major occupations stressing such points as outlook, nature of work, earnings, geographic possibilities, and qualifications. The Occupational Handbook is published by the U. S. Department of Labor, in cooperation with the Veterans Administration.

There are two outstanding books on the world situation today. "The China Story," by Freda Utley, gives the reader a vivid and up to date look into the Chinese and Korean situations.
"The U. S. in World Affairs," edited by the Research Staff of the Council on Foreign Relations, delves into the problems facing the world today. The opinions and views of many of our government leaders of this decade are contained in this book.

History and medical students would be interested in "Physician to the World," by John Gibson. This is a portrayal of the life of General William
C. Gorgas, and his never-ending fight

NEVER SAY DIE

Susquehanna just completed its first undefeated-untied season in the history of the university. The school spirit behind the players played a large part in speeding them on to victory.

But such a school spirit cannot die with the football season! We must carry over the enthusiasm into basketball season. The basketball team must feel the encouragement and fever that the football team felt.

Last year, the bleachers in the gymnasium weren't filled to capacity. Every student pays for the basketball games when he pays his activities fee. Why not go to the games—it's just as easy to "let off steam" in the gym as it is out on the football field.

The football team spent long hours out on the practice field getting ready for the current game. The basketball team has been on the job and has been practicing for a long time, too. The student body can't allow the team to feel that their long hours of practice spent in the gym weren't appreciated. Why not let the team feel compensated by a large student turnout?

The schedule for this year brings the "cage team" on campus for the first time this Friday night, December 14. The first opponent met on the home floor is Wilson Teachers—why not blast Wilson T. right off the floor with cheers and chatter for Susquehanna?

Don't let the school spirit die—it must be carried over into basketball season! The student body displayed such intense interest, earnestness, and fervent zeal in the football team that it seems impossible to think that the basketball team wouldn't be supported equally as well. Just think of the hours of practice, the hours of sweat, the hours when they could have been doing something else, that the boys on the team gave up. It's entirely up to the students to support their team, and it would be gratifying to know that the effort made by the Crusaders was not made in vain.

Many of the individuals on campus complain habitually that "there's nothing to do, no place to go." The athletic department is providing a pleasant diversification by having eight home games this season. It's just a short walk to the gym from any point on campus, so it certainly can't be any great effort to get there. It's easy to go out for a cigarette between halves and enjoy the cokes sold by the Women's Athletic Association. So you see, it isn't a task for anyone to go to the gym, or go out for a "smoke."

And the "floor-show" is worth while, too. The last game of basketball is interesting to the majority of people. Isn't it a thrill to see the basketball go "whooshing" through the net when you didn't think the player could make it from "way back there?"

Don't forget! The first home game is this Friday night! Let's have the cooperation of the student body for this basketball season that we had for the football season just past! Cheer your team on to victory! Be seeing you there!

With Apologies

Company?

Reuben Henry: "Do you enjoy my company?"

Nancy Kreig: "What company are you with?"

Domesticity

Josh: "The furniture man is here, dear. He came for the piano."

Roger: "But I gave you the money for the next installment."

Josh: "Yes, I know. I'm going to pay them as soon as they get downstairs. I've decided to have it in the living room!"

Faux Pas

Bill Kelly: "Look at that terrifying insignia on the side of that plane."

Bob Fenstermacher: "Not so loud! That's the squadron commander looking out the window."

Using Your Head

Dr. Russ: "Why didn't you answer my question?"

Ed Danyluk: "I did, sir, I shook my head."

Dr. Russ: "Did you expect me to hear it rattle way up here?"

Here again is one of those triangles. The idea is not particularly new, but it is amazing that in spite of its staleness and lack of humor, most every one will read this down to the very, very end.

Eager Beaver

Bob Shade: "Have you a date for the dance?"

Max (Eagerly): "Why, no I haven't."

Bob: "That's too bad, I'll miss you."

Wife Awake

Dr. Robison: "What's this! Is someone smoking back there?"

Charlotte Neuman: "No, sir; it's only the fog I'm in, sir."

Up-To-Date

Mr. DeMott: "Before we begin this examination, are there any questions?"

Jim Chadwick: "What's the name of this course?"

Heaven-Sent

Ed Neuman: "That girl I was out with Saturday night looked like she dropped from heaven."

Jake Spangler: "Yeah. Without a parachute."

Remember Me?

Cop (to man just struck by hit-and-run driver: "Did you get his number?"

Roy Poor: "No, but I'd recognize his laugh any place."

Notes by an Unseen Observer in Library

Many find the library an unexciting place. However, in its many corners deep secrets can be found. If the library could talk, it might describe a typical day somewhat as follows:

7:55 Student assistant opens up.
8:05 Miss Kolpin arrives.

8:15 Overnight book brought back. Big argument about payment of 25c fine. Fine is paid.

8:30 Shelf of books falls. ("but I just leaned against it!")

8:45 Six students arrive boisterously. (Shhh!!!)

9:00 Dead silence.

9:01 More students arrive.

9:15 Mail arrives, is sorted, and put out.

9:20 Cries of "Where's the new LIFE?"

9:45 Discovery. Someone has ripped out a cartoon. Much sound and fury.

10:10 Professor enters, disregards the law of silence. No "Shh!" forthcoming. Tain't no justice.

10:30 Group of students starts game "Who can squeak his chair the loudest?" SHHHHH!!!!

10:50 Student stages protest against the lack of an Inquirer. Student assistant attempts to pacify.

11:10 Professor wants to read Inquirer. Departs in a disgruntled mood. (Storm signals for his p. m. classes.)

11:30 All but two students depart.

11:35 Blissful silence.

11:55 Six students arrive.

12:01 Eight students pushed protestingly out the door.

1:12 Miss Kolpin opens up.

1:18 Student assistant arrives. Numerous recriminations; many excuses.

1:30 Professor comes in, desires to see his reserve book. Book has been appropriated.

1:50 Student brings in five overdue books, argues about fine. Fine is paid.

2:10 Student trespasses behind the desk. Fireworks!

2:30 Large group of students arrives, spends half an hour whispering.

3:00 "Can you help us with our library science? We have to have it in twenty minutes!"

3:15 Library empties as l. s. class slowly descends.

3:30 Mail arrives.

4:11 Thundering herd gallops up the steps and departs until next week.

4:45 Three more reserve books among the missing.

5:00 What's a big idea, turning out the lights?"

7:00 Student opens library.

7:25 First customer enters.

8:00 Half of student body arrives. They greet each other with glad exclamations.

8:30 Student assistant gives up attempt to study, attempts to keep things down to a quiet roar.

9:05 Two of the missing reserve books are discovered under a stack of old magazines.

9:30 Library convulsed by howling of stray cat outside.

9:45 All but a few people leave.

10:01 "But I have to finish this article by eight tomorrow."

"Well, I have to sign in at ten, and it's after that now."

The actives are happy to welcome in the new pledges who are Bob Ettari, Ronald Peteroff, Charles Gerbe, Ron Haag, Dave Harris, Don Helman, Ronald Krou, Dean Lauder, Arnold Martin, Dick McCarthy, Mike Rising, Fred Tyler, Merle Ush, John Wicks, and Ted Yoder. The new pledges were taken in Monday evening.

The Christmas banquet for pledges and actives will be held Tuesday evening at the house.

Plans for the Christmas party this Saturday evening have been made by the social chairman, Herb Krause.

Phi Mu Delta

Open house was held throughout this past week for all rushers. Refreshments were served and a good time was had by all. On Friday evening the brotherhood and those rushers choosing Phi Mu Delta journeyed to the V.F.W. in Sunbury for a delicious dinner. On Saturday at 1 p. m. a formal pledging ceremony was held. The men pledging were Walter Albert, James Ando, Ivart Avots, Larry Bingham, Charles Coates, Kenneth Erdley, Louis Heinze, Harry Kocker, Wayne Miller, William Murrele, Edgar Oestreich, Albert Orlando, Richard Owens, William Schreffler, James Showalter, Albert Swithers, William Vanderhoof, Lee Walker, and Charles Ziegenfuss. This fine pledge group will start pledge duties Monday.

Brother Bill May, alumnus of the class of '41 and now teaching at a college in Texas, attended the Phi Mu Delta smoker on Tuesday evening.

Congratulations to brother Zlock on tying for high scorer honors in our game with Ursinus. Keep up the good work. Best of luck to the basketball team in the future.

Phi Mu Delta's Christmas formal dance will be held on Saturday night, December 15. Music will be furnished by the Merry Macs. Invitations have been sent to alumni. Pledges and their dates are invited.

Congratulations to brother Jim Hazlett on being chosen center on the Little All-American football team. A great honor well deserved!

Theta Chi

There he is; a drowsy, red-eyed Theta Chi man staggering from the effects of rush week. And though he's pretty well shot, you can't but notice the smile of satisfaction on that shows through his haggard countenance.

He had suffered through the pains of midnight meetings, sleepless existence, and parties, parties, parties; he had taken part in the Smoker which was co-ordinated by Sam Ross and featured a speech by our Field Secretary Bob Creber, a band, Kenny Hemstead's one-man show, Bill Stringer's magic, the Corny Mountain Boys, "The Case of the Game Fix," and Jack Schwartz as M.C.; he had tossed the ox with prospective pledges; he had served hamburgers and cokes, written invitations, and done extra house duties; he had been to the banquet at the Hotel Milton where he enjoyed a club steak dinner; and now he was shot, yet smiling.

Saturday afternoon the following men were pledged to Theta Chi Fraternity: Glenn Baumgardner, Thomas Bodnar, Edward Danyluk, Ralph Dersham, Philip Gergen, Arlan Gilbert, Jerome Purta, Ames Ressa, John Smaltz, Larry Smith, and Carl Winey. Richard Walk was pledged the following Monday evening.

LIBRARY NEWS—From Page 1 against yellow fever in connection with the building of the Panama Canal. Edited by Fosselt, "World's Greatest Christmas Stories," gives us a look into Christmas legends of twenty-three countries. United States, Russia, Ireland, Switzerland, and Yugoslavia are a few examples all having Christmas celebrated in different ways with a wide variety of stories.

The library now subscribes to a new monthly magazine entitled "The American City." This has been exceedingly helpful to the Sociology classes and contains a wealth of information of different American cities.

This is by no means a complete list of the recently acquired books and magazines. Why don't you forget that extra game of cards at the snack bar and visit the library to see what you are missing?

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK

This week's personality is well known on Susquehanna's campus for her artistic ability, sense of humor, and good nature. She is Wilda Odenthal, known more familiarly as "Willie."

WILDA ODENTHAL

"Willie" was born in Newark, New Jersey, and now lives in Kinnelon, New Jersey, on Lake Juliet.

In Butler High School, her old alma mater, "Willie" was a member of the National Honor Society. She was active in the student council and co-editor of the yearbook, besides many other clubs and organizations to which she belonged.

Here at Susquehanna, "Willie" is a member of Kappa Delta Sorority, W.A.A., S.C.A., Tau Kappa, and the Susquehanna Players. For two years she has written for the "Susquehanna," and was also a member of the Biemic Society for two years. She is on the judiciary committee of the Women's Student Council this year and is also president of Selbert Hall. In her junior year, she was secretary-treasurer of Panhellenic and this year is president.

One can easily see just why Wilda is perhaps one of the busiest and most energetic people on campus.

Besides all these other activities, Wilda loves to knit, read, and swim in her spare time. It is difficult to see how she manages to get everything done in one day, but that's "Willie," always on the go.

"Willie's" major is psychology, and she plans to do guidance work after graduation. With her pleasing personality, we are sure she will be successful in whatever she attempts.

And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot.

A trunk of things he had flung on his back, and he looked like the Fullerman opening his pack.

His eyes were like marbles, his dimples like cherries, His cheeks like roses, his nose like a berry.

His droil little mouth was drawn up in a bow.

And the beard on his chin would crackle and glow.

The butt of a cig he held tight in his teeth.

And the smoke from it smelled like old burnt beef.

He had a long long face and short fat belly.

That giggled when he laughed like a tub full of jelly.

A blink of his eye and a twist of his head.

Soon made me know I was to be in bed. He danced not a jig, but went straight to his work.

He filled all the stockings and jumped with a jerk.

Laying his foot aside of his nose, and giving a squeal

Up the chimney he rose.

He dropped to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle,

And away they all scattered like the down of a thistle.

But I heard his cackle as they rode out of sight:

"Merry Christmas to all and to all a good night."

Alpha Delta Pi

Congratulations to sister Charlotte Neuman who is now a pledge of Alpha Psi Omega. Charlotte represented Gamma Omicron at the KD coffee hour in honor of Mrs. H. E. Mueller last Wednesday evening.

Mrs. F. Kemble and Mrs. E. Yorty attended the meeting last Wednesday evening.

Gamma Omicron wishes to thank Dr. R. Gilbert for allowing them to take part in his chapel service last Thursday morning.

We have invited local Girl Scout Troop 64 to go caroling with us next Monday evening. The caroling will be followed by refreshments at the home of Mrs. J. Smith, one of our local alumnae.

On Saturday, December 15th, we will hold our annual Christmas party for a group of children in the nearby vicinity.

Many thanks to the freshman class for their hilarious Stunt Night!

Congratulations to the fraternities on their respective pledge groups.

This being the last issue of the paper before vacation, Gamma Omicron extends wishes for a MERRY CHRISTMAS to all.

Kappa Delta

The National chapter of Kappa Delta Sorority, Mrs. Herbert E. Mueller, visited the campus from December 3 to the 6. Mrs. Mueller held conferences with the chapter officers. A special chapter meeting was held December 4, at which time Mrs. Mueller spoke. The regular meeting was held Wednesday, December 5. After the meeting a coffee hour was held in her honor in Selbert Parlors.

Thanks to Mrs. Frederick Stevens for the flowers which she presented to Beta Upsilon on this occasion. Thanks to Mrs. Ralph Whitmer for her beautiful bouquet of flowers.

Thanks to all of the people who gave blood and all of the people who gave their services when the Blood Bank was here.

The sophomores of Beta Upsilon will be the committee for the Christmas decorations and the tree for the sorority room. Janet Laue will be the chairman.

We received a letter from Miss Ruth Sparhawk. She is anxious to hear from her friends at S. U. Her new address is Box 772, Billings, Montana.

Kappa Delta Sorority will install its 81st chapter at Arizona State College, Tempe, Arizona, January 11 to 13, 1952. Mrs. Herbert E. Mueller will be the installing officer at initiation services, January 12.

Sigma Alpha Iota

Sigma Omega Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota is presenting a half hour of Christmas music over station WKOK in Sunbury on Wednesday, December 12, from 10:30 to 11 p. m. The program will consist of both religious and secular numbers performed by the Sigma Omega Chorus under the direction of Nancy Youhoun. Among the numbers will be "Jesu Bambino," "The Lullaby of Jesus," "White Christmas," and

"Winter Wonderland." Vocal solos will be sung by sopranos Barbara Easton and Margretta Thomas. Solos in the chorus numbers will be sung by sopranos Jacquelyn McKeever and Marguerite Heffelfinger. Clara Mae Williams will be the accompanist.

On Tuesday, December 11 at 7 p. m. Sigma Omega Chapter will present an hour and a half program of Christmas music at the State Colony. Many of the chorus numbers and solos which will be heard over the radio will also be presented at the Colony.

On Friday, December 7, Sigma Omega Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota held a party for the Conservatory faculty in the S.A.I. room in Selbert Hall. Games were played, Santa Claus appeared and presented gifts to the members of the faculty, and refreshments were served. The refreshments consisted of ice cream, pretzels, and coffee.

On Wednesday, December 12, Sigma Omega Chapter will join with Kappa Delta and Alpha Delta Pi for a Christmas party in the social room of Selbert Hall.

Sigma Omega Chapter recently received word that Jean Thiermel, an S.A.I. sister and a graduate with the 1950 class of the Conservatory of Music at S. U., has made an outstanding contribution to the State of Pennsylvania in that she has transcribed into written music over 60 Pennsylvania Dutch Folk songs appearing in the recent book, "Songs Along the Mahantongo." This is one of very few instances in which the music of Pennsylvania Dutch Folk songs has been written down. Jean is at the present time vocal music instructor at the Laurelton State Village.

KNOW YOUR PROFESSOR

In 1921 Dr. Percy M. Linebaugh joined the faculty at Susquehanna University teaching piano and theory and is now professor of organ and director of the Conservatory of Music. Dr. Linebaugh spent his childhood in York, Pennsylvania, and when it came time for him to go to college, he chose Lebanon Valley College. He entered Lebanon Valley College in 1912 and graduated with a piano major in 1916. After graduation he went back to Lebanon Valley and took his Bachelor of Music in organ and graduated in June of 1917.

The next year brought forth a teaching position at Lebanon Valley until 1918 when he left his teaching and joined the army.

After spending two years in France with the United States Army, Dr. Linebaugh took the position of organist and choir director in the Zion Reformed Church while studying piano at the Peabody Conservatory in Baltimore under Max Landow of Holland.

The next year he came to Susquehanna and in 1924 took the position of organist in St. Matthews Church in Bloomsburg. Then in 1927 the Trinity Lutheran Church in Selinsgrove offered him the position of organist and he has served them since that time.

He has studied with Dr. Charles M. Courbin, organist at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York City.

Dr. Linebaugh has given many organ recitals in this vicinity and also has given recitals for the Moller Organ Company.

On campus Dr. Linebaugh is an honorary member of Bond and Key Fraternity. Last June, S. U. bestowed a Doctor's degree on Dr. Linebaugh.

SPORTS CHATTER

By RICHARD STOUT

THE CRUSADERS PERFORMANCE IN THEIR INITIAL TILT CAN REAP NOTHING BUT PRAISE DESPITE A 60-58 setback by the favored Ursinus Grizzlies. The Crusaders, who played without the services of Jim Alter and Stan Manning who gave up the cage sport to devote more time to their studies, were hard pressed for reserves.

When the Crusaders journey to Williamsport Tuesday to meet Lycoming College, they will unquestionably take to the hardwoods as a slight underdog. However the Billtoppers cannot regard the Orange and Maroon lightly because of their keyed-up performance against the favored Ursinus quintet.

It looks as if S. U.'s cage contingent will give home fans plenty to cheer about when they make their debut in Alumni Gymnasium.

Despite the opening of the cage campaign, FOOTBALL CONTINUES TO STEAL THE SPOTLIGHT on the Susquehanna scene. Latest to bring outstanding laurels to the jubilant S. U. campus is JIM HAZLETT WHO WAS ACCLAIMED A LITTLE ALL-AMERICAN in a poll of sportswriters and coaches. Jim, who hails from Tarentum, is the first Crusader to gain such acclaim since 1940 when Dr. Joseph Greco, now team physician, garnered similar honors as an end. Gaining honorable mention of the Little All-U.S. crew was Rich Young who along with Hazlett added this accolade to All Pennsylvania College honors achieved a week ago.

It seems as if COACH A. A. STAGG, SR., HAS REALLY HIT THE JACKPOT THIS SEASON. In addition to the many honors he has thus far achieved, now comes his ranking of thirteenth in the COACH OF THE YEAR POLL.

BASKETBALL BABBLINGS: Charlie Ziock was really hot as he poured 26 points through the hoop . . . Playing a fine floor game was Ned Condon . . . The Crusaders could use some sharpening up at the charity line. A few more hits would have won the game . . . Pro basketball fans can get their fill at Sunbury's Fourth Ward Gymnasium where Sunbury's championship Mercuries make their home . . . You can bet S. U. would like better than to trounce the Lycoming lads. The Billtoppers romped the Crusaders twice a year ago . . . Real student support should be given the Orange and Maroon cagers. These boys like to play and give it all they've got.

CRUSADERETTES

Intramural volleyball games are in full swing. This enthusiasm is confirmed by the amount of noise coming from the gymnasium on Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

Previous to the start of the games the following captains were elected:
Frosh I—Sandra Swinehart
Frosh II—Doris Scott
Frosh III—Ruth Scott
Soph I—Joann Mosholder
Soph II—Tammy Perkins
Soph III—Dolores Shimko
Soph IV—Miriam Wicks
Junior I—Christine Harmon
Junior II—Marv Cowling
Senior I—Lorraine Harlick
Senior II—Lois Gordon

The double elimination tournament will continue through this week and be completed during the week following Christmas vacation. The results of the games played this week are:
Frosh I defeated Frosh II (31 to 19)
Soph I defeated Frosh III (38 to 10)
Soph I defeated Soph II (29 to 19)
Soph III defeated Soph IV (25 to 21)
Junior I defeated Junior II (31 to 28)
Senior I defeated Senior II (31 to 10)

DORMS AND FRATS VIE FOR TROPHY IN LEAGUE GAMES

Intramural basketball is scheduled to begin within the next few weeks. League competition will be divided into two halves and if the same team does not win both halves, there will be a play-off game between the winners of the first and second half. Each team plays every other team in the league twice—once in each half.

Selingrove Hall will be the defending champions. They captured the championship trophy last year and did not lose a league game. This year's team also promises to be a strong one. Harold Johnson led the league in scoring last year, and he will be at his forward post again this year when the lid comes off in league competition.

The three frat teams will again be strong forces in the deciding of a league champion. Rumor has it that Bond and Key is loaded for bear this year. Phi Mu Delta has many of the same players back that gained the number two spot in the league standings last year. Theta Chi also possesses many veteran performers. All indications point to a tight battle in league competition this year.

Specialization; Need Of Modern Education

Defending college teachers who concentrate on their own field, Dean Elmer Ellis of the University of Missouri College of Arts and Sciences declares that specialization is a necessity of modern education, and adds: "Specialization is necessary if what we teach is to have more validity than what anyone can hear over the air or read in the newspaper. The broadcaster and the columnist can do the superficial. If we need colleges at all, it is for something different and something less common."

At the University, Dean Ellis is chairman of a Committee for the Improvement of Teaching. It is largely as a result of a long-range program for improvement of instruction in his own department that the University has received a grant of $50,000 from the Carnegie Foundation for Advancement of Teaching. This is to finance an intensive five-year program for the benefit of all Missouri colleges and universities.

Dean Ellis emphasized that much work for improvement of instruction is initiated from within the working profession. He cited the work of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Teaching, and such publications as the American Journal of Pharmaceutical Education, and said it makes one doubt whether the arts colleges or schools of education have been keeping up with these groups in their study of classroom procedures and techniques.

W. S. S. F. DRIVE BEGINS JAN. 23

The rallying point for students to help each other in a mutual assistance program of relief and international education is W.S.S.F.'s step into the future.

In working with 22 other national committees, one of which is represented by the Susquehanna S.C.A., the World Student Service Fund has helped to rebuild universities devastated by war. It has done so through its knowledge of our need to be challenged by other patterns in university, political, economic, and cultural life.

People need to have food, clothing, a place to sleep, adequate health services, tools of education, ways of meeting and thinking together about the development of unity in the midst of social, political, and economic diversity, and the world population today needs to accept the claims of citizenship in ONE WORLD.

These needs can be satisfied through the contributions made to the W.S.S.F. fund. This fund which is dedicated to the world program of university assistance, is the result of yearly campaigning on the part of the World Student Christian Federation in American colleges and universities and is the only nationally organized channel for student-to-student giving.

Susquehanna University students will have the opportunity to contribute to this drive after its introduction by Dean Galt in chapel on Wednesday morning, January 16.

The drive will continue until Wednesday, January 23 during which time all contributions may be made to the following people: Bob Shade, Jake Spangler, Chuck Mason, Fred Shilling, Larry Bingham, Bob Moore, Harvey Jeffers, Lynne Lightfoot, Shirley Bell, Joan Bates, Ellie Smith, and Joyce Wagner.

Pi Gamma Mu Hears Book Review by Stevens

George Santayana and his book "Domination And Power" provided lecture and discussion material at the January meeting of Pi Gamma Mu.

Assistant Professor Fredrick Stevens reviewed the life of this contemporary philosopher and discussed his book which contains over one hundred essays on present-day philosophical thought blended into current world affairs.

The meeting of the organization was held at the Phi Mu Delta fraternity house on Monday evening, January 7. Gordon Joyce and Gennaro Fluri, Phi Mu Delta members, served as hosts for the evening.

A brief business session conducted by President Volk preceded the book review which was then succeeded by a discussion period. At this time both faculty and student members conversed on several of the issues which had been raised by the author of the book.

VESPERS

"A challenge in an epidemic of evil" was a description that was given to the Ten Commandments by Ruth Smith at vespers on Sunday evening, Ruth, in discussing her topic "The Ten Commandments and How They Work Today," presented the basic elements embodied in each and came to the conclusion that they are needed today perhaps more so than ever before.

Ruth and Lorraine Rarick represented the Alpha Delta Phi Sorority who sponsored the service. Lorraine was liturgist and read the account of Moses' reception of the Law as it is recorded in the twentieth chapter of Exodus.

Lester Hellman was organist for the evening and played the following hymns: "There's a Witness in God's Mercy," "May We Thy Precepts Lord Fulfill," and "Saviour to Thy Dear Name."

IN MEMORIAM

In behalf of the student body, administration, and faculty, the Susquehanna wishes to express its sympathies to the family of Mr. Elbert D. Haskins, assistant professor of music, who died of a heart attack on December 30, 1951.

Cachets on Display In S. U. Library

This week the library is featuring a rather unusual display. You have all seen cachets, but do you know what they are? They are the commemorative or advertising imprints often seen on an envelope. Probably the one most often noticed is "Buy Bonds for Defense." For several years, Miss Kolpin has been saving various examples which have come into the library.

These rather commonplace ink marks have a fearsome history. They are the descendants of the lettres-de-cachet in French history. The lettres were originally a direct order from the king, signed by him, countersigned by one of his ministers of state and closed with sealing wax imprinted with the King's cachet or seal. Their purpose was to speed the movement of justice. People could be arrested and imprisoned without trial.

At first they were used for the intended purpose. However, during the 17th and 18th centuries they were over-used and misused. Any minister had the power to sell or distribute these letters. Most of these ministers were nobles who were very good-natured and hated to refuse favors to friends. The letters were no longer direct orders from the King, and in most cases he knew nothing about them. They were merely blank forms on which only the name of the person to be arrested had to be filled in.

The uses for these forms multiplied rapidly. No longer were they used primarily against criminals, but against anyone. No one was safe, and release was difficult to obtain. Fathers prevented sons from making unwelcome marriages. (See CACHETS—Page 2)

"SUSQUEHANNA" POLLS ON NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTIONS; STUDENTS GIVE VARIETY OF ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

When we think of a new year we always have the question of New Year's Resolutions pop up in our minds. They cover anything under the sun, from making all your classes and chapel on time to not stealing the fillings out of your grandmother's teeth.

In a nationwide survey the facts show that the average resolution lasts but twelve days, and there is one in a hundred that lasts till June.

S. U. students were asked two questions—

"What New Year's Resolution did you make?" and "How long did you keep your resolution?"

It is the opinion of this reporter that very few S. U. students make New Year's Resolutions, or else they made not disclose the ones they made.

Let us look at some that did make resolutions.

Don Muchmore: "I resolved not to make any New Year's Resolutions. I've kept it so far."

Bob Jarvis: "No more wild-eights games with Orv Glass, this year. It's held up so far."

Tom Wallace: "In the ensuing year I have made a resolution to sit down and study. I have yet to sit down."

Harvey Jeffers: "I will try to be more considerate of other people. I think I have kept it fairly well."

Mental Hygiene Class: "To be polite and talk nice to Mr. Loiz. His first class of the year ended that."

Chris Harman: "I will try to be quieter in Seibert Hall. It only lasted five minutes after I arrived from vacation."

Betty Burnham: "I resolve to go to breakfast every morning. So far I am 100% on the wrong side."

WAA Plans Basketball Playday for February 9

The regular monthly meeting of the W.A.A. was held Monday, January 7, in Seibert's Social Room.

Volunteers were asked to preside over the reception and food committee for Basketball Playday which will be February 9.

The members were shown the magazines which contained the new rules in basketball.

One of the members suggested that the board consider giving points for swimming.

After the meeting entertainment was provided by Jane Cline and Pat Hess.

Trapped

This is the story of a girl named Betty and how she was hurt. Betty is an average American girl—or was, at least, but that is the story. Betty wasn't hurt in an accident or anything like that—just hurt.

The story takes us back to the years during World War II. Betty had just been married to a very successful young lawyer and settled down in a small town when her husband was called into the service. Soon after her husband left, she secured a job in the office of a war plant and set about maintaining the home they had just bought. The first year of the war was long and hard, but Betty somehow managed to get by and slowly adjusted herself to the temporary loneliness which the war had brought her.

Through her contacts at work and in her neighborhood Betty made a circle of friends, some of whom also had husbands in the service, some who had sons in the service; almost all of them having something in common. The friends often played cards together or went out to dinner and a show together in the evenings. Two of these friends, Myra and Jane, lived directly across the street from Betty and the three were perhaps the closest of the group.

One Saturday afternoon Myra was visiting with Jane when they noticed a bakery truck pull up at Betty's home across the street. Jane particularly noticed it because she had been observing for several weeks that the truck stopped there and the driver sometimes spent two or three hours in Betty's house. She pointed this out to her friend Myra and the two paid particular attention to "note how long" (See TRAPPED—Page 3)

Dr. Gilbert's Book Published as PGFS Fifteenth Yearbook

The Pennsylvania German Folklore Society recently published Dr. Russell W. Gilbert's "Pennsylvania German Wills" as its fifteenth yearbook. It is an attractive full-length volume based on five or more years of study of the wills written by Pennsylvania Germans in seventeen counties. Dr. Gilbert concludes by saying: "These wills are pages of history in unadorned simplicity. 'Gold in dem dere hills' may be paraphrased into 'history in dem dere wills.' Times, places, and people pass before the reader's eyes as he catches glimpses of the past, unfolding before him in the crude, expressive language of the Pennsylvania German soul."

Mrs. Preston A. Barba, an artist trained in Germany and the wife of Muhlenberg College's retired head of the German department, prepared the colorful drawing of the heart and the tree of life for the cover and the title page. Dr. Barba, the editor of the Society books, wrote the preface.

Dr. Gilbert, who has been professor of German at Susquehanna since 1930, has long been interested in the art, history, and customs of the Pennsylvania "Dutch." He has written many articles and books on the subject, including the 63-page pamphlet, "A Picture of the Pennsylvania Germans," used in the high schools and colleges of the state. He is considered an authority in the field.

Dr. George P. Dunkelberger, professor emeritus of Susquehanna, was the one who first suggested the subject while he prepared his "Story of Snyder County."

Peggy Webber: "I resolved not to make any New Year's Resolutions."

Betty Vincent: "I resolved to quit smoking—but it only lasted two hours."

Jayne Daly: "Pinch no noses."

Jack Schreffer: "I made a resolution not to make foolish resolutions and—I kept it."

Todd Solomon: "No comment 'But I kept it!'"

Irene Meerbach: "I can't tell you in public!"

Robert MacNamara: "To mind my own business. It lasted until my return on campus."

Barbara Frank: "To be good to Bob. Need we ask?"

Joanne Quick: "To stay in and study. Twenty-five minutes."

Shirley Morris: "To curb my laugh. Until first joke was told."

John Horoshack: "Not to drink out of dirty glasses. Until soap runs out."

Loretta White: "Not to give advice to anyone. Until the first lost soul came to me."

Helen Spaeth: "Not to spend so much time in front of the mirror. Didn't keep it too long."

Barbara Grove: "To stop cooking for the girls. Until first hungry face appeared."

Ed Palkovich: "To take a course in knitting. This one's still going strong."

Larry Bingham: "To go to breakfast every day. Until Sunday."

Herb Krauss: "To take good care of my grandmother on the farm. We wonder."

Ames Ressa: "To study three hours (See SUSQUEHANNA POLLS—Page 2)

Business Society Holds Regular Monthly Meet

The regular meeting of the Business Society met yesterday at 6:45 p. m. in Seibert social rooms. A temporary chairman was elected for the next meeting with Frank Compton presiding as vice-president.

A nominating committee was appointed during the course of the business discussion. It was announced that at the February meeting there will be the election of officers.

Butch Smith, as program chairman, obtained a film to show for the entertainment of the group. There were refreshments and a social hour after the meeting.

S. A. I. PRESENTS ANNUAL MUSICALE

On Friday, January 11, Sigma Omega Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota presented its annual American Musicale in the chapel of Seibert Hall. The Sigma Omega Chorus under the direction of Nancy Youhon opened the program singing the "Sigma Alpha Iota Chorus" by Blackburn, "Tumbling-hair" by Mennin, and "Dream Song" by Mennin, played by Clara Mae Williams; accompanied the chorus. The program included the following piano numbers: "Freude in C Sharp Minor" by Ger-shwin, played by Clara Mae Williams; "Pompador's Fan" by Cadman, played by Ruth Freed; "Valse Brillante" by Mana-Zucca, played by Janet Winger; "Poem" by Taylor, played by Nancy Youhon; and "Nocturne in E" by Dello Joio, played by Miss Janet Rohrbach, president of the Selinsgrove Alumnae Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota. The program also included the following vocal selections: "Summer Night" by Joston, sung by JoAnn Alexander and "Night" by McArthur, sung by Barbara Easton. Ann Guise played an organ solo "Carillon" by Delamarter. Margaret Zinda played a clarinet solo, "Idyl" by Leoni. Voylet Dietz and Jacquelyn McKeever concluded the program playing an organ and piano duet, "Exultation" by Weaver. Following the program a reception given by the Selinsgrove Alumnae Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota was held in the social room of Seibert Hall.

Auxiliary's Committees Show Gain; Students Present Entertainment

Musical students under the direction of Miss Mary K. Pottelger, entertained the members of the Women's Auxiliary on January 12 in Seibert chapel. The program consisted of piano solos by Jacqueline McKeever and Frances Drumm; soprano solos by JoAnn Alexander and Barbara Easton; tenor solos by Charles Carr; and a piano and organ duet by Voylet Dietz and Dr. P. M. Linebaugh.

Mrs. Russell C. Hatz opened the business meeting which was immediately followed by a brief period of devotions under the leadership of Mrs. Earl Kauffman. A note from Frances Drumm which thanked the auxiliary for the scholarship they gave her, was read before the group.

The promotion committee, under the capable chairmanship of Mrs. G. Morris Smith, gave a very encouraging report of the wonderful response her committee has received in the addition of so many entries in the Golden Book, Red Book, and Blue Book.

Dr. William Reierick was entered in the Life Membership Book (Golden Book) by his wife for his Christmas and birthday present. Three entries were made in the Children's Book (Red Book) consisting of Karen Valsing by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Valsing; Suzanne Kay Fisher by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Fisher; and Patricia McFall by her grandmother, Mrs. R. C. McFall.

The Leaves of Remembrance Book (Blue Book) received six new additions. Dr. John Houtz was entered by his wife for a Christmas present; Mr. John Stauffer was memorialized by his wife and family; Mrs. Russell C. Hatz was entered by the December social committee in honor of all the work she has done for the Auxiliary; Mrs. Mary Bowman was entered by Mrs. Frank Eyer for a birthday gift; Mr. Haskins was memorialized twice, once by the members of the Conservatory faculty and once by his sister, Lillian Haskins.

This committee as well as all the members of the Auxiliary have been working feverishly these last few months and are indeed able to show excellent results. After the adjournment of the meeting, the women went to the Seibert Social Rooms for their coffee hour.

All Auxiliary funds derived from the one dollar membership dues and from the three books are directed to the worthwhile goal of building a new music conservatory for Susquehanna's campus. The Auxiliary is affiliated with the cause of Christian Higher Education and cordially invites all the women of the community and all the mothers of the students to attend their monthly meetings.

MUSIC NOTES

The Chapel Choir sang two selections for "Susquehanna Night" held at the First Lutheran Church in Selinsgrove, Friday evening, January 4. Pastor Steigewalt led the service which included a talk by President Smith and "All Creatures of Our God and King" by E. T. Chapman and "The Long Day Closes" by Arthur Sullivan sung by the Chapel Choir.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell C. Hatz, of the music faculty, will present a joint recital in Seibert Chapel this evening, January 15, at 8:15. The program is as follows:

Toccata in G major J. S. Bach
Le Coucou (Rondeau) Daquin
Mrs. Hatz, piano

Chaconne Vitali
Mr. Hatz, violin

SUGGESTIONS

Some time ago there was a small article in the Susquehanna asking for letters to the editor. Previous to this, there had been quite a lot of discussion as regards improvements for the paper. Much of it, we realize, was just idle talk, but many of the ideas were constructive suggestions which we would be more than glad to receive.

However, there has not been an overwhelming deluge of letters to the editor. If you have any suggestions, either in connection with the paper itself, or with school activities, projects, etc., please send them in. They can be placed in the Susquehanna box in G.A. Hall or they can be given to a member of the staff of the paper.

The Susquehanna can become more vitally important to all of us if we express our views so that our fellow students may know them. Many of us talk in our "bull sessions" of things that we believe would be advantageous to Susquehanna—now let's hear them so that we may all benefit.

With Apologies

Turnabout

Joe Fleming: "Yes, the engagement is off—she won't marry me."

Al Vollmers: "Why is that? Didn't you tell her about your rich uncle?"

Joe: "I sure did! Now she's my aunt."

And There It Was

Pat: "How did you find the weather when you were away?"

Dandy: "I just stepped outside the door and there it was!"

Tough?

Art Mously in a restaurant was having trouble cutting his steak. Finally he called the waiter.

"I can't cut this steak. Take it back and bring me another."

"Sorry," replied the waiter after closely inspecting the steak, "can't take it back, you bent it."

Show of Affection

Dad: "Son, I'm spanking you because I love you."

Herbie: "I'd sure like to be big enough to return your love."

Camouflage

Sam Porter: "Why is your car painted blue on one side and red on the other?"

Jim Hazlett: "It's a great scheme. You should hear the witnesses contradicting each other."

Paid in Full

Helen Von Lynn had received Jeff's gift of flowers with rapture.

"Oh, they are perfectly lovely!" she exclaimed. "And there's even a little dew on them still."

"Er—yes," he stammered, "there's a little, but I intend to pay it on Saturday."

One Man's Loss

Jim Hazlett: "Whoever he is, there is a sneak crook on this football squad. In the past week I have lost a set of Stanford shoulder pads, a pair of Harvard pants, a Northwestern blanket, and a couple of YMCA towels."

Recruit

Joe tried to cross

As a fast car neared

Death didn't draft him—

Joe volunteered.

Tact

Tact is making a blind date feel she got the worst of it.

No Objection

Sam Ross: "Do you object to kissing on sanitary grounds?"

Dot Appgar: "Why, no."

Sam: "Then let's take a stroll through the infirmary."

Good Cook!

Art Olsen: "This blueberry pie tastes queer, honey."

Peg Hults: "Perhaps I put too much bluing in it."

A Good Dose

Miss Hein: "Good gracious, I forgot to shake the bottle before I gave you that medicine."

Jeff: "Don't worry, I'll turn a few hand springs."

A Logical Comparison

Mr. Lotz: "Your girl drives like lightning, doesn't she?"

Larry Botteiger: "Yes—always striking trees."

His Own System

A student in accounting came upon a matching question and he didn't know the answer. So he looked at the work of a classmate on his left and noted that he had put down a 21. He looked at the work of a classmate on the right and saw that she had put down a 9. He knew that both of them were habitually right, so he added 21 and 9, and that gave him 30; so he wrote in a 30, which was the correct answer. This proves the value of a good neighbor policy.

An Indisputable Point

Speaker: "Nothing that is false ever does anybody any good."

One Man in Audience: "You're wrong, stranger. I have false teeth and they do me a lot of good."

Strange Request

Id: "Father, can my boy friend replace your business partner who died 't'is morning?"

Dad: "It's alright with me—if you can arrange it with the undertaker."

An Ominous Sign

B. J. Easton: "What does this mean? There's a fly in the bottom of my teacup!"

Peggy Aston: "How do I know? I'm a waitress, not a fortuneteller."

Silence Is Golden

Landlord (to prospective tenant): "You know we keep it very quiet as an order here. Do you have any children?"

"No."

"A piano, radio, or phonograph?"

"No."

"Do you play any musical instruments? Do you have a dog, cat, or parrot?"

"No, but my fountain pen scratches sometimes."

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK

As our spotlight shines, we see our personality of the week is David Parker from Norristown, Pennsylvania.

Dave matriculated at Susquehanna University in the fall of 1948. He was graduated from Norristown High School in 1945 and while in high school was active in the student government and in the band.

After high school he was called into the U. S. Navy where he served almost two years. After his discharge from the Navy, he attended The Haverford School where he took up post graduate work. While at The Haverford School he was a member of the varsity track team and mile relay team.

Hobbies include a general love of the sea highlighted by a great interest in sailing. On land the owning and working with Model T Fords take up a great deal of his time.

Since coming to Susquehanna, Dave has been a member of the Susquehanna staff, a member of the S.C.A., and the Biemic Society. During his senior year he was very active as president of the Business Society. Participation in sports while here at S. U. include intramural football, softball, and track.

Dave is a member of the Phi Mu Delta fraternity. For the past two years he served as circulation manager for the official college football programs. This past year he served as secretary to the fraternity.

His quiet, unassuming manner, his reserve, and his dry sense of humor will insure success for him in whatever field in the business world he chooses to work.

riages. Husbands disposed of wives and wives disposed of husbands. These forms mentioned no crime and set no period of imprisonment. Literally thousands of people were imprisoned and forgotten. Under Louis XVI over a thousand were lashed between 1774 and 1788. Earlier, one minister had given out approximately 50,000.

Today when we receive a letter with a cachet on the envelope we have nothing to fear. Probably the majority of people will have to admit that they seldom if ever notice these ink blobs which once spelled despair and death.

SUSQUEHANNA POLLS—From P. 1
every night on German New Year's Day.

Joanne Heiny: "I don't believe in New Year's resolutions."

Rickie Davies: "I resolved not to disturb my roommate while she was studying. I kept it for two days."

Eddie Danyluk: "Not to bother about girls. I broke it after one day."

Ethel McGrath: "I always break them so I didn't make any."

Joan Diggan: "Yes, but I broke it."

CAMPUS CAPERS

I. "Twenty-six years of clean handkerchiefs (!) shot to heck!" so read a sign which hung on the door of one of the more popular rooms in Seling Grove Hall. Beside the sign was a handkerchief, slightly tinged with lipstick smears. No one seems to know who the handkerchief belongs to, but whoever the individual is, we hope in the future he will bear this in mind. "You, too, can switch to Kleenex."

II. While walking along the campus one evening last week, you may have noticed the moonlight reflecting from an overgrown bird house in one of the trees on campus. Well, you weren't sleep walking and it wasn't a mirage. One of the more humane Freshman boys generously donated his trunk for the purpose, hoping in so doing, to keep our little avian friends from leaving our campus to go south for the winter. The writer wishes to express the appreciation of the students to this benevolent individual.

III. Way down Hassinger way in the very quiet hours of early morning, a shriek rent the air. A girl, her eyes heavy with sleep, stood looking down at a body. A body stretched out on the floor of room 19, one hand clutching an empty glass, head thrown back, eyes blank, and tongue hanging out (A clear case of too many sleeping pills). The blood all drained from the spectator's face. She turned to the girl who had summoned her. "Get a doctor . . . Put her in bed." Do something . . . anything. The tension was broken by gales of laughter from the corpse. It was all a joke—thanks to two little plotters—but the onlooker now felt that she was the one who REALLY needed a doctor.

IV. While our basketball team made their way to Lebanon Valley last week, they seemed to have been thrown slightly off beat. They decided to go as the crow flies and wound up where the golf ball flies. After crossing a foot bridge on the Hershey Golf Course, and traveling along a narrow road for quite a distance, they found themselves in the middle of the ninth fairway. Moral is—if you can't play basketball, try golf.

V. One of the nightly activities of a big, strapping fellow at the Cottage is "spending some little time with weights. By now his muscles are really something to behold! Naturally the other fellows are envious of such a magnificent physique. One aspiring fellow of much smaller stature, therefore, decided to try his hand with the weights. Result: the spraining of the muscles behind his ear. Oh pshaw! Who wants a chest anyway?"

P.S. Tip to housewives-to-be. Did you know that dead rats leave grease-spots on bed-sheets? Reference: a certain Phi Mu Delta active.

Adaptable
Mr. Kleinsorg: "Give me a sentence with the words 'highway cop.'"

Bill Templin: "Highway cop with a headache every Sunday morning."

SELINGSGROVE HALL, BOND & KEY LEAD LEAGUE IN FIRST WEEK OF PLAY

Intramural basketball activity commenced last week as all teams played their first games. Selingsgrove Hall, last years champs, and Bond and Key were the only teams to win all their games. Monday night's activity saw Bond and Key down Phi Mu Delta 45-37, the Day Students slipped by Theta Chi 26-26, and Selingsgrove Hall trounce G.A. 62-11.

Bond and Key started with a fine lead in the first quarter against Phi Mu Delta, saw it dwindle to 16-14 at half time, and then they fell behind 28-25 at the end of the third quarter. But the Black Knights came back in the final period and they went on to down the Deltas 45-37. Vince Boyer netted eight points for Phi Mu in the first-half (this total for the evening) and Jim Dettch and Jim Chadwick sparked the drive in the third quarter that put the Deltas in the lead momentarily. John Shannon collared seven field goals and three fouls to total seventeen points for the victors.

In a nip-and-tuck battle the Day Students outlasted Theta Chi and won 29-26. Day Students scored twice as many points as Theta Chi in the first period (12-6) but a poor second period saw them net only two points as Theta Chi tied it up at half time. Frank Richards, Fred Tyler and Bill Davenport sparked the Day Students down the stretch and they finally won by a narrow three-point margin. Tom Wallace hit the cords for seven Theta Chi points.

On the other Monday game the defending champions, Selingsgrove Hall, easily zoomed by an unorganized G.A. team. Bob Becker jumped to an early lead in the race to capture individual scoring honors with a 26-point effort. Harvey Jeffers was the only G.A. man to have more than two points. He had four.

G.A. came storming back in the first quarter of their Wednesday night game against B. & K. Indeed Bond and Key were so pressed to hold the dorm men during the first half, but the frat men began to hit the cords in the second half and G.A. cooled off so that B. & K. won 44-22. Shannon and Carr scored 10 and 6 points respectively for the Black Knights and player-coach Ed Menapace played his usual outstanding game at guard. Jeffers led the G.A. attack with six points.

High scoring Selingsgrove Hall won their second game of the week as they handed the Day Students their first loss of the season by a decisive 58-24 margin. Ken Lenker tallied 10 markers for the losers. Harold Johnson, last year's individual high scorer in league competition gave notice of his desire to capture that honor again as he tallied 20 points for the winners. Selingsgrove Hall outscored the losers in every period. Zlock-coached Phi Mu Delta edged the Cottage in another high scoring contest 59-51. Lanky Jim Chadwick ripped the cords for 19 points and big Ed Koyf netted 16 markers for the triumphant Deltas. Phil Gergen, Ken Hempstead and Bob Mikolavac hit the double figures for the cottage.

This year's league competition promises to be one of the best in recent years with all teams save perhaps G. A. strong contenders. Bond and Key and Selingsgrove Hall, however, appear to have the jump to capture the first-half banner. This year is the first year the league has been composed of seven teams.

the truck was there. He stayed three hours.

"This had been going on for quite some time," Jane told Myra. She smiled knowingly as she told her friend.

"I wondered why she hasn't been going out so much with us anymore," said Myra. "She isn't going to play cards at Dora's tonight either."

That night at Dora's the tongues wagged and Betty, without a chance to defend herself, was tried and found guilty. Soon the whole group was talking about, enlarging upon, and even adding to the rapidly growing scandal about Betty. Invitations to go out soon became scarce and in a short time Betty was not invited at all, nor did her friends come in to see her. Betty wondered about this sudden change but was not able to find out from anyone what was wrong. Her friends talked to her only when they had to. None of them mentioned the ugly scandal which had been built up about her.

Several weeks later Myra and Jane sat talking in Jane's home.

"Did you hear Betty lost her job last week?" asked Myra. "Her boss called her in and just told her she was through. When she asked why, he told her that help was scarce but that he didn't have to stoop to the gutter to get an office force. Wasn't that cute?"

As they talked, Jane noticed a moving van stop across the street and two men began moving furniture into Betty's house which had been vacant for two days now. A woman arrived on the scene and began directing the work. "Oh, there's our new neighbor," said Jane. "Let's go over and introduce ourselves."

During the course of the conversation with their new neighbor the girls found that she had known Betty in school and that was how she happened to get the house.

"I practically grew up in Betty's family," she said. "I lived only two blocks from her house. Her brother called to tell me he was helping Betty move and that the house would be vacant."

"Her brother?" asked Jane. "Yes," she replied, "haven't you met him? He's very nice, he got someone to take his bakery route on Monday so he could help Betty move."

As Myra and Jane walked back across the street neither of them spoke. When they were seated again in Jane's living room Myra spoke first.

"Say, did you hear about the trouble Dora's son is in? Well, I got this from someone who . . .

SPORTS CHATTER

By Richard Slout

Losses to Lebanon Valley and Elizabethtown during the past week have run the losing streak of the Staggs-coached Crusaders to five straight games as they continue to slump after a hair-raising 60-58 setback to Ursinus' Grizzlies in their season's debut. The Crusaders' past performances indicate a continuation of their losing ways, for to put it in the words of one of the players, "We just don't have it."

Ironical as it may seem, S. U. has enough basketball talents to boast a number one cage unit. Some persons have given up the cage sport to devote more time to their studies; however, others have placed too much importance on winning the intramural loop. There is no fraternity or dormitory group which requires allegiance to itself in precedence to its Alma Mater. This is not an editorial on real school spirit, the justifiable or unjustifiable merits of being a member of the basketball squad, but rather the opinion of a disgruntled spectator who wishes he had the ability to play.

Sufficient money has been raised through friends of the Crusader football squad to buy jackets as a personalized gift for the members of the unbeaten '51 contingent.

A new resolution governing eligibility in the intramural Basketball League was adopted at the last meeting of the Intramural Board. It states: "A student enrolled at Susquehanna University who is not engaged in intercollegiate athletics will be eligible to compete in the intramural program."

ELMER VALO, fleet-footed outfielder with the Philadelphia Athletics, stopped at Yank's Service Station while enroute to Middleburg VFW where he had a speaking engagement. Several STUDENTS took advantage of this opportunity to exchange handshakes and pop some questions about play in the Major Leagues.

WHITEY VON NEIDA, former NBA star and BASKETBALL COACH AT ELIZABETHTOWN, placed his charges in the hands of a deputy Saturday night as he played with the Lancaster Rockets in a futile effort against Sunbury's Mercuries, defending champions of the Eastern Professional Basketball League.

Susquehanna is well represented in Sunbury's Adult Community Basketball League. Bill Beckley, Al Jones, Frank Richards, Jim Alter, and Rich Young are spearheading the unbeaten Hawk A.C. entry while Harold Johnson, Bob Deibler, and Ed Menapace are playing for the blue-clad dribblers of Sunbury's Y.M.C.A.

For Crusaders; S. U. 5 Zlock, Wyllie, Condon Defeated by 40 Points Led Crusader's Attack

Lebanon Valley "Flying Dutchmen" of Annville handed the Susquehanna Crusaders their fourth loss of the season last Wednesday night. Lebanon Valley outscored the Crusaders 22-7 in the first quarter and outscored them in every quarter thereafter as they emerged victorious by a 49-32 score.

Herb Finkelstein, 6 foot forward, tallied six field goals and four for five at the foul line and captured the scoring honors for the "Dutchmen" with a fifteen point total. Bill Vought and Lou Sorrentino netted eleven for the winners. Charlie Zlock and Ned Condon scored the majority of the Crusaders' points. Zlock hit for six field goals and a foul while Condon collared six more field goals and two fouls.

Lebanon Valley led at half time, 40-17.

A fast-moving Elizabethtown basketball squad outclassed Susquehanna's maroon-and-white-clad Crusaders as they romped to an easy 49-32 victory on the Alumni Gymnasium hardwoods Saturday night.

The Crusaders held a one-point margin at the end of the first period and were still within striking distance when the second period closed. An eleven-point effort by the Elizabethtown lads while the Crusaders were held to four put the visitors out in front with a commanding lead until the game ended.

Charley Zlock led the Crusader attack as he contributed 12 markers, while Bob Wyllie and Ned Condon garnered 7 and 6 respectively.

KNOW YOUR PROFESSOR

This week the spotlight of The Susquehanna falls on Mrs. Russell C. Hatz.

Music has always played a major role in her life. At the age of eleven, Mrs. Hatz gave a private piano recital. In 1932 she graduated as salutatorian of her class at Lebanon Valley High School, Lebanon, Pennsylvania. At Lebanon Valley College, she received her B.S. in Music Education, graduating cum laude and receiving the Senior Music Award.

In 1941, Mrs. Hatz received her master's degree at Columbia University.

While at Lebanon Valley, she played in the Girl's Band, Symphony Orchestra, and sang in the Glee Club.

For five years, she played the French horn in the Harrisburg Symphony. She was also in the York Symphony two years.

Mrs. Hatz has studied private French horn lessons from Van Lier Lanning and Charles Lanuti.

In the Pains Township Schools, in York County, she was the supervisor of music for four years.

Mrs. Hatz has studied piano under Ruth E. Berder, Johanna Harris, wife of the noted American composer Roy Harris, and Alton Jones of the Juilliard School of Music in New York.

In 1940, Mrs. Hatz came to Selingsgrove and has been teaching here at Susquehanna for the past five years. At the present time she is teaching piano, French horn, flute, history of music, and keyboard harmony. She has also taught all the brass and woodwind classes and harmony.

As program advisor of S.A.I., Mrs. Hatz has spent three years of active participation in the sorority.

For the past two years she has been the president of the Women's Auxiliary.

Mrs. Hatz is also past president of Delta Kappa chapter of Beta Sigma Phi, and international cultural and social sorority.

In Northumberland, she is on the Board of Directors of the Northumberland Celebrity Concert Association.

Alpha Delta Pi

We wish a speedy recovery to our sister Ruth McKorkill and hope that she will be back on campus soon. Congratulations to Charlotte Neuman for being chosen to play Portia in Mr. Kleinsch's next production of the play "Merchant of Venice."

Miriam Wick and Jean Rowe are going to take the places of Ruth Smith and Ethel McGrath working with the Brownies next semester.

Gamma Omicron of Alpha Delta Pi had charge of college vespers last Sunday evening. Sister Ruth Smith gave a short talk on the "Ten Commandments," and Lorraine Rarick was liturgist.

Beta Upsilon wishes to thank all of the people who sent them Christmas cards and letters.

We were especially pleased to receive so many letters from the alumnae members during the last month.

Mrs. Mae Kelly, executive secretary of the local chapter of the American Red Cross wants to thank everyone at Susquehanna for the part they played when the blood bank was on the campus.

Congratulations to Shirley Smyr for her recent engagement.

Pamela McKeeg and Peggy Aston assisted with the program at the Selingsgrove Community Center this week.

Sigma Alpha Iota

On Tuesday, January 8, a service was held at which time Frances Drumm, Jayne Dalbey, and Peggy Webber were pledged to S. A. I.

Best wishes are extended to Ann Guise who became engaged over the Christmas vacation.

After the basketball game Saturday evening the brothers and their dates enjoyed dancing and card playing at the house. Miss Brunkhorst, Miss Rohrbaugh, Dr. Robison, Mr. Soule and Mr. Grove were chaperones for the event which was scheduled from ten o'clock till twelve.

New officers for next semester were nominated at the regular meeting Wednesday evening. These officers are to be elected tomorrow.

Saturday afternoon Theta Chi from Bucknell was defeated by the house basketball team. Bob MacNamara is the coach and has a fine record started for this season. In a scrimmage with the varsity and Merck of Danville, the brothers came through with victories. In the intramural loop they have remained undefeated.

Thursday evening the kitchen will be in operation for pizza pie. Lists have been put up for those who want pizza.

Choosing from the recommendations of the nominating committee, the following men were elected to represent the fraternity next semester: Gordon Joyce, re-elected president; David Bennett, vice president; Donald Walter, secretary; Arthur Olson, comptroller; Charles Zlock, treasurer; and James Withers, steward.

Two open houses highlighting dancing and refreshments have been held under the direction of social chairman, Ed Kopf. One was January 5 and the other on Saturday night January 12 following the basketball game.

Theta Chi

"On the air!"

The 1951 Theta Chi Pledge Class presents Station X-M-A-S. "Twas Larry Smith speaking as Master of Squirrel-phonies for the party's "show" which featured Tom Bodner as the greatest trixer since Mandrake hit the comic books, and Ed Danyluk as the greatest "Doc" since the Seven Dwarfs hit Hollywood. We were all quite surprised to see a pair of Pat Sheldon's "Saturday's," since it was Saturday night, appear from the stomach of Ames Ressa. (Don't fret, it was during an operation.) Chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. Leach, Dr. and Mrs. Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. DeMott, Dr. Armstrong, and Santa Claus (Jerome Purta).

Theta Chi was honored last week-end by a visit from the reckless "Rebel," Gunnar Zorn, Esq., and his wife, Barbara.

Bob "The Cat" Fenstermacher has graduated into the ranks of the U. S. Army. Other eminent graduates are Al Snyder, Bill Naie, John Momrow, Charlie Rau, and Bill Pritchard. Two of the seniors, Bill Naie and Bill Pritchard will leave the house and pledges Jerome Purta and Richard Walk will move in. At the last formal meeting the seniors presented a floor lamp to the house.

WHO LIKES OUR TESTING SYSTEM? BELIEVE IT OR NOT; SOME DO

What is on the lips of every S. U. student this week? You can observe them night after night burring the midnight oil. Quite frequently the silence is broken by sharp outbursts of flaming words about this or that course, or denouncing one of our noble professors.

Yes, the long-lost leisure hours wasted during the semester have come to an end, and it is time for reckoning. The appropriate question to accompany these feelings is before the students this week. "What do you think of the final testing system at S. U.?" is in the spotlight.

The general consensus is that the students prefer the one hour finals far more than two- and three-hour finals used in other colleges.

Two main objections are raised to Susquehanna's system. Having to prepare for other classes and being held responsible for recitations during test week should be eliminated. Many students suggest elimination of classes during test week. The other main objection is the problem of several tests piling up in one day or all your tests scheduled in two or three days.

Don Muchmore: "Eliminate classes on final test week. Only tests should be given during this week."

Chris Harman: "You should not be held responsible for class recitation during final testing week."

Ann Dixon: "A much better system than three-hour finals as other colleges use."

George Liddington: "Our system is a great improvement over the cramming that would be needed for finals covering a complete course."

Dave Volk: "Even though it is difficult to keep up on classwork, our system is better than three-hour exams. Under our system we run into several tests piling up on one day which could be eliminated."

Jake Spangler: "It is poor in the respect that students have exams in unrelated subjects on the same day. That does not allow for proper study for either exam. A system should be devised whereby a student has one exam a day in varied fields. Since exams are a necessary evil of our education system, the student should at least be given a fair opportunity to study properly for his exams, and not have his numerical grade suffer because he is forced to prepare for exams in conflicting subject material on the same day. Test week should be test week, not a week before and not a week after."

Orville Glass: "I like it. It appeals to me."

Jug Myers: "I think there should be a central agency for scheduling tests. The professors could turn in dates for tests and this would help eliminate the congestion now encountered with tests piling up on a few days."

Bill Beckwith: "We have no final testing system that I've seen. Each professor does something different from the next."

Bob Wylie: "The system could be improved by not holding classes during test week, and having a system worked out whereby the professors have some regard to the number of tests students are having on one day."

MARITAL QUESTION TOPIC OF S.C.A.'S MEETING TONIGHT

Do you want to know more about marriage? If so, you will be given the opportunity to learn about and discuss the marital question this evening, January 22, in the Seibert social room at 9:30.

Pastor Raymond L. Morris, Methodist minister of Selingrove, will be present at the general meeting of the S.C.A. to give the students some "food for thought" on the marriage situation. The presentation of this topic is the second in a series of three discussions; namely, "Courtship," "Marriage," and "Divorce," and will be followed by a brief discussion period in which the students may ask questions and voice their own opinions on the matter.

The Fellowship Commission of the S.C.A. will conduct a social period following the meeting and will serve refreshments at that time.

Roman Culture Stressed At Latin Club Meeting

The January meeting of the Ciceronians was held in Seibert Social Rooms, Thursday evening. A brief business meeting was conducted by Consul Henry Albright.

Following the business meeting, Marilyn Huyet presented a cultural report on "The Life and Works of Augustus Caesar." Assistant Professor Robert F. W. Meader showed pictures on Roman life and customs and led discussions on that topic.

The meeting was adjourned following the serving of refreshments in charge of Lucian Smith. The next meeting will be held on the first Thursday in February.

January Grads Plan Careers for Future

Several senior men completing their courses of study this semester have expressed their post-graduating intentions.

Frank Compton, Business Administration, is directed toward the position of a junior executive in the pharmaceutical trade, and has made a number of applications to different corporations.

John Horoschak, Liberal Arts, has applied for admission to Temple University to continue his studies in the medical field.

A Business Administration student, John Momow, will attend Columbia University for post-graduate work.

William Nale, Business Administration, has a public accountants position with Lavenoth, Krekstein and Company, Lewistown.

David Parker, Business Administration, is associated with James Lees and Sons, Bridgeport, Pa., in their customer-service department.

William Prichard, Business Administration, will complete law study at Temple University.

Alfred Snyder, Business Administration, is a salesman at J. C. Penney and Company, Sunbury.

Bob Fenstermacher, having received his call to the service, is now completing basic training at Camp Meade, Maryland.

George Snyder is applying for statistical work in some large corporation. Richard Herr is applying for a teaching position and also for a business position.

Two other seniors, Faye Lewis and Sam Porter, are picking up their remaining few credits at home.

IVAR AVOTS EDITS ULUBELE, LATVIAN MONTHLY PAPER

It is a rare experience to find a man enrolled in a college of our size who is affiliated with the publication of an international magazine. It is a singularly more amazing accomplishment to find that the individual is a foreign-born student who has been in this country for only two years.

Ivars Avots, his mother, father, aunt, and brother came over from Riga, Latvia, in October 1949 through the efforts of the Lutheran World Federation. His father was an officer in the Latvian army.

A need arose among the Latvian young people for a cultural publication in which they could express their views and feelings.

From this need evolved a monthly publication in Latvian printed in Germany called "Ulubele." The title is taken from the name of an imaginary castle in Latvian drama. This publication is in its infant stage. The number of subscribers is increasing.

The first issue was published in November 1951 and contained thirty-four pages. Twelve hundred copies were printed and sent to all parts of the world. The copies sold for forty cents.

Ethics, art, sports, and entertainment comprise most of the copy in the "Ulubele." These articles are contributions sent by Latvians of different age groups to the editor in each of four countries—United States, Germany, England, and Australia.

The editor of the "Ulubele" in the United States is Ivars Avots. He is also part owner, advertising manager, and general representative of circulation.

The Avots are living in Danville, Mr. Avots is engaged in cabinet making. Ivars is a sophomore here at S. U. and is enrolled in the business administration curriculum. After graduation from here, his tentative plans include graduate work at Harvard.

Since coming to Susquehanna, he has shown his academic alertness by making the dean's honor list. He is a member of the S.C.A. and is a pledge of Phi Mu Delta. He is a member of the central Pennsylvania group of Latvians which is a member of the American Latvian Association in Washington, D. C.

Susquehanna University is fortunate in having such a student here.

Oh Sam

By Kenneth Hemstead

There goes Oh Sam the colored man;
They say he eats from a garbage can.
I never could see why people ran
From poor Oh Sam the colored man.

Why, I used to stop and talk with Sam;
He'd smile and tell of a "promised land"
Where the wild grapes grew and sweet maple ran
"As free as the wind," sighed poor
Oh Sam.

Then a look came over the face of Sam,
And I saw tears in the eyes of the man.
And it hurt to think of the garbage can,
And what hurt even more were the people who ran.

But he smiled again and got up to stand
"Kinda tired, kinda tired," said poor
Oh Sam,
And I knew that he meant his
"promised land"
Where the wild grapes grew and the maple ran.

Well, I guess you'd call me a simple man
'Cause I kinda believe in that
"promised land."
Don't know about the grapes or the maple that ran
All I know is what I saw in the face of Sam.

Greek Cities Discussed At Phi Kappa Meeting

The last Phi Kappa meeting was held Monday, January 13, in Steele Science. Charles Snyder, the vice-president of Phi Kappa, took charge of the meeting.

After the business meeting Edward Koch discussed Greek cities. At Athens, the capital city in Greece, was given particular attention. Dr. Ahl added to the discussion. Refreshments were served to top off this interesting meeting.

Plans For Sorority Rushing Made By Panhellenic Council

The Panhellenic Council which supervises and coordinates all sorority rushing on campus met Wednesday, January 16, at 5:10.

A schedule for rushing was drawn up. This year, a Panhellenic tea on February 3 for all sorority and non-sorority members will officially open rushing.

February 4-8, the sororities will hold open house in their rooms after lunch and dinner. Also on February 4, the presidents of the two sororities will speak to the freshmen girls about rushing. This meeting will take place at ten o'clock in Hassinger Hall.

On Friday, February 8, Miss Sambrook, Dean of Women and advisor to the Panhellenic Council, and Willie Odenthal, president of Panhellenic, will speak to the girls interested in rushing. This meeting will be at 5:10 in the Chapel.

Saturday, February 9, from 9 to 12, all girls interested in being rushed will sign up in the office of the Dean of Women.

February 12, Alpha Delta Pi will hold their party and on February 13, Kappa Delta will hold theirs.

Following the last party, a quiet period will be observed for 48 hours until Saturday morning when the rushers sign in Miss Sambrook's office for the organization they wish to join.

On March 1, the annual Pledge Party will be sponsored by the Panhellenic council.

January 23, Miss Sambrook will speak to the members of both sororities about rushing procedure.

Kathleen Scherr is the chairman of the tea, with Janie Cline, Peggy Aston, Joan Sechrist, Helen Von Lym, and Ethel McGrath on the committee.

SPRING FASHIONS PRESENTED AT KD BENEFIT SHOW

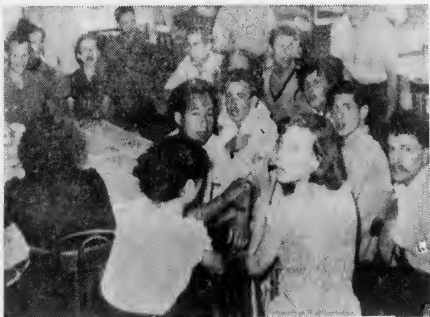

Early spring fashions will be presented by Kappa Delta sorority in their annual fashion show Saturday, February 2, at 8:15 in the Little Theater.

Fran's, Lieb's, and Rosenblum's of Sunbury, in addition to Burns of Selingrove, are assisting Kappa Delta by supplying a large variety of wearing apparel.

This presentation of college fashions will run the gamut from active sportswear to the latest in formals.

The fashion show is being presented for the benefit of the crippled children in the Selingrove-Lewisburg area. A silver offering will be taken to send these children to camp next summer.

"LET ME BE A GIVER"

God, let me be a giver and not one
Who only takes and takes unceasingly;
God, let me give, so that not just my own,
But others' lives as well, may richer be.
—Mary Carolyn Davies

These few lines so aptly illustrate a possible solution to the situation of world affairs today. If there were only more who were willing to give, instead of receive, the world would be in a much better state of affairs. The aggression by Communistic forces would be non-existent; the Korean struggle would never have come about, and the needs of the university students all over the world would not be so acute.

We, who are so fortunate, find it hard to believe the sad plight of the unfortunate. We, here in America, take so much for granted; prosperity has made us blind to the needs of peoples all over the world.

Here at Susquehanna we have an abundance of food, clothing, and shelter—things that are practically unknown in other parts of the world. We have paper, ink, books, laboratory equipment, and many other facilities which we take so much for granted. In other parts of the world, education is gotten by students merely by the lecture method because of the lack of textbooks. The libraries were completely destroyed and are slowly being rebuilt; students do not have paper on which to take notes; laboratory equipment is unheard of in many places.

Can it be possible that such conditions exist in a world such as ours? Not only are the material things of life unheard of, but that intangible asset which is so valuable to all of us is being impaired by undesirable conditions. That intangible asset is good health! As an example, 80 per cent of the students at the University of Dacca are suffering from that dread disease—tuberculosis. Can that be possible? It not only can be, it is!

The World Student Service Fund is endeavoring to remedy these conditions by promoting a drive throughout the United States. The funds received from this drive are used not only for books, but also to improve the living conditions of the students. Reach down into your pockets—give generously to such a worthy cause. Remember, every dollar that is contributed will insure the education of needy students and will promote a better understanding between the nations.

Isn't world peace worth a small contribution? If your solicitor has not contacted you, make an effort to contact him. Remember the WSSP drive! Give generously!

With Apologies

Training!

"Waiter, there's a locomotive in my soup."

"Yes, sir, this is a training table."

Chivalry!

Carol: "Where is your chivalry?"

Len: "I turned it in for a Buick."

Daffynities!

An ashtray is something to put cigarettes in if the room hasn't got a floor.

Soda Water: A drink that tastes like your foot feels when it's gone to sleep.

A snuff manufacturer is a man who goes around putting his business in other people's noses.

Symathy

Herb: "Those are my Grandma's ashes over there."

Guest: "Oh, I'm sorry. I didn't know she passed on."

Herb: "She hasn't. She's just too lazy to look for an ashtray."

Seance!

"That's the spirit!" cried the medium as the table began to rise.

Tooting

Loretta: "I'd hate to live near the railroad tracks."

Ken: "Yeah, darn tootin'!"

Mamers!

Canibled to son: "Don't you know it's rude to talk with someone in your mouth?"

Never!

Dr. Russ: "Were you copying his paper?"

Casey: "No, sir, I was just making sure he had mine right."

Cutting!

Dr. Armstrong: "So, you cut class again, son?"

Dick J.: "Yes, sir."

Dr. Armstrong: "What makes you stay away from class?"

Dick J.: "Class hatred."

Hearty Appetite!

Carl: "And how did you find your meat today?"

Arlene: "Why, I just moved this little piece of fried potato, and there it was!"

Fable

Two little amebas who were swimming around in the veins of a horse decided that they were hungry. So they wandered into the horse's arteries, a most fatal step, as both of them died. The moral of this story is that you shouldn't change streams in the middle of a horse.

Charity!

Gene Fenstermacher: "The one-hour test is a good idea except in cases where they all pile up on one or two days."

Harold Vogler: "One of the best systems of final testing in the country."

Dave Harris: "A fine system, but it is hard to give a fair test and cover a subject fully in one hour."

Moore Menapace: "Final testing will not prove anything, so we should eliminate it."

Bob Jarvis: "I prefer our system to those systems in other schools that have comprehensive final exams covering a whole semester's work."

Bill Treon: "Revert back to the old testing schedule; that is, the regular class schedule terminates and nothing but examinations are scheduled the final week."

Charlie Snyder: "The regular college schedule should be followed. Also anyone who has a B average should be exempt from taking final tests."

Caroline Rutherford: "One exam week without any regular class."

Don Felsch: "It's great! Certainly makes for peace of mind."

Lou Drumm: "I think there should be a regular exam week, with a week before that without any classes so we can study for the exam."

Les Hellman: "Each department should have its own days for testing, thus avoiding three and four tests on one day. There is much room for improvement."

Ruth Roslander: "After you have had your final exam, I don't think you should continue to have classes in that course."

Eihel McGrath: "One week set aside for tests with no other classes so tests are fairly distributed."

Pat Heathcote: "Should have two weeks testing periods, giving two hour exams."

Marty Way: "I think the present system is all right."

Jim Diemer: "I think there should be a week of tests with no classes."

Marvin Hefner: "Classes should be suspended during test week."

Casey Mayer: "I think we should have one test week with hour or hour and a half exams and classes suspended that week."

Bill Kelley: "I think our present system is preferable to exams which cover the whole semester."

Art Olson: "I believe our system is satisfactory except that I think classes should not be held during the final week."

Jack Stoudt: "Classes should be cancelled during testing periods, so we should have time to study for tests."

Polly Fisher: "I'm satisfied the way it is now."

Nancy Lepley: "Classes should be stopped so we would not have to study assignments and prepare for tests."

Joyce Gilbert: "At least one-hour exams are better than three-hour exams."

Lucian Smith: "This way we don't have time to study for tests and assignments, too."

Danalee Kershner: "I wish a schedule could be arranged in which only one test could be given on one day. The method now used is awfully unfair to those preparing for two or three tests a day."

Charles Bomboy: "I think it's all right the way it is now."

Audrey Warner: "Classes should stop during testing, and there should be no more than two tests a day."

Arlan Gilbert: "Thank goodness we have no two-or-three-hour exams."

Graydon Lose: "I think it's fair just the way it is now, as far as I'm concerned."

Bond and Key

For the next semester Bond and Key will be led by Buss Carr as president. Buss Henry is vice president and Ken Hill, secretary. Les Heilman will keep the brothers' weight up to normal (or above normal) as steward, and Bob Wylie is going to handle the money.

Ed Neuman was appointed utility manager by the new president.

During the semester vacation the men who are staying over are going to refinish the floor in the meeting room and clean up the outside of the house. The large bathroom is to be remodeled with new fixtures, new plaster and flooring. The front door will be sanded and refinished.

Phi Mu Delta

Brother Al Vollmers was taken to the Sunbury Hospital on Friday night, suffering from acute gastroenteritis. By all reports, he is coming along fine and he'll be home from the hospital within a few days.

On Wednesday evening at our regular meeting the officers for next semester were installed. Following this, our Alumni President, Ernest Walker, called a joint alumni, active meeting.

Friday night, Kappa Sigma, from Bucknell defeated the house in basketball by one point. The final score was 38 to 37.

Theta Chi

At the regular weekly meeting of Beta Omega chapter, members voted their approval of a new chapter at Gettysburg College. If the petition submitted by Gettysburg is likewise approved by a majority of the other Theta Chi chapters, the total number of active chapters will be increased to 108.

Our noble friend and brother Bob "the Cat" Fenstermacher, who caused us many happy moments here at the house, is now lending his special humor to the United States Army. Bob was back here during the week on an emergency furlough and we might add that he looks real "hep" in Khaki, even though his dog tags do jingle when he walks.

In a recent election, Fred "Loose" Winkler was chosen as house manager, to succeed Bill Nale who graduates in the coming week. Other election results named Dan Williamson as Historian and "Rattle of Theta Chi" correspondent and Chuck Mason was elected Catecher.

Beta Theta chapter at Drexel Institute of Technology has informed us that plans for the 1952 Convention of Region Three are now under way. This is to be held in Philadelphia on April 4th and 5th.

A meeting of the Susquehanna Theta Chi Alumni Association Board of Trustees will be held in the chapter house on January 26th, 1952 at three o'clock.

Mr. Phillip C. Campbell of Danville, an alumnus of Bucknell, has been appointed by the Grand Chapter of Theta Chi to fill the position of Regional Counsellor of Region Three. COMING SOON: A four-hour house party on February 16th.

MICE TAKE OVER SEIBERT; CONSTANT BATTLE RAGES

Do you like animals? Do you? How nice! You should room in Seibert. Delightful little animals run around and get under-foot constantly.

They are such dear creatures, so tiny and furry. But to hear some of the girls, you'd think that they were big, ferocious, roaring beasts. Actually, their little hearts beat like mad, and they tremble all over when they see a two-legged monster of Seibert.

It is really getting to be quite a game—when a girl discovers a mouse, she screams and runs; and when a mouse sees a girl, he squeaks and runs. But, eventually both mouse and girl sneak cautiously back into their room.

And so the battle of the mice and the women of Seibert goes on.

A mouse lover!

Did you know that a huge terrifying monster was loose Saturday night in Seibert? We hear he really frightened Kathy Schnerr and Betty Vincent very badly.

Thou Shalt Not Kill

By H. Robert Kurtz

It's just about a year and a half now that the war has been raging in Korea! Take a balcony seat on the moon and watch the show! Little people run all over Korea murdering each other! What's the matter with man? Why is he always at war with his fellow man? Where is the Fifth Commandment: "Thou shalt not kill?"

There's an ambushed patrol . . . what's left of it . . . straggling back through the United Nations perimeter. Tired soldiers with vacant staring eyes . . . eyes that are dumb with sleeplessness and horror! Soldiers that all look old . . . for war is a great equalizer, and even the young get to look old!

Watching, as we are watching, a young man known as Abner is sharpening his knife. He sharpens it to a razor's edge. Why? I'll tell you why . . . he's going to slit the first Commie he gets his hands on and wants that knife to be sharp enough so it will slide in nice and easy! Very nice thought, but . . . shift your eyes to the enemy lines.

There is the same thing . . . a patrol of wounded men coming back to their lines . . . and a man known as Li watching them stumble in. He sits there polishing his sub-machine gun and grinning a big smile. Oh yes, he will avenge his fellow men . . . by blasting the first American he gets near to. This, too, to Li is a very nice thought.

Look now, friends, look at the battle that is about to take place and see which shall be the conqueror. The Commies are ordered to attack . . . and you, Li, are more than eager to carry out the command.

Up over the ridge . . . yes, Li moves up over the ridge! His heart beats loudly! He is exhilarated . . . happy! The thought of killing his first American pleases him. He feels a strange perverted joy!

Piring is going on all around. Li's breathing comes quickly! Soon . . . soon . . . there! Now! An American! His whole body trembles as he moves in! He must not miss and ruin his avenging thought. It is a tall American . . . a heavy American . . . an American named Abner with a knife strapped to his boot. Abner sees Li and whirls around. Just what you wanted him to do. He is a big, tough-looking American and he will be your first victim. You can't contain yourself and you squeeze the trigger . . . two bullets leave the gun, but no more. Abner clamps down the safety catch on your gun! Shaking Li like a rabbit, Abner flings away Li's gun and reaches down to his own boot for the knife.

The tide is turned now, isn't it, Abner? Even with two bullet holes in your chest you are livin' for this moment to kill! You rip and slash and finally plunge the blade deep into human flesh. What's wrong, Abner? Can't you remove that knife? Your madness to kill made you lose it . . . but what of it? You did what you wanted to do. Now you stumble away from the mess and your chest stings and burns. You call for help . . . for the medics . . . even we on the balcony seat on the moon can hear you but we cannot help you.

Abner staggers and then falls . . . falls back . . . into death!

Two men lay side by side! You can tell by their unnatural positions that they are dead! Did you know while you sharpened your knife, Abner . . . did you know, while you polished your gun, Li . . . did you know you were creating death? And now that your bodies are growing cold and your limbs are stiffening, how do you like death, Li and Abner?

And you . . . how do you like death, humanity? Regard r o man's life cheaper than your own! Respect and cherish life and then, truly . . . the Fifth Commandment . . . THOU SHALT NOT KILL!!

KNOW YOUR PROFESSOR

This week The Susquehanna turns its attention to the very interesting career in education of Dean Russell Galt.

Dr. Galt, who was born and raised in the "City of Brotherly Love," received his early education in that city, in the Philadelphia Public Schools. After graduation from high school, the dean did some work at Drexel Institute of Technology before going to Muskingum College, Ohio, for his undergraduate work. He received his B.A. from Muskingum in 1919 and his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from Columbia University in 1920 and 1936 respectively.

After receiving his M.A. Degree from Columbia, Dean Galt went to Egypt where he helped launch the Liberal Arts College at the American University at Cairo. After several years in the Liberal Arts College, Dr. Galt was named dean of the new Department of Education. While serving in this capacity Dean Galt launched and edited the first modern education magazine in Arabic. This periodical is still the only magazine given over to modern education in Arabic. After a number of years in the Department of Education, Dr. Galt was transferred back to the Liberal Arts College as dean of that department. While serving as dean of this department, Dr. Galt launched the first Department of Arabic Journalism and it was shortly after this that he came home, after seven years in Egypt, because of illness in the family.

After his return to this country Dr. Galt took a position at St. Lawrence University, Canton, N. Y., as visiting professor of Near East civilization and history. From St. Lawrence, Dr. Galt came to S. U. as dean, in 1938.

During World War II Dean Galt was called to Maxwell Field, Alabama, along with a committee from colleges of this area, to work out a curriculum for air schools.

Along with his duties at S.U., our Professor of the Week inspects high schools for the Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and does a lot of public speaking at high school commencements, service clubs, churches, etc.

As hobbies he likes to work cross word puzzles, which Mrs. Galt says are not good for him, gardening, and going to Florida.

Sorority News

Alpha Delta Pi

The Alumnae Club and patronesses of Alpha Delta Pi sorority gave a tea for the active members of Gamma Omicron chapter, Sunday afternoon at the home of Colonel and Mrs. Franklin Kemble on South High street.

The tea table was beautifully decorated with the sorority colors of blue and white. Mrs. Amos Alonzo Stagg, Jr., and Miss Athalia Kline poured. About sixty attended.

Mrs. Kemble is one of the members of the Alumnae Club.

With the end of this semester we lose our capable president, Paye Lewis. We want her to know that she will be greatly missed by all of us and that we wish her the best in everything she does in the future.

VESPERS

A brief but inspiring program centering around "Prayer" was the order of service for vespers on Sunday, January 20, in Seibert Chapel.

The eleven-member Kappa Delta choir represented its sorority as it very capably added to the spirit of the service by singing "The Perfect Prayer" by Speaks and "Hear My Prayer" by James. The music group was accompanied at the organ by Voylet Dietz, organist for the service.

Also taking part in the program were Mrs. Roger Howling, liturgist, and Mrs. Betty Albert, speaker.

Mrs. Albert's message was directed toward the main theme as were the two hymns "Sweet Hour of Prayer" and "What a Wonderful Service of the new semester will be held on Sunday, February 3, with the Theta Chi fraternity in charge.

Kappa Delta

Beta Upsilon enjoyed a very interesting cultural program after their regular meeting, January 16. Miriam Vogler was in charge of the program.

Kappa Delta was sponsor of Sunday's vespers, Bernice Howling was the liturgist and Betty Albert, the speaker.

Jane Cline and Marty Way helped at the Selingrove Community Center this week. The girls have been taking part in many interesting things which the young people of the town enjoy.

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK

Maxine Chambers is well known to all of us for her cheerful disposition and exuberant personality. Her hometown is Mifflinburg, where she attended Mifflinburg High School.

Maxine was valedictorian of her class in high school. Besides receiving this honor, Maxine was very prominent in the activities of the school. She was the pianist for the opera, in the band, a class officer, co-editor of the yearbook, and in the dramatic and sports organizations where she excelled.

At Susquehanna, Maxine has continued the great line of activities which she started in high school. At S. U. Max is president of W.A.A., secretary of Kappa Delta Sorority, secretary of the Student Christian Association, and treasurer of Tau Kappa. Besides all these offices she holds, she is active in the Blemic Society, all intramural sports, was on the varsity basketball team for three years, and was photography editor of the Lantern. The list would not be complete without mentioning that she was also an orientation leader and a freshman counselor in her junior year. It is amazing that one girl can be prominent in so many activities and still remain on the Dean's List, where she has been for the last three years.

Maxine's major is English and her minor is Spanish. After graduation she plans to teach and get married. In either field, we are convinced that she will continue to have the success that she has attained thus far.

S. U. Drops Seventh Straight To Juniata; Wilkes Heart-Breaker For Pfeiffer Five Wilkes Dumps Team Indians Outscore S. U. By A 66-62 Score; Quintet; Score Runs Foul Line Weak Spot To 71-42 Disaster

The Susquehanna University Crusaders suffered their sixth loss of their current basketball campaign at the hands of the Wilkes College five on Wednesday night. The Crusaders led Wilkes until the final four and a half minutes, but then their poor showing at the foul line caught up with them and Wilkes won by a narrow 66-62 score.

The game was the first under the reign of new basketball coach Ed Pfeiffer who assumed the coaching duties less than 48 hours before game time.

Ned Condon provided the scoring spark that may send the Crusaders into the win column in the near future. He ripped the cords for 14 field goals and hit on four out of eight foul shots to net 32 points for his evening's work. Charlie Zlock was the only other Crusader to hit the double figures. He totaled 13 points. Batronev and Benson led Wilkes with 24 and 13 points respectively for the men from Wilkes-Barre.

First Quarter

The Crusaders jumped to an early 10-15 lead in the first quarter. Stu Tomlinson controlled both backboards and netted a majority of the rebounds. Ned Condon provided thrills aplenty as he stole the ball on three separate occasions and totaled nine of his 32 points in this initial quarter. Bob Wylie tossed in three field goals—two of these were results of direct assists from Mr. Condon.

Second Quarter

Bob MacNamara entered the game briefly in the second quarter and assisted Tomlinson in the rebound work that allowed S. U. to maintain a narrow 28-30 lead at half-time. Charlie Zlock and Condon did the bulk of the Crusaders scoring and set up the plays that payed off.

Third Quarter

Wilkes finally overhauled the Crusaders in the third quarter. Thereafter, the lead changed hands on two occasions but Wilkes had the advantage at the end of the period 47-48. Condon and Zlock hit consistently from the outside on long set shots.

Fourth Quarter

With three minutes remaining, the Crusaders were downed by a narrow one-point margin at 59-58. But a field goal and five for five at the foul line gave Wilkes a 66-60 edge; and although they fought gamely, they were not able to overcome the lead that those foul shots built up and the final score favored Wilkes 66-62.

The Crusaders outscored the opposition from the field 25-24, but a poor 12 for 26 at the foul line spelled the difference between victory and defeat.

SPORTS CHATTER

By Richard Stout
Congratulations to ED PFEIFFER who has been approved as basketball coach for this season on the recommendation of Professor A. A. Stagg, Jr. Ed, who resides in nearby Northumberland, is a former S. U. cager and was teamed up with the prolific scoring Eve Zlock to give Susquehanna its last successful cage campaign in the past three years. While the Crusaders made a great bid for victory against Wilkes in his coaching debut, fans will agree he'll have a difficult task producing a winner with the material at hand.

Coach Stagg's withdrawal came as little surprise. The overlapping of the football season combined with his other duties as professor of physical education and director of athletics made it difficult for him to give sufficient time to his duties as cage mentor. Hence, the Crusaders can be assured of another loyal rooter and Coach Stagg's best wishes for success.

NED CONDON'S thirty-two point scoring pace against Wilkes College Wednesday night is the highest total garnered by any player on the Alumni Gymnasium hardwoods for the current cage season.

Just heard via the rumor clinic is the participation of Susquehanna in the Middle Atlantic Conference and the scheduling of an extensive twenty-eight game program for 1952-53.

BASKETBALL BABBLINGS: Juniata's Indians really took the measure of the red-faced Crusaders who just couldn't put the ball in the basket... Too bad Ned Condon and Charlie Zlock couldn't put together a scoring spree on the same night... It has been rumored the Crusaders will have several new faces on the squad after the close of the semester... Losses to Juniata and Wilkes have run the losing streak to seven games without victory... Just can't seem to find any good news...

Campus Club Members Send Gift to President

The campus club of Susquehanna University, consisting of the wives of the faculty and the women on the faculty and on the administration, had a brief meeting on Wednesday afternoon, January 16, in the Seibert Social Rooms. During the meeting, the club decided to send a gift of two books to their president, Miss Ruth McCorkill, who is hospitalized with a broken arm.

After the meeting the group enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon tea. The tea table was very attractively decorated with a centerpiece made of roses that Assistant Professor and Mrs. Russell C. Hatz received at their recital the evening before.

The social committee for this month was Mrs. Waldemar Zagars, chairman; Mrs. A. A. Stagg, Jr., Mrs. Russell Hatz, Mrs. George Robeson, and Mrs. Olive Barry.

SU WELCOMES TWO NEW INSTRUCTORS; MUSIC, EDUCATION POSTS FILLED

Susquehanna University is happy to welcome into its membership John Patrick Collins, instructor in voice.

Mr. Collins is proud of the fact that he hails from the "Lone Star" state. He is an alumnus of the University of Texas and New York University, majoring in music and voice.

While in the navy, he was assigned to the Tompkinsville Navy Base in Staten Island. He was graduated from the Juilliard School of Music and, since making his home here, has sung in recitals throughout the Island and has done radio, operatic and stage work. Three years ago he was soloist with the Staten Island Symphony. He has sung in a Toscanini-directed radio broadcast of "Aida" with Serge Koussevitzky in Carnegie Hall. He also was musical director for Temple Israel and soloist at the Church of the Heavenly Rest, Manhattan.

When asked what he thought of Susquehanna University, Mr. Collins said: "I am profoundly impressed with the wonderful spirit that exists among the students on this campus. This is in direct contrast to the colleges of a large metropolis, in that the students there seem to be all out for themselves. Here the spirit seems to be, 'all for one and one for all.' I am also very much impressed with the friendly and farm relationship that exists between students and faculty. Secondly, I am impressed with the beauty and grandeur of the campus, having been among the 'cave-dwellers' in Manhattan for eight years. It is a gratifying experience to see a homely, God-grown tree. So may I say I am happy to be aboard the Susquehanna."

It is the wish of all the students that Mr. Collins' stay at Susquehanna will be a pleasant one.

EIGHT STUDENTS ADMITTED TO S. U.

Among the new students this semester it looks like leap year took a slump, but we do have one girl and seven boys.

Anna Belle Thomas from nearby Lewisburg is a transfer from Florida Southern College, Lakeland, Florida. She is majoring in Business Administration and sports in general constitute her hobbies. Asked her opinion of S. U., she replied, "I like it very much, the students are very friendly."

William Church is another new smile to S. U., transferring from Champlain College and hailing from Verona, New Jersey. Bill is taking a Liberal Arts course with a major in psychology and also finds athletics his hobby.

William C. Adams is a native of Selinsgrove and is taking a special course this semester.

K. H. Boswell, Jr., is another Jerseyite, hailing from New Providence and State Teachers College, Jersey City, New Jersey. Ken is taking a Liberal Arts course with a major in biology.

Raymond Haupt returns to our campus having spent a year here previously. Ray is taking a Business Administration course and lives in Sunbury.

Dale Hoffman hails from Tower City, Pennsylvania, and is a freshman in the Liberal Arts course.

Vaughn McCough's hometown is Johnstown, Pennsylvania, and transferred from the University of Pittsburgh, Johnstown Center. He is taking a Liberal Arts course.

Richard Matha is from Sayre, Pennsylvania. He is taking the Business Administration course and transferred from Mansfield State Teacher's College.

ALPHA PSI PLANS MOVIE; TALENT SHOW SCHEDULED

So you want to display your talents? Good, here's your chance! On February 22, 1952, the Alpha Psi Omega is giving a talent show, and is presenting cash awards.

Anyone is eligible; get your acts together now. If you have a singing, dancing, pantomime, comedian, or almost any kind of act that you would like to present, please contact Mimi Vogler.

The Alpha Psi Omega hopes to have another movie in the near future.

Susquehanna is glad to welcome Mr. Clarence R. Houseberg as he joins the faculty as instructor in education. This semester he will teach educational psychology and tests and measurements and will serve as practice teaching counselor to those seniors who are teaching.

Mr. Houseberg's home is in Gap, Pennsylvania. He received his bachelor of science degree from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, his master of arts degree from Teachers College, Columbia University, and his master of education degree from Pennsylvania State College.

Mr. Houseberg has had a long and varied teaching experience in both secondary and primary grades, and he has been supervising principal in Fulton Township, Pennsylvania.

He has traveled extensively throughout the United States, Mexico and Canada and enjoys being in high places and atop mountains.

When asked his opinion of Susquehanna, Mr. Houseberg had only favorable comment. He is very much impressed with the chapel services and the way everyone takes part in the singing and devotions. He likes the friendliness of the students and faculty, not only with themselves but with each other, giving the campus an entirely different and superior environment from that of larger schools. Mr. Houseberg thinks our campus has an atmosphere of study and friendliness not found in many other colleges.

Special Notice

The Chapel Choir, under the direction of Mr. John Collins, will rehearse every Tuesday and Thursday at 4:30 p. m. in Seibert Chapel until the end of the semester.

They Cut By Night

By Jack Swartz

Bright lights shone down upon the long table and two tense faces watched the motionless body that lay there. The two young men hovered over the body probing it, never taking their eyes from the pitiful sight before them.

"Scapel," said the one, hardly recognizing his own hoarse voice.

"Here," said the other, "be careful you don't cut into the heart. Easy now."

"Shut up, hand me some cotton," returned the first.

The two worked fervently, the sweat stood out on their foreheads and they wished that they could go to the window, throw it open, and drink in the fresh air, but neither of them dared to leave their work.

"Help me lay the skin back, now," said the first.

A clock somewhere ticked loudly. It was the only sound in the room except for the dull scraping sound as the fat was cleaned away from the visceral organs.

"Here, hold his leg down with your other hand; I'm going to see if there is anybody around."

"Don't be so scared, there's nobody around; oh, go ahead." The young man went to all the windows, carefully lifted the blinds and looked out into the night. Then he went to the door and tried the lock.

"It's all right," he said, "Let's get this over with now."

"I told you," was the reply. "Come on, give me a hand now." The two young men began to work again but the one who had just checked the windows remained nervous and constantly looked up to see if they were being observed.

"Listen," he said, "I didn't like this from the start. If anything happens it's your fault, remember, you talked me into this."

PANHELLENIC TEA OPENS SORORITY RUSHING; QUIET PERIOD OBSERVED FOLLOWING ADPI AND KD PARTIES

Oil Paintings Featured

In New Library Display

Have you stopped to look at them? Have you really looked at those paintings, or have you just glanced at them? It might be worth your while to stroll around to the library this week and spend ten minutes studying Edward S. Hewitt's eighteen oil paintings which are on display there. The subjects cover a wide range, from orions to wind and from an ebb tide to a haunted street. Why not compare your impressions with those of several of your friends?

Mr. Hewitt is a well-known architect and painter. A member of the National Academy, of the American Institute of Architects, and formerly director of the Architectural Department of the Beaux Arts Institute of Design, he has studied in this country and in France and Italy.

These paintings are not the only additions to the library. A large shipment of books, both fiction and non-fiction, has been received since the beginning of the semester. The library has also received several new magazines. The most outstanding is "The American Heritage," one which can make history interesting for anyone. It is liberally sprinkled with old pictures and cartoons and is not at all like the conventional history lesson.

WARNING . . . Be on the lookout. There is a desperate character on the loose. He is so desperate that he has stooped to stealing a "Theatre Arts" from the library. Any information leading to the apprehension of said magazine will be gratefully received in the library.

On Sunday, February 3, girls' sorority rushing officially started. The Panhellenic Council held a tea at that time in Seibert parlors. The tea was the first social event of the two-week rushing period. During the week of February 4, the two national Panhellenic sororities on campus, Alpha Delta Pi and Kappa Delta, held open house in the sorority rooms after lunch and after dinner. On Saturday, February 9, the girls wishing to join a sorority signed up in the office of the dean of women. Approximately twenty-nine women signed up.

The week of February 11 is the week for the individual rush parties. Alpha Delta Pi will have theirs on Tuesday night, and Kappa Delta on Wednesday night. From Wednesday night until Saturday noon, a quiet period will be observed between the rushes and the sorority women, when the girls will state their preference in the office of the dean of women, and the sororities will submit preferential lists.

In order to prevent a violation of the rules of rushing, upperclass women not interested in joining a sorority, were asked to sign in the office of the dean of women so that they might be seen off campus with sorority women.

Sigma Alpha Iota, the national honorary music fraternity for women, will hold their rush party on Thursday night. Only those music students holding a "C" average in college subjects and a 1.5 average in conservatory subjects will be eligible.

SCA NEWS

The SCA cabinet held its first meeting of the current semester in its Hasting Hall room on Tuesday evening, February 5.

It was reported by Stewardship Commission head Ruth Smith, that at present a total of $86.53 had been collected for the World Student Service Fund and it was the hope of the cabinet that this sum might be increased through the proceeds to be received from the "sacrifice meal."

The twelve members present also took action to appoint an SCA member to fill the unexpired term of treasurer, a position left vacant by the resignation of Bob Moore. Carolyn Lucas, a sophomore from Chambersburg, Pa., was chosen to fill this position.

Beatrice Morrow gave a report on the progress of plans for Susquehanna's Religion in Life Week conference, March 9, 10 and 11. A tentative program is being arranged by the cabinet, and Beatrice stated that with the help of a committee she will endeavor to construct a program that will be of great interest to all Susquehanna students.

Administration News

Frederick C. Stevens, assistant professor of sociology at Susquehanna, attended the fourth annual Conference on Education for Public School Welfare, sponsored by the Pennsylvania Association of Colleges and Universities, held February 8 and 9 at the Hotel Harrisburger at Harrisburg. Professor Stevens addressed the conference on Friday afternoon on the subject "Qualities Desired by Public Welfare Agencies in Prospective Employees."

President and Mrs. Smith are driving to Cocoa Beach, Florida, which is 75 miles south of Daytona Beach. They plan to stay for two weeks. As their guests they will have Mrs. William Juram, who is Mrs. Smith's mother, and Dr. Smith's brother, Dr. Charles Smith, who was formerly the President of Roanoke College in Salem, Virginia. The trip is scheduled to begin Tuesday morning.

It is expected that Miss Ruth McCorkill will be back with us in a week's time. She is suffering from a broken arm which she received over the Christmas holidays.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK: "WHAT IS YOUR OPINION OF SATURDAY CLASSES?" STUDENTS GIVE IDEAS TO STAFF

Saturday classes has been among the topics of discussion on campus for sometime. This week "The Susquehanna" decided to have the students air their opinions and ideas about the "evil" of having them, obtaining a variety of answers. The question of the week was, "What is your opinion of Saturday classes?"

Kenneth Hemstedt: "They facilitate easier scheduling. Without them there would be problems of conflict and assignment. I would rather have classes Saturday morning than afternoon classes the rest of the week."

Don Muchmore: "You can't go home weekends if you live too far."

Albert Smith: "They should be eliminated."

Jackie McKeever: "They interfere with weekend traveling."

Wayne Lapolt: "I would rather have them weekdays because I commute."

Donald Sheldon: "They're dandy. I don't have any."

Helen Griffiths: "I'd like them if they were all piano lessons."

Barbara Mumper: "Be nice not to have them."

Thomas Balchen: "The deprivation of my extra-curricular activities is frustrating. I find Saturday classes the chief contributory cause."

Arlan Gilbert: "For a heavy schedule they are necessary, for a light one they're not."

Lynne Lightfoot: "No more than two if we must have them."

Ken Russell: "At New Jersey State Teachers College we didn't have them. There was an advantage in going home early but we sometimes had six or seven classes a day."

Dolly Taddeo: "I like to sleep mornings. I don't like them."

Todd Solomon: "We have them so we might as well suffer."

Carolyn Lucas: "I don't like them because they keep many students from going home but they are a necessary evil."

Roger Rotherbaugh: "Other schools get away without Saturday classes, why don't we find out and follow their system."

Bill Stringer: "Our large number of offered courses would cause too great a complexity of our normal week-day schedule, without Saturday classes."

Cliff Stampel: "I think they're okay. Without them our vacations would have to be shortened."

William S. Beckwith: "If there were no Saturday classes, our already overcrowded week-day schedules would have to bear the burden. Either that or extended terms. After all, we came to college expecting classes, didn't we?"

Charlie Coates: "Now that I'm used to going to class on Saturday, I don't mind too much. They're rough when I want to go home, though."

Shirley Morris: "I don't mind Saturday classes now that I'm used to them."

Barbara Easton: "I think exclusion of Saturday classes would be a great idea. It's the only morning I can sleep."

Pam McKegge: "I think it would be a fabulous idea if Saturday classes were excluded. It would facilitate matters for those who want to leave on Saturday for the weekend; as it stands now, we can have only three Saturday cuts."

Peggy Aston: "After seven semesters I'm slightly sick of them."

Bill Vanderhoff: "Not much!"

Robert Schwab: "What else is there to do around here?"

Joan Diggins: "I wouldn't feel right if I didn't get up at eight o'clock every Saturday morning."

Pat Hess: "They must have had a good reason for having Saturday classes, so let's find a reason for not having them!"

Clair Mitch: "I think there is enough time during the other five days of the week to have classes. There is no need for Saturday classes."

Ed Kopf: "Saturday classes could be eliminated by having classes meet only twice a week but for a longer period at each session. More night classes could be scheduled also."

Barbara May: "I guess we have to have them."

Carlene Lamade: "I don't have much choice."

Mary Cowling: "They help spread out classes. Other than that, I think they're a hindrance to people who want to go home."

Les Helman: "They're okay. I suffered through seven semesters of them and everyone else should, too."

Gordon Joyce: "If nothing can be done about having Saturday classes, then students should be allowed more cuts so that they could go home for weekends."

Janie Cline: "If classes met twice a week, it would be the ideal situation—no Saturday classes."

Herbie Craft: "Larger schools have operated successfully without them. I think Susquehanna could, too."

Ames Ressa: "I don't think they're so hot."

Ed Paikovich: "I don't like them."

Mr. Soule: "Not much!"

Esther Frost: "There's nothing I like better than a good stimulating eight o'clock class on Saturday morning."

Lois Fisher: "I'm against any classes whatever."

EDUCATION -- ACADEMIC AND SOCIAL

Students come to college for an education. Education is the training of our mental and moral powers by a system of study and discipline or by the experiences of life. Synonyms for education are instruction, breeding, training, culture, cultivation, knowledge, schooling.

New fields of study have been opened in recent years. Together with reading, writing, and arithmetic we have sociology and psychology.

Training in sociology and psychology show us how other people live, similarities and differences in cultures and societies, why and how people behave as they do. Education today includes the teaching of individuals to live together in harmony, and the giving up of some of the rights and privileges of the individual for the benefit of the group.

Fraternities and sororities offer an experimental station for living and working together. Here people, perhaps for the first time, learn that they must compromise and that the wishes of the group are more important than the wishes of any individual.

Experience in the practicing of social graces, in leadership, and in the group feeling so prevalent in society are featured.

Surely the development of leadership, the assuming of responsibilities, and the art of working together are important steps in the education of the individual.

The academic standards of Susquehanna are quite high. This institution is no "flunkers' haven." It is difficult to get high grades here—it is an achievement—it requires work.

The girls are in the midst of sorority rushing. In behalf of the students I make a plea to the faculty members that they look at sorority rushing objectively and as a part of the education of the student. Evaluate the importance of this two-week period not only to the sorority girl, but to the rushee as well.

Professors can not always give their tests and heavy assignments when nothing else is going on but at least they should be concerned with both the social and academic phases of the co-ed's college life and be at least considerate during this period. Is that too much to ask?

With Apologies

Tough!

"What's the idea?" Mrs. Howling demanded angrily of the man at the meat counter. "I found pieces of rubber in that last pound of hamburger you sent me!"

"I'm sorry, madam," he apologized with a shrug, "but I guess it's just another instance of how the automobile is replacing the horse."

Cartoon Quotes

Father to small son: "Never mind how I first met your mother—just don't go around whistling!"

Young doctor to gorgeous girl friend: "I can't afford diamonds or mink, darling—I'd like to take out your appendix free of charge."

Women!

"Darling," announced Ken Jones one night, "I've just made up my mind to stay home this evening."

"Too late, Ken," chirped his wife, "I've already made up my face to go out."

It Takes Know-How

With the utmost seriousness, an elderly lady observed: "Isn't it wonderful how these filling-station people know where to set up pumps and get gas?"

Second Choice

Just after the baby had been born, the nurse in the maternity ward approached Butch Iffert and asked: "What is it you wanted, sir—a boy or a girl?"

"Oh I wanted a girl," answered Butch excitedly.

"I'm terribly sorry, then; it's a boy," she said.

"Oh well, that's all right," he laughed in a relieved tone, "that was my next choice anyway."

Statistics

I just read where 25 per cent of the men who get married proposed while driving a car, which only goes to show that more accidents happen on the road than anywhere else.

Sleep!

A quick-thinking student came up with a new alibi when his professor said, "How come you're sleeping in the class?"

"My goodness!" exclaimed the student. "Can't a person close his eyes around here for a minute of prayer?"

Vacation Vertiges

Suitcase: Something you sit on while waiting for the train.

Small Town: Any town smaller than the one you live in.

Strapless Bathing Suit: A compromise between the law of decency and the law of gravity.

Vacation: A trip to put you in the pink—and leave you in the red.

Vacation Time: That period when the flowers in the home garden are at their best and only the neighbors are around to enjoy them.

Window Screen: A device to prevent the escape of insects.

Freckles: A nice sun tan—if they'd only get together.

Persuasion

Overheard in a local home last spring while the head of the house was away.

"Please."

"No!"

"Oh, please."

"No!"

"Just this once."

"I said no."

VESPERS

"Read the Bible. You have nothing to lose, but everything to gain," said Gordon Joyce, S.C.A. president and Phi Mu Delta vespers speaker, as he concluded a challenging message at Sunday vespers.

Because we cannot go to Christ himself in physical form to have our strife and conflicts calmed as many did during the Saviour's life, we can read His words of comfort in the Bible, the speaker inferred. He also stressed the idea that the Bible is a book full of more than consoling literature; it is indeed a book that is steeped with stories of adventure, romance, history, law, music, and poetry and for all of these reasons should be read so that we make reading it "a habit."

Following is the order of the service which was sponsored by Phi Mu Delta. Prelude—Ruth Freed Hymn—"Lead On O King Eternal" Opening Order of the Vesper Service Scripture—II Timothy 2:1-19

Hymn—"Take My Life and Let It Be" Sermon—Gordon Joyce

Vocal Solo—"I Heard a Forest

Praying"—George Ferrey

Offering Hymn—"O Worship the King"

Postlude

Sigma Alpha Iota sorority will be in charge of vespers Sunday, February 17.

"Aw, Mom, please, all the kids are going barefoot now."

Boish

Psychiatrist: "That habit of talking to yourself is really nothing to worry about."

Patient: "Perhaps not. But I'm such a bore."

Marriage

Shorty Neuman: "Mom, what kind of a husband would you advise me to get?"

Mother: "You just get a single man and leave the husbands alone."

Question?

"What does a bride think when she walks into the church?"

"Aisle, altar, hymn."

Life Cycle

A girl's life cycle: Safety pins, hair pins, fraternity pins, clothes pins, rolling pins, safety pins.

Back Seat Driver

"How did this terrible accident happen?" asked the horrified policeman.

"My wife fell asleep in the back seat," mumbled Tom Fitzpatrick.

Accidents

The druggist was preparing to close up for the night. He was reaching for the light switch when one of his customers came limping into the store.

"Give me some Arnica," demanded Al Smith.

"What's the matter, Al?" the druggist asked sympathetically.

"Oh, it's that datted housecleaning again," Al rejoined.

"Oh ho," chorled the pillpusher, "so your wife roped you into that again!"

"Nope," replied Al. "It wasn't that, I came home tonight and sat down where the sofa was yesterday."

Quick Quotes

Barber to sleek-haired young man: "Do you want it cut, or just the oil changed?"

Woman in traffic court: "I was driving down Main Street with my husband at the wheel..."

Excuse

"So sorry, conductor," Ethel McGrath apologized, "but I'm afraid my little dog has eaten my ticket."

"Then I suggest, Madam," said the Saturday night about seven o'clock, an eerie figure appeared in the front doorway of Bond and Key Fraternity. This was a most unusual figure. True to fraternity spirit, he was wearing a black and yellow jacket. However, his description must end here, since that was just about all he was wearing. The figure turned its head from side to side, looking up and down the dark and quiet street. Then it stepped cautiously out onto the porch, tiptoed under the porch light, down the steps, across the yard into a parked car, then back again. Mission accomplished, the quivering form disappeared once more into the house. I might add that a few neighbors have yet to recover entirely from the shock.

Have you heard them sing? Why, when they burst forth in their own rendition of "In the Gloaming," people just stare. I wonder why? They're quite the trio. Requests to have them appear (or disappear) are streaming in from all over. I'm not sure when their road tour starts, but it will soon—even if they go by foot.

The general clattering, banging, and talking that accompanies every meal in Horton Dining Hall was in full swing. Suddenly a loud, impolite "slurp" was heard. Six seconds later another "slurp" sounded. Then another, and another "slurp" "slurp" "slurp!" Now the sound seemed to be coming from one particular table. You think the table manners of the younger generation are disgusting? Never! Those fellows and girls are just playing the game which seems to be one of the most popular in social circles this season... especially in the dining hall. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, slurp! 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, slurp! 15 etc. What fun!

The class in Advanced Psychology held in Bogar each Monday evening might be better called a class for advanced psychos. The first session was held last week and it was really a free-for-all. An attempt was made, as a matter of fact a very successful attempt, on the part of the instructor to do away with any doubts which may have arisen concerning the nature of the course, and the instructor himself. It was rather reminiscent of high school days, complete with corny jokes and giggling in the back row. The class consists of a group of the more capable students on campus, all eager to fathom the depths of psychology. Well, at least they are eager for three credits. Here's wishing the best of luck to these enterprising individuals and their efficient instructor.

The best of luck to both Alpha Delta Pi, Kappa Delta and Sigma Alpha Iota in their rushing.

unimpressed ticket-taker, "that you buy him a second helping."

Tardy?

"Late again!" Dr. Gilbert barked, as Vince Boyer slipped into his seat.

"I'm sorry, sir," Vince apologized,

"but last night my wife presented me with a boy."

"It would have been better if she had presented you with an alarm clock," Dr. Gilbert retorted.

"I rather imagine she has," he ruefully replied.

SPORTS CHATTER

By Richard Stout

SUSQUEHANNA'S CRUSADERS, whose loss to Elizabethtown Saturday night ran their winless streak to nine, encountered some more bad luck last week when STAN MANNING, versatile pivot man, contacted virus and will be side-lined indefinitely.

AL JONES, erstwhile S. U. slugger who has won twenty-nine of thirty-three amateur bouts, has, along with Sunbury's Malcolm Hayes, stirred up quite a fuss in local pugilistic circles. An item appearing in the Shamokin and the Sunbury vicinity. In recent issues this department printed stories about two local fighters, Sid Kramer and Joe Strick, who were evidently winning fights in the Wilkes-Barre area. Both boys had submitted news articles concerning their ring victories to the sports desk when a bombshell exploded. Malcolm Hayes, a fighter from Sunbury, called the writer and said the local fighters never fought in Wilkes-Barre as they had reported and that he (Hayes) was issuing a challenge to either Kramer or Strick. AS IF THAT WASN'T ENOUGH TO GET THE BALL ROLLING, A LETTER WAS RECEIVED FROM AL JONES, A STUDENT AT SUSQUEHANNA UNIVERSITY AND A BOXER IN HIS OWN RIGHT.

Jones was questioning the report that Kramer had won twelve straight bouts by saying, "I would like to know how this is possible, as there haven't been twelve fights in this area (outside of Wilkes-Barre) in the past two years?"

It Gets A Little Hotter

Jones also gets on the bandwagon in wanting to fight Kramer. In his letter he states that last summer he was challenged by Kramer while residing at his home in Chester. Jones added that he didn't know of the challenge, but now that he does, he is willing to step in the squared circle with Kramer and Strick at the same time. So confident is Jones, that he feels he can lick both boys at the same time. Boxing rules, however, do not allow this so Jones goes a step further by saying he will fight them one at a time on the same night and spot them ten pounds in weight.

What Is the Real in Such a Case?

Not that both sides of the argument have been given, it is up to someone to settle the question. If Kramer has won twelve straight, he ought to be commended. If, on the other hand, he has been bluffing the sport public through false newspaper reports, he ought to be chastised for his action and made an example of. Kramer could settle the entire affair if he consented to step in the ring with either Jones or Hayes. The decision of the fight would settle the affair once and for all. What do you say boys? We say Al will have plenty of roasters along the ringside when and if such a fight does come off.

The WILKES College Courtmen who edged the Crusaders via the foul line earlier this season were among the leaders for National Honors for converting the charity tosses. Topping Wilkes, which ranked third, with 86 points in 133 attempts were Youngstown College, Ohio, which stands first with 71 of 97 bonus tosses and Wheaton College, Illinois, which has 110 points in 156 attempts.

The Haak A. C. entry in the Sunbury Community Basketball League is now comprised entirely of an S. U. cast. Big Bob Beckley, towering 6'3" center, is currently leading the league in scoring.

First-half honors for the intramural basketball league will be decided tonight when the undefeated Selinsgrove Hall quintet engages the once-beaten Cottage on the Alumni Gymnasium hardwoods. After losing to Phi Mu Delta in their season's debut, the Bond and Key, Theta Chi, and the Cottage has rebounded to down G.A. Day Students in that order. Selinsgrove Hall, which has coasted along to five victories without defeat, can sew up the league flag with a win tonight and will enter the contest a heavy pre-game favorite.

WAA Girls Hostess To Lymcoming and Bucknell For Basketball Playday

The Women's Athletic Association sponsored the annual basketball playday on Saturday. Lymcoming and Bucknell were our guests for the day.

A program was planned whereby three games were played so that each school played the other two schools. Lymcoming was undefeated so became the winner of the day with Bucknell as runner-up.

Irene Meerbach, Joyce Gilbert, Anne Bell, and Shirley Thompson, members of the W.A.A. acted as greeters and met the cars as the girls arrived. Peggy Webber, Joan Diggan, Dolly Taddeo, and Peggy Henderson were in charge of refreshments which were served to all players in the W.A.A. room after the games. Shirley Thompson and Irene Oldt were timer and scorer respectively for the games. Miss Neeley, one of the coaches of Bucknell, served as referee for the games.

Box scores of the games is as follows:

S. U. CAGERS DROP GAMES TO RIVALS; E-TOWN, WILKES SWAMP CRUSADERS Wilkes Shows Strength; Bruner, Jacobs Score; Intramural Cup S. U. Loses By 64-41 E-Town Rocks S.U.

Susquehanna's Pfeiffer-coached cage aggregation came out on the short end of a 64-41 decision on the Wilkes College floor, February 6. Bob MacNamara and Ned Condon tied for scoring laurels with 13 points each. Davis sparked the Wilkes scoring with 13 points.

Both S. U. and Wilkes used the man-for-man defense, but from the outcome of the game, it looks like Wilkes was just a bit stronger than the Crusaders.

Maybe the old saying that the home court is worth 15 points has some truth to it, considering that when Wilkes played on S. U.'s court the difference in the score was only 4 points, 66-62.

The box score follows:

| Susquehanna | Field | Foul | Total |
|--------------|-------|------|-------|
| Condon, f | 5 | 3 | 13 |
| Danyluk, f | 0 | 2 | 2 |

Selinsgrove Hall and Cottage Vie For Intramural Cup

Upon the students' return for the second semester, men's intramural basketball was resumed with much vigor.

The two pace-setting teams, Selinsgrove Hall and the Cottage, ran true to form as each team conquered two foes in the race for the championship. At the present time Selinsgrove Hall possess an undefeated record, but is closely followed by the Cottage.

In games of February 4 the Cottage romped to a 78 to 36 victory over Theta Chi. Gergen and Hemstead each scored twenty-one points for the Cottage, while Stout garnered eighteen in a losing effort. In a hard-fought tussle the Black Knights of Bond and Key were defeated by Selinsgrove Hall which was led by Johnson and Temple with twelve and ten points respectively. Menapace with twelve points and Curry with nine kept Bond and Key in the game until the final whistle.

Phi Mu Delta scored a decisive 61 to 44 victory over an inspired Day Students' team. Phi Mu Delta was led by Chadwick and Jones with sixteen and thirteen points. Lenker with fourteen points fought gamely.

On Wednesday, February 6 three more games were played in Alumni Gym. Beckly with thirteen points led Selinsgrove Hall to a 43 to 23 decision over Phi Mu Delta. Bond and Key triumphed over a weak Theta Chi team by a score of 32 to 20 with Menapace leading the way with ten points. In the third game of the evening the dark-horse Cottage quintet defeated the Day Students by a close score of 55 to 48. Gergen and Mickatavage led the Cottage with sixteen points each while Ned Arbogast led the Day Students with nineteen points.

On Friday, February 8, G.A. defeated a victory-starved Theta Chi team in the only regularly scheduled game of the evening. Jeffers with twelve points led G.A. to the one-sided 47 to 11 victory. Lamb with six points was Theta Chi's only scoring threat.

The first half of the men's intramural basketball season will be concluded on Wednesday, February 13. In the second half the losing teams will receive another chance to challenge the title aspirations of a favored Selinsgrove Hall team.

FRATERNITY ROW

Pond and Key

The house has been full of activity since semester vacation when the second floor started to have its face lifted. Floors have been refinished both downstairs and upstairs. The front stairway to the sleeping room was painted and work is progressing on the large shower and bath. The new plaster is set and under-coating is being put on in preparation for the paint.

The front door is like new with a new finish and brass fixtures. We owe a lot to brothers Henry and Neuman and many others who helped them.

Bond and Key's Alumni Association has had good response so far. Our mailing lists are being completed and are in the hands of the secretary. Over 400 letters have been sent out to the alumni.

Two new pledges are to be taken in this week. They are Giv Davis and Carlton Howells.

Brother Stan Manning has been ill with a virus infection. We hope for a speedy recovery.

This past week Brother Jim Rumbaugh, '50, and Mickey McAllister, '49, visited the house. Jim is a "med" student at Jefferson Medical School in Philadelphia. "Mickey" is an executive in Boy Scout work.

This Saturday evening Herb Krauss is arranging for a Valentine party. Herb is our very capable social chairman. The house party will be from 8 to 12.

Phi Mu Delta

On the evening of February 6, 1952, Butch Iffert became the proud father of an eight-pound, seven-ounce baby boy, Walter Carl Iffert. Congratulations!

On Friday, February 8, Robert Schwab and Russel Crouse became pledges of Phi Mu Delta.

Belated congratulations to Dick Jones on his pinning to Sally Snyder. It is also rumored that "Boots" Pluri and Jimmy Delith have secretly parted with their fraternity pins.

Goody Joyce was speaker at Phi Mu Delta vespers Sunday night. George Ferrey sang and Harmon Andrews was liturgist.

A-turkey dinner was held recently honoring Phi Mu Delta's January graduates. Best of luck to these semester graduates: Frank Compton, Dave Parker, John Horoschak, and George Snyder.

Theta Chi

At a special meeting of the fraternity on Thursday night, four men were pledged to Theta Chi. The new pledges are Harry Wagner, Larry Gingrich, Bob Kinehart, and Joe Heffner.

Theta Chi will hold a house party on Saturday, February 16. The theme of the party will be "Pennsylvania Terminal."

Four men have moved into the house for the second semester. They are Ken Hemstead, and pledges Winey, Baumgardner and Dersham.

Invitation to Lycoming Playday Accepted

The W.A.A. organization held its annual monthly meeting in Seibert Social Room, February 4.

It was announced that girls participating in swimming will receive ten points per hour and that they could obtain credit for the swimming they had done last semester.

The president, Maxine Chambers, read a letter in which Lycoming College has invited our organization to attend their Play-Day which is on March 1. Susquehanna is sending two badminton and eight basketball players to this Play-Day.

Further plans were made for Susquehanna's Basketball Play-Day which was held February 9.

After the meeting, entertainment was provided by Peggy Webber and Peggy Henderson.

THEY CUT BY NIGHT—From Page 1

"Shut up," came the reply. "Look out, you bumped my hand, you fool. Look what you've done; that vein is completely severed. It's all over now, ch... you fool."

"Come on, let's get out of here; there's nothing we can do now, we're finished."

"What about the body?" asked the nervous ore.

"Let it lay, I'll come in early tomorrow morning and get rid of it."

The two left the building silently and neither of them spoke until they reached another building not far from the one they had just left.

"Boy, we're in for it now," said one. "Yeah, that makes the third frog we've ruined," came the reply. "Mr. Almy will really blow his stack now."

"I know," said the first, "guess I'll take Business English next semester."

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK

"Butch" Smith

Vim, vigor, and vitality readily describe the personality of this week. Ruth "Butch" Smith certainly possesses these qualities. Ruth is known by all on campus and liked by as many. Besides being a friendly miss and a commercial education major, Ruth has spent an active four years on our campus as shown by her many activities and the offices she has held.

Before her graduation from Cene-nough Township High School in 1948, Ruth served in many high school musical organizations such as bard, chorus, girls' trio and ensemble, the swing band, and All-County Band and Chorus. Along with her musical activities Ruth also found time to be a member of the student council and Beta Y Teens.

On our campus Ruth continued her interest in music by playing in the band, and directing musical activities of Alpha Delta Pi. As a sports enthusiast Ruth is a member and secretary of W.A.A., Tau Kappa, and has played on intramural teams and the varsity basketball team.

Being a counselor in Hassinger Hall her junior year was another position held capably by Ruth, but it was not too large to keep her from being a member of the Business Society, S.C.A., and the Student Council, which she has done all four years on campus.

Now serving as acting president of Alpha Delta Pi, Ruth is taking the place of Paye Lewis. She has also been the vice-president and pledge director, and chaplain of her sorority.

Ruth has expressed the desire to teach high school students business subjects after graduation. We know Ruth will be a good teacher. She has the qualities.

Faculty-Student Game Sponsored by WSC

A meeting of the Women's Student Council was held February 7.

Mimi Vogler, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, suggested that the council again sponsor a volleyball game between the faculty and students.

Open house in the girls dormitories will again be held. No date has been set for the open house, which is under the sponsorship of the council.

The Student Council will again take charge of the Wednesday night Lenten service in both Seibert and Hassinger Hall.

New keys have been ordered for the members of the council. A standard key is going to be adopted, rather than changing the style every year.

Business Society Elects Ed Neuman President

The monthly meeting of the Business Society was held Tuesday, February 11, 1952, at 6:45 in Seibert Social Rooms.

This meeting was devoted to the election of officers for the coming term. Those elected were: President, Ed Neuman; vice president, Orville Glass; secretary, Elinor Smith; treasurer, Herbert Krause; program chairman, Pat Hess.

After the election of officers the meeting was adjourned. Refreshments, in charge of Nancy Kreig and Joan Digan, were served after the adjournment.

Administration News

If you wondered what the holes were on campus leading up to the administration building, you probably noticed that Susquehanna acquired a few long needed signs to point out for visitors just where they were headed. These signs are just the start of a sign campaign for better identification. In the near future, it is hoped that it will be possible for us to place signs on either end of Selingsgrove for advertisement purposes as well as nice signs at the corners of Pine and Market, and Walnut and Market streets. On campus others signs will be placed to direct visitors and prospective students to all the other buildings and points of interest on campus. Along these same lines, signs will be placed on the individual doors of the administration building to point out the individual offices along with the name of each administrator. Mr. Krapf, our new business manager, is supervising the work.

It is hoped that the students will again take pride in our campus by staying off the grass. Now that the earth is thawing and the new grass is shooting up, is the time to act if we hope to have a beautiful green campus this spring and summer.

MANY AND VARIED ANSWERS SUGGEST IMPROVEMENTS FOR "SUSQUEHANNA"

Since what a few people do can not please everyone, the staff of "The Susquehanna" is constantly asking for suggestions for the paper. Some students have sent in suggestions, but on the whole the staff's plan has been ignored.

In order to get the student's opinion of the paper, the staff has found it necessary to ask people individually for their suggestions.

"Bus" Carr: "More punch in the sports page. Give credit where credit is due to individual players. It seems we never read of the assists made by the individual ball-player and play-maker but always the high point man. This is not only in basketball!"

Ed Palkovich: "Why not have a variety of subjects on the front page such as sports scores. It would tend to advertise and bring about more interests in the paper itself and the school."

Fred Winckler: "A more liberal censorship."

Melva Schmeltz: "I think it's fine right now."

Pam McKegg: "More shots of campus activities, instead of dedicating all the articles to minor details."

Deen Lauer: "Put in better jokes. Rosemarie Sharretts: 'I think it should have more pictures.'"

Jayne Daily: "I'd like to see more emphasis on discussion of outside happenings as well as all the space given to minor incidents on campus. Couldn't we tie in headlines from some of the surrounding colleges? It would take work, but it has been done elsewhere and proven to be successful. I'm sure."

Dr. Zagars' Paintings Loaned to Susquehanna For Display in Library

Owing to unusual circumstances it has become possible to offer to the pleasure and appreciation of the University and its friends the splendid collection of paintings owned by Dr. Waldemar Zagars. This collection, graciously loaned for the coming week of some of the outstanding Latvian artists of today, and is but a fraction of the paintings owned by Dr. Zagars in Riga. It will be displayed in the library.

When Dr. Zagars and his family were forced to flee their home by reason of political pressure, they took with them only those possessions which were easily transportable. The best of their paintings they carefully removed from their frames and stretchers, rolled up, and so brought from country to country until they came at last to rest in the United States. Renowned and reframed, they have offered pleasure once again not only to the Zagars family, but to their friends as well. Now it is possible to show them to a yet wider audience for this week.

Many and Varied Answers Suggest Improvements for "Susquehanna" most of us would take an interest in reading of activities outside Susquehanna. Excerpts from leading newspapers might hold value, too."

Dwight Keener: "It should have more originality instead of the same repetitions."

Audrey Warnets: "It should have more pictures. The jokes should be more humorous and be more original. It would be nice to have more items of general interest to all the students. A continued story would add interest. A humorous gossip column would also be interesting."

Joann Mosholder: "I believe that the paper should have a human interest story every week, also, more pictures would attract the reader."

Miriam Wick: "I think the paper needs variation. The paper seems to be the same every week. Why can't the material be arranged in a different manner?"

John Snyder: "I am fairly satisfied with the paper, but it could use a little more humor."

Lucian Smith: "None of the articles are impersonal, they are all written from a prejudiced viewpoint. This narrow point of view should be broadened to include all groups of people on the campus."

Joan Sechrist: "I really don't know of any I'm satisfied with the paper."

Bud Unangst: "I feel that there should be more articles on a more intellectual plane and also a more spirited paper in favor of the school instead of throwing sarcastic remarks."

Rita Treese: "Compared to other school papers I have seen, it is very good. There could be more articles in it, but otherwise, it is about the best you will find for a school our size."

Christine Harman: "Have a weekly comic strip."

Eleanor Steffey: "What articles they have are good, but they don't have enough articles. I think they could include more of the happenings on the campus and in the classroom."

Paul Nestler: "The humor in 'With Apologies' can be made more humorous."

Ed Wollaston: "More variety of topics and more articles of wider interest. As the paper is now, it reminds me of a high school dope sheet."

Ellie Smith: "If anyone wants to undertake the job of improving the paper, let him step forth. The staff is always willing and eager to accept constructive criticism and suggestions."

"Big Jim" Showalter: "I think it should have more humor, but then I'm always laughing anyway."

Edward Newman: "The school newspaper should have preference to news releases by the school instead of the local papers. It's rather sad when you must read the Sunbury Daily Item for news of Susquehanna. The paper could be enlarged, printed oftener, or more pictures added from the money."

Navy Representative On Campus Feb. 29 To Discuss O.C.S.

Lieutenant Commander David I. Jacobs, U. S. Navy, representing the Office of Naval Officer Procurement in Philadelphia, will be on the Susquehanna campus on February 29 to discuss the Navy's Officer Candidate School with members of the graduating class.

The Navy has recently removed all specific course requirements for enrollment in its OCS. Any college graduate, if any senior whose graduation is less than four months away, may now apply for this program regardless of his college major. A previous requirement of some mathematics training has recently been eliminated.

Commander Jacobs will be in Seminar Room 9, Lower Floor of Bogar Hall on Friday, February 29, from 10 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 4 p. m. He will have data sheets giving details of the Officer Candidate Program and will interview and answer the questions of interested seniors.

The Navy's Officer Candidate School is located at Newport, R. I. Classes convene every two months, and the majority of each class remains for four months training for duty afloat. A portion of each class, however, is assigned to special fields and commissioned after two months. This group completes its training at various Navy centers for specialized duty. These specialist commissions require specialized educational backgrounds. Major college fields which may qualify candidates for specialist commissions are engineering, business administration, chemistry, physics and mathematics.

Tickets for "Merchant" Go On Sale This Week

The play, "The Merchant of Venice," will be presented by the Susquehanna Players at 8:00 p. m. in the Little Theater, Bogar Hall, Susquehanna University, from March 3 to 15.

The students will exchange their activity tickets for play tickets. Tickets will be on sale in the lounge this Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, at 1:00 p. m. Students and friends may attend Friday and Saturday nights of both weeks.

The business manager, Bill Davenport, stressed the idea that the students should get their tickets as soon as possible, as only a limited number is available for each performance.

The high school students of the surrounding vicinity will attend on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, along with the general public. The tickets for the general public will be $1.00 including tax.

"The Merchant of Venice" will not be taken out to the different schools as were the previous plays.

Everyone is looking forward with anticipation to the forthcoming production of this play.

SCA NEWS

Beatrice Morrow, a junior from Glasgow, Pa., will represent Susquehanna at the thirty-second annual conference of the North Atlantic Region of the Lutheran Student Association of America which is to be held February 29 to March 2 at The Inn, Buck Hill Falls, Pa. Beatrice's selection as official delegate of the University was made by the S.C.A. cabinet at its February 12 meeting in Hassinger Hall. She will be one of the several hundred Lutheran college students from the northeastern sector of the U. S. who will gather at this famous Pocono mountain resort to discuss and hear speeches on the topic, "God's World, Our Mission."

It was also reported by the Religious Life Commission that a committee has been selected to formulate plans for the coming Religion in Life Conference to be held on our campus March 9, 10, and 11. This program committee consists of the following: Eleanor Dively, Nancy Henderson, Shirley Thompson, Jean Rowe, Miriam Wick, Fred Shilling, David Harris, Harvey Jeffers, Charles Snyder, and Vaughn McGough.

U.S.S. ADELPHAN, SHOW BOAT, AND RED TOP THEME OF RUSH PARTIES

Curiosity Kills Cats;

Dangerous For Boy, Too

Jack Jones, eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Sommers, of 403 Train Road, was hurried to the North Hospital late yesterday afternoon. The doctors fear his condition may result in pneumonia. His state of health was reported fair. This was the report in the newspaper.

The boy had been left at home alone for the afternoon while his parents had gone into the city to do some shopping. Young Jack was content to read for awhile, but then he decided to do some investigation.

He started to examine the new refrigerator his parents had recently purchased. He wanted to find out how cold it was inside and the only way to do this was to climb inside himself.

Jack decided to do this. He removed all the groceries from the inside and placed them on a table near the refrigerator. Then he took all the shelves out and placed them nearby. He climbed in the refrigerator and closed the door.

Much to his surprise he found he couldn't open the door from the inside. He said, "It sure is cold in here!" What was he to do now?

His parents came home about 5 p. m. from shopping. Much to their amazement, they found the groceries and shelves out of the refrigerator. Curiously, they quickly opened the door of the refrigerator and were both startled to see their son sitting in the refrigerator half frozen to death.

They immediately rescued him from the frozen chest and quickly called the hospital for an ambulance. He was rushed there within ten minutes. The short time it took to get him to the hospital saved his life as he had been in the refrigerator nearly an hour.

It is said that curiosity killed a cat. Here it almost killed a boy.

Holy Bible Featured In Library Display

What do you know about your Bible? Do you know how it originated and how it came to be in its present form? The Holy Bible display in the library will help you to understand how the greatest book of mankind has come down through the ages. It will be worth your while to visit the library and view this display. The Bibles on display cover a wide range beginning with the ancient Sanskrit Reader and ending with the latest edition of the King James' Version of the Holy Bible.

The word of God is for all people and all times. It poses a truth about God and His relation to man and all man's environment. The revelation of God which tells about man and his place in the universe, the way that God had gone in order to bring man to a saving knowledge of His Grace toward all men was given to an historic people who spoke a language of their own. This language was not understood by others than themselves until it came to be laboriously learned and translated again and again. Thus came to be our present forms of the Holy Bible. It is interesting to note the many different forms of the Bible which are in use today and their translations.

The Bibles and Bible-writings on display are as follows: Sanskrit Reader; Hebrew Bible; New Testament and Old Testament in Greek; Biblia Sacra; Hexaglot Bible; Syriac of the Sinaitic Palimpsest; German Bible, Martin Luther; Holy Bible, King James' Version; Concordance to the Hebrew Bible; Apocryphal Testament; Old Testament and New Testament, edited by the American Revision Committee; Holy Scriptures from Masoretic Text; Modern Readers' Bible; The Newberry Bible, an English version; New Testament, James Moffatt; Old and New Testament, American translation; Old and New Testament, revised Standard version, 1946; Golden Book Edition of the King James' Version of the Holy Bible, Copyright 1947, 1950.

Alpha Delta Pi was first to hold their rush party on Tuesday, February 12. They took the rushes on a trip around the world on the U.S.S. Adelphean. The social rooms were decorated in blue and white, the sorority colors, a ship's lounge with a bar at one end of the room and tables along the side. As each rushee entered, she received a carnation corsage and an ADPI garter. After a few "drinks," everyone found her place at the tables and the entertainment began. Small wine glasses were given as favors.

Ethel McGrath was hostess and announced the acts of song and dance. Charlotte Neuman, who also created all the dances, had a toe dance and a "blues" dance. Shirley Thompson sang "Song of India," Butch Smith sang "My Hot Tamale," Ruth Osborn gave a reading, Tammy Perkins and Joyce Gilbert did a hula dance, Joyce Wagner and Helen Von Lynn did a sailor tap, Paye Lewis and Mary Ann Dixon sang "Nicaragua," and there were several chorus numbers.

After the entertainment, refreshments were served, topped off with a blue and white ice cream cake. The evening was closed by the singing of the "Alpha Delta Blue Lights."

Kappa Delta

Wednesday night the rushes were entertained at Kappa Delta's show boat in the deep South. The members ushered their guests through the plantation garden. The hall and the social room were decorated with Spanish moss and flowers, creating a scene of Southern charm. Each rushee received a boy and a girl pincushion doll, which were hanging in the wishing well in the garden. While the guests walked about the garden looking at the fish pond, the Southern moon and the rock garden, colored mummies served mint juleps.

The showboat docked and a melodrama was presented from the deck. The melodrama was written and directed by Peggy Aston. It was entitled "Katydidd from the Deep South."

After the drama, everyone sang Southern and KD songs.

Refreshments were served by colored mummies. The highlight of the refreshments was watermelon which had been shipped from Cuba. At each place was a nosegay of Southern flowers and a booklet telling about the sorority; also KD matches.

Sometime later each rushee put her place card in a high silk hat, and Miss Frances Brunkhorst and Mrs. Richard Ush drew the names of the winners. The prizes were the center pieces from each table. They were figurines of the South, Southern dolls, gold fish, and a showboat.

Miriam Vogler, president, and Bernice Howling, rushing chairman, each gave greetings to the rushees.

The party ended by the Kappa Delta ceremony of tying a green ribbon with See U. S. S. ADELPHAN—Page 4

Lois Renfer and Vince Boyer Welcomed into Pi Gamma Mu Last Week

On February 14, 1952, the monthly meeting of Pi Gamma Mu was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Waldemar Zagars. David Volk, president, presided at the business session. Committees were appointed to make plans for the annual banquet at which Mr. W. L. Godshall, national president of Pi Gamma Mu, will be the speaker.

Two new members were welcomed. They were Vincent Boyer and Lois Renfer. Assistant Professor Frederick Stevens was a special guest.

Speakers for the evening were Miriam Vogler and Charles Bomboy. Both of them reviewed articles from the current Social Science Journal. Miss Vogler reviewed "Courage To Speak Out" by Margaret Chase Smith and Mr. Bomboy reviewed "Frederick Jackson Turner and Imperialism" by Lawrence S. Kaplan. An informal discussion followed.

Mrs. Zagars served delicious refreshments. The March meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Brungart at which Attorney Wilcox, Susquehanna graduate, will be the speaker.

CAMPUS CAPERS

It was 12:45 in the morning. Some girls in Seibert had long been in their cozy beds, dreaming of sugar plums, tests, and MEN. The less fortunate, either were still plugging away at their books or were chatting to each other. Suddenly without any fore-warning a terrified scream rent the air. Girls flew out of their rooms. All claiming the sound came from this fall or that one. None agreed on the same place. Rumors occupied by the peacefully slumbering students were invaded by an army of investigators seeking the cause of the horrible cry. Had someone been murdered? Was someone dreaming? Had a crazed person made his way out of the Colony? Had a wild cat escaped from somewhere? Some fifteen minutes later, another such scream again sounded through the now thoroughly roomed halls of Seibert. What was happening? Girls were afraid to sleep. Suppose—just suppose—they woke to find the cold clammy hands of a lunatic on their throats—or to feel the hot breath of a wild cat breathing down their necks. One girl decided not to stay in her room. Silently, with a raised hammer clutched in her hand, she made her way up the stairs to the third floor—to sleep in an already filled room. The night watchman tried to assure her that the scream had only been an owl. He didn't sound too convinced himself. As yet the source of the scream still remains a mystery. Some people have their own ideas, but . . . If anyone is interested in starting a wholesale investigation, please contact Jan Ford.

Perhaps you've been hearing rumors concerning the overworked German II class. Well, at least the students consider themselves overworked. Actually, they enjoy doing it; mainly, I think, because of their professor's encouragement and enthusiasm and above all his ability to see the humor in the few little mistakes and faux pas which they make from time to time. However, a few days ago, the class more or less unanimously decided to turn the tables, and play a small joke on their professor. It all began when several of the students found a dead pigeon (may he rest in peace) lying coldly on the ground one frosty morning. The bird reminded them of their own future, coming up after the first German exam, and they decided to give the bird to Dr. Gilbert as a symbol of their fate. They carefully smuggled the cadaver to the lounge where they stopped for a brace, and then proceeded to Bogar, a little early for class. They had composed a note, which was to be placed with the bird on the lecture, before the professor arrived. A daring plot, to be sure, and certainly it would work, since Dr. Gilbert always came a minute or two after the bell. Not so this morning, however; he had arrived even before the sad procession, which was making its mournful way across the campus. The students were shattered to find their plans foiled, and hid the bird behind a door and under a radiator, where his lifeless form could rest comfortably. But by the next meeting of the class, poor pigeon was entirely abandoned and forgotten. Now he probably never will leave his mark on society unless, of course, you have a rather keen sense of smell.

By now, I'm sure that just about everybody has seen the two latest additions to our picturesque campus. Of course I'm speaking of the telephone booth in the lounge which looks like a coffin in a candy shop, and the two colorful little signs which will direct newcomers to the "inner sanctum." The first noticeable revision to the campus was Bogar, which certainly improved the landscape, a landscape, I might add, which didn't need much improving and the second, the lounge, of which we all feel very proud.

But these latest additions belong in a different category. The telephone booth will be very useful, if not for telephone calls, at least for a place to throw old gun wrappers. The signs will undoubtedly prevent many visitors from finding themselves in some Fresh's room on second floor of Selinsgrove Hall.

We would like to extend wishes for a speedy recovery to Stan Manning, who hurt his ankle in a basketball game on Saturday. Some people get all the breaks(?).

Congratulations to John Shannon, Jim Showalter, Orville Glass, and George Cawley in their performance of the "Hasty Heart." According to student critics, their performance was very exceptional.

Congratulations also to Helen Spaeth. Fresh Spaeth was among those chosen to take part in the queen's court at Dartmouth College the week-end of February 9.

QUESTION OF WEEK—From Page 1 that could be saved on printing, by using a cheaper grade of paper instead of the best grade. Variety is very poor; at best "Question of the Week" column is moved back and forth from the first to the second page. With Apologies' column is the poorest excuse for humor . . .

Russ Crouse: "I think it's pretty good the way it is."

Dot Appar: "There should be more variety. I think my high school paper was more interesting."

Joyce Miller: "Either eliminate or improve the 'With Apologies' section."

Polly Fisher: "I like it the way it is."

Margie Wright: "I think a fashion column might go over well with the women students and possibly with some of the men."

Joanne Benner: "I would like to see a gossip column."

Nancy Lepley: "As it is, the paper is written from the point of view of only one group on campus. This is not good policy in a better newspaper."

Eleanor Benner: "The ads take up too much space that could be better

VALENTINE DINNER HELD BY WDSO
Thursday, February 14, the Women Day Student's Organization held their monthly dinner in their room in Hasting Hall. Each girl brought a treat to the dinner. Valentines were also exchanged.

In January, the organization held a New Year birthday party, and exchanged small presents after the tureen dinner.

Plans are now being made for the March entertainment by the executive officers.

Elinor Aurand: "Opinions of national events would be better than questions about school. There are too many petty and insignificant things in this college newspaper."

Danalee Kershner: "A gossip column like the one we had several years ago should be renewed. It might be called Campus News."

Bond and Key

The house had an atmosphere of gaiety with Valentine decorations throughout. Pink and white crepe paper streams were used with a huge red heart over the fireplace as a center piece.

About thirty couples had full stomachs on the baked ham and egg salad sandwiches. There were pickles, macaroni salad, cup cakes and coffee to add to the refreshments.

Each girl was given a corsage made up with a white carnation on a red heart with sprigs of green to add to their attractiveness.

As chaperones we were happy to have Mr. and Mrs. Krapf, Miss Janet Rohrbach and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Loitz.

On Saturday the brothers were glad to see three of our alumni on the team. Brothers Bruce Wagner, Bursleigh Peters, and Dave Groce played with the alumni squad.

"The Bond" of Bond and Key will be published this week under the editorship of Jake Spangler.

Phi Mu Delta

Valentines' Day house party was a gala affair this past Saturday night. Many guests from other campuses, parents and alumni attended and were warmly received. Among parents and alumni present were Mr. and Mrs. Eve Zlock and Mr. and Mrs. Ken Jones, and Mr. and Mrs. George Snyder. The spirit of Valentines Day was skillfully captured by Mike Walker's decorating committee. Each couple received a souvenir heart appropriately inscribed. Refreshments, dancing to music from our new 45 record attachment and ping pong in the new pine room were highlights of the evening. Chaperones were Miss Frances Brunkhorst, Miss Lenora Allison, Mr. Axel Kleinsorg, Mr. Robert Meader, and Dr. George Robinson.

Congratulations to Steve Torok and Joyce Wagner on their planning!

Brother Bob Messler has spent the past few days in Sunbury Community Hospital suffering from a slight case of pneumonia. Here's hoping for a speedy recovery!

The pine paneling of the ping pong room is rapidly nearing completion. A new lighting system has been set up. New drapes have also been hung in the alcove and stairway.

Alumni visiting the fraternity house this weekend were Brothers Johnny Kosick, Eve Zlock, and Gil Devine. This Saturday night Phi Mu Delta will again hold an open house.

Theta Chi

The theme of Theta Chi's four-hour house party last Saturday evening was "All Aboard!" Decorations around the house represented a train terminal, including ticket-booth, gateways, coffee-shop, baggage room, train, and all. Everyone had his own ticket and destination, by which the M.C., Jack Schwartz, knew whom to call upon from the audience in the featured "Welcome Travelers!" show. Jerome Purta's magic fingers molded several melodies from the keyboard as a prelude to the show. Caroline Rutherford, Ted Lamb, Voylet Dietz, and Sam Ross participated in a dramatic, true-story play, "Engaged to Trouble," which was drawn from a famous brand comic-book. To augment the stirring emotion of the play, Billy Ex-Stine, Abe Gatenan, moaned through several ballads. Interviews of the travelers Dot Aggar, ohi, and Chuck Mason, a Spanish mind-reader, were followed by Kenny Hemstead's antic-punctuated voice emulating two popular songs. Then another love-scene was portrayed by contestants Dr. Thomas Armstrong and Shirley Decker. The problem posed in this love-story was neatly solved by expert and experienced Mr. and Mrs. Howard DeMott. Putting things on a more harmonious keel, Dick Fyler played a few strands of Honolulu melody on pledge Baumgardner's genuine Hawaiian guitar—Sears model 62. A pair of South American piano selections by Ernesto Lecuona per Purta closed the show, after which the hungry travelers made their way to the "coffee shop" and the lower concourse where they were served sandwiches, root beer, and ice cream. By twelve o'clock, everyone had caught their trains, and, with the Theta Chi Terminal bereft of visitors, the stage line descended on the left-over show and tossed the ox on Coach Tomlinson's hot five, the "Harlem Globe Squatters."

John Adams, who died at 90, lived longer than any other U. S. President. With the possible exception of Herbert Hoover, George Washington was the United States' wealthiest president.

Alpha Delta Pi

On Tuesday, February 12, Gamma Omicron held its annual rush party. The theme was a sea voyage around the world aboard the U.S.S. Adelphean, and the Social Rooms were decorated as the lounge of an ocean liner.

Gamma Omicron congratulates the sixteen new girls it will pledge this afternoon at 5:10. Those girls pledging Alpha Delta Pi are: Joanne Benner, Mary Ann Bingham, Annabel Broeske, Carol Cornelius, Margaret Gordon, Helen Hassinger, Carlene Lamade, Barbara May, Janet Miller, Irene Oldt, Melva Schmelz, Ruth Scott, Patricia Sheidow, Dorothy Sites, Betty Weisenfluh, and Margaret Wright.

Gamma Omicron installed its newly-elected officers on Thursday, February 14. These girls will carry on the duties of the chapter throughout the coming year: Mary Ann Dixon, president; Joyce Wagner, vice president; Joyce Miller, recording secretary; Helen Von Lynn, corresponding secretary; Marilyn Fetterolf, treasurer; Ruth Osborn, historian-reporter; Irene Meerbach, registrar; Lois Fisher, guard; and Joan Sechrist, chaplain. Congratulations to each of these; we know they'll do a good job.

Best wishes to Sister Audrey Wegner who was married to John Horoschak on January 30.

Violet to Sister Joyce Wagner on being pinned February 14, to Steve Torok.

Kappa Delta

Kappa Delta held its rush party on Wednesday, February 13 in Seibert Social Rooms. The rushes were entertained at a plantation garden in the deep south. The girls who will be pledged on Wednesday, February 20, are: Mary Cowling, Dolly Taddio, Rita Greco, Elenore Steffy, Lorretta Wise, Barbara Grove, Nancy Richards, Lana Ann Fepley, Joanne Quick, Eleanor Benner. We are very proud and happy to welcome our new pledge class.

Congratulations to Alpha Delta Pi and Sigma Alpha Iota on their new pledges.

Sigma Alpha Iota

On Thursday, March 20, S.A.I. will sponsor a concert by Wilbur Isaacs, bass-baritone, in the chapel of Seibert Hall. Mr. Isaacs, who comes to us from New York City, has done much singing throughout the United States and Europe. He has received excellent press notices from leading American and European newspapers.

VESPERS

"The Lord's Prayer" provided the theme for the Sigma Alpha Iota sponsored colleges vesper service on Sunday evening in Seibert Chapel.

The service was opened by a prelude played by the organist, Voylet Dietz, and following the opening hymn, "Nearer My God To Thee," the scripture lesson was read from Matthew 5: 1-11 by Peggy Webber, who served as the liturgist for the evening.

A vocal solo, "The Lord's Prayer," was then sung by Jayne Daily and it created the proper atmosphere for Betty Vincent's message which had a similar title.

Silent meditation with a musical background provided by the chimes and the closing hymn, "Sweet Hour of Prayer," brought this brief but impressive service to a close.

Vesper services on February 24 will be in charge of the Bond and Key fraternity.

KNOW YOUR PROFESSOR

This week, the spotlight of The Susquehanna falls on Mr. Frederick Stevens, assistant professor of sociology.

Mr. Stevens was born in Maine, and moved to Minnesota when he was fifteen.

In 1926 he received his A.B. from the University of Minnesota, and he went abroad for a year and a half to study music in Paris. While there, he traveled in England, Norway, and France. Upon returning to this country, Mr. Stevens entered Columbia University to study sociology and in 1932 received his M.A. degree.

While still studying at Columbia, he was asked to join the faculty as voice teacher, here at S. U. As director of the Motet Choir, Mr. Stevens brought Susquehanna much fame. In 1930 the choir was close to first place in the Columbia Broadcasting Company's choral contest. About 200 choirs were entered in the contest.

Mr. Stevens left S. U. in 1944 to become head of the Music Department at Williamsport's Dickinson (now Lycoming) College. When he returned to S. U., he accepted the post of assistant professor of sociology.

His avid interest in sociology is shown in his membership in organizations concerned with the subject. He is a member of the American Sociological Society, the State Welfare Committee for study of personal qualifications for Social Work, and secretary of the Central Pennsylvania Sociological Society.

Mr. Stevens is also a member of the American Association of College and University Professors, the Pennsylvania Historical Society and Phi Mu Alpha (Sinfonia), an honorary music fraternity.

In the Masonic order, Mr. Stevens has the honor of having received the 33rd degree from the Last of the Ancient Accepted Scottish Rite. He is a member of several Masonic bodies and has directed the Consistory Church in Williamsport since 1944.

Having always had a great interest and talent in music, Mr. Stevens is very active along musical lines. He is a member of the Music Committee of the Central Pennsylvania Synod, directed the Zion Lutheran Choir for twenty years, and now is tenor soloist at the Sunbury Methodist Church.

Here on campus he is secretary of the Social Committee and affiliated with Bond and Key.

In spite of all the many organizations to which he is a member, Mr. Stevens manages to find time to travel (he has been in almost all of the 48 states), fish, indulge in his hobby—fly tying, and raise Weimaraner dogs.

Labor Day is the only national holiday recognized by Congressional action. Thirty-three states had prohibition before the 18th Amendment was adopted.

In going thru the Panama Canal one travels a little more than 60 miles.

"How-to-Study;" A Plan For Frosh At University of K. C.

A system of how-to-study known as the Survey-Q-3R was introduced to the University of Kansas City freshman class during last fall's Liberal Arts orientation program, according to a report by Louis E. Masterman, placement director.

"This plan of survey, question and then read-recite-review has been used at Ohio State University and was originated at Northwestern University," he said. "The first reading of material includes scanning of chapter introductions, summaries, and topic headings. Then the topic headings are turned into questions and the section re-read to find the answers."

"The three R's come in a third critical reading, a recitation of facts in the context, and a review of notes and later chapters."

Besides this particular system, Masterman gave tips such as reading under pressure to improve reading rate, developing interest in material to be learned, trying to predict quiz questions from a professor's classroom questions, and frequent brief reviews rather than cramming.

"It is better to study half an hour each day than two hours all at once," he said. "Use part quizzes for review and get a good night's rest before an examination. Don't study or review immediately prior to an exam, because it will just confuse facts."

Another hint he gave was what he termed a "trade secret" of all instructors. "It is impossible for professors to go on semester after semester, year after year, without using some of the same questions over and over. So, use old tests from years before and your own from earlier in the same semester."

Fog indicates approaching fair weather.

Buss is the newly elected president of Bond and Key and a member of the Inter-fraternity Senate.

Buss started his singing career when he was very young in Bellwood, Pennsylvania.

His greatest accomplishment was being an outstanding member of the state chorus. Last year Buss sang at Lock Haven and this year, Indiana.

Buss has a very strong personality and he has the ability to charm everyone he meets. He is now serving as president of his senior class.

He plans to continue in the field of music, and we are sure he will excel in anything that he undertakes. Susquehanna will long remember Buss and his golden voice.

During the first year of a child's life he grows more rapidly than at any other time.

Varsity and Jayvee Teams Split Honors With Lycoming Quintets

S. U.'s Tenth Loss Goes S. U. Jayvees Outpoint To Lycoming By 70-62 Lycoming For First Win

Foul-shooting seemed to be the deciding factor in Susquehanna's defeat at the hands of Lycoming by a score of 70-62 on the home boards February 11. Although the visitors tossed in three more buckets than their opponents, the Crusaders, while losing by only eight points, missed 13 charity tosses.

Charlie Zlock led the Susquehanna scoring with 23 points, while Ned Condon followed a close second with 16. Lycoming's big freshman forward, Fortner, led his team's scoring with 20 points. Vince Leta followed second with 16.

The Crusader's next game will be with Haverford College on the away court, February 20.

The box score follows:

Selinsgrove Hall First-Half Champs

Last week Selinsgrove Hall conquered the first half intramural basketball championship by defeating the Cottage by the score of 53 to 41. Tempin led the Selinsgrove Hall cagers with nineteen points. Mickatawage was high scorer for the Cottage with seventeen points.

On Wednesday evening the second half race was begun with the first half champions, Selinsgrove Hall, losing to a spirited G.A. team by a score of 37 to 29. Torok with nineteen points led the G.A. five to the upset victory. Phil Ma Delta, led by Beyer with nine points, defeated Bond and Key by a score of 33 to 31. Carr scored thirteen points for the losers. In a third game, the Day Students defeated Theta Chi.

On Friday evening in the only game, G.A. defeated the Cottage by a score of 45 to 35. Erdly and Torok led G.A. with twelve and ten points respectively. Gergen scored thirteen points for the Cottage quintet.

In this second half race G.A. leads with a record of two wins and no losses. The day Students and Phi Mu Delta have one win and no losses.

Ping Pong, Badminton Tournaments Begin

The schedule for single and double table tennis, under the direction of manager Maddy Lease, is now posted in the girls' locker room in the gymnasium. Those girls who signed up are requested to check this schedule and see that these games are played off as soon as possible.

The paper has been posted in Seibert Hall for those who wish to sign up for single and double badminton. The schedule will be posted in the gymnasium this week, and games will begin at once.

Crusaders Bulldoze Grads 87 to 56 for First Win of Year

Before a meager crowd at Alumni Gymnasium the Susquehanna Crusaders drubbed the Alumni 87 to 56. Two quick set shots by Ned Condon put the undergraduates in the lead and that they were never headed. Tomlinson's rebounding enabled Condon and Charlie Zlock to establish a substantial lead.

Then Coach Pfeiffer played his reserves throughout the remainder of the game. Head man for the reserves was Bob Wylie with 19 points which helped to overrun the game but tired Alumni. Former All-State basketballer Eve Zlock zoomed 31 markers through the hoop to provide the scoring punch for the Alumni. Jim Peter's fine floor-work provided another bright spot for the returning graduates.

The Crusaders have definitely shown improvement in the last few games and it looks as if a few victories are in the offing.

SPORTS CHATTER

By Richard Stout

After losing ten successive games, THE CRUSADERS finally broke the ice with a win over S. U.'s Alumni. With Stan Manning in the pivot slot for the first time this season, the Crusaders rallied for an early lead which they maintained throughout the encounter. Evan Zlock, S. U.'s All-State forward of yesterday, exhibited his basketball prowess as he flipped in 31 points for the Grads.

The Crusaders have five remaining games on their schedule for '52. In Keystone, National Aggies, Dickinson, Juniata, and Haverford, all of which have been easy bait for their opposition this year, the Crusaders should continue their winning ways with Manning and Young in the fold. Fine team play as was exhibited during portions of the S. U.-Lycoming tilt would make the Crusaders victory minded. However, reports are being circulated that the boys are point-conscious rather than intent on winning the games.

The Baby Crusaders' decisive romp of the Lycoming Jay Vees Monday night was heartening news for Coach Ed Pfeiffer who had yet to win a game at the S. U. helm until the youngsters did the trick.

The bowling alleys nearing completion on the Selinsgrove-Sunbury highway will provide an excellent place for S. U. keggers to form a bowling league.

Harry Roudolph, erstwhile official in the Eastern Professional Basketball League, handled the S. U.-Wilkes encounter in Wilkes-Barre several weeks ago.

S. A. I.

S. A. I. wound up the parties Thursday night by taking all the music students to the circus. The social rooms were decorated with red and white crepe paper forming a tent. Ring master of the Red Top was clown Lee. The side shows consisted of a hula dancer, identical twins (fat and thin ladies) and a dart game where the favors were given out. They were small toy animals. The entertainment which went on in the sawdust ring were: a dancing horse (Betty Vincent and Peg Webber), Siamese twins, dancing, (Jackie McKeever and Barbara Easton) tumbler (Peggy Heflinger), the lion (Janet Winger), quartet (Violet Dietz, Ann Gulise, Nancy Youhou, Jackie McKeever), and the S.A.I. chorus.

The food was the same as in any circus: hot dogs, pop corn, candy apples, ice cream, and lollipops.

After Kappa Delta's party Wednesday night, there remained until Saturday morning a quiet period between the social societies and the rushees.

SUNBURY DAILY ITEM

Customs of Nations Vary for Fastnacht

Shrove Tuesday, known in Scotland as Fastens-Een, in Germany as Fastnacht, in France as Mardi Gras, in English speaking countries as Shrove Tuesday or Shroveitide, is the Tuesday before Ash Wednesday, hence the last day previous to Lent. In Catholic Europe, Shrove Tuesday is the concluding and culminating day of the carnival festivities. In England it was chosen as a holiday for the apprentices and working classes generally. Yet the very title Shrove Tuesday indicates a penitential date when it was custom of the faithful to apply to the priest for confession before entering on the Holy Lenten season of fasting and prayer.

Shrove Tuesday is a movable celebration depending on the Sunday on which Easter falls. In the United States it is a legal holiday in Alabama and Florida and in the parishes of New Orleans, St. Bernard, Jefferson, St. Charles, and St. John's the Baptist in Louisiana.

The name Pancake Tuesday is an allusion to the custom of making pancakes on this day or Doughnut Tuesday to the making of doughnuts. No meat was to be eaten during Lent, so all the fats were used in making pancakes or doughnuts.

In England today still survives the pancake and the Pancake Bell on Shrove Tuesday. The Pancake Bell is sounded about nine in the morning on this day. When the people hear the bell, they all stop whatever they are doing and forget either manners or humanity. They have one of the gayest times of the year and more food than they can eat.

The children of many towns of England still have their rhymes which they sing on this day and receive their accustomed privileges.

There are many sports that take place in England on Shrove Tuesday. They have what is known as the "lemon fight." Each boy is provided at dinner with a lemon. After dinner two sides are chosen and these two sides fight each other with the lemons. Each side pelts the other with vigor and persistence.

Another sport is cock fighting. The boys bring them along to school. The teacher forgets about the books and paddle and joins in with the celebration. They also use hens as they do the cocks.

Football was one of the chief pastimes of the Shroveitide in Old England and Scotland. It still has many local survivals. Two parishes that still meet annually on Shrove Tuesday are St. Michael and St. Paul. They play the game in the "Pasture."

Panhellenic Council Sponsors Party For Sorority Pledges

Panhellenic Council is sponsoring a party this Saturday night for the pledges of the three sororities—Alpha Delta Pi, Kappa Delta and Sigma Alpha Iota. It will be held in the Alumni Gymnasium from 9:00 p. m. to 12:00.

This party provides an opportunity for the girls to ask the boys to an evening's entertainment. All girls living in the dormitories will be given 1:00 permissions.

At 10:00 p. m. the president of each sorority will present a paddle to each of the pledges attending the dance. After the presentation, intermission will be held in Seibert Social Rooms where refreshments will be served, and the sorority rooms will be open to all guests.

The committees for this party are composed of members of Alpha Delta Pi and Kappa Delta. The committee chairmen are: Maxine Vocum, decoration; Lois Gordon, program and chaplains; Mary Way, refreshments; and Miriam Wick, properties and demolishing.

It is hoped that each sorority girl and pledge will attend this party for an evening of fun and entertainment. We'll be seeing you there.

Miss Martha Fisher

A new lecturer on the campus, Miss Martha Fisher is teaching Advanced General and Clinical Psychology.

Miss Fisher has always lived in Pennsylvania and attended the Sunbury elementary and high schools before enrolling in Bloomsburg State Teachers College. In 1933, Miss Fisher received her B.S. in Music Education, and in 1937 her B.A. from Susquehanna. While here, she was a member of Sigma Alpha Iota, at Bucknell University, she received her M.A. in 1943. She has also attended New York University. At the present time, Miss Fisher is working to attain her Doctor's degree in Education from Penn State.

Miss Fisher is certified to teach a number of varied courses. She can instruct elementary grades, has an elementary principals certificate, a teacher of special education, and can teach English, Social Studies, Music and guidance in high schools. In 1945 she was eligible to be a school psychologist and is now regularly employed in the Sunbury school system.

Miss Fisher's diversity of interests is also evident in the many organizations she is active in. She is a member of N.E.A., P.S.E.A., P.T.A., the National Vocational Guidance Association, the National Deans of Women Association, the district Psychologists Association, the International Council for Exceptional Children, and is Past President of the State Council for Exceptional Children. Miss Fisher is also director of religious education in the Sunbury district, 140 churches being in the district. Miss Fisher is a member of the Pennsylvania Board of Probation and Parole, the Pennsylvania Citizens Welfare Association which is concerned with prisons, and Region Seven of the Pennsylvania Welfare Association.

At the present time, Miss Fisher is Director of Guidance and School Psychologist in the Sunbury schools.

Miss Fisher is also psychologist at the Muncy State Industrial Home, was psychologist at Danville State Hospital two summers during the war, was on the radio for three years a few times every week with a former voice teacher from S. U. They had a children's program. She has also instructed in a number of Methodist camps. In Sunbury, Miss Fisher has taught an eight-grade country school, grades four, five, and six in the elementary school, music in the Junior High School, and Special Education.

Roman Life Discussion Led by Irene Meerbach

The monthly meeting of the Clerical and Social Rooms with an average attendance present. The business meeting was conducted by Consul Henry Albright, who stressed the fact that dues are to be paid as soon as possible.

The cultural meeting was led by Irene Meerbach who spoke on the topic, "Social Life and Times of the Roman People." The refreshments were in charge of Marilyn Huyett. The meeting was concluded with an informal discussion led by Mr. Robert Mender, on the cultural topic.

Set Near Completion For Shakespeare Play

Work is progressing on the Susquehanna Players' production of "The Merchant of Venice" to be given in the Little Theatre in Bogar Hall beginning March 3 and continuing for two weeks.

The unit for this comedy has been designed by Mrs. G. Morris Smith, very capable wife of our president. Mrs. Smith designed this set as a project of the basic arts class under the direction of Bruce Mitchell, well known artist from Lewisburg.

Technical advisor for the set is Mr. Robert Mender who supervised the design of the set so that it would conform to 15th century Venetian architecture.

Edward Palkovich is in charge of set construction. The painting of the set is being done by Robert Bogdanoff and Joseph Fleming.

Tickets for this production may be secured from Bill Davenport or Mr. Axel Kleinsorg. Tickets should be gotten early to assure the getting of seats on the night desired.

The Friday and Saturday evening productions each week are for college students and for the general public.

SCA NEWS

This is the evening for fastnacht! It is a tradition at S. U. to celebrate a "fast night" on the eve of Ash Wednesday. Since there is no dancing on the campus throughout the Lenten season, this festivity takes the form of dancing which is followed by refreshments.

Fastnacht is one of the S.C.A.'s yearly projects and, therefore, it will again be sponsored by the organization this evening at 9:30 in the Seibert Hall social room. The refreshments will be served by the Fellowship Commission.

This gathering will take the place of the February general meeting of the S.C.A. it was announced by the S.C.A. cabinet.

Thursday, 12:45 p. m. is the time that has been set for the initial mid-week Lenten meditation period. The service will be in charge of the Seibert Hall girls and will be held in the chapel. Further information concerning these services can be found elsewhere in this issue of "The Susquehanna."

MUSIC NOTES

The Chapel Choir, under the direction of Mr. John P. Collins, will present portions of A. R. Gaul's oratorio, "The Holy City," on Sunday, March 2, in the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Milton, Pennsylvania. The program which is subject to revision due to the time element will be as follows:

- Part I—Contemplation
- No. 1—Introduction
- Organ Prelude
- Miss Voylet Dietz
- "No shadows yonder"
- Chorus with Tenor Solo
- "My soul is athirst for God"
- Tenor Soloist, Mr. Harold Carr
- "They that sow in tears"
- Chorus—Miss Margaretta Thomas
- Soprano Soloist
- "For thee, O dear, dear country"
- Chorus
- "Thine is the kingdom"
- Chorus

LENT EMPHASIZES HUMBLE ATTITUDE

What are you going to give up for the Lenten Season? Yes, you have heard that statement very often around this time of the year. But what is behind this question? What is Lent? Is it a period of self-sacrifice or a period of reformation set aside each year?

Lent is the Christian period of fasting and penitence preparatory to Easter. The observance of Lent is as old as the fourth century. In Eastern churches it is reckoned as the six weeks before Palm Sunday. In the Western churches the penitential season begins liturgically with Septuagesima, the ninth Sunday before Easter. Lent begins on Ash Wednesday, forty days before Easter. The last week of the season is called Holy Week.

Lent can be described as a season of the year in which we humble ourselves to our God more than at any other period or season of the year. It is not necessarily a fasting period for all. Religions differ as to their definitions and practices regarding the Lenten Season. But all religions throw their main emphasis upon the humility of the individual to his God.

What is humility? We are thinking during Lent about the duty of being humble. Humility is the state of being humble in spirit, being free from pride and arrogance. Christ made the quality of humility the crowning grace of the culture that He inaugurated.

The Lenten season will begin on our campus Thursday at noon, the twenty-eighth of February. Come and worship with us. Let us show our humility to Him, our God, in our own individual ways.

Services will be held each Tuesday at 12:50 o'clock on the following dates: February 28th—Seibert Hall in charge. March 6th—Pi Gamma Mu in charge. March 13th—Day Students in charge. March 20th—Bible Society in charge. March 27th—Alpha Psi Omega in charge.

Administration News

Assistant Professor R. W. Meader spoke Wednesday night at the Public Library in Sunbury. His talk was "Good Taste in Art" and he spoke to the "Friends of the Library." Mr. Meader used slides to demonstrate good and bad taste in art. He attracted the largest turnout of the season.

Dean Galt was home sick in bed. It is hoped that he will be back to work on Monday.

Dr. Zagars will move into the house vacated by Dr. Waterbury in Faculty Row sometime next week. Reverend and Mrs. Krapp are living in the house where Mrs. Yorty lived. She is in Florida and upon her return will reside on Pine Street.

Mr. Dan MacCusick has been elected to the post of advisor to the Men's Student Council.

The Social Calendar for March has been printed and at the bottom has been placed a preview on April's social functions. This has been done in order to send it to the prospective students so that they may know of the activities on campus. There are already over 500 prospective students for next year.

It is expected that Miss Ruth McCorkill will be back at work on Monday. She is recovering from a broken arm she acquired at Christmas time.

Theme of Campus Club Is Patriotic

A social gathering was held by the Campus Club Wednesday, February 23, in Seibert Parlor.

Chairman was Mrs. Robert Amy. Aiding her was a committee consisting of Mrs. Russell Galt, Miss Athalia Kline, Miss Janet Rohrbach, and Miss Mary Kathryn Potteiger.

The tea table was beautifully decorated with red, white, and blue. The theme was a patriotic one.

Many guests attended and enjoyed themselves at the gathering. It was the wish of all that Miss Ruth McCorkill, the president of the club who is ill at the present, will be able to attend next month's meeting.

Dismal Dilemma of a Dateless Demoiselle

Sometimes it's a pretty hard thing, this getting a date for a big week-end. I was thinking the other day of the various and sundry young men of my acquaintance, and really, I was a bit worried about the solution to my problem. I mean the problem of getting a date for me. Now these pined people don't have to worry. But me, I'm different. Believe me, I am.

As I said, I gave the situation much scientific analyzing. First, I thought of John. Now there is a man—tall, broad-shouldered, rugged. John is a man if I've ever seen one. Why, at school he's on the football team, the basketball team, the baseball team, plus innumerable others. I sighed with the aspect of it all. His tremendous frame accenting my dainty loveliness. Ah, there was the catch. Although so pleasant on the eye, he's too athletic. I remembered with a groan the last time I had enjoyed the honor of his presence. We took a thirty mile hike. And then there was the time we had played tennis for three hours straight without even time for a cigarette. I could just picture him this winter week-end. Now I am the hot-house rose type of female and do not particularly relish the idea of spending twenty-four hours on a pair of skis and perhaps injuring an important part of my anatomy. I shuddered and began to rack my brain anew for a more desirable escort.

Of course there was always Joe. I tried to cover the sigh that rose from my heart. There probably always would be Joe, that is. He isn't as attractive as John, but he really isn't too bad. That is if you don't mind the emaciated kind. What I mean is, what there is, is fine; there just isn't quite enough. Why, he still gets into the movies on a child's ticket! I used to go to dancing school with him, and Mama always said that he would get to be as big as I am some day. Unfortunately, that phenomenon never occurred. But still, he was a great athlete to fatigue me; and because he was so pet, he would save me money insofar as he would not eat as much as other boys. I wrote to Joe. I received a lovely reply. He was in the infirmary suffering from anemia and would be unable to make the great event.

Navy Representative On Campus Feb. 29 To Discuss O.C.S.

Lieutenant Commander David I. Jacobs, U. S. Navy, representing the Office of Naval Officer Procurement in Philadelphia, will be on the Susquehanna campus on February 29 to discuss the Navy's Officer Candidate School with members of the graduating class.

The Navy has recently removed all specific course requirements for enrollment in its OCS. Any college graduate, or any senior whose graduation is less than four months away, may now apply for this program regardless of his college major. A previous requirement of some mathematics training has recently been eliminated.

Commander Jacobs will be in Seminar Room 9, Lower Floor of Bogar Hall on Friday, February 29, from 10 to 12 a. m. and 1 to 4 p. m. He will have data sheets giving details of the Officer Candidate Program and will interview and answer the questions of interested seniors.

The Navy's Officer Candidate School is located at Newport, R. I. Classes convene every two months, and the majority of each class remains for four months training for duty afloat. A portion of each class, however, is assigned to special fields and commissioned after two months. This group completes its training at various Navy centers for specialized duty. These specialist commissions require specialized educational backgrounds. Major college fields which may qualify candidates for specialist commissions are engineering, business administration, chemistry, physics and mathematics.

HELP US

Satisfaction is the ultimate aim of every worthwhile project—satisfaction on the part of both maker and receiver.

The staff of "The Susquehanna" strives more earnestly, as days and weeks go by, to satisfy the student body as far as a "news" newspaper is concerned. However, it's a far greater and more difficult undertaking than many of you realize.

The news here on our campus hasn't been too tremendous. And you know, the staffs, both editorial and reporting, are not composed of miracle men. We can only report and record news—we're responsible for the write-ups and the printing. It's entirely up to the student body to make the news!

Criticism can be constructive and destructive. Naturally, no one likes destructive criticism, nor do they like constructive criticism. Everyone likes to think that he or she is just perfect. However, constructive criticism, if dealt with in the right way, should be welcomed by every individual. Constructive criticism is advantageous and beneficial and "The Susquehanna" staff is always ready to accept helpful suggestions.

Last week, the question of the week dealt with this very subject and a great many students volunteered comments. Now that you have made known your likes and dislikes, why not write a solution to the problem. Just write a letter to the Editor and put it in the Susquehanna assignment box next to the water fountain in G.A.

SPORTSMANSHIP?

Were you at Saturday night's game? The display of good sportsmanship on the part of Coach Pfeiffer's team was indeed commendable! The final five minutes of the game called for an exceptional amount of self-control—more than most players have the fortitude to exhibit.

A characteristic of another sport—namely, boxing—was sneaked into the contest, and no immediate expression of regret of apology was shown by the opponents. Susquehanna students are under the impression that basketball should be played for the entertainment of those participating and those observing, as well as for the glory of the school. A sport is supposed to be a "pleasant pastime," but this definition seems to jump the track once in a while.

In spite of the game being lost by two points, praises of certain individual Crusaders were heard far and loud over the campus afterwards. May the best of luck accompany the Crusaders in their remaining encounters! Their courage and "stick-to-it-iveness" has been admired this season. We hope that it will be carried out to the end and that the Pfeiffer-coached team will not be confronted by any similar experience.

Forty-four students will attend the Third Annual Pennsylvania Collegiate Choral Festival held at Indiana State Teachers' College, Indiana, Pennsylvania, on March 15-17. The students who have been selected are: sopranos, Joan Bates, Jayne Daily, Margaret Webber, Betty Weisenfuh; altos, Ruth Freed, Janet Wingert, Nancy Younion; tenors, William Carr, George Perrey; basses, William Bastian, Richard Boyd, Philip Crawford, John Metz, and Jack Schraeder.

The Fifth Annual Inter-Collegiate Band Festival will be held on April 17-19 at Pennsylvania State College, State College, Pennsylvania, under the direction of Dr. William Revelli, guest conductor. The students who will attend this festival are as follows: clarinet, Bowie Darden, Ann Guise, Margaret Zinda; bass horn, William Beckwith; French horn, Francis Glosier; and flute, Lucian Smith.

ADMINISTRATION—From Page 1

John Mantle Clapp is writing a complete life story of Amos Alonzo Stagg, Sr. His book is entitled "Coach Stagg and Athletics Today." There will be fifteen chapters in the book and one of these is entirely devoted to Susquehanna.

The students who eat in Horton Dining Hall probably noticed that two new Westinghouse water coolers were placed in the dining room, and the old one was taken out of the kitchen.

The telephone booth will be opened as soon as the paint dries. This phone is a pay station and is to be used for all the long distance calls which you place from campus. The phones will be left in the dorms only as long as the privilege is not abused. So for your own comfort, use the pay phone for out of town calls.

You probably noticed the additional convenience that was placed in the book room for your benefit. The utensils and other aids for the student have been placed in racks on the counter. They also plan to add panels to the wall for display purposes. There will be a special run each week. This week the special is Doekin Tissues at 15 cents a box.

Written history is at least 6,000 years old. Luke, author of a book in the New Testament, was a physician.

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK

Barbara Jane Easton, better known as "B-J" around campus, is the owner of that "voice" you hear talked about so much. B-J made her debut as a singer at the age of three on the local radio station in Johnstown, singing, "Sittin' On A Log A-Pettin' A Dog." Graduating from Fernside High School, Johnstown, Pennsylvania in 1938, Barbara was active in intramurals, dramatics, glee club, and anything having to do with music. While in high school she won superior ratings in voice three years in a row at the National Federation of Music Contests. She also was one of a trio who were in the Forensic finals.

Coming to Susquehanna in 1949, Barbara is still going strong with her extra activities. In her sophomore year she had the lead in "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," and this year had a part in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street." She has been a member of Sigma Alpha Iota since her sophomore year and is chaplain this year. Participating in intramurals all four years, she has been for four years a member of W.A.A. Following up with her singing, Barbara sang with the Chapel Choir three years and with the Susquehanna Singers two years. She is a member of the Music Educators National Conference, Pennsylvania Music Educators Association, and Women's Student Council. Barbara is also director of the Zion Lutheran Choir in Sunbury.

We are all proud of Barbara Jane for making "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" this year. She is planning to continue with her musical career. We wish her all the success possible.

Miss Fisher has always attempted to help others through child development, work with parents in the home, the people in schools, colleges, and prisons. She is mainly concerned with the development of boys and girls so they will become better citizens. She is very interested in developing better mental health for everyone. Her office in the Sunbury High School is called the Guidance Clinic. Parents go there with children who need aid. She helps the emotionally disturbed child, those with serious behavior problems, and children with problems. At times it is necessary to go to the homes of the parents. Miss Fisher is always in contact with local agencies and individuals who can also help those in need. She wrote a directory of community resources which is concerned with health, welfare, industry, guidance and recreation facilities in and around Sunbury.

Miss Fisher said, "I have always enjoyed my work so much, the work seemed like play."

Wayne Lupolt Presents Greek Life Discussion At Phi Kappa Meeting

On Thursday evening at 7:00 p. m., Phi Kappa held its monthly meeting in Steele Science Building. Charles Bonboy, president, presided at the business meeting at which time a committee was appointed to plan for the annual picnic in May.

"Greek Society and Customs" was the theme of the address by Wayne Lupolt. Following the address Charles Snyder showed slides on religious subjects and also on the use of glass. The evening was topped off with root beer and cake.

At the March meeting Charles Bonboy will speak and Charles Snyder will show slides on Greek life.

RELIGION-IN-LIFE CONFERENCE TO DISCUSS RELIGION

Five of the major world religions will be discussed during the Religion-in-Life conference at Susquehanna, March 9-11. This conference will be in the form of five meetings, and is designed to primarily enrich the religious life of the students, giving them a better knowledge of the religions of the world.

Talks on Judaism, Buddhism, Confucianism, Mohammedanism, and Christianity will be presented by men who have actually been in contact with these religions. All talks will be conducted in the College Chapel, with a discussion period following each meeting.

Once again I began to ponder. An idea assailed my brain, and I laughed aloud. There was Bill. Besides being a male he's normal. Off hand, I could think of nothing too wrong with him. Of course, he doesn't have a car. But that can be overlooked in a situation such as this. He goes around quoting from scientific journals, but one could always smile and look interested if one tried. And as I said before, he's a boy. I wrote Bill the next evening. I awaited his reply anxiously. It came. He thanked me profusely, but he explained, he already had a date—with the girl across the hall. Ah well, things are tough all over, if you know what I mean.

There was beginning to arise in my mind an element of desperation. After all, Friday was less than a week away. Then I remembered. Bona. Why I had not thought of him before. I did not know. I could not think of any characteristics that he possessed that were too awful. Of course, if I did go with him, we would have to stick with the crowd. He's not the type with whom you relish being alone. Not that he's actually dangerous, but there is no use in taking any chances, if you understand my meaning. I mean he is really, at heart, a very nice boy. I suppose. It's just that now and then, well, you know. And anyhow, I did ask me out two weeks ago, and that does sort of legalize my invitation. As a matter of fact I think that he was quite infatuated with me. So I wrote to Roger. Unfortunately, his reply informed me of a recent happening that made it impossible for him to attend our celebration with me. He gave his pin to a freshman last week-end. It was a blind date.

I was sunk in dejection. I mean that it is rather depressing when a girl doesn't even know where her next date is coming from. Or for that matter, whether he's going to arrive at all. But I was determined. I would not give up.

Well, the week-end was quite enjoyable. It was a little different from what I had originally planned, but what can you expect when you get a date the day before. I mean it wasn't that I didn't have a good time or anything. He was really the most attractive man that I've had a date with in ages. Seriously. He told me that he had simply a wonderful time and thanked me twice. He seemed amazingly appreciative. As a matter of fact, he's even coming up next week-end. For my roommate, that is.

FRATERNITY ROW

Bond and Key

After the game Saturday night there was an open house. About fifty people enjoyed dancing, ping pong, and card playing.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Amy and Mr. John Soule were our chaperons. We were happy to see Charles "Mud" Grund last week when he stopped at the house. "Mud" is in Elmira, New York, selling investment securities for Rockwell-Gould, Inc. Brother Jim Rumbaugh was here over this past week-end also.

"The Bond" has been distributed to the actives and alumni. Each member receives a copy of the fraternity magazine which is published annually.

Bond and Key had vespers Sunday with Lewis Paulhamus the speaker. Bob MacNamara was the liturgist and Les Helman played the organ.

Phi Mu Delta

Phi Mu Delta held an open house Saturday night after the Susquehanna-Dickinson basketball game. Mr. and Mrs. Starg, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lotz, and Dr. George Robison were chaperons.

Joe Fleming has been at home for the past week recovering from virus pneumonia.

The Phi Mu Delta Octet sang at the Presbyterian Church in Shanksville, Pa., on February 24. The Octet, composed of Dick Boyd, Charlie Coates, Jim Withner, George Perry, Harmon Andrews, Clair Mitch, Jim Chadwick and Jack Schrader is directed by Jim Crawford and accompanied by Bill Ziegenfuss. Gordon Joyce, speaker, had as his topic, "Religion and the World." Dick Boyd and Jack Schrader were vocal soloists and Bill Ziegenfuss played an organ solo in this program of religious music.

Brother Jim Reilly visited the house this past week. Brother Reilly is employed by the Mennen Company.

When Bill Nyer and Al Vollmers went to Philadelphia to take the Navy O.C.S. test, they met Lieutenant Jay M. Lord, Phi Mu Delta, University of Maine, class of '43.

Theta Chi News

Open house was held at the chapter house Saturday night after the basketball game. Dancing was provided through the use of our new Victor '45 record player. Ham and cheese sandwiches, potato chips, pickles, and root beer were served as refreshments. The chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. John Leach, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hatz, and Dr. Thomas Armstrong.

The members of Beta Omega chapter extend their heartiest congratulations to Miss Audrey MacNeil and Mr. Charles Shaffer, who were married Saturday in Philadelphia. Both parties are graduates of Susquehanna and Mr. Shaffer is an alumnus of Theta Chi. Several brothers of the chapter went to Philadelphia over the week-end to attend the wedding.

The brothers of the chapter join in welcoming Bill Siringto to the chapter. Bill was initiated as an active member last Tuesday night.

What happened to our great violin virtuoso, Chuck Mason, who was so fascinated with pledge Purta's violin at the opening of the semester. Those who heard the weird sounds at 12:00 one night knew without investigating that Brother Mason was at it again!

We understand, from fairly reliable sources, that Fred Wierckler, the house manager, is taking an emergency course in plumbing. What's the matter; are things slowing up, Freddy?

Belated congratulations to Jack Geringer and the former Gracie Magaro, who were married several weeks ago.

The brothers wish the best of everything to Mr. William Kelley and the former Miss Marie Teresa Novasatka, who were married on Monday morning. Mr. Kelley is an active of this chapter.

COMING SOON: Open house after the play on March 8th. Open house after the talent show on March 22nd. DUTCH PARTY, March 29th.

Sorority News

Alpha Delta Pi

Gemma Omicron pledged its sixteen new girls on Tuesday at 5:10 p. m. Congratulations to these future members of Alpha Delta Pi.

Each pledge was given a big sister to guide her first encounters in the life of the sorority. At the ceremony, each girl received a pledge pin and a corsage of white carnations, and each pledge has been given her big sister's ADPI jacket to wear.

During the last meeting, Mary Ann Dixon announced the committee chairman for the coming year. They are Shirley Thompson, scholarship; Joyce Gilbert, rush chairman; Helen Cressman, magazine subscription chairman; and Charlotte Neuman, social chairman.

Thanks are extended to all who helped or in any way aided in the success of our pledge party.

Kappa Delta

Kappa Delta Sorority held its first degree pledging service February 20, at seven o'clock. The following girls were pledged: Mary Cowling, Dolly Taddeo, Rita Greco, Eleanor Steffey, Loretta Wise, Barbara Grove, Nancy Richards, Lana Ann Pegley, Joanne Quick, Eleanor Benner.

Big sisters were chosen for each new girl to act as guide, counselor and friend in the organizational work. They were given individual pledge pins to wear. Each pledge was given her big sister's white KD blazer to wear.

Beta Upsilon wishes to thank everyone who helped with the party and the decorations for the pledge party.

Mrs. Charles Zimmerman, Middleburg, Miss Francis Bruinkhorst, and Mrs. Ann Ullsh were appointed as alumnae advisors for the coming year.

Congratulations to our sister Nancy Bolgo for her engagement to Frank Vargo, Jr.

Four of our members have begun their practice teaching. Miriam Volzer, Pat Rumbaugh, and Maxine Chambers are teaching at Sunbury, while Betty Albert is at Middleburg.

S.A.I.

At the regular Wednesday night meeting, S.A.I. made further plans for the concert by Wilbur Isaacs which will be presented in Seibert Chapel on Thursday, March 20, at 8:15 p. m. Mr. Isaacs, a baritone, works primarily in New York City, but he also is a part-time vocal instructor at Wilkes College. Mr. Isaacs has given concerts throughout the United States and last season gave a very successful one in New York. He has appeared as guest soloist with many choral societies and symphony orchestras. Mr. Isaacs also does radio and television work and has sung at the White House for President and Mrs. Truman. At Susquehanna his concert will consist of well-known foreign language songs as well as many songs in English.

CAMPUS CAPERS

Come on, let's take a walk around the campus. Maybe we'll see some interesting things. Well, let's go. Doesn't the campus look beautiful? See all the kids around the pond out front of Steele. They're watching Ken Henstead. Apparently Kenny decided that cold water is too much for the little fishes because he's pouring hot water into the pond. Ken was a tenderfoot scout once. That's his good deed for the day. Wow! Smell that smell coming from chemistry lab! That's Tim Bobb and Shirley Thompson—they're trying to invent a potion that will make "profs" forget to give scheduled tests. Good luck to you, too!

While we're still in Steele let's look in zoo lab. Oh, there's Lu Kepner. She just came up to the lab to make sure her little frog was tucked in safe and sound for the night. Isn't he the cutest thing, Lu?

Well, we're off to Bogar. Hay—what's going on in the girls' athletic field? Annie Bell is running around the track like an old steamer. Ruth Osborn is her timer, too. "Oss" what's up? Gee whizz—you don't say. That's great! She's training for the Olympics.

Here we are in Bogar. Wait a minute! Hold it! Guess you had better not look. You're too young. That Portia Laid is doing one of the love scenes with that lover of hers. That's some scene! They're pretty good! Wow! I'll take ten tickets for the play.

What's going on in that room? "Machen sie die . . . Sounds like German doesn't it? The German II class is in session and Don Sheldon's reciting. Wonder why he's so red in the face. Is German hard, Don? My word, why did he call me a "Dummkopf?" Oh Well, guess I'll never know.

Go you hear that noise in the typing room? Oh, it's Nancy Krieg. She seems to be pretty busy. Look at that pile of papers by her chair. Now she's talking to her typewriter. Have fun, Nancy.

We find ourselves now down Haslinger way, up on the second floor. It's so quiet. Everyone looks rather sad. "Tootsie" is sick. Oh, we're sorry. Hope she'll be feeling better soon.

Listen to that noise in the "Cen." Ted Yoder and Barbara Harper are singing a duet. How do you like that?

There's Bill Kloap. Say Bill, we made a terrible mistake last week. We hope you'll accept our sincere apology too. Bill was one of the actors in the "Hasty Heart" presented in Sunbury. We neglected to mention his name last week.

Let's take a peep in the snack bar and lounge. The telephone booth looks sharp, and the book store is great. Say Pat, what's your hurry? You almost knocked me down. Oh, you are looking for "that cute kid in the mirror." I sure hope you find her.

Golly, I must go and study history. Do you want to walk up to Seibert Hall with me? What's that coming down the walk? It's Greta Thomas dressed in a beret, smock, and carrying an easel. She really is taking her art appreciation class seriously. Have fun, Rembrandt.

History is calling me. Must say good-bye for now. Let's take another walk sometime soon. O. K.

S. U. Tops Keystone In Seesaw Scramble

Roaring from behind, the Susquehanna Crusaders swept to their second consecutive victory of the season Monday night in the Alumni gym. After coming from behind in the final two minutes of play, the screaming crowd went wild as Ned "Redman" Condon sealed the game for Susquehanna with two long arching set shots.

Finally, Charlie Zlock and Ned Condon were "hot" on the same night as Zlock was high man with 26 and Condon was close behind with 21. Their combined efforts offset the phenomenal shooting of Decker who led the visitors with 39.

The quintet from Scranton started the game with a remarkable exhibition of shooting. Two jump shots by Decker and a set shot by Reid put the Keystone in the lead by six points before Susquehanna could find the range. Susquehanna matched their opponents point for point as the half-time score was 39 to 33 in favor of Keystone.

Coach Ed Pfeiffer's inspiring words during half-time intermission brought the Crusaders out for the second half full of fight. In the third quarter, the game "see-sawed" back and forth with neither team leading by more than three points. Then came the final hair-raising fourth quarter. Decker's tap-in put the visitors ahead by a 60 to 57 count. Zlock and Wylie gathered 12 markers against Keystone's 8 to put Susquehanna in the lead 68-58. With effective close guarding and possession ball handling as their strategy, Susquehanna put the game on ice.

Charlie Zlock's fine play reminded many of the older fans of his famous brother, Eve. Also noteworthy was the fine floor work of Stu Tomlinson and Rich Young.

The box score follows:

| Susquehanna | Field | Foul | Total |
|--------------|-------|------|-------|
| Zlock, f | 11 | 4 | 26 |
| Condon, f | 8 | 5 | 21 |
| McNamara, c | 2 | 0 | 4 |

| Keystone | Field | Foul | Total |
| Keltz, f | 5 | 1 | 11 |
| James, f | 4 | 0 | 8 |
| Rawlings, f | 1 | 1 | 3 |
| Decker, c | 15 | 9 | 39 |
| Imdorf, g | 1 | 0 | 2 |
| Notari, g | 2 | 2 | 6 |
| Susquehanna | 17 | 12 | 29-57 |
| Keystone | 19 | 21 | 33-60 |

The biggest celebration in the United States is the Mardi Gras at New Orleans. It is the last thing on the festival carnival there.

Each year they have mammoth parades in New Orleans, Mobile, Alabama; Shreveport, Louisiana; and Pensacola, Florida. The idea of the parade with floats originated in Mobile, Alabama. The first pageant of decorated floats in New Orleans was given in 1857 by the Krewe of Comus.

The Mardi Gras was presented in New Orleans by a company of young men of French descent who had been sent to Paris to be educated. They returned to the United States in 1827. On the day before Ash Wednesday they organized a procession of Street Maskers. Today that parade is much larger and more beautiful than ever.

Still today in the United States, as in Europe, there is an observance of Shrove Tuesday in some manner.

Excluding the Presidents who were assassinated, three U. S. Presidents have died in office.

Soldiers Field in Chicago has the largest seating capacity of any stadium in America.

HAVERFORD QUINTET VICTORIOUS; S. U. CAGEMEN EDGED BY DICKINSON

Fords Beat Crusaders In Man-to-Man Defense

First Half, Hold Lead Helps Beat Crusaders

Unable to overcome the wide margin piled up by Haverford in the first half, Susquehanna went down to defeat by a score of 86 to 52. In the second half Susquehanna matched Haverford's scoring. Haverford hit on 22 out of 44 shots for a fifty per cent average which proved to be too much for the Crusaders. Ned Condon, Charlie Zlock and Bob McNamara were high for the losers with 13, 11, and 11 respectively. The box score follows:

| Susquehanna | Field | Foul | Total |
|-------------|-------|------|-------|
| Zlock, f | 2 | 7 | 11 |
| Foor | 1 | 0 | 2 |

| Keltz | 3 | 0 | 6 |
| Susquehanna | 12 | 6 | 17-52 |
| Haverford | 27 | 9 | 17-86 |

Unable to overcome a pressing man-for-man defense the Susquehanna Crusaders were edged out by Dickinson 63 to 61. With fine floorwork by Tomlinson, Condon and Zlock gathered 16 and 15 points respectively. High man for the victors was Zilling with 24.

Throughout the first quarter Dickinson used a shifting zone. This proved inadequate as the Pfeiffer-coached quintet hit for set shots which put Susquehanna in the lead 16 to 8. Then Dickinson shifted to a man-for-man defense with an all-court press. Taking advantage of bad passing and over dribbling Dickinson scored 26 points, mostly on fast breaks, to lead at half-time 34 to 26.

In the second half the Crusaders outscored Dickinson 35 to 29 but were unable to overcome the first half lead, so that Dickinson gained their first win of the season.

The box score follows:

| Susquehanna | Field | Foul | Total |
|--------------|-------|------|-------|

G.A. Leads League In B-Ball Schedule

Men's intramural basketball was almost at a standstill last week because of a varsity basketball game on Monday evening.

On Wednesday evening Phi Mu Delta, led by Jones and Chadwick with eleven and ten points respectively, defeated Theta Chi by a score of 45 to 26. Lamb led Theta Chi with thirteen points. In the second game G.A. triumphed over the Day Students by a score of 51 to 28. Erdly, with seventeen points, led G.A. Tyler scored eleven points to lead for the Day Students. In the last game of the evening, the Cottage defeated Bond and Key by a score of 45 to 35. Shannon of Bond and Key led the scoring with fourteen counters. Stilling, Washbourne, and Mickatavage, each with ten points, led an evenly balanced Cottage scoring attack.

On Friday evening in the only game Selingsgrove Hall defeated Theta Chi by a score of 44 to 32. Beckley with fifteen points led the Selingsgrove quintet to the victory. Al Jones led Theta Chi scoring with fourteen points. At the present time G.A. is leading the second half race. The standings are as follows:

| Team | Won | Lost |
|-------------------|-----|------|
| G.A. | 3 | 0 |
| Phi Mu Delta | 2 | 0 |
| Selingsgrove Hall | 1 | 1 |
| Cottage | 1 | 1 |

VESPERS

An audience numbering approximately fifty persons listened very attentively to Lewis Paulhams' address to students and faculty on the topic, "Does My Life Please God?" at Sunday college vespers. The service was sponsored by the Bond and Key fraternity.

The speaker, having chosen as his text St. John 8:29, presented a well received address around the following points. In order for our lives to be pleasing to God they must be: (1) pure and holy, (2) unselfish, and (3) full of brotherly love.

"Jesus was the first Christian and to live our lives as Christians we must imitate his way of life," he said as he continued. "Happy are those who are in Jesus Christ. Sad are those who are not" was a statement that helped to make one of his closing remarks more meaningful. It was a challenge to his listeners when he stated "There are many who are in Christ Jesus. Why not join the crowd?"

Others on the program were Lester Heilman, who was organist, and Robert MacNamara, fraternity chaplain, who conducted the service.

Vespers on March 2 will be under the auspices of Alpha Delta Pi sorority.

Leap Year Tactics--- Males Beware

Ha, girls, I hate to be trite, but do you know what year this is? Yes, it's the year of the highest taxes in the country's history, and it's the year of the presidential election, and to a majority of the people this may be all it will mean. But there is a desperate minority—among which I am forced to number myself—which finds one thought continually lurking in the deep abyss of its collective mind—LEAP YEAR.

After a certain point in the life of the average girl, she stops sharpening her knives, dragging out her rusty brass knuckles, and oiling her bear trap in anticipation of the event. Her approach becomes more subtle. She may linger for five or more cups of coffee at the "Snack-bar," she may frequent the college library (for study of course), or she may chuck her old perfumes in favor of CHANEL No. 5 or a similar scent particularly inviting to the male animal.

There are 3 types of girls who observe the presence of this unusual period known as LEAP YEAR. They are: 1. The "Irene Interested" type; 2. The "Filipabeth Eager" type; 3. And the really "Dora Desperate" type. Most all of the types are made up of unmarried, unattached girls, but there are exceptions. (I refuse to give myself away by including myself in a category.) The first type watches with mild enthusiasm as groups of 2 and 3 knock themselves out, since the girls in this group are so sure of themselves that they have to do little more than put on one additional stroke of mascara to have a dozen more men falling at their feet. The disgusting thing is that anyone else they add to their lists de-

Improvements for S. U. Campus Suggested By Students to the Inquiring Reporter

Nearly every day, comments about S. U. can be heard in conversations by students. This week The Susquehanna thought some of these suggestions should be heard so they inquired. Here are the results.

Ruth Freed: "I think the campus is pretty the way it is, but I wish we did have a swimming pool."

"Gunner" Haug: "Open the lounge after 10:00 p. m."

Carol Ahr: "Have trash cans at various points around the campus so that the grounds won't be littered."

Roger Blegen: "Make the vacant room in the lounge into a prayer room or chapel."

Max Vocum: "A false ceiling for the gym."

Cerelyn Lucas: "All the buildings need to have their woodwork redone. This is especially applicable to the white pillars in the front of Seibert Hall."

Dave Voik: "I would like to see S. U. have a chapel which could be used for church purposes only. Since most Lutheran Church Colleges have chapels, I don't know why we shouldn't."

Betty Weisenfluh: "A new conservatory."

Eleanor Steffy: "Improve the landscaping around the tennis courts. As it is now, when you are playing tennis, on the one side is a beautiful view and when you switch courts, you think that you are in a railroad yard."

Bob Deiber: "I think the campus as it is now is very nice. There does not seem to be room for much improvement unless it may be in the lounge where the administration refuses to permit the student body to add certain things. Otherwise the campus as such is O. K."

Maddy Lease: "A hot water heater for the chemistry department."

Mary Klingelhoeffer: "It would be a good idea to give the brick buildings a sanding treatment. Right now Bogar Hall makes the others look rather grimy."

Bill Vanderhoof: "Although Susquehanna in general doesn't absolutely need improvements, I think that some of the things we have now should be repaired, especially the rims and equipment in the gym which are rapidly being worn out."

Marilyn Huyett: "Grass should be planted in some of the bare spots

Jayne Daily: "I'm sure I'm not alone when I say I would like to see a little more school spirit. Perhaps if we look at the advantages S. U. does offer we would not be so quick to seek out its faults. We're all pretty lucky just to be here, so let's give that cheer for S. U."

Ed Oestreich: "Concerning the external appearances of the campus, I think that new side walks, replacing the old cracked ones, would create a neater and more pleasant campus. Because of the severe snow in the past few years which have destroyed some of the trees and shrubs on our campus I think it would be a good idea to relandscape the grounds. As for the new signs recently set up—the idea was good but why were they designed as they were? They look out of place. I think more conservative ones would look better."

Administration News

Last week, Miss Erma Sambrook and Mr. Dan McCuish attended a career day conference at Bloomsburg High School. They interviewed twenty-five students who were interested in coming to Susquehanna.

Dr. Linebaugh and Mr. Dan McCuish attended a career day conference at Highspire High School. Herb Bollinger, '50, is the director of music and made it possible for them to attend. Dr. Linebaugh spoke to all the students interested in music as a career. This was not primarily a visit to push S. U. but to give those interested in music a general understanding of the field.

Fifty thousand picture pamphlets have been distributed to all the Lutheran churches in the Central Pennsylvania Synod carrying a story on the Susquehanna Development Program which was helped considerably by the Lutheran CHRY drive.

Well over 1,000 high school students have been reservations to come to S. U. to attend the play, "The Merchant of Venice." These are all considered potential students. We are going to distribute a program, the like of which seldom sees the light of day on S. U.'s campus. It will be a very professional job copied from "The Playbill" which is the official program of many New York productions. This program will be eight pages long, with pictures of the cast, a story of the play, a story of S. U., and a column called "Who's Who in the Cast." This program will also act as a souvenir of Susquehanna.

"GARDEN IN RAIN" THEME OF PARTY

The annual Pledge Party was held on Saturday night and attended by the active members of Alpha Delta Pi, Kappa Delta, and Sigma Alpha Iota and their new pledges. The theme was "A Garden in the Rain," which provided a lovely setting for the affair. Along the walls were garden lattices entwined with flowers, and around the edges of the floor were gardens filled with multi-colored flowers. Overhead were hanging umbrellas trimmed with balloons, used to represent huge raindrops. The couples danced to the music of Mike Lamade and his orchestra. At ten o'clock the active members of the sororities formed a wide aisle through which the pledges and their dates passed in review. Each pledge received her sorority flower and wooden paddle from the president of the sorority.

Mary Ann Dixon presented the paddles and roses for Alpha Delta Pi, Kappa Delta, and Sigma Alpha Iota. The chaplains were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Amy, Miss Frances Brunkhorst, Mr. and Mrs. Howard DeMott, Mr. Richard Grove, Dr. and Mrs. John Houtz, Miss Athalia Kline, Mr. John Soule, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Staggs, Jr.

W.A.A. Takes Members; Numerals and Letters Awarded to Girls

The W.A.A. added thirteen new members to its association at the meeting on March 3. The meeting was held in Seibert's Social Room.

The new members are: Mary Ann Binzamar, Annabel Broeske, Barbara Frank, Margaret Gordon, Marilyn Gunnet, Barbara Harper, Helen Hassinger, Gladys Moore, Ruth Scott, Jane Silvey, Doris Sites, Mary Triolo, Sandra Yoas. On the completion of gaining 250 points, the following girls were awarded class numerals: Lillian Whittington, Joan Diggan, Marilyn Fejteroff, Peggy Henderson, Lucille Kepner, Janet Laue, Ruth Osborn, Delcey Sharretts, Eleanor Steffy.

School letters were given to the following girls who have obtained 450 points: Marvel Cowling, Joanne Heilry, Irene Moerbach, Charlotte Neuman.

The president, Maxine Chambers, asked for volunteers for committees for the W.A.A. dance which will be held April 19.

Miss Chambers thanked the girls who participated in Lycorning's play-day on March 1. Susquehanna was represented at the play-day in the games of basketball and badminton.

It was announced that the next meeting will be on March 24 instead of April 7, because of the Easter vacation.

BACKSTAGE MEMBERS RESPONSIBLE FOR SMOOTH-RUNNING PERFORMANCE

Crusaders Win Two;

Foul Line Weak Spot

Susquehanna University's maroon clad Crusaders wound up their season Thursday night by suffering a 72-56 shellacking at the hands of Juniata's Indians. The Crusaders, who played 16 games during the '51-52 campaign, were able to emerge victorious in but two of their cage encounters with the Alumni and Keystone being the victims.

The biggest weak spot in the Crusaders' attack was their inaccuracy at the charity line where they made good on only 184 tosses in 318 attempts. Charlie Zlock, the team's leading point-getter with a total of 241, was also the master in the free throw department with 57 conversions in 78 attempts. Zlock's 15 point per game performance was followed by Condon's 13.13 average which he compiled on 88 field goals and 34 foul conversions in 69 attempts for a seasons total of 210.

As a unit the Crusaders were held to 864 points during the course of the campaign for a 54 point per game average while their opponents chalked up 1100 points for an average of 68 points per game.

This marks the third successive year the S. U. cagers have failed to place more than three markers in the starved See CRUSADERS WIN—Page 2

Know Your Professor

Originally from Emmaus, Pennsylvania, Dr. Russell Wieder Gilbert came to S. U. in 1930 as a professor of German. Dr. Gilbert was graduated from high school with a class of '23 on May 23, 1923. Receiving his A.B. from Muhlenberg College and his M.A. and Ph.D. from the University of Pennsylvania, Dr. Gilbert wrote his dissertation on the Preparation of a Critical Edition and Interpretation of a Medieval German Story.

Dr. Gilbert enjoys public speaking, and he had the pleasure of coaching debating teams for fifteen years at S. U. He has a craving for sports, especially baseball, and is interested in the Pennsylvania Germans.

Dr. Gilbert has written two books and many articles some of which are: a sixty-five page pamphlet entitled, "A Picture of the Pennsylvania Germans" published by the Pennsylvania Historical Association; "Pennsylvania German Wills" which is the yearbook of the Pennsylvania German Folklore Society, published last fall; and various articles contributed to the Susquehanna University Studies and other research journals. In 1946, along with Dr. Wilson, he edited Frederic Brush's "Walk the Long Years" which the first book of the Susquehanna University Press. Mrs. Gilbert was graduated from Moravian College for Women in Bethlehem, Pennsylvania.

LIBRARY NEWS

During the Lenten season there will be a collection of religious books on a special shelf in the library. The selection is varied, and should offer something worthwhile to everyone. In the group are several books of prayers which could be used for chapel services or for your personal use.

Several of the books give facts about different religions. These would be very helpful in connection with the Religion-In-Life Conference which is to be held here at Susquehanna. Come in and look around. You might find something which appeals to you.

Attention all bibliophiles! A very rare disease has been discovered in the S. U. library. The technical name is anacastic excurionistis, and the name is self explanatory. Any book on any reserve shelf is subject to this dread disease. The book will disappear from the shelf for a period of time and will eventually be found in the section containing the literature of Lowest Slobovia. If you find any wandering books, please report them to the librarian so that the epidemic can be checked.

Much underpraised and unconsidered are the people behind the scenes—the people without whom the actors and actresses could not perform so excellently and so effectively.

Can't you see 10.0 students going into Bogar on Tuesday evening of the first week and to one showing up for the other performances because there was no Bill Davenport or Jane Cline to take charge of the advance sale of tickets?

Can't you see the curtain rising while the stage crew is busy changing furniture because Bill Scott, our capable stage manager, is out for the evening?

Without Harmon Andrews to set the lights, the only visible illumination in this play would be the glint in Shylock's eyes as he counts his coins.

Peggy Aston and Josh Howling are in charge of props. It is their job—and a most important one—to see that all articles necessary for the production are where they should be at the right time. Can you imagine how ineffective it would be if there was no one in charge of props and the Prince of Morocco sought to choose the casket which would win Portia's hand in marriage when no caskets were on the stage?

Without Chris Harman and Wilda Odenthal to supervise the costumes, Antonio might appear as a zoot suitor from Harlem instead of a merchant in the costume of the 15th century.

What a tragedy it would be if our two make-up artists, Lynne Lightfoot and Peggy Aston, took a night off from their work. I can just see Tom Marts bending over Charlotte Neuman in a tender love scene with soft lights and soft music and then saying, "Good See BACKSTAGE—Page 4

RELIGION-IN-LIFE BEGINS MARCH 9

Speakers for the Religion-In-Life conference at Susquehanna beginning March 9 through 11 have been secured by the committee, which has been working on this project since February 16. Conforming to the theme, "Does the Difference Divide?" talks on Judaism, Buddhism, Confucianism, Mohammedanism and Christianity will be featured during the five-meeting conference.

Rabbi Isaac Vander Walde from Sunbury will speak on Judaism Sunday, March 9, at 2 p. m. On Sunday evening at 7 p. m., Dean Russell Galt will present Mohammedanism. Dr. Charles W. Hepner, professor of Bible and Religion at Muhlenberg College, will speak on Buddhism during extended Chapel service Monday morning, and on Confucianism Monday evening at 9 p. m. Summing up the conference and speaking on Christianity on Tuesday morning during extended Chapel service will be Dr. F. Epling Reimartz, secretary of the United Lutheran Church of America.

Discussion periods will follow each meeting, and refreshments will be served after the evening meetings.

VESPERS

One of the largest Sunday vesper crowds of the year gathered in Seibert Chapel on Sunday evening to worship together and to watch the motion picture "A Certain Nobleman." The movie was presented to students and faculty under the courtesy of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority which was in charge of the entire service.

Ruth Freed presided at the organ and Joan Sechrist was the evening liturgist. Joan read the scripture lesson from John 4:46-54, a passage which served as a theme for the twenty minute movie.

"A Certain Nobleman" was depicted as one who came to Jesus seeking divine aid for his dying son. When the nobleman saw that his son had been the recipient of God's healing power, he, through faith, believed in and brought his whole household to believe in Christ.

On Sunday evening, March 9, vesper services will be a part of the Religion-In-Life program and will be incorporated on one of the comparative religions that will be studied.

A Thousand Disappointments For One Success

"A thousand disappointments for one success." How often this situation has faced all of us as the youth of this fast moving atomic age. Every day, in some task we undergo, we are faced with at least one sheer disappointment; but in this end are we not also rewarded with at least one success? It may not be in the same task in which we had the disappointment but in another just as important.

Abraham Lincoln, born of a humble and lowly birth, was faced with a great handicap from the beginning of his life. Certainly, he knew that unless he conquered his drawbacks and fought against the many disappointing factions he could not succeed. Many other men of the past who promoted their ideas for the interest of all mankind found that in everything they did disappointment awaited them.

Youth, today, too, must have an outlook like the men of old. Everything we do today is moving at least twice as fast as it did when Lincoln, Booker T. Washington, and others were striving toward their goal in life. Therefore, we can't afford to sit back and say, "I can't do this task; I have failed in another." Imagine what the world would be like if men from the beginning of time took that attitude. This country was built on the principles of men who were not satisfied to sit back and take a disappointment and say, "I'm finished. I have nothing to which to look forward." True progress is made when man overcomes a disappointment and pushes on to a larger and better goal.

A real challenge to everyone of us is not to give up when some action goes wrong or "Gets fouled up." Don't let it go down in the books as a black mark. Make the most of all you do. Put a little more effort on those things which are a little harder in which to succeed. Then, you receive more than just one success and get a reward for your task accomplished.

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK

The personality of the week goes to Ed Pakovich. Ed's hometown is Coal-dale, Pennsylvania. He was graduated from Coal-dale High School in 1943 and enlisted immediately in the United States Air Force, where he enrolled under aviation cadet training and was sent to radio-radar school. After his training he was assigned to B-24 and B-17 heavy bombers. Ed was the radio-radar man and the waist gunner on the bomber. He served with the 5th Air Force in the Pacific campaign and attained the rank of sergeant.

After the war he worked for two years on construction work. In 1948 he decided to come to Susquehanna, and he enrolled under the Business Administration course and plans to major in economics.

Ed is a member of Phi Mu Delta Fraternity and has been house manager for his last two years in school. He is a member of the Business Society and Biemic Society and was also vice president of his Junior Class.

His other extra-curricular activities include athletics. He played varsity football for three seasons and while in his third season he suffered frequent knee injuries which sidelined him permanently. He also played intramural sports such as basketball, softball, and track through-out his four years here.

Ed took part in three plays. He had roles in "I Remember Mama," "Macbeth," and "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay." He has been an able hand on the stage crew this year.

As for the future, Ed plans to get into something attached with flying along the production and development of jet parts. We wish Ed the best of success he can have.

Illegal Rushing Charge Brought to Panhellenic Judiciary for Clearing
The Panhellenic Council held a meeting February 25, at 5:10 in Seibert. A charge of illegal rushing was charged against Alpha Delta Pi by Kappa Delta. The charge concerned a note sent to the rushes February 13. The representatives of both organizations discussed the matter and decided to bring it before a meeting of all Panhellenic members. February 29, at 5:10 the meeting of all members was held. Both sides gave their point of view. No decision could be met, so the matter will be brought before a faculty Judiciary committee for settlement.

ZLOCK AND CONDON OVER 200 MARK; CRUSADERS LOSE LAST TWO GAMES

Last Quarter Fatal Juniata Takes Lead; For S.U.; Aggies Win S. U. Trails 72-56

The Crusaders traveled to Doylestown and came back on the short end 63 to 59. Zlock and Condon were high for the losers with 17 and 13 respectively.

After building up a 12 point lead in the first quarter and maintaining it at halftime, the Crusaders dropped the game in the second half when the Aggies switched from a zone to a man-for-man defense. Scoring 21 points in the third quarter and 19 in the fourth, the Aggies caught and finally led the Crusaders until the end.

G'burg Surprises S. U.;

Girls Arrive for Game

What would you do if the members of a varsity and junior varsity basketball team arrived on campus at 5:15 p. m. expecting to play two basketball games beginning at 7:00 p. m. that evening? To complicate the matter still more, what if you did not have an organized varsity team at the present time? This problem arose on our campus during the past week.

During the hockey season a tentative date had been set for a basketball game with Gettysburg College. When it was decided that this year the girls would not have a regular varsity team, Gettysburg was notified of this. Due to what seems to be a misunderstanding by one or both parties, Gettysburg thought that the game was still to be played while Susquehanna assumed that it was cancelled. These are the events that led up to the unexpected arrival of the girls from Gettysburg on Tuesday evening.

Miss Haresign and various members of the W.A.A. met the girls and sat with them while they were served dinner in Horton Hall. At the same time there was a "mad scramble" to find players to represent S. U. in the games. A game previously scheduled to be played that evening at the State Colony was cancelled so that these girls could form a team for the junior varsity game. Various members of all classes were recruited and finally, to the relief of all concerned, enough players were available for the two games.

As could be expected, S. U. did not make too good a showing in these games. It must be remembered that it takes more spunk and sportsmanship to play in a game where the odds are definitely against you than in one in which you have an even chance of winning. Though hopelessly outclassed, the girls of Susquehanna did not give up until the last whistle of the game. Miss Haresign wishes to thank all those girls who upheld the true spirit of good sportsmanship which they displayed at this time.

The score of the junior varsity game was 66-7 while the varsity game was 57-3, both being won by Gettysburg. Members participating in the junior varsity game were:

|-------------|------------|
| SUSQUEHANNA | GETTYSBURG |
| Greco | Davis |
| Diggan | Bradson |

Juniata jumped to a 21 to 12 lead in the first quarter and maintained it for the remainder of the game. Zlock and Condon scored 19 and 14 which brought them both over the two hundred point mark for the year. Playing his final game for the Susquehanna Crusaders, Charlie Zlock finished his college career in outstanding fashion. Hitting from all angles Juniata bombed the Crusaders 72 to 56. For the Juniata Indians, Feldkircher, former Temple High School star, scored 16 points to lead the visitors.

Next season Coach Pfeiffer expects to start basketball workouts early in September as Susquehanna is entering the Middle Atlantic Conference with a more difficult and longer schedule. It is expected that next year's team will be built around Ned "Redman" Condon, Stew Tomlinson, and "Bouncing" Bob Beckley.

SPORTS CHATTER

By Richard Stout

The CRUSADERS closed out the basketball campaign with undoubtedly their worst home performance of the season when they absorbed a 72-56 drubbing at the hands of Juniata's Indians. Too much dribbling, poor passing, and a decided lack of team play materially aided the Juniata cause as they romped to an easy victory. The floor play of STEW TOMLINSON coupled with the sharp-shooting of CHARLIE ZLOCK were the lone outstanding features of the Crusader's attack.

Davey Pollock, Juniata freshman and a classy cager, tried some flashy antics on the hardwoods, many of which didn't take too well with the spectators who like to watch basketball.

JOHN MOMROW, a January graduate and an outstanding track man, is busy running for two New York City Athletic Clubs while continuing his studies at New York University.

An interesting note on the women's side is the number of points compiled for participation in WAA Athletics. The latest reports showed the following girls paying the way in their respective classes:

|--------------------------------|------|
| Seniors—Chambers | 1475 |
| Juniors—Von Lynn | 1920 |
| Sophomores—Schumacher | 540 |
| Freshmen—lie, Krebs and Lamade | 75 |

FRED TYLER and FRANK RICHARDS, Day Students who have been active in the Intramural Basketball League, are also excellent golfers. Both boys vied for regional honors in PIAA competition while attending Selingrove High School.

Don Berninger and Ned Condon have taken the examination for registered PIAA Baseball Officials and expect to operate in the local circuits should the results warrant it.

BOB BECKLEY, whose 28 point performance against Post 201 Sunbury brought his season's total to 490, continues to lead the scorers in the Sunbury Community Basketball League with a torrid 27.8 points per game average.

The Crusaderettes really absorbed the punishment at the hands of the Gettysburg lassies, but most fans will agree that S. U.'s Pat Rumbaugh was the classiest guard on the court.

End of Season Near; Phi Mu Leads League

Intramural basketball with its many spills and thrills will soon be in the forgotten past. With the end of the current season being next week, Phi Mu Delta now has the upper hand in the league standings. These black-shirted cagers with two victories in the past week remain undefeated in this, the second half of the season.

In games of last Monday evening six of the seven league teams competed. Bond and Key earned its first victory of the season via a forfeit victory over the Day Students. In a high scoring affair Selingrove Hall triumphed over the Cottage by a score of 61 to 52. Johnson and Owens with seventeen and fourteen points respectively led the dormitory team to the victory. Mickatavage with twenty-three points and Gergen with fourteen led the quietest from the Cottage. In the third contest G. A. and Phi Mu Delta staged a saw-saw battle which was to decide which team should remain in first place. The Phi Mu Deltas, led by Chadwick with eleven points, won the contest by a score of 37 to 33. Tkaczky with twelve points was the big man in the G. A. attack.

In the first game on Wednesday evening Selingrove Hall conquered Bond and Key by a score of 44 to 36. Beckley with fifteen points, Johnson with twelve, and Owens with ten points led the well-balanced attack for the Hazlett-coached team. John Shannon led the Black Knights of Bond and Key with thirteen points. In the second game Phi Mu Delta defeated an undermanned Day Students team by a score of 51 to 34. Jones, Chadwick and Dietsch with eighteen, fourteen and ten points respectively led the Deltas to the victory. Tyler with twenty-one points was high for the Day Students.

In the third and final game of the evening a much-improved Theta Chi team lost to the Cottage by a score of 42 to 34. Gergen and Mickatavage led the Cottage with sixteen and eleven points respectively.

The schedules for girls' intramural single and double table tennis and single and double badminton are now posted in the girls' locker room in the gymnasium. The managers have urged the girls to play off their games as soon as possible. A final date will be posted for the playing of each round.

The gymnasium is open every Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 9 for the playing of badminton games. These games may also be played at any time during the day when the gymnasium is unoccupied. For a schedule of the free periods during the day please contact Miss Haresign.

Bond and Key

To the sororities and their pledges, the men of Bond and Key offer their congratulations for the fine party which they presented Saturday evening. This party certainly is one of the highlights of the social activities on this campus.

Brothers Mayer, Meyers, Spangler, and Krauss have been working hard to be able to add their parts to the presentation of "The Merchant of Venice." We wish these men and the cast good luck in the performances.

Ed "Moose" Menapace has left school to join the baseball spring practice in Texas. Moose is to be a catcher in the Longhorn League starting March 10. The actives wish him luck in this season.

In the way of coming attractions, Herb Krauss has planned house parties for March 8 and 15. We have had very nice parties, and we feel sure that these will be as nice.

The renovation of the large bathroom is complete. This is a great improvement, and we owe a lot to Brothers Henry and Neuman. The new fixtures and curtains add much to the appearance.

We wish to congratulate Bill Bastian and Henry Albright for making the Dean's Honor List.

Phi Mu Delta

Walter Mazura and Mike Walter, expansion directors, Al Vollmers and Robert Mesler, pledge masters and Gordon Joyce, president of Mu Alpha journeyed to Penn State College this past Tuesday for the purpose of holding an organization meeting for the re-activating of the Nu Epsilon Chapter of Phi Mu Delta. A general meeting and act together was held with interested men. Pledging will take place on March 15 at which time Robert Zahn, national president and Henry Metzger, national expansion director will interview candidates for pledgeship.

This past week-end alumni brothers Don Shoemaker and Jack Brown, on campus for the Panhellenic Pledge Dance, visited Mu Alpha.

It is good to see Pledge Flowers back on campus after his recent operation.

Phi Mu Delta Open House will be held March 15 after the final performance of "The Merchant of Venice" in the Little Theater. March 29 will be a big night at Phi Mu Delta, for that is the date of the annual pledge party. This year the theme will follow that world renowned festival the Mardi Gras. So come, come to the Mardi Gras!

Theta Chi

The love bug has really hit Theta Chi the last few week-ends; hard after the weddings of Jack Genginer, Charlie Shaffer, and Bill Kelley, we now have two more who are planning their own downfall. Namely, they're Don Bernier who is engaged to a girl from Elioorsburg and Chuck Mason who is engaged to Caroline Rutherford. Watch out Cornpone Woman, that bug just might be contagious! Just to prove it, the Theta Chians are going to practice walking up the aisle by being voters at the coming Shakespearean Festival.

Theta Chi is holding its Annual Regional Convention on the fifth of March. Beta Omega is in region three which consists of all the Theta Chi chapters in Eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey of which the convention's host chapter will be Beta Theta of Drexel.

Beta Omega is sending a delegation headed by Dale Gatenam to the installation of a new chapter at Gettysburg College next week-end. This will bring Theta Chi's total number of Chapters to 107.

Crusaderettes Travel To Lycoming For Playday

Lycoming College held its annual playday on Saturday. Bucknell and Susquehanna were the only teams represented, as Penn State and Juniata could not get there because of the weather. Basketball, badminton, and swimming were the scheduled events for the day.

Three basketball games were played whereby each school played the other two schools. Lycoming was the winner of the day by winning both games. Susquehanna lost to Bucknell by a score of 29-19 and was also defeated by Lycoming 36-25.

The following girls played for Susquehanna: JoAnn Mosholder, Alice Schweighofer, Peg Henderson, Pat Hess, Marilyn Huyett, Barbara Frank, Nancy Kreig, Joann Diggan, and Marv Cowling.

Nancy Kreig and Joann Diggan represented S. U. in the badminton contest and were defeated by 2 points. Marv Cowling was our only representative in the swimming meet. Marv finished once in second place and twice in third place.

After all events were concluded, a lunch was served to all participants.

BACKSTAGE—From Page 1

Heavens, Portia, you forgot your face! How much smoother the performance will be since Mimi Vogler and Janet Laue are acting as back holders. It would look rather ridiculous for an actor to make a long pause while trying to recall forgotten thoughts or even having to dash off stage to check the script.

Typists, assistants, helpers—people still farther from the limelight pour out much energy in helping those in front of the footlights to give a top performance.

An interesting ratio to remember is that for every person reading the lines of his character there are at least two men behind the scenes helping to bring out the best possible interpretation of the part.

Sorority News

Alpha Delta Pi

Last Wednesday, our new pledges attended our informal meeting in the sorority room and plans were discussed concerning the pledge party which was held Saturday night for the actives and pledges of the three sororities. At the party, each pledge was given a paddle of her respective sorority and a rose.

The officers of Gamma Omicron's pledge class elected during the last meeting are: Carlene Lamade, president; Pat Sheldow, vice-president; Irene Oldt, secretary; and Ruth Scott, treasurer.

Seven actives and one pledge were named to the Dean's Honor List this past semester. These girls, representatives of the upper ten per cent of the student body, include Joyce Gilbert, Faye Lewis, Ethel McGrath, Lois Renfor, Melva Schmeltz, Joan Sechrist, Shirley Thompson, and Joyce Wagner. The chapter extends its congratulations to these sisters of Alpha Delta Pi; may they keep up the good work.

Alpha Delta Pi had charge of vespers last Sunday evening. The movie, "A Certain Nobleman" was shown.

We wish Sister Charlotte Neuman the best of luck in the present production "The Merchant of Venice." Charlotte portrays the part of Portia.

Kappa Delta

Kappa Delta sorority held its monthly cultural program this past Wednesday night. We were very glad that our patronesses were able to enjoy the program with us. It dealt with the duties of the officers of the sorority. Mrs. Charles Zimmerman, of Middleburg, has graciously consented to become a new member of our alumnae advisory board for the coming year.

The officers for the pledge group have been elected. They are as follows: president, Mary Cowling; vice president, Dolly Taddeo; secretary, Eleanor Steffer; treasurer, Eleanor Bennis; social chairman, Barbara Grove. The pledges have volunteered to act as hostesses during some of the performance.

Sigma Alpha Iota

At a special service on Monday, February 25, Phyllis Delsher, Mary Ellen Krebs, Helen Griffiths, Nancy Lepley, and Helen Williams were pledged to Sigma Alpha Iota. Congratulations are extended to these girls.

Congratulations are also extended to Peggy Heffelfinger who was recently pinned to George MacKain, a graduate of Cornell University.

At the regular meeting of Sigma Omega Chapter last week further plans were made for the Wilbur Isaacs Concert. Joan Bates and Ann Guise, co-chairmen of the ticket committee, gave tickets to be sold to each of the actives and pledges of S.A.I. The price of the tickets will be $1.00 for adult tickets, $.50 for student tickets and $.30 for two patron tickets. Eleanor Borski, chairman of the publicity committee, displayed advertisement posters which have since been placed in the buildings on campus and in various store windows in Selingsrove and Sunbury. The concert by Wilbur Isaacs, baritone, will be presented in Seibert Chapel on Thursday, March 20, at 8:15 p. m. Mr. Isaacs will present a program of well-known art and folk songs in English and in several foreign languages.

S. C. A. NEWS

Approximately 130 persons gathered in the Seibert social rooms on Tuesday evening, February 26 to celebrate S. U.'s night of feasting, more commonly known as "Fastnacht." Dancing, fellowship, and the serving of doughnuts and hot chocolate constituted the program which had as its chairmen Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin Lotz, Rev. and Mrs. Raymond Morris, and Mr. Bernard Krapp.

The special 1952 Lenten services were instituted on our campus on Thursday, February 28 at 12:50 p. m., when the Seibert Hall residents conducted the mid-week meditational service.

Guest speaker for the event was Rev. Earl Kauffman, pastor of the Selingsrove Evangelical United Brethren Church. Because this was the first Lenten service, Pastor Kauffman availed himself of the opportunity by basing his message on the theme, "The Meaning of Lent."

Jayne Daily was vocal soloist for the service, and Shirley Bell and Ruth Freed participated as liturgist and organist respectively.

The second Lenten meditation will be held on March 6, at 12:45 p. m., with Pl. Gamma Mu being in charge. Dave Volk, president, will be the speaker.

RABBI WALDE AND DEAN GALT OPEN RELIGION-IN-LIFE CONFERENCE

Judaism, Mohammed Topic of First Sessions

An enthusiastic audience attended the opening session of the Religion-in-Life Conference Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. The service was opened by the singing of "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," followed by prayer. Robert Shade, leader, chose a portion of the twenty-second chapter of Genesis for the scripture reading. Jack Schraeder rendered a solo, "The Lord Is My Light" by Alliten.

Before the address, a brief summary of the purpose of the conference was given. The planned goal of the conference is to bring a new understanding of religion and a desire for a renewed daily spiritual vigor into the lives of the students and faculty. This year the special purpose of the conference is to seek out the differences of five of the leading religions of the world and determine whether these are really dividing barriers.

Rabbi Isaac Vander Walde, of Sunbury, explained Judaism in his address. Pointing out that it is almost impossible to tell all about Judaism in 25 or 30 minutes, he, nevertheless, covered many interesting characteristics of his religion. We are living in a chaotic world full of various philosophies today; and with this in mind, Rabbi Vander Walde stated very simply the main principal of Judaism: "Do not do unto others as you would not have them do unto you."

"Judaism is a way of life that endeavors to transform virtually every human action into a means of communion with God."

It is required that Jews pray three times a day, either in the synagogue or at home. Prayers are recited before and after each meal; in fact, Jews thank God for any special pleasures. The five books of Moses make up one part of the Jewish scripture called the Torah, and the Old Testament is also used.

A rabbi is not permitted to marry a Jew to a person of any other faith. It is possible, however, to marry a person who has been converted to the Jewish religion, but it is considered improper to a Jew to urge a member of another faith to become a Jew.

S. C. A. NEWS

"God's World . . . Our Mission" was the focal point around which three hundred Lutheran college students and church leaders sought to find the Christian answer to the world situation as they met together at the Inn, Buck Hill Falls, Pa., for a three day conference, February 29 to March 2.

Susquehanna was represented at this annual meeting of the North Atlantic Region of the Lutheran Student Association of America by two of its S.C.A. members. These were Beatrice Morrow, S. U.'s official delegate, and David Volk, who attended merely as a conference member.

These two Susquehanna students were among the many who heard challenging messages by such noted church men as the Reverend Dr. Paul C. Empe, executive director of the National Lutheran Council, who spoke on the practical job facing the Church today, and the Reverend Dr. Henry Smith Leiper, associate secretary of the World Council of Churches, a member of the Congregational Christian Church, and a world traveled leader of the united Christian effort, who presented the World Community of Believers in his Saturday evening banquet address.

Additional platform men were the Reverend Mr. John S. Sardeson, pastor to Lutheran students at Cornell University, who centered his talks around the present world situation as it confronts the Church and the Christian; the Reverend Mr. Edwina Korte, Lutheran student pastor at Pennsylvania State College, who was the conference chaplain; and the Reverend Mr. Oswald Elbert, Division of Student Service regional secretary, who gave the Holy Communion meditation on Sunday morning.

The remainder of the program was

The Critic Speaks

By Gordon Joyce

As evidenced by the comments between acts of those in the theatre, in the side lobbies, and upstairs in the main lobby Mr. A. R. Kleinsorg has another smash hit on his hands in his interpretation of "The Merchant of Venice." The audience night after night has thrilled to the tender lines of Portia and Bassanio and to the scheming lines of Shylock.

An outstanding performance was given by Miss Charlotte Neuman. The role of Portia was different from previous roles. She gave the lines all their intended meaning and more. Congratulations on an excellent performance.

I am satisfied that no one but Jake Spangler could have enacted the role of Shylock. Not once was he out of character—not once was he anything or anybody but Shylock—crafty, clever, business-like Shylock who sought revenge for all the wrongs done to him by the Christians. Mr. Spangler fulfilled my prediction that this would be his top role and most earnest enactment.

Antonio, whose flesh Shylock so desired, was given a somber, serious, stabilizing yet dynamic interpretation by Tim Bobb. Mr. Bobb is a veteran of the Shakespearean play and his love for the stage keeps calling him back to act in each Shakespearean play.

Tom Marts as Bassanio provided the male romantic lead with all the gusto of first a suitor and then a lover to the lovely Portia. Although plainly garbed and plain of birth, Bassanio was given a richness by Mr. Marts as he pleaded for Portia's love and pleaded to the court to spare Antonio's life.

Charles Coates as the young and dashing Gratiano gave a romantic lightness to the production as he wooed and won the fair Nerissa by actions and words and by just being on the stage. The fire of youth burned strongly in him contrasting his love affair with that of the others.

Nerissa, lady-in-waiting to Portia, companion to Portia, court, conspirator, and best friend to Portia was played by Helen Spaeth, a newcomer to Susquehanna's dramatic society. Miss Spaeth did an excellent job in her role as friend to Portia and lover to Gratiano. By her performance one felt that he was a man's woman.

The third romantic interest was provided by Justin Myers and Bette Vincent. Jessica, daughter of Shylock the Jew, steals away to marry a Christian and took with her money and jewels that belonged to her father. Miss Vincent, a newcomer to the stage, looked every inch the part as she went from scene to scene. Mr. Myers gave his usual fine performance and won the fair Jessica by words and ways.

The most outstanding supporting role was portrayed by Walter Mazura as the self-styled, egotistical, lovely Prince of Arragon. Although he was on stage but a few minutes, each minute was full of mirth and entertainment.

Chris Harmon To Lead Biemic's Lenten Service

Donald Walters, the acting president of the Biemic Society, opened the meeting on March 6. Eight students and two faculty members attended the meeting.

A committee was appointed to do something about the attendance. The committee is going to make definite plans for the meetings of the society so that students will want to attend the meetings.

The Biemic Society will have Lenten service on March 20. Christine Harmon will be in charge of the service. Two movies are going to be presented by the society—Energy and Its Transformation and Birth of a Volcano.

The next meeting will be held on April 3 in Steele Science 100 at seven o'clock.

Combining of Men's and Women's Student Councils Discussed By Student Body; Both Sides of Controversy Ably Defended

The issue discussed the last few days has been whether or not the Men's and Women's Student Councils should be combined. The roving reporter asked a great many people their opinions and got a variety of answers.

Margie Zinda: "No!"

Bill Kelley: "More strength in unity."

Peg Aston: "I'm satisfied with the situation as it is at present."

Herb Craft: "Since the Women's Suffrage Act, woman was given rights to opionate, so let her use her rights."

Jayne Daily: "We might see better cooperation between the two governing bodies of our campus if they were joined, rather than if they worked separately."

Bill Kloppe: "Definitely yes."

Jack Schraeder: "No!"

Francis Gloster: "Yes. Possibly they could attain more control over the student body if they were united in their issues."

Jerome Purita: "Without a doubt."

Bette Vincent: "Yes, maybe something will be done for the students if this happens."

Harmon Andrews: "Yes, it's time that the students were ruled by one governing body instead of two."

Deen Lauver: "No."

Phyllis Delsher: "I think it would facilitate better discussion of problems so that each side could get a clearer understanding of the case."

Peggy Webber: "Yes, I think it makes for a stronger governing body."

Frances Drum: "Yes, I think it would be a good idea."

Ken Hemstead: "It's immaterial as long as they do the required work."

Bob Beckley: "Never, never, never."

Bob Thomas: "Yes, I think it would be fine."

Sylvia Haupt: "Yes, it would make for a well-rounded parcel."

Wayne Lippitt: "No, because different rules govern each sex."

Al Smith: "No, the situation is fine the way it is."

Ned Condon: "I believe it would be an excellent idea. The combination would make for a well-rounded curriculum."

Al Jones: "I believe in view of the circumstances it would be a new and refreshing idea."

Cecil Brown, who has gained fame and the top awards in radio for his keen analysis of world events during the past decade, put his wide experience to use in 1951 when he traveled thru Western Europe and to the Far East, recording for his large American audience the reactions of people in high and low places to current international issues.

The distinguished Mutual Broadcasting System commentator came to Susquehanna University next Wednesday, March 12, to speak in person at Seibert Hall at 8:15 P. M.

No stranger to the Orient, where some of his wartime broadcasts made history, Brown's itinerary included stops in Japan, Formosa, Hong Kong and the Philippines. In the Middle East, he planned visits to India, Kashmir and Israel. In Europe, his tour called for visits to Athens, Rome, Frankfurt, Belgrade and London.

Winner of the George Foster Peabody, Overseas Press Club, Sigma Delta Chi and National Headliners Club awards for his outstanding radio commentaries, Brown achieved international recognition for his consistent straight-from-the-shoulder wartime reporting. He dodged bombs in Belgrade to broadcast his impressions of Fascist Italy. At Cairo he had trouble with censors over his remarks on the Vichy French. He angered British authorities at Singapore by telling of the lackadaisical attitude towards the Japanese, and annoyed the Australians by criticizing them for not conscripting men to fight overseas.

Brown was aboard the Rejulse when that British warship, together with the Prince of Wales, was torpedoed and sunk in the South China Sea. His story, reported from Singapore by radio a few hours later, made journalistic history.

BABY SOFTENS A HARD CRIMINAL

The night was extremely dark and rainy. It was almost impossible to see the dark figure of a man drop from the courtyard wall of the prison to the ground below. He glanced around as he stood close to the wall, seeing no one or hearing nothing he darted across the open field into the surrounding wood. The escaping prisoner was an elderly man. He had already led a long life of misery because of the crimes he had committed. He had killed a man several years before this time and now he was waiting to receive his death sentence.

He had planned this escape many months ahead. He knew he must kill again to regain his freedom but his mind and heart were hardened to this fact. He could think of only of escaping. He didn't want to die.

Upon reaching the woods he stopped to rest but the startling wall of the prison area made him jump instantly to his feet like a startled rabbit. He ran until it seemed he could go no further. He could hear the baying of the bloodhounds, and he ran with an increasing fear in his heart.

To his left, he saw a faint light. It was a small house, badly in need of repairs. Instantly his thoughts flashed through his mind that he might find safety here. If only the bloodhounds wouldn't find his trail, he would be safe.

He knocked at the door. After a pause of a few minutes, he was greeted by a young woman. He pushed her aside and slammed the door. The woman screamed. He grabbed her and clamped his hands across her mouth. Surviving the room he could see that he was in a small three-room house which was barely furnished.

After inspecting the whole house, he tied the woman and gagged her. In one of the small rooms he found a baby sleeping peacefully as if no danger were near. He glanced around the room quickly, but something caught his eye on one of the tables. It was a picture. Instantly his thoughts flashed through his mind that he could see that he was in a small three-room house which was barely furnished.

LITTLE THEATRE--TOO LITTLE?

Being fully aware of the unwholesome aspect of the reputation of a "Monday morning quarterback" and the worth of criticism that comes after some results have been realized, we may still find it worthwhile to investigate the value of the new "Little Theatre."

The theater, which is excellently constructed in regards to sound and which is well equipped, has a fine stage and unimpaired lighting facilities. All the seats in the theater are comfortable and well located. The only criticism, then, would be in regards to the size of the theater. An expenditure as high as that involved in building the new theater seems slightly foolish in view of the fact that the theater will not hold the entire student body of the school; in fact, it doesn't even accommodate half the student body. If advance notices about the influx of freshmen in the future and the rapidly growing expansion program are only half true, the theater soon will not hold one-sixth of Susquehanna's students. If this be the case, it will be necessary to run plays for at least a month. It will also be necessary to offer a major in dramatics since students involved in these plays will have time for little else.

If the new theater was designed to insure that chapel services shall never have to be held there, then it has been wholly successful. If the new theater was designed so that it will never be acceptable for community service to the town, have to be held there, then it has been wholly successful. If the new theater was designed so that it shall never accommodate an appreciable meeting of educators or churchmen, then it has been wholly successful. If the new theater was designed expressly for three or four ventures a year into dramatics, then it has been very successful.

QUESTION OF WEEK—From Page 1 tively."

Bob Steffey: "I don't think it would be any good combined."

Ellie Smith: "No, men always think they are right and women always think they are right. Let them function as they are now and everybody will be happy."

Lucian Smith: "Yes, because it might help to eliminate the double standard for men and women on the campus."

Ruth Osborn: "Yes, it would lead to better cooperation and a stronger unit."

Joyce Miller: "Yes, it would be better. There would be stronger cooperation."

Eugene Myer: "A combination of the two groups would make a stronger student council."

Fred Shilling: "One compact united organization is better than two organizations working separately and trying fundamentally to accomplish the same purpose."

Elinor Aurand: "Yes, there should be. There isn't any necessity or advantage in maintaining two separate councils, since men and women mingle in scholastic levels, why not at policy-making levels."

Charles Bomboy: "I think the whole issue is ridiculous."

Arlan Gilbert: "Of what vital importance is this question to the institution?"

Marilyn Huyett: "As far as I can see, they seem to get along well as two separate bodies."

Joan Rarick: "No."

Lorraine Lee: "Yes."

Wayne Miller: "No, activities are not closely enough related for combination."

Jack Schreffler: "The functions of both are too heterogeneous in their scope to be combined."

Deley Sharretts: "No, the situations they must handle are different."

Rita Treese: "No, because the women's problems are very different from the men's."

Miriam Wick: "No many of the problems would effect either the men or the women—not both. Looking at the problem from this point of view, I don't think it would be profitable."

Audrey Warnets: "No, I do not think that the councils should be combined because each council has to decide and iron out its own definite problems."

Elenore Steffy: "No, it's better the way it is."

Jim Withers: "Yes, it is the only way that the Student Council will get any power."

Clair Mitch: "Yes, I think they should be combined for a trial period to see how they operate together."

Jim Tonkinson: "Yes, being combined the organizations should have enough authority to have more saving measures acted upon instead of the present attitude that they could not suggest another cut system for lack of authority."

Gene Fluri: "Yes, because the combination will have more power."

Jew follows the law to the letter. They still live up to the law as it was written and given to the children of Israel.

(2) The Reformed Jews do not consider the moral laws binding for themselves. They accept them, but they do not live up to many of the moral laws because they were written by rabbis and should be changed to fit the times. (3) The Conservative Jews feel that they want to preserve Judaism as much as possible, but changes should be made in accordance with the times. These changes have to come from a body of rabbis. The person in this group is more conservative in his approach to changes than the Reformed Jew; thus he falls in a category between the Orthodox and the Reformed groups.

A question period followed the address, and the meeting was closed by singing "Rock of Ages."

The conference continued Sunday night with another meeting at 7 p. m. in Seibert Chapel. All joined in singing the opening hymn which was followed by a scripture reading from Psalm 103. During the offertory Miss Betty Weisenfluh sang "A Parting Prayer."

Gordon Joyce, leader, introduced Dean Russel Galt, who brought to the audience the distinguishing traits of the Mohammedan religion. Before accepting the position of Dean at Susquehanna Deal Galt spent several years in Cairo, Egypt, among people of this faith.

Mohammedanism began in Arabia 600 years after the death of Christ; today there are over 200,000,000 followers of Mohammed to provide strength from Morocco to the Philippines to the Pacific and China.

Mohammed is the prophet of this group, and Allah is their god. Mohammed was an illiterate camel driver whose first convert was his wife. His religion is one of the most backward in the world, but this backward religion presents a difficult problem to the Christian church. The Mohammed religion stands steadfast in Cairo and China and Persia.

As a problem of the church in America, just what is the Christian church going to do about it? The Mohammedans are very adamant in their opposition to Christianity. If a man is converted from Mohammedanism to the Christian religion, his name is taken away from the family book completely.

Why is there such opposition to Christianity? The Holy Lands are predominantly inhabited by followers of Mohammed, and their belief is "There is no god but Allah, and Mohammed is his prophet." The Christian missionary has to meet this Moslem world.

Mohammed never saw a copy of the scriptures. His followers believe that Moses and Jesus are just two other prophets sent into the world and that Mohammed is the last and paramount prophet.

This illiterate camel driver is thought to have been an epileptic. His religion was founded after Mohammed went to a cave outside Mecca and saw visions; he told them to his wife, and they were written down. This is how the Koran was originally made. However, these dreams and visions that he had are believed to have been characteristics of a mild epileptic.

Mohammedanism is based on these six principles:

1. Recite the creed and believe it—

Bond and Key

The Bond and Key basketball squad has tucked some more games under their belts outside the intramural loop. The Black Knights of Shamokin and the Freeburg High School teams both fell to the dribblers from the house. Lambda Chi Alpha of Bucknell defeated us in a hard fought battle.

At the open house on Saturday night we were glad to have Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Lotz, Dr. George Robison, Mrs. Richard Grove, and Mr. John Soule as chaperones. The crowd was swelled by many friends and parents of the brothers.

Our ping pong table is undergoing a face lifting and will be ready for action soon. A new chair was purchased for the kitchen and a tile floor was put down in the new bathroom by brother Bob MacNamara.

Within the house several of the brothers are trying to outdo each other as far as their cars are concerned. The Oldsmobiles and the Chevro are fighting it out. Now that the Olds owners have their buggies in tip-top shape, the Chevro will no doubt take a back seat.

Kay Campbell has replaced "Moose" Menapace as athletic director of the house. "Moose" is in spring training for the coming baseball season.

Phi Mu Delta

Congratulations to the cast for their splendid portrayal of Shakespeare's "The Merchant of Venice." Brothers in the cast are Tom Marks as Bassanio, George Cawley as Lancelot Gobbo, Walter Mazura as the Prince of Arragon, Allan Vollmers as Salerio and Herb Craft as a singing page. Also pledges Charles Coates in the role of Gratiano, and Louis Drumm portraying the Prince of Morocco. Those unsung heroes back stage also deserving credit are Bill Scott, stage manager; Harmon Andrews, lighting; Ed Kopf, stage crew; and Ed Palkovich, construction.

Thursday evening alumni brothers Ray Watkins, Blair Heaton, and Dr. Straub were invited to supper at the fraternity house.

Brother Pat LaMarca stopped at the fraternity home Saturday. Former Pledge Harry Feltman, USN, also visited the house this week-end.

Shirley Nioklin and Robert Bogdanffy have set Palm Sunday, April 6 as the date of their wedding!

An open house will be held after the play March 15.

Administration News

The annual dinner meeting of the Lewistown District Club of Susquehanna University Alumni will be held Friday, March 14, 1952, at 6:30 p. m., at the Birch Hill Country Club at Burnham, Pennsylvania.

A fine dinner and entertainment have been prepared in the grand atmosphere of the Birch Hill Club house. Dr. Joseph P. Hackenbush, president of our Susquehanna Alumni Association is expected to visit at this meeting. As the honor guest we are pleased to announce that Dr. William A. Russ, Jr., professor of History at S. U., will give a message on "Some Comments on the Far Eastern Situation."

Dr. Carl Henty, who is a member of the Lutheran Board of American Missions situated in New York City, visited the campus last Tuesday. He spoke individually to all the ministerial students concerning jobs for the summer.

Mr. Bernard Krapf, business manager, accepted an etching of the preamble to the constitution of the United States. This is an effort put forth by the controversy over the loyalty oath which all teachers are to sign.

Dr. G. Morris Smith is back on campus after spending a few weeks summing in Florida.

Miss Ruth McCorkell is back in her office after several months spent recuperating from a broken arm.

The jackets have been handed out to the members of the football team as an award for being the first undefeated-untied team in the history of S. U.

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK

This week the spotlight of "The Susquehanna" rests on Ann Guise.

Ann has always lived in Biglerville, and attended the schools there. While in high school, she was president of the Red Cross Council, secretary of the Student Council, and was in the band, chorus, and dramatic club.

Here at Susquehanna, Ann is well-known for her athletic abilities, especially on the basketball court. She is a member of the girl's varsity basketball team, W.A.A., and Tau Kappa.

Along musical lines, Ann is very versatile. She plays the piano, organ and clarinet. She is a member of the Chapel Choir, band, orchestra, Susquehanna Singers, Trinity Choir, and Sigma Alpha Iota.

In addition to being active in athletics and music, Ann is also a member of the Student Christian Association, Women's Student Council, she is secretary of her class, and was a freshman orientation leader.

After graduation, teaching music and a certain C. William Settle will occupy most of Ann's time. With Ann's sparkling personality, pep, and talent, she is certain to be successful.

Sorority News

Alpha Delta Pi

Last Wednesday the pledges of Kappa Delta Sorority held a party from 4:00 to 6:00 P. M. for the pledges of Sigma Alpha Iota and those of our sorority. Gamma Omicron wishes to thank Kappa Delta for the wonderful time that was had by all of its pledges.

Congratulations to Sister Charlotte Neuman for her outstanding portrayal of "Portia" in the first week's performance of "The Merchant of Venice."

Kappa Delta

The Kappa Delta pledges gave a party Monday afternoon, March 3, for the pledges of Alpha Delta Pi and Sigma Alpha Iota. Cake roll and ginger ale were served, and favors and a door prize were given out.

The KD pledges will have charge of vespers on Sunday, March 16.

Sigma Alpha Iota

At its regular meeting on Wednesday, S.A.I. made final plans for the concert by Wilbur Isaacs, which will be held in Seibert Chapel on Thursday, March 20. Mr. Isaacs, a baritone from New York and a part-time vocal instructor at Wilkes College, will present a program of well-known foreign language songs as well as many songs in English. Mr. Isaacs has sung throughout this country and has given successful recitals in New York, Paris and Brussels. He has studied extensively both in the United States and in Europe.

Also at the Wednesday meeting the committee who will nominate new officers for Sigma Omega Chapter were announced. Janet Wingert is chairman of this committee. Others on the committee are Margaret Zinda, Josephine Stuter, Ann Guise and Eleanor Borski.

Sigma Omega Chapter voted to approve the founding of a chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota at Hartwick College. Sigma Omega also approved by vote the petition sent by the S.A.I. National Office suggesting that schools of high standing but with less than seven full-time music instructors be allowed to become affiliated with S.A.I.

Sunbury Minister Guest Speaker at WDS Service

The classy orange and maroon jackets awarded to members of Susquehanna's first undefeated-untied football squad are another example of the good faith set forth by local merchants and friends of Susquehanna University. These jackets, undoubtedly of the finest quality, will serve as a fitting personal memento to those gridmen whose '51 glrion exploits will never be forgotten in S. U. sports annals—OUR THANKS TO THE MANY GENEROUS CONTRIBUTORS.

AL JONES, S. U. slugger whose unusual challenge appeared in this column several weeks ago, was the victim of false information submitted to the Shamokin Citizen. The SUSQUEHANNA regrets any injustice to Mr. Jones and is in total agreement with the Shamokin Citizen which carried the following report:

SPORTS SCRIBE IS VICTIM OF HOAX

"In our column of January 17, we quoted from a letter that came to our desk by Uncle Sam's mail. Bearing the signature 'Al Jones,' the letter made the offer of 'Jones' to take on Sid Kramer and Joe Strick at the same time. Al Jones, a student at Susquehanna University, has notified us the letter was a phoney."

TEXT OF JONES' LETTER

Jones writes: The letter received by the writer of the Shamokin Citizen sports column, "The Fans' Side," and attributed in the column of January 17, 1952 to me, was written and signed "Al Jones" without my knowledge or permission. As an amateur boxer, I am fully aware of how ridiculous would be the proposal in the quoted letter alleged by me of fighting two other boxers at the same time in the same ring or consecutively. I love boxing and consider it a fine amateur sport; accordingly I regret that a hoaxing letter should appear which attempts to make the game ludicrous.

Sincerely,

Al Jones

A REGRETTABLE SITUATION

We regret any embarrassment that Jones was caused by publication of this hoaxing letter. We admit to being taken in completely by the letter, which was written in longhand and which had as a return address the fraternity of which Jones is a member. Our suspicions were not aroused by the bold offer to get in the ring with two opponents because we heard the college boxer was a scrappy fellow. Now our question is: who wrote the fake letter? Was someone trying to encourage a grudge fight? Or did some joker, not realizing that IT IS A SERIOUS BUSINESS TO FORGE A SIGNATURE AND SUBMIT FALSE INFORMATION TO A NEWSPAPER, try to get a big yak at Jones' expense? If any of you fans can provide a clue as to the writer of the hoax letter, we will be glad to hear from you.

CLIFF STAMPEL, S. U. gridder who hails from nearby Northumberland, is also an outstanding amateur boxer. As a member of the U. S. Army, he was lightweight champion of Fort Warren, Wyoming and reached the finals of the AAU Wyoming State Championship before bowing out. Locally, he has been swapping leather up Wilkes-Barre way where he has garnered a record of four victories in five bouts.

ment. Only Mr. Mazura could have given the part due emphasis. The dark skinned Prince of Morocco was played by Lewis Drumm who gave the role the seriousness and the earnestness which was a contrast to that of the Prince of Arragon.

Kaj Kristofferson gave his usual fine performance—this time as the Duke of Venice who was to try the case to decide Antonio's fate whether or not he shall forfeit a pound of flesh to Shylock upon nonpayment of a note for three thousand ducats.

Not since the role of Biondello has an audience here seen such pranks, such clowning, and such unbridled humor as George Cawley gave to Launcelot Gobbo. Mr. Cawley stole the show every time he was on the stage. Surprising him in his humorous role was his blind friend, Old Gobbo, who was played by Herbert Kraus. With their comedy and ridiculous actions, this team would bowl over any audience.

In Todd Solomon, Shylock found his good friend, Tubal. Tubal was the one who comforted him; Tubal was the one who brought the scales to the court in order to weight Antonio's flesh. Mr. Solomon looked and acted the role from his first appearance to his last.

Solanio, Don Sheldon, and Salarino, Allan Vollmers, proved themselves as devoted friends of Antonio and Bassanio. These two, although not possessing outstanding roles, carried the story of the play in many instances. Such roles get little individual notice but are so vital to such a production.

In supporting roles as servants Roger Blegen as Leonardo, John Mayer as Balthazar, and John Wicks as Stephano round out an exceptional cast. The servants added much to the smoothness of the play and to its being given a Shakespearean touch.

Music for love and pleasure was provided by two singing pages, Herbert Craft and Gile Davils. Music ushers in words of love. In the love scenes of "The Merchant of Venice" words were supplemented and heightened by the use of music. Quick changes of mood were speeded and accentuated by the element of music.

The people behind the scenes deserve much credit for the polish of the performance. Their great effort and hard work transferred what might have been a mediocre performance into a truly great performance.

Many thanks for a complete evening go to the Kappa Delta Sorority whose members acted as hostesses and to the Theta Chi Fraternity whose members ushered.

Over a thousand people have already enjoyed the masterpiece presented by the students at Susquehanna which is in its second week of running. This production will be presented in Millersburg on Monday evening, March 17 because of the great demand of many students and friends in that vicinity. Good news travels fast and the opportunity of seeing "The Merchant of Venice" is good news.

GA and Phi Mu Delta Striving For Title

Because of the nearness of the season's end there were only five games scheduled in the Men's Intramural Basketball loop last week.

The league's leading team, Phi Mu Delta defeated Selinggrove Hall by a score of 29 to 25 and lost to the Cottage by a score of 44 to 42. In the Phi Mu-Cottage game Hemstead of the Cottage and Chadwick of Phi Mu led the scorers with fourteen points each.

In a game played on Thursday night, GA defeated Bond and Key by a score of 52 to 36. Erdley and Matha of GA led the scoring with eighteen and fifteen points respectively. Henry, with thirteen points, was high scorer for Bond and Key.

In other games Bond and Key and the Cottage won by forfeit over Theta Chi and the Day Students respectively. One crucial game remains to be played next week. GA must triumph over Theta Chi in order to tie with Phi Mu Delta for the second half championship with records of 5 wins and 1 loss.

ed in his head. He could see his own wife and his son whom he loved so much. His dropped as he thought how he had forsaken them.

Suddenly, a voice rang out calling his name. It was the police. The bloodhounds had found and followed his trail. Quickly he turned off the lights and glanced out the window. The place was surrounded with police. His thoughts turned immediately again to himself. He must escape.

He grabbed the baby as the terrified mother looked on. Something in the mother's eyes and facial expression made the convict glance at the baby. Then something happened. Within the deep blue eyes of the baby and the innocence of his expressions the murderer was reminded of his own son. He stood for a moment as if in a trance. Then he laid the baby carefully beside its mother. He went to the door, opened it, and shouted to the police that he would surrender peacefully. He cried loudly that he was tired of hurting people and running away from life. He was ready for his punishment.

Dave attended one of these meetings concerning the Lutheran Youth Conference in Hannover, Germany this summer to which he plans to go. Discussion by those interested in attending was led by Dr. Empe.

The conference closed with the noon meal on Sunday and the students then departed for their many and varied campuses located thruout the Northeastern section of the United States.

Larry Bingham: "Yes, then more could be accomplished with less effort on the part of each as individual."

Len Carlson: "Yes, combining these two organizations would give the student body a coordinated group with sufficient influence to obtain greater advantages for the students."

Pok-Wo Lam: "They should be combined."

Audrey Finkenstadt: "They should be combined as they will have a better knowledge of the student body as a whole and can solve their problems more easily."

Lewis Drumm: "I think that if they were combined they could better solve the problems of the student body."

Dave Harris: "Yes, it's about time some combined student body action were taken in this school."

Ed Oestrich: "Yes, I think it would be a good step to get a better spirit of cooperation."

Bill Murrelle: "Yes! Either combine them for strength and unity or get rid of them. They are no good as they stand now."

Gladys Ann Moore: "Yes! Let's get some good cooperation going on this campus."

Barbara Mumper: "Yes, they should be combined. There are too many separate factions in this school now—let's get some cooperation and really get things done."

Joanne Quick: "No, because they have different problems to deal with."

Barbara Frank: "Yes, things could be done faster."

QUALITY OF MERCY IS NOT STRAINED

By Nancy Richards

The quality of mercy is not strained. "How true those words are," thought Ella, sitting high in her chair, so that her slumped shoulders were extinct from view.

The play had this woman of seventy so deeply engrossed that the people around her were just blurs.

Portia held her spellbound with her mercy speech, a speech that meant so much to this tired old woman.

It dropt as a gentle rain from heaven. "I remember those days when with my only boy lost in the war and the money not even meeting the huge mortgage on the house. I wondered if there was any mercy in the world. I was much too proud for charity, and as the days passed, the small supply of money became even smaller."

The mortgage went unpaid, and foreclosure was in the offing. The man, a burly sort of character, came to take the furniture, another to put a sign on the house, whose bold letters read, "For Sale."

They were taking my only possessions from me, God had taken my son, and man was taking my home. To give up the house seemed to tear a piece of my heart. Here were memories of my little boy, the first walk where he had skinned his knees, the attic to play in when it rained, and most of all his room, the bed where Johnny slept. They were all lost, nothing left.

The day I was supposed to leave came. With heavy heart, I entered each room, reliving a thousand memories. As I walked toward the door, a distinct knock interrupted my thoughts.

"Mrs. George Kirkwood?" the stranger asked. "Yes, I am Mrs. Kirkwood." "I have a telegram for you," I quickly fumbled with the envelope and opened the yellow message. "The war department regrets an error, your son found in captured prison camp."

I can lean over and touch my sons' hand now, those hard days are over and my boy is back with me. How right you are, Portia. "The quality of mercy is not strained..."

The Critic Speaks

By Marvel Cowling

Wednesday, March 12, at 8:15 p. m. found many of us in Seibert Chapel being introduced to a tall, distinguished-looking gentleman by the name of Cecil Brown, by Dr. Russell Gilbert. Mr. Brown is a noted commentator, a world traveler, and author of the book "Suez to Singapore." He is also a born Pennsylvanian hailing from New Brighton, Pennsylvania. His topic concerned our national foreign policy.

Being a woman; and thus not well versed in politics and world affairs, I listened intently as Mr. Brown discussed his recent trip to the Middle East and Asia and the place of the United States in world politics. Re-counting five months of inspiring knowledge and hardships, he outlined the position of the United States in the world today. He gave us, those of the coming generation and those of the present, much to ponder about in our minds. Will there be peace? Are we stopping Russia? And what next Korea? Each was discussed with much background and first-hand knowledge. At the beginning of his lecture, Mr. Brown pointed out that in order to win the peace we must have or help to build for ourselves and together with other countries of the world: 1. military strength, 2. political strength, 3. economic strength, and 4. the championship of individual rights. Throughout his talk, Mr. Brown stressed one fact with examples to help us understand: "We must not pretend about what exists, we must face facts."

After Mr. Brown's lecture, the meeting was thrown open to the audience for questions concerning his lecture or other foreign political questions. Mr. Brown was asked about aid to the Arabs, India, East and West Germany, the possibility of an invasion of the mainland of China, and Great Britain's recognition of communist China. Each of these was answered quite frankly and in his own opinion with additional background of each situation to enable some of us to get a better understanding of the situation.

THIRD ANNUAL SHAKESPEAREAN FESTIVAL COMPLETED; TWO THOUSAND PERSONS SAW "MERCHANT OF VENICE"

Play Promotes Publicity Much Acclaim Reported

Saturday evening saw the final performance of "The Merchant of Venice" on this campus. Twelve performances have been given to try to accommodate all the students of the college, high school students, and friends who wished to view and enjoy this production.

Each night for the past two weeks the Little Theatre has been filled to capacity and to overflowing. Although Mr. Axel Kleinsorg and the cast would like to continue this presentation, it is not possible for the play to run indefinitely because of the responsibilities the students have to their academic studies.

It is possible to give only a certain amount of time and effort to such a presentation even though it is acknowledged that there is no other organization nor college function which draws more potential students to our fair campus. The right values must be put on the right endeavors and to ask those participating to give any more time would be to ask them to do an injustice to themselves.

A matinee was given in an effort to meet all the requests for tickets. A performance at Millersburg High School on Monday evening terminated the presentation of this comedy. This final performance was agreed to since so many persons in that area indicated their desire to see the play. Five hundred persons enjoyed this final performance.

To people directly connected with an organization or an event, growth is not very apparent. Many, no doubt, have no idea that this Shakespearean Festival of ours has gained much momentum in these three short years we have been celebrating it.

May Court Election Tomorrow In Lounge

The season of the year has come for the choosing of the Queen of the May. Tomorrow, March 19, May Court elections will be held from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. in the lounge. Every student is asked to cooperate in this election. Ballots with the names of the senior girls will be provided, and all that is necessary is for you to check the eight names of the girls you want in the May Court this year.

From the eight winners, the queen will be chosen by the students in a second election held in the chapel some day next week.

Don't forget to come out and vote for your choice of May Queen and her attendants.

Swami Tells All; Future SU Ideal!

"Would you like to see any improvements on the campus?"—That question stops me dead. With the ability to project myself ten years in the future, I can calmly look upon this question as the manifestation of ignorance. Don't you see all the improvements we have had since 1952? Well, maybe I should explain.

Let's start from the large monument which has been constructed in the middle of the parking lot and bears the inscription: "To the students whose suggestions helped to make this campus what it is." The letters are in neon, of course, and a little lamp just above them always keeps blinking and telling the exact weather for six days in advance.

The students sit on benches around the monument and wait for an inspiration to go to classes. They have unlimited cuts, go home on Saturdays, and are paid sixty cents an hour for attending chapel. Only the freshmen are foolish enough to study. Nobody worries about examinations because the only tests at the school are given to the professors.

The new conservatory has been built underground and is covered with soundproof concrete. The library has been moved to a silent corner past the 18th golf hole. Table service and softy-upholstered low-seats are for the convenience of library patrons.

The improvements in the lounge are even more remarkable. The students take full advantage of the heel-proof seat covers, ash-absorbent floor, and the dishwashing machine in the day students room. What is more, a tobacco shop has been constructed between the phone booth and the mail boxes.

Outside, all laws have been abolished, and the students may walk in whatever direction they please. The railroad tracks have been moved away from the tennis courts, and a three-lane highway has been paved in front of Seibert. A riding stable attracts crowds in the rear of Hassinger, baseballs are test forever once they fly over the six foot fence of the field, and a swimming pool beautifully adds to the scenery between Seibert and Steele Science (poor goldfish).

The girls are very proud of the elevators in their dormitories. They also make good use of the radio-telephones at their bedside and the washing machines, and television sets in the three sorority rooms. A time

EXTEND WELCOME TO LOTHAR SEEGAR

One of the most important advantages of attending a small college is that each student has the opportunity to become acquainted with everyone in the college. A stranger or a strange face is easily picked out by a student of a small college. Last week a new face appeared on the Susquehanna campus. The new student is Lothar Seegar, a student who will become a friend to many of us and will prove himself outstanding along the scholastic line.

Lothar was born in Germany. He lived in Frankfurt Am Main until 1950 when he came to the United States. He is now 20 years old. Lothar has received an outstanding education for his early age. He has attained a mastery over Greek, Latin, Hebrew, English, and the German language. After the war he and approximately 120,000 other students were tested for scholarships to the United States. Lothar was one of the 500 who won full-time scholarships in the United States. Before coming to America, he was selected and employed in 1949 by the American High Commission. He taught German to foreign personnel.

Susquehanna Students Speak Favorably About Performance of the "Merchant"

The favorite topic for discussion the past weeks has been the production of "The Merchant of Venice." Here are various opinions expressed by the students of S. U.

Bill Kloss: "It was the same as usual—swell!"

Bob Thomas: "Very good—costumes were colorful, but didn't like the story." Mary Ann Bingham: "Wonderful! The acting was very good."

Pam McKee: "It was terrific, and the actors did a superb job."

Dave Volk: "There's no doubt about it, that Mr. Kleinsorg and the cast did an excellent job, and S. U. can be proud to have such talent on its campus."

Andrey Warnets: "The play was the most wonderful one that I have ever seen. Mr. Kleinsorg and the cast are to be congratulated for the fine work they have accomplished."

Marilyn Fetterolf: "The acting, costumes, and directing were superb. It is one of the best plays ever produced at S. U."

Peggy Henderson: "Congratulations to Mr. Kleinsorg for his excellent directing and to the cast for their magnificent performance."

Carl Baker: "Very good. Especially the roles played by the men."

Miriam Wick: "Excellent! It is a wonderful piece of work."

Mary Cowling: "Cecil B. DeMille couldn't have done better. I was partial, that's why I sat in the second row. I'd sit there again if they'd give me a seat; hint."

Deen Lauver: "Excellent."

Jean Barick: "Terrific!"

Bud Unangst: "Excellent."

Lorraine Lee: "Very much. On the whole I thought the acting was superior."

Ruth Roslander: "It was very good."

Les Heilman: "Terrific! Another hit by Mr. K. and company."

Ed Falkovich: "I liked it!"

"Big" Jim Showalter: "Shakespeare should have written more like it. It was great."

Clair Mitch: "It was one of the best I've seen at S. U."

Joe Fleming: "I thought the play was very good and the characters held up very well under the strain of so many nights of appearing before such audiences."

Jim Withner: "For the type play that it was—it was great."

Robert Mesler: "The play was something every Susquehanna student can be proud of."

Paul Albert: "It was great!"

Jack Schreffer: "The cast and Mr. K. deserve the highest commendations for a superb production."

Ed Walker: "I enjoyed the play very much."

Harold Vogler: "I thought it was terrific. The players were well picked and they proved it."

Jerome Purta: "I received the classic impression very well. My single criticism is that the lines were spoken too rapidly by most of the actors."

Jack Schneider: "I thought it was excellent."

Illegal Rushing Charge Rejected By Panhellenic Judiciary Committee

On Tuesday afternoon, March 4, the Judiciary Committee of Panhellenic met in full to consider charges of illegal rushing referred to it by the entire Panhellenic membership. The question at hand concerned the charges brought by the local chapter of Kappa Delta against the local chapter of Alpha Delta Pi in respect to a note delivered during the Kappa Delta party to the rooms of the rushes and read after the quiet period began.

After careful deliberation the committee rejected the charge, on the basis that the Constitution as it stands is not clear. It recommends that the Constitution be clarified in view of this happening in order to prevent future difficulties.

ISAACS TO SING VARIED MUSIC FOR CONCERT PROGRAM THURSDAY

Siema Omega Chapter of Siema Alpha Iota is presenting a concert by Wilbur Isaacs, a baritone, in Seibert Chapel on Thursday, March 20, at 8:15 p. m.

Wilbur Isaacs has been called by Madame Povla Frish, "one of the most interesting singers of his generation." He received his musical education in Baltimore, in New York at Columbia University and at the New School, and in Europe. While studying abroad, he received first prize in singing at the Conservatoire de Fontainebleau. In this country, he was the recipient of a Debut Award from the National Federation of Music Clubs.

While in Europe, Mr. Isaacs gave recitals in Paris and in Brussels. The Paris newspaper "Figaro" stated, "A young American singer passed a distinctive recital yesterday in Fontainebleau... He encompassed various styles with the utmost ease. The charm of his voice won over the audience completely. His French was impeccable..."

In the United States, Mr. Isaacs is rapidly becoming known as a first-rate interpreter of art songs, and possesses an extensive repertoire in several foreign languages. He has sung throughout the country and last season gave a very successful recital in New York. He has appeared as soloist with a number of outstanding choral societies and symphony orchestras and in the major theaters. He has sung at the White House for President and Mrs. Harry S. Truman and he does much radio and television work.

At Susquehanna University, Mr. Isaacs will present a program of well-known songs in foreign languages as well as many songs in English. Included in the program will be works by Handel, Schumann, Brahms, Virgil Thomson, Samuel Barber and others.

Everyone attending the concert is invited to a reception for Mr. Isaacs in the social room of Seibert Hall following the concert.

Wonder Team vs. Studes Friday Night; Come All

Come one, come all to the greatest exhibition of brawn and brain on earth! Friday night at 7:30, in the gym, the faculty and the students will be standing on opposite sides of the nets (volleyball nets, that is) endeavoring to prove which is more important in sports, brawn or brain.

A tentative list of faculty stars are as follows: Miss Sambrook, Miss Harsign, Dr. Gilbert, Mr. McCuish, and Mr. Amy.

The students are keeping their team a top secret and no word has been heard who will be playing. It is known, though, that Phi Mu Delta, Bond and Key, Theta Chi, G. A. A. and Seibergrove Hall will have men in there fighting for the students.

This game is being sponsored by the Women's Student Council. Proceeds from it will be used in improving the women's dorms. Last year the council purchased the phonograph and loud speaker system which is used both in the dining room and on the athletic field.

Letter to the Editor

The major purpose of any Little Theatre is just that—a little theatre where plays can be presented with maximum effectiveness and enjoyment. The need for such a building is recognized by all up-to-date and progressive universities regardless of size.

A common error is the belief that it is a miniature substitute for an auditorium. This is far from the point. Most leading universities and colleges have a large assembly hall for convocations and commencements. In addition, they have acquired or are planning to build a little theatre. Until their plans mature, they often produce plays in what has become called a "pent-house theatre" or "theatre in the round." Either of these methods are attempts to play to a small audience and to bring that audience closer to the performance itself. Even the professional theatre is recognizing the value of this type of presentation.

Last week's editorial was misleading to a rather large degree. Elementary arithmetic will reveal that the entire student body and faculty of Susquehanna University can assure a run of only three days at best. Little Theatre—too little? By the time the last curtain fell on "The Merchant of Venice," approximately 2,300 persons had seen the play. We are conservative when we say that each of these persons will mention S. U. to at least five people giving a total of 11,500 persons who will have heard of or mentioned S. U. sometime during the time of the Shakespearean Festival. Recent reports appearing in the Williamsport Sun, the Sunbury Daily Item, and the Selinsgrove Times-Tribune have recognized the merits of the Little Theatre.

Though the dramatic unit on campus is trying in some small way to add to the cultural and social life of the college community, much is also being done to bring students to the campus. The facts are that at present, no other single activity introduced the college or campus to more prospective students than does the activity of the Little Theatre—and at no cost to the University!

The Little Theatre has also served to house the freshmen during orientation, the Women's Auxiliary, the Kappa Delta Fashion Show, and the numerous classes which have their courses enriched with the showing of educational films.

We have just begun to realize the great potentialities of our Little Theatre.

Dr. Marvin W. Schlegel, '28, is the author of a book recently published by the Norfolk History Commission. The book, entitled "Conscripted City," is a history of the Virginia seaport during the hectic days of World War II, when Norfolk was overwhelmed by thousands of civilians and sailors, including a number of Susquehannans. The book is a lively account of the problems which the city had to face and of the way in which the city tried to meet them.

Dr. Schlegel is one of the youngest persons to be graduated from Susquehanna, being only 18 years of age. This is his second book on this subject, the first is "Virginia on Guard." He has also written "Ruler of the Reading."

Colonel John W. Oberdorf, '34, has been named Chief-of-Staff of the 18th Air Force at Greenville, South Carolina. This promotion has made him second in command. Colonel Oberdorf is a brother-in-law of Dr. Arthur H. Wilson. While on campus, Colonel Oberdorf was a member of Bond and Key, serving as vice-president his junior year. He has also just become the proud father of a baby boy on February 15.

The Campus Club will hold the scheduled monthly meeting in the form of a St. Patrick's Day Tea on March 19. Hostesses are Mrs. John Leach, chairman; Mrs. A. W. Ahl, Mrs. Alice Giquie and Miss Ruth McCorkill.

On last Tuesday, Mr. Dan MacCush and Miss Erna Sambrook attended a College Conference Program at Sayre High School. They interviewed several student prospects interested in Susquehanna.

On Wednesday, Mr. Houseburg, Maxine Chambers, Mimi Vogler and Mr. MacCush went to Lemoyne High School to administer College Aptitude Tests to the senior class.

Mr. Dan MacCush also attended a College Conference Program at Altoona High School this past Thursday.

MUSIC NOTES

Dr. P. M. Lincolbaugh, director of the music department, attended a meeting of the American Guild of Organists at the Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on Saturday, March 8. The schedule for the event included a lecture-demonstration given by Joseph Bowman, M.Mus., on the new Moller organ, a short recital by Newell Robinson, a tour of the school of music, and a concluding lecture by Seth Bingham, vice-president of the A. G. O., on "Contemporary Church Music."

Fourteen students attended the Pennsylvania Collegiate Choral Festival at Indiana State Teachers' College, Indiana, Pennsylvania, on March 15-17. They were: Joan Bates, William Bastian, Richard Boyd, Charles Carr, Jim Crawford, Barbara Easton, George Ferrey, Ruth Fred, Jacquelyn McKeever, John Möt, Jack Shraeder, Janet Wingert, Betty Weisenfluh, and Nancy Youhoun.

The schedule for the Festival included rehearsals, a tea, a program by the I.S.T.C. groups, a choral clinic on "Some Prime Essentials for a Choral Conductor" presented by Dr. Ifor Jones, a banquet, and the final concert. The concert program was as follows:

I
Cantata No. 104—"Thou Guide of Israel" J. S. Bach
II
"Ecce, quomodo moritur" J. Gallus
"Psalm 96" Sweelinck
"Sicut cervus" Palestrina

WHAT IS LENT WORTH TO YOU?

What is Lent worth to me? This is a question everyone can ask himself. For you, Lent can be a period of spiritual enrichment or a period of "giving up candy or soda" for physical needs.

During Lent, most of us deny ourselves of some food or habit which we especially like. We glory in telling others about our will power to resist our forbidden items. But what good is this denial if we do it without thinking? Yes, we receive a physical satisfaction from this act, but our spiritual needs remain starved. If we follow this denial unthinkingly, we conclude the Lenten season without any added new touch to our lives.

Thinking more seriously about this season, we can find in it great strength for spiritual being. Do not, unthinkingly give up during Lent, but take upon yourself another task. Read your Bible once a day or at least once a week. In place of that movie, attend church once a week. Say a kind word to a person whom you dislike. Forget your prejudices. Do not spread gossip or idle talk. Think before you act. One kind deed a day can mean more than denying yourself of candy for forty days. Gradually, you find yourself receiving a wonderful feeling—a feeling of closeness to God and to your fellowmen.

You will receive from the Lenten season whatever you desire. You can become a better person spiritually or mentally or you can find a selfish glory for yourself. You are the one to decide.

After a very successful two weeks run, the cast and director of the play, "The Merchant of Venice" deserves all the praise possible.

The play was well received by thousands of students and friends and from the brothers we congratulate everyone who made it a hit.

Dr. and Mrs. William Russ, Mr. Robert Meander, and Mr. Richard Grove were chaperones at the open house on Saturday evening after the play.

Our president, Buss Carr, was in Indiana, Pennsylvania, attending the state chorus over this past week-end. On Saturday afternoon the pledges helped in a general house cleaning as well as painting the meeting room.

The pledges will be activated on Tuesday night.

Congratulations to Don Muchmore who has pinned Ann Austin.

Phi Mu Delta

Brothers Jack Schrader, George Perrey, Jim Crawford and Dick Boyd are members of the Intercollegiate All-State Chorus holding their meeting at Indiana State Teachers College this week-end. This group is composed of 200 students from all colleges in the state.

Phi Mu Delta's intramural basketball team has advanced to the finals of the basketball tournament by winning the second half. The team is composed of Mazura, Boyer, and Jones, forwards; Chadwick and Nyer at center and Deitch, Walters, Palkovich and Snyder, guards. Best of luck!

Congratulations to Mr. Kleinsorg and the cast for a very successful run of "The Merchant of Venice!"

The Phi Mu Delta Trio composed of brothers Boyd, Perrey and Schrader accompanied by Len Carlson at the organ was part of a musical program presented by the students of Susquehanna University at the Selinsgrove State Epileptic Colony, March 11.

An open house for members and friends was held after Saturday night's performance of "The Merchant of Venice." Chaperones were Assistant Professor and Mrs. Benjamin Lotz, Dr. and Mrs. Waldemar Zagars and Assistant Professor and Mrs. Russell Hatz. About 63 people enjoyed dancing and refreshments.

Saturday Walt Mazura, Gordon Jayce, Mike Walker, Al Vollmers, and Bob Messler drove to Penn State College for a combined meeting of the Expansion Committee of Phi Alpha, the National Officers of Phi Mu Delta, men interested in pledging Phi Mu Delta at Penn State and alumni members of Phi Epsilon chapter of Phi Mu Delta. National President Robert Zahn and National Expansion Director Henry Metzger spoke to a group of 30 interested men.

March 20 is the date of the annual pledge party!

Theta Chi

We were happy to have several alumni visit us over the week-end. These included our past president, Paul Jones, who is serving with the U. S. Navy, Bob Miller, Paul Haffley and Gerald Morehead.

Brother Dan Williamson and pledges Baumgardner and Dersham spent most of the week-end revarnishing the shower room. The renovations include new walls, and an overall paint job.

At the weekly chapter meeting, nominations were opened for fraternity officers. The nominations will remain open during the week and the elections will be held on Wednesday night.

Elmer Baumgardner, social chairman, announced at the last meeting, that the dress for the "Dutch Party" will consist of skirts, sweaters and dutch aprons for the girls and dungarees and sport shirts for their escorts. The "Dutch Party" will take place on Saturday night, the 20th of this month. Plans are underway to make this the best party of this type yet.

COMING SOON: Open house after the talent show, March 22nd.

Sorority News

Alpha Delta Pi

The pledges of Gamma Omicron held a tea for the pledges of Kappa Delta and Sigma Alpha Iota on Friday afternoon from 4 p. m. to 5 p. m. Thanks to the alumnae and patronesses who contributed cakes and cookies to make the tea a success.

Violets to Sister Charlotte Neuman for another week of brilliant performances as "Portia" in "The Merchant of Venice." Gamma Omicron presented her with a bouquet of red roses after Saturday evening's performance as a symbol of their pride and appreciation.

Best wishes to Sister Helen Achenbach who has announced her engagement to George Ketel. A June wedding is planned.

Orchids to Sister Eleanor Waters who is also planning a June wedding. She will marry Walter Fox.

We wish Sister Marilyn Beers a speedy recovery from her recent automobile accident.

Kappa Delta

Kappa Delta Sorority has elected the new officers for the coming year. They are as follows: president, Jane Cline; vice-president, Pat Fess; secretary, Dot Appar; treasurer, Maddy Lease; assistant treasurer, Lou Kepner; editor, Jane Wehr; panhellenic delegate, Peggy Henderson; and rush chairman, Janet Laue. We wish these girls the best of luck in their new positions.

We wish to thank our pledges for the work they have been doing in serving refreshments between acts of the play on Friday and Saturday nights.

Congratulations to Mr. Kleinsorg and the cast and crew of "The Merchant of Venice" for their wonderful presentation that was enjoyed by so many.

Classics On Display In Library; Paid By Fines

"What? Thirty-five cents just because the book's three hours overdue? It's robbery! Wadda you do with all the cash you take in? You've hooked me for over two dollars this year."

The library does take in quite a bit of money from fines. This is used for a specific purpose. Miss Kolpin has been using it to buy limited editions of the Heritage Press Company. These are all well-known books printed on superior paper and illustrated by outstanding artists. They form the nucleus of a fine collection of valuable books which will be expanded as conditions permit.

At the present time the library has only thirteen editions. They are on display this week in the glass case. They are to be kept in the locked cases and are not to go out of the library.

The list of the books includes: "Anna Karenina," "House of Seven Gables," "Tale of Two Cities," "Henry V.," "Don Quixote," "Crime and Punishment," "Ivanhoe," "Elegy in a Country Churchyard," "Old Curiosity Shop," "Moll Flanders," "David Copperfield," "Robinson Crusoe," and the "Complete Works of Shakespeare."

A new shipment of books has been received by the library, and more are on the way. They range from new fiction to technical books requested by the professors. No matter what you want, the library either has it or can obtain it for you.

Later he worked with the American Post Chaplain in welfare work during the time of the air-lift.

The problem of learning to speak English was not difficult for Lothar. During the war, Frankfurt, his home city, was bombed heavily. Lothar knows well the hardship of war and the misery it brings. During this time the allied broadcasting stations sent English lessons over the air, and for ten minutes each day, Lothar listened and improved from day to day the fundamental English he had learned in the German Gymnasium. In 1950 when he arrived in the United States, he spoke perfect English. Upon arriving in the United States, Lothar traveled throughout the Eastern part of our country. His first year in the United States was spent at the Pennsylvania State College where he studied English and American History. He mastered the difficulty of writing, and saying everything in English, and soon he became an outstanding student.

In the summer of 1951 he returned to Germany. He again worked for the American High Commission. Later in the summer he traveled extensively throughout Europe and then returned to Germany. At the end of the summer, Lothar applied for admittance to Susquehanna University.

Lothar is taking the pre-theological course of study. He plans to go to Gettysburg Seminary after graduating from Susquehanna. His main ambition is to become a missionary to Argentina under the United Lutheran Church. With such zeal and enthusiasm, we are sure that Lothar will succeed in his ambition.

Although he is still a citizen of Germany, Lothar states that the United States is tops. He says that the United States is the only country which offers an opportunity to live according to what one wants to do. It is the only country today that offers personal freedom and personal liberty. We are proud to hear Lothar say this, but sometimes without someone such as Lothar to remind us of our great freedoms we tend to forget what our great country stands for.

We are happy to welcome to our campus Lothar Seeger.

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK

This week "The Susquehanna" pays tribute to a well-known figure on the campus, Jake Spangler. Jake, who was born and raised in Roelle, N. J., attended grammar and high school there. During his high school days, Spangler was active in dramatics and played football and baseball. He was a member of the student council in his sophomore and junior years and president of that organization in his senior year. Jake also served as vice-president of the Technician's Club and news-editor of his high school newspaper.

After high school Jake followed his father's footsteps to S. U. and since his arrival here he has participated in many and varied activities. He is a member of the Biemic Society, S.C.A., and Phi Kappa. He is active in intramural sports and served as football manager for four years. He is a member of BORD and Key fraternity and is, this year, editor of the fraternity newspaper. Jake served as sports editor of "The Susquehanna" in his sophomore year and associated editor in his junior year. Jake Spangler's most noteworthy achievements at Susquehanna were, perhaps, on the stage. He appeared in "Macbeth" as Baptista in "The Taming of the Shrew," in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," and more recently has very ably portrayed Shylock in "The Merchant of Venice." Jake, a literature major, is interested in personnel management. After graduation from S. U. he intends to go on to law school for contract work.

clock expedites the traffic of girls, the firemen having to sign in at six and the upperclassmen at eight in the morning, of course.

Oh, let's not forget the campus newspaper. It's a daily now; eight pages a day and a comic section on Sunday. Everybody writes for it, everybody reads it, and everybody likes it. Why, if it had not been for the newspaper, our campus would be just as unimproved as it was in 1952.

SPORTS CHATTER

By Richard Stout

The sore arm nemesis which plagues most teams in early season drills should be reduced to a minimum when the Crusaders take to the diamond, as Coach Bob Bastress has been placing his hurlers through daily loosening-up workouts in the confines of Alumni Gymnasium.

The discontinuance of varsity tennis has left baseball as the sole surviving activity on S. U.'s spring athletic calendar. While there is little or no enthusiasm for the revival of the net sport, the addition of track and field to S. U.'s spring athletics would indeed be a definite asset towards the activation of many idlers who are lacking in baseball ability.

A coach couldn't ask for more pleasing prospects than those exhibited at last year's Intramural Meet. Ironically, as it seems, S. U. has sufficient talent to match most any school where track and field holds a permanent place on the spring activity list. In addition, fleetfeet are always welcome on the gridiron. It's hard to name another sport which excels at keeping grid-ers in shape.

The pocketbook always presents a stumbling block. But track and field is one sport which excels in its conservatism. Give it a chance. The returns will warrant it.

Stanley (Whitey) von Nieda, former NBA star who is being dividing his time as head coach at Elizabethtown College and playing for Lancaster's Rockets, has tendered his resignation as head basketball mentor. Von Nieda, a colorful figure who has brought many fine teams to engage the orange and maroon, asked to be released to accept one of several other coaching offers.

If experience means anything, the Crusaders baseball squad will be studied with a host of newcomers, all of which have played a least three years of high school or Junior Legion ball.

The new bowling alleys recently opened on the Selingsgrove-Sunbury highway have been buzzing with S. U. keggers.

Dick Boyd: "The cast deserves a great deal of credit for their excellent work. I enjoyed it a great deal."

Clara Mae Williams: "I think it was well done."

Francois Drummi: "I thought it was the best Shakespearean play I've seen here."

Karl Stahl: "Marvelous, without a doubt."

Rennie Goodman: "The first part dragged, but on the whole it was very good."

Bob Fred: "I really enjoyed the play and thought Mr. Kleinsorg and the cast did a superior job."

Joanne Alexander: "A very excellent presentation."

Barbara Jane Easton: "One of Mr. Kleinsorg's best productions."

"Tri-key" Davies: "Very good. Mr. Kleinsorg is to be congratulated—also the members of the cast."

Bob Deibler: "Good production. The acts are to be commended."

Ed Neuman: "I thought the characters were well chosen."

Jack Goss: "Tops."

So important to our college and its activities has this festival become that it necessitated the setting up of a permanent Shakespearean Committee in order to study its growth, when it can be best celebrated, and all other problems which are directly related to its presentation.

In the past three years two comedies and one tragedy have been given to the students. During the first celebration "Macbeth," a stirring drama of man and his fate, was presented. Last year "The Taming of the Shrew" with its hilarious controversial question as to whether or not Kate was actually tamed. This year we all saw the fine presentation of "The Merchant of Venice."

During the first year of the festival the show was presented five nights with approximately one thousand people attending. Its prime function at that time was to give the students at Susquehanna a better understanding of Shakespeare and his works. Since that time it has become a highlight of entertainment, part of an academic and cultural program, and used in a publicity angle to interest students from the high schools in Susquehanna University.

The following high schools attended the festival:

Burnham High School, 70; Kulpmont High School, 60; Ralpho Township High School, 60; Hughesville High School, 62; Catawissa High School, 76; Herndon High School, 4; Lewisburg High School, 125; Ashland High School, 44; Danville High School, 36; Montgomery-Clinton High School, 7; McClure High School, 55; Carson Long Institute, 27; Muncy High School, 55; Fayette Township High School, 47; Shamokin High School, 138; Middleburg High School, 62; Watsonstown High School, 15; Milton High School, 25; Williamsport High School, 125; Mount Carmel Joint High School, 40; Selingsgrove Junior High School, 150; Northumberland High School, 65; Sunbury High School, 40; Greenwood Joint High School, 30. Twenty-two hundred and fifty-seven people saw the play in the "Little Theatre" from March 4 to March 15.

VESPERS

Sunday colleges vespers were conducted in the chapel by the Kappa Delta sorority. Joanne Quick took part as liturgist and Nancy Richards gave the evening meditation. Richard Walk was organist.

The evening message was centered around the theme "Prayer and Its Value." The speaker evaluated this communication with God by developing the ideas that prayer is an opening of the heart and an access to God which helps us spiritually and gives us power for our daily living because we know that God listens to our petitions. It conveys us into the very presence of the Almighty.

Vesper services will be conducted next Sunday, March 23, by the Theta Chi fraternity men.

Twenty students will attend portions of the MENC Biennial Convention in Philadelphia beginning on March 21 and ending March 26. The program to be presented is designed to provide for exploration and demonstration of the philosophy and function of music in education and will include views of world-wide concern today, views which have to do with the problems of general education as well as the specific aspects of music education, views concerned with the techniques of music education, and the qualitative and quantitative aspects of music education.

The Concert Band will present its annual concert to the student body and the general public on Friday, March 28, at 8:15 p. m. in Seibert Chapel. A varied program is planned. The selections will include several Sousa marches, the Introduction to Act III of "Lohengrin," and the "Russian Dance" from the "Nutcracker Suite," as well as Cole Porter's well-known "Begin the Beguine." Carl Musser will be featured as the trombone soloist.

Phi Mu Second Half Champions; Vie With Selingsgrove For Cup

In the only game played in the men's intramural loop, Phi Mu Delta triumphed over a fighting GA team in a game which decided the second half title. Each team had previously ended the second half season with a record of five wins and one loss.

In the hard-fought tilt which Phi Mu won by a score of 47 to 41 there was a total of twenty-eight fouls called by Campbell and MacNamara, the referees.

Boyer and Dietsch led Phi Mu with thirteen and eleven points respectively. Torok with fifteen and Matha with ten points were high scorers for GA.

Next week the intramural crown will be awarded after a playoff series of three games between the first half champions, Selingsgrove Hall, and Phi Mu Delta, second half champions. If Selingsgrove Hall should win the title, they will have won the cup two years in a row. Best of luck to the best team.

Of those who attended the lecture, the majority were much impressed with Mr. Brown's topic and manner of presentation. There was much to learn from his talk and his opinions. In completing his lecture, Mr. Brown advised each one of us not just to believe his views, but to weigh this information and think about it before we reach any decisions.

Greek Industry Topic Of Phi Kappa Meeting

On Monday evening, March 10, Phi Kappa held its regular meeting. Dr. A. W. Ahl read the poem, "To Greece," by R. S. Rowland. The usual short discussion period followed. Concluding the meeting, Charles Bomboy, president, gave a short talk on "The Industry of Greece." Bomboy stated that there were four periods to the early industry of Greece; these were: the Homeric, Archaic, Attic, and Hellenistic. At first, Greek industry remained in the individual home; toward the Hellenistic period, however, it grew into complex, outside organizations, such as trade shops, and soon extended to foreign homes. In all four periods, the art of pottery remained one of the leading industries.

The meeting was adjourned ahead of the usual time, as all members wished to attend the religion-in-life conference for that evening.

S. U. BAND TO PRESENT ANNUAL SPRING CONCERT; CARL MUSSER FEATURED AS TROMBONE SOLOIST

On March 28, the Susquehanna University Band will give its annual spring concert in Seibert Hall at 8:15 p. m.

A varied program has been arranged including marches, solos, overtures, operatic excerpts, dances, and light concert numbers. We shall hear compositions by Brahms, Wagner, Tschai-kovsky, Rachmaninoff, Verdi, Greig, Weber, Pryor, Bond, Belsterling, Porter, and Sousa.

The feature of this year's concert will be the presentation of trombone solos by Carl Musser, a music senior. Carl's home is in Kreamer, Pennsylvania, and he was graduated from Middleburg High School. Since his freshman year he has been an active member of the University Band. The last three years he has represented the S. U. Band at the Pennsylvania Inter-Collegiate Band Festival and last year played first-chair trombone in the Festival held at Lehigh University.

S. U.'s Band is active as a marching unit during football season, and devotes its attentions to concert work the last half of the school year. It plays at several of the annual campus functions: May Day, Sub-Freshman Day, and Alumni Day.

The Band plans to present concerts in several area high schools in the near future. The forty-seven members of the band represent many area high schools: Selingsgrove, Sunbury, Northumberland, Danville, Bloomsburg, Catawissa, Middleburg, Mount Carmel, Elizabethville, Elysburg, Beavertown, Ikesburg, Hegins, Bellville, Pottsville, and Hazleton. Six of its members will represent the University at the Fifth Inter-Collegiate Band Festival to be held at Pennsylvania State College in April.

S. U. students will be admitted free upon presentation of an activities ticket. The charge will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

The program for the Band Concert is as follows:

National Anthem
"March of the Steel Men" Belsterling
"Awake" (Chorale from "Die Meistersinger") Wagner
"Academic Festival Overture" Brahms
Carl Musser—Trombone Soloist in
"Blue Bells of Scotland" Pryor
"End of a Perfect Day" Jacobs-Bond
"Trepak" (Nutcracker Suite) Tchaikovsky

CANINE QUEST FOR KNOWLEDGE

The acute need for elementary and secondary teachers has, recently, been brought to the attention of students and faculty at Susquehanna by the type of individual attending Educational Psychology classes here. Although Ed. Psyc. has been a dog-gone good class, in the past week, three new students have entered the class and been rudely ejected on the same day. These new students had the nerve to barge right in without a class admission card; they didn't pay the necessary fees and they didn't even bone-up on the subject. Mr. Houseberg, who sometimes encourages students to wag their tongues, just won't stand for any tail-wagging.

"The Ed. Psyc. book," says the instructor, "might contain a few dogmatic statements here and there, but these new individuals just won't fit into the class."

Students who sometimes neglect their studies very often find themselves in the dog-house. However, this bit of description has been deleted from the Ed. Psyc. vocabulary and the term "hot water" has been inserted in its place. It has also been decreed that students will no longer say they are being "bounced" when referring to long assignments.

Hard as they have tried, school officials cannot find any rules in the school regulations, discriminating against four-legged students. They are investigating, now, the health cause to see if a bad case of fleas warrants dismissal. Until a loop-hole is found, we can say, without reservation, that Susquehanna has gone to the dogs.

Students Beat Faculty At Volleyball Friday

An event which will go down in the annals of S. U. sports was held Friday night in the gym. The much awaited faculty-student volleyball game took place.

The line-up on the faculty's side of the net was as follows: Miss Emma Sambrook, Miss Nila Haresign, Dr. Russell Gilbert, Mr. Robert Amy, Mr. Dan MacCush, and Mr. Amos A. Stagg, Jr. The students were represented by Bill Church, Roy Cope, "Pappy" Fenstermacher, Stew Tomlinson, Harvey Jeffers, Ted Lamb, Steve Torok, and Jack Snyder.

Dr. Gilbert thrilled all the spectators with some sparkling plays and hidden talent along ballet lines. Many times he returned the ball from a prone position on the floor; other times he managed some very funny foot work, he managed to send the ball over to enemy territory.

At one time during the game, it looked almost as if Miss Haresign would be imbedded in the wall. Not realizing her speed, she came near the wall before she knew it and gave both spectators and players a moment of apprehension.

The roof of the gym and also the lighting system were in danger every time Torok served. With a mighty sock, the ball often went up into the stratosphere.

More color was added to the game by Roy Cope with some very smart "head work." He has developed the technique of returning the ball by having it bounce off his head, to a very high degree.

After a staggering defeat of 21-7, the faculty came through during the second game and were on the winning side. The last game, the students won. The members of the faculty team are to be commended on their sportsmanship and willingness to play. Although they lost, they put up a good fight.

The proceeds from the game will be used by the Women's Student Council.

MUSIC NOTES

Mr. Charles Carr will sing the tenor solos in "The Crucifixion" by John Stainer to be presented on Palm Sunday evening, April 6, at the Messiah Lutheran Church in Williamsport. The director of the chorus, Dexter Weikel, is a graduate of Susquehanna.

Mr. Carr also sang the tenor solo in the Bach cantata, "Thou Guide of Israel," which was one of the selections on the Collegiate Choral Festival Program in Indiana, Pennsylvania on March 17.

The Chapel Choir again presented portions of "The Holy City" by A. R. Gaul in the Christ Lutheran Church in Milton on Sunday evening, March 23. On March 26, the Chapel Choir will present this oratorio at the Trinity Lutheran Church in Mechanicsburg, Pennsylvania.

"The Holy City" will be given in Seibert Chapel on Sunday, March 30, at 7:30 p. m. The program will be as follows:

Faculty Gives Criticisms of Students; Lack of Preparation, A Major Complaint

This week the Susquehanna's roving reporter questioned the faculty members. They were asked to state student habits which they most disliked. Here's your chance, students, to find out what not to do in order to stay on the good side of the faculty.

Miss Allison: No comment.
Dr. Armstrong: "The students' constant insistence they be allowed more freedom of action and given more responsibility; yet their all too frequent careless and lackadaisical way of following through on the tasks given them, especially if some personal desire suddenly intrudes into their thoughts, such as a ride home or a date."

Mr. Soule: "Sleeping in class." (What about that, Jug?)
Miss Kline: "They don't speak loud enough to be heard, or else they mumble."

Mr. Stevens: "That they don't study!"

Dr. Zagars: "I do not know of any student habits I dislike. Disliking, in my opinion, means that you feel personally affected and consequently irritated by it; however, I study carefully, with some degree of curiosity, the source of etiquette of some of those students who pass me like a telephone pole with an air of determined indifference without saying, 'Hello,' and find it even burdensome to respond to the greetings extended to them."

As an economist, I certainly find a full economical justification for their business-like manner. Why should they waste their mental energy in greeting a professor who never has been, is not, and most probably never will be, their instructor?"

Mr. Amy: "Failure to do careful and thorough laboratory work."

Miss Haresign: "I just like students."

Mr. DeMott: "Waiting until the night before a major test to study."

Mr. Houseberg: "There just isn't anything I dislike about the students here at S. U."

Dr. Houtz: "The students seem to gulp their meals in the dining room, and they should take greater interest in civic and moral life."

Mr. Grove: "The politeness of the girls going into the dining room."

Dr. Linebaugh: "Since I get all the reports of the students, I prefer to reserve my opinion."

Mr. Billman: "I dislike the habit many students have of using, 'I'm too busy, I don't have enough time' as an excuse for their deficiencies."

Mr. Glaugue: "It disturbs me that the students have to take so long after chapel to report to class. They not only get their mail but read it between the time of chapel ending and class beginning."

Red Cross Drive Yields $120.55 From Students And Faculty Donations

A total of $120.55 was contributed by the faculty and the student body in the recent Red Cross drive. The contributions were as follows:

WILBUR ISAACS The Critic Speaks

By Gordon Joyce

On Thursday evening, March 20, at 8:15, Susquehanna University under the auspices of the Sigma Iota Iota Sorority presented Wilbur Isaacs, baritone, in a program of varied music in various languages to an audience of over two hundred.

Mr. Isaacs' program consisted of four parts. The last impressive songs were those sung in Italian which comprised the first part of the program. Part of this may have been due to their being his first group of songs. His gestures, however, were too deliberate and his facial expressions too affected and insincere.

There were three songs in the German section which were quite well done, "Dein Angesicht" by Schumann, and "In stiller Nacht" and "Verrat" by Brahms. His enunciation of the German was good but the facial contortions detracted from the effect. It seemed as though Mr. Isaacs were trying to give a rendition of the German songs after the fashion of a German but he did not succeed.

A genuine warmth and conveyance of feeling radiated from him to his audience as he sang such songs as "Quand je fus pris au pavillon" by Renaldo Hahn, "Ballade a la lune" by Edouard Lalo, and "Avant le cinema" by Frances Poulenc. He succeeded in a grand manner when he tried to portray the French songs in their native fashion. The audience demonstrated its enthusiasm by clapping lustily. This was the first time he had contact with the largest part of his listeners.

Two American folksongs, "Who's going to shoe your foot" and "The Old Woman," which were arranged by Niles, together with "Lonesome Man" by Paul Bowles highlighted the fourth part of the program. These clever numbers showed Mr. Isaacs' versatility and excellent enunciation.

For his encores he sang "Duna" and "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord?" The last selection was so stirring that the audience seemed torn between a desire not to applaud because of the nature of the selection and the desire to manifest its approval for the excellent interpretation.

Miss Vera Hall, accompanist, was very good. She was very unassuming and appeared quite natural as she added much to his singing.

DIVORCE TOPIC OF SCA DISCUSSION

"The basic element in the problem of divorce is the problem of character," stated the Reverend Mr. Raymond Fischer, Lutheran pastor at Millifburg, Pennsylvania, during his address to S. U. students and faculty at the March 18th general S.C.A. meeting.

Mr. Fischer dealt with the question of marital failure ending in divorce and pointed out very vividly that statistics have proven that those who attend church and create a Christian character are not the ones who become divorced. Because of their Christian background in forgiveness they are able to "work things out by themselves."

"Divorce is not a cause," the speaker said, "it's a symptom" meaning that something detrimental to the health of the marriage has arisen and should be removed as if by a "surgical operation" to insure a longer marital life.

Following a presentation of some of the Protestant and Catholic viewpoints on the subject, Pastor Fischer concluded by informing his audience "how to decrease divorce or help to make marriage go." These methods were: (1) through education; the teaching to young people the real meaning of marriage so that they don't act too hastily, (2) by trying to bring about a more uniform code of marriage laws, and (3) by teaching the universal meaning of the Christian marriage.

A brief discussion period preceded the address during which students and faculty discussed their various questions with the group and with Mr. Fischer.

The next general meeting for the S.C.A. will be held on Tuesday, April 15, at which time officers for the ensuing year will be elected.

Administration News

The Selingsgrove-Snyder County-Susquehanna Alumni Club will hold a dinner meeting at the Susquehanna Valley Country Club on Tuesday, April 1, 1952, at 6:00 p. m.

Mr. Ralph Whitmer, the club president, has made the arrangements for this meeting. This club was organized on December 14, 1938 with 90 in attendance and with Dr. John W. Woodruff as the first president.

Dr. Joseph F. Hackenberg, president of the General Alumni Association, will be present and talk on the other alumni groups' activities.

There are 190 on the club roster which include alumni living in Selingsgrove, Freeburg, Hummel's Wharf, Middleburg, Shamokin Dam, Penn's Creek and Port Trevorton.

The Selingsgrove Alumni chapter will be the hosts on the Susquehanna campus for Alumni Day, Saturday, May 3. Mr. David Gross is the chairman for this activity.

This past week saw Mr. Houseberg administering college aptitude tests to 143 members of the senior class of Danville High School. Chet Rowe and Bob Steffy assisted him.

Should the Student Councils Be United?

Several weeks ago the student body of Susquehanna University was asked to state their opinions in the Question of the Week. "Do you think that the men and women's student council should be combined?" An overwhelming majority of the student body stated that they would be in favor of uniting the two systems to work as one. Immediately questions arose. Why do the students disagree with the present system of student government? Should the system be changed to justify the majority?

The present system of student government is divided into two groups. The girls' student council and the boys' student council. The girls' council acts on everything concerning the females of the school and the men's council the males, but upon the issues that would pertain to the whole student body where unity is needed the councils still meet individually. The power of the two councils are limited on important questions. The men's council may be opposed to some issue that the women's council is supporting, or vice-versa. This forms a good check-and-balance system, but it also accomplishes nothing. How can two individual systems represent the whole student body unless they are united as one.

The men's council and the women's council could combine and be turned into a very efficient organization. Under such a system the student council or government would have more power and the backing of the entire student body. In such a system two separate committees could be set up in order to take care of all or matters pertaining only to men or women.

The survey on this question has shown that the majority of the students of Susquehanna would much rather have a combined student council, and with the proper support of the student body, the councils could be combined.

Latin Society Discusses Roman Marital Customs

The regular monthly meeting of the Ciceroniani was held Tuesday evening, March 18, in Seibert Social Rooms. A short business meeting was conducted by Consul Henry Albright. The cultural program and refreshments concluded the meeting.

The cultural program, presented by Ruth Osborn, was a discussion of Roman marriage customs and practices. Assistant Professor Robert F. W. Meador, advisor for the organization, led the ensuing discussion.

The next meeting of the Ciceroniani will be held Tuesday, April 22. Arlan Gilbert will present the cultural discussion and Irene Meerbach will be in charge of refreshments.

Know Your Professor

Miss Mary Kathryn Potteiger is known widely as a fully competent and congenial educator in her field of music. The personality she expresses both in class and other activities is ideal. Musicians at Susquehanna have enjoyed this spirit of cooperation to a great degree in Miss Potteiger.

Selinsgrove is Miss Potteiger's home town. After having graduated from Selinsgrove High School, Miss Potteiger came to Susquehanna where she has received degrees in both Soloist and Music Education courses, the former being that of piano. Her teaching career began with instructing in the local public schools together with part-time work in methods and dictation classes at Susquehanna. During these years, she had also taken graduate study at New York University. In 1927, Miss Potteiger was given a full instructor's position at Susquehanna. At present, Miss Potteiger directs sight singing classes in addition to giving private lesson in piano.

Among other activities, the responsibility as chairman of Susquehanna's Ladies' Auxiliary has been accepted by Miss Potteiger.

Miss Potteiger resides with her brother and sister at 8 West Chestnut Street, Selinsgrove.

LIBRARY NEWS

The library has added to its reference shelf new biographies of 327 persons prominent in the news of 1951. These are included in the single volume "Current Biography 1951." This is a one-alphabet accumulation of articles and obituaries that have appeared in the monthly issues during the year. Each sketch includes a photograph and references to additional material. Considerable research makes possible impartial and accurate information, while an informal style adds readability.

People of all occupations are included. There is an "Index by Professions" which includes 34 different fields of endeavor. Practically every country in the news today is represented with biographies from 29 nations.

The library has also added some new fiction to its shelves. These include Heart's Desire, Collected Tales of Walter de la Mare, Sanctuary, King's Mountain, Java Head, Germany's Agreement, Proud New Flags, The Don Flows Home to the Sea, The Chequerboard, Captive Witch, The Wanderer, The Iron Mistress, and Captain Barney. Most of these books are on the free shelves, but a few are rental books.

Selinsgrove Hall Captures Intramural Basketball Trophy; Wollaston's Scoring Brings Defeat to Phi Mu Delta Friday

In a three-game series first half champions, Selinsgrove Hall, defeated the second half champions, Phi Mu Delta, to win the men's intramural basketball trophy for the second consecutive year.

In the first of the three games, which were played on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday nights, the favored Selinsgrove Hall team defeated the Phi Mu quintet by a score of 32 to 25. Johnson and Wollaston with eleven and eight points respectively led Selinsgrove Hall to the victory. Dietrich and Jones with eight and seven points were high scorers for Phi Mu Delta.

In the second game Phi Mu Delta defeated the lads from Selinsgrove Hall by a final spurt in the last quarter in which they outscored their opponents fifteen points to ten. Chadwick of Phi Mu and Wollaston and Johnson of Selinsgrove Hall tied for high scoring honors with twelve points each. Dietrich aided the Phi Mu Delta cause with eleven counters. The score at the final whistle was 44 to 39 in favor of Phi Mu Delta.

In the third and final game Selinsgrove Hall defeated the Phi Mu five by a score of 47 to 33. Leading 32-29 going into the final period, the Dorn lads broke the game wide open with a 15-point fourth period while Phi Mu was held to 6. Wollaston led Selinsgrove Hall's attack as he tossed in 13 markers while Chadwick led the Phi Mu lads with an eleven-point performance.

First Period

Selinsgrove vaulted to a 12-9 lead. Wollaston, who was high for the night with a 13 point performance, hit on three successive set shots from 30 feet out. Templin, Ross and Johnson each converted a two-pointer. Accurate set-shooting kept Phi Mu in the game. Mazura countered on two push shots while Jones converted two set shots and Nyer added a foul.

Second Period

Phi Mu surged to a 3 point lead as the second quarter got under way. Dietrich, who played a marvelous floor game, hit from the outside on two sets. Chadwick added another in close and Phi Mu garnered the lead. Wollaston, whose accuracy was terrific all night, tossed up a set that went through. Moments later he converted a foul and the score was knotted at 15 apiece. Johnson added two free throws and Owens and Ross converted in close. Chadwick countered with a free throw but Burly made good with a push shot and moments later converted a foul. Burly added a free throw as the second period close. Selinsgrove Hall 23, Phi Mu 20.

Third Period

For the second successive quarter, both teams played on even terms. Phi Mu, headed by Jones, tried desperately to close the gap. But another long set by Wollaston coupled with two-pointers by Owens and Ross kept Selinsgrove Hall on an even keel and they led 32-29.

Fourth Period

Selinsgrove Hall used a full court press as they had in earlier portions of the game. Phi Mu, trying to get the ball, was vulnerable for the fast-break. Johnson hit on two lay-ups and added a beautiful one-handed jump shot. Owens converted two foul tries as play became rough and tumble. Chadwick hit on two lay-ups, but Wollaston countered with two fouls. Jones left the game via the foul route. Burly added another free toss as Phi Mu had to foul to get the ball. The game ended with players scrambling on the floor in an effort to pick up a loose ball. Final score—Selinsgrove Hall 47, Phi Mu Delta 32.

Praise must be given to Campbell, Matha, Rowe, Smith, MacNamara, and Blair Heaton for their fine efforts in refereeing these playoff games. Good refereeing held the disputes to a minimum.

Congratulations to the Selinsgrove Hall team and Coach Hazlett for their splendid showing. They must now look forward to next year because if they win the title next year the trophy will remain in their permanent possession.

WAA Elects Officers; Plans Discussed For Annual Spring Dance

The voting of officers and the annual dance were the two main topics discussed at the March 24 meeting of the WAA society.

All the members attending the meeting voted for the following people who were nominated by the WAA board as eligible for offices:

President — Joyce Wagner, Helen VonLynn, Dot Appar; vice president—Pat Hess, Janet Laue, Miriam Wick; corresponding secretary — Jane Cline, Irene Meerbach, Jean Rowe; recording secretary—Irene Olet, Lu Kepner, Joanne Mosholder; treasurer — Marvel Cowling, Shirley Thompson, Ruth Freed; representative to student council—Carol Cornelius, Nancy Richards, Peggy Henderson.

Plans were made for the WAA dance which is to be held in the Gym, April 19, 9 to 12 o'clock. This offers the opportunity to the girl who has been keeping her eye on a certain boy around campus. She now has the chance to go out with her dream-man by asking him to the dance.

Mike Lamade and his orchestra will furnish the music. The admission will be 60 cents.

The highlight of the evening will be the announcement of the May Queen and the new officers of the WAA society.

The committees and their chairman for the dance are as follows: decorations, Charlotte Neuman; refreshments, Peg Henderson; tickets, Marvel Cowling; chaperons, Pat Hess; properties and demolishing, Ruth Harmon.

Crusaders Schedule Thirteen Games For Spring '52 Campaign

Susquehanna's Crusaders can go about showing that 13 is not an unlucky number when they launch a 13 game baseball schedule against the National Agricultural Institute at Selinsgrove April 19. With 13 returning veterans coupled with a host of aspiring newcomers, S. U. should boast the most formidable crew in their recent diamond history.

Among the holdovers from last year's squad are pitchers Ned Condon, Ken Lenker, Jim Hazlett, Harold Johnson, and George "Knuckeball" Washburn; infielders Ed Wollaston, Rich Young, Sam Ross, Chet Rowe, and Ted Lamb; outfielders Don Berninger, Gene Fenstermacher, Ken Orris, Jim Dell, and Roy Ford.

Newcomers vying for positions with the Crusader nine are infielders Bill Church, Dick Jones, Frank Smith, Wayne Miller, Norm Livemore, John Wicks, and Bob Schwab; outfielders Charlie Coates and Harry Kocher; pitcher, Stew Tomlinson.

Norm Livemore, who has excelled in the pre-season drills, is expected to garner the catching job while Wayne Miller, another likely looking prospect from Trevorton, Pennsylvania, is making a spirited bid for the same job. Other newcomers who were impressive during the early season drills are first sacker Bill Church and shortstop Frank Smith. Candidates are waging such spirited battles that Coach Bob Bassett has no idea who will be in the line-up opening day.

The '52 schedule will proceed as follows: April 19, National Agricultural Institute, Selinsgrove; April 23, Lebanon Valley, Selinsgrove; April 29, Bucknell, Selinsgrove; April 30, Juniata at Huntingdon; May 2, Dickinson at Carlisle; May 3, Lycoming College, Selinsgrove; May 7, Elizabethtown, Selinsgrove; May 9, Bucknell at Lewisburg; May 10, Juniata, Selinsgrove; May 13, Lycoming College at Williamsport; May 15, Keystone College, Selinsgrove; May 17, Wilkes College, Selinsgrove; May 21, Elizabethtown at Elizabethtown.

The highlight of the '52 baseball campaign should be the home and home series with Bucknell's Bisons. The Lewisburg lads who are natural rivals for the Bassett-coached Crusaders captured both ends of the series played a year ago. But with Ned Condon who already holds a sweet victory over the Lane-coached Bisons, the Crusaders have a better than even chance to turn the tables in '52.

THE GRAND OLD MAN OF FOOTBALL, AMOS ALONZO STAGG, will be honored at a reunion May 17. Players he coached at the College of Pacific from 1933 through 1946 will attend.

A's and Yankee baseball fans better start getting their radios tuned up for the opener in the City of Brotherly Love slated for the not too distant April 15.

A team representing Selinsgrove and comprised of S. U. students walked away with first place in a basketball tournament held at Renova, Pennsylvania.

Ed Menapace, former S. U. athlete who left intercollegiate ranks to try a fling at pro baseball, is currently training with Midlands, Texas, in the Class C Longhorn League.

The Coaldale Legion quintet, including S. U. athletes Jim Hazlett, Ned Condon, Stan Manning, Charlie Zlock, Bob Beckley, and former all-state performer Eve Zlock, came out on the short end of a 67-39 score against a pro-studded Red Lion quintet which among others had the name of Art "Zeno" Lentz, a member of Pottsville's Packers in the Eastern Professional Basketball League, in their line-up.

The Intramural Softball Campaign is slated to move into full swing on April 21. The early start should eliminate the jam occurring at the end of the season because of play-offs and make-up games.

Mr. Robert Amy proved himself quite an adept volleyball player while representing the Faculty against the All-Stars Friday night. Same goes for Dr. Russell Gilbert (that is, ahem, when he's not on the floor).

Bond and Key
Tuesday evening the new pledge group was made into active members. Twelve men who were initiated were Gilbert Davis, Robert Ettari, Donald Haag, David Harris, Donald Helman, Carlton Howells, Ronald Krout, Dean Lauer, Arnold Martin, Richard McCarty, Fred Tyler, Marvin Yoder.

Rowie Durden and Bill Beckwith were in Philadelphia this week end for the National Music Education Conference. Brother Buss Carr had the tenor solos for the State Chorus at Indiana, Pennsylvania, last week.

Volleyball intramurals brought fourteen men out to play. As captain, Roy Cope is getting a team in shape from these fourteen men. These warm afternoons have seen the softball team in spring training.

Brothers Campbell, MacNamara and Ferstmacher attended a coach's conference with Coach Stagg on Saturday. This meeting was held at Gettysburg with Eastern and Central Pennsylvania coaches present.

Saturday evening Bond and Key will have its last open house before Easter. This will be a full open house from 8 to 12 with Keim Hill in charge.

Brother Stan Manning celebrated his birthday with a group of seven couples in an out-of-town party on Saturday evening.

Phi Mu Delta

Congratulations to Brother Arthur Olson on his being awarded the Business Society Scholarship Trophy. This cup is awarded to the person attaining the highest scholastic average in business administration during his freshman year.

Further congratulations to Selinsgrove Hall for winning the intramural basketball championship. What a team!

Ed Kopf was elected to the position of house manager at the last regular meeting.

Mr. John P. Collins, new music instructor, has accepted our invitation to become an honorary member. He will be officially welcomed in the near future. We are happy to have him as one of us.

Thursday evening a delegation from Mu Alpha will journey to Penn State to pledge men to the Phi Mu Delta Association.

Bill Scott, Al Vollmers, and Gordon Joyce are among those who have met the requirements for membership in Alpha Phi Omega. The pledging will take place this week.

On March 29 the pledges will give a party for the active members. At this time paddles will be presented to the seniors by the pledge president, Wayne Miller.

Theta Chi

Spring is here, the grass is greener; Heave-ho pledges, our house is cleaner!

With the Dutch Party hot around the corner, and Spring's sweet breath blowing through their midst, and with Jack (bless him) Schwartz's hot breath inspiring the pledges' natural-born laziness into ambition, the Theta Chi house has really had a going over. The shower was repaired and repainted to such an extent that it's almost unrecognizable; the furnace room was cleaned and painted, and all of its "valuable" junk was stored in newly finished cupboards; the wreck room was retouched with paint, and the refreshment bar was enlarged; the basement hall was repainted and the kitchen walls were washed; in short, the whole inside of the house was dusted, scrubbed, waxed, polished, or painted!

Jerome Purta dug up some interesting articles while he was cleaning the third deck. These included an unclaimed pair of figure skates, a Beta Kappa barner, a 1945 edition of assistant professor Lotz's Ethics test (it hasn't changed a bit), and a dead bat (not the Seibert or Hassinger variety).

While the inside of the house is now ship-shape, the pledges have just begun on the outside. So far they've cleaned out the garage which netted enough junk that it took Hank Holtermann the best part of his Saturday afternoon to burn the stuff. But that's just the beginning; our lucky little pledges may yet look forward to some window washing, painting, and lawn rolling.

This is the first time that the outworn custom of "hell night" will not be observed at Beta Omega. As a matter of fact, the spring house cleaning is our substitution for it—instead of "hell night" it's "work week." Heave-ho pledges!

NEXT SATURDAY: DUTCH PARTY!

VESPERS

The Sunday vesper attendees this week saw an impressive depiction of a young army doctor who returned from the war to his home and to a business that his father had established for him only to refuse all of this because he felt that it was his duty to return to the sick and the suffering in the South Pacific so that he might help to alleviate their pain and preach the gospel of Christ to them.

This film entitled "Go Forth" was shown by Theta Chi fraternity and was seen by a large number of faculty and students.

Bill Stringer was liturgist and he read the evening prayers as well as the "Great Communion" scripture, Mark 10:14-20. Dick Walk was the organist for this 5:45 p. m. service.

The next college vesper service will be held on Sunday, March 30 and will be conducted by Phi Mu Delta fraternity.

University of Wisconsin Suggests Ways to Reduce Cheating During Exams

Basing its recommendations on interviews with faculty members and with 46 sophomores and 30 seniors selected at random from those who had completed one or more of the courses included in the faculty interviews, a special University of Wisconsin committee suggested the following ways to reduce dishonesty:

Examinations that are representative of the objectives and subject matter covered in the course; shorter exams; increased number of days for examination period; definite dishonesty punishment codes published before the exam; more proctors; essay types of exam or types requiring each student to formulate his own answers; inaccessibility of books and reference materials during exams; passing out two sets of exams alternately; presenting same questions in different orders on exam papers; oral exams wherever possible; supplying all materials except pens or pencils to students at time of exam; alternate seating in alternate rows.

"One explanation of the seeming prevalence of classroom dishonesty is perhaps to be found in an academic context which does not sufficiently encourage students to grow up; to develop an adult sense of moral and intellectual responsibility; to overcome the dichotomy between 'we' (the student, who are out to get by in any fashion) and 'they' (the faculty who spend all their time planning ways to torture students)," the committee notes.

"Another, and more specific, explanation is perhaps to be found in the insufficient attention given by some instructors to explaining how examinations are organic parts of their courses," the report says. The committee recommended that the administration "print prominently a statement that includes both the moral aspects of classroom dishonesty and the procedures in effect for handling incidents when they occur" . . . and that deans stress the organic relation of examinations to intellectual development in their annual introductory addresses to incoming freshmen.

PERSONALITY
OF THE WEEK

A sports enthusiast and a good friend of many, describes our personality of this week — Pat Heathcote. Hailing from York, Pennsylvania, Pat came to Susquehanna in the fall of 1948, after having graduated with many honors from York High School. A National Honor Society member, Pat also participated in intramural sports, the Business Club, was a member of the student government, and was an honor graduate. Upon graduation, Pat was awarded the Business and Professional Women's Club Award for attaining the highest average in the commercial department and also was awarded the York-Hanover Alumni of S. U. Scholarship for her college career.

Studying is just one of many things to do for Pat. Extracurricular activities are numerous in her record at Susquehanna. As a member of Alpha Delta Pi, Pat has served as treasurer and as a member of the Executive Committee. As mentioned before, Pat has shown her interest in sports by being a member of W.A.A. and the Intramural Board, vice-president of Tau Kappa, the varsity basketball team, all intramural sports, and the Girls' Sports Editor of "The Susquehanna." The Business Society and S.C.A. are two other organizations on campus in which Pat has been active.

As a student in the Business Administration department with a major in economics, Pat is looking forward to a future in administrative work. We know she will do well and wish her happiness in the future.

NEW BOGAR HALL CONDEMNED; CLOSED

La Frilloop Weekend Tremendous Success
Features Monroe and Lombardo at Dances

"Oh, I wish it could go on forever," "It was like Heaven personified," and "If this could only happen every weekend," were among the many remarks overheard from the students by this reporter concerning S. U.'s annual tradition "La Frilloop" Weekend sponsored by the W.A.A. (Women's Answer Association.) Even Leap Year makes no difference when it comes to this weekend.

The big weekend officially opened at 6:00 p. m. Friday evening, though for many of the women importing their dates it began whenever "He" arrived on S. U.'s beautiful campus.

Seibert and Hassinger Hall's parlors were the scenes of the buffet supper for all girls attending and their dates. A fire was built in each of the high fireplaces and large buffet tables were spread with ample supplies of Bar-B-Q's, potato salad, pickles, olives, celery, coffee, and cake. We filled our plates, sometimes two and three times, and found chairs, couches, or a comfortable place on the floor. Introductions, everyone enjoyed an informal get-together and talked over old times. We even had a few group pictures taken so as not to forget our fabulous time. S. U. men helped the out-of-towners find their rooms and all dates reported back to their girls' respective dorm about 8:00 for the hayride. If you think you've ever been on a big hayride before, let me tell you this one was immense. Sixteen horses pulled the big wagon of 150 couples and it was guided about by no one else but Kenny Bothwell. Not that we sang a few songs or anything—just all the way out and all the way back, canapés of course and in four-part harmony.

Ten o'clock began the Sox Dance, and in keeping with this, all shoes, boots, and coats were checked in numbered squares and the couples began to pussfoot it around the floor. I'm glad we wore mock-socks or I'd be forever and a day scrubbing you know what. The dance was informal and the girls wore skirts, sweaters, or slacks. I saw so many sets of twins there I wasn't sure I was at S. U.

Probation Students Note

Pointers For Exams

Tomorrow is the fatal day! You start to wish you hadn't taken the blamed course—the prof only makes you mad, anyway. And to think he would schedule an exam for tomorrow when you could have had a date with that handsome Hold Hankman! Breaks!

Well, you've eaten dinner and now you trudge up to your room. Ah, these lovely four walls, finished only by the best interior decorator, are most conducive to study.

First thing, turn on the radio—something soft and sentimental. Now, pull your soft, comfortable chair over near the window (you don't want to miss anything!) and drag over the floor lamp. Now we'll get down to business.

Pick up your favorite book—that's it—the one with the billious green cover. Pleasant, isn't it? You'll just adore reading such interesting subject matter, too! You settle in your comfortable chair by the window and proceed to study.

Ah, but you need refreshments—after all, you have a "big" night ahead of you! So, you rummage through your jewelry case, your pockets, and finally find a nickel at the bottom of the black bag you carried to church last week. Guess you just forgot to put it in the collection plate.

You zoom down to the coke machine, get a bottle, then laboriously start up the stairs. Maybe Pop was right—it's an awfully long walk up to the third floor.

Now, back in the room you once again sit down to the task of "brushing" over the material for the test tomorrow. After all, there isn't too See PROBATION STUDENTS—Page 2

Oh, but a second glance assured me it was Pam McKegg and her date in twin plaid slacks, "Toots" Richards and DeWitt Reynolds in twin red sport shirts, and "B. J." Easton must have kept those knitting needles going 24 hours to make those twin Norwegian sweaters she and Tom had on. We danced to the wonderful music of Guy Lombardo and his orchestra till midnight. Then, everyone headed for the Roma Gardens, where the best pizza pie (except B&K) is made. S. U. literally took over and "Mr. Popalardo" turned up the juke box and told us to sing all we wanted. The damper was put on the girls at two o'clock so it was a mad dash back to the dorm for the closest place to park the car. Hurried "Goodnight" and we toddled into bed, slept like bears in mid-winter and dreamed of the morning.

Saturday dawned extra pretty and See LA FRILLOOP—Page 3

May Queen Selected
By Faculty Members

Miss Charlotte Gruesome was selected May Queen this afternoon by a special nominating committee of faculty members.

The May Queen is annually selected for beauty, personality, intellect, and for active participation in extra-curricular activities.

Students on campus expressed some surprise that Miss Gruesome was awarded the honor. She is not a ravishing beauty; in fact she was the one a noted phraser had in mind when he said, "Her face could stop a clock."

Her personality is slightly negative, also. Whenever guests enter her room, she hides under her davenport. However, her conversations from this point are often quite witty.

Certainly she has not engaged in any extra-curricular activities; in fact in the four years she has attended Susquehanna, she has left her room only for meals and classes.

Miss Gruesome is the daughter of J. P. Gruesome, a multi-millionaire from Nesquehoning.

CONSTRUCTION OF SORORITY HOUSE STARTED BY GIRLS

Permission was granted last month by the Poliboro of Susquehanna University for the building of sorority houses on campus. Land behind Hassinger Hall on the men's intramural football field has been donated by the University for this purpose. This will enable the sorority girls to have reserve seats for all games, practice sessions, and all other "extra-curricular activities."

The girls are doing the constructing themselves and there is a race on to see whether ADPI or KD will have the biggest and best house. Materials arrived last week and the girls have already broken ground. The foundations have recently been laid. To all those who would like to see these girls going about their frivolous activities, only twenty-five cents admission is asked. From the progress that has been seen, the girls are certainly skilled workmen.

Nevertheless, small incidents have arisen which point to sabotage. For See CONSTRUCTION OF—Page 3

"Trolley Car" A Huge Success; S. U. Players
Expect A Year's Run

Last Friday the Susquehanna Players opened their run of "The Trolley Car" which is proving a greater hit than last year's "Mr. Roberts."

Blanche Dubois was portrayed beautifully by Joan Bates. Upon receiving the award as best actress of the year, mention was made of the fact that Miss Bates was able to portray a borderline insanity case because of her collegiate background at the Susquehanna Conservatory.

The role of Stanley Kowalski, a man of brute strength and virility, has been perfected by Walter Mazura. He seems to again enjoy his thespian endeavors, even more so than last year when he suffered along with his audience in his rendition of "Hamlet." The part of his wife, Stella, has received a faithful interpretation by Miriam Vogler who is back on the Susquehanna stage after a year's tour lecturing on "The Vicious Calorie."

Not since he played the lead in "Suds Alone Again" have we seen such a talented performance as that of Jug Myers who more than fulfills the demands of the role of Stanley's friend who falls in love with the doomed Blanche.

It is interesting to note the new policy adopted by the Susquehanna Players during the expected year's run of "The Trolley Car."

In anticipation of the great numbers who will be standing in line before the Little Theatre, entertainment will be provided on a temporary stage erected at the entrance to the theatre. Here prospective customers may witness the following plays in repertoire while waiting to receive tickets for the main show.

Students Prohibited Entrance to Bogar;
Classes Scheduled To Be Held On Lawn

What a surprise to all of us! To think that the beautiful new Bogar Hall is a menace to public safety is practically unbelievable. Last week, not one of us thought, while resting comfortably in class, that the buildings was about to disintegrate from beneath us!

The beginning of the whole sad story began by the explosion of the blackboard (whoops! I mean greenboard) in a seminar room. The "greenboard" looked so complacent and so, so happy hanging there on the wall. It was brought into this world to entangle happy youngsters like us to learn the finer things in life. But, much to our surprise, the green board was busy twenty-four hours a day thinking up some dastardly act to show the world that he wasn't just any old ordinary greenboard.

Fraternities Merge
Into One Group

The President of the Inter-Fraternity Senate announced yesterday that plans are being formulated for the merging of the Bond and Key, Phi Mu Delta and Theta Chi fraternities into one large social organization.

Upon interviewing several of the fraternity boys, the reporter discovered the reasons for this action. One boy from PMD said, "I love B&K! I love all of their members! I love their fraternity house." A member of OX stated that since the fraternities have always worked so harmoniously and have never tried to get ahead of each other, he thought that it was a marvelous idea to merge them. This new organization will be called Bond Phi Chi.

For their meeting place, the boys of the joint fraternity have chosen the empty room off the lounge. The boys stated that this room is the ideal place, for it is just like the living room of a beautiful home with soft carpeting, and overstuffed furniture. However, there will be a few changes made as the boys want to include a showcase of its trophies—cups, guns, and stuffed animal heads.

The present fraternity houses have been turned over to the college who is redecorating them before offering them to the sororities.

The boys will live in GA and Selinsgrove Hall and will eat in Horton Dining Hall. The boys stated that since most of the girls will be eating in the sorority houses, there will be more food for them.

DRASTIC CHANGES
APPLIED TO NEXT
REGISTRATION

LATE BULLETIN: The Registrar's office has just announced a number of drastic changes to be applied in the next registration. Students take note of the following modifications:

Basket-weaving, fishing, designing, driver training, and astronomy will be added to the curriculum. There will also be a special night class in the Men's Day Students' room bringing to light the tricks used by cardsharks. Paul Nestler has consented to instruct this class next semester.

Girls will want to take advantage of the new courses which will be taught for the purpose of leading to an MIS degree.

The class in astronomy will be held on Monday night around the sundial; time, place, and instructors for the other new courses will be found on the preliminary registration papers.

During preliminaries, refreshments will be served while you wait in Bogar 103. Mademoiselle, Esquire, and Holiday magazines will be placed around the room for picture-shoppers who See DRASTIC CHANGES—Page 3

It was early in the morning, last Thursday, when that nasty greenboard decided to act! He waited until there was a room full of happy-go-lucky students to get his revenge. He started to hold his breath and he held it and held it and held it until all of a sudden—he exploded! The greenboard splintered all over the room and at last he was happy—he had found his way to get revenge. He now found his way into the never, never land of the greenboard family.

That very same morning the doorknobs decided they would play a few practical tricks and create a little havoc in the building. The doorknobs on the second floor, because of their unkind rules, couldn't be as frisky as the other doorknobs because John L. Lewis would fine the union members and making a living was tough enough for the doorknobs on the second floor.

But, the knobs on the first floor went wild. A few of them charged up their batteries and gave everyone a jolt. The anguished cry of Dr. Filbert when he touched one is still echoing through the halls. You know, that old familiar cry—Gurrtra!

The beams throughout the building were quite dismayed by Friday that See STUDENTS PROHIBITED—Page 2

New Conservatory
Pride of Camps

At long last Susquehanna University has her much needed, much desired, and much dreamed of new conservatory which has been given the much honored name of the John Nan-sel Gi-man-baugh Conservatory.

The building itself is beautifully landscaped. There is a quarter mile walk from the road back to the main building. Along the paved way statues of the really great men in music have been erected. Among the celebrities are Earnest Tubbs, Roy Aeff, and Lulu Belle and Skyland Scotty. (Incidentally, Dr. Lindebaum insisted on the statue of Roy Aeff.)

The building is so large that personal guides are given to the freshmen—at no extra cost—to conduct them from their practice rooms to their lecture rooms.

This ranch type style of building prevents the students from getting that hemmed-in feeling. It is hoped that free expression and free interpretation will be the result.

A switchboard operator has been employed to keep the conservatory in contact with the rest of the college and the rest of the world. Each professor has both a private telephone line and an intra-room communications system for personal conferences.

Each student has a private practice room equipped with a Muggapassage piano. The voice majors have a swimming pool in their rooms. Many of the college students feel that the voice majors sound better under water. Others feel if they can learn to breathe properly under water they should have See NEW CONSERVATORY—Page 3

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Something new has been added to Seibert which only the court dwellers know about as yet. It is a poetical inspiration to the music students, a haven for the nature-worshippers when they return from a long afternoon in Steele, and an ideal spot for the secretaries to relax their knuckles. We want to thank the administration from the bottom of our hearts for planting the beautiful new roof garden on the court!

Those of us who faced nothing but a bleak, gray roof for pigeons and dead leaves prior to this recent construction, now feel that we have our own exclusive corner of paradise. However, we wish to suggest that some remedy be made for the problem of girls who are not residents of the court plucking their colorful tropical orchids for bouquet arrangements in their rooms. These fragile flowers are such rare specimens that we appeal to all visitors after April 1 to refrain from detaching any orchids from their stems.

Parasites have been feasting on our banana tree, but so long as they are content with a banana diet and do not move to the palms, they will not be forced to leave. Believe it or not, some creatures do like bananas!

Miriam Wick has been spending every minute directing the initial water show to be presented on May Day. Between instructing sailboating classes, she is training our pet seal, Carbone. The miniature lake is mosquito-proof, thus eliminating any pests to annoy sunbathers. The dining hall skylights in the alcove have been covered with sand, and their slight incline makes it most comfortable for basking in the sun.

The high spot of our paradise is a wishing well, built directly under Venus (or the Evening Star). It is here that blondes, brunettes, and redheads thrust their pennies in the well and cross their fingers. (Dreamers, we are!)

Our sincerest thanks go to all those who made this court scene so different, so alluring to us. Here we can escape the band rehearsals, the typewriters, and our roommates! May we make this last plea to visitors—PLEASE do not pick the orchids; for if this practice is continued the offender shall be thrown to the hungry crocodiles in cage No. 4.

PROBATION STUDENTS

much in the chapters and you did keep up-to-date on the assignments (you keep telling yourself).

Just a minute, who's that going down the walk! Oooh, Masey Cayer, Mug Jyers, and Heuben Renry. Oh, how will you ever be able to study now!

Maybe it would be a good idea if you take a shower and wash your hair—it always seems to rejuvenate you. You wander into the shower and after a good sixty minutes, a drippy, sodden figure returns to the room.

You sit down and begin to read again! Gee, look, there's Chill Burch and Spelen Haeth. Oh, if you only could have gone out with Hankerman tonight. But look at all the studying you're getting done.

You notice your nails and decide to file and polish them. After all, your nails, at this point, are more important than the test. Anyway, you don't have much more to study—you're almost through.

While you wait for your nails to dry, you walk down the hall and talk to one of your neighbors. Anyone with any common sense knows that it's impossible to turn the pages of a book with wet fingertips.

After your fingernails dry, it's time to put up your hair. It is very seldom that anyone here at S. U. goes without putting up her hair.

Gee whiz, a mystery program. It's lucky you did stay in to study tonight. You would have missed it and you haven't heard a good mystery story in a long time.

To get a little more atmosphere, you crawl into bed after turning out all the lights. You listen to the radio and get drowsier and drowsier. Finally, unknown to you, the sand man takes you by the hand into dreamland.

Your roommate wakes you up the next morning, just in time for class. You knew the day of registration that you should never have signed for the eight o'clock class. You keep saying to yourself that you really did study last night and you'll hit this test like a test has never been hit before.

After the test, you numbly walk up to chapel complaining that you expected that mean old prof to ask questions that you never even saw in the book! You even think that he may have used another text!

The day that you get your test paper back, you call home to the folks and say, "Gee, I can't understand how I got such a low mark. Honestly, I stayed in the night before to study—he just isn't a fair prof..."

they hadn't participated in any of the rollicking fun. So, Friday night, a beam convention was called up in the roller rink on the third floor in Bogar. The building began to sway a little and sag in the middle but the "hot air" left from the Susquehanna Players expanded and kept the building from collapsing.

The beams decided to work on a rotation basis—just a couple would work one day, then a couple the next day, and so on. That way, the building wouldn't fold up (or in) and everyone could have fun.

The tile on the floor got awfully tired of being tramped on all the time (you'd think we have Amazons here!) Now it's almost impossible to walk through the building because the tile that once remained quietly on the floor is bouncing around and around.

Fortunately for the students, classes are held out on the lawn since the weather has been so favorable. (In case of rain, please bring your ponchos!)

POLITICAL VIEWS
AIRED BY PROFS

PERSONALITY
OF THE WEEK

Another election year is rolling around and this November we eligible ones will be selecting the man of our choice for president, that is.

Have you noticed already, here on campus, the way in which individual opinion makes itself known? Dr. William A. Russ, Professor of history, has been seen sporting an "I am a Republican" pin on his lapel. Previously, this gentleman has been very careful to let nothing out whatever concerning his political affiliations; now, students with similar interests are doing their best to let this professor know just how they feel. (They might even pull a "C" in the course.) Rumors are also about concerning the Republican Club that Dr. Russ is organizing. He plans, as I understand it, to use Susquehanna as its central point and set up chapters in all Democratic strongholds, thereby making sure that the Republicans win in the Fall election. (I distinctly heard him say in U. S. history class that it is about time for the Republicans to take over things for a while.)

A certain car parked in front of Bogar has had a certain political sticker placed on it that clearly indicates the feeling of its owner, Dr. Russell W. Gilbert, Professor of German. This bit of political information carries the inscription, "We Want Ike." At least, that's getting off the well-worn subject of Gurtia.

Of course, there are a few professors that still insist "Let's give him another chance." I must say, as the weeks go by, the number of these "old faithfuls" are getting few and far between.

Now to go to the other side of the desk. A large group of S. U. students are eligible to vote in this coming election, and I can't stress the point enough to get out and vote. Every vote counts and I can prove it. The freshmen don't know the true story and perhaps few upper classmen remember it, but it's true nevertheless.

Way back in '48 just before the last presidential election, conditions were the same as they are now; a large amount of students of eligible voting and who didn't want to bother to vote. The aforementioned professors, realizing the terrible situation the country would be in if these voting eligibles of S. U. wouldn't do their duty, held mass meetings during the week prior to the election. These eligible voters became fired with the patriotic ambition to do their best for their country and supposedly voted the way their Republican coaches had commanded.

Now it can be told so that the mistake will not be made again. By official count it was proved that a certain thirty-two votes from one Susquehanna University at Selingsgrove, Pennsylvania, turned the election in favor of the Democrats.

The spotlight of the Susquehanna falls, this week, on John J. Jalebate. John came to Susquehanna as a transfer from Black Valley Reform School where he majored in lock-picking. Unfortunately, John was expelled from that institution.

John, who is confined-cr-1-mean, rooms at Selingsgrove Hall, is president of the student council and treasurer of Eta Beta Fraternity.

Jalebate hails from Misdemeanor, Pennsylvania where he attended the local high school during the off seasons from the local jail. He ran away from home at the age of sixteen with his brother's pocketbook and the funds from a careless shopkeeper's cash register.

John is quite an asset to S. U.'s campus; his practical experience have been helpful to the criminology class, and his photograph is well known (in post offices) from coast to coast.

Our personality of the week has this to say of "Susquehanna": "Gee, I think it's swell here. No one boddys ya about havin' saws and stuff in yer room and they never lock da doors at night."

Open Fireplace, Free Cigarette Machine Among Extensive Lounge Improvements

The lounge—so what every school has one. Oh! No! Not like ours they don't. Why do you know what we're going to do to it?

We're knocking out the wall between the empty room and the main room and building a "library cove" of three solid-shelved walls for magazines, books and the latest records. A high fireplace about 5' high and 9' long of set-in fieldstone is being built along one of the walls of the main room with added sofas and chairs all around. Students will be permitted to gather round the fireplace to roast marshmallows and hotdogs in the evenings if they wish. A three-way console will be placed in one corner for radio entertainment, favorite T.V. shows, and just plain listening to records. (A whole wall of the "library cove" will contain the latest albums.) A "free" cigarette machine will be placed herein also to accommodate students who are temporarily "financially embarrassed" or forgetful or "left mine in the room." Supplies of all 10 top brands will be there for the taking.

All the leading papers will be delivered in the lounge (including the funnies). But, lo and behold the person who mutilates them.

On week ends that there aren't any planned parties or other organizational "doings" the carpet will be rolled back, chairs and couches placed on the sidelines, tables placed at one end and we'll have informal dances. You can even dance in socks or bare feet and skirts, sweaters, or jeans will be appropriate. We'll put on the latest records and dance till midnight. At midnight volunteers will serve a snack of sandwiches, soft drinks, and cake. Then I'm afraid we must rearrange the lounge and comply to rules and regulations of Saturday night one o'clock permission for the girls.

Won't it be fun, just get a gang together and have a good time. I can hardly wait. When will this happen, well, APRIL FOOL.

NEW CONSERVATORY—From Page 1 no trouble at all breathing properly in air.

"The walls are sound proofed so that no voice is unheeded by what four years of specialized training have done to the tenors. These rooms are constructed so that no echo is possible. It was felt that if some of the altos heard their own voices they would become too self conscious ever to perform in public.

Among the weekly concerts arranged by the staff of the music department for the students we see listed the Boston Pops and the Philadelphia Philharmonic Orchestra. Famous singers on tour who will perform here include Bessie Stevens, Lauritz Melchior, and Thomas L. Thomas. Evelyn and her magic violin will thrill hundreds as she appears in the conservatory's own recital hall on the first Monday in June. All of the students are urged to attend.

Directly behind the conservatory stands an acoustically perfect three feet high shell for outside concerts. The beautiful Dupont Gardens have been moved here intact to provide a setting which would guarantee the enjoyment of these outside concerts. "A thing worth having is worth waiting for." This is it!

DRASTIC CHANGES—From Page 1 plan a vacation during the summer in California or Europe.

More scholarships will be given next semester because of the lack of help that was suffered this term in the dining hall and snack bar. Any student with a .9 average (or above) may apply on the day of preliminary registration.

As you pass to the end of the line, you will be assured that bills may be paid at your convenience. Yes, the whole registration process has been modified to conform with the students' wishes in September, 1952!

S. U. WELCOMES NEW PROFESSOR

Susquehanna University is proud to welcome to its long list of notable and distinguished faculty members the renowned and versatile Professor U. Bet I-know-it-all.

Mrs. I-know-it-all and her lovely daughter, Why Shouldn't I-know-it-all—second only to Cass Daley—will move here from New York City on Memorial Day. Miss I-know-it-all never misses a commencement exercise if she is in the vicinity of one. The poor girl's IQ of 20 prevents her from attending a graduation in her own rights.

When asked how he liked Selinsgrove the professor said that the hustle and bustle here was refreshing after the hum drum life in New York City.

Professor I-know-it-all holds degrees from Waukegan Junior College, Afghanistan Tech, and Columbine University. His majors include Idocracy, Socks Knitting, and Duck Pins.

Teaching is only an avocation for him. His real interest is the "numbers" from which he makes the bigger part of his income. Although he was never really fond of mathematics, he finds "numbers" both interesting and profitable.

"Hobbies should fit the role of the individual," says Mr. I-know-it-all. "That is why I insist my wife and I engage in such activities as wading, blocks, and Old Maid. After all, extra-curricular activities should be chosen so as to benefit one physically, mentally, and socially.

At present, our distinguished new arrival is working on a thesis entitled "Why Sand Dunes Shift" or are the sands of the desert like the sands of time—they may be made the most of but are too intangible to grasp. The professor feels that it is an inner force which causes the sands to "motor from place to place."

Using his daughter as an example of what an offspring shouldn't be, Mr. I-know-it-all shines forth with a wealth of actual experience and book learning to help him instruct the students.

It is hoped that the I-know-it-all's will find Susquehanna as big and impressive as others have found her and that they will leave their marks here if they ever decide to change residence.

CONSTRUCTION OF—From Page 1 the past few days, construction materials from all three projects have mysteriously disappeared only to turn up on the wrong land grant (but it can't be proven). KD is minus a bag of cement which has stopped construction entirely for the present time. One nail has disappeared from the site of ADP's house. This loss has temporarily slowed up construction of the side walls, but the roof is going on as scheduled.

If this sabotage continues, Panhelene's Judiciary Committee will meet to take action on this subversive activity.

KD's house will be patterned after a medieval castle and hopes to have a moat for use by its girls as a swimming pool. The sorority's colors, green and white, will reign supreme throughout all the one hundred rooms of the castle. Several of the actives have flown to Europe recently to purchase stone blocks taken from the ruins of original castles.

An enlarged replica of Buckingham Palace will soon be seen on campus in the guise of ADP's house. The one hundred rooms will be constructed so that each blue and white interior will get the most benefit from the fresh air and sunlight.

It is hoped that these houses will attract more freshmen. Swimming pools in each yard will also line the landscape and help to beautify our campus.

GIRLS PLAY EXHIBITION GAME WITH GLOBETROTTERS IN MADISON SQUARE

On March 8 the Crusaderettes basketball team left for New York where they enjoyed a week's vacation before their historical clash with the Globetrotters. All expenses were paid by the school although the girls had to observe the same regulations as they have on campus. Quiet hours were observed in their hotel rooms during the day and each girl had to be in her room by 10:30 p. m. Barbara Easton and Jackie McKeever were appointed V.P.'s for the trip.

When questioned on the possible outcome of the game the S. U. girls unambiguously voiced the cry of "Victory for Susquehanna. We know we can win. Just ask us, we'll tell you."

Finally the great day arrived. The Crusaderettes appeared on the court in their new uniforms, especially purchased for this occasion. All seats were filled, over half of them occupied by the local students who had followed their team to New York. Excitement mounted and as the blast of the opening whistle of the game filled the air both teams spring into action.

McGrath scored the first basket for S. U. only to be matched by Tatum for the Globetrotters. Both teams were playing spectacularly and neither team could gain more than a two-point lead. Then, within the first three minutes of the game, came a disheartening blow to Susquehanna. Pat Rumbaugh fouled her way out of the game. A basket for basket match followed with S. U. leading 14-12 at the end of the first quarter. The second and third quarters followed in a similar fashion with the Crusaderettes holding their two-point lead. What the S. U. girls lacked in height they made up in speed and tricky handling of the ball.

Going into the last period the girls were beginning to tire. With almost superhuman strength they continued their fine exhibition of spectacular basketball. Then, with only minutes to play, Tatum scored for the Globetrotters to make the score 60-58 with S. U. still leading. He was fouled on this shot by Chambers and after converting this foul shot S. U. led by only one point. Guise and Dietz tried to freeze the ball but lost control of it and the Globetrotters chalked up another basket putting them ahead (by one point) for the first time in the game. The cheering section went wild as there were only seconds to play. The S. U. forwards handled the ball with extreme care and as the clock showed only one second to play Odenthal shot from the middle of the court. It was S. U.'s only hope of winning. The shot had perfect form and sailed through the air in a perfect arc. As the ball was in the air, half way to the basket, the final gun went off. All spectators as well as players were frozen to the floor. SWISH! The ball zipped through the net never even touching the rim.

Pandemonium broke loose. The Crusaderettes had accomplished the impossible. The players were carried from the floor in their moment of glory. The heroine of the day was Odenthal even though the winning basket was her only score of the game. High scorer of the game was Violet Dietz.

Starting lineup for the Crusaderettes was: forwards — McGrath, Odenthal, and Rarik; guards — Wingert, Rumbaugh, and Vogler. Substitutes were Guise, Roselander, Dietz, Aston, Easton, McKeever, Schmitt, Alexander, and Chambers. Other members of the team who did not get to play were Gordon, Shafer, Way, Renfer, Lightfoot, Heathcote, Younon, and Smith.

Crusaderettes Only Undeclared Team In Basketball In East

The girls of S. U. ended a spectacular basketball season by going undeclared for the first time in the history of the school. They have also earned the honor of being the only undeclared girls' basketball team in the East. Because of this great showing of sports ability these girls are to be matched against the Globetrotters in an exhibition game at Madison Square Garden.

Worthy opponents who have suffered defeat at the hands of the Crusaderettes were Pennsylvania, Vassar, Wellesley, New York University, Princeton, Columbia, Dartmouth, and Yale. It is remarkable to note that in all games the S. U. girls scored twice as many points as their opponents. The outstanding games of the year were Pennsylvania (100-30), New York University (75-35) and Vassar (6-3). There were no forwards for S. U. who went scoreless in any one game. High scorer for the season was Lorraine Rarik with Annie Guise as runner-up.

The season ended with our game with Vassar. Playing to a jam-packed gym the girls played a terrific game. The final score of the game was 6-3 but this does not tell nearly half of the thrills and spectacular plays that were exhibited throughout the game.

Vassar won the toss and elected to have control of the ball in the first and third quarters. The trill of the whistle started the game and within a few seconds the score was 2-0 in favor of Vassar. The girls of S. U. did not let this score bother them in the least. Using a variety of plays never before seen on a basketball court, the Crusaderettes had the Vassarettes completely befuddled.

The score at the half was still 2-0 in favor of Vassar. There was still much fighting spirit to be seen in the second half and the girls of S. U. looked like a new team. Foul shots were made by Rarik, Odenthal, and Guise to give S. U. the lead by a score of 3-2. The teams battled on but each was unable to score a point. In the last quarter McGrath, Heathcote, and Gordon each scored one point to give S. U. a lead of 6-2. With only seconds to play Vassar's star forward, Pat Crisman, scored the final point of the game.

The passing done by the forwards, Rarik, Guise, and Odenthal, was absolutely out of this world. Outstanding guard of the game was Janet Wingert. She was nobly assisted by Rumbaugh and Chambers.

Tears of joy were flowing as the girls carried their coach on their shoulders to the dressing room. The girls were now ready for the chance to play the Globetrotters at Madison Square Garden on March 15.

CRUSADERS TO PLAY PHILLY EAGLES IN '52 GRID OPENER

Susquehanna University's Crusaders will meet a new foe when they open their '52 football campaign against Philadelphia's flying Eagles. The Crusaders, who emerged from the '51 season with an unblemished slate, should have comparatively little trouble with the Philadelphia Pro squad. Weakened by the loss of Johnny Bright who will play in the Canadian League, the Eagles have relatively no offense except the mild-running Steve Van Buren.

The Crusaders on the other hand are loaded with exceptional talent. All-star Rich Young, a triple threat back, will spark the S. U. attack. Big Tom Balchen and hulking Lou Szabo should be rougher in the line than the Eagles' aging contingent.

S. U. decided to schedule the game to give more thrills to the fans. The Crusaders, who definitely outclass their inter-collegiate foes, will probably continue their winning ways when they meet the play-for-pay lads. All factors point to another win in the S. U. victory column. A great crowd will be on hand to witness the forthcoming tilt.

Other games have not been scheduled as yet for the power-packed S. U. lads. The finding of competent opponents has presented a stumbling block.

Basketball Squad To Represent U. S. In Olympic Games

Susquehanna University's eagles were picked from a host of candidates to represent the United States in the 1952 Olympic Games. The maroon-clad Crusaders, who were chosen on their previous record, are expected to make an easy romp when they meet their foreign foes.

Accompanying the Crusaders abroad will be Coach A. A. Stagg who will act as honorary chairman of the basketball playoff.

Players will board the Queen Mary at New York City on June 21. The U. S. Marine Corp Band will be on hand to render musical selections, and a tumultuous crowd of well-wishers is expected to jam the docks.

ANN GUISE ELECTED MAY QUEEN FOR 1952

Marjorie Way Named As Lady-in-Waiting

At the annual W.A.A. Spring Dance, Saturday, April 19, the elections of the May Court were announced. Queen, Ann Guise; Lady-in-Waiting, Marjorie Way. Attendees: Ruth Roslander, Ethel McGrath, Lynne Lightfoot, Barbara Jane Easton, Jackie McKeever, and Peggy Aston.

Ann Guise is the Class of 1952's "Sweetheart" and hails from Bigler, Pennsylvania. She is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota music fraternity and is enrolled in the Music Education course. She is also a member of S.C.A., W.A.A., Susquehanna Singers, Band, and is very active in Intramural Sports.

Marjorie Way's hometown is Easton, Pennsylvania, and she is a member of Kappa Delta Sorority. She is taking a Liberal Arts Course and belongs to S.C.A., Biemic Society, and the W.A.A.

Ruth Roslander is from Ramsey, New Jersey, and is a member of Kappa Delta Sorority. She is also a member of the S.C.A., W.A.A., Business Society, Tau Kappa, and participates in Intramural Sports. Ruthie is enrolled in the Secretarial Course.

Ethel McGrath is from Bloomfield, New Jersey, and is a member of Alpha Delta Pi Sorority, W.A.A., Secretary-Treasurer of Tau Kappa, and has been active also in Intramural Sports. She is taking the Liberal Arts Course.

Lynne Lightfoot hails from Jenkintown, Pennsylvania, and is a member of Kappa Delta Sorority, S.C.A., Biemic Society, S. U. Players, and Associate Editor of the "Susquehanna." Lynne is taking the Liberal Arts Course.

Barbara Jane Easton hails from Johnstown, Pennsylvania and is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota music fraternity. She is enrolled in the Music Education course. Among her activities are S.C.A., W.A.A., Susquehanna Singers, and Intramural Sports.

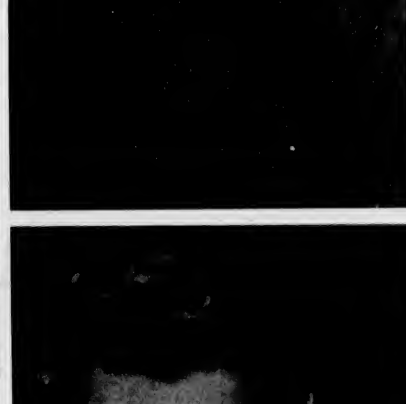

Jacquelyn McKeever's hometown is Catasauqua, Pennsylvania, and she is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota music fraternity. She is enrolled in the Music Education course of the Conservatory. Chapel Choir, S.C.A., Symphony Orchestra, and Susquehanna Singers make up her many extracurricular activities.

Peggy Aston's hometown is Mount Carmel, Pennsylvania, and she is a member of Kappa Delta Sorority. She is also enrolled in the Music Education Course. Cheerleading, S.C.A., Biemic Society, and Susquehanna Singers are included into "P.A." energetic curriculum.

"Waterfront" Theme Of Annual WAA Hop; Officers Announced

The annual spring dance of the Women's Athletic Association was held in the gymnasium on Saturday night. The gym was adorned with outstanding decorations which provided the atmosphere of the waterfront. The theme "I Cover the Waterfront" was unusual and made this dance most successful. In the Mermaid pavilion, punch and cookies were served during intermission. Lamade's Boathouse contained the popular and familiar music of Mike Lamade and his band. Next to Lamade's Boathouse was located Sandy's Barber Shop where a shave and haircut was 2 bits, terms were cash and a shoe shine 10 cents. The couples received their boosters at the Fresh Fish Market. The chaperones sat in the Chi-Am Chateau whose lanterns added light and atmosphere. The wharf contained the usual fish nets and view of the foamy sea. The event that everyone had been waiting for was announced before intermission, this year's May Queen, her attendants, and the new W.A.A. officers.

The new officers of W.A.A. for next year are: Joyce Wagner, president; Miriam Wick, vice president; Jane Cline, corresponding secretary; Irene Oldt, recording secretary; Shirley Thompson, treasurer; and Carol Cornelius, representative to student council.

Phi Mu Delta Quests Beatrice Morrow Aid Local Merchants S.C.A. President

The Mu Alpha chapter of Phi Mu Delta, at the suggestion of the National Interfraternity council of all national fraternities, this year abolished the former policy of allowing pledges to perambulate to different parts of the nearby vicinity.

On Friday afternoon and evening the pledges entertained themselves, the actives, and other students with their clever and humorous antics which progressed from an egg shampoo in the snack bar to a shoe shine for Dr. Robison and Father Whitesel, Episcopal rector from town. Notables portrayed by the pledges included Errol Flynn and Al Jolson, Diogenes and the Fiske tire walking advertisement.

For years a project of "Help" week instead of "Hell" week has been advocated. Mu Alpha chapter, this year See PHI MU DELTA—Page 2

The Student Christian Association of S. U. chose a new governing body at the annual election which was held in Seibert social room on Tuesday evening, April 15.

The officers who will officially assume their duties after their initiation in chapel tomorrow morning by Dr. G. Morris Smith will be as follows: Beatrice Morrow, president; Charles Snyder, mer's vice-president; Shirley Thompson, girl's vice-president; Ruth Osborn, secretary; and Jean Rowe, treasurer.

Commission Heads—Fred Shilling, Religious Life; Carlton Howells, Stewardship; Arlan Gilbert, World Community; David Harris, Public Relations; and Miriam Wick, Fellowship.

RELIGION IN POLITICS

The statement that politics and religion cannot both, side by side, occupy the mind of an individual is as impractical, unrealistic, and incorrect as many other ideas which formulate in the mind of an unintelligent human being and are passed on from one such individual to another.

Often the low calibre of politics is thrown up to the average American. In a normal election year only about forty percent of the voters come to the polls to vote. In a presidential election years the percentage does not go much higher than fifty percent. As in most organizations and groups it is much easier to sit on the side lines and complain rather than do anything about it.

Ex-Governor Youngdahl of Minnesota often tells how one of the Chicago political bosses told him that the bosses have power only through the courtesy of the non-voters. Judge Youngdahl said that politics is just as rotten as we will let it be and just as good as we were willing to work and make it.

Christ recognized two kingdoms when he was here on earth. When he told the people to give Caesar what was Caesar's and to God what was God's he recognized the fact that we must live in a world in which both ideas of loyalty existed. When we move in society we must abide by the rules of that society. If one must abide by the rules of a society one should help make these rules.

One of the foremost martyrs of the second World War was Kaj Munk, a Danish pastor who worked in the underground and was finally killed in the closing days of the war. At Trinity Lutheran Church in Buffalo a stained glass window bears dedication to four great martyrs. Among these are Stephen, first Christian martyr, and Jaj Munk.

If you have corrupt men in any government you can expect to have crooked decrees and crooked regimes. Just as a person cannot teach what he does not know, so a politician cannot administer on a higher plane than he thinks.

To what extent may Christians go? They may acquaint their congressmen with ideas and requests. When Congressman Tollefson of Washington was asked if mail made any difference to his decisions, he said that he read all his mail and that mail was the only way he had of determining the views of the people back home. He said that his mind had been influenced often by letters from the voters. Since the majority is not always right, a congressman must at times go against the opinion of the public because the voters are not always acquainted with all the facts.

Christian ministers, Christian leaders, Christian laymen—all have a role to play in politics. Christians are obliged to—not excused from—taking part in politics. The extent to which any of the above groups go can be realized only after much study. Degrees of inclusion in politics are often decided because of denomination and locality. The church should not “run” politics. Church and politics can never become synonymous.

It is time that we shouldered the responsibility which is ours by heritage instead of shirking from our duty.

VESPERS

Susquehanna Sunday vesper attendees enjoyed an evening of music at the service on April 20 in the chapel. This all-musical program was presented by the girls of Sigma Alpha Iota and consisted of choral numbers by the S.A.I. chorus under the able direction of Nancy Youhan, a settee number, and a solo by Barbara Easton. Voylet Dietz accompanied the group on the organ and Joan Bates served as liturgist, having read the Gospel lesson for the First Sunday after Easter.

The program was as follows:
Hymn—“Come, Ye Faithful, Raise the Strain”
Scripture—John 20:19-31
Sextet—“I Am Alpha and Omega”
Chorus—“All in the April Evening”
“How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings”
Prayer
Solo—“Ave Marie”
Benediction—Dr. G. Morris Smith

The Bond and Key fraternity will be in charge of the service on April 27 at 5:45 p. m. in the chapel.

for the first time, incorporated this idea in the pledge activities. Constructive work was done on campus, in the fraternity house, and downtown.

Friday evening pledges Anola, Miller, Kocher, and Tkaczky spread four tons of sand on the baseball diamond at the request of Coach Stagg who was in a quandary as to how the job would be accomplished.

Pledges Avots, Murrelle, Swithers, and Showalter did some interior painting at the fraternity house. The ceiling of the downstairs rumpus room was painted on Saturday afternoon.

At Troutman's Gulf Station pledges Albert, Bingham, and Erdley swept out the station, washed cars, and did numerous other jobs to help alleviate the business rush.

Groceries were propelled from Weis' Market to the waiting cars of the patrons by pledges Owens, Schreffler, and Vanderhoof as they assisted in the early afternoon rush at the downtown grocery store.

Woody Mengle has offered Pledge Walker a part-time job, if he is interested, at the luncheonette because of the fine job that was done in “wetting down” the pavement, washing windows, and scrubbing the floor.

Dog Class of Rea and Derrick's side Pledge Ziegenfuss looked the epitome of ambition as he cleaned the top of the cooking stove and did several other odd jobs. Pledge Ziegenfuss was richly rewarded with plenty of food.

An entirely new and interesting experience was had by Russel Crouse as he made sodas at Hill's. Mr. Hill was so confident that he took part of the afternoon off and went to the local cinema.

The “Let Yank Fill Your Tank” establishment used pledges Schwab, Drumm, and Oestreich to clean up the station, wait on customers, and be generally helpful. Yank thought it was a very nice gesture on the part of the fraternity.

The quests in all their phases were successful and were enjoyed by not only the participants but onlookers as well. The work downtown, done on Saturday afternoon was free gratis. If things like this continue some people may need to change their only too familiar statement that “fraternities are a cliquish smug group whose members think only of themselves.”

EPISCOPAL GROUP HOLDS CONFERENCE

The Canterbury Club held its spring meeting on April 19 and 20 at Susquehanna University. The Canterbury Club is a national organization composed of Episcopal college students. The club meets twice each school year. The organization is divided into provinces, each province holds individual meetings and once each year the provinces meet at a central point in the United States. The group that met here at Susquehanna was under the Province of Washington, D. C., and in the Diocese of Harrisburg, Pennsylvania.

Miss Janet Laue was in charge of registrations; between thirty and forty students from other colleges were expected. Some of the colleges which were represented were Franklin and Marshall, Wilson, Dickinson, Penn State, Gettysburg, Bucknell, and Lock Haven. Students from all denominations were invited. The visiting students were housed in the homes of the Selinsgrove parishioners.

The visiting students were given a tour of our campus, conducted by Mr. Dan MacCush, before the conference started. President G. Morris Smith gave the welcoming address.

PROGRAM
Saturday: 2:00-3:00 p. m., registration; 3:30-3:45 p. m., Address of Welcome; 3:45-5:00 p. m., First Talk and Discussion; 7:00-8:30 p. m., Second Talk and Discussion; 8:30-12:00 p. m., recreation.
Sunday: 9:00-9:30 a. m., Breakfast at Church; 9:30-10:30 a. m., Business Meeting; 10:30-11:45 a. m., Holy Communion; 12:15 a. m., Dinner at Horton Dining Hall.

The committee in charge of the conference contained four Susquehanna students: Janet Laue, Peggy Hults, Pam McKegg, and Ed Walker.

The conductor of the conference was Reverend Roger W. Blanchard, executive secretary of the division of college work of the National Council of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

The newly elected cabinet conferred with the cabinet of this year at meetings which were held in the S.C.A. room in Hassinger Hall on Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Saturday's assembly, which was conducted by past-president, Gordon Joyce, was one at which this year's program, cabinet, and general policy were criticized, pro and con. Miss Morrow, the new president, conducted the Sunday meeting and at this time such improvements as were seen possible to carry out were decided upon and the program for the 1952-53 school year were tentatively drawn up.

On Saturday evening the combined cabinets went to Salem where they ate their supper around a camp fire in the Lutheran and Reformed church grove.

The two groups also worshipped as a body on Sunday morning at the 10:30 a. m. service of Trinity Lutheran Church during which they heard Dr. Turnbach deliver the sermon on the topic, “The Road Back.”

William D. Revell, director of bands at the University of Michigan, was the guest conductor.

Miss Maxine Weiser, soprano, and Mr. Leonard Carlson, organist, will give a joint recital this Wednesday evening, April 23, at 8:15 in Selbert Chapel.

The Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. John Leach, will play in the Sunbury Junior High School on Friday, April 25, at 2:30 p. m. The selections to be played with the exception of the heavier numbers will include those given in the annual band concert which was held in March.

MY LIFE

I'd like to tell you about my experience. First, I was brought into this world. How, I know not.

Right away I was put to work, with never a moment's rest. Not anyone is the least bit considerate of me. People take me and handle me as if I were just an old piece of tin or something. They pass me from one person to another. In fact, I very seldom stay with one person for more than a day. Once I got lost; there I was out in the cold and rain. Another time I was lost for over two months down a drain. Finally a plumber came and took me out of that horrible place.

What hope is there for me? None! I have nothing to look forward to. If only some conservative child would put me to rest in his piggy bank, I'd be happy.

Mr. Dime

Beta Upsilon chapter of Kappa Delta is planning the second degree pledging service for Tuesday, April 22.

We would like to give congratulations to our sisters Peggy Aston and Janet Laue on their recent pledging to Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatic fraternity. Congratulations also to Mimi Vogler for her leading role in Mr. Kleinberg's forthcoming production, "Ladies in Retirement," to Jane Wehr on being elected president of Pi Gamma Mu, social science honorary, and to our sisters Wye, Aston, Roslander and Lightfoot for the May Court.

S.A.I.

Sigma Omega Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota attended a concert in Sunbury sponsored by the Hospital Junior Aid and the Young Men's Christian Association on Friday, April 19. The artists presented on the program were Carolyn Lyon, a pianist, and Jacquelyn Hecker, a soprano. Miss Hecker is an alumna of Sigma Alpha Iota.

S.A.I. was in charge of the college vesper service on Sunday, April 20. The chapter presented a service of music. The Sigma Omega Chorus under the direction of Nancy Youhon sang "All in the April Evening" by Black and "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings" by Liddle. A double trio sang "I Am Alpha and Omega," and Barbara Easton sang Schubert's "Ave Maria." Voylet Dietz was the accompanist. Joan Bates was the liturgist.

Sigma Omega chapter recently elected and installed its officer for next year. They are as follows: Ruth Freed, president; Peggy Webber, vice-president; Lorraine Lee, recording secretary; Margaret Zinda, corresponding secretary; Eleanor Borski, treasurer; Josephine Stuter, chaplain; Clara Mae Williams, editor; Jean Rarick, sergeant at arms; Joan Bates, patroness, secretary; Ruth Freed, choir director; and Frances Drumm, pianist.

Voylet Dietz was recently nominated by Sigma Omega Chapter as its candidate for the S.A.I. National Leadership Award.

Bond and Key

The exterior of the house will be dressed up for May Day if the plans go as scheduled. As it is now the activities are going to paint the outside of the house starting next week. The woodwork is being cleaned now in preparation for the first coat of paint.

On the interior there are several sets of new lights to replace the old models. In the ping pong room and the meeting room there will be new light fixtures. A new step stool was purchased for the kitchen.

The brothers were happy to see Marsh Begar this past week when he visited the house. He is to be sent to the Caribbean upon his return to camp.

Roy Cope has been busy with the constitution of Bond and Key and has come up with some good suggestions for revising it. The constitution has been in effect since the early twenties and is new in need of revision.

Dick McCarty, president of the pledge group, was appointed to take over the position of alumni secretary representing the actives.

The alumni secretary of the newly formed Alumni Association, J. Paul Hartman, reported that the responses have been good. He said that several hundred dollars have been sent in for membership in the organization.

Looking ahead, we have our annual formal dance given by the pledges coming up on the 26th. Brothers Beckwith and Liddington are formulating the plans for our part in the inter-fraternity sing.

Good luck to the baseball team!!!

Phi Mu Delta

Installation of Phi Mu Delta's officers for the year 1952-1953 was held at the Wednesday night meeting. Thomas Marts was elected president; Robert Mickatavage, vice-president; Donald Walter, secretary; Robert Shade, chaplain; Robert Mesler, editor; Edward Kopf, social chairman; James Withers, steward; Jack Snyder and Louis Szabo, internal representatives; and Samuel Carmichael, sergeant-at-arms. Thomas Marts and David Bennett were chosen to attend the 1952 convocation of Phi Mu Delta at the University of Maine.

Members of Mu Alpha aided by alumni of Mu Epsilon chapter of Phi Mu Delta held a formal initiation for the pledges of Phi Mu Delta Association on Friday night. Four more will be pledged on Thursday.

Shirley Nicklin, '50, and Robert Bogdanffy, '52, were married April 6 in Marlboro, New York. Brother

Fleming acted as an usher and many brothers attended.

Guns will be blazing and many tough hombres will hit the dust Saturday night. So gals get out those old calico gowns 'cause Dangerous Dan McGrew is Hitchin up the old buckboard to take you back to those rip, snortin' Frontier Days at Phi Mu Delta!

Theta Chi

The brothers of the chapter attended the region three convention at the Drexel Institute of Technology on April fifth. There were eighteen men from Beta Omega in attendance and a prize was won for the highest percentage of attendance at the sessions. The brothers stayed at the Penn-Sheraton Hotel during the convention.

Theta Chi and Phi Mu Delta had an inter-fraternity trophy swap during the weekend.

Congratulations to Brother Jack (Doughnut King) Schwartz on his recent engagement to Miss Esther Frost formally of S. U. The wedding will be held in June.

On Tuesday evening, a formal initiation was held and we are happy to welcome to the chapter and the fraternity as active members, Arlan Gilbert, Glenn Baumgardner, Ralph Dersham, Ed Danyluk, Larry Gingrick, Joe Heffner, Carl Winye, Richard Walk, Harry Wagner, Jerome Purta.

At the weekly meeting on Wednesday, the new officers for the coming year were sworn in. These consisted of Dan Williamson, president; Sam Ross, vice-president; Chuck Mason, secretary; first guard, Glenn Baumgardner; second guard, Ralph Dersham; Harry Wagner, librarian; Jerome Purta, historian; Arlan Gilbert, chaplain; and Jerome Purta, editor of the Crimson Sward.

Jane Wehr Elected New Pi Gamma Mu President

On April 17, 1952, Pi Gamma Mu held its monthly meeting at Theta Chi house. David Volk, president, presided at the business meeting at which he formally initiated Miss Athalia Kline Mr. Benjamin Lotz, Miss Lois Renfer, and Mr. Vincent Boyer as new members. Officers were also elected for the coming year. Jane Wehr was elected to the position of president, and William Klopas was elected as vice-president.

Maxine Chambers and Bernice Howling were the speakers for the evening. Maxine discussed the topic "Taft and Eisenhower as possible Republican presidential candidates"; Bernice discussed the opposing topic "Kefauver and Stevenson as possible Democratic candidates." Following an informal discussion by the group, Theta Chi served refreshments.

On May 5 the annual banquet of the organization will be held at the Dutch Pantry. The highlight of the event will be an address by Mr. W. Leon Godshall, professor of internal relations, Lehigh University, and national president of Pi Gamma Mu. Members of the faculty and members of neighboring chapters, as well as nearby alumni members of the local chapter, have been invited to attend this outstanding meeting.

SU ROUTE AGGIES FOR VICTORY, 17-2

Young and Condon Star In Hit-Happy Ball Game

Susquehanna's Crusaders launched their 1952 baseball campaign by pounding out a 15-hit assault on three National Aggie pitchers to cop a rousing 17-2 victory before a partisan home throng on University Field, Saturday afternoon.

Ned Condon, S. U.'s ace right-hander from Port Chester, New York, turned in a no-hit, no-run performance during a six-inning stint on the mound. He whiffed seven Aggie batsmen while walking six and pitched himself into trouble during only two frames. Aggie leadoff man Fleming opened the first inning by going down via the strike out. However, successive walks to Sachernoski and Glusti put men on first and second with only one away. Bradish promptly smashed a sizzler down to short which Rich Young converted into a quick double play thereby ending the threat. The Aggies threatened again in the sixth. Aiello walked and moved to third on a slow ground ball to the infield and a long fly, but could get no further as Caplan fouled out on the first frame.

The Aggies scored a run in each of the last two innings as they bunched three hits off the veteran-finger Jim Haylett who completed the game.

Two hits, two walks, two stolen bases—one of which was a steal home by Rich Young, and two wild pitches produced four Crusader runs in a very hectic first frame. Chet Rowe, S. U. captain who walked in his first appearance at the plate, scored the Crusaders' first counter for 1952 as he romped home from second base on a line smash to center produced by Rich Young who had three solid hits in four trips to the dish.

S. U. maintained its scoring pace with continued regularity picking up three runs in the fourth, four in the fifth, two in the sixth, and four in the seventh.

Coach Bob Bastress' boys will continue their home stand Wednesday afternoon when they meet the Dutchmen of Lebanon Valley. Ned Condon will probably hurl for the Crusaders.

Intramural Ball Starts; Teams Battle for Trophy

With the intramural softball season now underway, five teams will be battling for the Minnick Intramural Softball trophy. Out to win the trophy for this consecutive year, Phi Mu Delta is the top-heavy favorite to take league honors.

The Delman are banking on the hurling of Zleck and Kopf backed by a steady infield for a repeat performance. Fighting for second place honors are Theta Chi and Bond and Key. However, they could possibly slip in and nudge out Phi Mu. The Red Devils are counting on the pitching of Tomlinson and Stout with Hempstead's steady infield playing. The Black Knights have a hot infield and are counting on MacNamara's pitching to pull them through the season.

G. A. looks good with Torok, Vanderhoof, and Matha as its backbone. Because Selinsgrove Hall has not been out to practice, their chances cannot be predicted.

MY MASTER
By Edward Oestreich
These hands, His hands, My Master's Hands were pierced, and bled
To cleanse the souls of men through future years.

For, without that cleansing stream
Of red, which from My Master's Hands did flow, We would not,
Could not ever stand alone before that great and awful throne
Where, sore day, each must kneel to Him to enter in his promised home.

Those tears, His tears, My Master's tears were shed to wash away man's sin.

Our hearts, to purify and magnify
Te good deeds there within.
And were it not for those tears shed,
Our hearts of deepest scarlet red
Would be.

Oh! that those tears would reach my heart and make it pure and clean,
That some day I might stand before
And dwell forever with My Lord.

That body, His body, My Master's Body was nailed upon that tree.
He gave his life that we might live
Through life, and in eternity.

For us He suffered on that cross,
For us He bore that bitter pain,
That we might some day know the joy.

The bliss, that in His heav'n doth reign.

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK

KEN JONES

Susquehanna's personality of this week is Ken Jones. Ken was born in Maesteg, South Wales, Great Britain on November 7, 1923. He came to the United States with his family when he was four years old and resided in Ashland, Pennsylvania.

Ken attended Ashland High School until his freshman year, at which time he had to leave high school for financial obligations to his family, he being the oldest son.

During World War II, he enlisted in the U. S. Paratroopers in 1943. He served in the United States for one-half year, and then served in the European Theatre of War for three years, winning five battle stars for five major campaigns. He attained the rank of sergeant while serving with the paratroopers.

Coming out of the service in 1946, Ken found the need to complete his high school education. He went to school during the day and acted as a coal inspector at night. He was graduated from Ashland High School in 1949.

Ken felt he had to have a higher education in order to advance in the business world, so he chose Susquehanna to attain his degree. He entered in the fall of 1949 as a freshman in the Business Administration course.

Ken became very popular and well-liked by all. He was president of his Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior classes. He was a member of the Student Christian Association and Business Society. Ken also became a member of Phi Mu Delta Fraternity, of which he was elected vice president his Junior year and was steward his Sophomore and Junior years.

He left the bachelors ranks on June 19, 1950, when he married a Susquehanna alumna, Betty Reisch. They are now residing in Selinsgrove.

As plans for the future, Ken has reviewed a position with the Retail Credit Company in Washington, D. C. He plans to start work immediately after graduation in May.

Ken has left a long hard road behind him and we all know he will be very successful in anything he follows. We wish him the best of luck possible.

Business Society Sets $150 Scholarship Fund

Members of the Business Society were entertained at their annual meeting in Siebert's Social Room, April 21, with a picture sponsored by the Pennsylvania Power & Light Company.

During the business session, conducted by Ed Neuman, president, applications were accepted for the Business Society's scholarship. The application will be looked over by a committee of three students and two faculty members of the society. This committee will make a list of the most needy applicants and give these names to the scholarship committee of the university. This committee will choose the most deserving applicant.

A goal of $150 was set for the fund to be collected no later than January, 1953. This fund is to go to the scholarship.

It was announced that the society's scrapbook was to be kept by Marvel Cowling.

The next meeting will be held May 5. This will be the last meeting of the present school year.

MR. HATZ PRESENTS—From Page 1
Rowie Durden, who graduates this year, will be featured as clarinet soloist in this year's program. Mr. Durden has made himself popular at Susquehanna through his own composition, "A Thematic Trilogy," which he conducted in last year's band concert. He has also written a solo piece for clarinet entitled "Caprice in E flat." Mr. Durden has attended for the past three years the state-wide Inter-Collegiate Band which involves approximately twenty-two colleges and universities combined. Last year, Mr. Durden performed as clarinet soloist with the Inter-Collegiate Orchestra.

Musical selections offered in this year's presentation are varied and well within the appeal of all who appreciate pleasant listening.

The concert program is as follows:
1. Coriolanus Overture Beethoven
2. The Clock Symphony Haydn
3. Concertino C. M. von Weber
Rowie Durden, clarinet soloist
4. Polka
Dance of the Momeidians from "The Bartered Bride" Smetana
5. Die Fledermaus (The Bat) Johann Strauss

RUTH OSBORN NAMED EDITOR OF SUSQUEHANNA; JEAN ROWE, BOB MacNAMARA NAMED ASSISTANTS

S. U. PLAYERS PRESENT "LADIES IN RETIREMENT" APRIL 28 THROUGH MAY 3

Beginning on April 28 and running until May 3, Susquehanna University will present "Ladies in Retirement," a three-act comedy by Edward Percy and Reginald Denham in The Little Theatre. The performances will start at 8:00 p. m.

The story takes place in England near the marshes of the Thames River on the outskirts of a small typical English town, Gravesend. All action takes place in the living room of Estuary House made famous by Charles Dickens in his "Great Expectations." Estuary House is owned by one Leonora Fiske, an ex-actress.

The struggle depicted in this play is shown in the person of Ellen Creed who is torn between a desire to do what is right and proper concerning her mistress and benefactor and to keep with her her spinster sisters that age has caused to regress into childlessness and whom Mrs. Fiske has threatened with eviction.

The plot is further complicated by the appearance of the Creed's nephew, Albert Feather, who is a cheap gambler. He is a second rate bank clerk and looks every inch the part. The fact that he has stolen money and the fact that the cops are after him bring him to Estuary House.

The part of Ellen Creed is portrayed by Miriam Vogler. Miss Vogler is a veteran of the stage. Her last major role was as Cyrus' wife in "Broken Dishes." Miss Joan Bates, who gave a superb performance as Elizabeth in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," is enacting the role of Leonora Fiske. Miss Emily Creed, second sister of the Creed family is portrayed by Miss Ruth Osborn. This, her second role with the Players, is as interesting as was her role in "Broken Dishes."

Newcomers to the college theatre group are Miss Rose Mary Sharretts, Miss Ann Dixon, and Miss Elza Adgers. Miss Sharretts plays the part of Lucy Gilham, maid to Miss Fiske. She has an important job in bringing the story to a climax.

Miss Dixon is portraying the giggling Louisa Creed. What a contrast her role is to those of her other two spinster sisters. Miss Adgers portrays "Sister Theresa" from the neighboring territory whose buildings are on Fiske property.

The only male role in the play is that of Albert Feather, a dapper dan from a past era. Walter Mazura, who will be long remembered in the supporting role of the Prince of Aragon in "The Merchant of Venice," is enacting this part.

On Monday and Tuesday evenings the performances are for high school students. Wednesday night the Beta Sigma Phi Sorority from town has bought out the show as a benefit performance. Thursday through Saturday evenings the performances are for college students and the general public.

Stage construction and scene painting is being done this week. Edward Paikovich and Edward Kopf supervise this work. Harmon Andrews is in charge.

Library Modernized by Acquisition of Machine For Viewing Papers

At long last Miss Kolpin is glad to announce that the library has acquired a newspaper-viewing machine. Photostatic copies of the "New York Times" are on hand from the beginning of 1952. The film arrives every ten days so that only the very latest copies of the paper will have to be saved.

The machine is behind the librarian's desk, and anyone wishing to use it must ask either Miss Kolpin or one of the assistants to work it. To date it has not been used very much, but it is hoped that it will eliminate a lot of the dirt from term paper research as soon as films from other years are acquired.

charge of lights, Bill Scott is stage manager, Christine Harman and Wilda Odenthal are in charge of costumes, Lynne Lightfoot, make-up and Peggy Aston and Barbara Easton are in charge of props. Tom Fields is doing the art work for the scenery and for publicity.

Mr. Axel Kleinsorg is directing the production. The Alpha Delta Pi sorority is serving refreshments. The Bond and Key Club members are ushering.

Tickets may be procured from William Davenport, business manager.

Alumni News

On April 1, 1952, the Seelingsgrove-Snyder County District Alumni club met at the Susquehanna Valley Country Club. At this time David Groce was elected president of this group. Dr. John L. Woodruff, graduate of the class of 1888 and professor emeritus of Susquehanna, read a poem which he wrote on November 24, 1944, entitled "Susquehanna University Birthday Song." Special music was presented by music students of Susquehanna. John Schraeder of West Hazleton, bass soloist, sang, "Because You're You" and "Yours Is My Heart Alone," accompanied on the piano by Frances Drumm of Berwick. Miss Drumm played a solo, "Sonatina."

Members of Seelingsgrove-Snyder County Alumni Club will be hosts on Alumni Day. Under chairmanship of David Groce they are making arrangements for the dinner meeting. The program is as follows:

10:30 a. m. — Alumni Council Meeting, Room 118 Bogar Hall. Officers of the general alumni association, class secretaries or their representative and club presidents or their representatives are expected to attend. There will be nomination of officers and reports from chairman of three committees.

1. Alumni Director — Rev. Robert Fisher.
2. Systematized drive for active members and alumni project — Dr. C. V. Erdly.

UNIVERSITY HYMN HEARD IN CHAPEL

At chapel this morning there was heard for the first time a new college song, sung by the Phi Mu Delta Octette. Written by Assistant Professor Meader, the words are set to familiar music by the Russian composer Lvov and commonly known as the hymn, "God the All-Merciful." This music is particularly majestic on the organ, and the brasses of the University Band will do it justice.

Susquehanna has long needed some new songs, and it is hoped that this will initiate the writing of many by the student body, faculty, and alumni. Contributions should be sent to the Editor of the Susquehanna.

In order that the words of this new song may become widely known, we reprint them below.

THE UNIVERSITY HYMN
Robert F. W. Meader

O Susquehanna, home that we cherish, Never shalt thou perish, but live on for aye.

Holding thy children in loving devotion,
O Susquehanna, for thee we pray.

O Susquehanna, may we, thine offspring,

Loyally dedicate ourselves to thee,
Giving thee gladly our heart's adoration,

O Susquehanna, eternally.

O Alma Mater, guide thou our footsteps
Down the long pathway of numberless years.

So shall we always revere thy dear memory.

Hail, Susquehanna! Reign 'midst thy peers!

Dr. Leon Godshall to Speak at Annual Pi Gamma Mu Banquet

The Pennsylvania Gamma chapter of Pi Gamma Mu will be honored by having as its spring banquet speaker the national president of the social science fraternity, Dr. W. Leon Godshall of Lehigh University.

The dinner meeting will be held on Monday, May 5, at 6:00 p. m., in the dining room of the Dutch Pantry. The faculty and the near-by alumni members of the organizations have been invited to buy tickets and all indications point to one of the most outstanding banquets that the S. U. chapter has had in its twenty-four year history.

The Gamma chapter has heard Dr. Godshall address it on one such previous occasion, but this is the first opportunity that it has had of having its national executive officers give the address, the title of which is "United States Foreign Policy."

The speaker is head of the Department of Internal Relations, Lehigh University, and his name is widely known in that field. He has had quite an extensive education; has done considerable traveling throughout Europe, Africa, Asia, and the Americas; and has had the honor of being named to the following "Who's Who" publications: in America, in Pennsylvania, in American Education, and in the Western Hemisphere. He also was named to the "Biographical Encyclopedia of the World," and has been author, co-author, and editor of several books in the international political field. Lectureships and visiting professorships throughout the world have been his also.

Special music for the affair will be given by the Phi Mu Delta trio consisting of Jack Schraeder, George Ferrey, and Richard Boyd.

Final Meeting of Year Held by Greek Society

The April meeting of Phi Kappa Greek Society met Thursday evening, April 23rd, in the Student Christian Association room. This meeting was the last meeting to be held this school year.

Charles Snyder called the meeting to order. A short business meeting followed. After the new and old business had been dispensed, the graduating seniors of Phi Kappa were asked to speak. The seniors expressed a keen appreciation of Phi Kappa and to other such organizations on our campus.

The topic for the evening was presented by Robert Shade. It was titled, "The Greatest Greek Book." The topic discussed the original Greek New Testament, and its value to the world of today. After the discussion of the topic was finished Dr. Ahl spoke to the society on the beauties of Greek culture and the Greek language.

The regular meeting was closed and refreshments were served. A surprise birthday party was held for Miss Beatrice Morrow and fun was had by all.

NEUMAN, GLASS, LENGEL HEAD BUSINESS STAFF

At a meeting held last Friday, the new staff of the Susquehanna was elected by Dr. A. H. Wilson, Professor G. C. T. Graham, Lois Gordon, retiring editor, and Lester Hellman, retiring business manager. The new staff will take over the paper this week and will publish their first issue May 6.

The new editor, Ruth Osborn, is from Northumberland, Pennsylvania. She is a liberal arts student majoring in Latin and math. Ruth will be a junior next year, and has been very active in various campus activities since her enrollment at Susquehanna. She is a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority and holds the office of historian-reporter. Also she is a member of S.C.A. and has just been elected secretary of that organization. Sports and dramatics have been a major part of her activities on campus. She can be currently seen in "Ladies in Retirement" as one of the sisters. Ruth is also in the Biemic Society, Susquehanna Singers, and is secretary-treasurer of Ciceronians. This past year, Ruth did an excellent job as news editor of the Susquehanna.

Next year's managing editor is Jean Rowe. Jean, who was a proforeader of the paper this past year, is a resident of Smithsburg, Maryland. She is a secretarial student and will also be a junior next year. Jean is a member of Alpha Delta Pi sorority, Women's Student Council, and helped in orientation last fall. She is interested in sports and has served on the W.A.A. board this year. Just recently she was elected treasurer of S.C.A.

Bob MacNamara will serve as news editor next year. Bob is a liberal arts student and comes from Ardmore, Pennsylvania. He transferred to Susquehanna from F. and M. after his freshman year and will be a senior next year. Sports have claimed a good part of Bob's interest, being a three-letter man by winning varsity letters in football, basketball, and baseball. He is a member of Bond and Key fraternity in which he has been very active.

Business Staff Elected

The new business manager of the Susquehanna will be Ed Neuman. Ed is a business administration student hailing from York, Pennsylvania. He was vice president of his sophomore class, and was recently elected president of the Business Society. He is a member of Bond and Key fraternity where he is serving as utility manager, alumni treasurer, and assistant chief initiator. He also was business manager of "The Bond," the fraternity magazine. This past year Ed served as advertising manager for the Susquehanna. He will be a senior next year.

Next year, the advertising will be handed by Orville Glass, a member of the junior class and a member of Bond and Key fraternity. He has been active in the Susquehanna Players, Band, Orchestra, and Business Society where he holds the position of vice president. Orville is an accounting student and lives in Northumberland.

Circulation Manager for next year is Stuart Lengel. Stu is a sophomore from Richfield, Pennsylvania enrolled in the liberal arts course. He is a member of Bond and Key fraternity, S.C.A., Phi Kappa, and has been assistant manager of the football, basketball and baseball teams.

MUSIC NOTES

On Monday, April 28, at 6:30 p. m., in the Middleburg Christ Lutheran Church, Barbara Easton, soprano, Harold Carr, tenor, and Jacquelyn McKeever, pianist and accompanist, performed for the Home Study Club.

Maxine Weiser, soprano, George Ferrey, tenor, and Helen Griffiths, pianist and accompanist, will present a short program tomorrow evening, April 30, in Milltown.

On Thursday evening, May 1, in Milton at the Christ Lutheran Church, Maxine Weiser, Harold Carr, Mary Ellen Krebs, violinist, and Frances Drumm, pianist and accompanist, will provide entertainment for the Ladies Auxiliary meeting.

Harold Carr will be guest soloist in a musical program to be presented in the Seelingsgrove High School on Friday evening, May 2. The Glee Club under the direction of Mrs. W. Hake and the band directed by Francis Gloster will present several selections. Mr. Carr's vocal selections will be: "Gla il sole dal Gange" Scarlatini
"Caro mio ben" Giordani
"La donna e mobile" Verdi

Mr. Frederick Billman will accompany Mr. Carr.

Maxine Weiser, Harold Carr, Mary Ellen Krebs, and Ruth Freed, accompanist, will give a program in Elysburg on Monday evening, May 5.

The Susquehanna Singers under the direction of Mrs. Alice Glaum will present several numbers at the Preburg High School on Monday afternoon, May 5.

The monthly recital class will be held on Tuesday, May 6, at 4:30 in Seibert Chapel.

OPINIONS VARY CONCERNING CUTS MAJORITY FAVOR MORE THAN TEN

This week students were asked to express their opinions on Susquehanna's cut system. The question: What do you think of the cut system?

They brought out the following replies:

Fred Winkler: "I think they should allow a cut for each credit hour."

Lou Szabo: "We aren't allowed enough cuts."

Bill Stringer: "I think they should have one cut for every hour in class."

Joyce Wagner: "I don't think it's so bad."

Todd Solomon: "On the basis of a hundred, .003."

Sam Ross: "I don't think it's liberal enough for tired people."

Dot Aggar: "I am expressed my sentiments elsewhere."

Sperce Shafer: "Well, I don't like to commit myself."

Ted Lamb: "We should get three cuts for every semester hour."

Pearl Solomon: "I think we should have more than ten cuts."

Jake Spangler: "I feel it is too limited. We should have ten legal cuts and sickness cuts should be separate with the stipulation that one subject could not be a cut."

Peggy Anderson: "It is all right the way it is."

Gib Davis: "Sickness cuts should not be counted along with our regular number of cuts per semester."

Ruth Smith: "I think we should have separate cuts for illness."

Willie Odenthal: "I think we should have unlimited cuts because I feel that a person in college should have enough sense of responsibility to regulate his or her own cuts."

"Tom Fields: "Our cut system is quite inadequate."

Bill Vanderhoof: "The number of cuts should depend on the number of credit hours. Three cuts per hour."

Fille Smith: "We should have as many cuts as hours."

Dick Burley: "Cuts should be unlimited."

Ned Condon: "I never heard of taking credits away, only quality points."

Ken Henstead: "If they want to take away credits for over cutting, they should give credits for under-cutting."

Wayne Lapoint: "I'd rather have them deduct quality points rather than credits."

Albert Smith: "The system is all right."

Jack Goss: "I would like more cuts

PERSONALITY OF THE WEEK

A busy lass from New Jersey best describes our personality of the week. Before graduating from Bloomfield High School in 1948, Ethel McGrath was active in many activities. A member of the Spanish and chemistry clubs, Ethel still found time to take an active part in all sports and to write for the school newspaper.

Here at Susquehanna Ethel has spent a very busy four years while she excelled academically and in extracurricular activities. An active sports enthusiast, Ethel has been a member of the W.A.A., the W.A.A. Board, Tau Kappa, the varsity basketball team, and has participated in all intramural sports. As an Alpha Delta Phi, she served as rush chairman in her junior year and historian-reporter in her senior year.

Ethel has also been a member of the vice-president's council the past two years, has helped in the orientation program, and was freshman counselor in her junior year. She was a participant in May Day activities her first three years here on campus and has been recently honored by being elected to the May Court this year.
Future plans are quite definite with Ethel. Being an English teacher in a high school is her first ambition, particularly in a north Jersey high school.

Durden Featured As Know Your Professor Clarinet Soloist In Orchestra Concert

The Susquehanna University Concert Orchestra invites the students and faculty to attend its annual Spring Concert to be given tonight at 8:15 p. m., in Seibert Chapel under the direction of Professor Russell C. Hatz.

Mr. Rowie Durden, music senior, will appear as clarinet soloist in the "Concertino for Clarinet" by Von Weber. He, in addition to William Beckwith, bass horn; Gilbert Day, string bass; Francis Gloster, French horn; and Mary Ellen Krebs, violinist, ably represented Susquehanna at the annual Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Orchestra Festival held this year in the Educational Forum, Harrisburg, under the direction of Edwin MacArthur.

The personnel of the orchestra includes university students in addition to outstanding local talent and is as follows: Violins: Martha Tischke (concertmaster), Mary Ellen Krebs, Mrs. Willard Zimmerman, John Repko, John Dagle, Harry Willis, Marilyn Huyett, Ronald Goodman, Joan Bates, Peggy Heffelfinger, Karl Stahl, and Barbara Harper; Violas: Chester Acaley and David Coren; Cellos: Joanne Heinley, Mrs. Walter Henninger, Marian Attinger, and Mary Klingelhoefter; String Bass: Gilbert Day and George Ferrey; Flutes: Lucian Smith and Phyllis Deisher; Oboes: Sally Barnasconi and Bette Vincent; Clarinets: Rowie Durden, Anne Gulse and Margaret Zinda; French Horn: Francis Gloster and Phyllis Crumbling; Trumpets: Donald Berninger, Kenneth Orris, and Edward Unangst; Trombones: Carl Musser, Richard Hidespach, and Phillip Crawford; and Percussion: William Beckwith.

The names in bold type are seniors who are making their last group in See DURDEN FEATURED—Page 4

Mr. Axel Kleinsorg is widely known for his play directing at Susquehanna and various other places. Mr. Kleinsorg is the possessor of a radiant personality which attracts a student at their very first meeting. Here at Susquehanna he is noted for his production of the annual Shakespearean festivals which attract many prospective students to the campus. Also each year he presents two other productions to both the students and the general public.

Mr. Kleinsorg is a twin and was born in Chester, Pennsylvania. He attended Temple University where he became associated with the Tenplayers. He also attended the State University of Iowa where he worked with B. Iden Payne, the director of the Shakespearean Memorial Theater at Stratford-on-Avon. He is now in his sixth year as an English and dramatics instructor at Susquehanna. During these years he has produced numerous plays and is presently working on the play, "Ladies in Retirement," which is to be presented next week.

Other activities which Mr. Kleinsorg enjoys are traveling, watching motorcycle races, and meeting important figures in the theater, such as Helen Hayes, Catherine Cornell, and the late Leslie Howard.

Mr. Kleinsorg is an honorary member of Phi Mu Delta. He also acted as a guest director for the Sunbury Community Players.

Mr. Kleinsorg is the resident faculty member of the Cottage.

SPRING DANCE, PIONEER PARTY, AND MOONLIGHT PICNIC THEMES OF FRATERNITY DANCES LAST SATURDAY NIGHT

"Spring" Theme of Bond And Key's Pledge Dance

Saturday evening proved to be one of the most outstanding dances at Bond and Key. The band was exceptional and everyone was most appreciative of their music. They had just finished two weeks at the Top Hat in Philadelphia.

Spring was the theme of the decorations with flowers, umbrellas, balloons and colored lights accenting the house.

There was plenty to eat with a menu that included sandwiches, salad, ice cream, and cake. We were happy to have Dr. and Mrs. Russell Gilbert, Dr. George Robinson, Mr. Richard Grove and Mr. John Soule as chaperones.

The weather has delayed work on the outside painting of the house. Another floor has been covered with new asphalt tile on the second floor. When the rain stops the brothers expect to complete the painting.

Bond and Key had an old-fashioned hymn sing at 8:30 p.m. Sunday evening. Bob MacNamara was the leader and Les Heilman played the organ.

The house baseball team played to a victory over Lambda Chi Alpha of Bucknell. As an after thought, the volleyball trophy was retained by the house team.

Congratulations to the brothers who were named for the Susquehanna staff for this coming year.

OPINIONS VARY—From Page 1 than ten."

Jerome Purta: "I think the students should be allowed ten Chapel cuts."

Jackie McKeever: "The system is fine."

Stu Tomlinson: "We should be allowed one cut for each semester hour."

Jack Schwartz: "It's a good system for grammar school."

Phil Gergen: "I see nothing wrong with it."

Dave Bennett: "I think the cut system should be set up so that at the end of a week, if you haven't received your overcut notice, you may assume that you have not used your allotted number of cuts. The number of cuts should be determined by the number of hours you carry."

Ten Carlson: "I believe that students should be permitted one cut for each credit hour which they are carrying. This system has been employed with success at other colleges. However, as a rule, the industrious students do not overcut, and the social members overcut as a matter of course."

Bud Unangst: "I feel that every student should be allowed one cut for each credit hour. Also that the minimum number of cuts should be ten, no matter how many credit hours they are carrying. No student who is serious about his work will take advantage of his cuts and if the students who keep cutting classes get into scholastic trouble he should be able to take the consequences."

Art Olson: "I think that one cut should be allowed for each credit hour and that number of cuts in each course should be one for each hour."

Mike Walker: "I believe that there should be one cut per credit hour; also I do not think it is fair to take all of a student's cuts because he is seriously ill before any cuts are excused. Under the present system you are penalized for being sick and seeking proper hospitalization or surgery."

Ed. Palkovich: "One cut for each credit hour plus one in addition to these for each course. Eliminate the double-cut factor in the prescribed time limits about each vacation period."

George Ferrey: "There should be one cut allowed per semester hour, or else a set limit of twenty a semester."

Clair Mitch: "The practice of counting the first ten cuts regardless of reason should be abolished. If a student is sick or must go away for a good reason before his ten cuts are taken, a student should be allowed to take ten cuts anytime for any reason."

Pioneer Days Brought Back by Phi Mu Delta

Pioneer days returned to Phi Mu Delta Saturday night. Entertainment featured the Phi Mu Delta trio, an imitation of the Five Red Caps, a dance routine by Herb Craft, Charlotte Neuman, and Larry Bingham, and vocal selections by "three SATs and a Party Pooper." Dancing and refreshments were highlights of the evening. Favors of miniature beer mugs were presented to the girls. Chaperones for this affair were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hatz, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howling, and Mr. Axel Kleinsorg. A group of actives and pledges from Penn State added to the festivities.

Walter Albert, Ivars Avots, Larry Bingham, Charles Coates, Russel Crouse, Kenneth Erdley, Wayne Miller, William Murrelle, Edgar Oestreich, Robert Owens, William Schreffler, Robert Schwab, James Showalter, William Vanderhoof, H. Lee Walker, and Charles Ziegenfuss were initiated into Phi Mu Delta Tuesday evening.

Two small fir trees have been planted beside the front steps replacing the overgrown pine trees formally located there.

Brothers Vollmers and Meder supervised the pledging of eight men to Phi Mu Delta Association at Penn State College Thursday night.

Brother Jim Hazlett accompanied Coach A. A. Stagg, Jr., Richard Young and Dr. Joseph Hackenberg to Johnstown April 24. The group spoke to the Johnstown S. U. alumni group.

Jim Withers: "I believe that the cuts should be increased to one per credit hour. Those who are going to abuse the cut system can still find ways of getting more than their allotted share by being 'sick'."

Robert Steffy: "I guess that it is o.k., because I don't know of any better system."

Jane Silvey: "I think it's fine—I just wish I were on the Dean's list."

John Mayer: "I think that they should have as many cuts as the hours a person is carrying. If he has 18 hours per week, then 18 cuts per semester."

Eleanor Benner: "I think that it is all right the way it is."

DeWitt Reynolds: "The number of cuts equal the number of hours a person is carrying. That is the way a good many schools work it and they seem to be doing all right."

Bill Treon: "I think double cuts before and after holidays are undemocratic."

Dick McCarty: "It's not too bad; only some things about it could be made better."

Fred Tyler: "I think each student should have at least 3 cuts per credit hour in each subject, each semester."

John Shannon: "In regard to overcuts, I think the Office of the Registrar should disclose the number of overcuts upon request of the student. A student sometimes loses track of his cuts and should be able to check with the office."

Bill Scott: "No comment."

Bonfire and Dancing Tops Theta Chi Picnic

Despite rain and generally poor weather, members and guests enjoyed a wild and woolly Saturday evening at the Moose cabin near Kantz. Near ten o'clock the rain slackened up enough to allow the couples to go out doors and roast hotdogs and marshmallows over a roaring bonfire. Various kinds of soda-pop were provided at the tiny bar in one of the rooms of the cabin. Thanks to the wonderful sound system set up by Glenn Baumgardner, the couples found pleasure in dancing to the recorded music of all the leading dance bands. It was generally agreed that everyone had a wonderful time. We were happy to have as our guests, three Theta Chi pledges from Gettysburg College who were provided with dates for the party. The chaperones for the affair were Dr. Thomas Armstrong, Miss Ruth McCorkill and her escort, and Dr. and Mrs. Waldemar Zagars. We were glad to see such persistence in Dr. Zagars, who never admitted defeat even though three of his hotdogs did fall into the fire.

If western movies are in search for the "real McCoy" in desperate characters, Theta Chi is ready to provide with their Dalton brothers and Jack the Ripper. The novel drama posed by their two parties recently was thoroughly enjoyed by their audience. Repeat performances are not in demand, however.

Congratulations to the varsity on their victories in baseball. Let's hope the "drive" from our undefeated success in football carries through.

New Tau Kappa Officers Represent Susquehanna At National Convention

Wednesday, April 23, Tau Kappa elected the new officers for the coming year. Helen Von Lyonn is the new president; Dot Appar, vice president; Lois Fisher, secretary; Chris Harman, treasurer; and Joyce Wagner, national representative.

A picnic will be held for all Tau Kappa members in the near future.

The alumnae gave a spaghetti dinner for the members Thursday night. The dinner was held at the home of Mrs. Ames A. Stagg. Miss Frances Brunkhorst, Miss Nila Haresign, Mrs. Dan MacCush, Mrs. George Rishell, and Mrs. Waldemar Zagars assisted Mrs. Stagg.

The national convention of Tau Kappa was held Saturday, April 26, at Kutztown State Teachers College. Helen Von Lyonn, Dot Appar, Lois Fisher, Joyce Wagner, Lois Renfer, and Miss Nila Haresign attended.

A banquet started the program and was followed by a business meeting and a tea.

Shortly after leaving Kutztown, the delegates met with a mishap when someone hit the back of Miss Haresign's car. Luckily no one was injured, but the car will need extensive repairs. The journey back to S. U. was completed by bus and taxi.

G.A. DROPS BOND AND KEY, 6-5; THETA CHI HOLDS FIRST PLACE

The men's intramural softball season opened with a rush this week. Theta Chi is now in first place by virtue of their two victories without a defeat, but Bond and Key's "Black Knights" are in second place with a record of two wins and one defeat.

In the opening games on Monday, April 21, Bond and Key and Theta Chi gained decisions over Selingsgrove Hall and Phi Mu Delta, respectively. Behind the steady pitching of Jake Spanner, Bond and Key romped over Selingsgrove Hall by a score of 15 to 6. Manning and Deibler were the leading hitters for the "Black Knights" with four and three hits, respectively. Cope came through with a home run for the victors. Showalter and Schneider shared batting honors for Selingsgrove Hall with two hits each. In the other game Theta Chi defeated previously favored Phi Mu Delta by a score of 7 to 4. The main highlight of the game was when Winney and Stout hit successive home runs which were followed by a triple by Linn. Palkovich also hit a home run which was nullified as he neglected to touch second base. Winney and Linn each had two hits to lead Theta Chi and Bartle earned two hits for Phi Mu. Stout received credit for the victory while Kopl who was not as effective in the clutches was marked with the defeat.

On Tuesday, April 22, Bond and Key gained the league lead by virtue of a 4 to 2 victory over Phi Mu Delta. While his mates were collecting four runs on their five hits, the Deltas were baffled by the left-handed slants of Rowie Durden who kept their six hits well scattered. MacNamara with two singles and Cope with a double led the Bond and Key attack while Snyder and Walters each hit two singles in a losing cause. In the other game of the day Selingsgrove Hall defeated G.A. by a score of 9 to 7. After giving G.A. a number of runs in the first two innings Druann settled down and calmed the G.A. bats and his mates closed the gap and won the game with three runs in the last inning.

Grapefruit are so-called because they sometimes grow in clusters.
Pemmican literally means "almost an island."

On Thursday afternoon four games were played in very adverse weather conditions. In a game played on a very muddy field G.A. nosed Bond and Key from the league lead with a 6 to 5 victory. G.A. won the game in the bottom of the seventh inning when Gergen singled with the bases loaded to end the ball game. Although the victors could only get four hits off the combined pitching of MacNamara and Durden they capitalized on eleven walks and six errors for their six runs. Gergen with two singles was the leading stickman for G.A. Deibler, MacNamara and Cope each hit two singles in the losing effort. Matha was the winning hurler with Durden receiving his first loss.

In a game also played on a very muddy field Theta Chi defeated Selingsgrove Hall by a score of 15 to 11 in a game that was abbreviated by time. Winney again proved to be powerful with the bat as he clubbed a mighty triple. Tomlinson, Hemstead, Lamb, and Gierich of Theta Chi and Albert of Selingsgrove Hall all had doubles. Selingsgrove Hall scored all of their eleven runs in the third inning when Stout showed a streak of wildness. Stout received credit for his second victory of the campaign and Erdley was the loser.

The standings in the league are as follows:

| | | | |
|-------------------|-------|---|---|
| Theta Chi | | 2 | 0 |
| Bond and Key | | 2 | 1 |
| G.A. | | 1 | 1 |
| Selingsgrove Hall | | 1 | 2 |

SU Clips Lebanon Valley; Dell Sparks Crusaders

Susquehanna's Crusaders picked up victory number two scoring a 6-4 victory over Lebanon Valley College on a rain-spattered diamond at Annville Wednesday afternoon.

Leftfielder Jim Dell sparked the Crusaders at bat. He collected four hits in five trips to the plate and drove in a like number of runs.

The Crusaders trailed by a 3-1 count going into the sixth frame, but a brace of runs in the sixth and seventh and a shreleton in the ninth wrapped up the contest for the Bastress-coached lads.

Ned Condon went to the mound for the Crusaders and hurled the first seven frames elvins up eight hits and four runs, three of which were unearned, during his tour on the hill. Ken Lenker finished the game hurling two shutout frames.

The Crusaders meet the Bucknell Bison today on University Field. Ned Condon will get the nod for S. U. with Ken Lenker held in reserve.

BASEBALL QUIPS: Three of Jim Dell's four hits were of the infield variety, one of which was a line drive off the shins of Lou Sorrentino, Lebanon Valley twirler. . . Ned Condon was the victim of shoddy fielding during the Dutchmen's three run rally in the third. . . Bill Church looks like a sure bet to land the first base job. This means hard hitting Ed Wollaston will probably be moved to the outfield. . . Crusaders have amassed a total of twenty three runs on a like number of hits. That's really moving 'em around the base paths. . . S. U. has a strong bench in Church, Orris, Miller, and Poor, all of which might get starting berths yet. . . Nothing would be nicer than to see S. U. hane as rude a reception on the Bucknell Bisons as they received from Penn State last week. . . Scouts are supposed to be on hand to snoop for major league talent.

SU Art Classes Journey To Washington D.C., for Annual Tour of City

In the cold gray down of last Saturday, 23 people climbed aboard one of the B.K.W. luxury liners for the annual trip of the art classes to the museums and public buildings of Washington and vicinity. Getting up and leaving at 5 a. m. is not an easy thing, but when the group returned very late Sunday night all agreed that it had been an unusually pleasant occasion.

A stop was made in Gettysburg for breakfast, and a later visit to the chapel of the Seminary. Lunch was eaten in Washington, where the first visit was made to the Washington Cathedral. After freshening up at the hotel later, a tour of the more important public buildings was made, which included the Capitol and the Library of Congress, with their wealth of paintings, and literary and architectural treasures.

Sunday afternoon was spent entirely at the National Gallery of Art, where Assistant Professor Meader, the conductor of the tour, lectured on the various features of the building and on the fabulous treasures it contained. Supper was eaten at the Gallery's cafeteria, and then the group entrained for the long trip home.

VESPERS

"It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord, and to sing praises unto thy name, O Most High," sang the psalmist of the Old Testament. The same thought, was also prevalent at the Sunday vesper service as liturgist Bob MacNamara and organist Lester Heilman led the congregation in a hymn sing.

These two fraternity men were representing Bond and Key and presented the following program of prayers and favorite hymns.

Prelude
Doxology
Prayer
Psalm 92
Hymns
"Come Thou Almighty King"
"A Mighty Fortress is Our God"
Prayer
Hymns
"The Church's One Foundation"
"Rock of Ages Cleft for Me"
Prayer
Postlude
The girls of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority will be in charge of the program for the vesper service next Sunday, May 4.
